Greatest Storm In Years Blowing In Gulf Of Alaska And Halibut Boats Driven From The Banks

Helene Damaged Rudder and Pilot House After Being Ten Hours at Mercy of Waves; Mail Motorship is Probably Lost

SEWARD, October 19. — A southeaster that swept the seas from the mouth of Resurrection Bay to the westward of Kodiak has driven practically all the halibut fleet from the banks and nearly brought disaster to several.

The Helene of Ketchikan struggled into Seward with a disabled rudder and damaged pilot house when hit by a wave off Portlock and drifted ten hours at the mercy of the waves before the crew managed to make repairs. Buffeted between the Barren Islands and Cape Elizabeth the Donna Long, a herring ship of Utopian Fisheries, has the windows of both sides of the upper deck stove in, her hold flooded and the deck load washed overboard.

At Kodiak and Cook Inlet no herring have arrived yet and hope for the season has been practically abandoned.

Grave anxiety is felt here for the safety of the motorship Discoverer, Captain Heinie Berger, which is reported to have left Seldovia Saturday morning for Seward. The vessel is five days overdue as Seldovia is but a day's run from Seward.

The greatest storm in years is blowing over this part of Alaska and it may have caught the Discoverer near Sheikher Strait. The U.S. commissioners here plans to send relief boats from Seward and Seldovia. The Discoverer carries mail between Seward and Cook Inlet points and Anchorage.

In view of a possible disaster Seward shipping interests will renew their urgent demands that a coast guard cutter be stationed here through the winter months as shipping is without safeguards of any kind.

ONE OUTLET FROM PEACE AT RUPERT

Forecasting immediate plans to extend the northern Alberta lines to the Pacific in order to meet the demands of the Peace River, the Winnipeg Free Press in a double column editorial says it is a job for the two railway companies acting in concert. After discussing the amazing fertility and growth of that section the paper says: "The advantage to the dominion in having the two railway systems co-operating in the Peace River country is apparent. It is evident the Canadian National could not permit that great area to pass into the exclusive control of the Canadian Pacific. If that were attempted the Canadian National would have to build its own lines into that district. It is also obvious that the Peace River country, at a date not very far in the future, must have a direct outlet to the Pacific coast either by using the port of Prince Rupert or by the development of another Pacific port north of Prince Rupert. "If the two systems were in the Peace River on a competitive basis, the result would likely be the building of two outlets to the Pacific coast. At present it does not look as if this were necessary. One line to the coast, to be used jointly, would serve the purpose, would result in the saving of money, and by that saving would provide a lower rate structure. "The day may not be far distant when the Peace River will require an outlet to the east as well as to the west."

HOPE FOR FLYER IS ALMOST GONE

McLEAN FOR VICTORIA IS VERY LIKELY

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19. — A special despatch from Victoria to the Province says Hon. J. D. McLean will probably be the Liberal candidate in the federal by-election while Lindley Crease, K.C., and F. C. Elliott are being considered by the Conservatives to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation from the federal parliament of Hon. S. F. Tolmie.

Both parties are preparing for nominating conventions for the election which takes place there soon.

Patullo Is Likely To Lead Party In Legislature Since Dr. McLean Is Not Likely To Be There At Opening

VICTORIA, October 19.—Hon. T. D. Pattullo is looked upon as the most likely man to be appointed house leader for the Liberal party at the coming session of the Legislature since Dr. McLean will probably not be in the House. The only other man mentioned prominently is Captain Ian Mackenzie, member for North Vancouver, who was given a cabinet position just prior to the defeat of the Liberal government.

It is not quite certain that Mr. Pattullo would accept the position but should he do so he would be in line for the premiership whenever the Liberals returned to power.

There is talk of a Liberal convention for the purpose of appointing a leader of the party, but that is not likely to happen until next year. In the meantime it will be necessary for the House leader to prepare for the work. Mr. Pattullo is at present in the East.

At Assizes Last Evening Life Sentence Given Fritz Turner For Killing Another Fisherman

Jury Found Man Guilty of Manslaughter After he Admitted he Shot Kristiansen in Dean Channel Last Summer

"I assume everything in favor of the prisoner and am going to take the most lenient view possible. Yet I do not consider I should be doing my duty to the public if I gave a less sentence than the one I am about to inflict. I sentence prisoner to life imprisonment." That was the closing scene in the drama of the man, Fritz Turner, who shot Thomas Stang Kristiansen, another fisherman, at Raphoe Point, Dean Channel on July 6 and who was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury yesterday evening.

