VANCOUVER SPEAKER WOULD EXTEND P.G.E. TO PEACE

Chinese Owner of Gambling House Tells of Goodfellowship Account Spent by Them Monthly

Frequent visits made to Police Sergeant at his office for purpose of bailing out men; question of diamond ring

VANCOUVER, May 18.—That all his gambling houses operated here had regular monthly "goodfellowship expense items" was the statement made at the police inquiry yesterday afternoon by Chow Wong Lum who was on the witness stand. Chow, an admitted operator of several gambling houses, had been on the witness stand the greater part of two days.

Interest centered for some time around a diamond ring, which was said to have been purchased by Chow and one of his business associates, Georgie Chow. Chow Wong Lum testified that he wished to buy a suit of clothes for Georgie but later preferred a diamond ring.

The ring, it was suggested by G. G. McGeer, cost $190.

Chow Wong denied he had gone to the police station to give it to Sergeant McLaughlin, as suggested by Mr. McGeer. Georgie Chow had taken the ring and did not tell what he did with it, Chow Wong said.

Witness told of having visited McLaughlin frequently at the latter's office at police headquarters. He went there, he said, after raids to see if his men had been bailed out.

Under cross-examination Chow Wong denied that he told Constable Stewart in the presence of Sergeant Parsons that his gambling place had been closed up because he would not pay $150 a month for protection money. He denied absolutely that he ever mentioned to Stewart or anyone else the payment of $50 a month as protection money.

PRINCE Rupert people could hardly believe their eyes this morning when they saw a sea sled travelling at a speed that is most unusual around Prince Rupert harbor. The boat lifted itself almost out of the water and moved on the surface.

It was discovered that the new craft is a speed boat owned by R. Boyd Young of Port Simpson with an out-board twelve h.p. Johnson engine. It came in this morning in an hour and twenty-five minutes but the engine is new and was not let out at full speed. Twenty miles an hour is claimed for it.

Greater Activity This Year on Queen Charlotte Islands Already Made Evident by Preparations

THE steamer Prince John, arriving in port last night, brings news of general activity on the Queen Charlotte Islands in preparation for the approaching salmon fishing, whaling and timber season. The prospects are that there will be a general revival in the various industries this year with possibly a larger number of men than ever before employed.

Both at Rose Harbor, on the south end of the Islands, and Naden Harbor, at the north, preparations are in full swing for the whaling season and it is expected that the boats of the Consolidated Whaling Corporation will be arriving from Victoria soon. At Rose Harbor, the wharf has been rebuilt.

McGeer Urges Building P.G.E. Into Peace River at Cost of $30,000,000

Tells Vancouver Board of Trade he Does Not Fear Prince Rupert Will Get Grain Although Some will go There

VANCOUVER, An investment of $30,000,000 for the completion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Vancouver to the Peace River would create a railroad with a replacement value of $58,000,000, G. G. McGeer said in an address before the Vancouver Board of Trade last night.

Within five years of completion, the speaker said, the line would pay all the expenses out of operating revenue. A further $15,000,000 would be ample for all contingent purposes in the development of traffic, including colonization. The value of the lands adjacent to the railroad when completed, he said, would be $90,000,000 within a few years.

The completion of the P.G.E. is fourteen years overdue, McGeer said. "I am not afraid Peace River wheat will go to Prince Rupert. Some will go there. There will be lots for all. Nor am I afraid that the construction of the short line from Stewart to the Peace will take the trade away from Vancouver. For a great many years to come Vancouver will be the chief and most logical centre for the grain trade of the Pacific."

SUGGESTION FOR CITY

The suggestion has been made by W. J. Alder, a former resident who is visiting the city, that a little money devoted to judicious publicity might be money well spent.

CENSORSHIP OF NEWS

During the war here we all knew what it was to have news censored. We found it difficult to say anything that was of interest to the people which did not come under the ban.

However, all this is as nothing compared with the censorships that have been in force in Russia and Italy, one by the Communists and the other by their opponents, the Fascists.

Supposing the British Columbia government were to suppress mention of any matters which the opposition might wish to make public in connection with governmental matters, there would be a furore in this country, and yet we find many people who will try to tell us that there is no liberty in Canada.

LITERARY STANDARDS

(Victoria Colonist)

It would indeed be a mistake to take too seriously a certain literary fashion which enjoys a considerable vogue today. Literary fashions seem to run in cycles. Under all the circumstances it would not be altogether surprising if the present age should be afflicted, for its sins, with a recrudescence of the tiresome, cheap, and stupid frivolities and futilities of the Restoration age.

