GOOD EXHIBITION REPORT

The report of the Exhibition Association for presentation to the annual meeting will be a most optimistic one, we are told, and should be most encouraging to those who will carry on the affairs next year. The directors are to be congratulated on their success. They must have worked hard to bring it about and at the same time to stage an exhibit that was worthy of the city and district.

We join with the directors in urging a large turnout at the meeting tomorrow evening. The organization is one deserving of general support, not only from businessmen but from all citizens.

Next year, we suggest, efforts be made to induce more district visitors to come here during the fair week. Just how this is to be done is not plain but it is something very much to be desired.

REGISTER, REGISTER, REGISTER

Don't forget to register, if you are not already on the list of voters. The election may not be held until late summer or fall but even that will be too late to register in order to get a vote. The time to do it is now, so that the list may be properly certified at the next court of revision.

There are always a lot of people who are not on the list who when the time comes would like to vote. Neglect now causes regrets later.

We are not concerned with what side you are on. The most important thing at election time is for the will of the electors to be carried out. So we say, again: Register now!

RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION

S. J. Hungerford, vice-president of the Canadian National Railways made it very clear at Edmonton Saturday when speaking at the banquet given to celebrate the opening of the Canadian National new railway station, that railway facilities would only be built to follow population and not to precede it. In other words the railways are no longer gambling on futures but must pay their way as they go.

The statement is the railway point of view and not necessarily that of the government, except that the government calls upon the railway management to make good and that it must do. In doing so they cannot afford to take chances with the people's money, even though it may be felt that in the long run the policy may be a good one.

CANADIAN BANKS STAND HIGH

In a list issued by the California Bank at Los Angeles, it is noticed that British and Canadian banks stand very high in the amount of deposits received. The list is headed by five English banks—Midland, Lloyds, Barclays, Westminster and National Provincial. Then comes the National City Bank of New York and the Federal Reserve and Chase National of the same city. Following these close is the Royal Bank of Canada. The Bank of Montreal is only slightly lower and is followed by the Bank of England. Six American banks come next and then the Canadian Bank of Commerce. After the Bank of Commerce is the Commonwealth Bank of Australia. Other Canadian and British banks rank high, there being in the 150 listed 90 American and 60 British, the former with nineteen billions of deposits and the latter with over eighteen billions. It is noted too that in the English speaking world there are in addition to this list 29,000 smaller banks, the great majority of which are domiciled in the United States.

WHAT I MIGHT HAVE BEEN

As Told by Harold C. Burr
BY CONSTANCE TALMADGE

"I SHOULD like to have danced all over the world like Isadora Duncan. If I hadn't been a motion-picture actress, I might have."

"When Norma, Natalie and I were children in Brooklyn we always played circus. I was forever being cast for the clown, and ran around in my petticoat with my face covered with flour. That was as near as we could come to the right make-up. But it wasn't the part I would have selected."

"I wanted to dance. I wanted to fly and leap, and die like a swan. But that isn't as easy as it looks or sounds. I could leap all right, but flying came hard to me—once I got in the air. I nearly broke my neck three times trying to die like that swan. Finally, I sprained my left ankle, and—help me to get away with this—that was my swan song so far as becoming a Miss Duncan was concerned."

"Then I transferred my ambition to make of myself the best bunny-hug dancer across the bridges. I never progressed any farther than our own home with these fantastic steps. But, after all, dreams can carry one faster than airplanes, and I could easily vision myself being acclaimed as the graceful wonder of a startled world."

"But alas for my girlish longings! I was in pictures exactly two years before I got a chance to waltz. I spoke to every director about my ambition, but although I've always been cast for a heroine with a sense of humor, I seldom get an opportunity to show that I have it in my feet."

"Of course, this does not mean that I do not care for ballroom dancing. One of the big thrills of my life came on a ballroom floor. It was when I danced with Rudolph Valentino. We danced a tango, and I shall never forget the beautiful steps we wove around the room."

