OTTAWA AND TRIBUTARIES IN FLOOD

Buffalo People Control Babine Mining Property to Spend $100,000 Now

Several Groups of Claims Taken up by Same Interests and Machinery to be Installed Commencing in May

SMITHERS, April 9.—A. T. Harrer and B. F. Messner, both of Smithers, have just completed arrangements whereby strong capital in Buffalo, N.Y., has purchased control of the Babine Silver King Mining Co., which owns the Babine Silver King mining property in the Babine Range. The property is a high-grade silver-lead mine with principal showings at the head of Driftwood Creek, some 19 miles from Smithers. The showings have been developed over the last twelve years by several tunnels as well as by surface work. Phenomenal finds in native silver, made in the lowest workings two years ago, aroused very keen interest at that time but lack of funds for further development caused a cessation of work some 18 months ago.

VANCOUVER, April 9.—Marjorie Taylor, 28 years of age, was shot to death on Hastings Street E. yesterday afternoon and her alleged assailant, William Burke, 45 years of age, of Powell River, died in the hospital with a bullet wound in his head, self-inflicted, according to the police.

The shooting occurred on a street in the busy section in front of the woman's home at 4.61. After allegedly shooting his victim Burke rushed into the house where has been found in the kitchen with a wound in his head and a .33 calibre revolver beside him.

John Roberts, taxi-driver, is held by the police as a material witness.

Burke is said to have come to Vancouver from Powell River and to have kept company with the woman who has been known to the police for about a month. Roberts said the two had a quarrel Saturday but when Burke called at the house Sunday he appeared to have been on friendly terms. As the woman reached the top step after running from the house after Burke entered she fell as a bullet entered her body. It is said that three bullets were fired, all taking effect.

New York Rangers with Lester Patrick in Goal Won Victory in Second Game of Hockey Finals

MONTREAL, April 9.—The New York Rangers jumped back into contention in the hunt for the Stanley Cup by scoring a two to one overtime victory over Montreal Maroons Saturday night.

The Rangers won despite the fact that they lost Lorne Chabot, goalie, early in the second period when a high shot struck his left eye. He was taken to the hospital and Lester Patrick, veteran Rangers manager, replaced him.

Patrick played a strong game in the net with practically airtight protection by his defense aided by a strong back checking forward line. The game was colorful and packed with action.

The Rangers won after seven minutes overtime when Frank Boucher beat Benedict on a pass from Ching Johnson. The shot was partly deflected in the Maroons' goal by Hooley Smith's skate, a tough break for the Maroons, who held a fair margin of play throughout, but also a splendid victory for the Rangers. Bill Cook opened the scoring early in the third period when he rushed through the Maroon defense while it was short with Munro penalized. The Maroons tied it when Stewart scooped in Smith's rebound.

MONTREAL, April 9.—Two known deaths, two members of a Canadian National passenger train unaccounted for, and enormous property damage is the toll exacted in the province of Quebec over the week-end by floods. The actual extent of the damage is not ascertained owing to the fact that telephone and telegraphic wires outside of Montreal are badly disrupted.

J. Robbins, 43 years of age, a baggageman, and R. Thiverge, an express messenger, both of Montreal, are missing as a result of the Canadian National train crashing through the Drummondville bridge which has been weakened by the flood of waters yesterday afternoon. The train was bound from Montreal to Quebec. The passengers were not hurt.

OTTAWA, April 9.—Freezing temperatures today controlled the flood situation which caused many thousands of dollars of damage to towns along the Ottawa River at the week-end. The overflowing Indian River rose more than three feet, flooding the streets of Pembroke and marooning several families.

In Renfrew the Bonne Chere River, on which Renfrew, Eganville and Douglas are situated, went on the wildest rampage in years. Butler bridge, six miles from Renfrew, gave way late Saturday and was carried to Renfrew by the waters and smashed to pieces over the dam.

At Quyon, on the Quebec side, thirty feet of the big dam one hundred feet long, and built of solid concrete eight feet thick, was broken like cardboard by the flood and ice. The releasing waters backed up to a depth of over 25 feet. Floods swept through the main street tearing up sidewalks and roads. Ice several feet thick swept through the main street crashing into houses while the flood broke in the doors of residences carrying light furniture in tumbling array down the streets to the Ottawa River.

BLOOD MARKS ON THE ROCKS

DIFFICULTIES OF LIFE CAUSE OF VICTORY BEING GLORIOUS SAWS PREACHER

(Summary of Sermon Preached Yesterday by Rev. J. R. Frisell)

The little black shanties on the hillside were filled with silent musing men, and in one building known as the hospital two sufferers lay under gray blankets, their fellows sitting by and handing them water in granite dippers. Outside, great boulders lay in chaos and in places the rocks were marked with blood. Some one had blundered and the cliffs had been rent in twain.

No sooner does man begin to carve out his own passage in life than he encounters difficulties. The rocks are too hard and high, the forests are too dense and dark, and immediately he discovers that "that is not victory which is easily won."

"If any man will come after me," said Jesus "let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." Humanity has fought its way upward at the point of the bayonet. As a nation suffers it prospers, as it ceases to suffer it decays and dies.

By the pain throbs triumphantly winning intensified bliss. And the next world's reward and repose by the struggles in this.

The Goddess of Love tell their children about the Goddess of Love. On one occasion she was walking in the noonday sun and a dove, the sacred bird of India, came flying through the air and took refuge in her bosom. The Goddess looked up and to her surprise a hawk was hovering over her head.

"Yes," answered the Goddess. "Well," said the hawk, "I have been hunting that bird all morning, 'tis my rightful prey. I demand you to set it free."

The Goddess knew she should give up the dove but she wanted to keep it safe from harm. "Oh, cruel hawk," she said, "what wilt thou that I might retain this dove?"

"The hawk answered reluctantly, 'Well, if you must retain the dove, I want its equivalent in your own flesh.'"

And then the Hindu mothers told the little ones how the Goddess held the dove tightly with her right arm and with the other bared her bosom while the hawk, alighting upon her shoulder, tore from her the equivalent in flesh.

It was not an easy matter to tunnel some of these streets through the rocks and lay the foundations of permanent and stately homes, but the reward has been worth the effort, and so the rocks and boulders along the path of the Christian life when removed, make us feel that life after all was worth living and the goal worth reaching.

"Then ever towards man's height of nobleness strive, still some now progress to contrive. Till, just as any other friend, we grasp death's hand and, having died, feel none the less how beautiful it was to be alive."

ROCK OF CONVICTION

But the Rock of Calvary is always at the summit of the rock of difficulty. Once He set Himself steadfastly to go towards Jerusalem. But the final conflict was to take place not at Jerusalem but at Calvary. On this Rock Christ gave His life, the rock of conviction, the rock of resolution. Here Christ came into conflict for the last time with the forces that overthrow, and conquered by submission not to these but to His Father's will.

