The dance was under way attended by young people when the blast came without warning. The hall was on the second floor of the building occupied by a garage. It is believed a large tank of gasoline blew up, the dancers being engulfed when the floor caved in.

IRELAND TO CANADA BY AIR

Government steamer speeding to pick up hardy adventurers who are marooned at farthest corner Quebec province

WERE LOST IN THE FOG

QUEBEC, April 14.—On approaching the coast line of Newfoundland yesterday the German airplane Bremen struck a thick fog and the airmen lost their bearings completely, according to an official report of their landings on Greenly Island received here today from the airmen themselves.

After wandering in the air for four hours they made a landing on a small lake on the island about 5:30 yesterday afternoon.

An inspection of the plane showed that it was more seriously injured than was at first thought and it is believed the machine cannot leave for a few days.

MONTREAL, April 14.—The North Atlantic has been flown from east to west for the first time. The Irishman and two Germans who made the crossing in the Junkers plane Bremen are safe at Greenly Island in the straits of Belle Isle between the coasts of Labrador and Newfoundland.

The island is just within the Canadian boundary and in the province of Quebec.

Flying from Baldonelle, Ireland, to New York, the plane ran short of fuel and was forced down in a snow-storm.

The first word of the safety of Baron Gunther von Huenefeld and Captain Herman Koehl, pilot, and the co-pilot, Col. James Fitzmaurice, commander of the Irish Free State air force, was given to the world early last evening by W. F. Barrett, radio operator at Pointe à la Croix, Labrador, by way of St. Johns. His message simply said, "German plane at Greenly Island. Wind southeast, thick." Then for several hours details were lacking and there remained some doubt of the safety of the three adventurers who disappeared into the air seaward from Costello, Ireland, Thursday morning.

Messages From Baron

Another message filtered through Pointe à la Croix that the Bremen landed at noon slightly damaged but that the crew was O.K.

Late last night the North German Lloyd line in New York announced they had received a message from Baron Gunther von Huenefeld, confirming their landing. The message read, "Made safe intermediate landing on Greenly Island necessitated by lack of fuel and strong head winds encountered on the way."

A second message from the Baron said: "The Bremen sustained a broken propeller and damage to the landing gear."

Montcalm to the Rescue

OTTAWA, April 14.—The government steamer Montcalm has been despatched to Greenly Island to return the members of the crew of the plane Bremen to civilization. Early this morning the Montcalm was in the Gulf of St. Lawrence 200 miles from Greenly Island. The steamer reported she then was steaming for the island. The vessel was diverted from the patrol course at midnight.

A large amount of ice is reported in the gulf and the government officials declared this morning that the date of the Montcalm's arrival at Greenly would depend upon ice conditions encountered. Plenty of food supplies are available at Greenly.

RELIEF PLANE ON WAY FROM QUEBEC TO MEET FLYERS

URGES REORGANIZATION PENSION BOARD CANADA

G LASGOW, April 14.—Hampden Park's accommodation was taxed today by the crowds that watched the Rangers make a clean sweep of the final game for the Scottish Cup by defeating Celtic four goals to nothing.

The Rangers have appeared in eleven final ties and were last successful in 1903. They have met Celtic five times. They won the first duel in 1894, lost in 1899, 1900 and 1904, while after two drawn games in 1909 the cup was not awarded because of a riot at Hampden Park.

The Celts have won the trophy twelve times in eighteen appearances in the deciding round.

United States Government is Spending Money in Developing the Ports of Western Alaska

Sum of $35,000 to Provide Protection for Small Boats at Seward and $17,000 at Port Alexander This Year

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Port Alexander and Resurrection Bay, Alaska, harbor projects were adopted yesterday by the House of Representatives rivers and harbors committee. The Port Alexander proposal would provide a channel fifteen feet deep and 150 feet wide at the main entrance to the bay with a channel two feet deep and forty feet wide at the entrance to the inner lagoon at a cost of $17,000.

The Resurrection Bay project would provide refuge at Seward for small boats at a cost of $35,000.

