Canada Has No Reason to Fear Aggression and Consequently Peace and Prosperity Her Lot

That Is Statement of Premier Mackenzie King in Contrasting Conditions Here and in Europe Today

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—"One of the main contrasts between Canada and countries in Europe which impressed him during a recent trip abroad was that in Europe the militarist type of mind survives, while in Canada it has been replaced by the industrialist type of mind," Premier King told an audience here last night. While no war is on the horizon in Europe, nations still felt they must maintain protective measures. "We have no fear of aggression. We have no reason to fear aggression," Premier King declared, in contrasting conditions in Canada with those in Europe.

"Until the old world learns a lesson of non-aggression it will remain under a handicap as compared with the new," said Premier King, speaking at a dinner given at the opening of the winter fair.

THIRTY SKELETONS FOUND IN GRAVEL ST. LAWRENCE RIVER

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Nov. 21.—Discovery of 30 human skeletons, many in a perfect state of preservation, in the course of excavations being carried on by employees of the provincial department of highways in a sand pit in Osnabrock township, near Woodlands village, was reported Friday. All of the skeletons were reburied upon another part of the property.

In the absence of any information bearing upon the opening of a burying ground at that spot by the early settlers, it is believed that the remains are those of victims of ship fever. Irish immigrants who perished along the St. Lawrence about a century ago.

PRODUCTION OF MINES HIGHER BUT PRICE LOW

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22.—While the monetary value of the production of the British Columbia Mines for the current year is not equal to that of 1926, the aggregate minerals and metal mined and marketed would be the greatest in the history of the province. The estimated monetary value is approximately $62,000,000, some million and a quarter more than 1927.

In giving information to the annual meeting of the Western Canadian Institute Mining Metallurgy today J. D. Galloway, provincial mineralogist, said that lower metal prices is the explanation why the year's production value would be less than the record year of 1926.

Grand Jury Refuses to be Party to Quarrel Between Members of Mystic Organization Near Nainimo

NANAIMO, Nov. 22.—The Grand Jury yesterday at the assize court sitting brought in "no bill" in the case of Robert England, former secretary-treasurer of the Aquarian Foundation, who had been charged with embezzlement of $28,000 on information laid by E. A. Wilson, president of the Foundation.

The theft charge against Wilson was traversed to the next assizes because England could not be located.

The charges grew out of a difference of opinion between members of a mystic organization that located in Cedar District, near this city. Wilson, known among the members of the organization as "Brother 12," one of the 12 masters of wisdom and president of the organization, seems to have been involved in some love affairs of which the other members did not approve. Finally, he announced that the headquarters of the organization were to be removed to one of the islands, where a Mandieh was to be established, everyone admitted having his mouth closed. There Wilson would live with his lady friend and bring up their son to be a great leader.

The counter-charge against Wilson is that he stole $28,000, the funds of the organization, but the lady who donated the money declared later that she had given the money to Wilson to use as he wished.

Wilson is a retired sea captain and seems to have been able to gather together a following of wealthy men and women, who for a long time looked upon him as a superior being.

that shoulder stiffens on him, as it is likely to do, he never will be the player he was. The Yankees will have Ruth—the Babe in all-around value is so far ahead of any man who ever played that comparisons are foolish. He not only is a great hitter, but he is a great fielder, runner and thrower. He is the best left-hand thrower I have ever seen since Willie Keeler. And he has a lot more pep.

HOCKEY PLANS UNDER FIRE

American Sporting Editor Writes Humorously of Latest Scheme For Playoffs

Paul Gallico, sports editor, New York News, writes: A lot of us are laughing ourselves sick over the new championship play-off rules for the Stanley Cup this year, and the reason for that is because they are just too silly for words. It seems we are to have a long pennant race in two divisions and at the end of that race there will be two winners. Do these two play off in the world series? Ha, ha. Listen to what the generous hockey fathers have thought up:

The two first place teams play a series. This automatically eliminates one of the winning teams from further Stanley Cup play. The two second place and two third place teams meet. That makes three series we have had. Now, the winners of the second and third place teams play a series for the right to meet the first place survivor for the Stanley Cup, making in all, five series.

This is an interesting experiment in just how much the public will stand. If the customers go for such arrant nonsense the thing will be so arranged next year that the fourth, fifth and sixth teams get into the play-offs. All the winning teams will play and all the losing teams will do the same. This will continue until one team has won, say ten games. This will automatically disqualify it, and so on down the line until the two teams that have lost the most games come together for the final play-off. They keep on playing until all hands drop from exhaustion, when they will be given a decent burial and the Stanley Cup will be presented to the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Any system whereby one of the pennant-winning teams gets put out of the Stanley Cup play-offs is all wrong off the bat. It removes all the incentive for sharp play throughout the season. There is no urge to win when second or third will do just as well. The teams will stall and loaf and save up for the absurd list of play-offs in order to report for them fresh and able. Do I hear the gold-laying goose begin to pick at the coverlets? The new arrangement is all in favor of the magnates.

work of the association. Mr. Sharples presided at the piano.

