TELL STORY OF ENTRY INTO MONS

COBOURG, April 25.—Nearly ten years after the event to the judge and jury in the public courts of the country of Mons and men of the Canadian corps yesterday recalled the story of Mons, which was entered on the morning of November 11, 1918, by the units of the Seventh Canadian Infantry Brigade several hours before the armistice, which brought hostilities to a close on the western front became effective. There were no heroes in the stories told by the witnesses giving testimony in the libel suit of General Sir Arthur Currie against W. T. R. Preston and F. W. Wilson. All the witnesses were unwilling in their testimony that there had been no fighting whatever in the City of Mons and that the men of the 42nd battalion had not fired a shot in the city nor could their testimony be shaken by the most rigid and searching cross-examination levelled at them by Frank Regan, counsel for the defense.

Big Movement of Settlers Bound for the Peace River District is Noted at Edmonton Where Business Good Now

EDMONTON, April 25.—There is a big movement on toward the Peace River country this spring. Settlers are arriving in large numbers and the outlook is that thousands of newcomers will take up land in that section this year.

It is not only the transportation concerns that are kept busy. The influence is felt by local merchants and by the banks. In connection with the latter it is stated that many sums of money are being transferred to country banks to the credit of new settlers, showing that many of them have money.

It is the busiest immigration season Edmonton has had for many years past and the city is feeling the effect in increased business. It is thought that the publicity campaign for a railway with western outlet has had something to do with the movement. Also the exhibiting of wheat by Herman Treille in the United States where he has carried off many prizes, has had something to do with it.

British Chancellor Shows Good Surplus for Year in His Budget and Suggests Plan Paying Debt

LONDON, April 25.—Right Hon. Winston Churchill's budget brought down yesterday showed a surplus of 4,500,000 pounds for the year just ended, and it is predicted that there will be a surplus of 6,302,000 pounds next year.

An important proposal was made by the chancellor of the exchequer designed to extinguish both the external and internal debt in fifty years, including the debt of the country to the United States, without any addition to the present taxes. This was to make a fixed debt charge of 355,000 pounds.

Opposition Develops to Proposal Spend Large Sum in Beautifying the Capital at Country's Expense

OTTAWA, April 25.—Plans for the beautification of the city of Ottawa were laid before the House of Commons yesterday by Premier Mackenzie King who reviewed the plans in detail and suggested that ultimately there might be a large park in the centre of the city which would permit an unobstructed view of the approaches to Parliament Hill. The Premier said the capital should be second to none in the British Empire.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, said the proposal would involve an expenditure of $9,000,000 and could Canada be led to no end in the desire to see this city beautiful," said Mr. Bennett, but do not propose to agree to a proposal without counting the cost.

Hon. C. A. Dunning said the cost would be but four cents a head per annum for the Dominion during the next thirty years.

Evans, Progressive for Rosetown, said he was opposed to the whole thing.

J. C. Brady, Conservative for Skeena, protested that he had not got even one hundred dollars worth of public works for his constituency when the people he was pioneering were in real need of a small service which the government could render.

CONTINUOUS PROCESSION

Prince Rupert is one of those places in the making where officials and others come and go in an almost continuous procession. It is difficult to keep track of the changes although the place is small. Clergymen and others tell of the changes that are taking place in their congregations. The Daily News list of subscribers is also changing as readers come and go. Most of them like to have a copy of the News sent them when they leave and that is the reason we have so many out of town subscribers.

CAMPAIGN OF ECONOMY

The British government recently instituted a campaign of economy and thus saved the taxpayers of the country over fifty million dollars. In doing so there were many hardships wrought upon employees who had to leave the government service and find other employment.

It is possible that an occasional cleanup and adjustment of work is good in any government occasionally. The objection heads of departments have to letting men out is the hardship it involves. Yet the public money must be expended well or in time the country will go bankrupt just as any private firm must keep its expenditures well within bounds.

