Mayor Hume Returned

Balloting Light, Bylaws Endorsed
 Mayor Hume Wednesday re-elected mayor of Prince Rupert for his second year term.
 The 69-year-old electrical contractor who owns half-interest in the New Westminster Hotel of the Western Hockey League, won after a stiff fight with veteran CCFer Tom Alsbery, 48-year-old high school principal.
 Running as an independent, Hume led Alsbery by more than 5,000 votes. High school principal Everett Irwin and real estate man Archie Proctor, both independents, trailed.
 Only some 40 per cent of 172,000 eligible voters cast ballots.
 Three money bylaws received necessary three-fifths majority to pass. One was for $750,000 to help build a stadium for the British Empire Games here in 1954.
 The games committee will put another $500,000. Construction of the stadium will give the city weight to Vancouver's bid for a berth in the Western Provincial Football Union.
 Complete totals gave Mayor Hume 30,600 votes, Alsbery 25,000, Irwin 9,000 and Proctor 5,000.

Coronation Parade Route
 THIS MAP SHOWS the route approved by Queen Elizabeth for the coronation procession next June, although it was announced today it may be extended for the trip from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey for the ceremony. The return route will remain the same, the Queen leaving by way of Whitehall, Pall Mall, St. James's Street, along Piccadilly to Hyde Park Corner, through the Central Arch of the screen, along east Carriage Road in Hyde Park, through Marble Arch, into Oxford Street, Regent Street, Piccadilly Circus, Haymarket, Trafalgar Square, through Admiralty Arch to the Mall, and past the Queen Victoria Memorial.

Heavy Vote Indicated in Today's Election to Select 4 Aldermen

A steady stream of voters into the polling station at the Civic Centre this morning, totalling 520 who cast ballots at press time, indicated the heaviest voting in the history of civic elections here.
 The number of "morning" votes is more than twice as heavy as was recorded last year when 237 ballots were cast in the same period. A total of 1,741 votes last year also set a record.
 Returning officer Bill Long said it was evident, too, that more women voters were turning out. At the same time, he was flooded with phone calls by those who had failed to register on this year's voters' list and therefore could not vote.
 Mr. Long pointed to a stack of more than 300 poll tax paid receipts, payees of which had not registered. A three-week registration period ended in October.
 Voters today will select four aldermen for two-year terms out of eight candidates running for office: Ald. Darrow Gomez, Ald. Raymond McLean, Ald. James Prusky, (seeking re-election) Mrs. W. D. Smith, Bill Bremner, R. L. Gardiner, Hugo Kraupner, and Percy Downing.
 Also eligible voters also face a referendum calling for approval of an order that all milk distributed in the city be pasteurized.
 Property owners only may vote on the school bylaw, asking for approval to build a six-room, $167,960 school at Port Edward.
 Even so, the voters' list names 3,021 eligible voters, the most in the city's history.
 The flood of voters is expected between 5 and 7 p.m., after workers leave their jobs.

workers leave their jobs. Veterans of many elections stated surprise in the early indications of a big turnout, since there is no majority contest.
 Meanwhile, the city curfew siren is being sounded every hour on the hour as a reminder to voters to "get out and vote," part of a campaign by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.
 A sound-truck operated by Jaycee Bert Jefferies, with voice and song coming from its loudspeakers as it travelled the business and residential areas, also served as a reminder to voters.
 The polls close at 8 p.m. sharp, after which ballot counting begins. The four winners in the aldermanic campaign will be sworn in and take office in the first session of the 1953 council meeting.

$10,000 Bill Found in Suitcase Of Man Found Dead in Apartment
 NEW YORK (AP)—A 64-year-old man, found dead in a Queens rooming house, left a suitcase stuffed with more than $200,000 in cash—including a $10,000 bill.
 The man, Roger Stewart, apparently died of natural causes. A virtual recluse, his neighbors thought him practically penniless. The money included 137 $1,000 bills.

Garage Cash Register Stolen
 A modern type cash register and a small amount of money were taken by thieves early this morning after forcing a door in the Parker-Lid. garage on Third Street.
 RCMP said today that the premises were last checked at 6 a.m. and everything was in order. The theft was discovered when the car was driven away this weekend, approximately $1,000 was taken from the Old House Hotel bar after thieves entered by breaking a window.

Norwegian Freighter Sinks in 'Frisco Bay
 SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—The Norwegian freighter Fernstream, sank today inside San Francisco Bay shortly after colliding with the freighter Hawaiian Ranchers.
 The Fernstream's crew escaped in lifeboats.
 The crash occurred just west of Alcatraz Island in murky fog and drizzle.
 The Fernstream's crew of 42 men took to lifeboats when their ship began to go under.
 Twelve passengers on the combination freight and passenger vessel also escaped safely before the Fernstream sank, and disappeared in about 100 feet of water. No trace of the ship shows above the bay.
 The coast guard said there was only one minor injury reported. A Fernstream crew member suffered a wrist injury.
 It was not learned immediately what damage, if any, the Hawaiian Rancher suffered.

Charges To be Laid In Visa Case
 OTTAWA (CP)—The 1951 racket in Canadian immigration from Italy will result in court charges against several former employees of the Immigration Department.
 Immigration Minister Harris made a partial announcement of government action in Commons Monday, saying charges would be lodged against "five or six" persons as a result of a long investigation into visa frauds.
 He said charges are being prepared by his officers and the Department of Justice.