Discussing the project, Major General E. Jadwin, chief of Army engineers, said: "Seward, as the point at the terminus of the Alaska Railway, should become one of the most important cities of Alaska" and that its "full development seems to demand the provision of safe harbor for small boats. Such a harbor appears particularly necessary since Seward is the nearest point to important fishing grounds and may become the transhipment point of value to this industry and the general public."

CONSERVATIVE NOMINATION

The Conservatives have nominated James Thompson as their candidate to contest the riding against the minister of lands, who, it is to be assumed, will get the nomination from the Liberals here. Probably no better choice could have been made. Mr. Thompson holds the respect of all his fellows and has done some excellent work on the hospital board and in other capacities in the city. The party is to be congratulated on their choice. With him in the field the campaign about to be fought should be a sporting campaign without any ill feeling. It will tend to elevate politics and add to the cause of democracy.

There is only one suggestion we might make and that is that the independent Conservative candidate, S. M. Newton, should gracefully withdraw now that he has been turned down by his party. Let Mr. Thompson have a clear field and the contest will be a good one. We do not see what else Mr. Newton can do. As we see it, to stay in without the support of the party to which he belongs, would be futile.

TREATY TO OUTLAW WAR

The move made yesterday by United States and France to get the leading nations of the world to bind themselves in a world treaty not to resort to war is the most important step that has been taken so far in the cause of peace. There should be no difficulty in arriving at a basis of understanding if Italy will fall in line. Such a combination would make the world safe for many years at any rate against any possibility of an international conflict.

MAKE FAIR GOOD ONE

Now that it has been decided to hold a fall fair this year, the next thing to do is to make it a success. A good board has been chosen and the matter is safe in their hands, but the co-operation of all the people is desirable if the best results are to be obtained. Doubtless the directors will unfold their plans as they decide on a course of action and citizens will be kept in close touch with the situation.

BRITISH MONEY FOR CANADA

British money is coming to Canada fast and is causing a good deal of activity. Not only is it in mining that this is noted. The deal for the B.C. Electric Railway is an interesting one and other developments may follow in its wake. The huge power plant at Bridge River is supposed to be part of the deal and possibly pulp or paper plants may follow.

It is in mines that we have so far noticed the greatest influx that will affect this district, but who can say what may be done in regard to pulp and paper in the near future? There is bound to be something big around the mouth of the Naas River before long.

ROLLER HOCKEY AT ARENA LAST NIGHT

There was a good crowd present to watch the game which was a fast one.

Around The World With Sport Fans

(By The Tramp)

The difficulty with the Wembley stadium is that it is too small for the big championship game to be played there next Saturday. It accommodates only about 150,000 people. Last year 126,000 paid admission but this year the game between Huddersfield and Blackburn Rovers is expected to draw a larger number than that. It is said there were a million applications for tickets.

in the National hockey championship series at Montreal. Each team has won two games and the fifth and final is to be played tonight. There will be an exciting time down in the metropolis of Canada when the stick handlers get busy at the rink.

Another big sport event tonight is the game between Regina and the University of B.C. senior basketball teams. This is the second and last match of the semi-final series for the western championship, the winners to play the Winnipeg Tollers at Winnipeg. It looks as if the coast boys would be in the finals. Regina can't expect to win both senior and junior honors.

SPORT CHAT

Football prospects do not seem to very much, brighten the general outlook for outdoor sports, as far as the seniors at least are concerned, in Prince Rupert this season. It almost looks as if a two-team football league is all there is going to be. The Regiment is the only organization so far definitely in the field though it is reported that efforts are being made to form a Scottish team to be known as the Thistles, not having anything to do with the St. Andrews Society, however. These may be the only two teams unless the Grand Terminals again form an aggregation which seems to be rather doubtful.

Loud in their praises of the reception and entertainment they were given in the paper town, the Prince Rupert High School boys' basketball team returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this morning after spending the week in Ocean Falls where they played four games. The first they lost and the second they won. The third they lost by 24 to 11 and the fourth with an intermediate team known as the Whistlers they also lost by 18 to 15. It was a really enjoyable trip which, evidently, the boys will remember a long time to come—even though they did come out on the short end of the stick as far as the games were concerned.

