McLaughlin be suspended during the inquiry. The council decided that there were no definite charges against the chief and McLaughlin.

PRINCE RUPERT AND KETCHIKAN

Ketchikan is less than one hundred miles away yet it usually takes from ten days to two weeks to get a letter or newspaper from that city. Now and then a letter or paper comes on the C.P.R. boats but if mailed only a few days before the steamer sails for this port, the letters and papers have gone south to Seattle and have to return by way of Vancouver.

We have no idea how long it takes for a letter to go from here to Ketchikan but if anything like as long as coming this way, the condition is not good for business and does not say much for the progressiveness of either that city or this.

Prince Rupert and Ketchikan are neighbors but they might as well be a thousand miles apart, so far as mail communication is concerned.

CHAIN LETTER NUISANCE

The chain letter nuisance is again annoying people in this part of the country. Yesterday a member of the Daily News staff received an unsigned missive called "The Flanders Chain of Good Luck" which promises good luck for those who write out four copies and mail them to four different people and bad luck to those who break the chain.

The difficulty with letters of this kind is that many people are so superstitious that they believe ill-luck will follow them if they break the chain and they laboriously pass the nuisance on to their friends to be a further annoyance to other friends and infinitum. Needless to say the chain was broken in this office as the missive went promptly to the waste paper basket along with other useless communications.

FIRMNESS IS NEEDED

A little firmness is needed with those misguided Doukhobors who in this more or less free country again set out to break the laws. They must be shown firmly and positively that the laws of the land must be obeyed.

MIDDLE COURSE AT OTTAWA

It seems as if there was a little tendency to overdo the expenditures on purely governmental institutions at Ottawa. There was a goodly sum voted to improve the park and entrance to the Parliament grounds, another large sum for the citadel at Quebec so that the Governor might utilize it. Then came another dip into the treasury for renovations at Rideau Hall. The difficulty is that during and after the war, all the energies of the nation were spent, first on the war and afterwards in getting the finances of the nation once more into good shape.

Now that we are recovering from financial depression is the time to watch carefully our expenditures. We do not believe in being miserly; but the average taxpayer is the man of very moderate wealth and he does not like the idea of being taxed to provide luxuries for others, no matter how deserving they be, even if they happen to be noble lords, governors or their guests. It looks as if the government was trying to do a great deal all at once in bringing the vice-regal residences up to date.

SUPPORT TERRACE GOLF COURSE

It costs ten dollars to be a member of the Terrace Golf Club. Doubtless a great many Prince Rupert people will want to belong to that club, either because they wish for a game now and then or because they are anxious to encourage it and will put up their ten dollars for that purpose.

It has been suggested that there should be a putting green in Prince Rupert. That is quite within the bounds of possibility and will doubtless become a fact when enough people are interested. The first thing to do just now is to get the Terrace club going.

DARK GRAY WOLF IS SEEN NEIGHBORHOOD OF SHAWATLANS LAKE

Came Out on to Beach and Ran Along Shore Close to a Passing Launch

A large dark gray wolf was seen by several people yesterday about noon on the shore north of Shawatlans passage. It was about half way between Shaw-atlans Lake and Butte Rapids. The big creature came out of the woods quite close to a launch that was passing and ran along the beach for at least one hundred yards. Then as it was turning out to go around a point it noticed the people in the launch and veered off into the woods and disappeared. There were four people in the launch watching it.

Signs of deer were also seen in the woods in the same neighborhood. Advertise in the Daily News, it pays!

IMMIGRANTS TO UNITED STATES ARE RETURNING

SO SAY STATISTICS AND THEY NEVER LIE: FULL UNOCCUPIED LANDS SAYS PRESIDENT BEATTY

BEAUTIFYING OTTAWA

BOTH JUDGES AND MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT WANT MORE SALARY BUT NEITHER MAY GET IT

(By R. J. Deachman)
OTTAWA, May 7.—There is not a great deal to be had from distinguished men unless they are placed under fire. The members are not in a humor for searching analysis this year and so things go on, but the current is not swift.

An interesting opinion came before the committee on immigration when E. W. Beatty told his story.