When the hunter wounds the deer he sometimes follows the animal's blood-stains in the snow or upon the rocks into the thick of the forest. One cannot enter into life's battle, nor plunge into the jungle without leaving blood marks along life's highway.

But the Rock of Calvary is often confronted with the Rock of Mystery. What is the meaning of it all and what is behind the veil? Why can we not see beyond the mere circle of our own life?

The mother who gives her life for her babe does not fall into the dreamless sleep of death. She lives and loves for evermore. And if that tender mother lives again and drawing near to the battlements has understood her own death, then the universe becomes friendly, and the power and mystery of life and God has widened into the tenderness of God.

The astronomer climbs the observatory in order that he may turn his eye upon a star in the sword of Orion. If he be a God-fearing man he slowly and reverently ascends the watch tower from which the great refractor looks out upon the evening sky. He is in the presence of the Almighty. He is under the shadow of the Eternal. Lo, the star becomes a ghostly mist towering up in the most strange and fantastic forms, spreading its arms as if groping for prey in the infinite blackness of space, and with an awful mouth gaping wide enough to swallow a million worlds.

The astronomer now calls for a telescope possessing greater magnifying powers, and turns its face towards the blazing star. Still he sees nothing but the same horrid mouth opening beneath a forehead decked with a misty plume, armed with a horn a million leagues in length, and gashed with an abysmal chasm which it would take centuries to cross. Undaunted, the astronomer calls for a still larger telescope and uses a mirror of four tons weight with the hope of gathering the pale light from the awful monster whose faintly phosphorescent form lies aloft in the infinite ocean of immensity.

"Suddenly the star bursts into a blaze of distinct stars. The awful nebula that like some Oriental monarch baffled and inflamed all curiosity, lifts up its cloudy veil and looks forth with a million eyes. The misty horror kindles itself into robes of beauty and crowns of glory."

"Eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man what God hath prepared for those that love Him."

The "Flying Scotsman" express of England weighs 388 tons when empty, but when full of tourists, 12 tons additional weight is discovered. A school boy can perhaps tell how many tourists this represents.

WHAT I MIGHT HAVE BEEN

As Told to Harold C. Burr By RAMON NOVARRO

RAMON NOVARRO "My own choice was to sing."

I have done the totally unexpected with my life so far. When I was a boy down in Durango, Mexico, I did not think that one day I would be working in pictures. There was a conflict in the family then as to my future. My father wanted me to be a dentist, while my mother held out determinedly that I study for a concert pianist. My own choice was to sing.

There were no funds for me to study either dentistry or music. So I bought a one-way ticket to Hollywood. But I did not get into screen work immediately. There were first disappointments, wandering off into by-paths to satisfy the landlady.

"I did do a bit in 'Omar Khayyam,' but it was not very big. I got into picture work by fits and starts, circuitously. Opportunity did not knock every day.

"I came to the motion-picture game green, yet could look back on some very youthful theatrical experience. The impulse to act must have been generating strongly in my veins when I was a boy in my Mexican home.

"Still tenderly young, I built a theatre in our yard at Durango. Besides being the architect I was producer, playwright, stage manager and one of the male stars. I did not have great trouble in assembling my company, because I had ten little brothers and sisters from whom to draw my cast.

"But it was not an amateur troupe exclusively. My sisters would not labor for art's sake. I was forced to pay the mercenary one or two cents a performance. These salaries would have raised the overhead ruinously over a protracted run. But I never wrote a box-office success.

"It was probably the first little theatre movement in Mexico. We varied our bill by giving marionette shows. I still have that child's playhouse intact. It has been transported to Hollywood and set up on my lawn where I display it proudly to my guests who will listen to its history. Not every actor can carry the scene of his debut around with him in after years.

"As I grew older I saw the chance for the actor was in the United States. I came up to California. Music was my good friend when I first arrived at the motion-picture colony. Work on the screen was scarce, and I took in a few violin and piano pupils to eke out the exchequer.

"I have dabbled in three branches of music—the piano, the violin and the voice. But I took good care not to work so hard at my teaching that I would have no energy left for tramping around among the studios, seeking work.

"One of my first professional engagements was as a dancer—but not in the movies. I toured the Orpheum Circuit with Marion Morgan's company in an extravaganza. That led to my first really important part before the camera.

"Mr. Rex Ingram was so kind as to observe and like my interpretation of a fantasy number on our program. Then came the screen test—and a contract. He accepted me for Rupert Hentzau in 'The Prisoner of Zenda' by Anthony Hope.

"It has been with me that always I have been torn between two loves—the pictures and music. I should like to combine them both, and at last I think I see the road clear ahead to do that very thing. I have reached the place where I may cultivate my music. I am studying voice culture all the time under my teacher, Louis Graveure. Some day I hope to make a tour in concert."

LUDEN NEW STAR IN GOOD WESTERN STORY

Whoever thought of making a Western star out of handsome Jack Luden deserves credit for an excellent idea.

Mr. Luden makes his stellar debut in the Paramount picture "Shootin' Irons" which appears here tonight and it is said that he makes a favorable impression in this type of drama as any other western star, regardless of how long established.

Luden is fortunate in being introduced in a very good picture. "Shootin' Irons" is miles ahead of the average Western in story, plot, settings, cast, direction and everything else.

For one thing, it is chock full of action, and certainly no Western fan will object to that. The difference between this and most Westerns is that the action is there rightfully. It fits into the story and continuity.

NOMA TALMADGE PLAYS HARD AND EATS SPARINGLY

When looking at "The Dove," which is being shown at the mid-week, it is difficult to believe that Norma Talmadge has been appearing before the motion picture camera for nearly fifteen years.

True, she started as a child, but even at that, she appears but little more than a mere child today. And this is due in large measure to her sensible attention to her physical condition.

While tennis is her favorite form of outdoor recreation, she is an ardent lover of golf and swimming. She spends most of her time, both winter and summer, at her Santa Monica beach house, spending long hours in the surf, and during the California sun to do its worst in the matter of tan.

She has not set diet, being one of those fortunate people who never gain

"THE GORILLA" WEEK-END PLAY

COMEDY MINGLED WITH PATHOS IN MYSTERY COMEDY HERE AT WEEK END

Comedy is supposed to be closely akin to tragedy. The greatest comedians and critics say the best comedy is that which is mingled with pathos, and if this is true then Charlie Murray, who is featured in "The Gorilla," has all the laughs coming to him.