When the jury went out soon after five, there was speculation as to whether the verdict would be "murder" or "manslaughter." The judge's charge left either verdict open. Milton Gonzales, counsel for the accused, had made a pathetic appeal on his behalf and the crown counsel, A. M. Johnson, K.C., had not pressed the charge. The judge was a little sarcastic when he referred to the fact that accused, who is a Finn, had been in the country 22 years and had not learned the language.

Big Haul Rum Runners On Niagara River When Americans Capture 79

Blockade Established and Only Two Get Through of Forty Boats Lined up Loaded With Liquor for U.S.

BUFFALO, October 19.—The American authorities made a big haul of rum runners last night when 79 who attempted to land liquor on the U.S. side of the Niagara River were captured by coast guards, immigration and customs patrols, Lieut. Martin W. Rasmussen, district guard commander announced.

A blockade was established when reports reached the commander that thirty or forty rum craft were lined up on the Canadian side. Two of the boats pushed their way through the blockade but the others were taken.

All of the captured boats carried liquor and ale, the commander said.

Reception of Rev. J. B. Gibson Last Night — Presentation Made to Bishop

There was a large crowd in attendance at a social evening held last night in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral Hall to welcome the genial new rector of St. Andrew's, Rev. J. B. Gibson. There was an enjoyable program of music and speech-making and delightful refreshments were served.

Those contributing to the program included Mr. and Mrs. Morris Blott, Mrs. Ernest Anderson, Miss Halliwell and A. Cracknell, the last mentioned giving a humorous speech.

H. T. Cross occupied the chair and Mr. Gibson gave a refreshingly humorous talk after he had been duly welcomed.

Community singing was led by Wallace C. Orchard. One of the features of the evening was the presentation of an illuminated address and a substantial purse of gold to the retiring rector, Bishop G. A. Rix. The presentation was made by R. V. G. LePine and the address was read by Ald. G. P. Tinker.

PLAYS FOOTBALL AND MINDS THE BABY AS HE ATTENDS COLLEGE

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Playing football in the afternoon and nursemaid at night, Sammy Sebo, tow-headed backfield star of the Syracuse University football team, is burning the candle at both ends with surprising success and versatility.

On the field the solidly built little Polish boy from Garfield, N.J., is one of the roughest and toughest line-crackers in the grid-iron world. Tending the furnace and minding the baby at a home near the campus as a means of working his way through college he is the picture of gentle domesticity.

When the team goes on trips the manager has to find two men to take Sammy's place, one to feed the furnace and the other to mind the baby.

You Can Quickly Limber Up Sore, Stiff, Swollen Joints

Even Chronic Rheumatic Swellings in Knee, Elbow, Shoulder or Finger Joints Yield to the Mighty Powerful Influence of JOINT-EASE.

It's here, right in town and every live drugist has it.

It's a low price remedy, to be sure, but that doesn't stop it from taking the kinks, lameness or torture out of your troubled joints.

Joint-Ease is the name, so called because it is compounded solely for the purpose of relieving all your ailments. Just rub it on the tormented, lame joints and in just a few seconds it will penetrate to the bone and blessed comfort comes quickly.

It absorbs instantly and is so clean and stainless that you can rub it on often and get thereby results much more quickly, when the joint is inflamed and the agony intense.

Being such a powerful counter irritant, it cannot help bringing speedy and helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and neuritis much quicker than almost any remedy you can buy.

But you must remember that it is for joint afflictions that it is mostly dispensed and its helpfulness will astonish you after all ordinary liniments and other treatments have failed.

SPORT CHAT

Both New York professional Hockey teams are experiencing trouble in completing their rosters for the 1928-29 season. Frank Boucher is said to be the chief cause for worry in the camp of the Rangers, with Dutch Keating and several others demanding more money than Tex Rickard and his associates care to give. In the Americans' camp, practically all contracts expired this year, and hold-overs include Lionel Conacher, Billy Burch, Vernon Forbes, Jess Spring and Leo Deise-Himes and Bouchard are said to be the only men signed for this season.

Blood poisoning in his left hand prevented Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion of the world, from meeting Santiago Zorilla, challenger for the title, in San Francisco Monday. Several other engagements will be cancelled by Morgan. He will probably appear before a physician representing the state boxing commission for an official examination. Despite Morgan's incapacity, Zorilla continued his preparations for the fight.