"We have a great deal of unoccupied land in Canada. Some years ago—about the year 1922—a survey was made by the Canadian Pacific of lands fairly fit for settlement within fifteen miles of existing railways in the three prairie provinces, and I think the estimate was 34,000,000 acres. Now in that area there were inevitably some Crown lands, railway lands and many acres that were privately held."

There is a marked difference in this conservative estimate of possibilities and the proposal of General McKee to settle 50,000,000 acres. The general, however, was proposing to do this on lands further back from the railways. Why these should be settled first and the lands within fifteen miles ignored is a matter that the general so far, has not explained. Nor has anyone else.

Another interesting feature pointed out by Mr. Beatty was the prospect of growing immigration from the United States. From that country, in the next few years, in his opinion, the current of migration would flow. There are indications of this in the figures for the year just closed. In the fiscal year ended March 31, 1928, immigration to Canada amounted to 151,537, an increase of 5 per cent over the previous year, when it totalled 143,991. These figures were made public recently.

"During the last twelve months, as compared with the preceding year, there has been an increase in British immigration of 1,086. Immigration from the United States has increased by 3,982, and from other countries the increase has been 2,936."

During March, the total immigration to Canada was 14,665, of which 3,150 were British, 2,383 from the United States and 9,132 from other countries. The classification "other countries," includes 4,379 from France, Belgium, Scandinavian countries, Holland, Germany and Switzerland.

During March, 2,670 Canadians who had gone to the United States to reside, returned to Canada, declaring their intention of remaining permanently in this country. The number of such returning Canadians in the fiscal year was 39,387. These figures give some idea of the government. The figures showing the export and import of settlers effects were given in a previous letter.

The House spent some time on the plans for the beautification of the Capital City. This was a favorite idea of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It has been carried forward to his successor, Mackenzie King. Naturally enough, all kinds of objections are raised. One good member always stands up when such things are suggested and intimates that a much more important thing is a post office for the town of Sydenham, wherever that may be. Then, John Evans, a pioneer of protest and in some cases, righteous protest, proceeds to tell of the misery of the western farmers and intimates that planting trees and shrubs in Ottawa, while those conditions exist is not for the benefit of the world or as Mr. Bennett would say, in the interests of the generations yet unborn. Mr. Bennett takes a whirl at it. He does not object to beautifying Ottawa. In fact he would like to give to Ottawans, the distinct impression that there is nothing he would like to do more than to make this the Washington of the North and the Geneva of the League of Nations and the Hague of Holland all at once and all together. But he would not do it in the way Mr. King proposes to do it. All these and sundry other views must be expressed before the Legislation is moved forward another peg. Still in the matter, the government will get somewhere. Ottawa will be made more beautiful. If only the mayor and citizens awake to the fact that the water supply is at times abominable, that the streets for two or three months are beyond description and that many other things need attention, then beauty may be born again in the capital and the dreams of the idealists become realized. It should be so. No big business can afford to have a reputation for filth. The nation's capital ought to be a thing of beauty and a joy to receive something of inspiration and not of disgust from a sojourn in the capital city.

The sufferers from the Home Bank collapse are still on the doorstep of the government, looking for more. Perhaps they ought to get what they are after. It's pretty hard to see why this bank should be selected as the one to whom special favors are extended, but when some cases have received recompense, it might quite readily be extended to all. The judges are after higher salaries. Every lawyer in the House supports the judges in their application. Hope never dies. Every child of Andrew Gump may some time occupy the White House and every lawyer, no matter how difficult his task in climbing into the profession and being admitted to the bar, hopes that the day will come when the court will rise as he takes his chair and that he will be handing down judgments of life and death or profit and loss to those who come under his dominion. Looking forward to that hope, he accepts the idea that no salary can be too high, no honor too great for the class to which he ultimately expects to belong.

There are dark whispers among the members that they ought to have their salaries raised. They are more justly entitled to it than the judges. The more one sees of the life of a member of parliament, the less does he envy those recipients of public honor. They work hard—take a lot of abuse, get blamed for being crooked—are slammed by their opponents and for these things, receive small pay. Let the judges remain where they are so far as salaries are concerned—they at least have security in tenure of office—that cannot be said of the common ordinary member of parliament.

