SWAM ASHORE THROUGH BLAZING SEA PLANS FOR GREATER MIGRATION FROM GREAT BRITAIN

Immigration to Canada Subject of Discussion; Agreement Reached

Lord Lovat, Head of Empire Settlement Board, Visits Ottawa and Discusses Difficulties—Finding Way Out

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—When the immigration conference between Lord Lovat of the Empire Settlement Board and the Federal immigration leaders concluded yesterday, an official statement was issued saying: "It is confidently expected that the result of the negotiations will be a steady increase of the flow of suitable British migrants to Canada."

TRAGIC DEATH OF FISHERMAN

JOHN CARLSON FELL FROM WHARF GOING ABOARD THE RESOLUTE AND SANK TO BOTTOM

The news of the tragic death of John Carlson of the halibut boat Resolute has cast a gloom over the waterfront. An old resident of Prince Rupert and at the time part owner with John Ivanson of the pair of jacks, Carlson was taking some piping aboard the Resolute at Yetchikan. In going down the ladder he became caught in some way and fell, apparently striking his head against the boat in the fall. The body fell into the water and did not come to the surface again.

The deceased was married and leaves a widow and two children, the younger of whom is but four months old, living in Seattle.

This was to have been his last trip for some time as in order to undergo some minor medical operation he had planned for his brother to take over the boat for a couple of trips.

The deepest sympathy of his many friends in Prince Rupert and among the fishermen goes to the widow and her children in their tragic bereavement.

reference to the measures to be adopted both in Canada and Britain to give effect to the recommendations of the select standing committee of the House of Commons on agriculture and colonization.

"All these recommendations and other proposals made by Lord Lovat have been frankly discussed with thorough appreciation of the difficulties on both sides and in every case a satisfactory understanding has been arrived at."

Special emphasis was laid on the desirability of the co-operation of the provincial governments and other organizations in all matters of migration and settlement in which they are concerned. In continuing his tour to the coast Lord Lovat will confer with the various provincial governments and other organizations interested regarding the possibility of arranging a scheme under the Empire Settlement Act.

MINERS MIGHT MAKE SETTLERS

THAT IS VIEW OF WINNIPEG LABOR M.P. WHO IS IN OTTAWA

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—Many of the unemployed miners in Great Britain are only one generation removed from the land. If a properly thought out scheme to settle the land were proposed to them we would receive many of them as permanent settlers but I am dubious of any lasting good coming from the recently inaugurated harvesters' excursions, declared A. A. Heaps, M.P. for Winnipeg, who is here.

NEW GOVERNMENT IN POWER

The new Tolmie Government is taking office today following the exit of the Liberals under Dr. MacLean. They take charge under most auspicious conditions and there is no good reason why they should not give the people of the province good government. We are all looking forward to the increased prosperity promised. We urge all British Columbia people to get behind the new Government and give them that support which is desirable under such conditions.

THE LATEST BANK MERGER

Since the minister of finance is anxious to know what is the opinion of the people on the latest proposal to merge the Standard Bank with the Bank of Commerce, we unhesitatingly suggest that popular opinion is strongly against any such move. If either of these banks were weak and needed bolstering up by means of a merger, there would be no objection, as it is not a good thing for any bank in Canada to fail. It is stated, however, that they are both financially sound and prosperous, so why the merger?

We think the minister of finance would have been better advised to have made an investigation before allowing the negotiations to proceed. People fear bank mergers today, for the tendency is for all banking business to be so centred that competition may cease. That would be a bad thing for the country. More banks instead of fewer is what people are asking for.

VISCOUNT HALDANE

"Germany is my spiritual home." The avowal was made by the late Lord Haldane, ex-Minister of War and ex-Lord Chancellor, some years before the Great War, in the course of a discussion confined merely to matters philosophic. Quite naturally, though, the phrase was remembered very quickly when the German legions began to march. Lord Haldane was then occupying the Woolsack. On this utterance there was based an attack upon him by a section of the English Press, perhaps as bitter and relentless as any which has assailed any public character in Great Britain. Probably Lord Haldane's cast of mind would have enabled him to endure with equanimity any assault of this sort. There were many, not of Lord Haldane's way of political thought or possessing any great appreciation of his school of philosophy, who condemned the onslaught as merely the maddened scream of mob propaganda. Nevertheless public opinion on the whole agreed that Lord Haldane's German affinities rendered it inexpedient that he should remain prominently identified with the prosecution of the War. The King bestowed upon him the Order of Merit, and Lord Haldane limited his further services to the State henceforth to sitting as a member of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. Thus ended the active political career of one of the most prominent champions of Liberalism in a period of over thirty years, except that for a brief period he was a member of Ramsay Macdonald's Government.