Trollers Meeting With Fair Results—P.R.B.H. is Taken Over—Volunteer Sold—Halibut Landings up Again

Early season spring salmon trollers in the vicinity of Prince Rupert have been meeting with very fair success and there are possibly a larger number than usual engaged in the calling for this time of the year. Operations have been, as usual, so far centered in the vicinity of Warke Canal and Port Simpson and from Big Bay to the Canal. This week about seventy-five boats—possibly sixty per cent gasboats and the remainder rowboats—were spread out in this fishery. Late in the spring, the trollers will start at Dundas Island and other outside fishing centres. The average catch per day per boat has been about three fish and Billy Thacker, with the troller Beaver, is reported to have been the high man to date, landing some 250 pounds or about twenty fish in one day. Prices for this popular fish remain good, making its catching a profitable industry even though catches may not be very large.

Spars are being packed into Prince Rupert steadily by Flewin & Brown's packer Taplow H. and Capt. Johnny Clausen's Elmer C.

The well known American halibut boat Onah, Capt. Harry Selig, limped into Prince Rupert on Wednesday afternoon with a jury rudder, and her regular rudder, its stalk broken, on deck. The accident occurred near Coronation Island and it took forty-four hours for the vessel to reach port from there. She had a short catch of 6,000, fishing having to be stopped after the accident.

The Atlin Fisheries has put in its annual supply of tiers and salt for the mild curing of salmon at its Prince Rupert plant. One hundred and fifty tiers and 240 sacks of salt are here. It is the third year the Atlin Fisheries have been carrying on this operation in connection with halibut handling. The mild cured salmon is shipped to the United States.

INSTALLS ENGINE

Sid Anderson completed the installation this week of the 24 h.p. Gardner engine in his new pleasure cruiser at the Yacht Club flats and hopes to be able to make his trial runs next week. Depending on the way the boat behaves, she will be named.

TO REMAIN HERE

Capt. Swanson, who has disposed of the Prince Rupert Boat House interests to the Prince Rupert Towage & Salvage Co., states his intention of continuing residence in the city. He still retains heavy local interests, including part ownership of the Central Hotel and Kinahan Fur Farm as well as shares in some six or seven local fishing boats.

Bob Thomas, also of the P.R.B.H. staff, is cleaning up some work with the Prince Rupert Towage & Salvage Co. and later will take charge of the seineboat K. & S. which was purchased by himself and Capt. Swanson last fall after having been burned near Love Inlet. Reconditioning of the K. & S. has now been completed.

The Prince Rupert Towage & Salvage Co. has received two enquiries from United States big game hunters who are desirous of coming to Prince Rupert in the near future to embark upon expeditions in quest of grizzly bear, mountain goat, etc. One of the intending parties is from Oklahoma; the other from California.

Powerboat Zanardi, Capt. Charles Larokin, made a trip to Captain's Cove on Wednesday to fetch some extra logs to be used in the work going on at the wharf of the Prince Rupert Towage & Salvage Co. Other piles had been brought in from the Skeena River. The piledriver of the Pacific Stevedoring Co. is being used in the work.

Under charter for a few days to the Rupert Marine Products Ltd., power towage Salvage Princess will leave tomorrow for the north arm of Porcher Island to bring in a boom of logs for the Big Bay Lumber Co.'s sawmill at Seal Cove.

LOGS FROM GEORGETOWN

Power tugs M.T. J. F. H. Phippen and P.R.T. of the Rupert Marine Products fleet have been busy this week towing in a million or so feet of logs, cut on the Queen Charlotte Islands, for the Big Bay Lumber Co. from Georgetown to the new mill here. The P.R.T., Capt. Harris Kerr, came in with a big boom.

BOBOLINK WORKING AGAIN

building here. The Salvor's cargo also included cannery supplies for the Skeena River.

The Canadian halibut boats Ring-leader and Olympia III. are back in service again after having had repairs effected here to damage sustained in recent accidents while at sea.

