Governor Blamed in Escape
Inadequate Supervision

TORONTO (CP)—Inadequate supervision led to the escape of the notorious Edwin Boyd gang from Don Jail here last night, a royal commission reported today.

I. M. MacDonell, appointed as a one-man commission to investigate conditions at the jail, said that although Governor W. Brand tried to do what he could "under try-conditions," failure to keep prisoners under constant supervision must rest on his shoulders.

The report said further that the government must have sympathy for the jail, for if he had been provided with adequate staff, the escape might not have occurred.

MacDonell urged that the jail be given sufficient executive authority to be appointed with responsibility to clear up the present situation, and to pay low wages of guards as compared to their poor moral recommendations immediately of salaries.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY, resting place of 15 British monarchs, will be the setting next June for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth. The coronation, essentially religious, will be carried out before the magnificent high altar.

Voters Urged to 'Come Early' And Avoid Last-Minute Rush

Civic election polls in Prince Rupert open at 8 a.m. tomorrow. This compares with 2,903 in the auditorium of the Civic voters on last year's list. Centre where ratemakers will select four out of eight candidates and his deputy Miss Audrey for aldermen, and vote on one Wrathall will be on hand when bylaw and a referendum. The polling station opens. It is the largest voters' list in the only place of voting in the city's history names 3,021 eligible city.

Voters are urged to go to the polls as early as possible, to avoid last-minute rushing. With more than general interest shown in this year's civic election—although there is no mayoralty contest—a record number of voters are expected to cast ballots.

While all taxpayers—including those paying poll tax—who are registered on the voters' list—may vote for aldermanic candidates and on the referendum, the school money bylaw may be voted on only by property owners.

The referendum asks endorsement for a bylaw that all milk distributed in the Prince Rupert city be ordered pasteurized.

The money bylaw asks approval for construction of a six-room school at Port Edward at a cost of $167,960, of which the city's share would be $39,311 and the rural area's share $44,669.

The rural taxpayers will vote on the bylaw tomorrow at various polling stations in the district and may also vote in the Civic Centre where a special polling station for them will be provided.

Candidates for aldermanic seats, four to be elected, are: Mrs. W. D. (Kay) Smith, Ald. Ray McLean, Ald. Darrow Gomez, Bill Bremner, Hugo Kraupner, Ald. James Prusky, Ray Gardiner and Percy Downing.

A "get out the vote" campaign, under sponsorship by the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce will give many a reminder to electors that "it's time to go and vote."

A large sign was erected this morning over Third Avenue, drawing attention to the election.

Leaflets were scattered over the city today by an airplane calling on citizens to "Vote As You Like, But Vote," and tomorrow, with the eight o'clock opening of the polls, the city curfew siren will sound every hour, and a loudspeaker truck will pass through business and residential sections with further reminders.

Senator Thomas Reid, Liberal, suggested during the Throne Speech debate that the government co-operate with British Columbia in establishing a pilot treatment centre for addicts.

The government also should seriously consider recommendations of a volunteer committee set up by the Vancouver Community Chest to study the problem.

The Chest last week requested lighter court sentences for addicts but drastically increased penalties for narcotic traffickers.

The requests were embodied in an extensive brief to Health Minister Paul Martin, asking drastic changes in federal narcotic laws.

The brief praised the work of RCMP in enforcing the Opium and Narcotic Act but said addiction is still increasing. It said there is an "urgent need for a different approach to the whole problem and for immediate amendments to the federal act."

Other items asked by the brief include: Provincial government operated clinics for administration of drugs to registered addicts. Compulsory detention of addicts who volunteer for treatment and who have violated the federal act.

Mayor Selects Choices For Aldermanic Posts

Egypt Scraps Laws

CAIRO (CP)—Egypt's reform premier, Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, today tossed his country's 1923 constitution into the ashcan as obsolete and said his government is writing a new national charter.

"Until it is finished," he said in a country-wide broadcast, "my government will exercise constitutional power."

Chief among problems facing constitution writers is whether to do away with Egypt's 147-year-old monarchy and establish a republic.

Popular revisionism has been rising steadily against the royal dynasty since Naguib and his army associates deposed King Farouk last July and began spotlighting "scandals" of his 16-year reign.

QCA Pilot's Body Found In Aircraft

VANCOUVER (CP)—Body of Captain Bruce Wilson, 41, was found Tuesday planned in the wreckage of the Queen Charlotte Airlines plane which crashed into a mountainside near Halfmoon Bay, 40 miles northwest of here.

Capt. Wilson was the only person aboard the twin-engine Anson when it disappeared last Friday on a flight to Comox. Searchers said the pilot's body was found sitting in the cockpit, only part of the plane still intact.