Ottawa Probes Rupert Construction Of Airport

Sinclair Supports Move for Strip

Strong support for construction of an airport in Prince Rupert in the near future has come from Fisheries Minister James Sinclair in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce here.
 Mr. Sinclair also stated that "the possibility of providing such an airport for Prince Rupert in the very near future" has been investigated by Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier.
 T. Norton Youngs, Chamber of Commerce president, said today he would write immediately to Mr. Chevrier asking results of the investigation. He said he would also "sincerely thank Mr. Sinclair" for his interest in the airport project.
 The recently appointed minister of fisheries stated in the letter: "your member of parliament, Mr. E. T. Applewhite has been most active in this connection."
GREAT IMPORTANCE
 "Such an airport would not only be of great importance to the Prince Rupert area but will be a very valuable link in air transportation to Alaska and the Orient.
 "Please assure your members that I will assist Mr. Applewhite in every way in bringing about early action on this project."
 A strong resolution, described as "one of this city's most urgent requests to the Federal government" calling for an airport here was handed to Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent by the Chamber on his visit here Sept. 7th.
 The resolution called for action "as soon as possible." It was preceded by many resolutions from the Prince Rupert Chamber, the Associated Boards of Trade of Central B.C. and other campaigns over the past five years.
 A further resolution calling for construction of a land air base in Prince Rupert was unanimously endorsed by the August convention of the Central B.C. Boards of Trade.
 Where the airport would be built, if approved, has not been indicated except that Tugwell Island and Ridley Island sites had been ruled out. Cited as favorable is Digby Island, across the harbor from the city.
 Prince Rupert is at present served only by a sea-plane base.
DEFENCE FACTOR
 Mr. Youngs said importance of an airport here not only hinges on commercial benefits "but will be a vital factor in the defence of Canada."
 He suggested, though, that an airport here would "very likely attract attention of airlines with a view to establishing a flight to the Orient."
 Such aviation notables as Grant McConachie, president of Canadian Pacific Airlines and president of the International Air Transport Association, and others have stated candidly that lack of an airport here is holding back progress in Prince Rupert.
 Mr. Youngs said: "We have been hitting this thing hard for a long time, and from now on we'll hit it even harder."
 "It is our main project right now until we get a definite result."

A Child's Life of Jesus

A Child's Life of Jesus is one of the last books written by the late Fulton Oursler, noted author of such volumes as The Greatest Story Ever Told, The Greatest Book Ever Written, etc. This presentation of Mr. Oursler's book has been specially illustrated for newspaper publication by the well-known artist, Neil O'Keefe.

CHAPTER I
 One winter's night, long, long ago, God, who made the moon and the rain and the rivers and the flowers and all the silvery and in the sky, did a new and wonderful thing.
 He sent his own dear Son down from Heaven to join the world and live with people like you and me for a while.
 The Son of God did not come as a grown man at first. He was born as a tiny baby, like all the rest of us.
 And this is how it happened:
 There lived in a little town called Nazareth a man and his wife, called Joseph and Mary. One morning, when Mary was alone, an angel came into her kitchen and told her the big secret.
 She was going to have a Son and God would be His Father. And the name of her Son would be Jesus.
 While Joseph lay asleep, the angel whispered the same secret to him.
 So Mary and Joseph knew the greatest secret in the world.
 The house where they lived in Nazareth had white walls and a round roof. It was a pretty little house and Mary wanted her little Boy to be born there. But Jesus was born far away from the pretty house with the white walls.
 That was because the king of the land made everybody leave home and come to another town, where he could count the people and find out how many men there were.
 So Mary had to ride a long way on an old grey donkey while Joseph held the reins and walked beside her. Joseph was so tired that his feet hurt and he and Mary could hardly keep awake when they got to the little town called Bethlehem.
 Every hotel and rooming house and every inn was crowded. There was no room for Mary and Joseph at the inn or anywhere else, except a stable. A red cow lived in the stable and every once in awhile said "moo." A black hen lived there, too, with a lot of yellow chicks—a donkey and a little white lamb with its mother.
 Joseph found a corner in the stable for his tired wife. He fixed a bed for Mary on the stable floor. Her bed was just a pile of warm straw, and Joseph rolled up his coat to be her pillow. She had no cradle for her little Son, so she had to put Him in a manger box full of oats for the donkey's breakfast.
 And there the little Son of God opened His soft kind eyes for the first time.
 Joseph thanked God for the wonderful gift of the little Boy from Heaven. Joseph did not have a bed for himself. But he did not mind; he wanted to stay up all that first night and watch over the new-born Baby and mother, while they were sleeping.
 When everything was quiet, and only Joseph was awake, he heard a knock at the stable door. Some strange men were outside. They were shepherds who took care of flocks of sheep on the hillsides. They were tall, strong men with long staves in their hands and their sun-burned faces and dark eyes were kind. All of them were breathing hard because they had run a long way and they were excited.
 The shepherds told Joseph they wanted to come in to the stable.
 "Why?" asked Joseph.
 Then they told him what had happened. While they were watching their flocks of sheep they saw a bright-colored light fill the whole sky. Then they saw angels in the clouds and heard them singing:
 "Glory to God . . .
 "And on earth, peace . . .
 Tomorrow:
 Kings and shepherds worship Jesus.

Christmas Mailing Dates Set
 If you haven't done your Christmas mailing yet, the Post Office advises there are only a few days left for mailing if delivery is to be guaranteed.
 Deadline for mailing to the U.S. is already past—that was Dec. 8. The same date is quoted for mailing to Newfoundland and yesterday was the deadline for Maritime Provinces' mail to ensure delivery.
 Mail for Ontario and Quebec should go by tomorrow and to the prairie provinces by Dec. 13.
 All B.C. mail should be in the post office by next Monday, and the deadline for local mail is set at Dec. 17, next Wednesday.
 Postmaster Jack Burgess explained about the deadlines:
 "We expect to handle 25,000 letters a day during the peak of the Christmas rush, compared to the normal run of 3,000 letters daily and although we have 14 extra clerks for this busy season the burden of the work falls on our regular experienced help."
 Regarding the Dec. 17 local mail deadline, Mr. Burgess said such mail would probably not be handled until the next day. It would likely be sorted over the week-end of Dec. 20-21 and put in the boxes or general delivery on Monday to Tuesday, Dec. 22-23, the expected peak of the rush.
 "So you see, if the people want to be sure of delivery they will have to stick to the deadlines."
 Here are a few tips which will help the public with faster delivery:
 1. Bundle and tie all out-of-town mail (especially cards) separately from mail destined for local addresses. Such bundles will go directly to the cancelling machine and into the mail bags without delay.
 2. Address all cards and letters correctly. Be sure to put the correct box number in the address. The Post Office will not redirect two-cent stamped cards if addresses are wrong.
 Beginning Monday, COD parcels will be taken from the regular parcel department and delivery will be made from the side entrance of the post office to eliminate long lineups.

