FLOODS INCREASE IN ENGLAND; MUCH PROPERTY DAMAGE

Britain Still Suffers From Floods Following Heavy Christmas Snows

LONDON, January 4.—Great floods following England's snowstorm are spreading today causing much property damage but no loss of life. England is being turned into a great lake. The Thames River has risen a foot in 24 hours and the situation is alarming.

Dartford, Kent, is the scene of the latest outbreak, the River Darent having become a torrent from melting snow and two hundred families are marooned by it. Factories and workshops are flooded.

CATHOLICS IN MEXICO WILL BE DISCUSSED

Motion to Come Before Federal House With Criticism of Sir Henry Thornton

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—Hon. Charles Maclellan, M.P. of Bonaventure is submitting a resolution at the coming session of the Federal House asking for the recall of L. Medina Barron, Mexican consul at Toronto and urging that "until the policy of persecution against Roman Catholics in Mexico be stopped Canada should discontinue all further intercourse with Mexico."

The motion disapproves the "uncalled for trip" of Sir Henry Thornton to Mexico.

The effect of the motion will be to precipitate a debate on Sir Henry's trip and the controversy which followed the subsequent open letter of Bishop Fallon to Premier Mackenzie King, in which the Bishop protested against the visit.

TERRACE HOME IS DESTROYED

Part of Contents of Place Occupied by F. C. Bishop Burned on Sunday

TERRACE, Jan. 4.—The home of F. C. Bishop was destroyed by fire here on Sunday at noon. Fire started around the chimney but with a strong north-east gale blowing it gained headway so quickly that it was soon apparent it would be impossible to save the building and efforts were centered on saving the contents with some success.

The building was a one-story frame structure built about three years ago and situated just east of the G.W.V.A. hall.

A. W. EDGE WAS OLD TIMER

Highly Respected Local Citizen Died Today

A. W. Edge, pioneer businessman and prominent early citizen of Prince Rupert, passed away in the Prince Rupert General Hospital following a lengthy illness from which he had no possible chance of recovery. The late Mr. Edge came to Prince Rupert in the early days and engaged in the paint business. He was an ex-alderman and always took deep interest in public affairs. He was widely known and his death will come as a great shock to many friends. He was a prominent member of the Masonic order under the auspices of which his funeral will take place, arrangements being in the hands of the B.C. Undertakers.

A native of England, the late Mr. Edge came to Canada as a young man and pioneered it throughout the west.

CIVIC CONTEST IS INTERESTING

Three Mayoralty Candidates Have Many Supporters and Outcome Expected to be Close

With the municipal election now but eight days distant, the mayoralty contest between Ald. M. M. Stephens, Ald. J. Greer and Col. S. P. McDermid, while being quietly waged, is attracting general interest. Each candidate has many enthusiastic supporters and there are many who believe that the outcome will be close. Unless a "dark horse" appears and none is heard of now, there will be but the three candidates for the mayoralty mantle.

In the aldermanic field, there should be no dearth of material for the four seats. Of the retiring aldermen, Ald. R. F. Perry will apparently be the only one seeking re-election. Ald. Stephens and Ald. Greer are running for mayor and Ald. Larsen, the fourth retiring member of the council, states that he will not again be a candidate. Names mentioned for the aldermanic honors include those of Frank Dibb, Frank Derry, Theo. Collett, George B. Casey, George Rutherford, W. H. Montgomery, James Black, J. Arthur Smith, etc.

It is considered likely that O. A. Bryant and Thomas McMeekin, retiring school trustees, will seek re-election.

WARATAHS PLAY IN VANCOUVER

Preliminary Trial of Henry Rivard, Charged with Killing William Ritchie, Opened Today

Coroner's Jury Found Death Was Due to Rifle Bullet But no Evidence to Show by Whom Fired

Following the finding of the coroner's inquest last night, Henry Rivard, held at Stewart in connection with the death of William Ritchie, is being given a preliminary hearing, the trial opening this morning at eleven o'clock.

The coroner's jury last night at 10.25 brought in the following verdict: "We, the jury, find that William Ritchie met his death by a rifle bullet on the morning of January 1, 1928, in a building known as Rivard's on Fifth Street in the town of Stewart, B.C., but no evidence has been produced as to how the rifle was fired or by whom."

CHINOOK SWEEPS OVER THE WEST

WINNIPEG, Jan. 4.—Temperatures in western Canada are jumping as high as thirty and forty degrees above zero as a result of a chinook wind which swept Alberta, Battleford, Sask. with 16 below zero is the only cold spot reporting this morning.

Heavy snows have been falling in the interior of southern B.C. Penticton and Grand Forks are buried under ten inches of snow. On the coast it is mild.