In the seven days ending yesterday, 10,053,000 bushels were marketed, as compared with 11,982,000 but 10,343,000 bushels (7,757 cars) were loaded as against 7,822,000 (5,987 cars).

There is in storage 34,586,000 bushels, as compared with 10,521,000. An increase of something short of 30,000,000 bushels. From August 1 this season, 68,579,000 bushels have been loaded. During the same period last year the sum was 33,397,000.

Saskatchewan leads the other provinces in loading and marketing, having loaded nearly 6,000,000 bushels and marketed nearly 5,000,000.

TONIGHT'S MEETING

There is to be a Liberal meeting tonight to choose delegates for the convention which is to be held the middle of November, when a candidate will be selected by the Skeena electoral district. To Prince Rupert Liberals tonight's meeting is the most important as on its outcome depends to a large extent who will be chosen as candidate next month.

There have been a great many Prince Rupert Liberals dissatisfied with the recent trend in Liberalism. We suggest to them that tonight is the occasion for them to turn out and help select delegates who will express their views at the convention. It is useless to sit back and protest. That does not help. Those who are dissatisfied should attend the meetings and then if they are voted down they have no more to say.

We have suggested this line of action to both Liberals and Conservatives in the past. Take an active interest in the party to which you belong. Do not leave it to a few to carry on the affairs and then object to what they do.

The meeting which is advertised for tonight should be well attended and those who go there should not be backward in expressing their views, if they have any. It is much better and more effective to speak there than on the street corners afterwards.

The Daily News is not concerned over factionalism in parties but a little advice as to how to avoid differences is not out of order, we think. In the interests of good government any party break should be avoided.

VANCOUVER ELECTION

The election of W. H. Malkin as mayor of Greater Vancouver will be satisfactory to a great many people although locally there was strong sympathy with Taylor and a hope that he would be elected.

Taylor undoubtedly was beaten as a result of the police inquiry which, while it laid nothing very directly against the mayor, indicated that he used strong influences in favor of an open town and apparently Vancouver wants a closed town. Anyway, Taylor has had a good term of office and it is only proper that some other man should take over the administration for a time.

ROBB AND LUMBER INDUSTRY

Hon. J. A. Robb in replying to the lumbermen who asked for preferential treatment in the Australian market for Canadian lumber reminded the lumbermen that it was from British Columbia that the chief opposition to the Australian treaty came. He hinted that it was hardly reasonable for a province that benefited more than any other as a result of the treaty and at the same time was always knocking it to come and ask for an addition to the treaty for the benefit of British Columbia.

AROUND PRINCE RUPERT
 Empire Property Near Smithers Under Development—Milling Ore Opened up on Mohawk—May Produce Coke From Copper River

Good progress is being made by Donald C. Simpson in the driving of a tunnel toward an expected good-sized body of high grade ore on his Empire property near Smithers. This tunnel is about 500 feet lower than a former one from which a large shipment of high grade ore was made to Trail smelter several years ago. It is now in 150 feet vertically beneath the surface and an additional drift of 150 feet will put its face under the former shoot. Mr. Simpson believes that the backbone of the Empire is a huge vein between 36 and 40 feet wide which is exposed at a number of points on the surface for the full length of the claim but which cannot be explored owing to its position at the edge of an almost perpetual bank of snow which almost disappeared for a short time this summer. Development could be accomplished by either extending the north tunnel, which is on one vein and is fifty feet long, exposing a fine shoot of clean lead-zinc ore about a foot wide, an additional 700 or 800 feet where it will intersect the large vein, or by a straight cross-cut tunnel about 600 feet in length which would give a depth on the vein of approximately 500 feet.

Making preparations to start development of the Cronin mine for the Alexandria Gold Mines Ltd. of Toronto, T. S. Davey, M.E., has arrived at the property, accompanied by L. B. Gostling, who will take direct charge. With camp buildings at the mine in shape, arrangements are now being made for machinery to go to work as soon as snow conditions will permit of transportation. With 50,000 tons of ore averaging $30 per ton proven, the property is expected to be an active producer by spring.

Continuation of diamond drilling at the Topley-Richfield reveals additional showings of ore encountered by the drill in a parallel cross-cut between the north drift and a cross-cut that is being extended from the west to the east vein. Extensive development is proceeding all over the mine and the property should soon be in shape to be a large and consistent producer. Probably no mine in this district shows more favorable prospects at this time.

