GOVERNMENT ROAD REVENUE IS UP

FERRY VESSEL IN WATER AT SHIPYARD THIS AFTERNOON

Canadian National Railways Shows Increase Net Earnings of About Seventeen Millions

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—Sir Henry Thornton has a cheering New Year message for the people of Canada. He states that the net earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the first 11 months of 1928 show net earnings for the system of $58,549,291, as against $41,459,707 for a similar period of 1927.

This is a great contrast to the condition of the road when Sir Henry took hold of it. The increase reflects the prosperous condition of Canada and also indicates the excellent present management of the road, which is now one of the finest railway systems in the world.

NO NEW YEAR HONORS RESULT KING'S ILLNESS

No Change in Condition of Royal Patient, but Improvement Over Week Ago

LONDON, Dec. 27.—It was officially stated at 3 o'clock this afternoon that there was no change in King George's condition. Although slowness of progress is still emphasized, it was understood today that general improvement is very marked as compared with a week ago. Doctors were believed to have confidence in the King's recuperative powers, which were not existent previously. There were indications that the anxiety of the royal family was lessening.

Announcement was made officially that because of the King's illness the prime minister would be unable to make the customary submission for the New Year's honor list which would be postponed.

TUG ROOSEVELT BEING TOWED

Starr Still Anchored, With Other Vessels Standing By

SEATTLE, Dec. 27.—Fair weather ended the worries for the present, at least, over the safety of the steamer Starr and the tug Roosevelt, which was disabled while towing the Starr. The tug is in tow of the gasboat Attu, heading for Latouche, Alaska, while the Starr is riding safely at anchor off Wessell's Reef, with the steamer Northwestern standing by. It is believed that the coast guard cutter Unalga is also at the scene.

MORE BRANCHES C. N. RAILWAYS

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—The Canadian National Railways, it was announced today, will ask parliament at the next session for authority to construct an additional branch of mileage. The program to be carried out within three years.

GRANBY MELON IS TO BE CUT

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Stockholders of the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting and Power Company of Vancouver today approved of distribution to themselves of $1,815,922 by authorizing the transfer of this amount from the excess current assets to the depreciation and depletion reserve fund. This capital return will be made in sums to be determined by directors from time to time.