RESEARCH COUNCIL OF CANADA

The research council of Canada, at the head of which is now Dr. Henry Tory, formerly president of the University of Alberta, is a very important body which has a very important work to do. Searching and experimentation with a view to improvement to the producing powers of the country are very important. The body deals with such questions as the elimination of rust in wheat, cross fertilization of plants, root rot and other field crop diseases, in agriculture, and similar problems in manufacturing. It is along similar lines to the work of the fisheries experimental station in this city.

Dr. Tory is said to be a good man for the job and it is to be hoped he will organize the work in such a manner as to get the best possible results.

ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAYS SCHEME

The St. Lawrence waterways scheme does not appeal very strongly to British Columbia people just now because we cannot see how the spending of our money on the St. Lawrence River can benefit us. Later, however, when we begin to ship anthracite coal from the Groundhog country we shall be more interested for then we shall be able to take coal from here to Montreal and away up into the interior of Canada as far as Fort William and do so more cheaply by water than at present this can be done by rail. Possibly when that time comes we shall be interested in the waterways scheme, and it will likely be some years before it becomes an established route.

PARTY IMPORTANT ONE

The Stoll-McCracken exploration party, some of the members of which are due here tomorrow, is a most important one and the Board of Trade has done well to give a dinner in their honor Friday night. Doubtless there will be many local people, not members of the board, who will be glad of the opportunity of meeting Mr. McCracken and hearing about some of his work and the plans for the party. When he returns later it will be interesting to think we have met and entertained one of the men who are delving into the realms of science and discovery and who are doing great things for the world.

CHEAPER CARS FOR DOMINION

EFFORT MADE TO KEEP AMERICAN USED AUTOS OUT OF COUNTRY TO ENHANCE PRICES

ASKING LEGISLATION

NONE SO BLIND AS THOSE WHO WILL NOT SEE DECLARES OTTAWA CORRESPONDENT IN LETTER

(By R. J. Deachman)

Members of parliament have received a circular from an automobile journal published in the City of Toronto, asking for legislation to prohibit the importation of used cars coming from the United States.

The story as put forward is that certain dealers in Canada have gone down into the United States and bought cars at low prices, brought them across the border and are now selling them in British Columbia at prices lower than asked for by the ordinary dealer. No one has suggested that our boys got the worst of the deal or that the cars are worth the money. In fact, the suggestion is the direct opposite—they did not pay enough. This, therefore, is a war between two classes of dealers in secondhand automobiles. Certain "dead ones" in the business have let the "live ones" get the better of them, and then the "dead ones," through an automobile trade journal, appeal to the members of the Dominion House of Commons to come to their relief and save their bacon for them—save it by stopping the other fellows from buying or forcing them to pay more.

THE CAUSE OF IT ALL

What really happened is this. Ford brought out a new model. At once the markets—both Canadian and American—were flooded with secondhand, old style Fords at a very low price. Wise dealers anticipated this. They expected what would happen. They got rid of secondhand cars. They didn't stock up with them. The "dead ones" in British Columbia got caught and now they are asking for help—help that will enable them to get more money for cars they have on hand.

In the circular they sent out, they referred to those who imported secondhand cars from the United States as "gyp" dealers and to those who are selling secondhand cars which they purchased in Canada as "legitimate" dealers. An importer in their "patrol" is a "gyp" and a dealer for used Canadian cars is a "legitimate." The definitions are their own and their interpretation of legitimacy, needless to say, is not one that would be accepted by Webster. There is no real necessity for suggesting that a man is illegitimate, merely because of a transaction in cars.

What is the remedy which is proposed? They say that we should have legislation prohibiting the importation of used cars from the United States. Then Canadian dealers could fix the prices at which they would sell used cars. That price would be much in advance of the prices for used cars in the United States. There are thousands of people in Canada who want a car and who are too poor to buy a new one.