The Haldane family and its connections have in the last few generations given to Scotland in particular and to Britain at large several men of note, who divided themselves equally between the Law and the Prophets. Robert Burdon Haldane, the subject of this memoir, received his early education at Edinburgh, and later studied philosophy at Gottingen. It was here that he first acquired his eagerness in pursuing German thought, both ancient and modern; perhaps no student in his day had a wider acquaintance with the metaphysics of Hegel and the writings of Schopenhauer. Possessed of ample private means Haldane also devoted himself assiduously "to the study and practice of the law." His early work lay at the Chancery Bar and in the Privy Council Chamber. There was a goodly array of eminent counsel in Haldane's days as an advocate, but few could excel him in the ability to marshal facts and to deliver a long argument lucidly. His capacity for work was always prodigious, and the manner in which he would address their Lordships, literally for days upon end, without ever the slightest reduction in the speed of his argument, was a really remarkable exhibition in advocacy.

LORD HALDANE AND THE WAR

STATESMAN NOW DEAD TOLD OF CONDITIONS AND SPECULATIONS PRIOR TO 1914

Viscount Haldane, who died Sunday, was an outstanding figure in world politics in spite of the fact that he suffered during the war for his pro-German thought. He was a democrat and was one of the first of the old school to recognize the power of the Labor movement. He also understood the German menace as far back as 1905 and he prepared to meet it. "I was aware at once," says Lord Haldane, "that there was a new army problem. It was, how to mobilize and concentrate at a place of assembly to be opposite the Belgian frontier, a force calculated as adequate, with the assistance of Russian pressure in the East, to make up for the inadequacy of the French armies for their great task of defending the entire French frontier from Dunkirk down to Belfort, or even further south, if Italy should join the Triple Alliance in an attack." With these aims before him Lord Haldane entered upon a scheme of revolution in the home army organization, under which it was claimed that the rapid mobilization of 160,000 troops was rendered possible. The old "volunteers" disappeared, or rather were given a new ame and status as "Territorial" second line forces, primarily being intended for home defence, but encouraged to take service abroad if necessary. Lord Haldane referring to these measures in the light of the great events which happened but a few years later, maintained his opinion that compulsory service in a period of peace was out of the question for Britain. "We had studied the situation and had done the only thing we thought we could do, after full deliberation. Our main strength was in the Navy and its tradition. Our secondary contribution was a small army designed to fulfil a scientifically measured function. After all, what we set ourselves to accomplish we did accomplish." When war was declared the seals of the War Office were being held temporarily by Mr. Asquith, the Prime Minister. At his request, however, Lord Haldane took charge at the War Office and started the machine of mobilization. The next day the War Office was handed over to Lord Kitchener. Lord Haldane, referring to the endeavors of British statesmen between 1905 and 1914 to avoid a clash with Germany, tells of a visit he paid to Berlin in 1906, when he was the guest of the Kaiser at a review. "A splendid machine I have in this army, Mr. Haldane. Now what could I do without it, situated as I am between the Russians and the French? But the French are your allies—are they not? So I beg your pardon." I shook my head and smiled deprecatingly, and replied that were I in his Majesty's place, I should in any case feel safe from attack with the possession of this machine." In some speculations as to why Germany propelled war so determinedly in August, 1914, Lord Haldane has declared it to be clear that her military advisers failed to take into account the tremendous moral forces that might be brought into action against them. "My own feeling is that she has demonstrated the extreme risk of confiding great political decisions to military advisers. . . . But it may be that she had carried her policy too far to be left free." Haldane also held that when war actually came it turned out that Germany had not adequately thought out her military problems. "If she had done so she would have used her fleet at the very outset, particularly her destroyers and submarines, and try to hinder the transport of the British Expeditionary Force."

The Finance Committee recommended to the City Council last evening the offer of the Royal Financial Corporation of Vancouver for the purchase of the Prince Rupert telephone. At present they were earning the bank rate of interest while the Royal Financial Corporation offered to buy at a rate equivalent to 5.20. In view also of the fact that the city would be in the loan market in the near future and that this corporation would then possibly be handling some of the debentures the offer was accepted.