WILL DISCUSS LIQUOR RUNNING

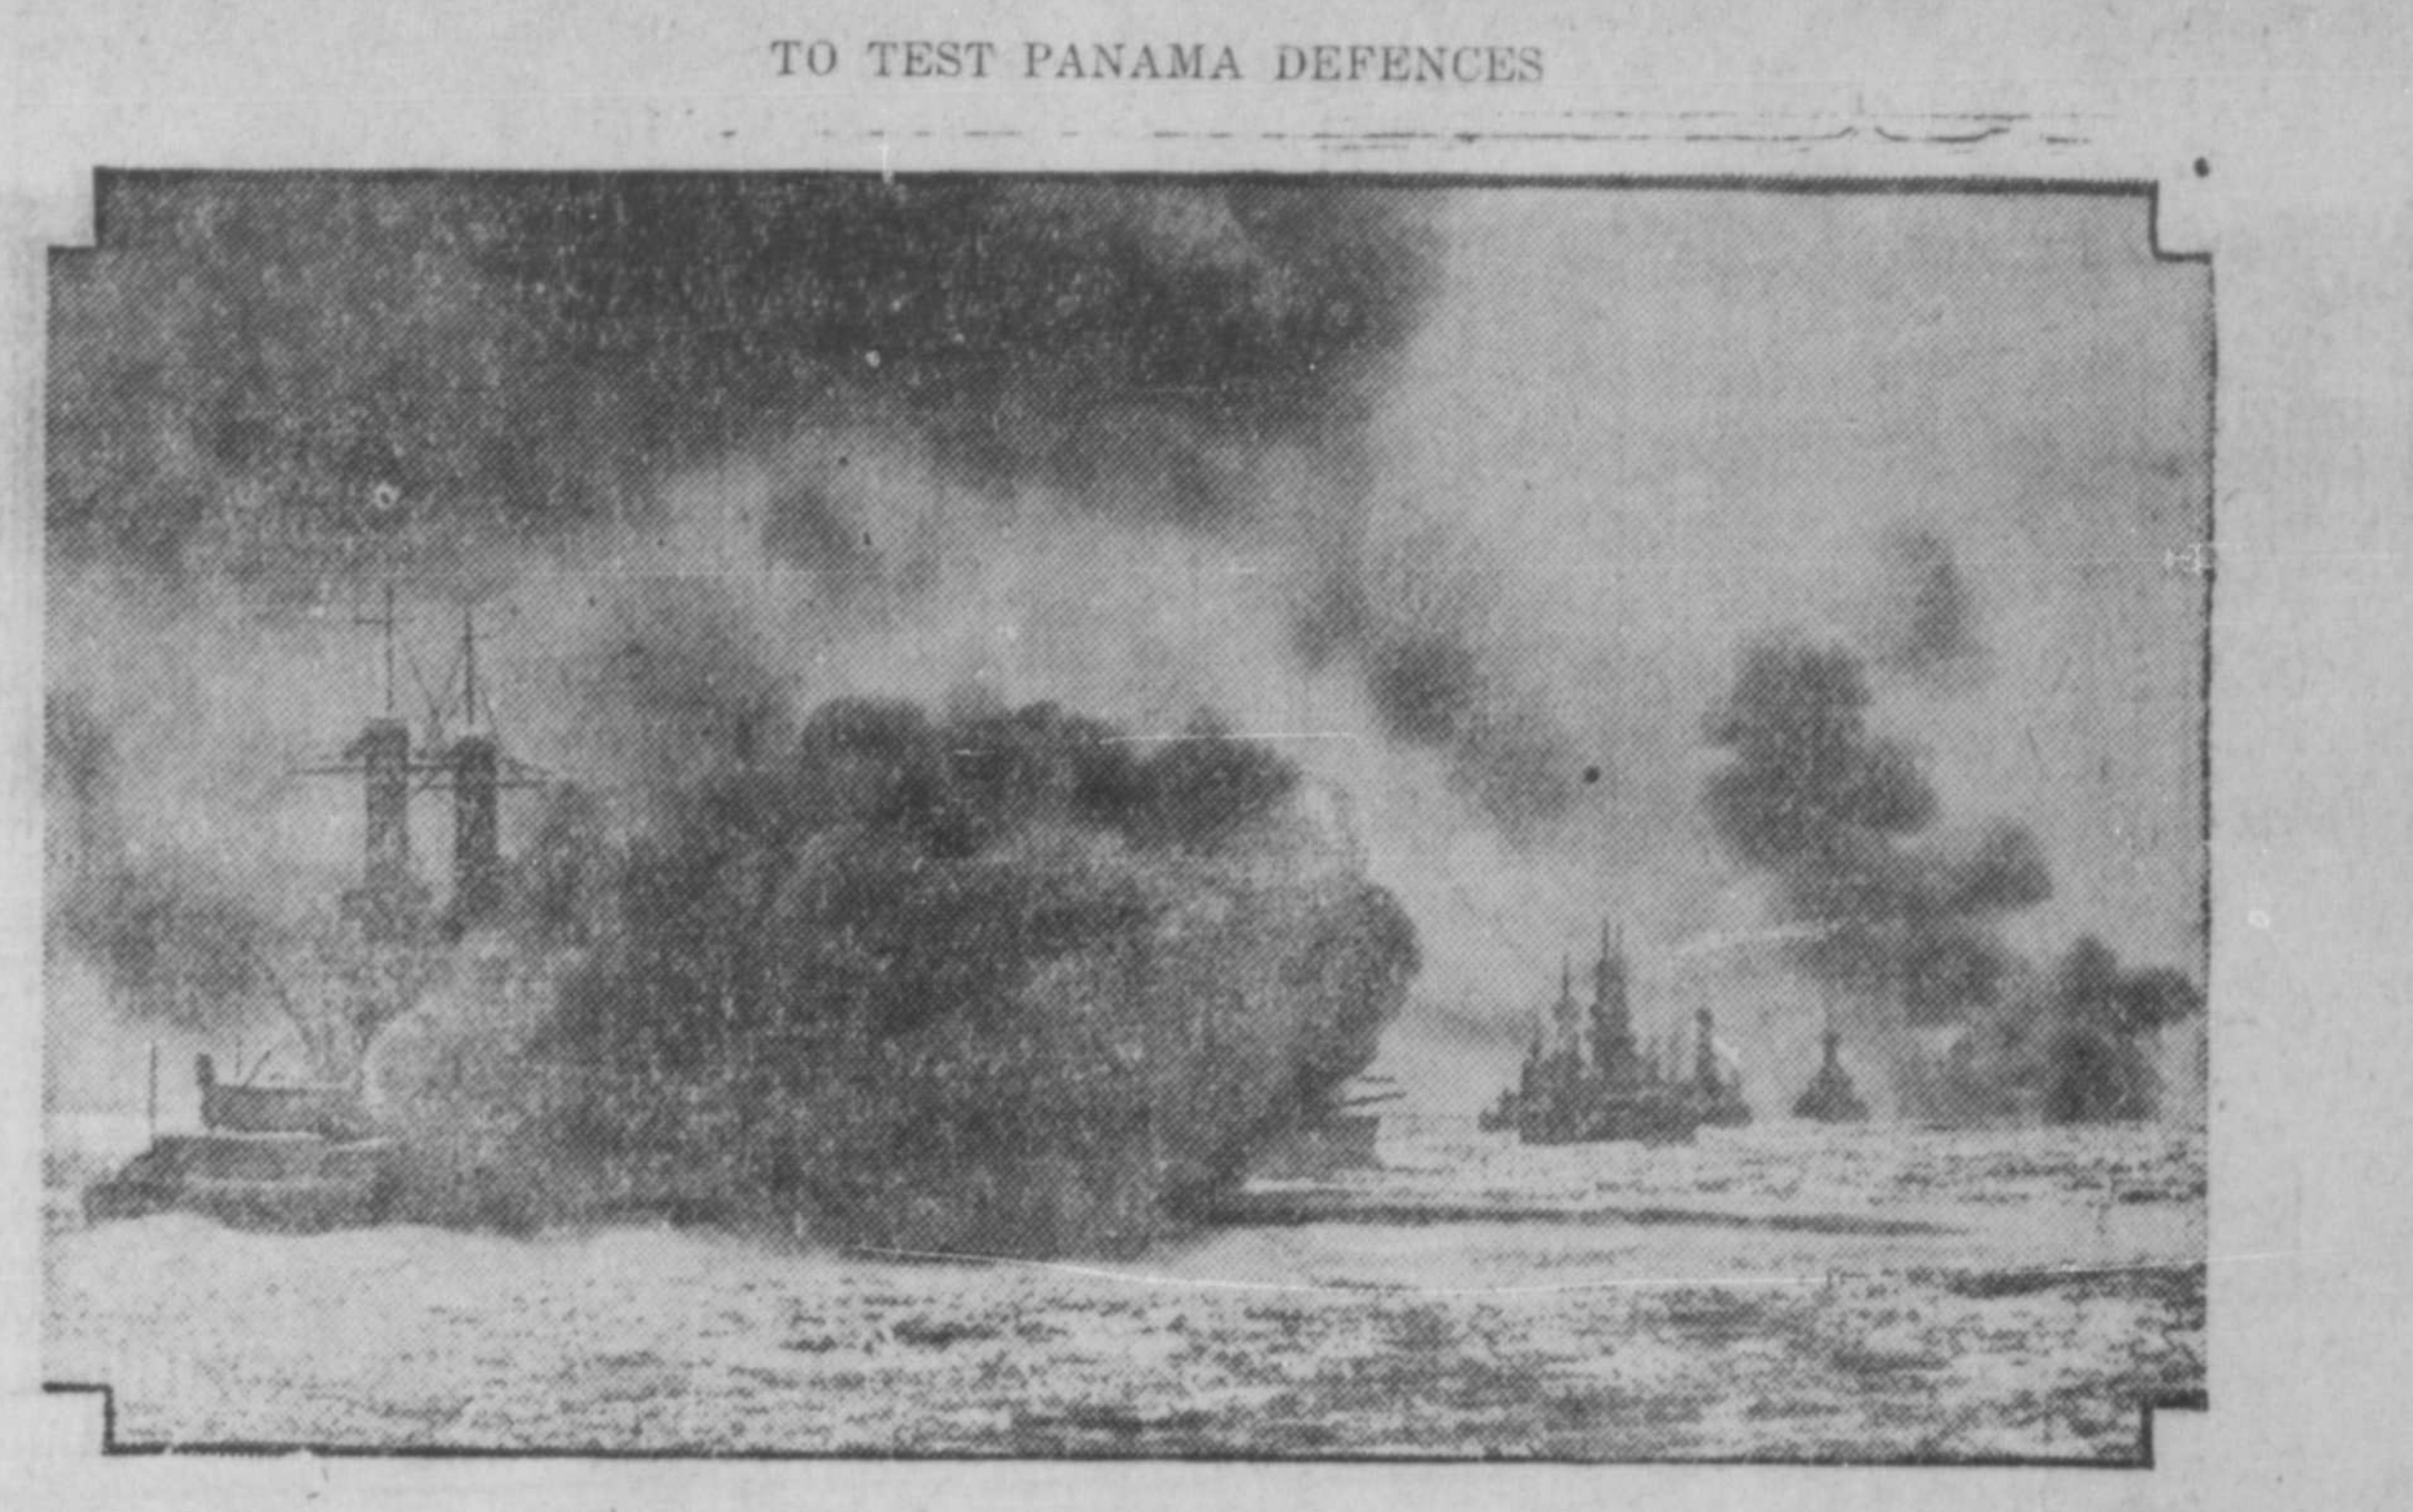

Representatives of Canadian and U. S. Governments to Confer in Ottawa

OTTAWA, Dec. 27.—Representatives of the governments of Canada and United States will meet in Ottawa on Monday, January 7, to discuss the steps to take for the suppression of commercial smuggling.

It is practically certain that a large part of the time will be devoted to dealing with the smuggling of liquor from Canada into the United States.

The chief purpose of this Conference, which has been called at the request of the United States, is to arrange for more complete cooperation in the suppression of the international traffic in liquor on this continent. Canada will probably be asked:

- (1) To refuse clearances to boats carrying liquor to United States port.
- (2) To make the violation of the customs laws (that is rum-running) an extraditable offence.
- (3) To permit American revenue cutters to enter Canadian territorial waters.
- (4) To remove from Canadian registry rum-running vessels that are really owned in the United States.

TO TEST PANAMA DEFENCES
The greatest concentration of U.S. warcraft since 1923 will mark the war games which start in Pacific waters next month as a test of the Panama canal defences. Subsequently the men-of-war will pay friendly calls at ports visited by President-elect Herbert Hoover. The photo shows the battle fleet in broken formation, dodging torpedoes.

KING'S CONDITION IS WORSE TONIGHT

(Latest Bulletin)

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The King's physicians issued the following bulletin at 8:30 tonight: "During today His Majesty's condition has not been so satisfactory. There has been a disinclination to take nourishment and the strength has been less well maintained. The pulse remains steady."

CHINA SHOULD FORGE AHEAD

LONDON, Dec. 27.—England has recognized the Nationalist government of China and made a treaty with them in regard to matters of trade. The result is likely to be that British trade with the Orient will increase by leaps and bounds.

China has been a country in which it was always difficult to do business. There has been no central government strong enough to enforce laws and protect those who prospered. The result has been that, in spite of the cheap labor of the country, competition with other countries was impossible.

It is thought that under the new government all this will change. Gradually the Nanking government will get complete control and will educate and revive until in a few years China will be industrially and otherwise among the leading nations of the world. This may seem like a too optimistic picture, but those in close touch with the Chinese people see great possibilities in them now that they have a stable, energetic and modern government.

ESKIMO LOST LIFE TRYING TO SAVE FELLOWS

SEATTLE, Dec. 27.—Word reached here yesterday that Anna Yakluk, aged 22, an Eskimo, sacrificed her life to save 75 other girls from fire danger at the United States bureau of education industrial school at Dillingham, southwestern Alaska, last Saturday. Gasoline with which she was filling a lamp exploded. Although intensifying her own burns, she broke the glass door and threw the can of blazing gasoline outside. Olga Powers and Mary Riley, two other girls awakened by the explosion, put out the fire with extinguishers.