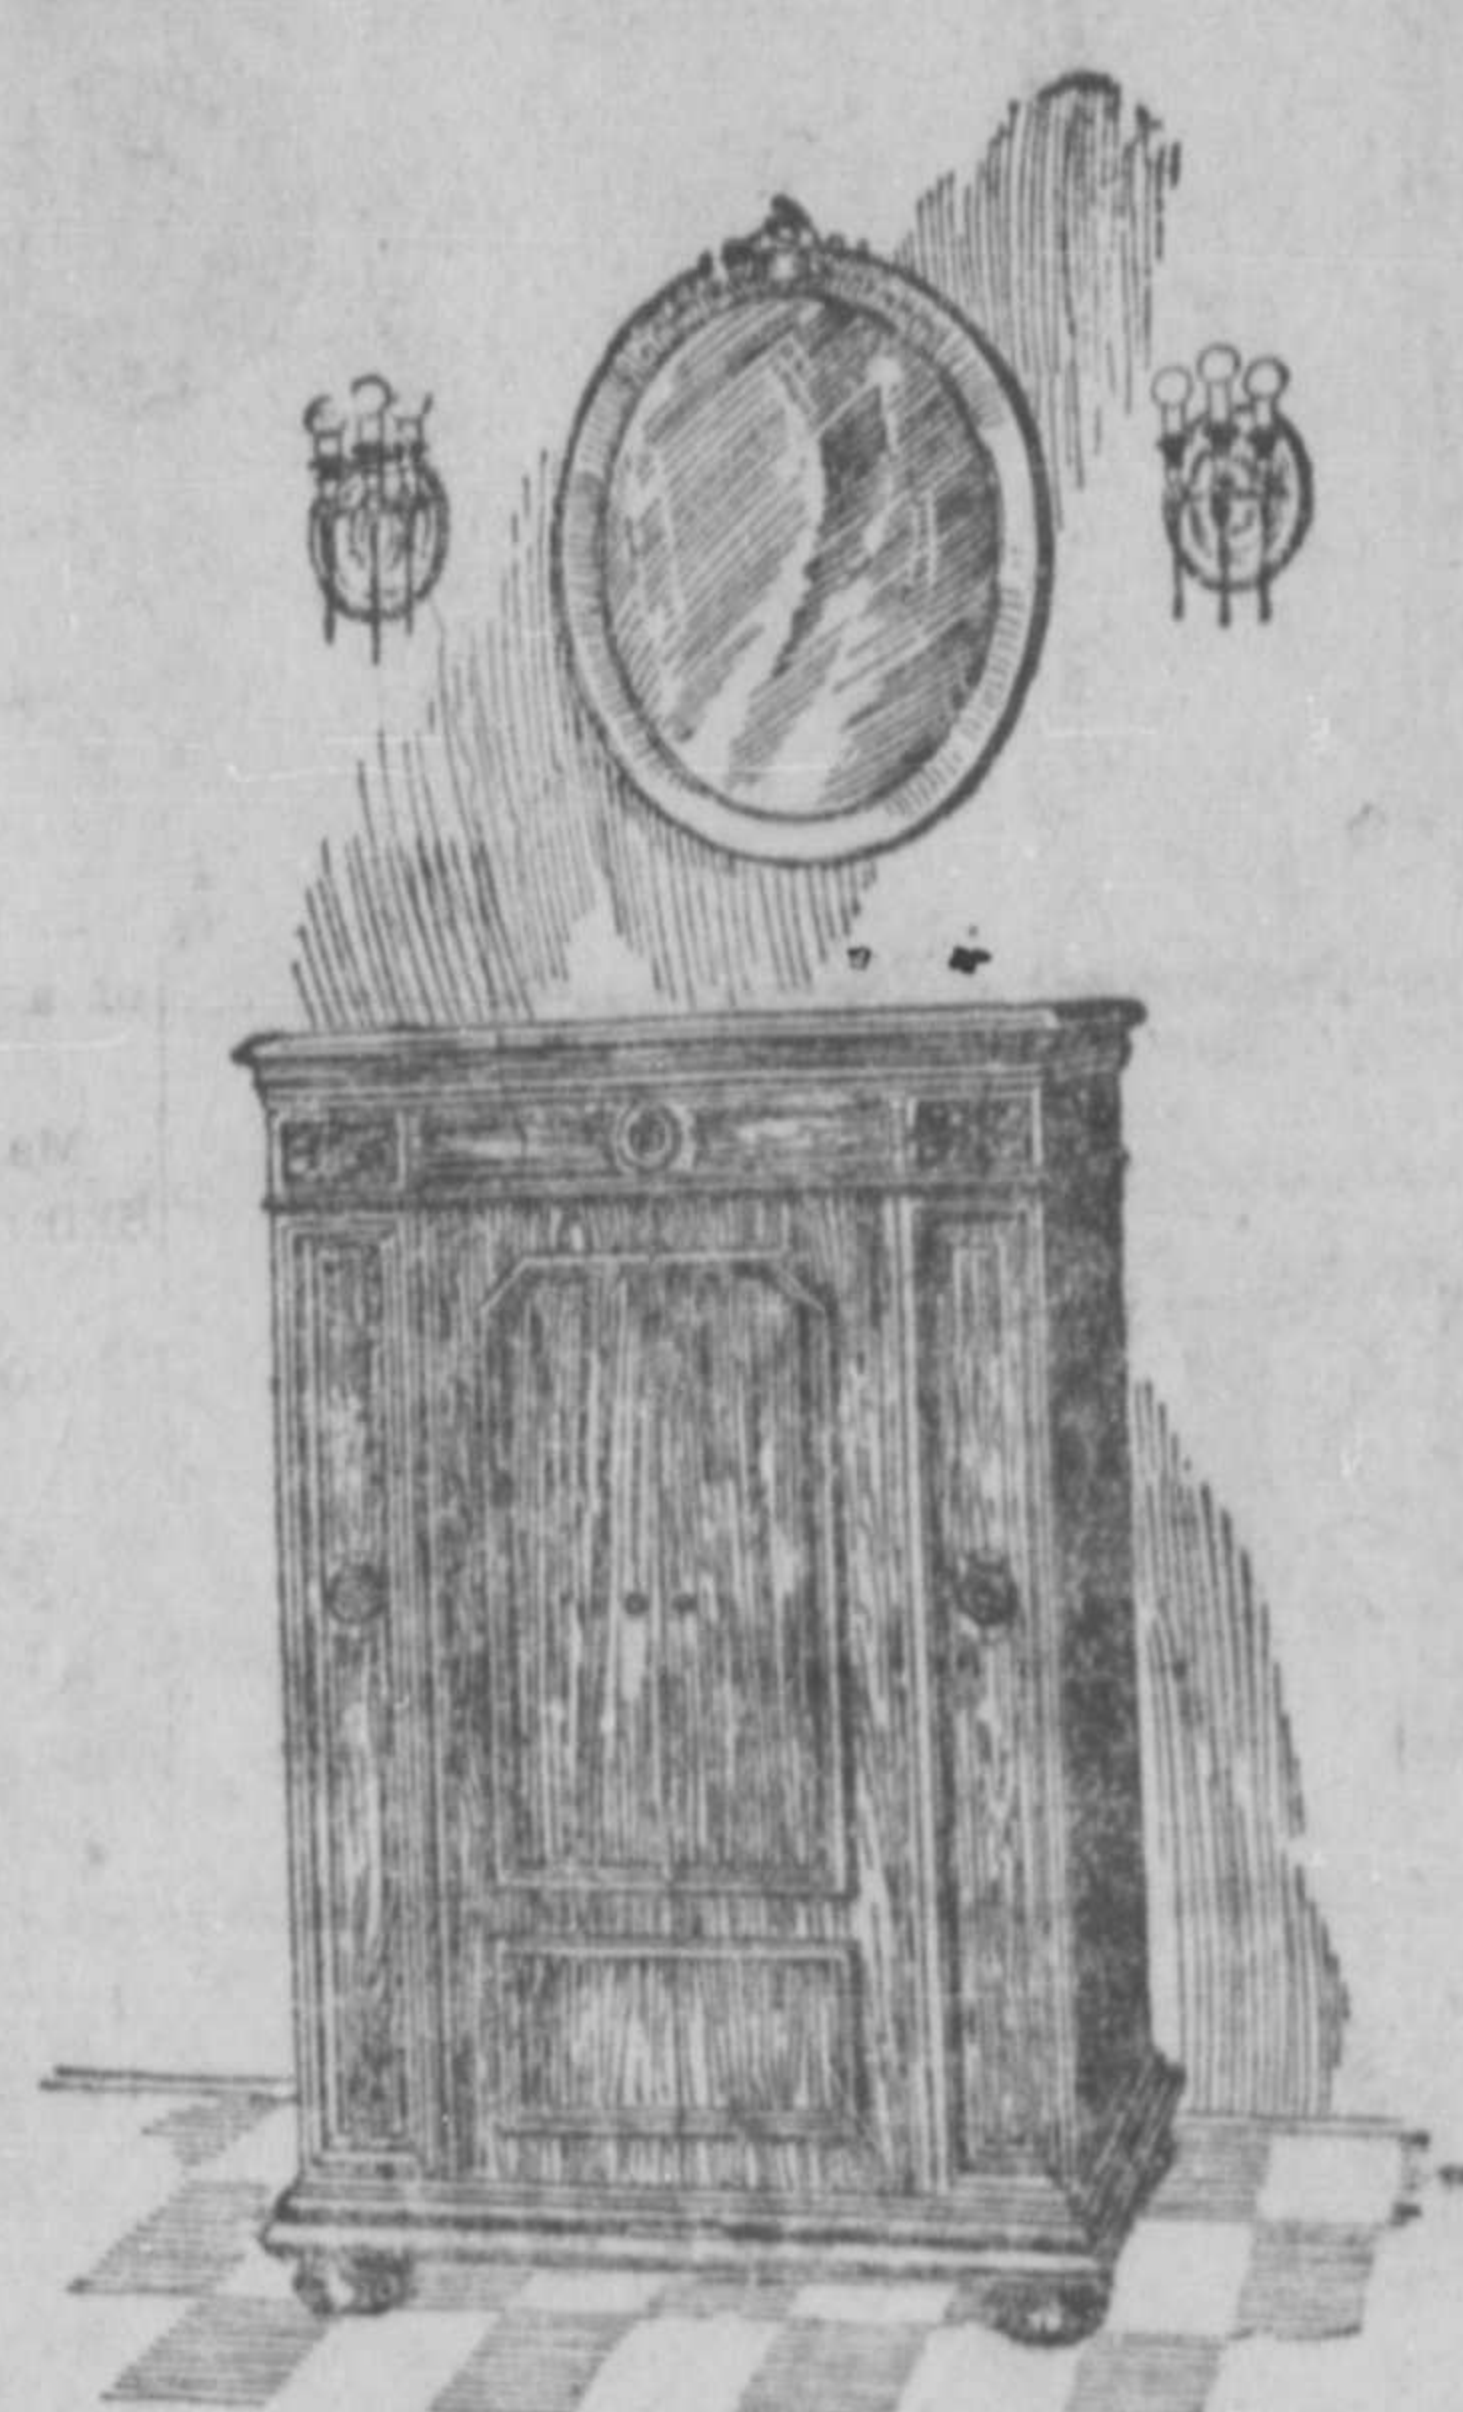

"The Gorilla" is the hilarious and hysterical mystery comedy coming here at the week end.

And one must not forget the gorilla himself. There is where Charlie Murray and his pathos and comedy come in. It's comedy for the audience to see him playing around cliffs, housetops, cellars, etc., with a nine foot, four hundred pounds ape man, but as for Murray, let the pathos speak for itself. Just place yourself in the same predicament and imagine the fun.

"The Gorilla" is an adaptation of Ralph Spence's stage play of the same name and combines all the elements of fun and chills that made the legitimate version so popular. The situations in the motion picture have been enlarged over those in the stage play. It is reported to be a combination of the weirdest, spookiest mystery and the greatest comedy imaginable.

Murray and Kelsey have the roles of the two dumb detectives, Mulligan and Garrity, whose greatest problem is to keep together. The gorilla is a whole melodrama in himself. His huge bulk and tremendous size present a ferocious aspect. A four hundred pound gorilla is menace enough for any picture.

DOCTOR WOULD BE A DICTATOR IN ORDER TO REDUCE HOSPITALS

LONDON, Eng., April 9.—Sir William Arbuthnot Lane, famous surgeon, would like to be dictator of Great Britain so he could reduce the number of hospitals by one-half. He would do it by teaching people how to eat. They stuff themselves now, he says; every mouthful is a coffin nail; ten years hence if we stop people committing suicide by overloading their stomachs we may begin breeding a race of supermen and superwomen.

EASTERTIME IN LOCAL CHURCHES

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND THROUGHOUT CITY AND SPECIAL MUSICAL SERVICES HELD

APPROPRIATE DECORATIONS

Children's Services in Afternoon Also Attract Many on this Great Festival

With beautiful and appropriate decorations, seasonal sermons and special musical programs, Easter Sunday was fittingly celebrated in all Prince Rupert churches. In each case, there were large congregations both morning and evening to participate in the services. Local people made general response on this day, the one in the year upon which special efforts are made to get all members and adherents out.

Two choruses were sung by the children's choir in the morning at First Presbyterian Church. They were "Awake! Awake!" and "Happy Morning" in which the solos were by Miss Edith Kergin. There was also a solo "Thou Didst Leave" by Miss Betty Cameron. In the evening, there was an anthem by the senior choir "Light at Even Time" in which J. A. Teng was soloist; a quartette "Jesus Died for Us" by Miss Davies, Mrs. Macfie, John E. Davey and A. Clapperton, and a solo "Calvary" by Miss Georgina Hunter. John E. Davey led the choir and presided at the organ at both services. The subject of the pastor, Rev. J. R. Fritzel, in the morning was "The Things that Happened" and, in the evening, "Blood Marks upon the Rocks."