Thousands would be deprived of all the benefits of having a car in order that dealers in British Columbia and elsewhere at Kit-wil-cool village.

Where might make more profits on the cars which they now hold. It is a well known fact that once a man owns a number of blankets he demands a car, he rarely ceases to use one. The blankets were not given and the requirement of a secondhand car de-children died. The same conjurer, while working in him a love for a car and so on his way home from Kit-wil-cool if this legislation came into force we village to Kitzezugula, was followed by

STORIES OF WITCHCRAFT IN EARLY DAYS OF B.C.

Port Essington, B.C.

April 23, 1928.

Editor, Daily News.

I wish to say a few words re the Billy Williams case, so much talked about in your paper. Having been a missionary at Kispiox for a number of years in the early days of the mission. I know something of the witchcraft that was practised amongst these people at that time. It was a sight to behold, say forty people gathered together in a large heathen house with rattles and drums and singing of songs, beating time on the boards, performing over the sick, some of them—both men and women—naked. This was in their heathen days. As the mission work made progress, the heathen practices of all kinds gradually died away. There were just a handful of leaders left behind.

These few were determined to oppose Christianity and the law of the land to the very utmost. They wished to be a law unto themselves and would take no advice from the Indian agent or the missionary. They tried to annoy and oppose those who had stepped out of darkness, and did their very best to bring them back to their old life. Threats of all kinds were used, and through fright, many yielded to their influence, and once more became under the control of the conjurers.

What is the result today? Progress has been checked, and that tribe is behind the other tribes in civilization and Christianity.

HINDERS PROGRESS

Witchcraft checks every desire on the part of the native to rise and, like a big stone wall, hinders any progress in the civilized life. While living among them, I saw the big change from heathenism to Christianity. The change was great. Christians moved from their heathen surroundings and built new homes. A church was erected. Then we had a sawmill and two incorporated stores. After that, the government built a school house and sent a teacher and field matron. This was a wonderful change for such a short time. Gradually came a revival of witchcraft which was done through hatred and spite. Today, some who in those days, were the leaders in the church sawmills and stores are now leaders of the witchcraft and conjurers in that village. Their present determination is to build up their ranks.

The government is not too late to eradicate this evil.

At Glen Vowell, Hazelton, Hug-wil-cool, Kitzezugula, Kit-wil-cool, Mensknight and Kit-se-las, none of these sites are practised. Kispiox is three weeks until all the excitement is the only place at the present time was settled. In the fall, Jim was arrested at Kit-wil-cool village, and owing to his resistance, was shot by one of the special constables. He died a few hours later.

The government and the church are spending thousands of dollars annually to educate and uplift the natives in this land.

Any practices that tend to degrade and demoralize these people should be removed.

The Kit-wil-cool Jim trouble, cost the government the sum of sixty thousand dollars.

Diabetes Mellitus

Diabetes is not a kidney disease as many people think, but a condition in which the kidneys become involved, and ultimately break down as a result of their strenuous efforts to eliminate sugar from the blood stream.

The presence of sugar in the blood has a double significance. It points out that the cells of the body are not assimilating the much-needed carbohydrates so necessary to its physical economy, besides the irritating effect it has on the kidneys in the discharge of their duties.

Up to date all so-called cures for diabetes mellitus have proved a complete failure.

By my natural methods I do not combat the disease, but aid the natural tendencies of the system to right itself in a crisis.

If you are suffering from diabetes I will be glad to have you call in and allow me to go into your case in detail. This consultation service I will gladly render free of charge.

EASY RULES
BRIDGE PLAY

ANYBODY CAN SUCCEED BY FOLLOWING SUGGESTIONS MADE IN THIS BRIEF ARTICLE

The following rules of bridge are suggested as tending to perfect play:

1—Pick up your cards as dealt. You will be ready to bid ahead of the others.

2—If your hand is rotten, mention it. It will guide your partner in his bid and play.

3—If your partner bids first, don't hesitate to raise. He has to play it.