"Why should I like to have been a dancer? Dancing is so alive and has such a variety of forms—the old Morris dances of the colorful paganos of Elizabethan England, great interpretations of sheer beauty set to music; rollicking Irish jigs, the heavy footed steps of the Russian peasant, delicate French minuets.

"Dancing can be sad and glad, mad and bad."

"Every time I listen to Beethoven's Seventh Symphony I feel an irresistible desire to whirl around ecstatically in dance steps of spontaneous joy. It is music that lifts me high above the clouds. I feel that only by dancing can I rise to meet such rhapsody."

"I think every story in the world could be told through dancing. Between the dances of joy and death there are innumerable others that interpret the tragedies and comedies of life."

"SIMPLE SIS" IS STORY OF GIRL WHO WANTS TO BE LOVED BY SOMEBODY

Poor Sis—artificial feet jouncing up before her everlastingly, with socks to mend—looks on with sad eyes at the sly lovelapping of pretty Edie, one of the ironing ladies, and the flashy big boss, Oscar. Passionately, Sisie longs for a sweet petcoy of her own, but none comes in answer to her prayers. Because of her pooning absent-mindedness they've dubbed her "Simple Sis."

FINDS HOT LOVE NOTE

Edie, by mistake slips a love message from "the boss" in Edie's pocket, and the latter, believing that heaven has at last heard her petitions, hurries to the park at the appointed hour, meets the big boss, is bawled out, and finds herself alone on the park bench with the arc light just right for courtship, and no one to court.

ATTACKED BY THUG

As Sisie mourns her late a pick-pocket pussyfoots up and is about to nab her wallet, when she tries a jiu jitsu trick she has learned at the L.A.A. She has him begging for mercy, when Jerry O'Grady the girl-shy but husky little driver of the laundry truck arrives. Jerry tries a bit of his science on the thief, who limps off with rags, black eyes and abject apologies.

HERO TRIES RETREAT

Handing her scattered belongings to the admiring and bewildered Sisie, Jerry O'Grady is about to take his departure when the disheveled lady catches him by the coat-tail, and holds him by profuse thanks and determined oglings. Frightened, but falling, Jerry allows himself to be lured into lingering in the park with Sisie and seeing her home afterward.

Her home is a tenement room, across the hall from which poor Mrs. Callahan is about to die, leaving three-year old Buddy. Sisie whispers this feelingly to Jerry as he leaves her at the door and he appears much touched. But the next day he seems cold and distant and Sis is in the dumps again.

LAUNDRY WORKERS' BALL

Studying up on deportment in the presence of ladies O'Grady finally screws up his courage to the point of asking her to go with him to the laundry-workers' ball. There, when the music is most seductive, Jerry delivers his first kiss and makes his first stuttering request for a date, to both of which Sisie concedes with startling alacrity.

"SMILE, BROTHER, SMILE!" IS UNUSUAL PICTURE

To be Shown at the Mid-Week Here with Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackall Leading

"Smile, Brother, Smile," a First National picture here at the mid-week is described by those who have seen it as an unusual photoplay. Unusual in the sense that it treats of a phase of human endeavor that doesn't often win its way to the screen. The commercial traveler has not often been accorded the position of importance to which he is entitled in the field of business.

Consider that every article you consume, practically, first reached the counters of the stores via the medium of the traveling salesman. Your food-stuffs—package goods and bulk; your clothing, your toilet articles, your books, your furniture—all were sold to the merchant by a salesman "on the road." He has a finger in almost every pie you eat—so to speak.

That's why he deserves consideration, and he gets it in "Smile, Brother, Smile," which Charles R. Rogers produced for First National Pictures and in which Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackall have the featured leading roles.

Jack is the commercial traveler, lately graduated from the ranks, and he makes good by his own determination and ability with the invaluable assistance of the telephone girl, played by the charming Dorothy Mackall.