Jail Guard Reinstated

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—One of two guards suspended at the provincial jail here following a short-lived escape by four prisoners last week was reinstated Tuesday.

Warden William Trent said the Guard N. G. Cheer was reinstated on the advice of the provincial inspector of jails. A second guard, W. G. Clark, will continue on suspension until further notice.

The suspension was ordered following an investigation which showed that four men escaped about 4:30 a.m. Friday. The prisoners were not missed at the 7 a.m. check.

Warden Trent said there may be a hearing into the matter, but no date has been set.

Deaths Blamed On London Fog

LONDON (CP)—The four days of oppressive fog which blanketed London earlier this week was blamed today for speeding the deaths of at least 160 elderly persons in the city. The total may exceed 200.

The sickening blanket of dirt-laden mist that lifted only Tuesday largely aggravated their conditions, hastening their deaths.

Execution Stay Refused

NEW YORK (CP)—Judge Sylvester Ryan refused today to stay executions of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, scheduled to die at Sing Sing prison the week of Jan. 11.

He also denied an application by co-defendant Morton Sobell to have a 30-year prison sentence set aside on constitutional grounds.

MAYOR WHALEN chooses slate

Lashes at 'Element' Present in Council

Mayor Harold Whalen today lashed out at "an element in the council and presently running for office that represents a group the whole of Canada at this time is fighting."

At the same time, the mayor listed his choice of candidates for aldermen in tomorrow's election, saying:

"It is my sincerest conviction that only those persons who sincerely work in the interest of our city and its taxpayers."

The candidates he named are Mrs. W. D. (Kay) Smith, Ald. Darrow Gomez, Ald. Ray McLean, Bill Bremner and Hugo Kraupner.

The mayor urged that both aldermen "who have proved themselves very capable," should be returned.

"I also think the women of Prince Rupert should have representation, and either Mr. Bremner or Mr. Kraupner would, I believe, make sound representatives."

There are four aldermen to be elected.

In an interview, the mayor said: "I do not believe that the candidates who are shouting from the rooftops that they are representing labor are acting, or would act in the interest of the worker."

TO RUN AGAIN

"The past year as mayor has shown to me without a shadow of a doubt that some are acting on dictators not their own."

Mayor Whalen also announced that he would contest next year's election as candidate for mayor.

"Last year when I campaigned in the mayoralty contest I promised to bring to the people's attention various problems as they arose.

"This I believe I have done. The council has some very important decisions to make in the near future which will vitally concern the people. With this in mind we should seriously consider the aldermen who now are in council as well as those now running for office."

(Aldermen with another year to serve are George Casey, John Currie, H. F. Glassey, Mike Krueger.)

The mayor compared his position to that of an executive manager in business.

SUGGESTS CHANGE

"In most cases such a man has the authority to hire employees who he thinks are going to produce, and if they don't, at least he can suggest a replacement.

"I can only endorse a slate which I think will give the people the kind of administration they wish to have."

U.S. Planes Hit Rail Targets

SEOUL (CP)—U.S. Navy planes smashed four big Communist rail and supply targets on the doorstep of Manchuria in the biggest seaborne raid of the Korean war.

One of the strikes carried American planes on their northernmost raid of the war, to the limits of the Korean strip that juts into Manchuria and is surrounded on three sides by that Chinese Red province.

It also carried navy planes within 13 miles of Soviet Siberia and almost as far north as the Russian port of Vladivostok which lies to the east.

Swedish Ship Here For Barley

One of few Swedish freighters to have arrived in this harbor is loading barley for Japan at the Dominion Grain Elevator.

She is the Yarrowonga, 4,893-ton vessel which arrived here direct from Kobe, Japan, via the Great Circle Route.

Registered in Gothenberg, Sweden, most of her 35-member crew is of that country. Captain is A. Kyleberg.

Scheduled to load 8,200 long tons, the Yarrowonga may sail early next week. Lack of grain in the elevator is delaying loading, said agents for the vessel.

The Yarrowonga arrived a few days ahead of schedule and the elevator's storage was depleted by the last grain ship here, the Eishen Maru, which left last week-end.

MAJOR ISSUE

"This is the major issue in the election. It is up to the voters to make their choice, but I can see no hope of progress in our civic government if the people continue to support an element which is working against their very interests."

The mayor said he knew it was seldom that the chief magistrate of any city would likely make such a statement but "my strong convictions have forced me to say these things which I believe are true."

Building Record Set Here

An all-time November high in building was recorded in this city last month totalling $852,627 in new construction, alterations and repairs.

Included in this figure is the approximate cost of $600,000 for 50 new homes, the Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation project.

