Thousand Teachers Hear Addresses by Viscount Willingdon, Premier MacLean and University President

Head of B.C. Government tells of difficulties of education but states correspondence courses are success

VANCOUVER, April 10.—A thousand teachers at the ninth annual convention of the British Columbia Teacher's Federation were addressed at the opening session today by Viscount Willingdon, Premier MacLean, Dr. Rufus von Kleinsmid, president of the University of Southern California at Los Angeles.

The Premier reviewed the progress of education in the province for the past ten years and said: "In the very near future there will be an act on the statute books of this province making provision for a retiring allowance for teachers."

Dr. MacLean further pointed out the difficulties of education in view of the size of the province and the sparseness of population. He stated that correspondence courses were recently instituted for the use of children in the outlying districts and they had been found very successful.

The Premier said he wished to be certain that the plan suggested by the teachers committee for pensions was sound actually before the department committed itself to its passage through the legislature.

APPRECIATING NEWS

During the past week or two this paper has almost doubled the amount of telegraphic news received daily, thus seriously increasing the bill for telegraph tolls. That, along with the decrease in the price of the paper, has made the matter of publication a very serious one. However, advertising has been correspondingly heavy for the past week so that it is hoped to at least break even. The increase in circulation accompanying the drop in the price helped to some extent to offset the loss.

We have had some compliments on the amount of sport news received daily over the wire. It is hoped to continue this feature. While it is impossible at present to make a big sport page, as in the big city dailies, much of the important sport news will be found on the front page along with the general news of the day.

INTERIOR MINES TO FORE

It is satisfactory to know that while mining has been getting much publicity and greater interest everywhere is being taken in mining properties, the northern interior, particularly the Bulkley country, has been making good progress. Mines have changed hands and capital for development has been secured. We expect to see this continued. As the work proceeds, the mining public will be attracted to the rich properties of Hudson Bay Mountain, the Babine, Topley, and Hazelton and places even nearer to Prince Rupert will come into their own.

CONSIDER THE ANTS

Now ants and mammals appeared at much the same period, the mesozoic, in the world's history; but took different directions, each succeeding where the other failed, says Sir William Beach Thomas in the London Observer when reviewing the new book on the life of Forel. The ant society is a female society, which developed a hereditary social instinct so perfect that the animals can live successfully "without chieftains, guides, police or laws in an admirably co-ordinated state of anarchy." If the higher mammals attempt this "they at once fall back into such a triumphant state of brigandage that they are compelled to submit once more to the rule of chieftains." Ants may be said to be as certainly supreme among the social anarchists as man among the individualists, though again and again his Solomons have considered the ant and tried to conform to her methods; as if they held the educational creed that the proper study of mankind is not man, but man plus ants.

ANGLO-EGYPTIAN TREATY

Premier King's statement to Parliament upon the question of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty adds to the significance of the situation, in addition to clearing up the seeming conflict between what Mr. King had previously stated in Parliament and Lord Salisbury's comment upon it.

This treaty was drafted in London. The British Foreign Office, conceiving it to be an Empire treaty, drew it up in terms thus describing it: and the Dominions, having been made fully cognizant of its provisions, were asked to indicate whether they desired to associate themselves with Great Britain in completing it. Had they desired to do so it would have been necessary for each of them to appoint a plenipotentiary to sign the treaty. Under the new arrangement the British Government cannot give powers to a plenipotentiary enabling him to sign for Canada, or any other Dominion.

Canada decided not to associate herself with the treaty; and apparently this was the decision of the other Dominions as well. Whereupon the British Government changed the treaty from one affecting the Empire to one affecting only Great Britain; and it was completed by the signatures of the plenipotentiaries who held full power for Great Britain granted by the King upon the advice of his Ministers in Great Britain.

An ounce of example is sometimes worth a ton of argument; and here we have a thorough work-out of the principle of the control, at will, of its foreign relations by each British nation. The Egyptian treaty dealt with very important matters but it was a treaty between Great Britain and Egypt, not between the British Empire and Egypt.