It is reported that some four feet of milling ore has been opened up on the lower level of the Mohawk mine at New Hazelton. This comes as a result of tunneling and cross-cutting that has been going on for the past few weeks. On the upper levels, ore is being stoped ready for shipment at an early date.

British capitalists, whose representatives recently visited a coal property near the headwaters of the Copper River, are reported to be particularly interested in by-products, chiefly coke. With a single exception, all the veins on the property, which has been proved to a certain extent by diamond drill to be one of the greatest deposits of coal in British Columbia, carry coal of high coking properties and the veins are so placed that they can be opened for mining on a creek level which will give a depth of 1,000 feet on the veins and permit of low working costs. The representatives of the intending purchasers were altogether pleased with the appearance of the property and their next concern will be the cost of securing transport of the coke from the mine to tide-water. This would involve the building of a short line of railway to connect with the Canadian National at a point in the vicinity of Copper City and assistance in this enterprise will be sought from the provincial government. Upon this will turn the question whether or not the property will be taken up and its development proceeded with. The country around the headwaters of the Copper and Telkwa River gives promise of a great mining future. The veins for the most part are well defined and the galena ores are said to be equal to those of the Slocan district. The district has received the attention of prospectors for years but so far has failed to enlist sufficient to

LIBERALS TO MEET TONIGHT

Several More Names Mentioned in Connection With Candidacy at Convention

The question of choosing a candidate to contest this constituency at the next election seems to be a live one, judging from the comments and telephone messages received in connection with it. It is mentioned that several prominent Liberals whose names were not mentioned in connection with the nominations may be possible candidates. Among these is that of Colonel S. P. McMordie, D.S.O., Thomas McClymont, S. E. Parker and Ald. Theo. Collart. Possibly there may be others, all of whom might make good candidates.

It is suggested that it is the good of the party rather than any personal claims on the office that should be considered.

While the meeting tonight is for the selection of delegates, much depends on what delegates are selected as to who will be chosen.

Every district in the constituency, of which Prince Rupert is one is entitled to send a delegate to the convention on November 15 for every 100 or part of 100 names on the voters' list.

Opera in your own Home

—and besides—the songs of famous concert singers—the best from the vaudeville artists—entertainment from everywhere—any time!

A mighty psalm swelling from a hundred throats... a velvet-tapestry of tone that fairly lifts you out of your chair... now soothing, now stirring, as the melody changes from pianissimo to fortissimo in a kaleidoscope of color. You are listening to an operatic chorus, in your own home!

So flawless is the music of the new Orthophonic Victrola—you can pick out the tenors, baritones, sopranos and contraltos as distinctly as a weaver can separate the strands of a Gobelin tapestry. Each voice is there, and yet it is the design you feel, and not the single threads. Whatever you like most in music, this great instrument will bring to you in all its glory. Go into any His Master's Voice store and compare this new music with your conception of the old talking machine.

The new Orthophonic Victrola—a patented Victor product—is made in a range of beautiful models, designed in fine walnut or mahogany. Electrically driven, if you wish, at slight additional cost. Prices from $1400 down to as low as $115. On convenient payments from His Master's Voice dealers.

HIS MASTER'S VOICE

while his family was young. He had also done some logging and in more recent years had engaged in salmon fishing. For six years he had been a policeman in Finland, his native country, and now was the first time in his life he had ever been in trouble.

the union, the other fishermen there persistently obstructed his operations. They persisted in "corking" (i.e. setting their gear so close to his that he could get no fish) and hooking his net. This all led up, said accused, to his deciding to quit after a couple of days but, on going to the fish floats, he was persuaded to continue operations.

On the night of July 5 some twenty or so nets were placed under his boat by these enemies and, fastened one end to the shore and the other end to gasboats, were drawn taught and slacked up in such a manner as to toss his boat up and down and, in the process, fill it with half a foot of water. So exasperated did he become, accused swore, that he fired three shots from his rifle with a view to attracting a fishery patrol boat which had recently passed. As he fired the third shot, a bullet coming from the direction of shore whizzed past his head and, in ducking, he fell and must have struck his head against the mast of the boat for he was "knocked out." Once during the night he regained consciousness but, freezing cold from lying in the water at the bottom of the boat, his neck aching, head pounding and ears ringing, he was unable to rise but fell back in another faint. Coming to again in the morning, he found the eleven fish he had had were stolen and, within a few feet of him, was Kristiansen, the ringleader in the annoyances, with his boat. Worked up to such a pitch that he completely lost his head, accused admitted that he had fired three shots at accused, one of them finding its mark. Realizing later the full seriousness of what he had done, accused rowed to the fishpacker President H. where he gave up his rifle and requested to be taken to the police.