RULING MADE ON MARKETING

Hammond of Ashcroft Broke no Rule of Committee in Shipping Potatoes to Himself

VANCOUVER, Jan. 4.—W. H. Hammond of Ashcroft has broken no order of the committee in shipping B and C grade potatoes to Vancouver for sale by himself, according to F. M. Black, chairman of the committee of direction administering the Marketing Control Act. He emphasized that the sale of farm produce in retail stores owned or controlled by the grower of such produce is permitted by the Marketing Act.

Regarding complaints by the dry belt landowners and potato growers against the operation of the control regulations, Black produced letters commending the committee on its action.

Big Bay Lumber Co. Buys Reil Mill at Seal Cove and Takes It Over

Announcement is made today of the sale of the mill property, stock of logs, lumber and goodwill of the Seal Cove Lumber Co. Ltd., Prince Rupert, to the Big Bay Lumber Co. which is engaged in the construction of a new mill close to the plant at Seal Cove which it has just acquired. A consideration of $40,000 is understood to have been involved in the transaction. The Big Bay Lumber Co. has not yet decided whether it will continue to operate the plant separately or scrap it for the purpose of otherwise using the site.

The site of the Seal Cove Lumber Co. is a valuable one, bordering on the Canadian National Railway tracks and the city limits. On it is a compact mill plant which has been operated for the past couple of years, C. P. Reil having been the manager and majority stockholder. Twenty men have been employed in the mill since its inception.

In stating that he would be retiring from the mill as a result of the transaction, Mr. Reil expressed his appreciation for the goodwill and patronage which he had enjoyed with the trade in Prince Rupert.

MINING MAN IS BURIED BY A SNOW SLIDE

NELSON, Jan. 4.—Simop Wetterhus, 43 years of age, a pioneer mining man of the Kootenay district, was killed in a snowslide at the Mammoth Mine near Silverton yesterday. The body will probably not be recovered until spring as it is covered by tons of snow. Wetterhus shot down one hundred yards in a dry slide when a small slip of snow struck him and he was buried. Successive slides prevented the rescuers from rendering aid.

Wetterhus was part owner of the Mammoth Mine.

ADMITS MURDER MARIAN PARKER

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4.—W. E. Hickman yesterday pleaded not guilty to the charge of kidnapping and murdering Marian Parker with a qualifying denial of guilt on the murder accusation "by reason of insanity."

The judge fixed the trial for January 25. Asked if he understood that the plea was an admission of guilt to the charge of murder and a plea that he was insane at the time, Hickman replied "Yes." He sat in the court room with downcast eyes.

SHALL WE TAX IMPROVEMENTS?

On New Year's Day the people of Prince Rupert received a rather unpleasant intimation that it may be necessary this year to tax improvements. It was a very unpleasant intimation because it may mean putting on the brakes so far as the progress of the city is concerned. This is something for the voters to take cognizance of at the election next week.

There are always two opposing opinions in regard to the taxing of improvements. There are those who believe in the single tax or taxing of land values for everything and those who think improvements should bear a share of the cost.

The single tax encourages people to improve their property. It says that a man should not be taxed because he is more progressive than his neighbors. Those who advocate the system say that land values are increased by buildings, both values of the land built upon and also other land surrounding it. Building is something to be encouraged. If owners of property are led to think they will be taxed for the improvements they make, they will be slow to improve their property. They cannot afford to put up buildings unless assured of a sufficient income, not only to pay for the building but also to pay the tax.

So far this city has set itself strongly against any improvement tax. The result is that buildings have been erected, such as the block now going up on Third Avenue where the owner is taking great chances in spending the money. We are expecting other buildings to go up and it would be a great pity for us to do anything to discourage them. We cannot expect the erection of modern buildings if we are going to penalize those who spend their money. We suggest that voters think this matter over well and find out the views of the candidates before casting their ballots.

CANDIDATES NEEDED JUST NOW

Candidates are needed for the vacant positions on the city council and the school board and it would be well for those who have the interests of the city at heart to look around them and see that good men are urged to offer themselves. Many of the best people do not like to push themselves forward but they are willing to serve if urged to do so.

INTERESTING SUGGESTION

Louis Forkrud in a letter published today suggests that the railway from the Peace River shall come through to the upper Naas valley and then cross to the C.N.R. at some point in the neighborhood of Terrace. This is a feasible route and one that has been suggested before. It is one that should be borne in mind. Some day a railway is pretty sure to come in that way. The matter of route is largely one for engineers but at the same time it is well for the people of this part of the country to keep their eyes on the engineers because many of them are not infallible.