The matron, Nurse Greer, wrapped Anna in blankets, smothering the flames from her clothing. The girl was able to walk to hospital and death next day came as a surprise.

Car Barge Launched at Drydock Today, Will Be Completed Soon

Young Lady of Shipyard Staff Officiated at Christening of New Craft When It Took to the Water

Miss Evelyn Macdonald of the dry dock office staff officiated at the christening of the car barge Canadian National No. 107, which was launched from the local shipyard at the high tide early this afternoon. The launching was under the personal direction of G. A. McMillan, superintendent of the dry dock, and everything went smoothly as the big craft, which has been under construction for something over four months, an excellent and speedy job having been made of her, took to the element in which she will serve. The barge will now remain in the water and will be tied up to the dry dock wharf while she is finally completed during the next two or three weeks' time. Quite a crowd of officials and spectators witnessed the launching.

The barge, the contract figure for which was in excess of $100,000, is 270 feet long and has depth of 12 feet. It will have three tracks having a total capacity for 17 freight cars. There are three longitudinal bulkheads, five transverse bulkheads and three rudders. Accommodation in a house on the bridge deck aft, 16 feet above the deck of the barge, will include a pilot house and living quarters, including galley, etc., for a crew of eight men. The barge will be fitted with donkey boiler, steam windlasses aft and two capstans at the forward end. There will be a lifeboat and other equipment usual for such craft.

The barge was built in the big shipshed where work on it started last August. It was launched sideways into the water. The craft is of steel throughout. The bow is curved in order that it may fit into slips.

The contract calls for completion of the barge by the middle of January. It will be used in freight service between Vancouver Island and the lower mainland.

It was exactly 1:20 p.m. when the barge slipped easily and safely into the water.

TRADER LOST NORTH PACIFIC

Vessels Asked To Report Italian Vessel Overdue at Japan

SEATTLE, Dec. 27.—Vessels of the north Pacific were asked today to search for the Italian steamer Guilda Scudari, which is long overdue at Kobe, Japan. It sailed from here on November 5 with a crew of 25. Since then her position has not been reported. The navy department has asked all vessels of the northern trade routes to watch for the craft.

The Scudari was formerly the Emperor of Montreal and a Canadian trader. She was built at Port Arthur, Ont., in 1919, and is of steel, with little more than 2000 gross tons.

TAX EMPLOYEES GET INCREASE

OTTAWA, Dec. 27.—More than 1000 officers and clerks of the federal income tax division throughout Canada received substantial gifts on Christmas Eve in the form of increases in salary retroactive to April 1 last. The raises vary from $40 to nearly $800 per year, according to the position held.