Cross-examination

Except for a few minor details, accused's story was largely unshaken under the cross-examination of A. M. Johnson, K.C., crown prosecutor. Turner seemed to be uncertain as to whether or not he had actually anchored his boat on the night preceding the tragedy. He did not really know but imagined that it had been Kristiansen who stole his fish. The rifle he brought with him from Ladysmith when he came north the latter part of June. He first loaded it when his boat was over the nets. He had the rifle because he thought he might be able to shoot some seals. Accused denied that he had had any intention of shooting anybody. He was in a very bad condition and could not explain why he had loaded it again on the fatal morning. He had completely lost his head on finding his fish gone and could not account for his actions after that.

Before closing the defence, Milton Gonzales, Turner's counsel, announced that he had made efforts to secure Koski as a witness but could not find him.

Defence Plea

In a thirty-minute address to the jury, Mr. Gonzales admitted that he had no hope of entirely freeing accused. It was a case of murder or manslaughter. He asked the jury if it would be reasonable to bring in a verdict of murder. Had there been actual intent to kill or had the accused, driven to desperation, merely lost his senses, by reason of persistent persecution and, stunned and suffering, committed the regrettable act? Defence counsel contended that accused had suffered sufficient provocation to cause him to act as he had done. Would not possibly the jurymen, themselves, have acted similarly under such circumstances. Mr. Gonzales submitted that there was no suggestion of intent such as was necessary to constitute murder. In view of this, he asked the jury to return a verdict of manslaughter and, taking into consideration the unfortunate man's age and other circumstances, to accompany it with a recommendation for mercy.

Mr. Johnson said the crown had proved that the accused shot the man. There was no suggestion that the fish had been stolen but that the victim had interfered with his rights in fishing. However, the grievance had nothing to do with the guilt or innocence of the man, he had what the accused did afterwards. There was no question of insanity. He thought the crown had proved the physical fact of murder.

Judge McDonald, in the usual manner, explained the definition of murder. He reviewed the evidence at length stressing the points both for and against accused and the jury retired, returning with their verdict of manslaughter about three quarters of an hour later.

C.N.R. steamer Prince Charles, Capt. Neil McLean, arrived in port at 6.30 last evening from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands and will sail at 8 o'clock tomorrow night on her return south over the same route.

TWELVE MONTHS SENTENCE GIVEN

Nick Priza Sent to Okalla for Knifing Louis Rawka at Anyox on August 24

Nick Priza, Serbian, who knifed Louis Rawka, Ukrainian, in the course of a drunken brawl at Anyox on the night of August 24 last and who was convicted by the jury of assault occasioning actual bodily harm was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment at Okalla with hard labor, dating from the time of his arrest, at the Supreme Court Assizes this morning by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald who stated that he had thought the case over carefully and had come to the conclusion that the prisoner had already learned a good lesson and that the case did not call for the highest penalty provided.

When His Lordship inquired if the prisoner had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him, W. O. Fulton, Priza's counsel, expressed the opinion that the ends of justice did not require a severe penalty. He contended that accused had been scared and aggravated and, actually frightened of the gang of Polanders, had become so excited that he did not know what he was doing. He asked the judge to take these circumstances into consideration in passing sentence. Sentence of Priza concluded the business before the fall session of the Supreme Court Assizes in Prince Rupert.

WAR LEFT HIM TO SUFFER TERRIBLY

Until He Found Happy Relief in "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Many a battle-scarred veteran of the Great War has found succor from pain and suffering in "Fruit-a-tives." This famous medicine, made from fruit juices combined with the finest medicinal ingredients, has helped them to adjust themselves to modern conditions and to correct these faults of digestion and elimination which resulted from their terrible war experiences. "Ever since leaving the army," writes Mr. E. E. Newman of Iona Station, Ont., "I suffered terribly from Constipation. After spending a lot of money on remedies, I took four boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and I can sincerely say they gave me permanent relief." Other Great War veterans have taken "Fruit-a-tives" for Rheumatism, Kidney Trouble, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Nervousness and Sleeplessness with equally gratifying results. Try them. 25c. and 50c. a box—at dealers everywhere.