Dr. R. G. Large of Port Simpson was a visitor in town for a couple of days this week. He arrived with his power cruiser Sunbeam II. Tuesday afternoon and returned to Simpson on Thursday afternoon.

Capt. O. P. Smith, who arrived last week from Vancouver where he spent the winter, is now giving his boat Billy Boy an overhaul at the Edward Lipsett grid before starting out trolling in which he will be occupied until the packing season commences.

The power cruiser Mipal, belonging to Miss Alman, is now trim and snappy looking in a new coat of paint from keel to mizzen mast. The vessel has also been given a thorough overhaul and will be one of the harbor's neatest looking pleasure craft. The boat was built last year at Digby Island and acquired by Miss Alman on completion.

Patience is a virtue and those who wait are duly rewarded. The new approach to the government wharf from the west end has been finally opened to the public, after being under construction these past six months or so, and the Whiff Man made his inspection on Thursday afternoon. While it looks more like a cattle shoot than a comfortable incline upon which tired and elderly tourist ladies may stop and rest on the rail every half a dozen steps, it should do for a time. Certainly, it is a good deal better than nothing and its construction looks solid enough if not altogether pleasing to the esthetic eye. Now the city might well carry out some much-needed improvements at its end.

CHANGES ON WATERFRONT

With the removal of the Prince Rupert Boat House and floats from the foot of McBride Street where they have been moored for many years, the waterfront looked something this week like the front room after the sheriff has called and taken the piano away. The outfit was moved down on Tuesday and placed along side the wharf of the purchasers, the Prince Rupert Towage & Salvage Co., where it will remain. The C.N.R. Yacht Club floats will occupy the space formerly occupied by the P.R.B.H. and P. W. Anderson is in charge of the work of putting them in place there.

Meantime, with much hustle and bustle going on, the surroundings of the Prince Rupert Towage & Salvage Co. present a rather imposing scene of activity, especially when the whole of the augmented fleet happens to be tied up there.

This important waterfront deal has also resulted in certain changes of personnel on the boats involved. Capt. R. Gammon has joined the staff of the new concern and will assume the duties of second command to Capt. Paul Armour, the manager. Capt. Charlie Tarkin takes command of the seineboat Zanardi which has been chartered from Gammon & Watt for a year. John O. Williamson has been appointed accountant of this now important local concern.

The Prince Rupert Towage & Salvage Co. will now have a total waterfrontage of 180 feet resulting in the exchange of the 100 feet west of McBride Street which it acquired in the purchase of the Prince Rupert Boat House interests for a similar space just east of its original holding. It is the plan to put in a full length of floats to accommodate the boats of the fleet and such business as may offer.

BOBOLINK WORKING AGAIN

After having been tied up at Digby Island for the winter, the shagboat Bobolink had overhaul in the local dry dock and is back in service again. The vessel made a trip to the Skeena River during the early part of this week and was in port again on Thursday before proceeding to the Nass River.

VOLUNTEER IS SOLD

Mike Jensen, well known Prince Rupert fisherman, embarked upon his first venture as halibut owner following his purchase of the well known boat Volunteer which has been announced. The vendor of the boat was Arthur Robertson of Massett and the deal was put through by the Prince Rupert Towage & Salvage Co. and Theo Collart.

Forty-five feet long and powered with a 20 h.p. Union gas engine, the Volunteer was built some twelve or fifteen years ago and her original owner was Capt. Sar Seversen. The boat was later acquired by Capt. John Orrill who abandoned her to the underwriters in 1926 when she was wrecked on Rose Spit. The vessel was salvaged and passed into the hands of Mr. Robertson.

The new owner was formerly a member of the crew of the Kalen and last year was on the Signal.

A cessation of herring seining operations in the vicinity of Butler's Cove and Jap Inlet near Prince Rupert was ordered by the fisheries department on Thursday. Bradbury & Yelf, at Butler's Cove, and Skag Bros., at Jap Inlet, had however, un-loaded a store of fresh bait for the halibut boats before sealing was ordered stopped.