LILLIAN GISH AT WEEK-END

SCARLET LETTER IS TO BE SHOWN HERE, DRAMATIC CLASSIC

"The Scarlet Letter," Nathaniel Hawthorne's famous classic, proved an ideal vehicle for the famous star, Lillian Gish, its dramatic plot of a woman, carrying a brand of shame through life for the sake of the man she loves, making a theme so powerful that it enabled her to rise to the heights of true genius.

But there was something else behind it. For six years Miss Gish has longed to play this vivid role, as a monument in film to her ancestors. She comes of original Puritan stock, and is one of the leading members of the Daughters of the Revolution, and playing the role was to her almost a religious rite.

As the little seamstress whose great love caused her to rise to almost angelic heights, Miss Gish plays a mighty drama of love and human souls. Consummate artistry marks every phase of her struggle against intolerance, and the mighty climax holds one spell-bound. Those who loved her in "La Boheme" or "The White Sister" will adore her in her new role.

"SPOILERS OF WEST" IS PICTURE OF INDIANS

Tim McCoy Authority on Plains Indians Takes Stellar Role in Film

"Spoilers of the West," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film depicting frontier life in the seventies and being shown here tomorrow with Tim McCoy in the stellar role, is said to be one of the most thrilling frontier stories ever brought to the screen and also one of the most authentic film tales of the days when the entire west was a powder magazine to be set off by any overt act of red man, or white.

Tim McCoy, who is recognized as one of the great authorities on the American plains Indian, has spent many years among the Sioux, Arapaho, Crow and Shoshone Indians. He is an adopted member of the Arapaho tribe and is regarded as their "blood brother." Whatever Tim McCoy says with these Indians is taken by them as final because they regard him in the light of sincere friendship and know that he never breaks his word with them.

It was McCoy who persuaded the Indians to appear in "The Covered Wagon," directed by James Cruze some years ago. They worked in front of the camera because McCoy remained with them on the entire location trip and handled all matters which the Indians regarded as grievances.

Furs to match.

That might apply very nicely to Lois Wilson, as she appears in "French Dressing," the First National Picture which is here this evening.
This Allan Dwan production which Robert Kane is presenting, tells the story of a sedate married couple living in Boston. The wife is a solemn, serious, almost dowdy young matron. But she goes to Paris for a divorce when hubby inadvertently gets mixed up in an innocent flirtation. There she discovers that fine plumage is sometimes essential to the happiness of a husband. In the end it all comes out perfectly with conjugal felicity restored. Lois is a dream in her French frock. The demure maid of "The Covered Wagon" has vanished and in her stead is the lovely, fashionable girl who wins every heart.

Every-day Magic

Chairs that flop into beds... bags that suck up dirt... tiny ticking things that count all day long for you. Daylight any night just by pushing a button. A stream that never stops till you turn off a faucet. Any voice you want, talking to you from a cage on your desk or wall. Actions of yesterday, of people miles away, going on on a curtain before you. Stilled throats singing to you from discs; distant throats singing to you from nothing! Uncanny, daily magic—this, due to national advertising. Advertisements have given you flashlights, telephones, typewriters, automobiles, cold creams, motion pictures. They have given you new eyes, new ears, new hands, new feet, new faces, new emotions. They have urged such wide use, so lowered prices, that almost wishes are autos, almost beggars can ride. Through advertisements you've laid down the shovel and the hoe. You can buy a whole harvest ready-to-eat in cans. You've hung up the fiddle and the bow, for a radio. There's little old-time work left in this age of amazing short-cuts.

PRINCIPLES OF CHIROPRACTIC

THE FIRST OF A WEEKLY SERIES OF ARTICLES EXPLAINING THE PHILOSOPHY OF CHIROPRACTIC

Chiropactic is based upon five fundamental premises: (a) that a vertebrae may become subluxated; (b) that this subluxation induces impingement of the contents of the intervertebral openings; (c) that, as a result of this impingement, the irritability of the corresponding segment of the spinal cord and its connecting spinal and autonomic nerves is reduced, and the conduction of the nerve is impaired; (d) that, as a result thereof, certain parts of the organism are deprived of their innervation in whole or in part, and become functionally or organically diseased or predisposed to disease; and (e) that adjustment of a subluxated vertebrae removes the impingement of the structures passing through the intervertebral opening, thereby restoring to diseased parts their full quota of innervation, and rehabilitating them functionally and organically.