4—Never hurry. Try several cards on a trick until you are sure which one you prefer.

5—Occasionally ask what is trump. It will show you are interested in the game.

6—Walk around the table when you are dummy and look at the others' hands. Tell them what cards are good and how many tricks they can take if they play right.

7—Don't show any lack of interest when you are dummy. Help your partner out with suggestions.

8—Talk about other subjects during the game. It makes for good fellowship.

9—Feel free to criticize your partner. He will do much better as a result.

10—Always trump your partner's tricks. Never take a chance.

11—Don't try to remember rules. It is too confusing.

12—If it is a money game, always top when you are ahead. It will leave lasting impression and folks will remember you.

13—Always explain your plays, particularly when set. It shows your card knowledge.

14—Disagree with established rules and conventions. People will know you are a person of independent mind.

15—Eat chocolate caramel or other adhesive candy while playing. It keeps the cards from skidding.

The intention is to have Pilot Instructor E. J. Burke, who is now at Jericho station, Vancouver, and Air Engineer Percy Hanford, of Innisfail, proceed to High River at the end of this month to take delivery of the machine. They will then hop off for the municipal field here, where the machine will be the first to be placed in commission for instructional purposes.

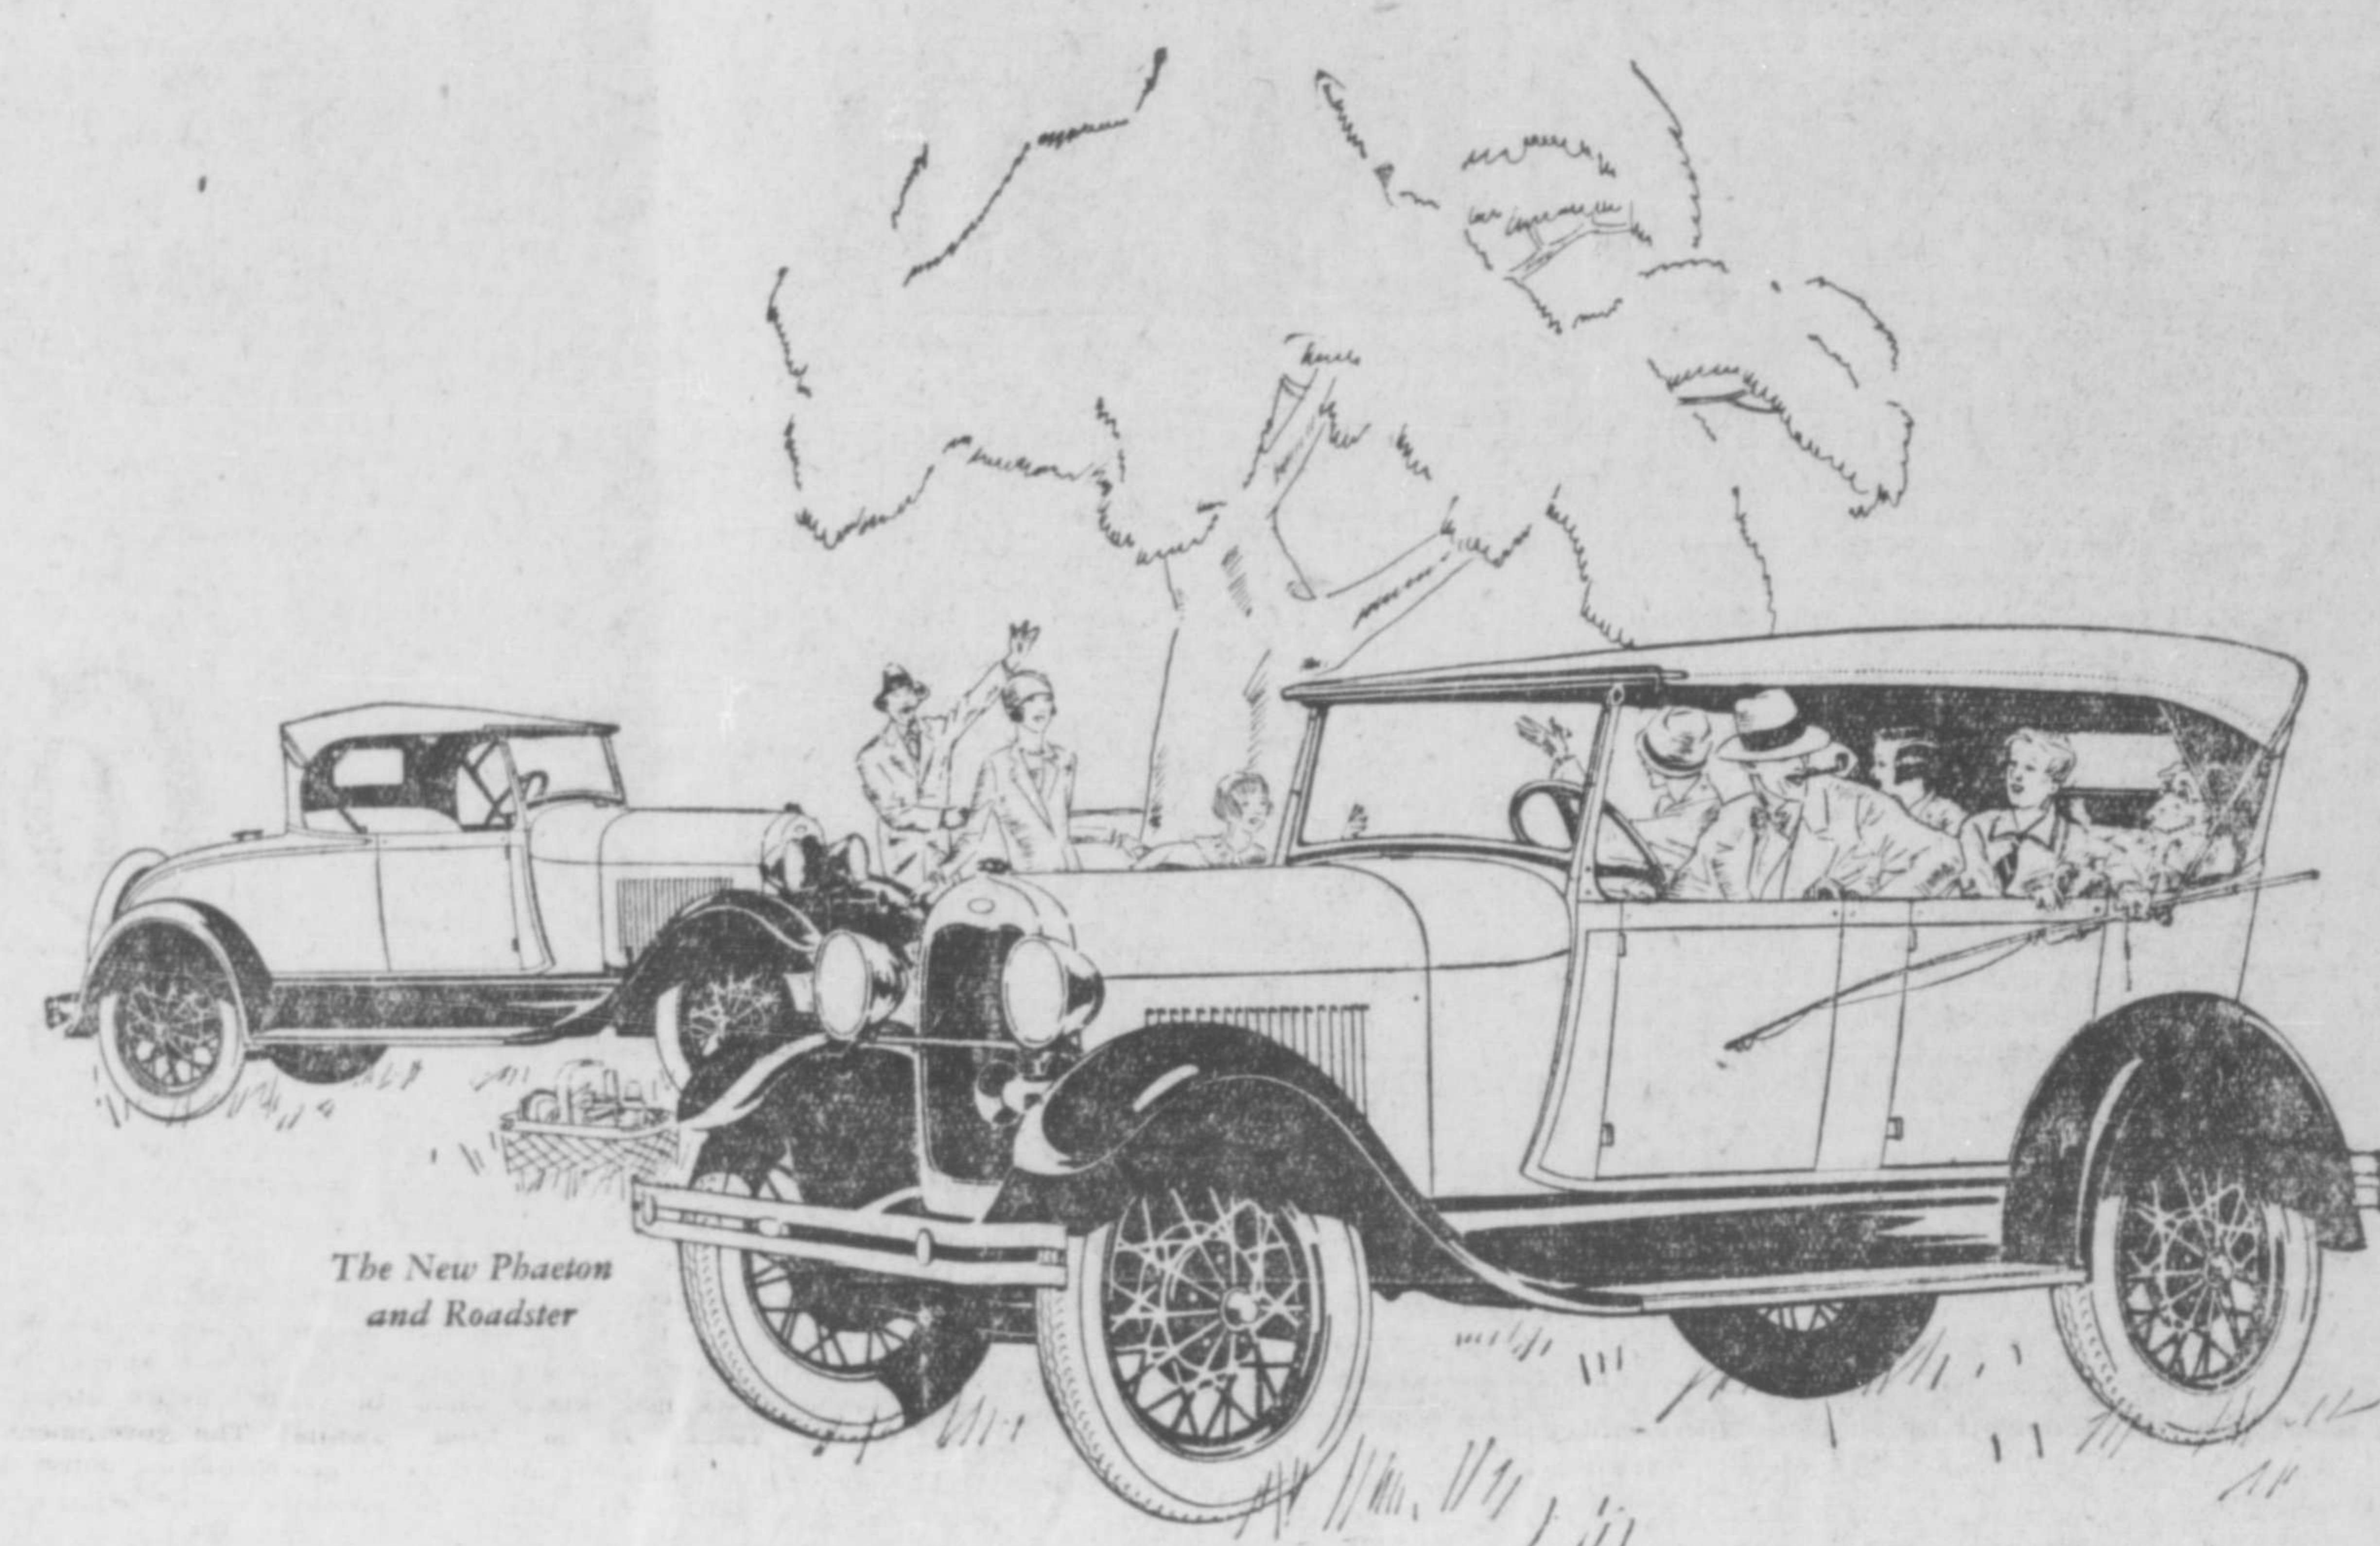

The second machine to be supplied by the federal authorities to the local club will be shipped from the de Havilland factory in the east and should be along early in May. On being delivered here, the aeroplane will be assembled and also placed in operation under the supervision of Captain Burke.

RACED HORSE EIGHT MILES EACH MORNING

MARATHON RUNNER GOT TRAINING BY SPREADING TO SCHOOL IN OKLAHOMA