UNITED CHURCH

There were record congregations in First United Church. At the morning service, eight new members were received into the congregation and Holy Communion was celebrated. The junior choir sang an anthem "In the Dawning of the Morning." Sunday School in the afternoon had an open session with recitations by Misses Jean Wilkinson and Aileen Yates, a reading by Miss Barrie, and a talk by the superintendent, Earl Barrie. At the evening service the senior choir rendered the anthem "Break Forth Into Joy" with fine effect and Mrs. J. H. McLeod chose as a solo "Our Best Redeemer." Miss M. A. Way presided at the organ in the morning and Mrs. A. Wilson, in the evening. Rev. A. Wilson preached two fine sermons, "Raised with Christ" being his subject in the morning and "If a Man Died, Shall He Live Again?" in the evening.

SALVATION ARMY

With the exception of Sunday School which was well attended, the only indoor service at the Salvation Army Citadel was in the evening. Appropriate hymns were sung and the program included Bible readings by Miss Evelyn Pierce and Howard Chalk; vocal duet "Calvary" by Capt. and Mrs. J. Stobart; instrumental quartet "Love in the Grave," by A. Martin, H. Chalk, E. Harman and Capt. Stobart; solo by Mrs. Stobart with guitar accompaniment. Captain Stobart gave an address, "The Message of the Resurrection," and Mrs. (Envo) Tomlinson of Cedarvale also spoke. In the morning, an outdoor service was held and the residents of Westview were serenaded.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Services in the Baptist Church were in keeping with the Easter theme and morning and evening were well attended. The interior was prettily adorned with flowers and plants. The evening was the occasion of a presentation of a beautiful Easter Cantata by the combined Senior and Junior choirs assisted by the following who portrayed in speech and action the story of "The Pilgrim's Vision": Misses Edna Gilker, Yvonne Terrien, Bessie Derry, Alecia McKinley, Winnie Bunn, Catherine and Marie Mussallem. The part of Pilgrim was taken by Clifford Gilker. During the day W. Vaughan Davies gave several Easter musical numbers on the organ.

In the afternoon the church was well filled with children and parents to attend the Sunday school rally. Easter songs were sung and the primary department, under the direction of Miss A. Dawson, presented a program of recitations and songs by their scholars. Mrs. Mastin, superintendent of the Cradle Roll, presented the certificates assisted by Rev. W. F. Price. During the afternoon those scholars who had won attendance honors were presented with gifts in the nature of books. Mrs. Price made the presentation and suitably addressed the scholars. The following was the honor list—Edith Miller,

Katherine Watson, Eileen and Phyllis Hamblin, Margaret and June Gilker, Adella and Bishop Thauber, Robert Gilker and Victor Miller. CATHOLIC

There were the usual Easter services in the Catholic Church with special musical numbers by the choir and soloists. Bishop E. M. Bunzer, O.M.I. officiated, assisted by Father Godfrey, O.M.I., Charles P. Balagna presided at the organ.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The subject of the Christian Science Society for the day was "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?"

ANGELICAN

Communion was administered three during the day at St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral—in the morning at 8 and 11 and in the evening. In the morning, the anthem "Send Out Thy Light" was rendered by the choir. In the evening the anthem was "Seek Ye the Lord" with Ernest Smith as soloist. There were also special psalms. Archdeacon G. A. Rix delivered suitable addresses at all services. A. J. Lancaster was choir leader and Miss Marjorie Lancaster, organist. There was a special Sunday School Service in the afternoon.

LUTHERAN

Metropole Hall was beautifully decorated for the services of St. Paul's Lutheran Church all of which had large congregations. In the morning, the junior choir sang three selections and Rev. J. H. Hanson spoke on the story of the Resurrection from the gospel of St. Mark. In the evening, the junior choir again sang three selections and there were beautiful violin solos by J. Forstad. Mr. Hanson spoke on the Resurrection as depicted in the gospel of St. Matthew. Mrs. Hanson presided at the organ in both services.

FAMOUS MOTOR OIL ENDORSED BY FLIERS

MARVELUBE IS GIVEN RECOMMENDATION BY AEROPLANE MAKER

Manufacturers of the world's most famous aeroplane motor, the "Wright Whirlwind," which flew Commander Byrd over the North Pole, and Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd across the Atlantic, as well as establishing many other records for reliability and performance in all parts of the world, have unreservedly endorsed Marvelube, made by Imperial Oil Limited, from Peruvian crude petroleum, for lubrication of their motor.

Marvelube is the only Canadian oil that has won such a recommendation and is one of only a few brands of oil endorsed by the Wright Aeronautic Corporation. All the oils recommended for his superline motor are straight petroleum oils, having no vegetable or animal oil content to cause disintegration. Approval of an oil by the makers of the Wright Whirlwind motor is regarded as the highest testimony to its superior quality.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Howard sailed last night on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver enroute to Edmonton where they may in future locate. They were given a hearty send-off by many friends, notably members of the First Baptist Church Fireside Club of which Mr. Howard was president.

EASTER MONDAY ON VIMY RIDGE

LOCAL EX-SOLDIERS RECALL BRILLIANT VICTORY OF CANADIAN FORCES JUST ELEVEN YEARS AGO

To many Canadian veterans of the great War Easter Monday will ever be associated with most cherished memories for it marks the anniversary, now seven years past, of the taking of Vimy Ridge, one of the memorable engagements of the Western Front. In this battle, the Canadian Fourth Division, including such regiments as the 16th and 102nd, in which were many local men, won glory and honor for itself. French and British troops with heavy losses had unsuccessfully attempted to gain this point of vantage but it remained for the Canadian forces, under the personal direction of General Byng, commander-in-chief, to finally achieve it, hurling the opposing forces, with frightful losses, before them.

There was a snowstorm that memorable morning and the ground was as damp and as generally uncomfortable as had ever been experienced. From trenches and shell-holes, the Canadian troops went forward to one of the most brilliant victories of the entire conflict, and it was not a few brave Canadians who paid the supreme sacrifice on that day.

ADVICE GIVEN PROSPECTORS

IMPORTANCE OF CEDARVALE AND WOODCOCK MENTIONED BY ENGINEER IN ADDRESS

TOPLEY STILL OPEN

Placer Finds May Yet Be Made on Manson Creek and Molybdenite at Endako

SMITHERS, April 9.—In the municipal offices in Smithers last week, Douglas Lay, resident mining engineer for the North-Eastern District, gave a very interesting talk to prospectors and others interested in the mining industry, the meeting being convened by the Omineca branch of the B.C. Chamber of Mines.

Departing from the generalities which feature such talks by most other speakers, Mr. Lay gave it as his opinion that certain areas in his district gave great promise for prospecting. He mentioned the region north of the Canadian National Railway at Cedarvale and Woodcock and in particular advised attention by prospectors to the vicinity of a granite boss up Sedan Creek from Woodcock. He also suggested that further important finds be made in the Topley section and the nearness to transportation and important developments now going on would give added value to any discoveries made there.