Lost QCA Official Found Alive
 VANCOUVER (CP)—Thomas McLaughlin, Queen Charlotte Airlines official lost in mountainous region near Half Moon Bay, 40 miles northwest of here, since Tuesday, was found alive today.
 QCA officials here said they had no other details except that the 38-year-old chief inspector is "alive and well."
 McLaughlin apparently lost his way while looking for the wreckage of the plane that carried pilot Bruce Wilson to his death last Friday.
 McLaughlin was a member of a party of Department of Transport officials and RCMP.

Truman Blasts Ike, MacArthur; Won't Hold White House Meet
 WASHINGTON (CP)—President Truman today rejected suggestions he hold a White House conference with General Eisenhower and General MacArthur—and he blasted both of them.
 He told a press conference President-elect Eisenhower's campaign announcement that he would go to Korea was a piece of demagoguery, and said MacArthur should have reported to him after he returned from Japan last year. Truman said "that is what any decent man would have done."
 MacArthur is reported to have a "clear and definite" solution to end the Korean conflict. Truman blasted him for not putting his ideas before the president.
 Eisenhower, now enroute home from Korea, is expected to meet MacArthur to discuss the "solution" shortly after his return.

Oil in Alberta
 The Peace River country of Alberta and British Columbia, rich in natural gas, promises to be big oil territory of the future on the basis of discoveries already made. Getting the oil into some parts of it, however, offers problems and there is musketry this must be done in winter when the ground is frozen. Here a diesel truck carries part of a drilling structure.

On Nov. 29 The Daily News gave prominence to an article by its outdoors columnist, Eric Martin, which described some of the advantages to be gained by the proposed flooding in Tweedsmuir Park.

OTHER SIDE OF PICTURE

The article by Eric S. Martin published in Saturday's edition of your valuable paper, "has been badly received by rod and gun circles in Burns Lake.

Mr. Martin's reasoning is so apparently false as to be ridiculous, his facts away off the beam, his geography very shaky and his intention to say the least of it, very questionable.

Granted that the province of British Columbia is going to gain a large manufacturing centre; but this is the only statement in the article we accept.

This "virtually unused and unknown bush land" is known and used by hundreds of his fellow countrymen. It is known and used by tourists from as far east as Texas, as far south as Indiana, by people from other countries and other lands.

Civilization cannot afford to write off a few thousand acres here and a few thousand acres there, as has happened at Sugar Lake, at Stave Lake; and as it could happen at Buttle Lake and now will happen at Tweedsmuir Park if a few people are not checked in their course.

Take another look at the picture of Stave Lake to be found in a recent edition of the Daily News. Tell us, Mr. Martin, do you find much "recreational value" in this scene of utter desolation? Would you like to cast your fly in those waters? Even in all the fire-swept regions of the northwest there is nothing so ugly and futile as at Stave Lake. Is it possible that human effort has produced this havoc? Is it possible that anyone wants to keep it up on doing this sort of thing?

Again, club members spent some time in the creeks this spring and on the lake shores. We did not see any vegetation either living or dead in the waters, except perhaps one over-mature tree borne down by a weight of snow and hanging over but still clinging to life. Nothing that nature ever did in this way approximates the destruction caused by the callousness of man.

As to your geography, Mr. Martin, the North shore of Ootsa will not merge with the southwest end of Francois Lake or the Buck Flats lead to the new inland sea. Their are contours to be circumscribed in the former case and the Buck Flats road will be about nine or ten miles away from the inland sea, the perimeter of which will be further blocked by an impenetrable barrier of dead, dying and decaying vegetation.

We are glad that the Tennessee Valley was mentioned because this proves our point that things could be otherwise. One writer from the States has said that the American government would not tolerate such conditions. A little effort now and our worst fears would be groundless, a little constructive work and the dam site could be clean and tidy, the ordered home of game and wildlife and a fisherman's paradise.

Your gibe at the logging industry is most unwise as it is unjust. The loggers of B.C. are as good or better than anywhere else in the world. The $25 million mentioned has no relation to logging or logging costs. It is the estimated cost of clearing the area, burning the debris, and generally clearing the shore line. Now, we submit, that even if the cost is going to be $25 million, these monies spent would produce revenue far in excess of the outlay—revenue from loggers, trappers and tourists, etc.

In any case, we are lately informed by the government that Alan is going to finance the clearing of the timber in the area. This is good news and will go a long way towards solving the immediate problem. We understand, too, that the B.C. government intends to send qualified engineers to the Park to look the situation over and report.

Lastly, as conservationists, we cannot act in any other way than we have done and we don't believe there is a club in the province which is not behind us in the matter.

As I See It

by Elmore Philpot

Oliver Philpot Thanks

MY GENIAL namesake, Oliver Philpot, wants me to pass along his thanks to Canadians for the reception they gave him on his sudden brief visit.

Those who heard the lecture by the famous Vancouver-born author of "Stolen Journey" tell me it was thrilling. But he has received some queries about the RAF Escaping Society.

"After the 1939-45 war, Chief of the Air Staff Sir Charles (as he then was) Portal supported establishment of the RAF Escaping Society. This was formed and includes hundreds of men who escaped from prison camps or, having been shot down, evaded capture and returned home.

"The men in the Society meet at intervals, usually in a pub in London, but I want to stress that this is not a society simply for convivial purposes. It has a serious aim, which is to keep in touch with 'helpers'—those indomitable people in the occupied countries of Europe who risked everything to hide the Allied airmen 'on the way out'—that is, escaping from or evading the Germans.

"The most vivid diary I have ever read was that of Madame Brusselman of Brussels. She kept a flat in that city. Frequently, over a period of four years, she would be rung up: 'We have two puppies, one with a wounded paw—could you look after them?' Two allied airmen would be smuggled into her flat and hidden. All the while she was bringing up her two children, too. Every now and then a car would stop outside the building—it could only be a German car, because of curfew. The diary pauses. Miraculously, it goes on.