It is also said that steps are being continued by the Marine Department with a view to removing the Digby Island Marine Station headquarters to the dry dock here. This, it is understood, has been contemplated for some years but, as far as can be learned officially, the materialization of the plan seems to be no nearer than it was.

Digby Island ferry boat Rhona is back in service again, Capt. Harry Calderwood having returned recently from his annual holiday trip south.

Revivifying The Glands

Because they say certain glands wear out and that we lose youth in consequence, some "scientists" advocate their removal and the substitution of equivalent glands from a monkey. They are wrong, for these glands did not wear out—their supply of vital energy was cut off.

Every gland and organ in the body functions by means of vital energy delivered over the nerve lines. This energy is necessary, but the delivery of it is dependent upon keeping the nerve lines open. This is accomplished by Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments.

By my chiropractic health method I correct diseases of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and lower organs.

SMELT FISHING MAINE COAST

WINTER SHELTERS OFTEN DEMOLISHED BY BAD WEATHER OR VILLAGE GOES OUT

PORTLAND, Me., April 14.—Unlike the men who go down to the sea in ships," a class of fishermen in Maine each winter goes down to the sea in shanties.

They are the smelt fishermen and each winter "smelt villages" spring up on the ice along the coast of Maine to linger from the time the ice is thick enough until fishing laws or warm weather end the season. Fishing through the ice on Maine's salt rivers and inlets assumes the proportions of an industry.

A red-blooded sport is smelt fishing. Years ago the hardy "down-easters" fished with little more than warm clothing or a wind-break for shelter. A Boston man, Job Secor, was attracted to try his hand at the sport in the seventies. He froze both ears and one foot and caught no smelts. But instead of giving up the sport he built what is said to have been the first smelt shanty—a canvas covered shack with a little box stove inside. He is credited with being the father of the smelt villages.

Shanties are frequently little more than frameworks covered with cotton cloth. A little oil stove, sometimes a wooden floor, a hatchet or axe, hooks, lines and bait are included in the smelt fishermen's equipment. Marine or clam worms are said to be the best bait. The baited hooks are hung from "spreaders" which permit suspension of from four to six lines.

There is little shifting about of shanties now. The fishermen frequently banks his shack with snow and pour water on the snow, freezing his little shelter to the ice.

Then, sometimes in the company of a second fisherman, he sets about the task of catching the smooth, shiny fish with their peculiar, distinctive smell—a smell described by one authority as a combination of cucumbers, violets and rushes. Silence is the rule. Radio sets, with earphones, keep the fishermen in touch with the world.

There are hazards to smelt fishing aside from the cold. Sometimes a gale

EDMONTON SAID TO BE BEST BUSINESS CITY

Almost Impossible to Get Sample Rooms for Travellers Owing to Number There

EDMONTON, April 14.—With Edmonton holding the reputation as the best business city in the Dominion today, and with travellers from every manufacturing centre in the East and West reporting doing a fine trade here, demands for sample rooms at the various hotels are so great that waiting lists have been enlarged and in a number of cases the hotelmen are securing outside sample room accommodation for their patrons.

Even then travellers are being compelled to wait over in Edmonton from three days to a week before they are sure of getting sample rooms, and every available combination room, where travellers can show samples and at the same time make their headquarters in the room, is filled.

"Edmonton is only experiencing the beginning of a wonderful year," declared one seasoned veteran of the road at the Macdonald. "This is only the start of the spring rush, but it will keep up all summer, as Edmonton is today recognized as one of the best business centres in the Dominion, if not actually the best at the present time, while the Edmonton district is getting the reputation also of being one of the most prosperous sections of Canada."

A FINAL OFFER
It was a meeting of Abe's creditors.

"There, gentlemen, are my assets and liabilities," said Abe, "and the very best I can do, gentlemen, is ten cents on the dollar."

So the creditors looked over the situation and reported back that they felt 40 cents on the dollar would settle the matter. Abe took time out, and then compromised.

"Gentlemen, I offer you 10 cents and you say 40. Now, gentlemen, I make you a final offer of 25 cents, but honest, gentlemen, I'm losing money on it,"—Chicago Post.