PECK McSWAIN, PRINTER

Peck McSwain, printer, has been sending out blotters for new year cards with his dollar mark thereon. Peck is now residing at Stewart and he is at home there among the miners and prospectors with whom he has lived and worked and smoked and enjoyed a convivial glass for many a day. Nobody seems to know how old Peck is, and some of the miners at the camp intimate that he will never die. At any rate he still looks on the best side of life and his wish to his friends, as expressed on the card is: "May you never have to turn a handspike for a meal in 1928." The News wishes Peck many a good listener for his yarns and many a jolly companion so that his latter years may remind him constantly of the good days that have passed.

DINOSAUR EGGS DISCOVERED IN DESERT OF GOBI

In a book just published dealing with the work of the Central Asiatic expedition some remarkable discoveries have been made. On analogy it has been supposed that the gigantic reptiles of the Mesozoic period had large eggs like those of modern birds and reptiles, but this was only an inference, and it was not known whether they were oviparous, laying the eggs, or retaining the eggs within the body until hatching took place. The expedition found several clutches of the eggs of a gigantic extinct dinosaur reptile, and within some of them even the delicate bones of the developing embryo. Very naturally much space is given to this remarkable find, one of the most exciting in the history of paleontology and by itself a sufficient reward for the whole enterprise.

EXTINCT REPTILES

In addition to the eggs very many extinct dinosaurs, belonging mostly to new genera and species, were found in the cretaceous beds, the first unearthing of extinct reptiles in Asia north of the Himalayas.

A find of great interest was that of the skull and many of the bones of a baluchiterium, one of the largest land mammals that has ever lived, and that probably survived to be a contemporary possibly a victim of primitive man. It was a massive herbivore, remotely allied to the tapirs and rhinoceroses, but standing over 13 feet at the shoulders and rearing its massive head as high as that of a giraffe. At the other end of the scale of size were the remains of tiny animals not bigger than rats contemporary with extinct reptiles, and representing the most primitive of the mammalian types known.

The excitement of the expeditions were not only scientific. There were perils from bandits, from the contending armed bands of Chinese, and from the greed and superstition of the Mongolians. The climate was severe; even up to June sudden storms brought snow and hailstones, and at any time sandstorms descended almost without warning, wrecking the camps and making life a misery. Approach to the monasteries of lamas was always dangerous from the savage dogs accustomed to feed on dead human bodies and ready to attack the living. But the stimulus of success, the excellence of the organization, and the high spirits of the members of the expeditions overcame all the obstacles.

The Sitka spruce of Northern British Columbia, the Queen Charlotte Islands, particularly, is looked upon as a potential supply for the making of aircraft for the war.

A party of local Serbians including Sava Byelitch, Sava Bjelitch, Nedjelko Drinich, Sava Yotch, Meksim Knezovich, Lazar Vujatch, Red Sarovich, and Vaso Guitch left this morning for Salonika to enlist in the Allied forces on the Balkan front.

At a social evening in the Presbyterian Church last night a handsome easy chair was presented to Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant in recognition of the honor conferred upon him by Westminster Hall in making him a doctor of divinity. The presentation was made by G. R. Naden on behalf of the congregation.

Man in the Moon

THE Daily News is the cheapest paper in British Columbia, considering the quality. At any rate that's what Jack says, and he ought to know.

OUR legacy to the coming generation is one of debt. Even Prince Rupert has its legacy for those who come later to pay.

YOU can hire a man to do almost anything but I hardly think it would do to hire one to take the wife to a bridge party.

THIS year seems very much like last and the bills seem even more numerous.

POOR people are those who give away cigarettes, rich people are those who give cigars or nothing—mostly nothing.

IT'S much better to have sunshine in your soul than moonshine in your tummy.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

JANUARY 4, 1918.

Bishop F. H. DuVernet writes a letter to the press urging that the city council be not reduced from eight to four members. He also advocates proportional representation system of voting in the civic election here.

The Trades and Labor Council last night endorsed Ald. G. B. Casey, W. G. Barrie, John Rank, Fred Shaw, Peter Rorvik and Mrs. W. J. Kirkpatrick as aldermanic candidates and S. D. Macdonald for police commission.

The sum of $400 was realized at a tea, sale and dance held on New Year's Day for the Red Cross Society. There were many donations for raffle.

CAVES REVEAL RACE HISTORY 20,000 YEARS

PAINTINGS OF ANIMALS FOUND MILES BENEATH PYRENEAN MOUNTAINS OF EUROPE

The caves in the Dordogne region are now so well known that charabancs filled with American tourists make a daily round of them during the summer, while the far more interesting group in the Pyrenees remains almost unknown says the London Times. Their interest lies in the evidences of human life that have been miraculously preserved through two or three millenniums. Where else in the world can we look for the prints of human feet and human fingers still preserving the ridge prints of the skin; clay statuary with the finger-prints still fresh upon them; evidences of daily life, such as the skulls of the cave-dwellers, the naked footprints are all about the skeletons?