The attempt failed, as everyone knows, and the very age which produced Congreve and Wycherley produced also that "mighty spirit, unsubdued by pain, danger, poverty, obloquy and blindness who meditated, undisturbed by the obscene tumult which raged all around him, a song so sublime and so holy that it would not have misbecome the lips of those ethereal virtues, whom he saw with that inner eye which no calamity could darken, flinging down on the Jasper pavement their crowns of amaranth and gold."

BOYS' BAND IS RECEIVED WELL

CONCERT LAST NIGHT WEST-HOLME THEATRE PROVED TO BE AN EXCELLENT ONE

The great improvement in the Boys' Band was the matter of much comment last night following the concert given by that organization in aid of their funds. The chief criticism was that there was not enough of the band music and that some of the solo numbers were not given by the boys.

Members of the band were John Campbell, F. Derry, M. Colusi, W. Vance, W. Cross, B. Green, R. Gilker, Roy Franks, Thomas Johnson, W. Balmainer, Max Larkin, Vic Thomas, W. Fuller, R. McIntosh, J. Velrick, Alan Hale, R. Cavenaille, M. Cavenaille, E. Huocma, K. Green, P. Vaccher, B. Thurber, G. McKinley, T. Bussenich, Frank Derry, E. Cameron, W. Johnson, G. Bucevich, J. Mussallem, P. Reid, and W. Tobey.

Accompanists for the evening were H. N. Brocklesby, Mrs. Fraser, Miss Lancaster, Mrs. Blott, Mrs. Cullin and the Westholme Orchestra.

Of the soloists and dancers it is difficult to differentiate, all did so well. The whole performance was thoroughly enjoyable and each number was well received and each performer recalled.

The program was as follows:

- Match—"Gippeland." The Boys' Band.
Song—"Love the Pedlar." Mrs. H. N. Brocklesby.
Song—"Break of Day." J. A. Tenp.
Dance—"Hornpipe." Miss E. McLeod.
Song—"In the Garden of My Heart." Mrs. J. J. Muldoon.
Recitation—"My Sister's Wedding." Miss Adella Thurber.
Dance—"Skirt Dance." Miss Edna Ireland.
Song—"Selected." M. H. Blott.

Dance—"Butterfly Ballet." Miss Myfanwy Campbell.
Song—"The Night Miss Cooney Eloped." J. S. Wilson.
Pageant—"The Boys' Band."

GRIM HORROR SWEET ROMANCE

THESE ARE THE COMBINATIONS WHICH MAKE UP THE LON CHANEY DRAMA OF RUSSIA

Fantastic shadows, grim horror and the stark realities of the throes of a great nation in revolution—plus a romance so transcendently sweet that it seems hardly possible to mention it in the same breath with its startling surroundings—and through it all Lon Chaney, a sinister, mysterious figure, woven into an amazing plot of intrigue, danger and heart interest—this is "Mockery," Chaney's latest and probably one of his most startling screen vehicles.

The new drama, here tonight and tomorrow, is startling in its originality. It is painted on the broad canvas of a whole nation in travail; its central theme is a love that passeth understanding, and its mingling of the fantastic the mysterious, and the romantic makes it a blend the flavor of which has never been tasted before by theatregoers.

Chaney plays as complex a character as has ever fallen to his lot as Sergei, the strange, animal-like peasant, ignorant, timid with the fears of generations of oppressed peasantry, who, thrown suddenly into the red maelstrom of revolt, becomes a dangerous beast, and then, when loyalty and love touch this strange metamorphosed character, into the bulwark of a besieged aristocrat. It is a vivid study of human nature, with the vividness of De Maupassant or Tolstoy.

GRIFFCO, FORMERLY EL ABETO, HERE FOR FIRST RUPERT CALL

Making her first call at this port, Coastwise Steamship & Barge Co.'s freighter Griffco, Capt. D. McKinnon, arrived from the south at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and remained for about an hour unloading a carload of canned milk for F. G. Dawson, Ltd., after which she proceeded to Stewart and Anox. The Griffco, purchased about six months ago by the Coastwise Steamship & Barge Co. and renamed after the old Griffco which has gone to Honolulu, was formerly the El Abeto and for years was engaged, with the El Cedro and El Cicuta, in carrying logs from Massett Inlet to Seattle and California for the Los Angeles Lumber Co. Ltd. She is a much larger vessel than the old Griffco and is eminently fitted for the ore carrying trade in which she is now engaged.