In what way, if any, could the treaty, had it been ratified by Egypt, affect Canadian interests? If it resulted in war, as conceivably it might, the situation would then arise about which General Hertzog and General Smuts have been so spiritedly debating in Capetown. Would Canada be involved technically in such a war? Could she at will declare her neutrality? General Smuts said the question was academic and that there was no sense in worrying about it, which is as sensible a remark upon the point as has yet been made.

WHAT I MIGHT HAVE BEEN

As Told to Harold C. Burr
By WILLIAM BEEBE

WILLIAM BEEBE
"One thing I wanted to be was twins—so that I could get more work done."

"One thing I always wanted to be—that was twins, so I could get double the amount of scientific work done."

Verisimilitude was lent to that declaration of William Beebe by the naturalist himself. He hurried up from his basement laboratory one hot Saturday afternoon in July to see by whom and for what he was wanted. Not even in the torrid summertime does he declare a half holiday from his engrossing work.

"I'm really nothing but a scientist," Mr. Beebe disclaims. "Suppose I do write popular books on natural history. And to say that I'm an explorer—is just another name. People seem to like my essays, but I write them the way I go to the theatre or play a game of tennis—for the fun I get out of it. The kind of thing I like to do best is purely technical stuff that nobody reads."

This man, who descends fearlessly to the ocean floor among octopuses, sharks and other marine man-killers, was shy about facing anything as harmless as a reporter.

"I'm afraid I'm the poorest of prospects for biographical matter. Do you know I've got a $500 bet," he continued, "with a magazine editor that he'll never persuade me to write my own life?"

"Against my own inclination I might conceivably have been made into a business man, but I managed to escape that fate with outside assistance."

"I guess I gave my folks a lot to think about when I was a youngster out in East Orange, N.J., going to high school. Even then I liked to watch insects. I wanted to be a naturalist. But the family ukase was to the effect that a poor boy in our circumstances couldn't afford to fool around with science. I ought to be placed in some good paying job. Nothing specific had been picked out for me as yet—just something like a lawyer, doctor or merchant. One of the family—I don't remember who—brought a good deal of that sort of pressure to bear."

But unknown to every one then a couple of strong advocates were going to intercede in young Bill Beebe's behalf. One of them was Henry Fairfield Osborn, curator of the American Museum of Natural History in New York. The other was Theodore Roosevelt.

"You see, my mother wasn't wholly satisfied in her mind that the rest of the family knew what was best for me," Mr. Beebe took up the thread of the story again. "She was a very learned woman and didn't try to influence me herself. But she was worrying. So one day she just dressed herself and took the train for New York to ask Prof. Osborn what he would do about it. I've heard Osborn tell this story himself."

"She said she had a son who was crazy about bugs and birds and didn't know what to do with him. 'Madam,' retorted the professor, 'you should consider yourself the luckiest woman.'"

Afterward Theodore Roosevelt—whom he met through Prof. Osborn—also advised her to give him his head. William Beebe has forgotten Roosevelt's exact words, but they must have characteristically carried conviction. "After awhile," he concludes, "I became a scientist."

DR. TREMAYNE GOING SOUTH

PIONEER PHYSICIAN HERE SINCE 1905, TO JOIN WILLIAM HEAD QUARANTINE STAFF

Transfer to William Head station near Victoria, as assistant quarantine officer of Dr. H. E. Tremayne of this city will remove Prince Rupert's pioneer professional man who is as widely known as he is highly esteemed. Announcement of Dr. Tremayne's transfer was made yesterday and he expects to leave for the south Thursday night. Mrs. Tremayne and family, also well known and popular, will follow next week. They will take up residence at William Head.

Dr. Tremayne and family came north in 1905 and took up residence in Metlakatla until December 1906, when they moved out to Prince Rupert townsite long before there was any vestige of the present city. Dr. Tremayne followed private practice here and also became quarantine and immigration doctor for the port. Early in the war, Dr. Tremayne, after passing the first men that enlisted here, himself went overseas and for several years was stationed at Shorncliffe. Returning to the city after the war, he again established himself in practice here, resuming the post of quarantine and immigration doctor here. On the post being divided last fall, Dr. Tremayne continued as immigration doctor while Dr. L. W. Kergin became quarantine doctor. Who will succeed Dr. Tremayne as immigration doctor here is not yet announced. Dr. Tremayne is also president of the Prince Rupert Medical Association as well as physician to the First North B.C. Regiment, 102nd Battalion C.E.F.