CLAREMORE, Okla., April 25.—Andrew Payne, the 20-year-old Rogers county boy who has shown his heels to many veterans in the Los Angeles-to-New York marathon, developed endurance in a daily eight-mile race against a horse.

While going to school, eight miles from his home, Andrew put his brother on a horse in the mornings, and let animal and rider get a good start. Then he took after them. Horse and boy ran with all their might over eight miles of rock, mud and hills, and Andrew usually got to school ahead of his brother.

Andrew graduated from high school last spring with high scholastic honors. "When it's studying a book, picking cotton or running a race, Andy wants to win," the mother fondly noted.

Young Payne was more than half the track team at high school. When he was entered in a district meet at Miami the automobile taking him there broke down, delaying his arrival at the field until the last call for the mile race. Undaunted, the boy took his place at the starting line attired in ordinary clothes and farm boots and he won.

Andy went into the transcontinental foot race as the representative of Claremore and its most distinguished citizen, Will Rogers. He explained he would run for Will because his father and the lasso comedian used to bunk together when they worked on a farm.

TENNIS CHAMPION OF JAPAN IS TAMIO ABE OF YOKOHAMA

NEW YORK, April 25.—Tamio Abe, tennis champion of Japan and member of the Japanese Davis Cup team, has been engaged as a teacher at Mable Memorial, a famous Baptist school for boys at Yokohama.

This school, with its campus high on the bluff overlooking Yokohama harbor, is known to all visitors to Japan. The buildings were destroyed by the great earthquake of 1923, but temporary structures were erected on the campus and the enrollment is now about the same as before the disaster.

Tamio Abe is a Christian and is a son of Professor Abe of Waseda University, who has been active in Baptist work among the students of that institution. The young man will take up his work at Mable as soon as he returns to Japan from his travels with the Davis Cup team.