AERIAL STUNTS FOR FAIR WEEK

PACIFIC AIRWAYS MAY PUT ON DEMONSTRATION HERE IN FALL - SPECIAL STEAMERS BEING SOUGHT

Three Pacific Airways seaplanes which will be here this season to patrol the fisheries will be sought to give demonstration of parachute jumping and other modern developments in aerial navigation at the Prince Rupert Exhibition in September. It is announced by M. P. McCaffery, president of the Fair Board, who returned to the city this week from Vancouver where he opened negotiations with this end in view. Major D. R. MacLaren, D.S.O., general manager of the air company, expects to be in the city next month with the first plane and one of the first matters he will go into will be an inspection of the Acropolis Hill grounds to ascertain if parachute leaps may be made on that field. In any case, it will be quite feasible to make jumps over the harbor. It will be the first time that this sort of thing has been performed here. The planes might also do some barnstorming here.

While in Vancouver, Mr. McCaffery also took up with B.C. Keeley, Pacific Coast manager of Canadian National Steamships, and Reginald Beaumont, assistant manager, the matter of having special services given during Fair Week to bring visitors here from Ketchikan, Ocean Falls and other points. The officials expressed their sympathy and stated that they would do everything in their power to meet the situation.

In Ocean Falls, Mr. McCaffery interviewed the managers of the baseball and football teams and they stated that they would like to bring teams here during Fair Week. If some special attraction such as the airplane performances were put on, it was also stated that quite a number of visitors from the paper town might come up for the occasion.

CHICAGO CUBS IN LEADERSHIP

CINCINNATI REDS DROP FROM TOP THROUGH LOSS TO BROOKLYN ROBINS

(Special to Daily News)
NEW YORK, May 18.—Chicago Cubs moved into the role of sole leadership in the fast moving National League drama yesterday by shutting out Boston 2 to 0 while the Cincinnati Reds, losing 4 to 2 to the Brooklyn Robins, dropped from the top to third place under the St. Louis Cardinals. Brooklyn is now threatening the fourth place position of the New York Giants.

The feature of the American League games was the ascension of Boston into fourth place as a result of a 5 to 1 victory over Detroit Tigers. Philadelphia lost ground in its chase for the supremacy by dropping a game 6 to 5 to the lowly Chicago White Sox. Cleveland Indians renewed their bid for honors with an 8 to 3 victory over Washington Senators. The New York Yankees continued their long winning streak and maintained their firm hold on the leadership by defeating St. Louis Browns 4 to 3 in a close game.

Two National League games were postponed on account of continued rain. Yesterday's scores were as follows:

SPORT CHAT

If weather permits, Mayor S. P. McMorde this evening will kick-off the opening ball in the first league football game of the season between the Thistles and Regiment. The city public works department has been busy this week getting the grounds in shape for the year's activities, and it is expected that the playing surface will be in first class condition for this match. And a good game seems to be assured with just enough uncertainty, on account of new and changed players, to make things interesting for the fans. The Thistles team is a new organization made up largely of players who are well known. There are a few changes in the complexion of the Regiment team. It should be a good season's opener.

Good progress is being made by the Elk's Lodge and Fair Board in preparation for the Victoria Day celebration next Thursday. The program of sports and races has been completed and presents a very attractive bill. If weather proves favorable, and May 21 weather in past years has been a rather uncertain quantity here, the day should prove a big success with something of interest for everybody on the field. Plans are also well advanced for the Flag Day sports on June 4, also under the auspices of the Elk's and Fair Board. The feature of that day will be the crowning of the Miss Peggy Smith as Queen of the May—or June, might we say.

Teams for the Junior Football League game between High School and Borden Street on Saturday have been selected as follows:

High School: P. Porter, A. Stiles, D. Scott, A. Thompson, T. Kelsey, B. Thurber, R. Wicks, W. Johnson, F. Cameron, C. Johnson, R. Morrison. Spares: W. Fisher, M. Larkin.

Borden team will be selected from: H. Wilson, Pyle, P. Fisher, C. Smith, P. Vacher, A. Hardy, K. Nakamoto (Capt.), Katsuyama, S. Kanaya, P. Chenoski, H. Fong, H. Morgan, H. Fisher, T. Dunstae, G. Dibb.