Mrs. Tremayne has ever been prominent and popular in local society circles, particularly in the work of the Red Cross Society. The doctor, his wife and family will all be missed here by their many friends. Miss Dorothy Tremayne on the staff of the C.N.R. division freight agent will also go south as well as the younger girls, Audrey and Frances. Miss Pete Tremayne is training for a nurse in the Henry Ford Hospital at Detroit, Michigan.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

The Trades & Labor Council, at its meeting last night, appointed a committee consisting of R. J. T. Rose, W. E. Thompson and J. Hammond to wait upon the city council with the request that the federal government be asked for a proper explanation of a statement recently made by Sir Robert Borden as to why the local dry dock cannot be used for shipbuilding in the war emergency.

Dr. W. T. Kergin has presented to the Red Cross Society a parcel of seventy acres of land in the Kitsumkalum Valley, two miles from Terrace. A committee consisting of John Conway and J. B. Roerig has been appointed to go into the matter of its disposal.

H. Levin arrived in the city this morning after having spent some time at the hot springs near Juneau. On his arrival here, he was advised that his wife had been murdered at Cordova last month.

DAFFODIL BALL PROVED SUCCESS

ENJOYABLE TIME AT ANNUAL EVENT LAST EVENING UNDER I.O.D.E. AUSPICES

The annual daffodil ball held last night in the I.O.D.E. hall under the auspices of the Queen Mary Chapter, I.O.D.E. proved to be an outstanding event. The hall was beautifully decorated with spring flowers, daffodils predominating, the whole scheme being under direction of Mrs. D. Thomson. Music was provided by Eastman's orchestra and all present had a splendid time, due to the admirable arrangements of Mrs. D. C. Stuart and her able body of helpers and the efforts of master of ceremonies A. E. Barrett-Jones.