Proposal to Organize a Musical Festival in Prince Rupert Laid Before Rotary Club by Speaker

That Prince Rupert should organize and carry out a musical festival for northern British Columbia was the proposal made at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club this afternoon by Rev. A. Wilson, pastor of the United Church.

Mr. Wilson said the cultural value of such an organization could hardly be estimated. Young people here had little opportunity to hear good music and thus their education was not as complete as in the larger centres in spite of the advantages of radio and gramophones.

Mr. Wilson pointed out that the chief difficulty in the way was that of securing proper adjudicators. This would cost a good deal of money but it could be done if the people here were keen on it. Already the matter had been discussed a good deal but this was the difficulty in the way. He personally did not see this as an insuperable difficulty. The musical people in general,

SPORT CHAT

Local fans will welcome the inter-High School boys games which are to be played here this week-end between Terrace and Prince Rupert. They should be as interesting an attraction in the break between the first and second half of the local league as were the girls' games between Anyox and Prince Rupert last week.

The curling season has been auspiciously opened at Prince George with nineteen rinks in the club. Later in the season a big bonspiel will be held. The ice is not very good as yet owing to soft weather but the players are having a lot of fun nevertheless. M. S. Morrell is president; J. C. Pidgeon, vice-president, and C. C. Wright secretary of the club.

The Omineca Ski Club is planning an attractive and enjoyable program for the January Carnival and expects a large number of visitors in Burns Lake for the occasion. Many novel and interesting races are planned and a special effort is being made to interest the boys and girls in various contests. There will also be dog sleigh races and special events are being planned for the Indians.

The hockey league has been opened at Prince-George with four teams entered—Bankers, Elks, Legion and Canadian National Railway. In the first game the Bankers won 6 to 4 over the Elks and in the second, the Canadian Legion beat the C.N.R. 4 to 2. The games are attracting a lot of interest and are usually attended by large crowds of fans.

League basketball games are being continued at Anyox and are attracting much interest, some fine play being turned in. Now that the youngsters from the smelter town have been here, it is hoped before the end of the season, there may be some Senior competition between Anyox and Prince Rupert. In the last Senior game, Mechanics beat Contractor 32 to 29 in a tight game. Beach beat Mine by a single point in the Ladies' division.

Around The World With Sport Fans

(By The Tramp)

Only the development of younger players will re-establish Australia in the high position she once held in tennis circles. For the third time in four years, the "Aussies" announce their decision to remain out of Davis Cup competition. Patterson and Hawkes have seen their best days in the tennis world, and realize it. They are not inclined to go through the hard training, the long trips and the strenuous competition necessitated by Davis Cup ties. Until new stars can take their places, Australia cannot hope to regain the most-coveted prize tennis has to offer.

The Victoria Boxing Club has secured the services of Harvey Holliday for a return bout there Saturday night, against Albie Davies. The Victoria flash gave the Mainlander an artistic trimming in their last appearance in the capital a short time ago in a ten-round bout. Saturday's event will be over the same route.

"Spark Plug" Joe Boyd, Aberdeen light-heavyweight, may have fought two draws with "Young" Firpo once upon a time, but he certainly was no match for the crafty and heavy-hitting "Dusty" Miller, in the main event of the Victoria Boxing Club's fistic show at the Tillicum gymnasium last night, says the Victoria Colonist of Sunday. Chief of Police John Fry enacted the role of life-saver for the visiting mitslinger when he ordered Referee Tommy Burge to stop the slaughter in the fifth round. At this stage of the game, "Sparky" was in one corner of the ring, crouched up with his banded arms protecting him from the onslaught of Miller's telling punches.

ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

Editor, Daily News:—

I, Jack Gurvich as manager of Dido Gurvich, accept the challenge of Alf Harding. Dido has beat Harding once and beat him easily. If you remember Dido was not fit to fight and only went in there so as not to disappoint the fans and the promoter. He was a mass of boils, but you can bet that Dido will be in first class shape for this bout as there are other matches depending on the outcome of this and if Mr. Harding does not listen to the birdies this time it will be a big disappointment. There will be no waiting for last round flashes.

Yours truly,
JACK GURVICH

VANCOUVER WON HOCKEY MATCH

This Was Fifth Consecutive Win on Own Ice and Shutout For Visitors

VANCOUVER, Dec. 27.—The Vancouver Lions won last night's Coast League hockey game against Seattle Eskimos by a score of two goals to nothing. This is Vancouver's fifth straight win at home and also the fifth consecutive shutout administered to visiting teams on their own ice.

The Lions scored one goal in the opening period and held the lead until the third, when they scored another for good measure, all the time preventing the visitors from countering, although the Eskimos fought hard throughout.

CHANGES MADE IN BASEBALL

1929 Teams in Big Leagues Will Look Considerably Different From Last Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—It may be that 1928 will become known in baseball circles as the year of the "Big Trade Winds."

The playing season is no more than two months past, yet already some clubs have so radically revised their rosters that a fan may be excused for being a bit bewildered as he sees apparent fixtures shunted off to some other major league team or else into the minors.

It has become an annual feature for Rogers Hornsby to go on the market and Emil Fuchs of the Boston Braves did not disappoint the waiting public. He graciously gave the "Rajah" to the Chicago Cubs for Percy Jones, Freddy Maguire, several rookie players and a fat bundle of cash.

Not to be outdone by their National League rivals, the Boston Red Sox have consented to let Washington have Buddy Myer, crack third baseman, for the trifling consideration of five players, in place of Myer, who was the Red Sox' best batter last year and the league's leading exponent of the art of stolen bases, Bill Carrigan, manager of the Red Sox, will have to find room for Horace Lisenbee and Milt Gaston, pitchers, Bobby Reeves and Grant Gillis, infielders, and Ed. Bigelow, a southern Association outfielder, who clouted minor league pitching with abandon.

Pittsburgh needed a left-handed pitcher so the Pirates sent Glenn Wright to the Brooklyn Robins for Jess Petty and Harry Riconda, the later an infielder when he's not sitting on the bench.

George Uhle, who has had his ups and downs at Cleveland, will see whether the weather at Detroit is any better for his pitching arm, while Jackie Travener and Ken Holloway doing their infielding and pitching, as the case may be, for the Indians.

These have been the major deals of the off-season.