This compares with $25,575 worth of building in November last year. The 1952 total building to date of $1,029,153.27 compares with a total of $315,961 for the same period last year.

Of November's building permits, five were taken out for construction of new homes for a total of $24,500. Balance was the cost of repairs and alterations to city homes and businesses.

Duke May Miss Coronation

LONDON (CP)—The Daily Express says today it understands the Duke of Windsor will not take any part in the coronation ceremony next June.

A Canadian Press dispatch last Thursday said the Duke probably would not attend the coronation unless the Duchess of Windsor was invited.

Many City Stores Taking Part In Xmas Light-Up Campaign

Many city store-fronts and window displays are taking on festive appearances in great variety in response to the "Christmas Light-Up" campaign sponsored jointly by the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce and Art Murray's Menswear.

Judging of the best-dressed store window, based on originality, effort and display of merchandise, will be done Dec. 20. Winner will be awarded a scroll certificate of merit and a special prize will be given to personnel engaged in making up the winning display.

First such campaign launched in the city, Christmas light-up also concerns householders. A special home-decorating contest is being held with a turkey as a prize for the winner.

While it will not be necessary for business firms to fill out entry blanks, householders who wish to enter the contest must do so to be eligible.

The following form should be filled out and returned to the Daily News office not later than Dec. 17. The entries will be judged by personal visits of the judges after dark to give the greatest benefit to lighting.

Winners will be announced Dec. 23 and the turkey delivered to the prize-winner's door the same evening.

Judging will be based on originality and effort.

Meanwhile, the Jaycees' Christmas tree is to be erected next Sunday on the Post Office grounds, complete with lighting and a big star to top it. Volunteer will be headed by Jack Breen and Bill Gordon, in charge of the light-up campaign.

Voters, Be Alert!

ALL PRINCE RUPERT taxpayers are expected to go to the polls tomorrow and everyone who casts his vote is expected to do so with a lot of thought.

Aldermen in our civic government are the custodians of our civic welfare—that is a point which voters must bear uppermost in their minds when approaching the polls.

In a newspaper story today, Mayor Harold Whalen has made some strong statements, statements to which we should give credence as coming from a man who has shown a good deal of sound common sense and principle to the people he serves.

The custodians we elect tomorrow must be those with progressive insight, those who will work for the city's future because it is also their future, and those who will be motivated in their actions by their own dictates and are not the sounding board of an element which is threatening to uproot all the aspirations, hopes and travails of pioneers who first saw great things for the city some 40 years ago.

This newspaper supports the mayor's choice of candidates who he thinks will best serve the interests of the city, and we urge all voters to give careful consideration to his choice.

The electors placed confidence once in the mayor when they voted him into office a year ago. Let them now place confidence in what are his sincere convictions and elect a group who he thinks will work with him for the betterment and development of the city, and will not oppose him at every turn.

If, as the mayor charges, "we have an element in the council and presently running for office that represents a group which the whole of Canada at this time is fighting," we can do nothing but fight that element as a body—lest we are traitors to our own cause and country.

This is the main issue of the election—not the power question, water, sewerage or telephone—but the question of whether the people will or will not continue to tolerate petty politicians and reactionaries to undermine our civic welfare.

Voters, be on the alert!

Uneasy Years of Rationing Headed for End in Britain

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
LONDON (C)—After nearly 13 uneasy years of rationing, austerity-conscious Britons are all set to cheer the passing of the most unpopular institution of government—the ministry of food.
The celebration may be deferred awhile, but the experts generally agree the giant corporation, born of war and scarcity, is heading rapidly towards its unlamented doom. Their guess is that the end will come sometime in 1953.
Government spokesmen, however, are more cautious.
Replying to a question in the House of Commons, Prime Minister Churchill indicated no timetable had yet been worked out to wind up the ministry. It's future, he said, would mainly depend on progress in overcoming the country's economic difficulties.
He added, however, to cheers from his supporters, that the government would permit no unnecessary administrative departments to continue in the ministry of food or elsewhere.
"May we take it that the prime minister will encourage our honorable friend Maj. Gwilym Lloyd-George in his declared ambition to be the last minister of food?" asked Conservative member Anthony Hurd.

"Hopes—and I am not speaking in any personal sense—must never be translated into promises," Churchill retorted.
Almost every major item of diet in the United Kingdom has been touched by rationing.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

There's always something to take the joy out of life, and no one is better able to support that theory these days on Parliament Hill than Jean-Francois Pouliot, genial MP for Temiscouata, Que.