Certainly in no museum, even if a museum could be built to endure five times longer than the Pyramids. For in the recesses of these caves, half a mile or more from the entrance, neither the temperature nor the dampness ever varies, no current of air ever blows, and the limestone has distilled through the centuries a thin veneer of transparent stalagmite which has preserved everything under a sheet of imperishable glaze. To penetrate into the most interesting parts of the equipment of an athlete; you must navigate a boat to reach the entrance; you must do part of the journey on hands and knees and wriggle through the narrowest passages under the curve of the serpent.

EXPLORING EXPEDITIONS

With the object of popularizing the Pyrenean caves an expedition organized by Count Bégouen, who is in the forefront of prehistoric studies in France, visited the famous cave of Niaux, three miles from Tarascon in the Ariège, with a large number of journalists and persons interested in the science of prehistory. This cave lies high above the road and is entered through a hole just large enough to admit a human body. Thereafter it widens into a high tunnel, the ancient course of a subterranean river fed by the melting glaciers of a past age, but now dry throughout the year. It calls for no athletic feats, for it follows a straight course into the mountain for nearly a mile, through lofty, cathedral-like halls costumed with crystal stalactites, which here and there have grown into majestic columns that support the roof. In the deepest recess lie the paintings of animals now extinct that ranged these highlands when the climate was sub-Arctic. There are reindeer and bison and wild horse, all drawn in imperishable manganese and ochre. Doubtless the object was magical; many of the bison bear on their flanks assegais pointed at the heart, to conjure a successful hunting. They belong to the Magdalenian period, which cannot have been less than 20,000 years ago, and is more likely to be nearly 30,000. Under no shorter period could all the flora and fauna have changed so completely.

In The Letter Box

PROPOSES THIRD ROUTE.

Editor, Daily News.
The people of Prince Rupert are forwarding a petition requesting the government to build a railroad to the Peace River and to make Rupert the outlet. I am inclined to believe that the government knows beforehand that the citizens of Prince Rupert want their city to be the outlet and also that the people of Stewart are in a like frame of mind concerning their own town. The voice of a divided north will carry little weight but if united in an application for a northern outlet and the logical route left to the decision of disinterested engineers, Ottawa would sit up and take notice. The route advocated in the Rupert petition is advantageous. It is short it would tap the most populous part of the Peace, the intervening country is highly mineralized and as such has potential possibilities. Prince Rupert has a fine harbor and an elevator ready to receive the Peace River grain.

STEWART ROUTE

The Stewart route would also traverse a territory, even greater in its mineral possibilities, the Groundhog coal fields would be opened up and some agricultural lands would be made available but a short way from Stewart looms a great natural barrier and the expense of overcoming this would be almost prohibitive and Stewart furthermore has practically no harbor facilities.

THIRD ROUTE

There is another route which as yet has not been mentioned but which appears to me worthy of consideration. This is the same Stewart route which as stated runs through a country rich in minerals and also taps the Groundhog, but instead of turning towards Stewart it continues down the Naas

ECZEMA ENDED

Madame A. Lariviere of Fall River, Mass., suffered with eczema for three years, and had treatment from several doctors, all of whom gave up the case. "Finally," she says, "I went to a specialist, which cost me another $20, but I was no better."

"A friend advised me to try Zam-Buk, which I did, and for which I have ever since been thankful. I very soon felt some relief, and perseverance with Zam-Buk completely rid me of the disease."

SEVERE CUT HEALED

Mr. C. Oakley of Saskatoon, who sustained a terrible cut on his leg, says: "Had I known of Zam-Buk when the accident occurred, I could have saved myself a $40 doctor's bill! A doctor sewed up the cut and attended me for five weeks, but the wound did not heal, and he advised me to go into a hospital."

"I objected, however, and used Zam-Buk instead, and in two weeks' time was back at work."

SAVED OPERATION

"Father developed a painful sore on his face," writes Miss N. Lewis of Silver Lake, Oregon. "Numerous remedies and treatment from several doctors failed to heal it, and the doctor advised an operation. Someone advised him to first try Zam-Buk. A few applications brought relief, and continued use of Zam-Buk entirely healed the sore, saving father from an operation."

Zam-Buk is best for eczema, ringworm, salt rheum, boils, pimples, ulcers, shingles, blood-poisoning, piles, cuts, bruises, burns and scalds. All dealers dispense.