An Irishman said to a friend as they were about to enter the dining-room: "If you can guess the number of eggs I'm going to eat for dinner, you can have them both."
"Two," said the other.
"Take 'em," said the Irishman, "and curse the man that told ye."

HAD A CRACK W' SCOTTIE

TAWATINAW, Alta., Dec. 26.—Donald Rindison, well-known Rochester farmer, better known as "Scotty," says hunting is a fine game—so long as you're the hunter and not the hunted.

Donald was out with his trusty 30-30 the other day, in the Clear Lake district, engaged in the truly Scots pastime of getting a good juicy haunch of deer meat without having to part with any silver, forbye.

Peering through a cut line in the timber, he spotted in the distance, a party of four hunters, and being of a friendly nature, decided to wait for them to come up, to "hae a wee crack w' em." (A "crack" in the vernacular, is just a general all-around conversation, on topics of local interest).

The hunters spotted Donald, and decided to have a "crack" at him, too—but not the same sort of crack. Immediately thereafter, the silence of the deep woods was punctured by four shots and 400 deep Gallic curses.

Donald's right thumb was likewise punctured, and another bullet almost provided a new parting for the Scotsman's hair.

"It wis no' sae bad," Donald said afterwards, "but ye micht hae spared ma claes."

Donald's overalls were pierced on the right side, by the same bullet that punctured his thumb!

INSANITY AND CRIME

Crime is usually the result of insanity. People in a normal frame of mind do not commit murder. Insanity may be the result of disease, heredity or too much introspection. People who live very much alone, either in the country or in the cities, are apt to become eccentric and this accentuated becomes insanity. The sheep herders of Montana often go crazy and so do men who live to themselves in outlying parts of British Columbia.

It is probable that there is no particular increase in crimes of recent years, but that the collections of news has been so perfected that very few crimes happen that go unrecorded.

Many people object to the publishing of news of crimes, yet they go to the movies to see crimes enacted in the pictures or they read Shakespeare. It is well that we should know what sort of world we are living in, so that, if possible, steps may be taken to improve conditions. If we learned only of the beautiful things of life, we should be ill-prepared to go out into the world. At the same time, it is not wise to allow ourselves to dwell too much on the abnormalities of life, but rather feed our minds with thoughts of beauty, health, joy and peace.

STEWART'S GOOD WISHES

In its Christmas greeting the Stewart News says "The Stewart News wishes the world and Prince Rupert a very happy Christmas and a prosperous New Year."

Prince Rupert is singled out for special mention, doubtless because it looms large in the minds of the people of northern camp. We hope it will loom much larger prett soon. At any rate, Prince Rupert will reciprocate the wishes of the Stewart News. The people here hope to see a large city at the head of Portland Canal. They hope to see a railway operating, dozen of mines shipping their ore, possibly a smelter in operation, and great prosperity coming to the people of that live town. In the bringing about of this, it is hoped Prince Rupert will be one of the factors, if only a small one. Prince Rupert people are big enough to wish success to every section of this great country.

NEW WARSHIP FOR GERMANY

Ten Thousand Ton Craft Expected to Be Mounted With Six-Inch Guns

LONDON, Dec. 27. — The Daily News' naval correspondent says: The opposition of the Socialist Party having been overcome, there is no longer any doubt that a new ship of 10,000 tons will be laid down immediately by Germany to replace the obsolete battleship Braunschweig.

This ship is often referred to erroneously as an armored cruiser. Under the terms of the peace treaty, Germany is not permitted to build cruisers exceeding 6000 metric tons in displacement, nor battleships of more than 10,000 tons.

It may be assumed, therefore, that the new ship should be classed as a small battleship for coast defence. No doubt her speed will be higher than the nominal 18 knots of the Braunschweig, but it certainly will not approach that of contemporary 10,000-ton cruisers, ranging from 31.5 to 36 knots.

Diesel engines have been selected as the method of propulsion. The ship will be unusually broad of beam, with comparatively light draught—doubtless with a view to possible in-shore operations in the shallow waters of the Baltic. This suggests that her machinery will have to be arranged on a novel plan, in view of the amount of head room required for an ordinary Diesel installation.

Various armaments have been proposed for this singularly original design. The most plausible includes six 11-inch guns as its main feature. It is by no means out of the question for heavier guns than this to be mounted. But the question of weights is bound to enter into the matter.

The Krupp 12 and 14-inch pieces weigh 47 and 75 tons respectively, against only 36 tons for the 11-inch. It would not be possible, therefore, to carry so many of the bigger guns on a displacement of 10,000 tons, and the consequent reduction in volume of fire is unlikely to be accepted.

In other directions every possible expedient is being adopted to save weight. A very high grade of steel is being used throughout. Electric welding is to take the place of riveting, with a resultant saving in weight officially stated at between 400 and 500 tons.

SCHOOL MATRON OF SLAVE LAKE

One of Three Women on Northern Mission Field Tells of Work There

EDMONTON, Dec. 22.—Traveling four days by wagon through mud which at times threatened to be unquarable and sleeping by night in the open until the ninety miles between the Anglican Mission school at Wabasca and Northern Slave Lake was covered was the experience of Miss H. Dawes, matron of the school, who arrived from the north recently. With two other white women, the nurse employed by the Indian department, and a teacher in the Indian school, Miss Dawes makes the third and last of the female population—white—within 40 miles of St. John's school, where 20 young Indian boys and girls are in residence. There is little time for loneliness, however, because, in addition to the work of education, there is the health work, and many services these women go out to perform for their Indian neighbors. Miss Dawes said it was not unusual for them to return from some of the Indian homes at 2 o'clock in the morning.

Then there is the farm in connection with the school, with milk to be taken care of and butter made to supply the institution. Vegetables are grown in quantities that last the year around and chickens raised on the farm furnish the egg supply. Christmas is the busiest day of the year for those in charge of the school. In addition to a very fine concert for which the children are trained and the visit of Santa Claus, Christmas dinner is served to everyone who comes far or near to attend religious services.

News of the Mines

AROUND PRINCE RUPERT
Operations on Babine-Bonanza Starting; Owen Lake Properties Surveyed; Eastern Capital in McBride District

Hauling of large quantities of heavy machinery into the Babine Bonanza mine, where the Anglo-London Corporation will carry out extensive development, has commenced. Preliminary organization work at the property had been going on some time previous. Extensive sampling of the ore in the various workings on the Cronin mine, together with active work in reconstructing the road to the property, has occupied the attention of the working crew for some time past. Now the road is in good condition for winter traffic and barns and cabins have been erected along the way.