He also mentioned the importance of recent discoveries in the Sibola country with high values in both gold and galena. The Ferguson property on the Ingenika River was in a section with very promising geology, and although far from present transportation routes there was great likelihood of being able to find properties of great importance there. He also advised that in the vicinity of Mica Mountain near Tete Jaune Cache there was a very likely region. He suggested that if any one were prospecting there he go to the west of Mica Mountain and seek for limestone formation, which if found would be likely to have galena deposits of importance.

Discussing placer areas he said that there were probably still many placer finds to be made in the Manson Creek section. He advised that in seeking placer in that region it would be of assistance if attention was paid to a red rusty rock with mariposite beneath it. This mariposite looks like green copper and has been found in nearly all important placer fields on the Pacific slope. The precise relation between it and the placer is not certain but its presence should at once suggest the probable proximity of placer gold. In the Manson Creek section there were also some serpentine rocks, and these might carry asbestos, a thing to be borne in mind by those going into that region.

Throughout his talk he emphasized the importance of granitic rocks as a source of ore and advised all prospectors to keep that fact before them at all times. The granite might not be in evidence on the surface but it would

The molybdenite find of last year near Endako and the mica deposits at Mica Mountain and at Fort Graham were referred to in the course of the address as being important discoveries to keep in mind.

TERRACE APPRECIATES HORTICULTURIST VISIT

Institutes Hear Lecture and Pruning Classes Conducted by Professor Randall

TERRACE, April 9.—R. Randall, government horticulturist, was the chief speaker at the quarterly meeting of the Farmer's Institute here Wednesday and members of the Women's Institute were also present. Mr. Randall spoke appreciatively of the possibilities of the district from a fruit growing point of view. He had found good orchards and also poor ones and he gave a lot of interesting advice on planting, cultivation and fertilizing, advocating the use of nitrate of soda for fruit trees. He also gave a demonstration of pruning and advice in regard to spraying, picking and packing fruit, grafting and budding.

The secretary was instructed to write the department of agriculture expressing appreciation of Mr. Randall's visit and acknowledging the benefit derived here from the classes in pruning and other demonstrations.

NEW HAZELTON

On the Silver Cup mine, which is being developed by William Dornberg of Vancouver, head of the Duke Mining Co. Ltd., a new two foot vein of high grade ore has been opened up, giving assay returns of 275 ounces of silver and 63 per cent lead or about $300 per ton. Nine carloads of ore have been so far shipped to smelter and shipments will be doubled up when the roads become passable again. Three shifts are being worked on the property.

Considerable repair work will have to be made to the Nine Mile wagon road which is now in bad shape through heavy traffic. There will be many carloads of poles and ore to be hauled over the road this season.

Edward G. Brown and Thomas Lewis of Vancouver have taken a bond on the Hyland Basin property in the Babine and are now making arrangements to institute a vigorous program of development work. Supplies will be taken in as soon as the snow is off the ground.

Members of the staff of the Silver Cup mine made the first automobile trip of the season to Smithers last week. The trip was a difficult one owing to the softness of the road and the cars had to undergo considerable repairs at Smithers. It took twenty-four hours to make the return trip.

Special services were held on Good Friday in St. Peter's Anglican Church at Hazelton by Rev. T. D. Proctor.

A second tunnel is being started on the Mohawk property on Four Mile Mountain which is being developed by Edward G. Brown of Vancouver and associates. There is plenty of shipping ore in sight and returns from the first carloads are being awaited with interest and confidence.

Albert Mercer came into town from the hills last week and left on Thursday for the south fork of the Copper River where he has his trap line. He expects to be back before the end of May.

The Oyster Bridge Club of Hazelton met on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Roy Guss.

Pole camps of this district are now practically all closed after an exceptionally good winter. Only hauling now remains to be done.

Good milling ore is being encountered at the Comet mine on Four Mile Mountain adjoining the Mohawk. Tunnel work is being continued.

Mrs. Al. Harris entertained at a bridge party at the first of last week.

The Felix Bridge Club of Hazelton met on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. James Turnbull, the previous week's prizes, at Mrs. S. J. Winsby's, having been won by Mrs. R. S. Sargent and Mrs. Chappell.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Spooner have been visiting in Smithers for several days.

Dr. Agnew, dentist, has been spending a few busy days in Hazelton and plans on visiting New Hazelton soon.

H. C. Wrinch, M.L.A. for Skeena, returned home at the end of the week after having spent several days visiting points west of Hazelton.

Road work has been started in this district with the putting of the drag on the road between here and Hazelton. A number of loads of gravel have also been hauled to Hazelton to fill up holes caused by the snow going off.

Herb Hankin is a patient in the Hazelton Hospital suffering from a stroke which resulted in a severe hemorrhage of the brain.

A new steel culvert has been placed in the road at Taylor's place to replace the old one that caved in this spring.

Al Falconer is partly laid up as a result of the breaking of a small bone in his foot when he stepped on a rock.

The Hazelton police court has been very busy during the past week and the jail is filled with various breakers of the law.

A son, David James Evered, has been born at the Hazelton Hospital to Rev. and Mrs. T. D. Proctor.

PRINCE GEORGE

One hundred and fifty persons were present at a concert and smoker held by the Canadian Legion on Monday evening. There were boxing bouts of B. Bailey vs. R. Stuart and R. Hogan vs. Tom Corless, both of which were declared draws. Those contributing to the musical program included W. J. Pitman, Thomson Ogg, James Quayle, A. McE. Young, J. W. Miers, Mr. Orchard, Mr. Waldorf and Dr. A. H. Bayne. President R. W. Alward gave an interesting address.

H. G. Perry & Co., G. W. Mason, M. C. Wiggins have pooled their holding and have united in a two weeks' real estate selling campaign. With a view to quickening the market, they are offering a large number of lots at prices ranging from $25 to $160.

The coldest weather during the past week was 11 degrees above zero on Tuesday. The highest thermometer reading during the period was 52.

A hog raising contest is about to be started in this district under the direction of R. G. Sutton, district agriculturalist.

Judge Robertson will leave this week for Prince George where he will conduct the trial of George Fynn who is charged with wounding a boy, Thomas Baxter, with an axe. J. M. McLean will prosecute and P. E. Wilson will act for the defence.

The action of Abel Wembin vs. Harry Brown and Karney Monteith was heard in County Court here last week by Judge Robertson. Plaintiff leased a sawmill near Giacomo for repairs made by him on the plant over and above rentals. The defendants have a counter claim of $1000 for rent and damages.

Douglas Lay, resident mining engineer with headquarters at Hazelton, delivered an interesting address before the Prince George Board of Trade at luncheon on Wednesday.