COMMUNISTS ARE TO FIGHT

PLAN TO PUT FIFTY MEMBERS OF PARTY IN ENGLISH CONSTITUENCIES NEXT ELECTION

MANCHESTER, March 19.—A special despatch of the Guardian from Moscow says the last decision of the Plenum of the Executive Committee of the Communist International, now sitting in Moscow, may have the effect of the appearance of fifty Communist candidates at the next English general election. As long ago as February 7 a "Pravda" leading article insisted on the need for a change in the policy of the Communist party of Great Britain because of the tendency of the Labor leaders to move to the right in a number of important questions, making it difficult for Communists to support Labor candidates, while gaining nothing from association with the Labor party, and even being hampered by it. "This change should find expression during the next elections, when the English Communist party will have to come out independently."

THE RUSSIAN VIEW
It is already known that the Russian view expressed in the "Pravda" was accepted by the Plenum and the resolution on the English situation passed unanimously, in spite of the quite natural qualms of some English delegates.

Communists will be running their own candidates not only in constituencies where they have a chance of winning, but in those where their intervention may be enough to prevent the election of Labor leaders of the Right. This move is much more than a reply to the Labor party's excommunication of Communists. Its object, according to the "Pravda," is the maximum intensification of the struggle with international social democracy, which is the chief obstacle to the conversion of wide masses of the working class to Communism. If the immediate result in England is to ensure the return to another Conservative government, no matter. The immediate enemy is not Baldwin, but MacDonald. The infuriating effect of the appearance of a large number of Communist candidates is expected to have an educational effect, finally splitting the Labor party into reformist sheep and revolutionary goats, the Communists, of course, preferring the latter.

ENGLISH VIEW
The message from Moscow has naturally interested the Labor party, and is being earnestly discussed. Nobody in or out of the Labor party expects Communist candidates to get in. The only Communist member is Mr. Saklatvala, member for Battersea. When the Communists put candidates in a number of constituencies the Labor party will certainly put up a Labor candidate in Battersea, and Mr. Saklatvala will go out whoever may come in.

The real trouble for the Labor party is that in some constituencies a Communist candidate standing against a Labor candidate might draw off enough votes to defeat the Labor candidate. The secession of even a small minority of voters can in any general election have this effect. Some of the constituencies will probably be important, and one of them very likely will be Ramsay MacDonald's constituency. Ramsay MacDonald's majority at Abercrombie was just over 2,000. He won the seat at the last general election against a Liberal only. Tom Mann is in the division with the intention, I understand, of standing as a Communist candidate, and is busy organizing an association to support him. If Abercrombie as is not improbable, is divided between Labor voters and Communist voters Mr. MacDonald's seat might be in danger.

CITY MANAGER FOR VICTORIA

RECOMMENDATION MADE BY COMMITTEE AND LAID ON TABLE FOR CONSIDERATION

VICTORIA, March 19.—Appointment of City Comptroller D. A. MacDonald to the position of city manager, with an extra $500 per annum added to his salaries for additional duties that would be brought about by such an appointment, is the recommendation contained in the civic service committee's report tabled by the City Council.

The report also dealt with maximum and minimum salaries for civic employees. All these matters will be gone into during the consideration of salaries in estimates committee.

The committee also recommends increases in salary for twenty employees of the city. In many cases the maximum salary set in the schedule in the report has been reached by employees.

In recommending that Mr. MacDonald be made city manager, the committee designated his work as to supervise all departments as to finances, conduct of officers, method of administration, to carry out investigations into any department, and into the conduct of any officer, and report back to the council.

POPULAR LOCAL BANKER MOVED

ALEX. H. CARMICHAEL, TRANSFERRED TO VANCOUVER AND WILL BE LEAVING WITH WIFE SOON

Alex H. Carmichael, accountant in the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has been advised of his promotion to the post of accountant at the Victory Square branch, one of the main branches in Vancouver. With Mrs. Carmichael he expects to leave in about a week or ten days to take up his new duties. Mr. Carmichael will be succeeded here by H. L. Shadwell from Vancouver.

Many friends will regret the departure from this city of Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael. During his three years or so here, Mr. Carmichael has become very well known and popular. Mrs. Carmichael, daughter of Judge and Mrs. F. McB. Young, has resided here since early girlhood and is no less esteemed.