Many such brave helpers were shot, Oliver tells us. Headquarters of the RAF Escaping Society is 83, Portland Place, London W. I, England.

OLIVER writes with the same ease as he talks.

"As the train pulled out into the night, gathering strength for its onslaught on the Rockies, I looked over at the North Shore where I used to live. I thought of the changes I had seen in the city compared with when I was here 27 years ago. The Lion's Gate bridge was the mere dream of visionaries then. Now what a God-like view you get from it, with the Narrows, usually a sinister body of water, lying as a placid channel far below.

"I thought of the public meeting in Vancouver which I had attended to hear what a panel of three authors and one publisher had to say. There had been a good natured sort of 'publisher-chase'. But the refreshing thing was the trenchant and extremely independent expressions of opinion.

Later Oliver wrote us from Manitoba: 'I am still alive, though a little prairie tired. O for a mountain. I woke up today to a (very sound) reading from the Gospel of St. John—on the radio—immediately followed by a jaunty song, to the tune of Alouette:

"Al-Ka-Seltzer-speedy Al Ka Seltzer, Al Ka Seltzer smoothes your pain away."

(What are you kicking about, Oliver? Haven't you heard that cleanliness is next to Godliness?)

OLIVER wanted me to pass on his answer to many Canadians who have asked him, in one way or another, about Britain's future. Far from being finished, "England," he says, "is nearing her new Elizabethan era—in the best and most vigorous sense."

VICTORIA REPORT

... by J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA.—Session of the Legislature opening Feb. 3 should be one of the most interesting and exciting in our history. Certainly, history will be made. Since 1903, when party politics came to B.C., there have been Liberal governments and Conservative governments and a Coalition government. Now, for the first time, we have a Social Credit government and so all Canada watches us in our new experiment.

Nobody knows what's going to happen—whether or not the government can last out a session without defeat on the floor of the House, which would mean an immediate election. With one Social Creditor (Tom Irwin of Delta) as Mr. Speaker, the voting strength in the House will be equally matched between SC and CCF—18 each. So it's easy to see how important are the six Liberals, three Conservatives and Mr. Uphill, who votes as he chooses. As they go, so goes the government.

Premier Bennett seems determined to have a general election next year, if he can get away with it. He tried it this year, but it didn't work. He says there'll be an election in 1953—and that after it, there'll be 48 Social Credit MLAs. When he says that he looks as if he means it, too. Well, he has been pretty sure of himself in the past, and it must be admitted he has come out on top. However—as to 48 Social Credit MLAs—the public will have a lot to say about THAT.

PARTIES BANNED

The government has banned Christmas parties in government offices. Believe it or not, all the civil servants I've talked to are glad of it. They're sick and tired of Christmas Eve office parties which often start them on the road to so much Christmas celebrating that Christmas

WARNING

Christmas trees must not be cut on PARKS PROPERTY in the city.

Board of Park Commissioners

Day is ruined for them and their families. Of course, this doesn't only apply to civil servants. It applies to lots of people. The Christmas Eve office party, like the cocktail party, has become one of the trials of modern civilization. The new government frowns on drinking in government offices—and it should. This government is doing something about it—and the people approve. And the civil servants are delighted because this year they'll get off at noon on Christmas and New Year's Eves.

A REAL PERSON

Have just finished reading Bruce Hutchison's "The Incredible Canadian." It's excellent, or at least I found it so. It's beautifully done, the Hutchison words flow out; Mackenzie King becomes a real person to us, a bundle of contradictions, like most of us, only perhaps a little more so. Hutchison has treated King with sympathy and understanding, he has lifted the veil from this quiet, strong man, who somewhere along life's path suffered a blow of grief. He is (Continued on page 6)

The question of the British West Indies becoming Canada's eleventh province has been suggested in Ottawa. It is known a change of some sort is pending. A tropical climate in effect in at least part of the dominion would be one.

Why, during a theatre program, will people make their way in with an armful of light refreshments? Why, when the screen hero and heroine violently embrace, will deep sighs and smothered exclamations arise "ever and anon." Coronation Committee Change Mind About TV

(Reuters)—Officials of the Coronation next week have bowed to a public and approved television broadcast of the event.

The committee announced TV would be allowed into Westminster Abbey to cover the lengthy religious ceremony, including the actual placing of the crown on the head.

Parts of the rites will be banned, however. Viewers will not see the Queen's brow and palm anointed with the sacred oil. Nor will they see her take communion.

A first announcement last month banned TV cameras from recording any of the rites inside the Abbey except the formal procession down the aisle. Newspapers and many politicians joined in a public outcry and the matter was taken up by the cabinet.

The Coronation committee also announced the procession through the streets of London will be extended so more people can watch.

The winding 5½-mile procession back to Buckingham Palace after the ceremony will remain the same.

$2000 WINNER in a newspaper contest is Mrs. Leona Sprinkle, clerk at Bulger's jewelry store here. She was notified of her good fortune Monday morning—and was speechless. Money will go towards a new home, she said later. Mrs. Sprinkle was one of the major winners in the Vancouver Sun's "Know Your B.C." contest.

CBC Wins Praise of P-TA At Conrad Street School

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation got a boost locally when members of the Conrad Street School Parent-Teacher Association at the monthly meeting commended the CBC for "the way in which it has realized and carried out its social and cultural responsibilities to the people of Canada, particularly the young people."

The action was taken "in view of the many recent attacks on the CBC."

The commendation asks for endorsement by other city P-TAs. The P-T Council will be asked to press for repair or removal of the wooden foot bridge on Immanuel Street near Seal Cove School.

Members said that although a sign on the bridge reads, "use at your own risk," children seldom stop to read signs and many cross the bridge daily.

"This is a definite risk to their safety, since the bridge is deplorable condition," says the resolution.

