JUDGMENT OF SUPREME COURT AFFECTS LOCAL FISHERIES

Salmon Canneries to Come Under the Control of Province Following Judgment of the Supreme Court

Sommerville Cannery Co. of Prince Rupert Wins Case and Floating Cannery May Operate at Will for Present

OTTAWA, May 28.—The Sommerville Cannery Company of Prince Rupert has won the action which changes the whole status of canneries on the Pacific coast. The Supreme Court has decided that sections seven A and eighteen of the Dominion Fisheries Act are ultra vires of the Parliament of Canada. This section requires the obtaining of an annual license for operation of fish canneries for commercial purposes and for operation of salmon canneries or salmon curing establishments in British Columbia for commercial purposes. Under these sections the licenses were issuable by the minister of marine and fisheries.

The charge arose out of Caisa's statements at the police inquiry Wednesday when he said he had seen the Mayor "drunk and paralyzed" at Joe Celona's home.

FLECK DIVORCE IN VANCOUVER

PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER CITED AS CO-RESPONDENT AND CUSTODY OF DAUGHTER SOUGHT

VANCOUVER, May 28.—Citing Rev. Samuel Robertson Orr, minister of the Presbyterian Church as co-respondent, John Gordon Fleck has filed a petition in the supreme court for divorce from Margaret Winnifred Fleck, the custody of Nora Darling Fleck, the twelve year old daughter, being sought by the petitioner.

This excludes the department of marine and fisheries from the right to charge a fee for cannery licenses or to prohibit a floating cannery from operating, as was attempted at or near Prince Rupert. It probably means that the licensing of canneries and the regulation of the same will be taken over by the provincial government, under the chief commissioner of fisheries.

The local fisheries office has not as yet had any notification of the change but they state it will not affect the work of the local office except in regard to the collection of license fees, which will now be omitted. T. H. Johnson, manager of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., said he was pleased to hear of the decision. He thought it would be a good thing for the province. Ottawa was a long way off and it was easier to talk matters over with the people at Victoria.

Blake blanked Pittsburgh, granting five scattered hits. New York moved into third place by beating the Phillies twice.

At the congregational meeting last night of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, it was definitely decided to proceed this summer with the building of the new church on Sixth Avenue at the corner of Dunsmuir Street. The building, for which finances have been arranged, will cost, it is estimated, about $12,000 or $15,000. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Holkestad was christened.

Supreme Court Decides Any British Subject Has Right to License for Salmon Fishing but Foreigners Not

OTTAWA, May 28.—The Supreme Court of Canada, in giving judgment today, was divided on the question of the discretionary power of the minister of fisheries to grant or refuse a license to fish in British Columbia. The majority decided that any British subject resident in British Columbia who was not otherwise disqualified has the right to receive a license if he submits the proper application and tenders the prescribed fee.

Non-British subjects resident in the province are not eligible to receive a license to operate a herring or pilchard drag seine or purse seine or to take salmon or crabs or in the salmon fishing to act as boat pullers or be otherwise employed in a boat used in drifting or as helper or in any other particular capacity in operating purse seine or drag seine that is being used in fishing or to fish for salmon for commercial purposes or by means of trolling. None of these licenses can be granted to any person unless he is a British subject resident in the province or has served in the Canadian army or navy.

The minority of the court were of opinion that the minister has discretionary authority to grant or refuse licenses to British subjects resident in the province or to returned soldiers. Justices Anglin, Newcombe, Rinfre and Lamont constituted the majority with Justices Duff, Mignault and Smith the minority.

Skeena Constituency Got Only $3,800 out of $79,000 Asked by the Engineer and Local Member

Repairs to Dock at Old Massett Only Vote That Passed House of Commons Out of Many Recommended

OTTAWA, May 28.—Supplementary estimates totalling $10,583,000 were tabled in the House Saturday night, including $20,000 for a wharf at Stewart. The sum of $150,000 appears for construction of the Golden-Revelstoke highway.

Complaints that political expediency decided whether or not items should be placed in the estimates, were voiced in the House Saturday by J. C. Brady of Skeena when an item of $3,800 for wharf repairs at Old Massett were under discussion. The chief engineer of the department of public works had recommended an appropriation of $79,000 for this constituency but the only item which survived was that for Old Massett.

The total vote for harbors and rivers approved in British Columbia was $537,630. A vote of $5,000 for the Yukon passed and a vote of $11,000 as a contribution to the provincial government for surfacing the Stewart-Hyder road passed.