It is expected that the Camosun will soon be withdrawn from service for overhaul and be relieved temporarily by the Chelechin or Venture. It will be at least a couple of months before the steamer Catala, which is undergoing repair following her recent wreck, will be ready to go in service again.

CANADIAN PIANIST TRAVELS IN EUROPE

LONDON, Jan. 4.—European musical critics sound the praises of Eva Clare, Canadian pianist of Winnipeg, who recently appeared before continental audiences. The following are extracts from some of the newspaper comments: Prague, "Bohemia"—"When one thinks of Canada, one thinks of mountains, of lakes—of great spaces—in the playing of Eva Clare, a Canadian who gave her first Prague recital in the Mozarthum this week, was the vigor and freshness one would expect, and also a warmth that captivated her audience. Her program was a varied one."

Munich "Neueste Nachrichten"—"Eva Clare, the Canadian pianist, has a buoyant, sympathetic, richly colored touch, combined with a brilliant technique. Added to this it is a pleasure to state that her style inclines definitely towards the deeply musical, rather than the merely virtuosic. Eva Clare is an unusually interesting pianist."

Vienna "Welt Blatt"—"The Canadian, Eva Clare, has apparently studied in Europe, giving her a background of musical culture. This Canadian artist should be heard often in Vienna."

Vienna "Tageszeitung"—"Eva Clare's playing of the old masters showed a feeling for their style, but she belongs in the writer's opinion, to that class of manlike women pianists, full of energy, whose tone naturally suits big brilliant effects. The Bach-Tausig coming after an old group illustrated this."

Budapest "Budapest Hirap"—"The concert last evening of the Canadian pianist Eva Clare made a fine impression. Her playing has poetical insight, is tasteful and thoughtful. Her excellent rhythmic sense and remarkably sensitive pedaling should be especially noticed."

Eric Dingwall returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this morning after having spent the Christmas and New Year holiday season visiting in Vancouver and Victoria.

Miss Dorothy Gillingham, R.N., who spent the Christmas and New Year holiday season visiting at Britannia Beach with her brother, Ed. Gillingham, returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this morning.

WICKHAM STEED GIVES VIEW ON U.S. FOOTBALL

Tells of Game he Saw in Yale Bowl When Visiting the Country

The "Yale Bowl" is a stadium capable of seating 70,000 spectators says Wickham Steed, the famous English editor, in a recent number of the Observer. Today it was crammed. Each side had its own band and its legion of organized partisans. Bands and legions paraded the ground in turn before the kick-off, singing songs against the other side. Throughout the game cheering was led by "cheer leaders," who beat the rhythm with special antics and gestures, and, in the case of the Army, turned cartwheels on their hands and feet. The field itself, marked with white transversal lines ten yards apart, looks like a huge gridiron. The ball and the goal posts are those of the Rugby game, though the goal posts are set 25 yards behind the touchdown line so as to lessen the danger of accident.

The teams are eleven a-side, with twice or thrice as many substitutes to replace casualties. A whole team may need replacing more than once during a hard game. The men are helmeted, padded, and trained like prize-fighters. They need to be.

DECIDE ON TACTICS
After the kick-off the side that has the ball must gain ten yards in a maximum of four "downs." Otherwise it loses the ball. After each "down," the team holding the ball literally "put their heads together" to decide upon tactics. They bend double, heads inward, rumps outward, like a flock of sheep licking a lump of salt. Then, tactics agreed upon, they line up, the centre-forward passing the ball backwards between his legs to some other member of the team who seeks either to run with it, round and behind the protecting row of players, so as to gain a few yards before he is tackled and "downed," or else attempts to charge through the opposing ranks supported by the whole weight of his own side. The ball-holder is usually "downed" to some purpose in the first yard or two, often with five or six other burly fellows on top of him. Then the ground gained is measured and the same tactics begin over again. If ten yards or more are gained in the first four "downs," the side continues the attack for the next ten yards unless it loses the ball by mischance.

As a last resort a forward pass, thrown with the skill of a first-class cricketer, may be attempted, or a drop kick at goal. A successful drop kick counts three points, a touchdown six; while a goal, kicked in the Rugby fashion, adds another point. Yale beat the Army, to the delight of the Yale crowd. In physique and combination the Army team may have been the better, but Yale was swifter and more skilful—not so swift by a long way as, for instance, the "All Blacks," but then the American game gives fewer openings for speed than Rugby football.