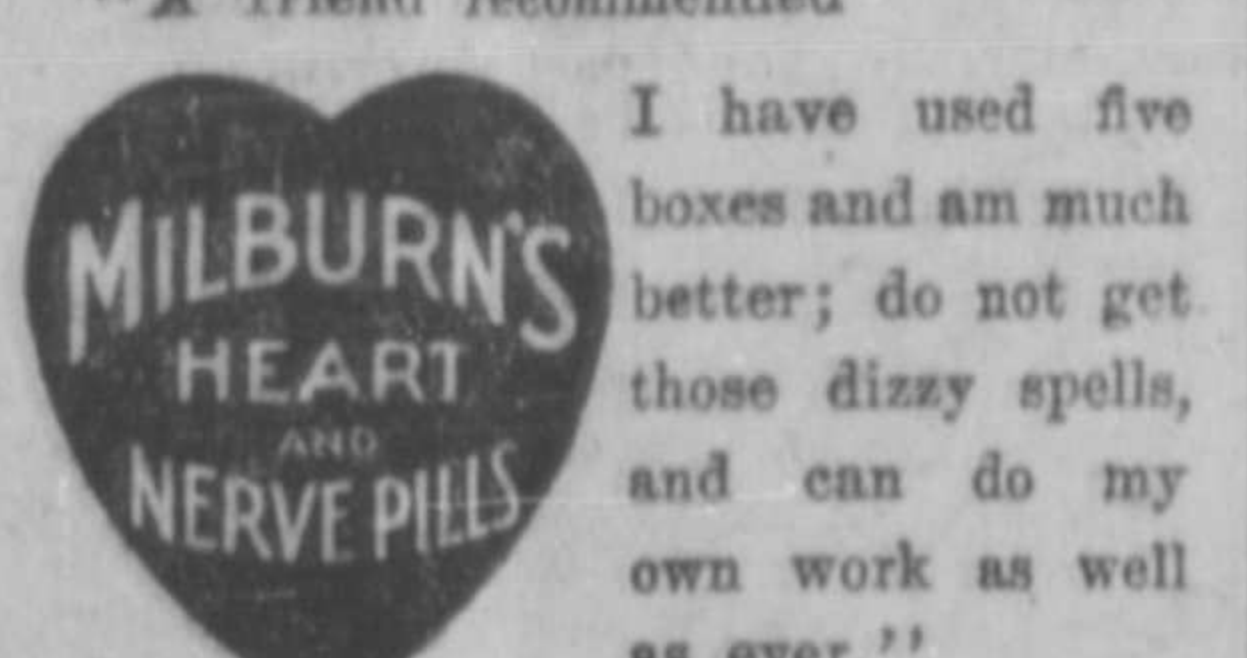

The joint conveners for the refreshments were Mrs. Nerrington and Mrs. Frank Moore and they were aided by Mrs. T. Andrew, Mrs. A. Lepine and Mrs. G. Minna. The punch bowl was in charge of Mrs. Brass and Mrs. William Millar.

An interesting feature of the event was the drawing for the chest which went to Sidney Hunter with ticket number 1.

W. Brass had charge of taking tickets.

The "Flu" LEFT HER WITH A VERY WEAK HEART

Mrs. Beulah Demone, Pleasant River, N.S., writes:—"Having suffered with the 'flu' a few years ago, I was left with a very weak heart. 'I was unable to go about, and could not do my housework. 'I would get dizzy spells and would have to go and lie down. 'I could not sleep at night as the least little noise would wake me up. 'I tried different kinds of medicine, but they seemed to do me no good. 'A friend recommended

I have used five boxes and am much better; do not get those dizzy spells, and can do my own work as well as ever."

SEVEN DRUNKS ARE PUNISHED

ACCUMULATION OF EASTER CELEBRANTS IN CITY POLICE COURT THIS MORNING

Seven drunks were either fined or sentenced to jail terms by Magistrate McLymont in city police court this morning. They were the accumulation of celebrants from over the Easter holiday.

Fred Gun-noot of Hazelton, son of the famous Simon, pleaded guilty. He said he was given only one drink aboard a boat upon which he was preparing to embark. In any case, he came up-town again and ran foul of Dominion Constable A. J. Watkinson. A fine of $10 and $3.50, with the option of fourteen days in jail, was imposed on Gun-noot.

David Prevost, Indian also, admitted that he was "just feeling right." He got his liquor from a fisherman—a troller. Several Indians have said lately that they got liquor from a "troller." The court suggested that somebody must be doing a land-office business. Prevost was fined $15 and $3.50 costs or 14 days.

Neil Ellison, bespectacled, admitted sheepishly that it was his second offence. He said that he lived at Butedale where he was working. The court suggested that it would pay him to get back to work. There was nothing for the magistrate to do but fine him $50 or 30 days.

Oscar Bye pleaded guilty to his third offence. In response to a suggestion by Sergeant Hannah, he declared that he could quit drinking without being hindered. The youth was sentenced to thirty days without option.

Charles Edgar, Jack Collins and Walter McLaren were each fined $25, with the option of thirty days in durance vile.