IT TOOK INDIANS THOUSAND YEARS TO MINE TWO TONS

Broken Rock Hammered by Natives Until Metal Was Extracted After Heating.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 19.—Archaeologists with two expeditions of the Milwaukee public museum this summer digging into Wisconsin mounds and pounding their way through the rocky soil of Isle Royale, Mich., have added pages to the scientific history of the American Indian of centuries before Columbus.

The Isle Royale expedition revealed the tedious work of copper mining among Indians who spent several months each year on that rugged island far out in Lake Superior.

In no fewer than 1,000 years the Indians, working many times that number of mines, took out two tons of copper, says George A. West, Milwaukee attorney and president of the museum, who headed the expedition.

These ancients would heat the copper-bearing stone until it was dry and brittle, pour water on it until it cracked and then hammer at the fragments. Scattered over the island are piles of broken hammers which were used for the purpose.

Listen! Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles. Peps contains certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry away the mucus which is the cause of the cough and throat trouble. Peps is available in liquid or solid form and can get to the lungs and air passages, where Peps fumes are their direct, and healing commences.

MANY WHALES ARCTIC OCEAN

Captain Bartlett Said he thought an Industry There would be Successful

"There are lots of whales in the Arctic and I believe a whaling industry would do well there," stated Captain Bartlett, commander of the Effie M. Morrissey, in an address to the Rotary Club at its luncheon yesterday afternoon, James Lee presiding.

The Captain told of the trip and of the work of some of the men engaged in it. He told of the breaking of the shaft of the vessel while floating in the water. It was in three sections and caused considerable anxiety throughout the trip. The engine was out of line and did not work very well.

The ice conditions were bad in the Arctic this year, different from the previous season, said the captain. They searched for Walrus and found one herd off Cape Barrow but they were all cows and only a few were taken. To show how bad the weather was he said there were really only three fine days all the time they were away.

The Captain thanked the customs department, the clubs and friends, the drydock management, the banks, and Manager Waugh of the C. N. Telegraph office for courtesies extended. It had been a wonderful visit to Prince Rupert.

WORLD'S GLORY AND MAJESTY

People Infinitely Nobler and Better Than We Usually Think Says Writer

(Victoria Times) Edward Howe, the Kansas editor, remarks in his autobiography that he believes he has a "natural religion." "If I pass a church," he writes, "and faintly hear the organ and choir, I have heard a sermon that does me good."

Probably a good many of us are in Mr. Howe's class. Living in a world in which the requirements of bread and butter compel us to devote most of our time to the job of making a living, we fall out of touch with spiritual values. Yet we aren't entirely out of tune, for all that; dimly-heard music, caught out of the air, can be to us, as to Mr. Howe, "a sermon that does us good."

These chance eavesdroppings are important. It would be a mistake to assume that a man can worship only when he has donned his best suit of clothes, composed his mind and seated himself in a pew. Life continually throws out accidental little snatches of organ music to us: a hurried moment on a busy street in broad daylight can lift the clouds and give us a vision of the world's glory and majesty.

When you walk down a city sidewalk, impatient of the crowds that jostle you, you are in reality moving through a thousand separate human dramas, each one of which would move you to your heart if you could see it clearly.

You encounter, for instance, a shabbily-dressed woman with a shabby little boy, pausing at the window of a toyshop. The boy's face shines with the eagerness of expectant youth; the mother's tells of a lifetime of self-denial and penny-pinching. The boy points a grubby finger at some cheap, gay toy and looks up questioningly; the mother hesitates, then smiles—and they go in. You lose them. But the memory of the smile will stay with you; a beacon-light of love and endurance and pity.

People are infinitely nobler and better than we usually think. There is a divinity in human nature that silences forever our sneers and doubts whenever we get a glimpse of it. For the most part it goes unnoticed. We go about our daily routine, through a mass of strange faces without ever suspecting that the unknown people we meet are other than they seem. Then, unexpectedly, some little thing happens; we hear a stray word, catch a sudden smile—and then we know.

The organ and the choir! You can hear them everywhere, if you will listen. They are contained in the daily, ordinary words and movements of plain human beings, fighting unknown fights and meeting unknown tragedies; yet they come from a farther place. They prove that whatever else life may be—however frustrated, unhappy or tragic—it is never mean or ignoble. There are glory and splendor in and around it.