QUIT FOOTBALL FOR RELIGION

DUBLIN, Ireland, Jan. 4. — Frank S. Hewitt, prominent football player, has quit the football field because it interfered with his religious life. "Football is merely individual glory," he told the officials when announcing his decision. Hewitt began his football career at

BETTY NUTHALL IS OUT AFTER CHAMPIONSHIP

Young English Tennis Star Planning to Dethrone Helen Wills With New Serve

WIMBLEDON, England, Jan. 4. — Miss Betty Nuthall, young English tennis rival of Helen Wills, will try out next month for the first time in tournament play a remodelled service with the aid of which she hopes eventually to dethrone the United States star.

The occasion will be the annual tourney at Cannes, France, in which Miss Nuthall is paired with Miss Eileen Bennett, a compatriot. Both players appeared in matches in the United States last summer.

Thus far "Bouncing Betty" has been experimenting with two modes of delivery in her effort to substitute a more effective style for her antiquated overhand stroke well exemplified by Miss Wills has not yet been perfected by the English girl, although she is practicing it patiently. In experimenting, Miss Nuthall has revised her overhand service so that she stands nearer the baseline than before, enabling her to follow up her service more quickly.

Miss Nuthall has been spending less time on the tennis court than before the mirror and camera since she returned to England early in the fall. Under contract to appear in a five-reel film, Miss Nuthall was a bit timid about her new undertaking at first, but

SPORT CHAT

The Gryo Club's new skating pond at Morse Creek was largely patronized on New Year's Day, it being estimated that there was one hundred and fifty people on the ice at one time during the afternoon. Only the advent of soft weather spoiled the increasing popularity of the place during the recent cold snap. However, it is hardly probable that this will have been the last skating weather of the season. When the thermometer starts on its downward course next, the rink will then come into its own and local people will be fully appreciative of such a centrally located facility. And a little flooding now by natural means will not hurt a bit since those using the pond at the end of last week reported that it was rather rough and in need of a new water surface before it would be at its best.

ENGLISH CRICKET PLAYER RETIRING

W. G. Quaffle Retires from Warwickshire County; Was Good Batsman and Tricky Bowler

LONDON, Jan. 4. — Known as the little "W.G." after 35 years in first-class cricket, W. G. Quaffle, of Warwickshire, is to retire. Quaffle has decided to take this step, it is announced, "in deference to the wishes of the county committee, and having regard to the claims of the younger players."

Warwickshire without Quaffle will be like Yorkshire without Wilfred Rhodes.

An all-round cricketer, Quaffle, a midget in size, could hold up his end in remarkable fashion when his colleagues were failing, and his "stone-walling" pulled the county team round many an awkward corner.

A slow bowler, full of guile, he retained his powers with the ball to the end of his career. His brother, W. Quaffle, also played for Warwickshire for many years, and his son Bernard plays for the county as an amateur.

Quaffle, who last season was the oldest man playing first-class cricket, was first tried for Sussex in 1891. During his career he scored 95,886 runs, played 71 century innings, and took 928 wickets.

Thanks to your kindness and the dope with which my glass has been filled I will do my gallop as well as I can. I often wonder if those who talk so glibly about unlimited money out of racing, regardless of whether it can be afforded or not,

Quebec, the Birthplace of Winter Sports in North America

PAPA SHOWS HIM NOW

Why should Winter, that severe and blustering season, yet be the perennial breeder of a hearty and tingling cheer? To avoid asking you another, you should be told that this rigorous season gives mankind the chance each year to reassert a strong faith in itself. The north wind may blow, and we may have snow, but that is no reason for despondency—it is, in fact, a supreme cause for rejoicing in a young strength that does not shrink from wintry weather. It is only fitting that the true center of this recurring faith should be Quebec, which for more than 300 winters has been laughing off the chilly threats of winds and ice and snow. Long before the Pilgrim Fathers set foot on Plymouth Rock, the French-Canadian colonists had settled Quebec. Here they started the custom of winter sports carnivals during the months when blizzards and a frozen St. Lawrence would diminish travel. The snowshoe and the toboggan of the Indian then entered sporting life as did the ski of the Norwegian in later years. On the whole the character of winter sports has changed very little during these centuries. A new winter game is Indian golf, introduced by J. G. Strathdee, sports director at the Chateau Frontenac. In this game the player uses bow, arrows and targets instead of clubs, balls and holes. But the outstanding feature of Quebec's winter season comes in the week from Christmas to New Year's. In this period of continued play and infectious good spirits the snow-covered Plains of Abraham, Battlefields Park and the Chateau Frontenac toboggan slide are the main carnival grounds. Thousands of visitors from the United States engage in the sports and in the old Norman observance of Christmas and the dawn of the new year. During the last week in February comes the annual International Dog-Sled Derby. This race of 120 miles, covered in daily 40-mile stages, attracts famous dog-masters like the veteran Seppl and the young St. Godard who won last year's race. These two drivers have become North America's symbols of wiry age and suppli youth.