S.O.S. Calls Sent Out By the Dirigible Italia From Arctic Regions

Airship Supposed to be to North of Siberia When she Kept up Persistent Requests for Help Early Sunday Morning

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—Calls for help for General Nobile's dirigible Italia, in peril somewhere in Arctic waters, was picked out of the air by Pacific Coast radio operators early Sunday.

The S.O.S. calls were repeated in Italian, French and English and were persistent for two hours. The calls were believed to indicate that the dirigible was somewhere north of Siberia.

The Italia, commanded by General Nobile, left King's Bay, Spitzbergen early last Wednesday morning and was reported to have reached the North Pole and to have started back for the base. Later she was reported to be fighting fog and wind not far from her base and the Norwegian government was asked by the Italian government to send out a ship to search for her. Sufficient food to last a month was carried.

Relief Efforts NEW YORK, May 28.—The fate of the Italia is still a mystery today as rescue efforts are being pushed in Norway and Sweden. Lieut. Luetzow Holtm, the Norwegian ace, started for Spitzbergen from Oslo to carry on air search along the north and northeast coast of the archipelago.

The Norwegian authorities are preparing an auxiliary relief expedition on a large scale. The base ship Citta di Milano put out from King's Bay yesterday but was held up by the ice.

Messages picked up on the Pacific coast yesterday broadcast from Vladivostok reported the Italia down and asking assistance but nothing further today.

Million Tons of Ore in Sight on Woodbine at Stewart—Much Activity in Smithers and New Hazelton Districts

F. J. Grossland, the company's consulting engineer, and Malcolm McKenzie mine superintendent, estimate that approximately 1,000,000 tons of ore are now in sight on the Woodbine mine at Stewart. Plans for the erection of a mill are being made, the intention being to have construction completed this season. The Woodbine Gold Mining Co., in whose treasury remains 1,330,000 shares out of the total capitalization of 5,000,000 shares, is free of any indebtedness and has $129,000 in cash and federal bonds. A total of 500,000 shares of stock were recently sold in England and the sum of $45,000 remains to be re-issued on the treasury stock. 250,000 shares are now under option to English interests which will enrich the treasury by approximately $125,000 if the option is exercised. The annual meeting of the company will take place on Thursday of next week when plans for future development will be laid before the shareholders.

Through an adjustment between H. C. Briggs and J. B. Watson, president of the Woodbine Gold Mining Co., who has recently returned from a trip to Europe, the former's action against the company has been withdrawn, it is announced.

All ore shipments from the Silver Cup mine near New Hazelton have been suspended until the government road gang, which is now at work, gets the road to the property in shape. At the mine, however, development on No. 3 and No. 4 tunnels is being pushed forward and it is expected by this week to be in another 250 feet.

The Omineca Herald makes the rather ambitious prediction that by the end of 1928 New Hazelton will be the most important mining camp in Northern British Columbia and in 1929 will have more shipping mines than any other camp in the north.

"The highest and most consistent values ever obtained on the Duthie mine property have been in the ore now coming from the long tunnel away down the hill at the mill site," stated J. R. Turner, manager of the Duthie mine, in addressing the Omineca branch of the British Columbia Chamber of Mines in Smithers recently. "Six weeks ago at the bottom of this long tunnel we found two ore veins instead of one and, in place of the former small veins of very rich ore, we are working in a large mineralized zone, comparatively soft and permitting of rapid progress with the drills. The most significant fact of recent operations is that the best ruby silver ever found on this, or possibly any other property, has recently been encountered far back in the lowest tunnel on the Duthie mine—that at the mill site."

A huge showing of good ore, about two hundred feet easterly from the shaft and running northerly and southerly on a parallel with the ore upon which all previous development has been concentrated, has been opened up at the Topley Richfield mine, the values being such as to make the latest discovery one of the finest outstanding in all the development of the property. The discovery

ORGANIZER OF TOC H SPEAKS

PADRE GILBERT WILLIAMS OF LONDON, ENGLAND, GIVES TWO ADDRESSES IN CATHEDRAL

The origin of the now widespread ToC H movement was explained by Padre Gilbert Williams of London, England, in an interesting and lucid address from the pulpit of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral yesterday morning and again in the evening Padre Williams was the speaker when he told of the great progress that had been made by the organization since its inception in the days of the Great War.