Probably the most widely known member of French parentage in the predominantly English-speaking parts of the country—certainly one of the best known throughout Quebec—he celebrated an historic anniversary the other day. Nothing could have run more smoothly. The sun shone brightly on the Hill that day, and the machinery of parliament came to a temporary halt while glowing tributes were paid to the rotund 62-year-old deputy. He was himself in an expansive mood, and let his colleagues in the Commons in on a few secrets of long life in politics.

It was the 28th anniversary of his first election to Parliament. His father, grandfather and great-grandfather all had been parliamentarians, here or at the provincial House in Quebec City.

HAPPY MONDAY
"Here I am listening to the finest oratory to which one could listen," Jean-Francois said after tributes were paid to him and to the Pouliot family by leaders of all parties.

LETTERBOX

JUVENILE UNFORTUNATES
Editor, The Daily News—
Could I beg a space to acknowledge Canon Prockter's sermon of Saturday, "A Probation Officer."

I wish to contest his first paragraph in that there are not any juvenile delinquents in Prince Rupert. Rather it is my assumption that there are many juvenile unfortunates in Prince Rupert coming from delinquent parents.

I believe our public school facilities would be only too willing to co-operate with our parsons for a 15-minute devotional period in each classroom for Bible-reading and discussion with our teachers.

Is it fair to say that we may require foster homes for delinquent parents until our children grow up with enough energy to volunteer to tell our parents of the good things which they learn at school?

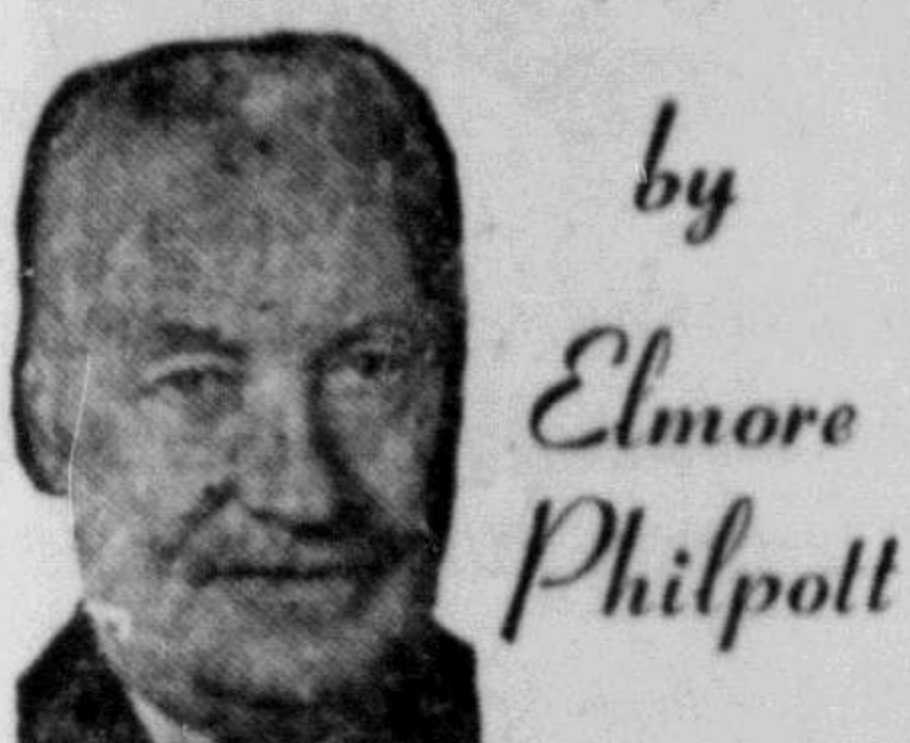

I would state that it is possible that there may be instances of families who have lost affiliations with our church while asking our clergy for legitimate assistance.

May I quote St. John 1:29, with a little transposing: "Behold our lambs of God! Heaven is on earth, good will to men."

Now in closing, it is my prayer that we may be able to use what we possess, rather than what we anticipate of the future, for the evolution and improvement of mankind.

War Prisoner Pitfalls

THE REJECTION by Russia and Red China of the fair, sensible Indian plan to break the deadlock over war prisoners tears the last flimsy mask from the "peace" pretensions of the new Communist world empire.

The harsh reply from Moscow, echoed from Peking, is the worst, blackest omen of all these times. It will go a long, long way, I think, to compel India to re-think her world position.

WHAT we do not yet know is whether the Americans would ever have accepted the prisoner-free-choice plan if the Reds had not turned it down so flatly.

For weeks the Americans opposed the plan, secretly or openly. Their belated acceptance was fiercely denounced by a Chicago Tribune man (rather surprisingly, on our own CBC midweek review for Nov. 28) as a crass sell-out to Anthony Eden's "appeasement" of the Reds.