Now Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Halifax, N. S.—"I am passing through the critical period of my life and there is nothing to equal Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all the ills that come at this time. I was dragging around the house, no energy, every nerve in my body on edge at the least confusion, so that at times I almost wished I was dead. My appetite was no good. I was dull and listless, in fact, I thought I had some dreadful disease. I took three bottles of the Vegetable Compound and it is truly wonderful. That terrible drowsiness and hot flashes have disappeared. I can do my work now without that good-for-nothing feeling. Mothers who have raised families should give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I am sure they will be loud in their praise of it."—MRS. MARY JOHNSTON, 927 Barrington St., Halifax, Nova Scotia.

The C.P.R. steamers are now working on second part of their summer schedule. Till September 5 Princess Louise and the Princess Charlotte will be on the Alaskan service. After that date the Princess Louise will handle it alone till October 3, when the Princess Alice will resume her sailings.

Owing to heavy traffic connected with the closing down of the canneries on the Skeena and to the fact that a sleeping coach had to be switched from the westbound passenger train to accommodate the large number of tourists on the eastbound train yesterday the train from the east did not arrive till 4:15 yesterday afternoon.

A communication from W. H. Dener representing the Financial Post and requesting the City to advertise in that paper was discussed at the City Council last evening. Copies of the papers were shown and the sizes of the advertising spaces and their respective costs were considered. While it was felt that any advertising that the city might benefit from should be employed the council felt it inadvisable to spend $150 or $100 on an advertisement that would appear in only one issue even though the paper had a circulation of 21,000. The letter was accordingly filed.

MANY BRITISH IN BIG SWIM

RECENT ENTRANTS AT TORONTO FOR MARATHON FROM AUSTRALIA AND ENGLAND

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—An unprecedented array of British athletes will strive to capture the world's long distance swimming championship in the third Wrigley Marathon at the Canadian National Exhibition here on Sept. 5.

Empire entrants have been slipping quietly into Toronto within the past few weeks and settling down to hard training. Most of those from the British Isles have joined the lists within the past few days. Now they form a formidable squad, without taking into account the native Canadian contingent which numbers nearly 50 and before the list closes will include a score of dangerous contenders.

First of the Britainers to arrive on the scene was Edgar Finlay of Sydney, New South Wales, holder of many titles. A second Australian, Tommy Adrian of Manly, is chiefly known as the coach who discovered and trained Andrew "Boy" Charlton, Australia's wonder-swimmer. Rumors that Charlton himself might enter the marathon were started when it was learned that Adrian was in Amsterdam with his protégé for the Olympic games and will race in Canada on his way back to Australia with Charlton.

An entry from Millie Hudson, among the most brilliant of Britain's feminine stars and a veteran marathoner, came next and then the bulky Herr von Papefus of South Africa arrived in person. Von Papefus pounded along for more than 14 hours last year but lacked speed. Last winter however he trained in California and changed his stroke to a six-beat crawl which furnishes more speed with less effort.

Then Norman Leslie Dereham of Britain bobbed up suddenly in Toronto. Dereham holds the British Empire record for swimming the English channel, having crossed in 13 hours, 55 minutes to lower Gertrude Ederle's time.

George Close and Dave Billington are other entrants from Britain who promise to be real contenders. There are more than a dozen additional Empire entries from scattered sections of the globe, including two from the West Indies.

SPORT CHAT

It is more than likely that very soon professional footballers in the Old Country will find clauses in their agreement forbidding them to use motor cycles and cars. Cowie, the Falkirk centre-half, was seriously injured some time ago, and the Falkirk directors have introduced the ban into their agreements. Another Scottish club, Heart of Midlothian, have followed suit.

Sam Wadsworth the English international and Huddersfield full back was similarly injured recently. Two years ago "Dixie" Dean the record goal scorer of the English League, was so dangerously hurt that he was nearly permanently put out of the game.

Jock Harkness, the Scottish international goalkeeper formerly of the Queen's Park, the famous amateur team of the Scottish League, but now of the Heart of Midlothian, played in his first league fixture against his old team who were defeated 3-1.