At the mine considerable repairs and improvements have been carried out on the camp buildings and a compressor house has been built. The result of the sampling and assay work has been very encouraging, returns indicating the conservative nature of the ore valuations of the late James Cronin. Specimens were taken from all levels on the property, as well as from raises between tunnels. Altogether there are five main development tunnels on different levels, these extending all the way from a few hundred feet to 2000 feet in length with consistent values throughout.

Allan Rutherford, B.C.L.S., has returned to Smithers from Owen Lake after completing the survey of 44 mineral claims for F. H. Taylor. Good progress is being made on machinery installation at Owen Lake.

A mining party, headed by E. H. Errington, brother of the president of the Sherritt-Gordon Mining Co., is in the McBride district building a road to the headwaters of the Rauschswap River. The object is to reach mining properties at the head of this river which were recently acquired from the original discoverers. One hundred thousand dollars, it is reported, is to be spent on road building. Horses and men are already at work hauling supplies and building camps.

Grace and Beauty in the Boudoir Via This Unusual Negligee

Are you tall and slim, with coal black hair? Then here is the negligee for you. It is of coral panne velvet with an elaborate, draped, shirred and puffed train that flows really behind. The paniers extending from the unusual sleeves reach the floor and impart the note of careless luxury which characterizes this model.

LAME AND VELVET IN A CHARMING COMBINATION

Here is a dress to avoid if you are short—and a dress to clasp to your heart if you are a wee bit too tall. Contrasting colors in waste and skirt tend to make the wearer appear shorter.

The blouse of this charming afternoon frock is of gold lame, while the double tiered skirt is fashioned of sheer golden brown velvet. The velvet is used also for the little tier on the end of the cape and for the rosette on the girdle.

antelope with symmetrical lines and a large brown clasp. Lower down is the black antelope bag with gold cut initials that is so essential a phase of the smartly dressed woman's wardrobe.

Still another bag of unusual charm is the printed velvet evening purse, with gold cord and tassel, shown to the lower left. The hat to its right is a Paillette turban in gold, for evening wear.

At the top of the column you will see the new "fisherman's" hat developed in "cove" blue felt, and so appropriate with sports costumes.

The scarf ensemble in Persian lamb, consisting of turban, cuff muff and shoulder scarf, is a striking example of a sensational mode, that bids fair to stay with us.

The Black and White Scheme Invades the Formal Mode

For years now the combination of black and white has been chic. This color union has made its attractiveness felt in the field of sports wear, informal afternoon clothes and lingerie. But now it is hitting the high spots in formal fashions.

Here is an ensemble that is a superlative example of the black and white mode. The top of the dress is of white crepe with rhinestones in an all-over design; the skirt is of sheer black velvet.

Black velvet also fashions the stunning evening wrap that is so outstanding a feature of the ensemble. Collar, cuffs and above-the-hem band are of luxurious white fox.

The Small Fur Muff Takes Another Bow

There is no doubt about it—the fur muff, so popular with our grandmothers, has returned to favor. Everywhere winter ensembles, sports coats and fur models are being shown with little roll-shaped finger-warmers that are smart and practical.

This brown cloth coat is a typical example. Lavishly furred with beaver on the collar, cuffs and hem, it is accompanied by a beaver muff almost heart-shaped. Note that the muff is outlined in the cloth used for the coat.

Black Velvet Again, but This Time Very V-Shaped

Here is a dinner frock of perfect design. Not a line is out of harmony, and for the woman who favors deep-cut décolletage this model is superb.

The entire dress is built on V-shaped lines. Notice the interesting lines leading from the deep neck in back—they are a clever "tie-up" from the waist to the skirt. This latter, by the way, is flowing and graceful, with at least eight points touching the floor.

If you are dark and slender and fair skinned, you need not worry about the popularity of stiff fabrics for evening wear. Because they are as becoming to the young girl as the chiffons and soft satins of last year—and infinitely smarter.

Here is a charming taffeta dress of China red, with a sunburst of small mirrors on the side, one row of which extends down the elongated side of the hem. Much of the fullness of the dress is brought to this side also.

The Uneven Hemline Invades the Field of Afternoon Coats

The uneven hemline which features with such success in formal coats, evening dresses and elaborate afternoon gowns is demonstrated here in a smart afternoon coat of navy blue wool.

Silver fox—an entire skin—forms the short shawl collar that is so important a factor in warm coats. The odd fur pockets, a departure from the ever-popular muff, are set diagonally, just below the hips.

A Luxurious Evening Wrap Lavishly Furred

Here is an evening wrap of unusual loveliness. It features the double flared ruffle that is so smart this season—and what is more important—so universally becoming.

Of cerise transparent velvet, this wrap is collared with soft fitch, providing a striking color contrast which is further emphasized by the lining of white satin. It is worn over a white satin evening dress with trailing ends.