About the only good thing that came out of the whole business was that Canada, privately, and Britain, publicly, finally "stood up" to Uncle Sam and made him realize he is not running the whole UN show.

BUT WHEN I read over carefully the points made by Mr. Eden at UN on November 11, I

To the Citizens OF THE CITY OF PRINCE RUPERT
This company notes that on the evening of the 8th day of December last certain statements were made over CFPR in support of Civic Election Candidates in the forthcoming Municipal Election.
Unfortunately, certain facts related in the statements insofar as they affect this Company were in error and in order to correct any misunderstanding relayed to the citizens of Prince Rupert, the Company wishes to state as follows:
FIRSTLY: This Company holds no absolute water licence to Woodworth Lake, nor any water licence that would jeopardize the interests of the people of this City from obtaining water at the same source.
SECONDLY: The water licence held by this Company on Woodworth Lake is subject to the right of the City to obtain water from the same source and the citizens of this City are fully protected by the nature of the licence itself and the Government of the Province of British Columbia who originally granted the licence.
THIRDLY: Qualified engineers engaged by the City have investigated the water situation with regard to the supply available. It is their opinion that the usage by this Company of the water from Woodworth Lake for the purpose of supplying this area with electric power in no way conflicted with or affects the quantity of water available to the City from the lake for domestic and/or industrial uses in this Municipality. Solutions to the water problem were presented by the said engineers, not by the Power Company.
FOURTHLY: This Company does not advocate, endorse or support the contentions of any Civic Candidates in the forthcoming Civic Election, and this Company has never been and is not now in any alliance, conspiracy or agreement with any of the present members of the Civic Administration of the City of Prince Rupert or any Candidates who aspire to achieve that position.

Take Extra Vitamins Says Health Officer

A call to the public to take extra vitamins in the form of fish liver oil pills and enriched food was made today by City Health Officer Dr. Duncan Black.

A mild fall without normal signs of winter is dangerous, he said. A sudden cold spell may hit people when their resistance to it is low.

"Our most abundant sources of vitamin D—which provides resistance—are found in fish liver oils, food enriched with vitamin D such as canned milk, and sunshine on the skin. This vitamin cannot be stored in the body, thus should be supplied daily."

Vitamin D, said Dr. Black further in his monthly report, must be provided in some way during the growth period in every individual, in order to insure the proper formation of sound bones and teeth, and to help build up good resistance in the tissues. It is most important during pregnancy and to nursing mothers, in order to protect health of the mother as well as the growth of the baby.

MAY CAUSE INJURY

Dr. Black says that lack of this vitamin "may cause permanent injury in the form of rickets, shown in infants by misshapen bones, bowlegs, and fore-shortened chest cavity."

The importance of this vitamin to adults is not clearly understood, however, but is recommended as a preventive measure, especially to those in the older age group who might be lacking adequate nutrition and be prone to brittle bones.

AMOUNT TOO SMALL

The amount of vitamin D in common foods is too small to be significant, says Dr. Black, even in planned nutrition. Thus some form of standardized supplementary vitamin D should be provided daily.

"The amount of fish oil varies with the kind of fish and the brand of oil purchased.

"Our original sources of vitamin D are limited this far north, therefore it is hoped that each family will supplement its diet with some additional source."

Huge Carpet Being Woven For Coronation

GLASGOW (CP)—Skilled craftsmen at the James Templeton mills here are working on the delicate task of weaving a one-piece carpet 187 feet long and 17 feet wide, to be used in Westminster Abbey at the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth next June.

This carpet will stretch from the west door of the abbey, along the nave and past the choir. It is being made of chenille Axminster, designed by the company's founder in 1839. It will be in two shades of blue.

Another, golden-colored carpet, measuring 68 by 32 feet, for the main ceremony in the abbey, will be woven by five specially-trained girls on the world's largest powerloom.

Many Attend Last Rites For Veteran

A large group of friends attended final rites for Alexander (Alec) Harvey at Grenville Court Chapel yesterday.

Mr. Harvey, First World War veteran and popular Canadian Legion personality during his life here, died suddenly last Thursday.

Funeral services were conducted by the Legion padre, Dr. E. A. Wright of First Presbyterian Church.

Representatives of the Ladies Auxiliary, Canadian Legion, the Prince Rupert Burns Club and the RCMP were among those in attendance.

Honorary pallbearers were J. Allan, H. Killin, J. Watson, J. McGreish and J. Green.

Active pallbearers were Alex Haig, Norm McLeod, G. Murray, C. Baple, R. Woods and J. Laurie.

Bugler W. Rance sounded the Last Post and piper J. Robertson played the lament.