T. G. Bateman, principal at Conrad Street School, was delegated as safety representative to expedite order of luminous tape for use as reflectors for bikes of school children.

An action committee to investigate establishing a scholarship to aid one student in teacher training was appointed, consisting of W. D. Griffiths, Mr. Bateman, Mr. Robertson, Mrs. Harold Thomas and Mrs. John Denning.

Mrs. E. W. Becker, retiring trustee of the school board, spoke briefly supporting the school by-law and commended the group for its lively meetings.

Pennant and prize money for most parents attending meetings were won by the grade 4-5 class for the second time.

St. John Ambulance First Aid Awards Presented to Twenty-One CNR Employees

Twenty men, employees of Canadian National Railways divisions, and one woman last night were presented with St. John Ambulance awards in first aid at a special ceremony here.

Making the awards were C. A. Berner, CNR superintendent, and Thomas Boulter, assistant superintendent of the drydock.

Conducting the ceremony at the CNR station was Syd Harper, superintendent of first aid for the CNR of Edmonton.

Three outstanding awards were made when Mr. Berner presented instructors' certificates to Percy Bond, Albert Blackhall and Wm. N. R. Armstrong, the latter also receiving his ninth label for 12 years of service in St. John first aid and a class "C" industrial first aid certificate.

Mr. Armstrong came to the city in 1941 and took up first aid work in 1929 at Port Mann.

Mr. Blackhall, who has been in the city since 1919 was also awarded his fifth label and an "A" industrial certificate, and Mr. Bond, here since 1920, received his sixth label and an "A" industrial certificate.

Before making the presentations, Mr. Harper outlined some of the work which CNR employees were called upon to do in first aid, saying that "25 per cent of the first aid you will likely do for other employees on the grounds while 75 per cent will be performed in cases of emergency away from your work."

Mr. Berner and Mr. Boulter also spoke briefly, commending the men for their first aid interest.

Lone woman in the group, Mrs. Gertrude Armstrong, was awarded her first year certificate as a member of the civil defence course. All those receiving awards took the courses held here the past year by Mr. Harper.

Other awards were made to the following:

Certificates— Sydney Kearn, William Felker, Arthur Barber, Harold George, Leonard Holbrook, Anthony Hartner, Steamship employees; James Baldwin, Mrs. Armstrong; civil defence; James Taylor, John Watt, James Stewart, drydock employees.

Other awards — Thomas Maloney, voucher, Arthur Judd, fifth label; William Spark, voucher, Joe Budyinka, first label; Const. John F. McNicol, fifth label; John Davidson, medalion; Fire Chief John McLean, second label; W. A. Felker, Arthur Judd, Joe Budyinka, William Spark, and Const. MacNicol, industrial certificates.

Bruins Stretch Win Streak By Defeating Rangers 4-1

TORONTO (CP)—Boston Bruins are on the march in the National Hockey League. They extended their unbeaten streak to seven games by 4-1 defeat of the tail-end Rangers at New York Wednesday night. At Toronto meanwhile, Montreal Canadiens nosed Toronto 2-1 to move within one point of the fourth-place Leafs.

Red-hot Bruins, on defensive most of the game, rammed home two quick goals early in the third period to snap a scoreless tie and then proceeded to turn the game into a rout.

Goalie Sugar Jim Henry, the league's leading netminder, turned in one of his finest performances of the season. Henry, a Ranger 10 years ago, made 36 saves, 27 of them during the first two periods.

Chuck Davey Easy Winner

CLEVELAND (CP)—Chuck Davey, dancing man from Michigan, tuned up for his welterweight title bout by stopping badly-outclassed Fritzie Pruden of Paterson, N.J., in the third round Wednesday night.

Davey has been promised a title bout with welterweight champion Kid Gavilan next year. The bout probably will take place in February in Chicago.

Korean Soldiers May Wear Canadian Army Uniforms

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA (CP)—South Korean soldiers soon may be wearing Canadian Army uniforms, manning Canadian weapons and soldiering in Canadian units on the front.

The move is part of a plan to attach individual Republic of Korea soldiers to United Nations units and to integrate them into the formations, it was learned.

Commonwealth authorities in the theatre are said to have approved attachment of 1,000 Koreans to the Commonwealth's division's three brigades. Only final approval is needed from the Commonwealth governments concerned.

The plan would see Koreans attached to United States Army divisions in numbers varying from 1,800 to 2,500. Some U.S. divisions already are receiving their first drafts.

Qualified sources say the plan is intended to enable the UN command to make maximum use of weapons, ammunition, equipment and transport without committing the theatre to activation of still more Korean divisions.

Reaction among Korean government and service officials to this additional plan is said to be mixed.

shown with all his faults and virtues—a human being, who somehow fought against himself until he won over self. One might criticize some parts of the book as over-dramatic, too full of whipped-up crises, and maybe a bit tedious in spots, but I found the whole story so enjoyable, so fascinating that I wouldn't spoil it for myself, or anyone else, by picking flaws in it. It's something like a symphony concert to me; the whole concert lifts you, and gives you pleasure, why make yourself miserable by criticizing a few bars here and there. Nothing can be perfect. I may not know much about it, but I'd say "The Incredible Canadian" is the finest biography of any Canadian by any Canadian writer.

SMALL AND SIMPLE

A small and simple book I've enjoyed reading over again is "Lone Cone," by Dorothy Abraham of Victoria. It's now in its 4th edition, which speaks well for it. Mrs. Abraham came from England as a war bride in 1919 and went to live with her customs officer husband on the wild and beautiful West Coast of Vancouver Island. Now, the West Coast is a strange place—you either hate it, or you idolize it. Mrs. Abraham learned to idolize it, and she has written of its beauties, its people and her life there. The little book is a nice piece of British Columbia.

Turkeys Plentiful On Prairies

WINNIPEG—Because of this year's increased turkey population in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the domestic market is assured of sufficient "birds" to meet the demands of Canadians at Christmas and New Year's, D. C. McVeigh, supervisor of perishable traffic, Canadian National Railways, said here today.