URGED RAILWAY TO THE COAST

Blatchford and Others Ask That One of Big Railways Construct Line

EDMONTON, Jan. 4.—Full consideration was promised by Premier King and other members of the government to the representations made by the delegation which urged the advantages of having the E. D. & B.C. taken over by the C.N.R., according to K. A. Blatchford, M.P. for East Edmonton, who is home after a visit to the East. As there were a number of Edmonton men in Ottawa at the time, they decided to present their views to the ministers.

Mr. Blatchford stated that railway relief was clearly required for the north country, this necessarily involving the construction of an outlet to the Pacific coast. He was of the opinion that the northern railway should act as a feeder to one or the other of Canada's systems and that it should not be owned by other interests.

While in the east, Mr. Blatchford discussed the railway situation with Premier King, Hon. C. A. Dunning, Hon. Chas. Stewart, Sir Henry Thornton and President Beatty of the C.P.R. He anticipates that there will be offers submitted for the northern line but has no definite assurance on that point.

CHURCH PRAYER BOOK DISCUSSED IN ENGLAND

The Observer published in London, England, says of the controversy over the Anglican prayer book:

No revision can aspire to equal the Book of Common Prayer in the beauty of holiness. Equally to the religious and to the aesthetic mind, the more congenial course would be to leave such a masterpiece alone, using it with that perfect freedom of private interpretation which is peculiarly consonant with the genius of the Church of England. If that is not possible, it is because organized religion (and a fortiori a State Establishment) demands a modicum of explicitness by which its administration may be guided.

Chief opposition to the new Book arises from those fearing that the Church may be turned from its historic bearings. They would address it as an Establishment the reminder of Uncle Leopold to Queen Victoria: "It is because you are Protestant that you are where you are." To which the Bishops answer in effect that the Deputed Book provides them with a policy upon which they are prepared to attempt the government of a Reformation Church, and that without it there is a menacing outlook of indifference.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 15 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner. Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESTEAD LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 30 acres, may be leased as homesteads, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partly free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

discipline, if not disruption. It is a consideration that none attaching a value to organized religion can lightly set aside.

TERRACE OLD TIMERS FORM AN ASSOCIATION

All in District Over Twenty Years Entertained by George Little at Dinner

TERRACE, Jan. 4.—George Little was host at an old-timers' dinner and smoker held in the Terrace Hotel on New Year's Eve at which only those who had been twenty years in this district were eligible to attend. His guests numbered sixteen and a most enjoyable evening was spent with music and stories reminiscent of pioneer days.

During the evening a motion was passed to continue the celebration in the form of an Old Timers' Association and a committee composed of C. T. G. Green, Geo. Little and H. L. Frank was appointed to make arrangements for next year's meeting. Those present included:

SEATTLE, Jan. 4.—Fish, like humans, are afflicted with goitre.

Dr. John Guberlet of the University of Washington, experimenting for a remedy, says that eastern brook trout in hatcheries are apparently the only species that suffer from the disease, but that among these the mortality is so high that it affects propagation.

Working on the theory that lack of iodine causes the goitre, Professor Guberlet is feeding the trout potassium iodine, and preliminary tests seem to point to a successful cure.

DOGS GET FREEDOM STREETS OF CITY

LYNN, Mass., Jan. 4.—By proclamation of Mayor Bauer dogs are assured the freedom of the streets if they do not make nuisances of themselves or obstruct traffic like some political aspirants do. The more he sees of men, the more respect the mayor has for dogs. The proclamation was issued after state authorities urged that stray dogs be rounded up and killed because of the spread of rabies.

Isador Louis, a Stuart Lake Indian, while working for the Hudson Bay Co., cut his leg. Infection set in and it was necessary to amputate the member at the thigh in the Hazelton Hospital.

A grand total of $345.60 was realized as a result of the recent "Sunshine Fund" campaign here.

On Saturday morning last the thermometer at the Vanderhoof station reached a low level for the season of 52 degrees below zero. The coldest weather previously recorded here was 57 degrees below zero in 1920.

After having spent the Christmas and New Year holiday season visiting here with her father, John Rhindress, Mrs. Campbell, accompanied by her son, Ken, has left for Sheraton to visit with her sister, Mrs. Kelly.

A handsome prayer desk and lectern, the handiwork of William J. Bowman, have been dedicated in the local Church of England by the minister, Rev. L. J. Hales.

Samuel Cocker, who has been building at Kitwanga for the Hudson Bay Co., spent the Christmas and New Year holidays with friends in this district.