DUDLEY R. ANDERSON (CP)—Art Parkes fitted a television set with a nine-inch screen into his automobile, operated by a 12-volt battery. Parkes claims any standard television set can be adapted by his method.

Buys Penal Farm

HAZLEHURST, Miss (AP)—Armon Whittington won't have to serve 90 days at the Cophah county penal farm after all. He bought the place at auction.

Whittington, sentenced to 90 days on the farm on a charge of possessing liquor in bone-dry Mississippi, appealed the conviction and sentence. Before his appeal came up the county governing board decided to sell the farm at auction. Whittington was the high bidder.

Timely RECIPES

Here's an uncooked holiday confection that the junior miss can prepare without a possibility of failure, "Fruit Nut Snowballs." This is a wholesome candy as well as a good-tasting one. Keep a supply on hand during the Yule season.

Fruit Nut Snowballs
1/2 cup shredded coconut
1 cup golden raisins
1 cup dried apricots
1/2 cup roasted unblanched almonds
1 tablespoon honey
Confectioners' sugar

Tonst coconut to delicate brown in moderate oven. Rinse raisins and apricots and steam 5 minutes. Drain. Put fruits and almonds through food chopper, using medium knife. Add honey and coconut, and blend thoroughly. Shape into small balls. Roll in confectioners' sugar. Makes about 24 balls.

Alberta Gets More Revenue From Resources

KINGSVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Solon Low, national Social Credit leader, says people of Alberta benefited 12 times more from gross revenue of $89,000,000 from oil and gas than did the people of British Columbia from the province's $525,000,000 lumber industry. Addressing a club meeting here, he said Alberta's provincial government had wiped out most of its provincial debt with oil leases and royalty revenues. "If Canada is to become a great country, we must base our economy on land and production instead of debt and usury. Our generation will be judged by the use we make of the land."

BLACKWOOD on Bridge
By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
Partner's Takeout Double
Can Dictate Two Moves

Occasionally, when your partner doubles for a takeout, you will have about the equal of an opening bid in high cards. Therefore you will want to reach game.

If your hand is balanced and you have the opponents' bid suit well stopped, clearly your best action is to make a strong bid in no trump. If you have an unbalanced hand and one or more five card or longer suits, you jump the bidding in a suit. On rare occasions you will have the type of hand Mr. Dale holds today. He had two bid-able suits, but both four long and needing four-card support from partner. He had no stopper in the enemy's suit, diamonds, so no trump was out of the question.