CREWS ARRIVING FOR CANNERIES TO START SEASON PREPARATIONS

Cannery crews are beginning to arrive in this district to institute preparatory work for the forthcoming season at the many packing plants on the Skeena and Naas Rivers.

Aboard the steamer Camosun last night bound north was George Harris, manager of the B.C. Packers' cannery at Mill Bay, and some fifteen or so members of the cannery crew.

H. Donaldson, formerly manager of the Naas Harbor cannery, was also going north. It is reported that Naas Harbor will not operate this year.

W. Noel, storekeeper of Balmoral Cannery on the Skeena River, disembarked here from the steamer and proceeded to the river today.

WOMEN MUCH WANTED FOR AUSTRALIANS

Already More Than 100,000 Surplus Men Waiting for Opportunities to Marry

LONDON, March 19.—"Ideal migration would be that the people who went out each year should be the potential makers of a self-supporting community," declared Sir Granville Ryrie, high commissioner for Australia, in a statement he has just made to the English newspapers. He says at least as many women should go out, as Australia already has over 100,000 surplus men.

"Little can be done by Government activity," continues Sir Granville. "The very people who are needed are those who will act upon their own initiative. Australia badly wants men of education, especially if they have capital, which, after a little local experience, they can invest under their personal supervision. A thousand pounds so invested may prove far more valuable to the investor (and to Australia and Britain than twice that sum invested impersonally."

Sir Granville says it is natural that the average Briton has found it difficult to understand why Australia seems disposed to assist only farm workers as new settlers, and does not generally extend the assisted passage schemes to artisans and unskilled laborers in secondary industry. Australia's capacity to absorb more wage-earners was, however, in direct proportion to the need of capitalists and executive men who will create increased opportunities for wage-earners.

this honor will face is at this late date, still very much in doubt. Four teams have a chance—the Orange Lodge and Prince Rupert Hotel, who are now tied for first place, and the New Empress Hotel and Canadian National Mechanics, who are even for second. The prospect is that there will be a draw, necessitating play-offs before settlement is made. The Billiard League concludes tomorrow night with a tournament between the Cold Storage and Grotto. The Cold Storage has clinched first place but second position honors are still at stake.

The time between now and March 28 being considered insufficient for the purpose of making preparatory arrangements, decision was made at the end of the week to hold the return bout between Jimmy McDonald of Prince Rupert and Dido Gurvich of Prince Rupert for the middleweight championship of Northern British Columbia on the evening of April 4 instead. The match will again be a ten round affair and efforts are being made to obtain the services of Harry Pickering, recently arrived from Vancouver, as referee with two judges as well. An interesting bill of preliminaries is being arranged with several changes from those which were put out last Wednesday night. Jimmy McDonald has joined the Empress Hotel staff here.

Proposal to Kill Off a Few of Politicians at Ottawa Order to Get Better Results in Parliament

Correspondent of Daily News Gives Interesting Sidelights on Conduct of Business at National Capital This Session

(By R. J. Deachman)

OTTAWA, March 19.—Perhaps the worst job under Heaven is Minister of Finance to this native land of the Maple Leaf and Sow Thistle. Mr. Robb has a job which would bring tears to the eyes of a crocodile—smiles to the face of the sphinx. The gentleman who holds the purse strings must deal with all classes of people, but when the budget is on, his particular occupation is handling the advocates of high tariffs and low tariffs.

Take the low tariff gentlemen first. They point out how trifling the tariff reductions have been. Here a little and there a little! Four-fifths of one per cent on the Intermediate Tariff here, and one-tenth in some other place! Then, as soon as they pass out, along marches other gentlemen who state that the slashing of the tariff has been terrific. In the House of Commons it is the same. Bang goes the door of another industry—as an honorable gentleman speaks, and when he takes his seat—but Mr. Robb does not hear this one! He has been called out of the House by a high protectionist manufacturer who has asserted all his life that tariffs never raise prices and now the good man is terribly worried—the tariff on plush has gone up and his cost of production (the plush in his factory as a raw material) will be increased. He has forgotten every argument he ever made about the tariff not raising prices—and so it goes.