Spinal subluxations, or minor displacements, are caused by falls, twists, blows and improper posture, their presence is proven by palpation and x-ray photographs. It is that a spine free from defects is invariably found in healthy people, therefore, if your health is not of the best consult Dr. Eyoifson, the Chiropactor, or Phone Blue 85 for an appointment.

ARDUOUS TRIP WESTERN HOPE

ANGELIC MISSION BOAT BROKE DOWN IN HECATE STRAITS AND DRIFTED FOR MANY DAYS

Concluding a rather exceptionally arduous voyage which took the best part of two weeks, the Anglican mission boat Western Hope, in charge of Rev. C. O. Darby, finally reached port yesterday from Massett. The story of the Western Hope's passage is an interesting one not without some thrilling and, at times, perilous denouements.

The Western Hope started out from Massett for Prince Rupert to undergo some repairs following a fire aboard the vessel. Well out into Hecate Straits, the engine broke down and several days of struggling with the engine and drifting ensued. The little though staunch craft had been driven perilously close to some islands north of Ketchikan when, fortunately, a fishing boat hove in sight and took her in tow much to the relief, needless to say, of those on board.

The Western Hope underwent temporary repairs at Ketchikan and arrived here under her own power. She is

Trout and Salmon Await Anglers' Flies

FISHING NEAR LA BELLE, QUEBEC

WILKINSON RIVER BUNGALOW CAMPS

TROUT FROM WILKINSON RIVER

With winter snows dispersing rapidly and ice dissolving into lakes and streams; with the rising of sap and budding of trees, memories of anglers awaken picturing streams where one would wish to fish, days

"When even the deep blue heavens look glad, And gladness breathes from the blossoming ground."

The waters of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario have all their devoted followers waiting for the ice to disappear. These anglers are always eager to try new fishing grounds, and they will have new waters this year, according to Wm. Barber Haynes, writing in "Outdoor Life and Recreation." The latest bid for the favor of the sportsman is the opening of part of that famous salmon river, the Restigouche, to any sportsman who can pay a sum for a day's fishing. Heretofore, it has been impossible for anybody to fish the Restigouche unless he rented fishing water for a term of several years. Now the province has made it possible for men in ordinary circumstances to put up money enough for the realization of angler's dreams—a week's fishing for the salmon of the Restigouche in New Brunswick.

the North American continent is more richly endowed with fish and game. The innumerable rivers, streams, lakes and great stretches of forest offer an almost bewildering selection to the man planning a hunting, fishing or canoeing trip. The trout season in Quebec province is from May 1 to September 30 for speckled trout, and from December 2 to October 14 for the lake trout.

Ontario's most celebrated trout country embraces rivers and streams north of Lake Superior whose names many anglers are already familiar with. In this section special bungalow camps are at your service, operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, they afford every advantage of an outdoor life just slightly lightening the hardships especially for those who wish to have greater comforts than a tent and camp outfit affords. The season here opens May 1. Distant fields are always green, and distant streams appear more green, while pools grow darker as imagination, pictures fishing days in spring.

The season for salmon in New Brunswick is from May 24—September 30. In the Restigouche River and its tributaries, such fishing is permissible from April 1 to August 15 only—the limit is 30 per week. The salmon season in Nova Scotia is from February 1 to August 31. Quebec's trout streams are many and widespread, and are easily reached making them deservedly popular both with Canadian and American fishermen. Satisfying sport is to be had in the streams in the Lake Edward district north of Quebec City. The Province of Quebec has a wealth of attraction for the sportsman. No portion of

GETTING READY FOR FOOTBALL

THISTLES LOOK THE STRONG TEAM BUT REGIMENT AND GRAND TERMINALS PROMISING

Senior football organizations are busy getting players signed on and the search for talent known and unknown continues. With the Moose team dropping out, the members of this last year's team will be found in different camps. Sam Currie has become a Thistle, it is reported, as have Geo. Mitchell, John Murray, James Currie Jr., and Bobbie Woods. John Campbell of last year's Regiment has joined his fellow countrymen and, with Alex. Haig, Jimmie Farquhar, T. Haddon, Sam Erskine, and Alex. Mitchell, the Thistles look to be a picky proposition for the soldiers or the Terminal Club.