After the war, the need of some such organization as this to retain and develop the companionships of the trenches had been felt and thus ToC H was kept alive. Undenominational in character, its objectives had been broadened out to include the idea of service, mutual welfare and goodwill and the organization had grown to such importance that it was now spread throughout the Empire. Even in British Columbia there were now thirteen branches and it was the desire to establish even more. If the right leadership could be obtained, a branch might also be formed in Prince Rupert.

The picnic season is on so how can good weather be expected.

Let's go off to a picnic
There mix our grub with grit
And loil around on sandy beach
Until we're tired of it.

Never say that "it is me"
Said the beebug to the flea.

"I didn't know you motored."
"I don't—I dodge."

It's wonderful how the people who can't pay their grocery bills manage to pay cash for their gasoline and liquor.

Some questions require no answer. When a man asks you how you are, he will be terribly bored if you propose to tell him.

Don't forget for the third and last time and this the time of year to clean up, paint up and shut up. Actions speak louder than words.

"SORRELL AND SON" SHOWING

WILL COME HERE FOR THE WEEK-END WITH ENGLISH SCENES

In order that no false note should creep into "Sorrell and Son," his first production for United Artists, Herbert Brenon, who personally directed the screen version of Warwick Deeping's stirring novel, took his unit of the Joseph M. Schenck organization to England for the exterior scenes. "Sorrell and Son" comes here at the week-end.

"GET YOUR MAN" IS HUMOROUS PICTURE
Clara Bow is "It" Once More and the Director was a Lady

"Get Your Man," the mid-week picture here, was built for Clara Bow. It shows her as a care-free American miss who starts out to see Parisian life alone and winds up by falling in love with a youth of that country—Charles Rogers. But the big item in the story concerns a betrothal, which Rogers figures. The French boy has been engaged to a French girl, Josephine Dunn, since he was five years old. Although it is a loveless match for both Rogers and Miss Dunn, they do not care to incur the wrath of their fathers by breaking the betrothal and it is up to the American girl to do the work. And how she does it!

The picture abounds in humor. Miss Bow furnishes the majority of this but she has able assistance from Harvey Clarke, who appears as the Marquis. Rogers makes a distinctive hit as the leading man and Josef Swickard, as Rogers' father, is the same strong character actor that has been in the past. Dorothy Arzner must be given a huge bouquet for the direction. She has achieved her greatest success.

"THE BLONDE SAINT" IS HUMAN PERFORMANCE
Doris Kenyon and Lewis Stone, always finished performers, give the most inspired characterization of their respective careers in "The Blonde Saint," here tonight.
Stone, ordinarily the suave sophisticate of cosmopolitan surroundings, has donned the simple garb of a Sicilian fisherman and given one of the most human performances of his life. He plays the role of an American novelist sojourning in the little Sicilian village where he meets the regal looking girl whose puritanical philosophy has won her the name of "The Blonde Saint."
Doris Kenyon, whom we have always held to be one of the most beautiful women of the screen, now becomes one

LA JOLLA SCENE OF "WICKEDNESS PREFERRED"

La Jolla, California, recognized by world travelers as one of the most beautiful scenic spots of the entire world, in the background of much of the action in "Wickedness Preferred," the Lew Cody-Aileen Pringle co-starring film being shown here tomorrow.
Much of the action was shot at the famous Casa Manana, a new and exclusive hotel, said to be one of the most beautiful on the American continent. Other action was taken along the broad beach and at the entrances of the famous La Jolla caves, though a part of the scenes were filmed far out at sea along the edge of a semi-tropical island. The picture was directed by Hobart Henley and is a screamingly funny farce-comedy. George K. Arthur, Bert Roach and Mary McAllister are seen in the supporting cast.

Every-day Magic

Chairs that flop into beds... bags that suck up dirt... tiny ticking things that count all day long for you. Daylight any night just by pushing a button. A stream that never stops till you turn off a faucet. Any voice you want, talking to you from a cage on your desk or wall. Actions of yesterday, of people miles away, going on on a curtain before you. Stilled throats singing to you from discs; distant throats singing to you from nothing!

Uncanny, daily magic—this, due to national advertising. Advertisements have given you flashlights, telephones, typewriters, automobiles, cold creams, motion pictures. They have given you new eyes, new ears, new hands, new feet, new faces, new emotions. They have urged such wide use, so lowered prices, that almost wishes are autos, almost beggars can ride. Through advertisements you've laid down the shovel and the hoe. You can buy a whole harvest ready-to-eat in cans. You've hung up the fiddle and the bow, for a radio. There's little old-time work left in this age of amazing short-cuts.