COCK FIGHTING STILL PERSISTS

SIXTEEN PEOPLE FINED FOR BEING CONCERNED IN GAME MARKING OF SWANS

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The Old Country is a great stickler for keeping up its old customs despite those twin most powerful deterrents, Law and Fashion. Only a few days ago sixteen defendants appeared before a Bench of Norfolk magistrates to answer charges of being concerned in cock fighting—an ancient British sport that has been barred by Statute these hundred years. They were fined £10 ($50) apiece, and no doubt thought it cheap at the price. The Thames, too, has just witnessed the annual spectacle of "Swan-upping," that immemorial mystery which always figures prominently among the General Knowledge questions in the elementary schools. "Swan-upping" is the yearly expedition made by the swan markers of the King, and of the river. It is a colorful procession of six rowing boats flying the "swan banners" of red and white, and blue and white, and manned by King's men in jerseys of scarlet, and those of the Companies in white, the "Vintners" striped with blue, and the "Dyers" with green. The swans are examined for the nicks which determine the allocation of the cygnets; two nicks for the "Vintners" and one nick for the "Dyers". All the unmarked swans are His Majesty's. Every year in December the Vintners, in maintenance of a tradition now four hundred years old, give a Swan Dinner, at which two savory cygnets fattened for the occasion are brought into the hall in a ceremonial procession by the Swan Warden who formally presents them for the delectation of the Master and his guests.

The report that Madison Dix, who is to fight Alf Harding during Fair Week, had been injured in his fight with Delaney, caused local fight fans to worry about his Prince Rupert engagement. Charlie Brown got in touch with Dix at once and got word back that he was all right. Delaney had butted him cutting his eye open when Dix had been carrying the fight to him. But Dix was right on the job again.

A later wire carries the news of Dix's victory over Bobby James of Seattle last Friday in the main event of the Walls Walls Wn. boxing tourney. Dix was an easy winner against a heavier boxer.

The football supporters of the city are hoping that George Russell will reconsider his decision not to referee any more games this season. George is the best referee in town and would be in demand in much larger football centres than Prince Rupert. He is quick on the whistle, makes his decisions immediately and shows no favors. Isn't it strange that it's always the losing team that kicks against a referee's verdict? There is no doubt that several local players are not good sports when a decision is given against them. Surely it is time that they knew they should play to the whistle and to the referee's decision at once and without any question. Arguing does no possible good. But there is hardly a game but two or three want to debate decisions. Let them concentrate on the game and devote all their energies to it. Then a referee will have an easier time, the game will be more interesting and the sport will benefit. Here's hoping George will be back as "knight of the whistle" before the season closes. Football needs him.

The Terminal lineup for the football game tonight includes Vic Menzies, Gagner, Howe, Hill, Currie, Macdonald, Chinoski, Burdette, Strachan, Harrison, and Dickens with Lundy as reserve.

First and second readings of a construction bylaw for a concrete sidewalk on 6th Street, west side, and of Initiative bylaws for sidewalk construction 2nd Avenue, south side, 6th Street west side (2nd Avenue to Wayne Place), 6th Street east, (2nd Avenue to Wayne Place) and 3rd Street east were given at the City Council meeting last evening.

KAIEN ISLAND ROAD COMPLETE

SLASHING AND GRUBBING PROCEEDING BEYOND GALLOWAY RAPIDS BRIDGE SITE

The completion of the Skeena Highway across Kaien Island from Prince Rupert to Galloway Rapids is the first step in the building of the road connecting Prince Rupert with Terrace. The contract for the work is finished and there is a good road now for over seven miles from the centre of the city. After a year of wear during which time it will have had time to settle this section will need another thin surfacing of crushed rock mixed with tar to make it a first rate highway.

Good progress is being made with the road beyond the narrows. By the end of the month the slashing will have been completed as far as Phelan and the pulling of the stumps is under way.

The next step to be taken will be the building of the Galloway Rapids bridge with a pier on the island in the middle of the rapids.

The Kaien Island road is a picturesque one especially at the further end.

MR. MATHESON TO REPRESENT CITY AT GATHERING IN TRAIL

The Finance Committee to the City Council last evening recommended that a delegate be sent to the convention of the Union of B. C. Municipalities to be held in Trail on September 12 and 13. The recommendation was approved.

In the matter of the delegate the name of the Mayor was put forward but Col. McMorde felt that he had had his share of trips at the expense of the city and also that he could not spare the time. The city fair would be on at the time and he felt he should be here.

Members of the finance committee found themselves also unable to go, owing to the date conflicting with the date of the Exhibition, and it was decided that the city treasurer, D. J. Matheson, be appointed delegate.