Terminals will have the assistance of Prince Rupert's leading centre forward in A. Dickens. Rumor connects Brick Skinner's name with the same club. Other players reported as possibilities or certainties are Geo. Hill Jr., George Howe, the Menzie brothers, James Currie Sr., Ernie Warren, J. Hamilton, and Cliff Cameron. The speed and vim of this younger team is always a danger to the slower if more experienced players of other teams and, with Dido Gurvich always in trim and Spiro looking after the goal, Terminals should maintain their reputation.

Regiment has lost some players to the Thistles but have invested in a thistle-proof armour that will make the Bluebells of Scotland, assisted by other Scottish plants, find Acropolis Hill a poor flowering garden. Corbett and Brand are slated for goal. Jimmie Ross, Stanley George and possibly Dick Lamb will have Jim Harris, Percy Tinker, Jim Underwood, Peter Doherty in front. Norrington, Frank Russell, Hodgkinson, Charles Baptis, Strachan, Bye and Wilson will be the attackers.

Altogether it looks like a good three team league though the Thistles on paper are undoubtedly the strongest team.

HIGH SCHOOL TOOK MATCH

DEFEATED BORDEN STREET ON SATURDAY BY FOUR TO NIL

High School added two more points to their total in the Junior Football League when they defeated Borden Street School four goals to nil on Saturday afternoon.

High kicked down hill and Wicks was soon dangerous but Walter Johnston went behind. Cameron was nearly through but Nakamoto cleared. High was pressing and Wilson saved well twice. Then Cameron's shot hit the upright and Johnston had no trouble in putting his team a goal up. Morrison centred well but the ball was sent past. It was mostly High's game and though Smith and Wilson defended well, Johnston got a couple of goals, one after Stile's shot hit the upright. Half-time found High School three goals to nil.

Borden was on the defensive for a time in the second half. Wilson threw himself at Johnston's feet to clear pluckily. Thurber and Stiles let nothing past them and soon Wilson was called on. Vaecher and Nakamoto were playing a strong defence game but Borden forwards put little vim into their play and were seldom dangerous. Stiles headed a centre from Morrison into goal but Wilson cleared. Walter Johnston converted a fine centre from Wicks to make his own and his team's score four to nil. Clouston Johnston was often in the limelight and sent Walter Johnston and Cameron off on a raid that finished with the Borden goalie saving from the centre forward fight on the goal line. No further goals were added.

The teams—
 High School—Scott, Stiles, Fisher, Thurber, C. Johnston, A. Thompson, Wicks, Larkin, W. Johnston, F. Cameron, H. Morrison.
 Borden—H. Wilson, Pyle, Nakamoto, C. Smith, P. Vaecher, F. Hardy, R. Fong, H. Morgan, P. Fisher, S. Kanaya, F. Chenoski.
 Jack Campbell refereed and linesmen were R. Irvine and W. W. O'Neill.
 On next Wednesday evening at 6.30, Borden and Booth meet for the first time this spring.

SPORT CHAT

Baseball at Prince George got away to a good start last Sunday when a crowd of one hundred or so fans saw the Canadian National Railway Athletic Association defeat the City team by a score of 13 to 12. For the opening of the season, quality of play was very good and there was considerable fast work though the pitchers on neither side had their wings in very good shape. Quite a number of new players have arrived in the interior city lately and prospects for the season seem very bright. The first inter-town games will be played very soon.

The Prince George Golf Club held its opening tournament of the season at the first of last week when teams representing the president, W. K. Nicholls, and the vice-president, C. A. Pyne, vied for supremacy and turned in score for cards which will govern handicaps for the season. The president's team won 19 matches to 11. The golf course at Prince George is in excellent shape and considerable work having been done on it, and a very successful season at Dido Gurvich announced yesterday afternoon that he had accepted the challenge issued by Charlie Brown for a ten-round bout on May 23 with Alf. Harding, the Bristol boy from Calgary. Dido is continuing the training which he started in Vancouver, whence he returned to the city on Saturday, and says that he is in better shape than ever before. From the looks of the local lad he should be able to "brown off" the visitor or make a very good stab at it.