SPITBALL IS ALMOST GONE

PASSING OF SHOCKER OF THE YANKEES NEARLY BRINGS DEVOTEES TO CLOSE

NEW YORK, April 25.—Another famous tribe—the spit ball pitchers of baseball—is rapidly becoming extinct. Now that Urban Shocker has made up his mind to mount bank notes in his St. Louis radio shop in preference to wetting the old spheroid, the ranks of this once great galaxy of hurlers has dwindled to a mere handful.

Only eight years ago the major leagues decided on concurrent action to ban spit deliveries and agreed that seventeen home side spitball pitchers then performing in the big circuit would be the only ones exempt.

Of that number, the National had eight, namely, Bill Doak, Shoffling, Phil Douglas, Dan Fullington, Ray Fisher, Marvin Goodwin, Burleigh Grimes, Clarence Mitchell and Dick Radolph. Today, only Doak of the Indians, Mitchell of the Phillips and Grimes of the Pirates, survive.

With the passing of Shocker of the Yankees, three of the moist ball flingers are left in the American League. When the rule was passed in 1920, there were A. W. Ayer, Ray Caldwell, Stanley Clevenski, Urban Faber, H. B. Leonard, Jack Quinn, Allan Russell, Shocker and Allan Bothorn.

Laundry Washed Clothes Are Not Rubbed

You know how you douse your dainty lingerie up and down in a bowl of sudsy water . . . that's the way your clothes are washed in a modern laundry. They are not rubbed or scrubbed but are gently swished back and forth in warm filtered rainsoft water until the pure soap actually foams. Every particle of dirt is loosened without unduly lessening the tensile strength of the fabric. Then come many rinses of rainsoft water so that your laundry washed clothes not only look and feel clean but are scientifically clean.

LARGE AREA OF FOREST LAND

Of the total non-agricultural area of Canada about one-half can be made to produce timber crops if permanently dedicated, protected, and managed to that end. Investigations show that the only economic use for one-third of the land area is the growing of wood.

FOREST INDUSTRIES PAYROLL

The salaries and wages in Canada's forest industry total annually about $100,000,000.

NEW AIR YACHT FOR LINDBERGH

SPECIAL POWERFUL LANDING LIGHTS
PROVIDED IN PLANE TO BE USED BY HIM

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 25.—The shades of night will mean nothing to Col. Charles Lindbergh when he roams the air lines in his new air yacht, just completed by the factory which created the famous Spirit of St. Louis.

The new ship is equipped with parachute flares which when dropped will illuminate the ground for an area of 10 square miles. It also has two huge headlights, innovations in aircraft construction, stream-lined into the front of the plane's wings. They are 40 feet apart, and each lamp is capable of developing 250,000 candlepower. So the air ace may land in the full glare of the parachute flares, supplemented by half a million candlepower of light from his own headlights.

Powerful lenses in the lamps concentrate the lights, which get their power from batteries carried by the new ship. So strong are the lamps and they draw so much current that the batteries will keep them going for only about 10 minutes, but this is considered ample, as they will be used only momentarily during landing to pick out obstacles in the plane's path.

Lindbergh's new plane, following the same general lines as the Spirit of St. Louis, is in striking contrast in several respects.

Instead of the Spartan simplicity of that of the Spirit of St. Louis, the cabin of the new plane is luxuriously upholstered and has accommodation for five persons. The periscope that enabled Lindbergh to see ahead on his memorable journey to Paris is missing in the new craft, and instead there is a glassed-in driving compartment, which makes the periscope unnecessary.

The wingspread of the new machine is the same as that of the Spirit of St. Louis. This is slightly greater than that of the brougham type of which the Spirit was an adaptation. The greater wingspread was desired to obtain the carrying capacity Lindbergh desired.

With a gasoline tankage of 161 gallons, the cruising capacity will be 1,000 miles. At Lindbergh's express order, the latest navigational instruments are a part of the plane's equipment.

There are no special markings on the plane to distinguish it from the regular brougham type, but the "eyes" in the wings and wide sweep of the monoplane marks it as different.