From 12 to 14 carloads of turkeys are moving through yards here each day, with an average of 2,000 turkeys per car, Mr. McVeigh added.

"This traffic started about two weeks ago and is expected to continue for at least another week."

"To date approximately 364,000 turkeys have been shipped to market in the east."

THE CHATHAM BEET SUGAR PLANT, largest in Canada, is processing 3,200 tons of beets every 24 hours and bagging

Entry of Cuban Sugar Into Canada May Force Closure of Ontario Plant

OTTAWA (CP)—In Ontario we have not been able to move the beet sugar to the regular market because we find that the market is already glutted with refined Cuban sugar," J. W. Murphy, MP, said in an address given to the Speech from the Throne.

He protested the threat of devaluation to the domestic beet sugar industry due to unloading of Cuban refined sugar into Canada.

The member from Lambton pointed out that Canada's beet sugar industry has not been threatened since dumping tariffs were applied against Cuba in 1932, and the present disaster occurred since a trade agreement was announced by Trade Minister Macmillan on May 8, 1951.

In his announcement at that time Mr. Howe said Canada would benefit via increased exports of codfish, wheat flour and other goods, and that Canada had agreed to import 75,000 tons of raw sugar for each of the years 1951-52-53.

Murphy said "the deal has been made." Cuba has increased its exports to Canada by four times since the agreement was made, but had only increased imports of Canadian goods 50 per cent.

usually to Chatham and district, and that it is an important factor in providing necessary immediate employment to immigrants.

Cuba started "flooding the market" last February and beet processors admit they are "stymied."

Recently, representatives of 12,000 beet farmers from Alberta, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec met with Mr. Howe in Ottawa to urge that unloading of unlimited quantities of Cuban refined sugar, on traditionally beet sugar markets in Canada, be stopped or restricted.

The processors who also attended the meeting urged that a system of quotas be established on refined sugar similar to those imposed by the United States.

PRESSING PROBLEM

The sugar beet industry has never been faced with so pressing a problem since 1930 when Canada became the "dumping ground" for almost everything including sugar.

In asking the government to set up a "quota" system for refined Cuban sugar, the growers pointed out that since 1934 the U.S. government has continuously safeguarded its domestic beet sugar industry by a system of import quotas, including restriction on Cuban refined.

Woman Outbids University For Noted Books

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Marilyn Monroe's figure—$1,335—was the best at an auction of books used by the late Max Reinhardt, noted German theatrical producer.

Marilyn beat out the University of Southern California in competitive bidding for the 178 manuscript books by Reinhardt.

threatened with closing its doors next year because of the cheap native labor. Shown here are some 96,000 tons of sugar. The plant operates each year from October to Christmas, about 1,000,000 pounds of refined sugar each day.

No Mobilization Shortages

Canada Stockpiling Supplies In Event of War

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister, Claxton says his department is stockpiling enough supplies for use if war breaks out to avoid a repetition of the mobilization shortages of 1914 and 1939.

He told the House of Commons his department has been doing no more and no less than its duty in building mobilization stockpiles.

Mr. Claxton denied there has been any excessive purchasing and added: "Not a single article has been or will be wasted. Everything will be used."

"Purchasing policies are under constant review."

Enough mobilization supplies were being stockpiled to last the first three months of any general war. Nothing was being stored that could be obtained from civilian sources in an emergency.

Mr. Claxton gave some figures that could possibly indicate the forces plan to mobilize 100,000 men in the first three months of a global war. He said it costs $369 to clothe a regular force recruit and that clothing stocks worth roughly $37,000,000 have been stored for a possible three-month mobilization period.

The number of recruits expected following the outbreak of a third world war would be "far greater" than the 60,000 signed up in the first three months of the Second World War, said Mr. Claxton.

Canadian Troops to Get Time Off At Christmas But Can't Come Home

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian troops in Germany will have Christmas leaves but won't be given permission to come to Canada on leave, a defence department spokesman said today.

He was commenting on a report from Frankfurt, Germany, that nearly 2,000 American soldiers will fly home on commercial airlines for Christmas leave. The round-trip tickets cost $494.16 each.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Robinson, of the Ebbets Field clan, has opened up a haberdashery in Harlem.

Jackie's debut as a merchant featured a brightly-lighted two-floor establishment while outside giant neon signs flashed only the name: "Jackie Robinson."

Three policemen kept a crowd of curious at bay. Half a hundred stood in the rain out front—not to buy but apparently just to see their favorite second baseman juggle a $2 tie.

The logical question was quick coming. "What does this mean, Jackie, you're getting ready to quit baseball?"

Jackie, his hair already flecked with grey, flinched under the query and then broke into a toothy grin.

"Naw, I'm just getting ready for the day when I can't take this off," he said. He pointed to an expanding waist line.

"Honestly, I don't know when I'll retire. Sometimes it feels like the end of the line. Then again I decide maybe I'll keep going as long as I can play. My wife wants me to keep playing, says the more I play the better my store will do."

The subject veered to Casey Stengel's blast at Robinson last week in Phoenix, Ariz.

"Sure, I read it," Jackie said. "It didn't bother me at all. What else could they say?"

Last Sunday on a television program Robinson had said he thought the New York Yankees discriminated against Negro baseball players. He specified he meant the management, not the players.

In a vitriolic speech at Phoenix, Stengel lashed out at what he called "Yankee niggers" and was quoted as declaring: "We're not going to play a sap at second base just because somebody said we ought to play him there."

"Sure, I said what I did," Jackie explained. "But it was in answer to a question. A little girl asked did I think the Yankees discriminated against Negroes. I answered 'yes,' I thought the management did. Nothing more."

"But Weiss, George Weiss, Yankee general manager, picked it up, then Patterson, Red Patterson, publicist, then Stengel. They made a lot to do out of it. They said I could have broadened that, that's true."

"But I just answered a question."

Canadians Settle Down

'Canada Has Licked Inflation'

By L. A. BROPHY

Associated Press Business Editor HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—The Investment Bankers Association of America was told that Canada has licked inflation, at least for the time being, and there is not much fear of a recession in the coming months.