BOXING MATCH PROVED LIVELY

GEORGE BARD AND NED BYRNE BOUT BRANDED IN DRAW AND OTHERS WERE WELL CONTESTED

LACK OF TRAINING LIGHTER BOY PICKED UP TOWARD END AND RECOVERED HIS LOST PRESTIGE

Despite an advantage of fifteen pounds in weight and an easy lead in the first two rounds, the best George Bard could do last night in a six-round bout with Ned Byrne, headlining a boxing bill in the Grand Terminal Club in aid of the football team, was to get a draw decision which, while plenty of difference of opinion was expressed, was probably fair enough to both boys who were both all in at the end of a rather gruelling contest. Had Bard not spent himself in the first two rounds, he would undoubtedly have won; on the other hand, Byrne might have taken the honors had he put up the plucky fight in the first two rounds that he showed in the final four. At that, the latter won much esteem through the courage he displayed against odds in the latter stages of the bout. Bard put out through an apparent lack of training. He had the going all his way in the first couple of rounds but disappointed his supporters in his failure to finish. It was the pace that killed both fighters and not that they were fit so much though Bard was distinctly the aggressor in the first two rounds.

The semi-windup between Ernie Warren and George Howe gave promise of availing the main event in general interest but the bout was ended in the early stages of the second of four scheduled rounds when Warren, doubled up with a foul blow just above the groin and was declared the winner.

Three lively preliminaries and a blindfolded bout between four youngsters rounded out the card which was witnessed by a house which took up nearly all the seating capacity.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

At the opening of the program, Brick Skinner, the announcer, apologized on behalf of the management for the fact that returns on the Mandell-McLarnin bout for the lightweight championship of the world could not be posted since the fight had been postponed. It was also announced during the evening that Alf. Harding and Didé Gurvich would meet in a twelve three-minute round bout at the Exhibition Hall on May 23.

The first preliminary was a three-round no decision exhibition between Karl Batt and Pete Chenoski. These youngsters mixed it with a will, Chenoski making up in elusiveness and defence for what Batt had in courage and weight. A shower of silver rewarded the efforts of the boys.

Tod Morgan and Waldo Antonelli pleased the crowd with lots of activity in the first round, the bout developing later into a dancing act. Antonelli did the most of the leading and hitting though Herbie came to life toward the end. It was a three round no decision and the boys' reward was thrown into the ring.

Nina Gurvich got a well earned decision in three rounds from George Yorke. Gurvich carried the fight to his artful dodging opponent in the first round and the most of his slashes went over York's shoulder who gave a few deliberate punches later on. Gurvich found his mark frequently in the second and York left for his corner, his face smeared with blood from his nose. Gurvich was hitting York even more frequently in the third round and should have finished his opponent who lacked life. York was a gory spectacle as the third round ended.

The blindfold bout between four boys—Antonelli, Chenoski, Nick Gurvich and a Chinese gave the crowd a lot of laughs. It was a diverting specialty.

WON ON FULLY

Ernie Warren and George Howe were scheduled for four two-minute rounds. They mixed it freely with Warren leaping at his opponent who gave fair exchanges. Howe put up one or two spasms of lively fighting. The second round started fast and Howe was observed to hit low. He repeated this and Warren, hit in the groin doubled up and was aided to his corner. The referee made an examination and declared it a foul blow, announcing Warren the winner.

The next was the main event. Byrne's weight was announced as 145, Bard's 160. Both boys were cheered as they entered the ring. Bard carried all the fight to his opponent with vigorous onslaughts in the first round. There was no question about it being Bard's round. Byrne looked to be about exhausted and most people thought he couldn't last very long.

The second round was very much a repetition of the first though Bard was slowing up a bit. Byrne was into the ropes once and on his knees again. Nevertheless, he showed some courage.

The third round was different. Bard was not so fresh by any means and Byrne was also tired but he landed some. Bard chased him around the ring, beating the air. It was Byrne's round.

Either could have knocked the other out in the fourth round had he had the stamina. It was a pretty even round.

BYRNE REVIVES

Ned Byrne lay on the fifth and there was a pretty lively pace for a while though both were pretty groggy. It was possibly Byrne's round for he seemed to be the freshest now.

Bard went back to the ropes in the final round and then started a weak charge. George was bleeding from the nose. Had there been another round, they might have both been out on their feet.

A draw fight was announced after the referee consulted with the judges—Jack Judge and Norman McLean. The judges disagreed and the referee decided it was a draw: Bard, two rounds; Byrne, two rounds; two rounds, even.

R. W. Cameron was the timekeeper for the evening.