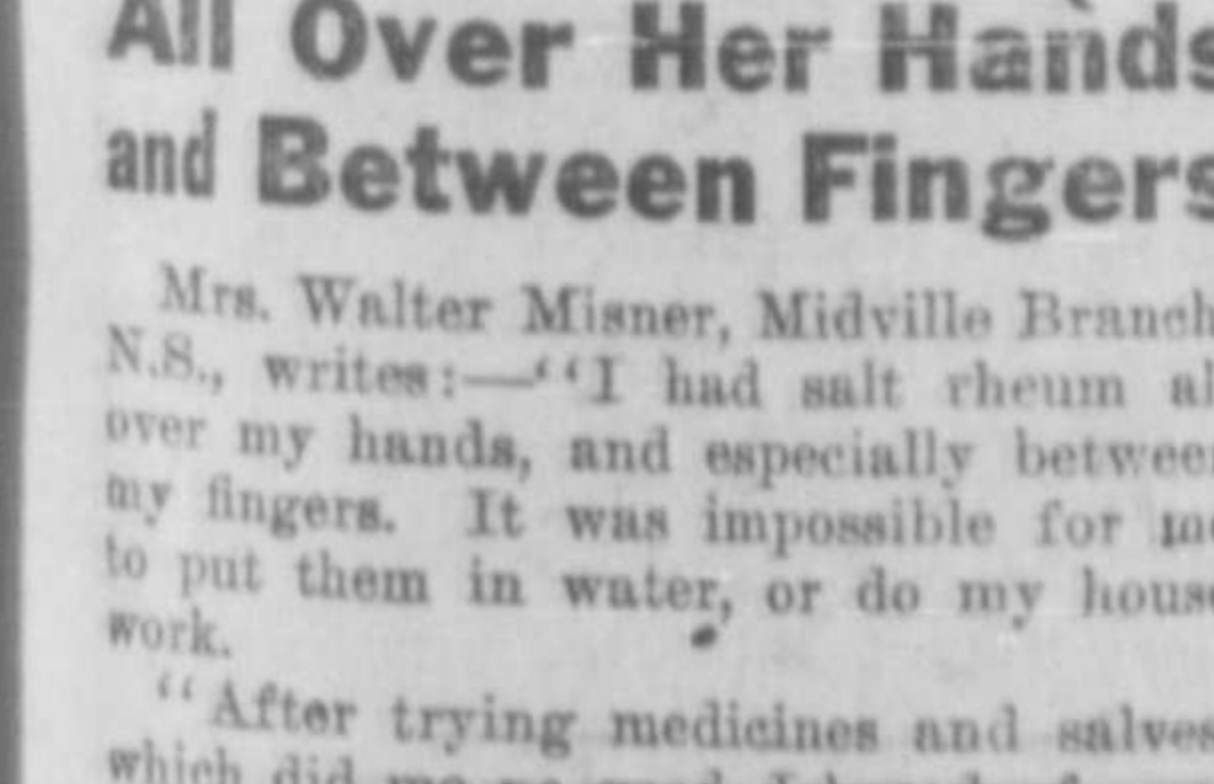

Passengers reaching the city from northern points on the Catala this morning included H. Jacobsen, Rev. Walter Allen, Miss Blanche Curtin, Miss Lora McLaren, Mrs. E. W. Marentette, L. B. Warner, Miss Mahoney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larson, R. H. Bourke, F. H. Allen and B. Calbachini from Stewart; J. Vallase from Alice Arm and A. Lind, A. Strand and Tony Hahti from Anyox.

Mrs. Hamilton of Park Avenue was seized with a weak spell while on business in the City Hall this morning. The ambulance was called but Mrs. Hamilton had recovered sufficiently to proceed home without aid.

Mrs. D. D. McTavish and son and daughter, who have been visiting in the past week with Mrs. McTavish's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Monte Craig, Waldron Apartments, will sail Thursday night by the Prince George on their return south.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. E. A. Tuckson, returned at 10:45 this morning from Anyox, Stewart and other northern ports of call and will sail at 5 p.m. for Vancouver and waypoints. The Catala is calling at Tucks Inlet cannery today to unload a quantity of freight for the plant.

Replacing the Princess Mary which has been carrying out the service during the winter, C.P.R. steamer Princess Alice, Capt. Arthur Slater, is due in port bright and early tomorrow morning from Vancouver enroute to Alaska. The Alice is scheduled to touch southbound on Sunday.

RUMOR THAT SAWMILL WILL BE BUILT HERE BY J. R. MORGAN CO.

Rumors are heard about the city, although no confirmation is to be obtained from those associated with the reported principals, that John R. Morgan, pioneer logging operator of this district, is to establish a large sawmill near the city, presumably along the railroad track toward Port Edward but on Katen Island. It is also said that a site for the plant was recently acquired.

A Marriage of LIES!

"Nothing can need a lie; A fault, which needs it most, Must grow two thereby."

JUSTIN VAN DER WEYDEN could trace his ancestry back to the Crusaders; Leila—the frail little girl he loved—could trace her's as far back only as the "Nobody's from Nowhere." And being a snob, Justin sacrificed love and happiness.

He arranged a marriage with Madison Breedon, the daughter of a wealthy Southerner whose ancestors, of course, came across in "The Mayflower!" And so they were wed. Justin told Madison nothing of his love for Leila. Madison, in turn, told Justin nothing of the hereditary taint of insanity in her aristocratic family.