Between times, the Dairy Council asks for a higher tariff on Australian butter—not on cream separators or milking machines, but on butter. Only last week, the same organization had a delegation in Washington, urging the American government to abstain from putting a high duty on milk and cream. To occupy three separate positions on the one subject is difficult, but the dairymen succeed in doing it.

There has been no shortage of speakers. With the reduced length of oratorical utterances, it is just possible that the total number of speeches may be greater than ever before. All kinds have taken the floor. Coote and Irwin among Progressives—the latter the vigorous defender of group government—two or three cabinet ministers—Mr. Bourassa, the eloquent, Conservatives from as far east as Nova Scotia and as far west as B.C.—Glen and Brown from the Progressive Liberals, and you have a goodly number of contenders for the Speaker's eye.

On the Liberal side of the House, the most interesting speakers were Lapointe and Ralston. The former is always good. There is a quaint turn to his sentences. The English is precise and accurate but with just enough accent to lend a note of piquancy. No one can pay a compliment more deftly or take it away with more charm. Here is a sample:

When a Stomach Nerve is Choked

MONDAY HEALTH TALK

by

R. E. EYOLFSON, D.C., Ph.C.

When the nerves that lead from the spine to the stomach are choked at the pencil-lead-size hole between the joints of the backbone—then the stomach is being weakened. Then it is not getting a normal supply of nervous energy.

The flow of impulses to the stomach muscles, tissues and glands is hindered and reduced. Digestive energy is lacking.

The Chiropractor making an adjustment, frees by hand that pinched nerve. Health flows back into the stomach as naturally as the air surges back into the lungs when choking pressure on the throat is removed.

on in that mysterious conversation? For a time no one knew. Then the secret leaked for the Commons is a whispering gallery and even the most secret plans and schemes eventually emerge into the light of day. It seems that the Premier had in his office a favorite chief, the great Laurier had sat. Time had dealt kindly with the chair, but it was wearing out. The Premier wanted it fixed, but it seemed that a chair like that deserved particular treatment. Now, A. A. Heaps, the Labor member for Winnipeg North, is an upholsterer by trade and the Premier was seeking his advice. The result of the whole matter was that Heaps borrowed some tools, ceased from his parliamentary labors "for an hour or two of honest toil" as he afterwards expressed it, and the chair is now restored to its pristine glory. It is said that the late King Edward pointed out to a friend a certain chair in Buckingham Palace. "Look," he said, "John Burns sat in that chair." In years to come, Mr. King will be able to say, "Laurier sat in that chair, Heaps upholstered it." Thus happily ends a scandal.

MAKING PLANS TERRACE FAIR

COMMITTEES APPOINTED AND MUCH ROUTINE WORK FOR THIS YEAR'S EVENT PLANNED

NOVEL TROPHY SCHEME NOT YET DECIDED WHETHER TO SEND A DISTRICT EXHIBIT TO PRINCE RUPERT THIS YEAR

TERRACE, March 19.—The newly appointed executive of the Terrace Fair Association held their first meeting in the municipal hall on Friday evening at which all members were present. Representatives of the associate committee appointed by the Women's Institute were also present. President H. A. Swain presided. Following routine business a letter was read from the secretary of the Fairs Association calling attention to the fact that the dates submitted conflicted with those set for the Prince Rupert fair, and asking that another choice be made. The sixth and seventh, or seventh and eighth of September were decided on, subject to the approval and decision of the Fairs Association.

The secretary was authorized to send membership fee to the Fairs Association and the signing of the necessary banking business by the president and secretary was authorized.

The following new committees were named by the president, a number of others having been appointed at the annual meeting:

Minerals—Ed. Michaud.

Grains and Grasses—J. Lever, G. Hamlin.

Field Roots—G. Hamlin, H. A. Swain.

Flowers—E. T. Kenney, Ed. Michaud, and ladies' committee.