The convention has made arrangements for the delegates to be shown through the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's plant. That is the largest plant of its kind in the British Empire.

MAY USE ROCK FOR IMPROVING GROUNDS BORDEN ST. RESIDENCE

A report from the Board of Works that the request of J. C. McLennan for permission to use some of the rock that was excavated while laying the water main on Borden street, be compiled with was approved by the City Council last evening.

The improvements would be for the advantage of the city and the city would also be spared the cost of moving the rock that Mr. McLennan was desirous of using. A retaining wall would be built and the appearance of Borden Street would be materially improved, especially since the recent road alterations left the gardens and lawns so much higher than before the new road was graded.

A report from the Board of Works recommending that a six-inch water main be continued about a hundred feet west of the termination of the six inch main on Borden Street, at a cost of approximately $100 was approved. The present pipe is only 1 1/2 inch and is not of sufficient size to meet the demands of the locality.

The tender of Rose, Cowan & Latta for the printing of the street Traffic and Parking Bylaw at a cost of $75.90 was the only one received and was accepted, on the recommendation of the finance committee to the City Council last evening.

WOULD RUSH SIDEWALKS

ALDERMAN COMPLAINS OF TOO MUCH DELAY AND ASKS MORE SPEED

At the city council meeting last night Alderman Dibb brought up the question of the apparently spasmodic construction of concrete sidewalks in the city and the effect that unfinished work might have at the time of the Exhibition.

Preparations were made for the work of building concrete walks, material was bought and equipment assembled and then apparently nothing was done for some time. He had also been interviewed by citizens who said that the construction of the sidewalks was expensive enough without this apparent waste. He thought that the work should be completed while the weather was good, and that in any case the walks should be ready for the use of the visitors during Fair Week.

Alderman Rudderham thought the work might be delayed till after the Fair.

Alderman Collart thought that it could be finished before the Fair and be a good sign of the progressive spirit of the city.

Alderman Prudhomme thought that they could get the work rushed on 6th street and completed before Fair Week while other construction might be delayed till later. Mayor McMorde added that they had been expecting the tarvia plant for several weeks and had wired repeatedly but that the delay was due to the operators, not to the city.

Alderman Collart added a new subject when he said he had had complaints that the city was removing rock on the property of the Grand Trunk Development Company, on the north side of Wayne Place. This was a surprise to the Council and the engineer was to be communicated with to see if such was the case.

The whole matter will be taken up by the Board of Works and the construction of sidewalks continued with due regard to the convenience of the visitors of Fair Week and the stores of the city.

OBJECTION TO TAX ON CITY GRAVEL BY DOMINION GOVERNMENT

A recommendation from the Finance Committee that the Dominion Government be requested to amend the Customs and Excise Act that the collection of sales and production tax from the city on the removal of gravel from the city property for the use of the city, be made impossible, was approved.

Mayor McMorde pointed out that according to one interpretation of the act the city operating a gravel pit in its own boundaries might be taxed for excavating the gravel and charged a production tax, and then also charged a sales tax for using the material so excavated for use in other parts of the city.

In as much as the Dominion Government has not control over the land in a municipality, they have no power to impose such a tax and the recommendation is to the effect that the act be so amended that this interpretation be impossible.

The council went on record as being in favor of such a recommendation.

DATE MESSAGES AT PRINCE RUPERT IS WISH OF COUNCIL

Alderman Prudhomme's suggestion that all wireless messages from Digby Island be sent as from Prince Rupert was received with enthusiasm at the City Council last evening.

It was pointed out that to the great majority of people the place of origin in all these messages given as Digby Island conveyed nothing to the outside world. The place of origin might just as readily and with complete justification be given as Prince Rupert. This would more usefully indicate the point of origin of the message and in mentioning this city in each message Prince Rupert would get repeated and valuable advertising.

Alderman Prudhomme stated that the suggestion had been made to him and that he was in entire favor with it. The council was in full agreement and the city clerk was instructed to communicate with the Dominion Government and with J. C. Brady, M.P., asking to have the necessary arrangements made.

NO PAYMENT FOR COW BAY CROSSING

A communication from R. Philip, deputy minister and public works engineer was read at the City Council last evening stating that he could not recommend payment for the Cow Bay crossing.

Referring to the letter from the city engineer on the question the deputy minister stated that the cost seemed to be out of all reason. The Council felt that this matter had been delayed too long already and the secretary was instructed to press the matter for immediate payment.