To approach the marriage altar with a lie trembling on one's lips—to build one's future happiness on the baseless fabric of deceit and falsehood is to invite inevitable tragedy. But the Van der Weyden union seemed to work out successfully... for the first year! Madison loved Justin dearly, and he basked in the reflected glory of her many charms, her culture—her popularity. Indeed, Justin was beginning to hope that, perhaps, some day....

... But—Leila, blinded with humiliation and jealously, dug up the Breedon skeleton and demanded a cruel revenge—a living death, more appalling than....

But in order to appreciate the far-reaching, evil effect of a lie, you really must read the story; it is an episode which wrecked the lives of three well-known families and is featured in TRUE STORY MAGAZINE for May under the title: "LOVE TAKES ITS REVENGE".... now on the newsstands.

"They both approached the marriage altar with a lie on their lips."

WOODWARD SEES PRINCE RUPERT

VANCOUVER MAGNATE SUGGESTS THIS AS ONE OF THE SHIPPING PORTS FOR THE PEACE

EDMONTON, April 19.—Now that the British Columbia government has decided to extend the P.C.E. railway to Prince George, strong efforts should again be made to have the Canadian National provide a Peace River outlet, declared Charles Woodward, M.L.A. for Vancouver, when seen here. He was in the city for the purpose of looking over the local departmental store operated by his company, while also dealing with arrangements for extensions this year.

government decided to expend $4,000,000 on completing the railway and that work will be carried out, providing the line is not sold in the interval. It is proposed to expend $2,000,000 finishing each end of the line, the western link extending from Quesnel to Prince George. This section near Quesnel has already been graded and rails laid, while steel for the big bridge was purchased, but, despite all the heavy expenditures previously incurred, nothing was done by the coast government to complete construction and get the road into working order.

SHOULD BRIDGE GAP Now it is felt, says Mr. Woodward, that the gap between Prince George and the Peace River country should be filled in and people are looking to the Canadian National to do it. He says that there is no questioning the fact that the fertile north country, with its heavy grain production, must have a railway outlet to either Vancouver or Prince Rupert.

Prince George will probably be of benefit to Edmonton, says Mr. Woodward, for it means that additional traffic outlet is provided to the coast. The importance of handling Canadian grain through Canadian ports should not be lost sight of, he says, while it is essential to serve the needs of the people with adequate railway facilities.

START WORK THIS YEAR While contracts have not yet been let for completion of the P.C.E. to Prince George, it is the intention to proceed with the work this year.

CREWE CLOSES LONG CAREER IN DIPLOMACY

BRITISH AMBASSADOR TO PARIS WILL RETIRE IN JULY AFTER 42 YEARS OF PUBLIC LIFE

LONDON, April 10.—The Marquis of Crewe, who will in July relinquish the position of His Majesty's Ambassador at Paris, a position which he has held since 1922, has certainly added distinction to an office which is one of the highest and most responsible in the Diplomatic Service of the Empire. Lord Crewe, who is in his 70th year, has had an intimate and first hand knowledge of the conduct of foreign affairs since his early manhood. He is the only son of the first Lord Houghton, the noted poet and politician who sat for many years in the House of Commons as member for the Yorkshire borough of Pontefract. Lord Crewe succeeded to his father's title in 1885. Nine years later he inherited the estates of the Crewe family on the death of his maternal uncle, the third Lord Crewe, whose title then became extinct. Six months later, however, the title was revived when Lord Houghton was granted an earldom as Earl of Crewe. In 1911 Lord Crewe was created a marquis.

CAULIFLOWER GOING FROM VICTORIA THIS YEAR IN QUANTITIES

VICTORIA, April 10.—Farmers of this district will export this year about thirty carloads of cauliflowers valued at $30,000. This is a new departure in wholesale shipping from the Saanich farms and is an indication that the growing of garden produce is taking the place to some extent of berry growing.

THROWN BY TEAM AND WAS FATALLY INJURED

CHILLIWACK, April 10.—Thrown to the roadway when a team of horses bolted, Charles Semerad, 56 years of age, a well known farmer in Cultus Lake Valley, was fatally injured.

Canceling the regular weekly meeting on account of it being Easter Monday, the executive of the Young People's Society of First United Church had a meeting last night at which plans were drawn up for the meetings during the next month or so.