Photography—R. W. Riley.

Membership—Messrs. Hamlin, Corlett, Michaud, Lever and Swain.

Ladies' department and School Exhibit—Ladies' committee.

All committees were asked to meet and make a preliminary revision of their respective sections of the prize-list and be ready to report at the next meeting.

The district exhibit came up for discussion owing to the fact that for the past two years the silver cup and silver medal which have been offered as prizes have not been competed for. It was decided to have President Swain approach the donor, J. B. Agar, to see if he would agree to having these prizes transferred to some other section and drop the district exhibit from the list.

UTILIZE CUPS

A suggestion was made by J. K. Gordon that the executive might try to utilize the six or seven silver cups which have been won by district exhibits at the Prince Rupert fairs, and which at present are stored in the Terrace Drug Store. It was suggested that these might be re-engraved as being presented by the district to the person winning them two years in succession for best exhibits in certain sections. The matter was left with the president and secretary to find out just to whom or what the cups belonged and try to make arrangements for their re-use.

The matter of the fair board undertaking the work of sending a district exhibit to the Prince Rupert fair was left over until a future meeting. It was decided to ask for applications for secretary, same to be sent to H. Halliwell, acting secretary, before the next meeting which was set for Thursday evening in the Municipal Hall.

TERRACE

Fred Forrest of Usk was a business visitor in town at the end of the week.

Rev. Wm. Allan left on Saturday's delayed train for Hazelton where he is making an exchange of pulpits with Rev. J. H. Young, who has been visiting the Vanarsdol Indian charge during the last few days and who occupied the pulpit of Knox United Church, Terrace, on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Haney left on Sunday to spend a few days in Prince Rupert.

The senior and intermediate classes of the Anglican Sunday school were entertained by Rev. and Mrs. Robinson at a St. Patrick's social held in the church vestry on Saturday evening. The evening was spent in games and music and refreshments were served during the evening.

Rev. Wm. Allan gave the C.G.I.T. group an interesting talk on missionary work carried on in the island of Trinidad at their Saturday meeting, arrangements for which were in the hands of the spiritual group.

Oscar Olander was in from Kalum Lake during the week.

Fairbanks-Morse Ball Bearing Pumps

Five years' wear on a ball bearing pump is less than the manufacturing tolerances in sleeve bearings. Sealing rings therefore maintain their original clearances and the pumps do not lose their efficiency.

Ball bearings require greasing but once a year and are dirt and water proof. Thus the pump is easier kept clean and the cost of lubricant and lubricating gangs is reduced.

Other reasons for the high efficiency and unusual economy of these pumps are contained in our bulletins.

EMPLOYMENT PICKING UP

LAST WEEK WAS BEST SINCE FIRST OF YEAR STATES JAMES M.
CAMPBELL, LOCAL SUPER-INTENDENT

Last week was the best since the first of the year in the matter of employment, states James M. Campbell, superintendent of the local branch of the Employment Service of Canada.

Terrace and Amsbury sawmills and logging camps took about half a dozen men each. Some twenty men were sent out this morning to be employed on a C.N.R. extra gang at Pittman. Four or five miners have been sent to the Taltapin mine in the Babine country north of Burns Lake and there have been a few other less important jobs.

Mr. Campbell reports a total of about fifty unemployed on the local list today.

Mineral locations are granted to discoverers for nominal fees. Absolute Titles are obtained by developing such properties, the security of which is guaranteed by Crown grants.

Full information, together with Mining Reports and Maps, may be obtained gratis by addressing—

THE HONORABLE THE MINISTER OF MINES,
VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA.

N.B.—Practically all British Columbia Mineral Properties upon which development work has been done are described in some one of the Annual Reports of the Minister of Mines. Those considering mining investments should refer to such reports. They are available without charge on application to the Department of Mines, Victoria, B.C. Reports of the Geological Survey of Canada, Winch Building, Vancouver, are recommended as valuable sources of information.

Reports covering of the Six Mineral Survey Districts are published separately, and are available on application.