On account of the cold weather, Sunday School was not held on Sunday in the United Church. The New Year season was suitably celebrated in local churches.

PRINCE GEORGE

A splendid volume of holiday business was reported by local retailers, particularly those who advertised through the town press.

Miss Virginia Johnson made a splendid impression in piano recital last week at the Strand theatre. She was assisted by Thomson Ogg who sang vocal numbers, accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Fraser, a recent addition to the musical talent of this city.

Local printers received a novel Christmas greeting card from J. Peck MacSwain of Stewart, a provincial pioneer in the trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Barkwell of Edmonton are visiting here with Mrs. Barkwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pinkerman.

Jacob Leith, pioneer merchant of Prince George, is here renewing old acquaintances.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Mary, Capt. C. C. Santee, is due about 7 o'clock tonight from Alaska points and will sail an hour later for Vancouver and Victoria.

The past week has proved to be the longest spell of continuously cold weather recorded here in a long time. With the thermometer anywhere from six to sixteen below and a strong wind blowing, Terrace has indeed shivered.

The man who thought a buggy was Good Enough

In the old days, a solid, conservative citizen might sniff and tell you he didn't read advertising.

He didn't think so much of the horseless carriage, either. The telephone was newfangled, and an insult to His Majesty's mails.

As for radio, aeroplanes, wireless photography—if they had been born then, he probably would have thought them a bit immoral.

But he's changed. He's been educated. His point of view has been made broader and more modern. He has been civilized—by the automobile, the telephone, radio, advertising.

Every single one has opened up new paths for him, taught him new things. Advertising, especially. Advertising tells him the newest things to wear, the best things to eat. Advertising tells his wife how to make a home up-to-date and attractive. Advertising tells him the prices to pay for things he buys, saves him from the old-fashioned ways of doing business—helps him live well, keeps him modern.

Advertising can help you. The advertisements in this newspaper are here to tell you many things that make life more comfortable, more interesting, happier. Read them faithfully. They'll keep you abreast of the times. They'll prevent you from becoming the type of old foggy who—sniff!—doesn't read advertising.

FLEW WITHOUT SLEEP CHASER

Lindberg Trained Himself to Stay Awake Before Undertaking Big Flights

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—When Lindberg started his 27-hour grind in Mexico City, he had had only a few hours of sleep, as was the case when he made his similar sudden decision to take off on his 33-hour flight from New York.

The secret of the Lone Eagle's ability to do without sleep is revealed in an anecdote revealing that staying awake for extended periods was part of his rigid training for making long flights. Lindberg took no coffee with him on his flight to Paris, and this generally accepted sleep chaser was again left out of his menu for the trip through fog and rain to Mexico.

According to the latest Lindberg story, the young flyer, with his faculty for attending to detail, chalked up the sleep factor as one of the obstacles confronting him who would fly alone across a continent and then across the Atlantic Ocean.

The story goes that while he was watching the building of his Spirit of St. Louis at San Diego early last year, he imposed on himself a decreasing scale of sleeping hours, day by day, night by night, and he gradually cut down his amount of sleep until he reached the point where he was able to keep active without other refreshment than food for more than 24 hours at a stretch.

ENGLAND SPENDS MUCH MONEY IN DEVELOPING FLYING

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 4.—Secretary Hoover's recent remark that the great development of civil aeronautics in the United States is unique in that private capital is carrying practically all the burden was borne out by a commerce department study of parallel progress in Great Britain. Since 1921, the study showed Great Britain has spent $17,000,000 of public money, largely as subsidy, in promoting civil aviation.

There are now 2,500 miles of air route in operation under English imperial auspices. The famous cross-channel service, from England to France, up to December 31, 1927, had been used by 69,870 passengers. In 1926 operations of the Imperial Airways, it was figured that 493,563 tons of commodities had been carried one mile, and that the passenger service totalled 3,746,905 passenger miles, the unit being represented by the transportation of one passenger one mile.

SEA LION TRAINER FOR CHANNEL SWIM

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The Channel-swimming season of 1928 promises to be enlivened by the appearance of a competitor of a novel kind. In April next the German long-distance swimmer Otto Kemmerich will begin training for the swim between Cape Gris Nez and Dover with his pet sea lion, Leo. Man and sea lion will take the water together in the attempt to beat the performances of previous Channel swimmers.

At present Kemmerich is preparing at Wandsworth to beat his own world record of 32 hours as an endurance swimmer. He proposes to remain in the water with Leo twelve hours every Sunday throughout the month, and at Easter time he will make the attempt in the Busch Circus at Hamburg to swim for 48 hours.