JUDGES' PAY AND TITLES

OTTAWA NOT MUCH INTERESTED IN EITHER SAYS SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT TO THIS PAPER (By R. J. Deachman)

OTTAWA, April 10.—The judges want higher pay. The Conservatives would have given it to them. Not having this responsibility of providing the money gives a bit of hilarity to the spending thereof. The judges have been hanging around the government for some time on this matter. Of course judges after salary increases do it deftly. There are no strike tactics in evidence. Peter Heenan has not been called in to settle with his bland Irish methods, a bunch of striking judges. They want their thing done by parlor methods, but they want the salaries raised just the same. The matter has been referred to a committee. The committee will not be full of enthusiasm. There is quite a touch of the farmer element in the Liberal party and if those boys are sprinkled in too thick the judges may lose out. There is a suspicion that the move is fathered by ambitious lawyers with forward visions or as one man facetiously expressed it—"Lawyers who daily look for crepe on the judges' doors."

Mr. Cahon is also ambitious for titles to be restored. He feels that the abolition of titles was a rash act. It was, in his opinion, a flare up of a democracy in those decadent days when Union Government was in the saddle. This, too, is likely to come a cropper. Not many of the sitting members feel they would be eligible and so they cast cold eyes at favors for the few refused to the bucolic multitude. Titles would be very nice if they were granted by unanimous vote of the House of Commons. A man's chances then would be reduced to the minimum. A woman might fare better. Who knows, under such conditions Miss Agnes might be the first to win the great reward.

FIFTEEN STOREY BUILDING TO BE ERECTED WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, April 10.—Winnipeg's building program for the coming season was given a decided impetus with the announcement of plans for the construction of a 15-storey building at the corner of Portage Avenue and Main Street, work on which will be commenced at an early date.

Eastern capitalists, it was stated, are taking over the property at the north-east corner of Portage and Main, and will construct a modern office building that is estimated will cost $2,500,000 or more, and is expected to be ready for occupancy about a year from now. The property on which the building will be erected is known as the old Scott property, and was held by the late James Scott, pioneer realtor for about 40 years. The property extends from the corner of Main street, east to Roy Street on Portage Avenue east, and the Main Street frontage will include the building long known as the C.V. Cafe.

ONE THING MISSING

Mrs. Newlywed rushed in from the kitchen, a smoking pie-dish in her hands. She placed it on the table in front of her husband. "There, dear," she cooed. "That's a cottage pie." "I'd have known it was cottage pie," he remarked, "after the first few mouthfuls." "You would?" she asked, delightedly. "Yes," he replied, "I can taste the thatched roof and the crazy paving, but what did you do with the chimney bricks?"—Idem.

DEVELOPMENTS SEEN IN ALBERTA AND HUDSON BAY LINE

EDMONTON, April 10.—The country northeast of Lake Athabasca and Clearwater, on the Flin Flon and north to Chesterfield Inlet on Hudson's Bay is pre-eminently a region similar to northern Ontario and Quebec and holds forth promise of great economic discoveries. Cyril T. Young, F.I.C.S., superintendent of development, Canadian National Railways, said a large gathering of citizens of Edmonton, at a joint meeting of the Canadian Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

Another statement he made which was received with enthusiasm was that the McMurray tar sands, so successfully used as paving by the Dominion government and the Canadian National Railways in Jasper National Park, would yet replace the asphalt the prairies were bringing in from Trinidad. He saw a great future in the development of the zinc deposits south of Great Slave Lake.

STEWART HEARS ABOUT SMITHERS INCORPORATION

Address Given Citizens There in Regard to Problems Facing Them as Town

L. B. Warner, editor and proprietor of the Interior News, who arrived here today from Stewart, says he addressed a general meeting of citizens hurriedly called in regard to the matter of incorporating as a village. He told them of the manner in which it was carried out at Smithers and the benefits he considered they secured. The result is that the people generally seem to favor incorporation.

Mr. Warner said he found a particularly good spirit in evidence at Stewart. All were keen in boosting for their town and district and were optimistic in regard to the future.

There was snow on the ground to the depth of about four feet but the autos were coming out, the first trip to the dock having been made with a car Sunday.