PRINCIPLES OF CHIROPRACTIC

THE NERVE IMPULSE

The neurones form pathways along which the nerve-impulses travel. It is through the power of conductivity possessed by the neurones that the impulses travel along the nerves. The impulses which arrive at the cell-body produce there chemical changes. These changes, when they reach a given volume, cause nerve-impulse which leaves the cell-body by way of the axone.

As will be pointed out, the impulses travel either toward the central system or from it. The former class of impulses are called sensory, and by means of them the proper relationship of all parts of the body, individually and collectively, to their environment is maintained. The latter class of impulses are known as efferent, or motor, and it is through them that the functional activity and organic integrity of every part of the body are maintained.

The amount of nerve influence generated by the brain must always be commensurate with the amount of work required of the parts supplied by the nerves. This is excellently illustrated by the following: We have the power of determining beforehand the amount of nervous influence necessary for the production of a certain degree of movement. Thus, when we lift a vessel, the force which we employ in lifting it depends upon the idea which we have formed of its contents, when we are not certain what it contains. If it should contain something much lighter than we had estimated, unless force would be expended, and it would be lifted with exceptional ease; but if it contained something much heavier than we had anticipated, we would very likely drop it, because insufficient force was expended to accomplish the end desired.

Just as the response of muscles is proportionate to the amount of nerve force received by them, so also are the functional activities of all organs of the body dependent on the amount or strength of the nerve-impulses received by them. If, therefore, anything interferes with the power of conduction of the nerve, the impulses which it normally conveys to the parts which it supplies are not forthcoming, and these parts will suffer. There will be either functional derangement, or changes in its structure. It will therefore be seen that Chiropactic applies to all functional disorders, and a good many organic conditions. It will pay you to investigate. Phone Blue 85 for an appointment, or call on R. E. Eydson, the Chiropactor at 623-3rd Avenue, West. Advt.

TOC H BRANCH HERE PROPOSED

PRELIMINARY ORGANIZATION TOOK PLACE LAST EVENING AFTER SERVICE IN ANGLICAN CATHEDRAL

At a meeting following evening service in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral last night, preliminary steps were taken with a view to organizing a Toc H group here. Sixteen young men attended the meeting which was addressed by Padre Gilbert Williams of London, England, organizer of the movement. The wish was expressed to try out the idea of forming a group locally and James Underwood was appointed to be acting correspondent during organization. This provisional group will meet again next Tuesday evening and, if the idea successfully takes root, a group will be definitely organized, possibly in two or three months. Rev. (Commander) Oswald Hodgson of Telegraph Creek, an old member of Toc H, who is in the city from the north for a few weeks, will assist in the preliminary organization.

Explaining the nature and purposes of Toc H, Padre Williams stated that its membership was open to men over sixteen years of age. While Toc H had its origin during the Great War in France, its membership was by no means confined to ex-service men. It was interdenominational and non-political and no creed or dogma tests were required of its members. A man, on joining Toc H, however, recognized that he was joining the Christian family and accepted the four points of Toc H: 1. Think Fairly; 2. Love Widely;

PARK BEAVER FOR SCOTLAND

Two also sent to New Zealand from Jasper recently

JASPER, May 28.—So that the young New Zealanders will get a better idea of their sister Dominion, Canada, the federal government has just shipped from Jasper to Auckland two live beavers. They were taken from their lodge in the Caledonia creek and so that they should not become homesick, given special accommodation on the train and steamer. Two other beaver who have just left on a long ocean voyage were taken out of the Maligne Range dams and shipped to Edinburgh, Scotland.

The Scotch beaver were removed from a colony of 40 which live in a creek five miles long in eight lodges. The creek which spouts out of a rock close to the Maligne River empties into the Athabasca near Henry House. Two fine specimens of mountain sheep and goats, unlike the beaver, both dead, are now in Edmonton being mounted for the Victoria Memorial Museum, Ottawa, and sheep and a goat head are being prepared for the Canadian embassy at Washington. They are all very fine specimens, shot by the park wardens for the purpose.

HARRY LAUDER NOT MEAN AS HE SEEMS

Friend of His Visiting Jasper Says He is Simply a Pose and not Real

JASPER, Park, May 28.—Harry Lauder's "meanness" is only a pose according to one of his old friends, James Leith of Aberdeen, who was telling stories about the comedian in the rounds of Jasper Park Lodge last night. "Of course," said Mr. Leith, "Harry does not throw money away, for he started life as a pit boy in the mines and he knows the value of money, but he has been guilty of acts of the greatest generosity. He gets more publicity out of his so-called meanness because the public likes to think of us Scots as close."