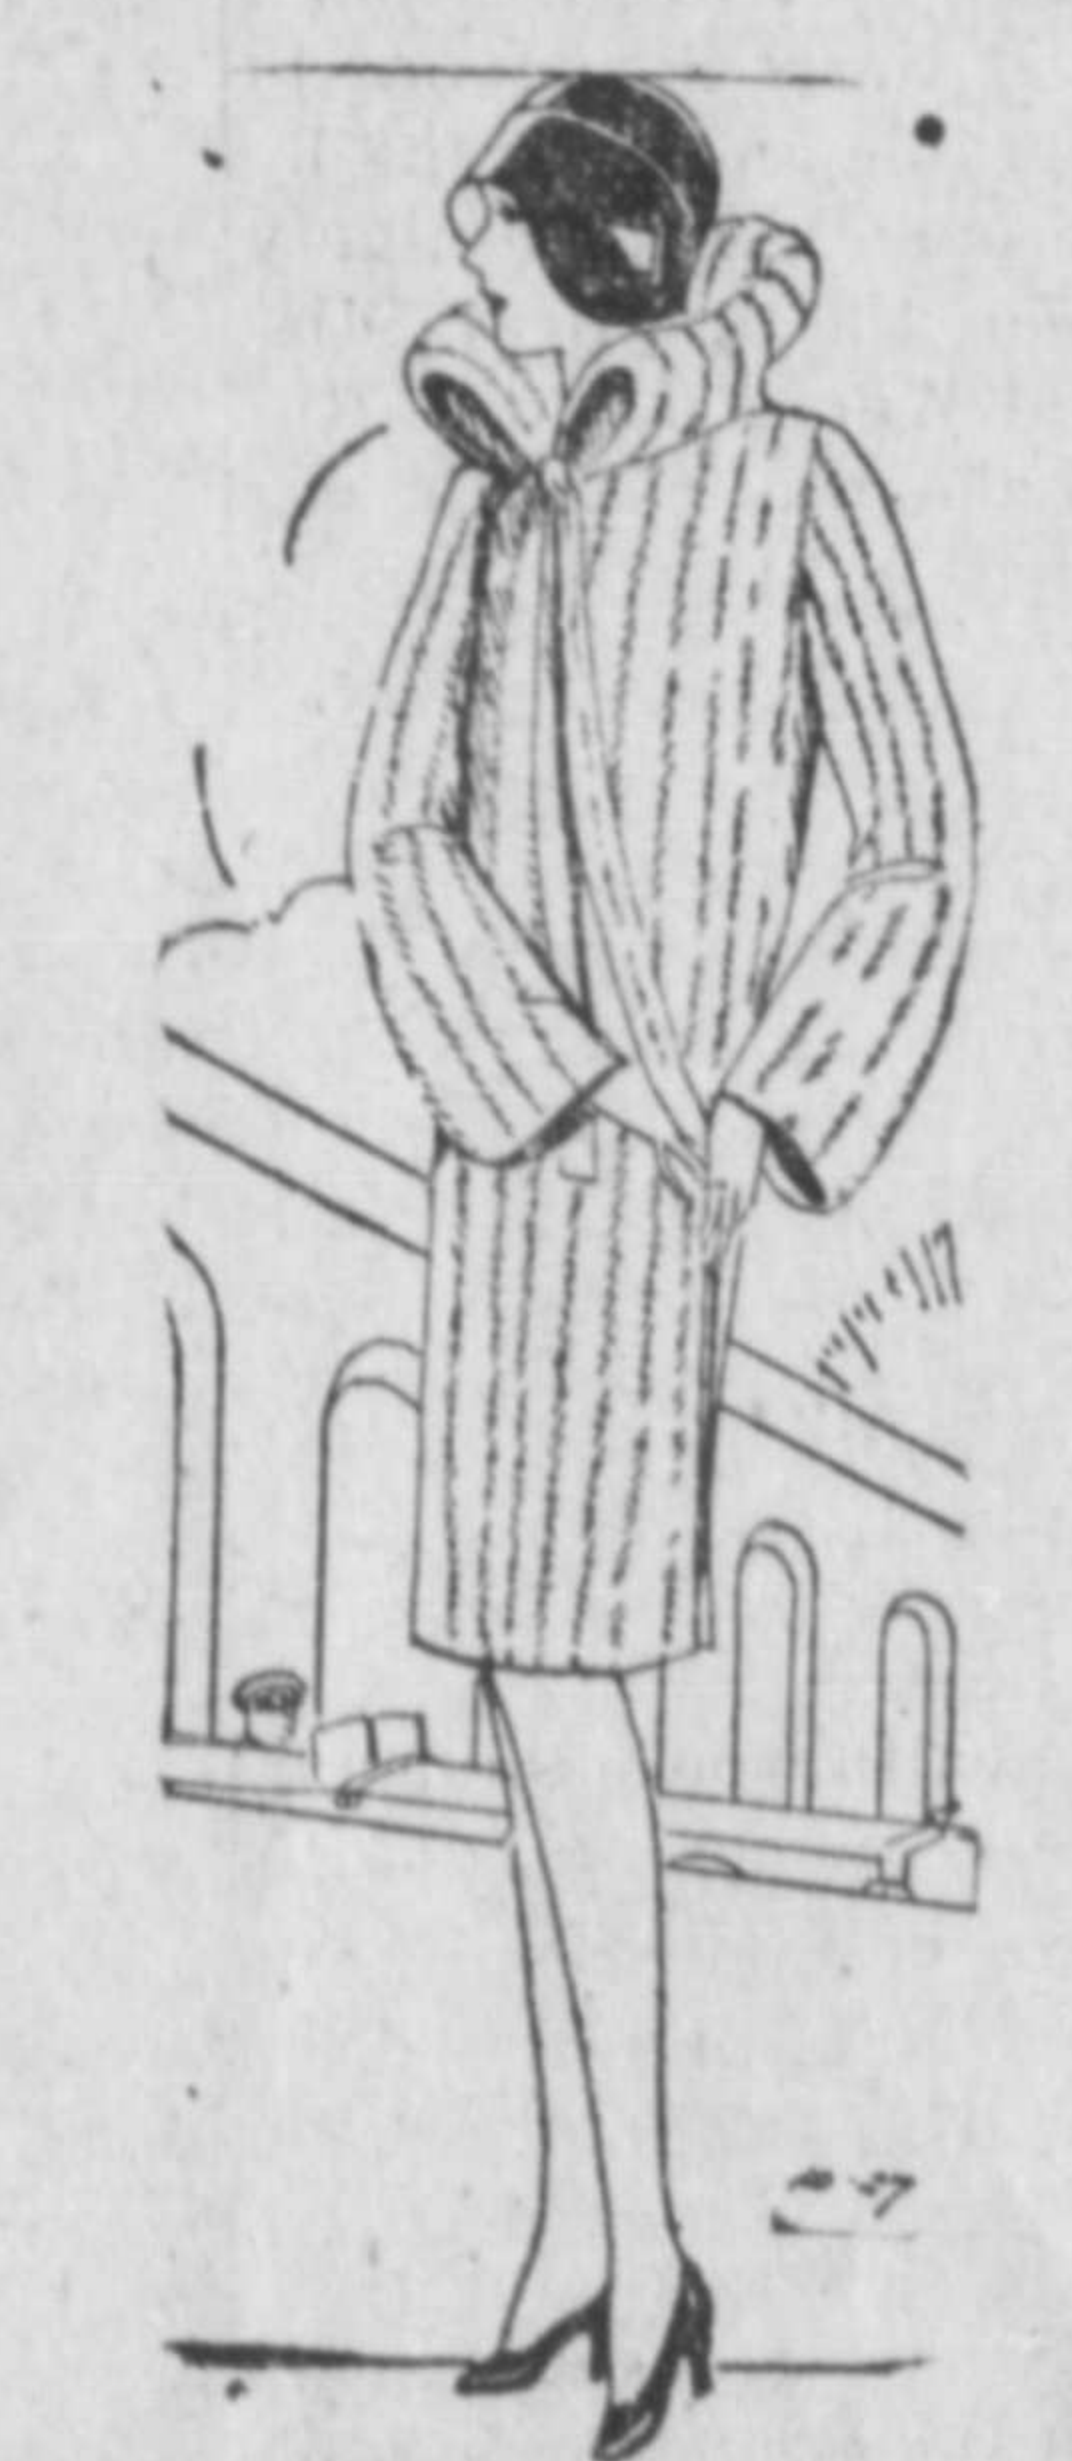

Your winter wardrobe is not complete this season unless it includes a sports ensemble of rough tweed trimmed with one of the flat furs that are so smart now. This ace in fashion's hand is both practical and extremely chic, for the coat is usually long enough to be worn over other dresses.

The unusual feature of this attractive ensemble of gray caracul. The sweater is gray with dark blue cross-stripes and belt, while the smart felt hat is of dark blue and gray.

One of the many reasons why I like summer ermine for a coat is because it is such supple fur. It lends itself so gracefully to draping, never giving that clumsy, thick effect so many of the other furs do.

The coat in the illustration is of ermine. Its straight, simple lines, its wide sleeves, and its high roll collar, knotting at the neck and tying in a narrow, ribbon-like scarf, recommend themselves to you for your attention.

THE HIGH-BORN SWAIN

"John, have you a pocket-knife with you?" "Yes, my Lord." "Then cut me two hearts in this tree, pierced by an arrow!" —Der Wahre Jacole, Berlin.

The Dinner Jacket Serves a Multitude of Purposes

A twin sister to the perfect cocktail jacket is this charming velvet jacket to be worn with dinner dresses in the evening or sleeveless informal frocks in the afternoon.

The one pictured here is of transparent black velvet with a below-the-shoulder cape of the same material. It is worn with a sleeveless dinner gown of velvet and lame, and fastens below.

An Evening Wrap of Unchallenged Queenliness That Boasts a Luxurious Collar

A velvet evening wrap that is as smart as anything designed this season is this regal model with triangular godets and pointed hemline.

It is of cocoa brown velvet, with a large kolinsky collar that entirely surrounds the shoulders. The godets extend as far up in back as the bottom of the shoulder blade—giving that elongated line so desirable this season. The wrap is lined in eggshell satin.

Smart Accessories That Accentuate the Mode

The renewed popularity of antelope as a medium for smart handbags is attested by the two models shown in the illustration. The bag at the top is of brown

A Furred Ensemble for Winter

Afternoons Taht Is Very Smart Here is a winter ensemble with short jacket and wrap-around skirt that has no peer for chic. It is of midnight blue finely woven tweed with insets of gray and collar and cuffs of gray wolf.

While the ensemble shown here is primarily a sports costume, the same model in a more formal fabric such as broadcloth, would be equally attractive.

CAPTAIN CAREY, WHO WENT DOWN WITH S.S. VESTRIS

MISS MARY DOBB IS LOVELY BRIDE

United in Marriage at Cathedral to George Anderson

A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral beautifully decorated for the occasion, last evening at 7:30 o'clock, when Miss Mary A. Dobb, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dobb, Tatlow Street, and for some time on the teaching staff of the Borden Street School, became the bride of George J. S. Anderson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson, Taylor Street, and until recently on the staff of the Bank of Montreal here. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. B. Gibson assisted by the Rt. Rev. Bishop G. A. Rix D.D.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," played by Miss Marjorie Lancaster, the bride, beautifully gowned in a dress of white satin with girle of seed pearls, white satin shoes and beautiful wedding veil held by a crown of orange blossoms, and carrying a bouquet of ophelia roses and maiden hair fern, entered on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. She was attended by Miss Kathleen Burnett of Terrace, who was attired in a dress of shell pink georgette with over skirt of lace. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. J. Hadden, sister of the groom, was matron of honor, and wore a dove grey dress of crepe back satin with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums. The groom was attended by Bert Walters of the Bank of Montreal, while Louis Arrol and E. Allistone were ushers. During the signing of the register Miss Annie Duff sang "O, Promise Me."

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The rooms were tastefully decorated and Mrs. Dobb, in a dress of navy georgette, with Mrs. Anderson, in a dress of black crepe back satin, received the guests, while the young couple, standing under wedding bells received congratulations and best wishes from their many friends.

Alderman P. H. Linzey proposed the toast to the bride and groom to which toast the groom fittingly replied. Delightful refreshments were served, Mrs. J. A. Smith and Mrs. Dibb presiding at the table on which stood the three-tier wedding cake. Miss Norah Rivett cut the ices.

The bride's travelling dress was of sand crepe-back satin, with coat trimmed with badger collar and cuffs, and hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a travelling case, to the bridesmaid, an onyx ring with diamond inset, and to the best man cuff links.

The happy couple left by the ss Prince Rupert for Anyox and Stewart. They will take up residence in Vancouver where the groom is now located.

Many lovely presents were received, testifying to the popularity of the contracting couple.

MORRISON IS AGENT AGAIN

Re-Elected to Represent Deep Sea Fishermen's Union at This Port

Returns from yesterday's voting assure the re-election for his third term of John M. Morrison as local agent for the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union. Preliminary figures give him a lead of 35 over his nearest rival, J. H. Meagher, former agent here. Einar Larsen and Robert Hanna were other candidates.

Though they were voted upon the re-election of F. B. Gill as secretary-treasurer, Roderick McDonald as agent at Seattle and Frank Semers as agent at Ketchikan was actually by acclamation, as none of these three officials had candidates running against them.

Details of the voting for agent at Prince Rupert, Ketchikan and Seattle were as follows:
Hanna—Prince Rupert, 4; Ketchikan, 4; Seattle, 2. Total, 10.
Larsen—Prince Rupert, 18; Ketchikan, 7; Seattle, 5. Total, 30.
Meagher—Prince Rupert, 38; Ketchikan, 5; Seattle, 14. Total, 57.
Morrison—Prince Rupert, 36; Ketchikan, 28; Seattle, 28. Total, 92.

There were seven doubtful ballots at Prince Rupert which will be forwarded to Seattle for final acceptance or rejection.