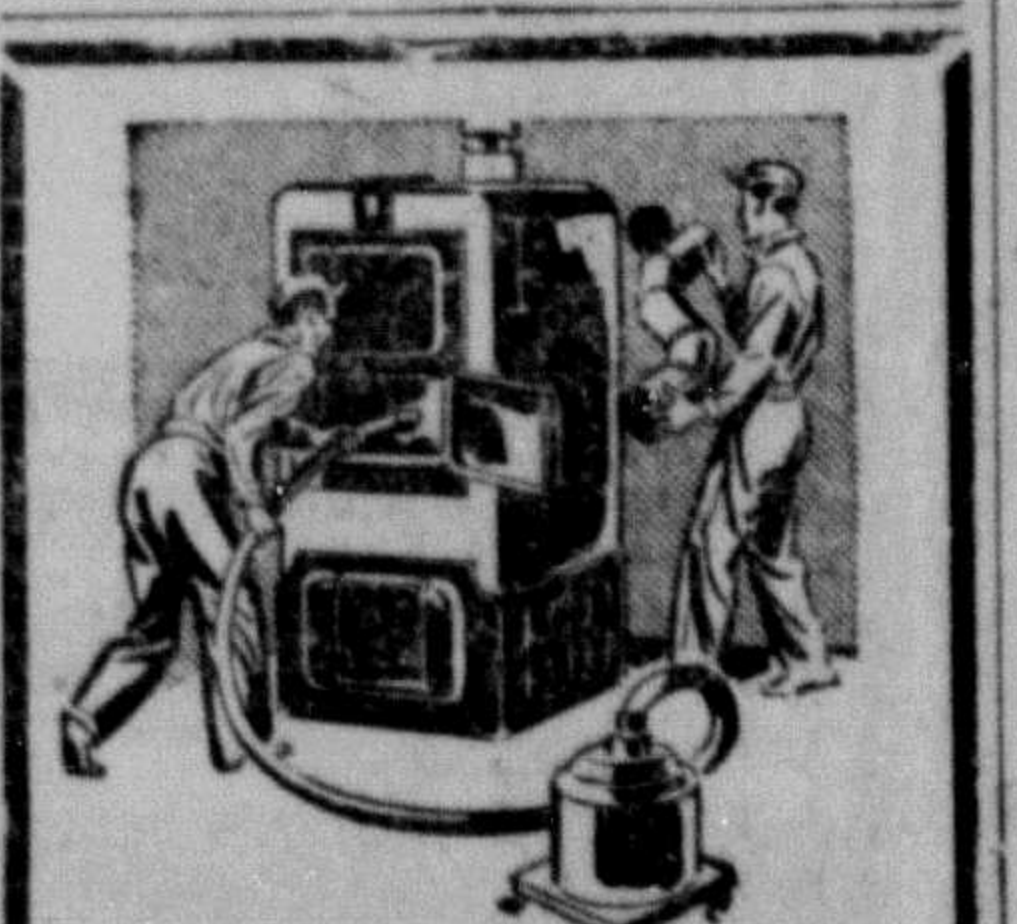

Of course, he could make a jump response in spades, hoping to get a chance to show the hearts, too. But it was possible that Mrs. Keen might put him in game at spades, holding only three spades to the ace or king. In this situation Mr. Dale responded with two diamonds. This bid did not necessarily show no diamond losers but it did commit the side to a game contract. It asked Mrs. Keen to show her best suit or suits. With no further need to jump the bidding (since neither partner could stop short of game), the best contract of four spades was easily reached.

There wasn't much to the play of today's deal. A diamond was opened and Mr. Abel won and continued the suit. Mrs. Keen ruffed. She did not make the mistake of pulling all of the opposing trumps at this point. That would have taken all her trumps and when Mr. Abel was in with the king of clubs, he could have cashed a diamond.

Instead, Mrs. Keen took just two rounds of trumps, then led the ace and another club. Mr. Abel won with the king of clubs and returned another diamond. But Mrs. Keen ruffed with her last trump, entered dummy with the ace of hearts and pulled the last trump with the queen of spades, discarding a small heart

Recount Shows Tie Game Or Victory for Millers

A double-barrel upset exploded last night amid utter confusion following the senior "B" basketball game between Gordon & millers.

The best referees Ole Slatta and Vern Ciccone could do was to say the game ended in a 50-50 tie, but Millers may even have won 52-50.

That was after the hardware squad players hugged each other and their coach to celebrate their one-point win, 50-49, over the millers—or so they thought for that's how the score board showed.

After the cheering and crowd cleared, the pulp mill squad's coach Helge Holkestad called for the score sheet. He and several players had been protesting a sudden change in scores on the electronic board in the last few minutes of the game when G-As were given two extra points.

But their protests were overruled by the firm voice of the score keeper.

A recount of the scores by referees showed definitely a tie game, if not a 52-50 victory for the millers, which would have been their first over the league-leading hardware.

The case will go for jurisdiction to the executive council of Basketball Association.

The game was one of the closest, most hard-fought battles on the court in recent years.

ERRORS COSTLY

It had something of everything—suspense, outstanding plays, phenomenal shooting and almost unforgivable errors.

Standout was Glen Carlson, hefty bucket man for CCC who looped in 19 points in two periods—second and third—to lead the scoring. He was especially sensational with his back-handed hook shots which found their mark time and again.