Mr. Leith, who is head of a large distillery in Aberdeen, left this morning for Regina after spending several days enjoying golf and the mountain air. "This is my first trip through Canada," he said today, "and I can tell you it's a great country. I didn't know anyone when I landed and now I have a host of friends." One of the friends he made on the western trip and with whom he came to Jasper, was a J. Dickinson of St. Paul, Minn., passenger traffic manager of the Great Northern Railway, who is returning east after visiting Glacier and Jasper Parks.

The Dalhousie University girls of Halifax are expected to play the Edmonton Commercial Grads Thursday and Saturday of this week for the championship of Canada, the winner to represent this country at the Olympic games in Amsterdam. The eastern team is champion of the Maritimes.

English critics say that Fairway, the Derby favorite, has glandular inflammation and there is a possibility the colt may not be able to run. Flamingo is a horse that is spoken of as a possible winner if Fairway is not in the running. Lord Derby's Pharamond will represent him if Fairway is not there. Buland finished behind Pharamond in a recent race, but races are uncertain, as every racing man knows. The Derby race takes place on the same day as the Liberal nomination in Prince Rupert.

Lacrosse is becoming an important sport in England, the championship this year having been won by Stockport with Oxford University as a runner up.

Football has never been more strenuous, and on the whole never more level than in the season which closed yesterday says a London paper. The most incontestable evidence of this conclusion is that one half of the clubs in the First Division have felt insecure concerning their membership. The championship solved itself last Wednesday, but not until the last hour of the season could the question, "Who goes down?" be answered. Four points between the last eleven clubs shows the stern character of the contest in the highest group. Tottenham and "Mid-esbro" have been relegated with the highest earnings ever known. The wonder of the campaign has been Derby County. At the end of November this club had only obtained ten points from sixteen matches, and their descent to the next group seemed probable. There was no shuffling of players as if they were a pack of playing cards. There was no waiting until February or even March for reinforcements. The old players were displaced by the reserve men, and one fresh forward was secured from Aston Villa early in November. Today, Derby are with Leicester in the first flight—both clubs providing examples of thoughtful team-building and the value of competent reserve men. The key to success and salvation in an eight-months' campaign of intensive competition is duplicate and spare parts in man power, whereas most clubs think only of the first eleven and allow the reserve team to amble along as they please.

BOOTH AGAIN BEATS BORDEN

JUNIOR LEAGUE FOOTBALL GAME ON SATURDAY RESULTED IN 4-NIL SCORE

The Junior football game between Borden and Booth schools on Saturday afternoon resulted in a win for Booth by four goals to nil after a well played game.

Booth had the hill in its favor and soon forced a corner. Wilson saved from Bussanich. Pyle defended well when McKay was dangerous. Nakamoto got away but Collison skipped him. Vaccher was now prominent and Carl Smith cleared. Walters shot over and then Fong led an attack that Collison stopped. Wilson punched away a dangerous centre cleverly but Booth was not to be denied and Bussanich put them a goal up. Forbes now sent Borden back and then Wilson covered himself with glory with several splendid saves. Wingham was very persistent and from one of his crosses Walters scored. Half time found Booth two goals up.

Pyle, Fisher and Smith were prominent in stepping Booth forwards who were combining well. Nakamoto was dangerous but Gilker cleared. In another Borden raid Booth halves all showed up well and Borden were stopped. Then Wood and Walters forced a corner from which McKay scored. Borden pressed and Booth defence was tested but stood the strain and Nelson cleared. Smith had to run out to save. McKay, Wingham and Bussanich put in some nice play for the latter to score the fourth for Booth. Kakamoto was very dangerous but his shot was just too high. Fong had a long try but it went over. Hardy sent his forwards on a raid that required Collison, Nelson and Forbes to stop. Pyle did well to stop McKay and Fisher cleared effectively. Dugate was smart but Booth had the advantage in weight and height and ran out winners by four clear goals.

Teams:

Booth—Ted Smith; Forbes, Nelson; Colussi, Collison, Gilker, Walters, Wood, Bussanich, McKay, Wingham.

Borden—H. Wilson; J. Pyle, P. Fisher; C. Smith, P. Vaccher, F. Hardy; T. Katsuyama, R. Fong, K. Nakamoto, T. Dugate, S. Kanaya.

Jack Campbell refereed satisfactorily while A. Sertes and W. W. C. O'Neill were linesmen.

Booth is hoping to beat High School next Wednesday and so draw level in the league.