Canadians, said a report of the Canadian committee of the association, have settled down to a "period of good, average prosperity."

The report was presented by Arthur S. Torrey, of W. C. Pitfield and Company, Ltd., Montreal.

Torrey said it is not possible to answer the question of whether there will be a recession when the rearmament and defence programs are completed. But, he added, defence spending is still on the increase, and there is a heavy carry-over.

"It is felt," he said, "there will be a continuation of home building, and commercial and service construction may well rise in the coming year as the result of a greater availability of steel."

Pointing out that are many new, large-scale developments under way and contemplated, he said "there is little doubt but that Canada's economic development will continue provided there is an expanding policy through immigration and that capital investments for a long period continue to be a large proportion of the country's national income."

Another budget surplus is in prospect this year, the report said, and indications are there will be a tax reduction of "a reasonable amount."

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, December 11th—Do you have that harried, hurried feeling when you think of Christmas shopping? I know just the remedy for that "too little and too late" sensation. Do your shopping at the BANK OF MONTREAL. It saves you lots of time and frantic rushing about—AND you can be sure that, when you give these BoM Christmas presents, they'll be received with enthusiasm. First of all—for Aunt Miranda... a BoM Money Order! The BoM will "gift-wrap" it in a special Christmas envelope, and hard-to-please Aunt M. will love picking her present for herself. Then there's that special gift for Junior. Here's a tip—youngsters love to have their very own BoM Savings Accounts! So give Junior a Christmas Passbook with a dollar or more in it to start him off. And for niece Sue, at college—give her what she always needs more of—money—one of those holly-gay BoM Christmas cheques. Feel better about your shopping now? I thought you would. I've bought BoM Christmas presents myself, and I've always found them highly successful!

For The 'Big Shaver' on your Christmas list... for a gift he'll really enjoy... give the new REMINGTON 60 DE LUXE, the finest electric shaver yet! Talk about clean, smooth, fast shaves... why in 60 seconds whisker bristles just melt away! What man wouldn't cheer a one-minute morning shave? The secret is the three diamond-honed twin-cutting heads. Think of it! Six cutters—each two inches long... they get at those face angles with one clean sweep! Your special man will get a special thrill comes Christmas morning—and every morning... when you make his gift the new Remington 60 De Luxe—complete in its own distinctive carrying case.

Washing Dishes isn't nearly the chore it used to be now that there are these wonderful new chemical soaps do the job in a jiffy. So dishwashing doesn't bother me now—and the chemical soaps don't bother my hands any more, either. The secret? I just keep Jergens Lotion handy—use it after every watery job. Because Jergens is liquid, it quickly supplies the softening moisture that dry, thirsty skin needs. Truly, for lovely, petal-smooth hands—all you need do is use Jergens faithfully. It costs very little—just 15c, 37c, 65c and $1.15. Why not take my tip and try it. Remember JERGENS LOTION... because you care for your hands!

The Bigger The Better?—not always, anyway! I don't imagine, for instance, that the Face-Elle people are the "biggest" in the tissue handkerchief business but their fine quality product really gets my vote as the best! Yes, FACE-ELLE is softer than anything you've ever used and yet stronger and more absorbent too. And Face-Elle has two exclusives: They make the only THREE-ply tissues and the only tinted tissues marketed in Canada. Personally, I'm a "push-over" for those delightful Face-Elle 'En Pastels' tissues. Their soft pastel shades add a welcome touch of color wherever you use them... try them next time you buy tissue handkerchiefs!

Code of Student Punishment Sought by Ontario Teachers

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario secondary school teachers are looking for a code of student punishment.

A standard guide for punishment which would "make the punishment fit the crime" is suggested in Education Facts, a monthly leaflet of the Toronto branch, Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation.

The article urges teachers, parents and education authorities to get together to work out a formula that would grade student misdemeanors and list punishments. It says that at present there may be a wide variety of punishments handed out by different teachers for the same breach of conduct.

Three advantages for a standard code are listed:

- It would impress on the pupil that a certain misdemeanor or infraction of rules brings certain disciplinary action.
- It would serve to put a brake on the teacher who is too aggressive in disciplinary measures, and to give courage to teachers inclined toward weakness.
- It would remove much of the source of criticism directed by parents toward teachers and the schools.

Newfoundland Can't Find Enough Nurses

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—A nursing shortage has forced the Newfoundland health department to "import" nurses to fill urgent needs in its institutions, out-port hospitals and nursing stations.

Dr. James A. McGrath, assistant deputy health minister, said many nurses have come to the island from the British Isles. Now the province is turning to mainland Canada and it still can't find enough.

The same situation applies to doctors. The department is particularly interested in medical men trained in tuberculosis work.

Isolation in many small out-port centres, where a nurse often has sole responsibility for the needs of her district, is one of the factors working against the department in its quest for staff.

But for a girl with a yen for adventure, there's plenty to spare in the fishing villages and logging settlements. An outport nurse often needs all her ingenuity to reach patients. She may use anything from fishing dories to dog teams to aircraft.

Meeting Pleases Finance Minister LONDON (CP)—Finance Minister Douglas Abbott of Canada said Tuesday the present Commonwealth Economic Conference is the "most satisfactory" of all post-war parleys he has attended in international capitals.

The Canadian minister ducked questions on whether the conference decision may lead ultimately to increased sterling area buying from Canada, but it was assumed the minister's satisfaction with talks is based on a fairly confident expectation of wider world trade.

At Wallace's Of Course

Wallace's Dept. Store

Parliament Hill

By GEORGE MURRAY

Here in the House of Commons you often hear opponents giving expression to opinions which you share. In fact, when members get really serious about things, they forget party lines for the moment.

The speech made the other night by Carl O. Nickle (PC-Calgary West) might have been made by Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce and Acting Prime Minister, on the subject of oil and natural gas. Mr. Nickle, admittedly the country's leading writer on the subject of oil and gas, was directly in opposition to Howard Green.