Special Easter services were held in St. Michael's Anglican Church here on Good Friday by Rev. T. DePenier.

F. J. Claxton has received from Ottawa a patent on a device made by him to prevent the slipping of the legs of stoves.

A sacred concert was held in the local United Church on Good Friday evening. Those taking part in the program, besides the choir, included Mrs. R. A. Harlow, J. D. Scott of Giscome, Mrs. J. Ferguson, and Miss R. Jackson.

Art Mik, famous western moving picture star, has offered to stage a performance in connection with the Dominion Day celebration in Prince George this year. It is felt by the Fair Board however, that the cost will be too great to handle.

An apple blossom tea held by the Ladies' Aid of First United Church in the Ritts-Rifer hall proved a most successful affair. The function was opened by Mrs. A. M. Patterson who was presented with a beautiful bouquet by Miss Maude Renwick. Besides the tea and sale, a dinner was held with an entertainment following in the evening.

Angus McLean of Bathurst, N.S., one of the prime movers in the long standing pulp and paper mill project for this district, will be in Prince George soon to make an inspection of the Fraser Timber Syndicate's timber stands. He will be accompanied by a number of other capitalists interested in the project.

Charles A. Pyne, president of the Cariboo Automobile Club, is in receipt of a letter from E. G. Baynes of Vancouver, owner of the Douglas Lodge at Fort St. James, describing an automobile trip recently made by Mr. Baynes to Mexico.

The Letter That Won $10

Pacific Milk gets letters from its patrons right along but to hear from those who have not written we issued a call for letters and offered prizes each week for four weeks. In addition, for the best letter of all, a cash prize of $10.00 was offered. The winner is Mr. C. C. Carpendale, Strawberry Hill, B.C., and as an evidence of good faith to those who so kindly wrote we give Mr. Carpendale's letter in full. The contest was very spirited, an enormous number of replies were received and the committee which made the selection had an extremely hard time because of the undoubted merits of so many letters.

Our appreciation for their efforts is very deep. The number of persons who have been exclusive users for six, eight, ten, twelve years and the number who buy this good milk by the case is greater than what we had estimated.

Pacific Milk Co.,
 Vancouver, B.C.
 Gentlemen:

The ladies seem to be having a fairly good innings, so I thought a few lines about your wonderful product would not be amiss from one of the other sex.

The question you ask is—why one likes Pacific Milk? I like it because it is as good as the fresh article, and is more like cream than any other, and I have used them all during a sojourn of thirty years in the Arctic regions.

Your milk was first introduced to me in a shipment made by The Hudson's Bay Co. in 1923 to East Cape N.E. Siberia, where I was in charge of a station in that remote spot for the said Company. Immediately on distributing a few cans of your article to the Russian officials stationed at Whalen, nine miles further north on the Arctic Ocean, I was asked by the Governor where such fine milk was produced, and they commenced to take it by the case. As the winter was long, about nine months, and all transportation was closed during that time, and only having 36 cases to distribute amongst a native population and a few more traders scattered up and down the Coast, I was compelled to hide some of the milk away, especially when told that the Bolsheviks were drinking it right out of the can without diluting; and towards Spring, when I was down to three cases, do you know that many favors were extended to me by the officials who had not been very friendly during the winter in order to get a few cans of Pacific Milk, and this despite the fact that they had a good supply of their own of a well-known European brand. I am quite sure that if trading relations were renewed with Soviet Russia, your product would command a large demand in Vladivostok and Kamchatka, and fear no competition.

The flavor is supreme, the consistency is always there. It reminds me of what some other well known brands were like twenty years ago, but not now. It makes coffee taste like Mother made it, and yhips quicker than all others owing to the extra richness of it. To sum it up, it is in a field of its own, and who could not help liking it. Even though I have goat's milk regular, and cow's occasionally, there is never a time when Pacific Milk is not in the pantry, and in constant use. May you forever be able to keep it at its present standard, introduce it into millions of new homes, a truly B.C. product, and wishing you all success,

Believe me, very truly yours,
 C. C. CARPENDALE.

TAX SALES AND IMMIGRATION.

Prince Rupert, B.C.
 April 9, 1928.

Editor, Daily News.

Enclosed please find a clipping from a California newspaper wherein are advertised some Canadian tax-sale land at prices as low as two dollars per acre. Some of this land is in B.C. the advertisers offer to send a twenty page booklet—illustrated—of our farms that have been sold for taxes. Our officials say they cannot understand why our wandering Canadians do not return. Will the reading of tax-sale ads. induce such return? U.S. statistics show some twenty-million Canadians in their country (including their descendants) and the same sheet announces an average yearly increase of our real Canadians crossing the border. Seventy-five per cent of whom do not return. The facts quoted above are only part of the reason whereby we lost so many Canadians, and thereby cause worse conditions for those that remain. Many long evening did the writer sit and listen to his parents discussing and suggesting alterations in the B.N.A. Act at the time of its compilation, the violation of which is the real cause of our emigration misfortune.

GREATEST AFTER DINNER SPEAKER

CHAUNCEY DEPEW WAS BUSINESSMAN AND POLITICIAN AS WELL AS TELLER OF STORIES

"I am known as an after-dinner speaker," said Chauncey Depew, who died last week at the age of 93. "I hope I also am known as a man who works." He said on his 80th birthday. "My dinners have never interfered with my business—they have been my recreation. Most men get their relaxation in cards. That makes them keep late hours, and they sit in a room with a bad air and drink too many cocktails. They die young.

"When I was very young I decided to make dinners my recreation. Speaking was easy to me. My digestion might have bothered me if I had not been careful. I experimented to find just what I could eat best. I soon determined to play with everything, but to eat nothing except the roast and game courses. The trouble with the average man is that he cannot retain his appetite. But a public banquet, if eaten with thought and care, is no more of a strain than a dinner at home."

Mr. Depew was born in 1834. His ancestors on the paternal side were French Huguenots who came to America in the 17th century, and on the maternal side he was descended from Roger Sherman, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. The house where he was born had been the Depew homestead for more than 200 years.

FATHER WAS MERCHANT

The father, in addition to being a merchant and farmer, also was a pioneer in river transportation between Peekskill and New York City. The mother, a woman of highly developed literary tastes, was chiefly responsible for the thoroughness of her son's education. He obtained his preliminary training in Peekskill Academy and in 1852 entered Yale, from which he was graduated four years later as a barrister.

More POWER than any other Engine of its Size

McLaughlin-Buick engine develops more power than other types because the valve-in-head construction concentrates the full force of the explosion directly on the piston and because it necessitates a smaller cooling area. This latter feature also provides more efficient combustion and a valuable saving of fuel.

TESTS prove that the valve-in-head engine as used by McLaughlin-Buick develops more power than any other engine of its size.

The G. M. A. C. Deferred Payment Plan offers many advantages to buyers of McLaughlin-Buick cars.