YANKEES WIN; GIANTS LOSE

IF BEATEN AGAIN TODAY, MCGRAW MEN WILL LOSE FIRST PLACE; ATHLETICS TAKE SECOND POSITION

(Special to Daily News)

NEW YORK, May 7.—While the New York Yankees were winning two games over the week-end from the Chicago White Sox, the Giants were losing two to the Cincinnati Reds. The Yanks have increased their lead in the American League to one and a half games over the Philadelphia Athletics and Cleveland Indians while the McGraw men now but a one-half game lead over Cincinnati. If the Reds can continue their winning streak, they may take the lead today.

St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates are now even for third place in the National League, the Brooklyn Robins being at the half way mark with nine victories and nine losses. Philadelphia sank further into the cellar as a result of two defeats at the hands of the Chicago Cubs.

Philadelphia Athletics who were in the cellar for the first few days of the season, are now the runners-up in the American League. They have displaced Cleveland Indians from second place through having played fewer games. Boston is again in the cellar.

BEAT UNIVERSITY OF B.C. AT BASKETBALL IN FIRST GAME OF CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

EDMONTON, May 7.—The high hopes of the Vancouver team representing the University of British Columbia were sadly blighted Saturday when they met the Commercial Grads here in the first game of the senior girls' basketball championship finals, the Grads winning by a score of 40 to 24.

The second game is to be played tonight but there is little hope of the western team making up the difference, even if they should happen to win.

VANCOUVER AT SEATTLE SETS NEW RECORDS

There were six thousand fans watching the match and they are said to have given the new champion a great ovation.

At the Pimlico racecourse the Maryland Jockey Club has installed 24 loud speakers by means of which the spectators are to be kept informed of all particulars in regard to the races and racers. The operator will be enclosed in a booth just under the roof of the grandstand.

The luck of the draw for the British women's golf championship put together Glenna Collett, the former American champion and Miss Thion De La Chaume of France, the defending titleholder, in the first round of the tournament starting at Hunstanton, on May 14. Thus the two stars regarded as the foremost contenders for the championship are pitted together without preliminary.

Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, pastor of the Central Congregational Church, Brooklyn, extolled athletics after he climbed through the ropes at a boxing bout. The match was held at the clubhouse of the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit Company. After the bout Dr. Cadman told the spectators he would not mind putting on the gloves himself for fifteen minutes or so. Sports, he said, developed body and mind, and taught self-reliance, and he ascribed to his early football days the fact that he continued well and active at the age of 63.

Phil Edwards, dusky negro candidate for the Canadian Olympic team, was the hero of New York's University's twin relay victories in the thirty-fourth annual Pennsylvania relay carnival. Dashing through the rain over a soaked track, Edwards carried the baton across the line first in the Middle Atlantic States one mile championship, and beating a Rutgers rival to make up enough lost ground, he again triumphed in the intercollegiate distance medley championship. Edwards ran the anchor half mile in less than two minutes on a sloppy track to beat Chicago's team for first place.

"WHY THE LAUNDRY SHOULD DO MY WASHING"

"I am a happy wife. I am a happy mother. I send my washing to the laundry. "Gone are the hours of stooping over a steaming wash tub. Gone is the aching back and the rough, chapped hands and brittle nails caused by plunging the hands into hot and cold water and by hanging the family wash out in the wind. Gone are the evenings of morose silence in our family sitting room because it was wash day and mother is too tired to speak a pleasant word.

"The laundry gives me more hours for mothering. I have two children of pre-school age, the most impressionable time in their lives, who need every spare moment for supervision and organized play that a mother can possibly give. I have more hours for pleasant social activities and community work. I let the laundry be the drudge.

"Laundry service is cheaper. Counting the labor of the wife at even twenty-five cents per hour, or the wage per hour of the laundress plus the inconvenience and expense incurred by her, plus materials and depreciation of equipment, there can be no doubt of it.

"The laundry saves time, saves health, saves money, saves clothes. Those reasons should be sufficient to convince the housewife that her laundry is a community blessing."

HOMESITE LEASES
Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditions upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

GRAZING
Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner.