Mr. Nickle and Mr. Howe agree that Alberta oil should go to its best market as quickly as possible, and that pipe lines conveying oil should go directly to or through the U.S.A. He is all for the present pipe line to Superior, Wisconsin. This week he announced that this line, condemned in past sessions by his leader Hon. George Drew and by Mr. Green as draining away the very heart's blood of Canada, was being extended from Superior, Wisconsin, 630 miles across the

New Line to Cost $75 Million

The new pipe line to Vancouver from Alberta via the Yellowhead Pass, 100 miles of which is in the Cariboo Riding, will be finished next August and oil will be flowing through it to Ioco in October.

Mr. Nickle touched upon the Fort St. John natural gas field. He told the House that already there are proven reserves of more than 1,300 million cubic feet. The pipe line from Fort St. John to Vancouver via Prince George and Quesnel, was already surveyed and construction here would begin with the spring of 1953. This gas, with the vast reserves across the border in Alberta, must go to the Pacific Coast area. It must take the

Americans Invest Most Money

A survey of capital invested in Canadian oil fields appeared that day in eastern papers—more than half the money invested is from the U.S.A. Eastern Canadian financiers are slow to take advantage of the Canadian oil opportunity—asleep at the oil spigot!

Mr. Nickle's speech was very interesting to me. I have already given notice that I will introduce a private Bill in the House of Commons to incorporate a company to build a pipe line to supply Dawson Creek, Fort St.

Straits of Mackinaw right into the heart of Sarnia, Ontario.

That means, Mr. Nickle said, that Sarnia would become the greatest oil centre in North America. Already pipelines lead from Sarnia across to Hamilton and Toronto.

So when the new extension is through, western oil will flood right into the great industrial centres of the east. We will not need the U.S.A. supplies which now come by pipeline across the State of Maine into Montreal.

Indeed the flood will be reversed so far as that pipeline is concerned. Alberta oil may be turned into the line to be pumped to inland points in eastern U.S.A. Stuff like this adds strength to the Canadian dollar! The new line east from Superior will cost $75,000,000. It will be thirty inches in diameter.

cheapest, most direct route. Mr. Nickle said that the extra cost of one cent per thousand cubic feet at the end of the pipe line, would cost Canada's economy $100,000,000 per year, should the maximum quantity go through the pipe line. He pointed out that we should pool with U.S.A. in natural gas, use theirs where it was cheaper and more convenient at border points—and let them use ours where it was more economical to do so.

Mr. Nickle's speech brought cheers from all over the House but not so many from his own Conservative colleagues who have steadily been preaching against pipe-lining our products to the U.S.A.

John and other communities in the Peace River country with natural gas, I am standing sponsor for this Bill out of a spirit of neighborliness and goodwill towards those operators who are behind the Pacific Petroleum effort in my own home district. Under this proposed Bill, power will be sought to extend these pipe lines in all directions north of a point near the fifty-fifth Parallel of Latitude. The company to be known as Peace River Transmission company will not have anything to do with the main pipe line systems. It will merely buy natural gas from main line outfits and circulate it for domestic users in the community centres, most of them north of the Peace River. The proposed corporation would take over the operation of the Dawson Creek and the Fort St. John systems it is presumed.

We get a little publicity for Cariboo right along. I am on the radio committee and have suggested that Cariboo be the subject of a coast to coast broadcast.

Another thing about our country is that on every twenty-five cent piece minted by the Government of Canada is a head of a caribou.

SENATOR TOM REID, former Liberal Member of the House of Commons for New Westminster for many years, says the Federal Government should pay more attention to the seriousness of the drug problem in B.C. He estimates there are more than 1,200 known narcotic addicts in this province.

Eels Replace Turkey in U.S., Europe

By KEN STEWART

Quebec — Thousands of Americans in the New England states have Quebec eel instead of turkey for their Christmas dinner.

More than 1,000,000 pounds of eel, caught in the St. Lawrence river near the Island of Orleans and in the Richelieu river, were shipped to the United States this fall to meet the annual Christmas season demand. Some were also shipped to Europe.

The eels were shipped frozen in boxes of 125 or more, or in trucks equipped with special fresh water tanks, instead of by boat. In past years the fish were transported alive in a specially-constructed barge with a perforated bottom compartment filled with water. The eels are sent to the U.S., Germany and other provinces of Canada by the Fishermen's Co-operative of the Island of Orleans, one of the largest shippers of this product in the country.

They don't sell so well in Canada, but in Boston, New York and other Eastern American cities they sell like hot cakes.

SCREEN FLASHES

TOTEM

Universal-International has reached back to 1928, the period of raccoon coats, rah-rah boys, speakies and the Charleston, to put the delightful Technicolor "Has Anybody Seen My Gal" on the screen.

The nostalgic comedy-drama hit, stirring Piper Laurie, Rock Hudson, Charles Coburn and Gigi Perreau, opens today at the Totem Theatre.

"Has Anybody Seen My Gal" relates the amusing problems faced by the members of a small town family when an unknown benefactor turns over $100,000 to them.

Difficulty was encountered in finding genuine raccoon coats featured by college boys in the Tipping Twenties. Peg top trousers for some male members of the cast, bell-bottom pants for others, and flat-chester, ankle-length dresses and gowns for the ladies were just as difficult to locate.

Some favorites of the 1928 period also add nostalgic flavor to the picture. Numbers included in the new film are "Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue," "When the Red, Red Robin Comes Bob, Bob, Bobbin' Along," "Gimme a Little Kiss, Will Ya, Huh?" "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More" and "Tiger Rag."

CAPITOL

A truly beautiful and memorable piece of Americana clad in glorious color by Technicolor arrives tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre in the enchanting guise of Twentieth Century-Fox's "Wait 'Til the Sun Shines, Nellie."

"Wait 'Til the Sun Shines, Nellie" is the sunshine and rain that pours its alternate vagaries on a small town barber who sees the growth of his community and nation cast its effects on the development of his own life.

Nellie is the barber's wife who never lives to see the sunshine, but like the haunting refrain of the song, lingers on in the heart and memory of the man who loved her.