22, he clashed with his father over politics and subsequently abandoned the latter's Democratic faith to take local stumps in favor of Fremont and his Free Soil campaign. After the election he began practicing law, and earned his first fee—$1.75 for an opinion that required several days to prepare—just about the time Lincoln was first mentioned for the presidency. He immediately entered the campaign on behalf of the latter and gained considerable fame as a political orator.

Eight years later he had been nominated and confirmed for the post of American Minister to Japan. Previous to this he had been Secretary of New York State and had held several other public offices, although he declined more political appointments perhaps than any other young man in the country.

Just as Depew was preparing to leave for Japan, Commodore Vanderbilt acquired the New York and Harlem railroad—128 miles of "junk," as he afterwards described it. He called upon Depew and offered him the position of general counsel at a salary of $7,500 a year, but the young lawyer promptly informed the financier that he was to receive a much higher salary as minister to Japan.

"It's up to you," Vanderbilt replied. "Railroads are the career for a young man. There is nothing in politics. Don't make a fool of yourself."

Depew took the job, and on January 1, 1921, had rounded out 55 years with the Vanderbilt interests. His connection with railroading covered practically the whole period of railway construction, expansion and development in the United States. Beginning in 1866 as attorney for the New York and Harlem, he became vice-president of all the Vanderbilt roads merged into the New York

Central in 1882 and president of the New York Central in 1895. In 1899 he resigned to become chairman of the board of directors, a position he continued to fill through the eventful period of reconstruction following the World War.

Mr. Depew was frequently criticized for taking an active part in politics while he retained his powerful railroad connections, but those who knew his work intimately were quick to point out that he never neglected the details of either his business or his public career.

Mr. Depew married twice. His first wife was Elize Hegeman, whom he married in 1871, and by whom he had one son, Chauncey M. Depew, Jr. She died in 1893. His second wife was May Palmer, whom he married in 1901. His recipe for longevity was: "Work, temperance and fun."

SPORT CHAT

The Junior Football League, starting its season on April 21, will be once again the first on the outdoor sporting field this year. The senior baseball and football leagues might well take a lesson out of their book and get started a little earlier than has been their custom. The evenings are lengthening out now and lots of fine weather is going to waste. Yet neither baseball or football associations have even started to organize yet. The full outdoor sporting season might well start here in April and thus make a full six months of it.

Gene Tunney and Tex Rickard both have issued statements flatly denying rumors from New York that Tom Heeny has been given the call for the next championship fight. They said they had not even seen Charley Harvey, Heeny's manager. Neither Rickard nor Tunney would elaborate on the statement that Heeny had not been given the call.

Men's and ladies' curling clubs at Prince George elected officers last week at their annual dinner and dance in the Prince George Hotel. The presentation of cups to the winning rinks of the past winter also took place. The men elected M. S. Morrell as president, succeeding W. L. Hornsby, resigned and made J. C. Pidgeon, vice-president and C. C. Wright, secretary. The ladies selected Mrs. C. C. Jones as their president with Mrs. S. J. Watson vice-president and Mrs. B. G. Parker as secretary.

Ralph Smith, who sailed for the south last night and during his absence will visit Vancouver, Seattle, Kelso, Portland and other cities, will look them over with a view to arranging another match here for Jimmy McDonald of Vancouver who took the local hope, Dido Gurvich, into camp last week. As a result of the two successful McDonald-Gurvich bouts, the boxing game in Prince Rupert looks to be due for a season of prosperity. The interest of the public has been aroused more generally than possibly ever before and Jimmy McDonald has won a lot of friends who are anxious to see him in action again. Possibly, there may be another match with Dido Gurvich when he returns in the summer from his training out south.

Now Dido Gurvich has suffered his first defeat, and a very honorable one at that, it will be for him to make his plans accordingly if he has any idea of going ahead with the boxing game. In his second bout with Jimmy McDonald of Vancouver, Dido showed at least that he has plenty of staying power and that it is going to take a good deal stronger and different kind of a fighter, clever and able as the southern boy may be, to put him out. Capacity to stand the gaff in face of difficulties is something very valuable for a boxer to have and Dido has that. The local boy, however, does not yet know quite enough about the science of boxing. He is still somewhat of a slugger inclined to go blind when attacked. If anything, it was in ring generalship where McDonald put it over him.

Experience is something that every boxer must have and that is what Dido now finds himself mainly lacking. To get that it looks, like we have suggested before, that he must do some travelling. He does not need to feel disheartened at all. If he wants to be, there is still the chance for him to be more than a small town boxer. And any criticism that Dido may now get in urging him to use all his faculties is for his own good. There is nobody more than the Daily News would like to see him make a name for himself in the ring—if that is his ambition. In any such effort, the home town boy may rest assured that he shall get plenty of local support.

FRANK ALDRIDGE IS WINNER IN LEGION BILLIARD TOURNAMENT

Frank Aldridge won the final of the Canadian Legion billiard handicap tournament at the end of the week by defeating Sir Bird 200 to 160. This will probably be the last of a number of such tournaments which have been held during the winter by the Canadian Legion.

Around The World With Sport Fans

Specialization in sport is not cultivated so much in Britain as it is in America. The English sportsman prefers to have a "whack" at everything in the sporting line, though the dissemination of his activities means that he may never be a champion at one thing. What does it matter, anyway?

Ty Cobb recently cleaned up nearly a quarter of a million dollars on the stock market but he will continue to play baseball, he says. If he goes on making money easy like that his baseball days won't last long.

King Alfonso of Spain has earned the reputation of being a sportsman says an Eastern sport writer. He plays a better than average game of polo, races a stable of horses, is a fair performer at tennis, and shoots golf in the eighties. But he will not stand so well in Canada unless he explains the rule whereby Canadian boats, especially the Bluenose, "champion fishing schooner, are barred from the transatlantic race for his cup. It would seem the sporting thing to do to allow the Bluenose or other Canadian entrant to compete. And Canadian yachting enthusiasts will feel that way about it until His Majesty tells why the United States only, instead of all America, is permitted to send its racing craft into the race from Sandy Hook to Santander against Spanish ships. Certainly there will be no traffic congestion on the Atlantic.

In the old country, they are playing international badminton matches. Quite recently England beat Ireland 9 to 0.

An old timer remarks that the reason he does not like taking part in public sport events is that the best players

High Blood Pressure and Health

MONDAY HEALTH TALK by R. E. EYOLFSON, D.C., Ph.C.

High blood pressure is a condition which is especially prevalent among people past middle life. Its danger lies in the fact that the patient is usually unaware of its existence until paralysis or other serious conditions overtake him. If you would reduce your high blood pressure you should employ Chiropractic adjustments which eliminate its cause.

I take blood pressure measurements by standard methods, and am in a position to give expert advice, as well as a correct interpretation of the findings. Your consultation is invited.