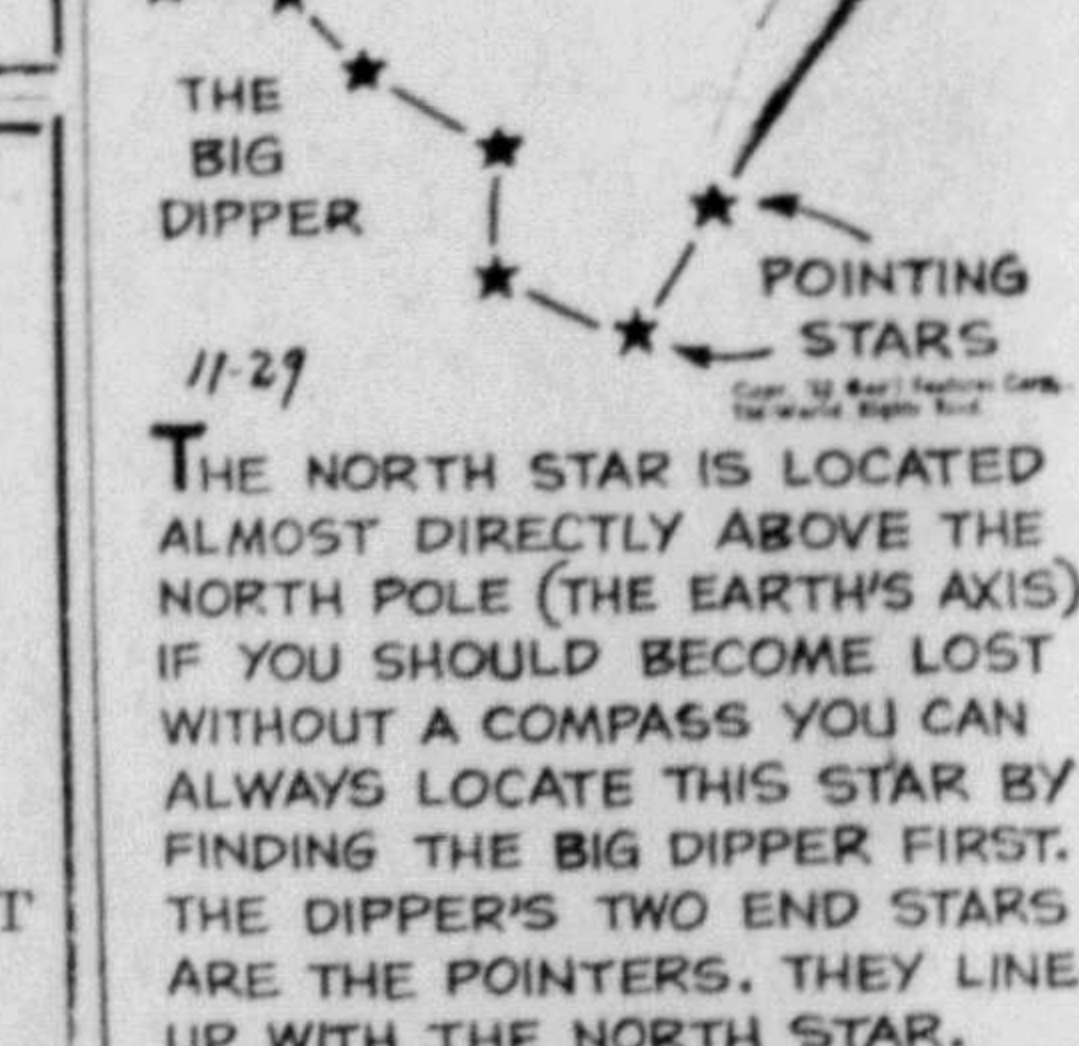

Joe Davis, with 15 points, was second high, racking up telling points in the first two frames with long-range accuracy.

Meanwhile, scores were over-riding each other in see-saw fashion: quarter time, 10-7 (G-A); half-time, 28-23 (G-A);

SPORTSMAN'S DIGEST LOCATING NORTH WITHOUT A COMPASS

POLARIS OR NORTH STAR

THE NORTH STAR IS LOCATED ALMOST DIRECTLY ABOVE THE NORTH POLE (THE EARTH'S AXIS). IF YOU SHOULD BECOME LOST WITHOUT A COMPASS YOU CAN ALWAYS LOCATE THIS STAR BY FINDING THE BIG DIPPER FIRST. THE DIPPER'S TWO END STARS ARE THE POINTERS. THEY LINE UP WITH THE NORTH STAR.

MOSS MAY BE FOUND GROWING ON THE NORTH SIDE OF SOME TREE TRUNKS.
FOLIAGE IS HEAVIER ON THE SOUTH SIDE ON MOST TREES.

AS I SEE IT

see deep and dangerous possible pitfalls. He said:

"Every prisoner has the right, on the conclusion of an armistice, to be released.

"Every prisoner of war has the right to be repatriated.

"It is the duty of the detaining side to provide facilities for such repatriation.

"The detaining side has no right to use force in connection with the disposal of prisoners-of-war."

HAD WE APPLIED those principles after World War Two we would have been compelled to release and keep in Canada tens of thousands of Germans.

I wrote in this column about 1947 of the ridiculous chase by the RCMP of one lone German prisoner of war who "hid out" in Canada. He was a good salesman, a good tennis instructor, finally a good farm hand on Lulu Island. But the RCMP got their man and back he went to Germany.

Under Mr. Eden's revised principles scores of thousands like him could have stayed in Canada for life. If we do have that World War Three (which God forbid), suppose we capture a hundred thousand Chinese Reds or Soviet Communists. Are we now sure that we want to give them the right to stay here, permanently, if they so choose?

I KNOW that if World War Three comes, your son and my son may be shot down in planes, or taken prisoner in ground battle. I do not want anybody dear to me to be "processed" by the Russians or Chinese to try to convert him to stay in Russia or China of his "free will." One fellow who has been so processed called me up and said, "After 48 hours of that anybody will say anything the processors want him to say."

Nor do I want anybody I know "screened" under the circumstances of a Kojima Island.