The program for the evening consisted of three papers on music by Miss B. Leitch, Miss Halliwell and J. S. Wilson. By Special request these papers, which had been given at the Teachers' Federation, were repeated and were very favorably received. Miss Leitch spoke on "Music in the Junior Grades" illustrating her talk with examples of health songs and demonstrations of the various methods of teaching the elements of singing to the beginners and juniors.

Miss Halliwell's paper was on "Musical Appreciation through Rhythmic Movement." Her demonstrations and explanations of the methods by which songs can be dramatized were of unusual interest to the audience. Lack of space in the schools made it difficult to put into practice the methods advocated, but their value in teaching music appreciation was of recognized importance.

Mr. Wilson spoke of "The Child and his Attitude Towards Music and Singing on leaving School." Music should have an appeal to the child and he should be ready to respond to this appeal. The

SIR HENRY THORNTON

It is good news that sir Henry Thornton may be continued as head of the Canadian National system of railways and steamships and hotels. While in Prince Rupert we often think we have not received sufficient consideration from the railway in the way of developing new business, we are bound to recognize that Sir Henry has done a stupendous work for Canada in bringing the railway into a position where it is serving the country well and beginning to pay interest on its bonded indebtedness. Sir Henry is too good a man for the country to lose and we are inclined to think the country will endorse the action of the government in retaining him.

FIVE TO ONE FOR CANADA
 (Edmonton Bulletin)

Those who have been blaming the Dominion government because there has not been a heavier movement of people from Great Britain to Canada this year may be interested in noting that immigration from Great Britain and Northern Ireland to the United States during the last 10 months totalled only 8000, about one-quarter the number who would have been entitled to entry under the quota law. In the last six months 44,000 people have entered Canada from Great Britain and Ireland, declaring their intention to remain in the country. While five Britishers are coming to Canada for each one who goes to the United States, there cannot be much the matter with the effort that is made to keep a proper portion between British and foreign immigration into Canada.

SASKATCHEWAN'S PROFITABLE COW

The Province of Saskatchewan, principally famous as one of the greatest grain producing provinces in the world, has now another contribution to offer to fame in "Canary Korndyke Alcarta," a Holstein-Friesian dairy cow. In 305 days she gave 26,396 pounds of milk with 1,080 pounds of butterfat, which is a record production for any cow of any breed in the Dominion. Mr. Thomson, of Boharm, Saskatchewan, is the owner of this profitable cow.

SCHOOL BOARD DISMISSED

While everyone is aware that the duties of school trustee are often onerous and there is no pay for the position, it also has to be acknowledged that in small places trustees often let their personal bias influence their judgment and the school teacher who happens to run at variance with those personal inclinations is likely to have a sorry time. In the case on Vancouver Island, a young girl had charge of a logging camp school, but she was subject to criticism from two of her trustees and this so preyed on her mind that she took her own life. Following the verdict of the coroner's jury the minister of education has dismissed the Nixon Creek school board.

We are glad to be able to support the minister of education in his action. The whole problem is a most difficult one, owing to the failure of so many school trustees to realize their responsibilities. The recommendation of the jury that isolated schools should be more directly under the jurisdiction of the education department has something to recommend it, although it might be difficult to work out on account of the impossibility of having frequent inspections.

IS STEAM LOCOMOTIVE DOOMED?

The despatch published yesterday from Winnipeg in which it is stated that the steam locomotive may be replaced by the gas-electric type as a result of recent experimentation by the Canadian National, is one of the most interesting announcements of recent years. Steam has become so closely associated with locomotives that it is difficult to realize the possibility of its being set aside in favor of some other power. On the other hand, internal combustion engines and electric motors are becoming very popular in other places where power is necessary and it is quite reasonable to think that they may become so adapted to railway operation that they may even replace altogether the older form of power development.

POURING GRAIN HAS COMMENCED

Second Ship of Season Is Expected To Arrive Tonight

The Alberta Wheat Pool's Prince Rupert elevator is today loading out its first grain cargo of the season. Having completed lining at the ocean dock, the Japanese steamer Ynye Maru moved down to the elevator at 9 o'clock this morning and later pouring of grain into the vessel commenced. She should get away by the end of the week, with a full cargo for the United Kingdom or Continent.

The second grain ship of the season, the British steamer Rockpool, is due to arrive in port about 10 o'clock tonight from the Old Country. This vessel has been lined en route and will go on berth at the elevator immediately upon arrival to start loading.

No definite advices of other ships coming here had been received up to this morning, it was stated at the elevator. The grain flow here from the prairies continues steadily at the rate of about 60 cars a day. A train load of 56 cars arrived this morning.

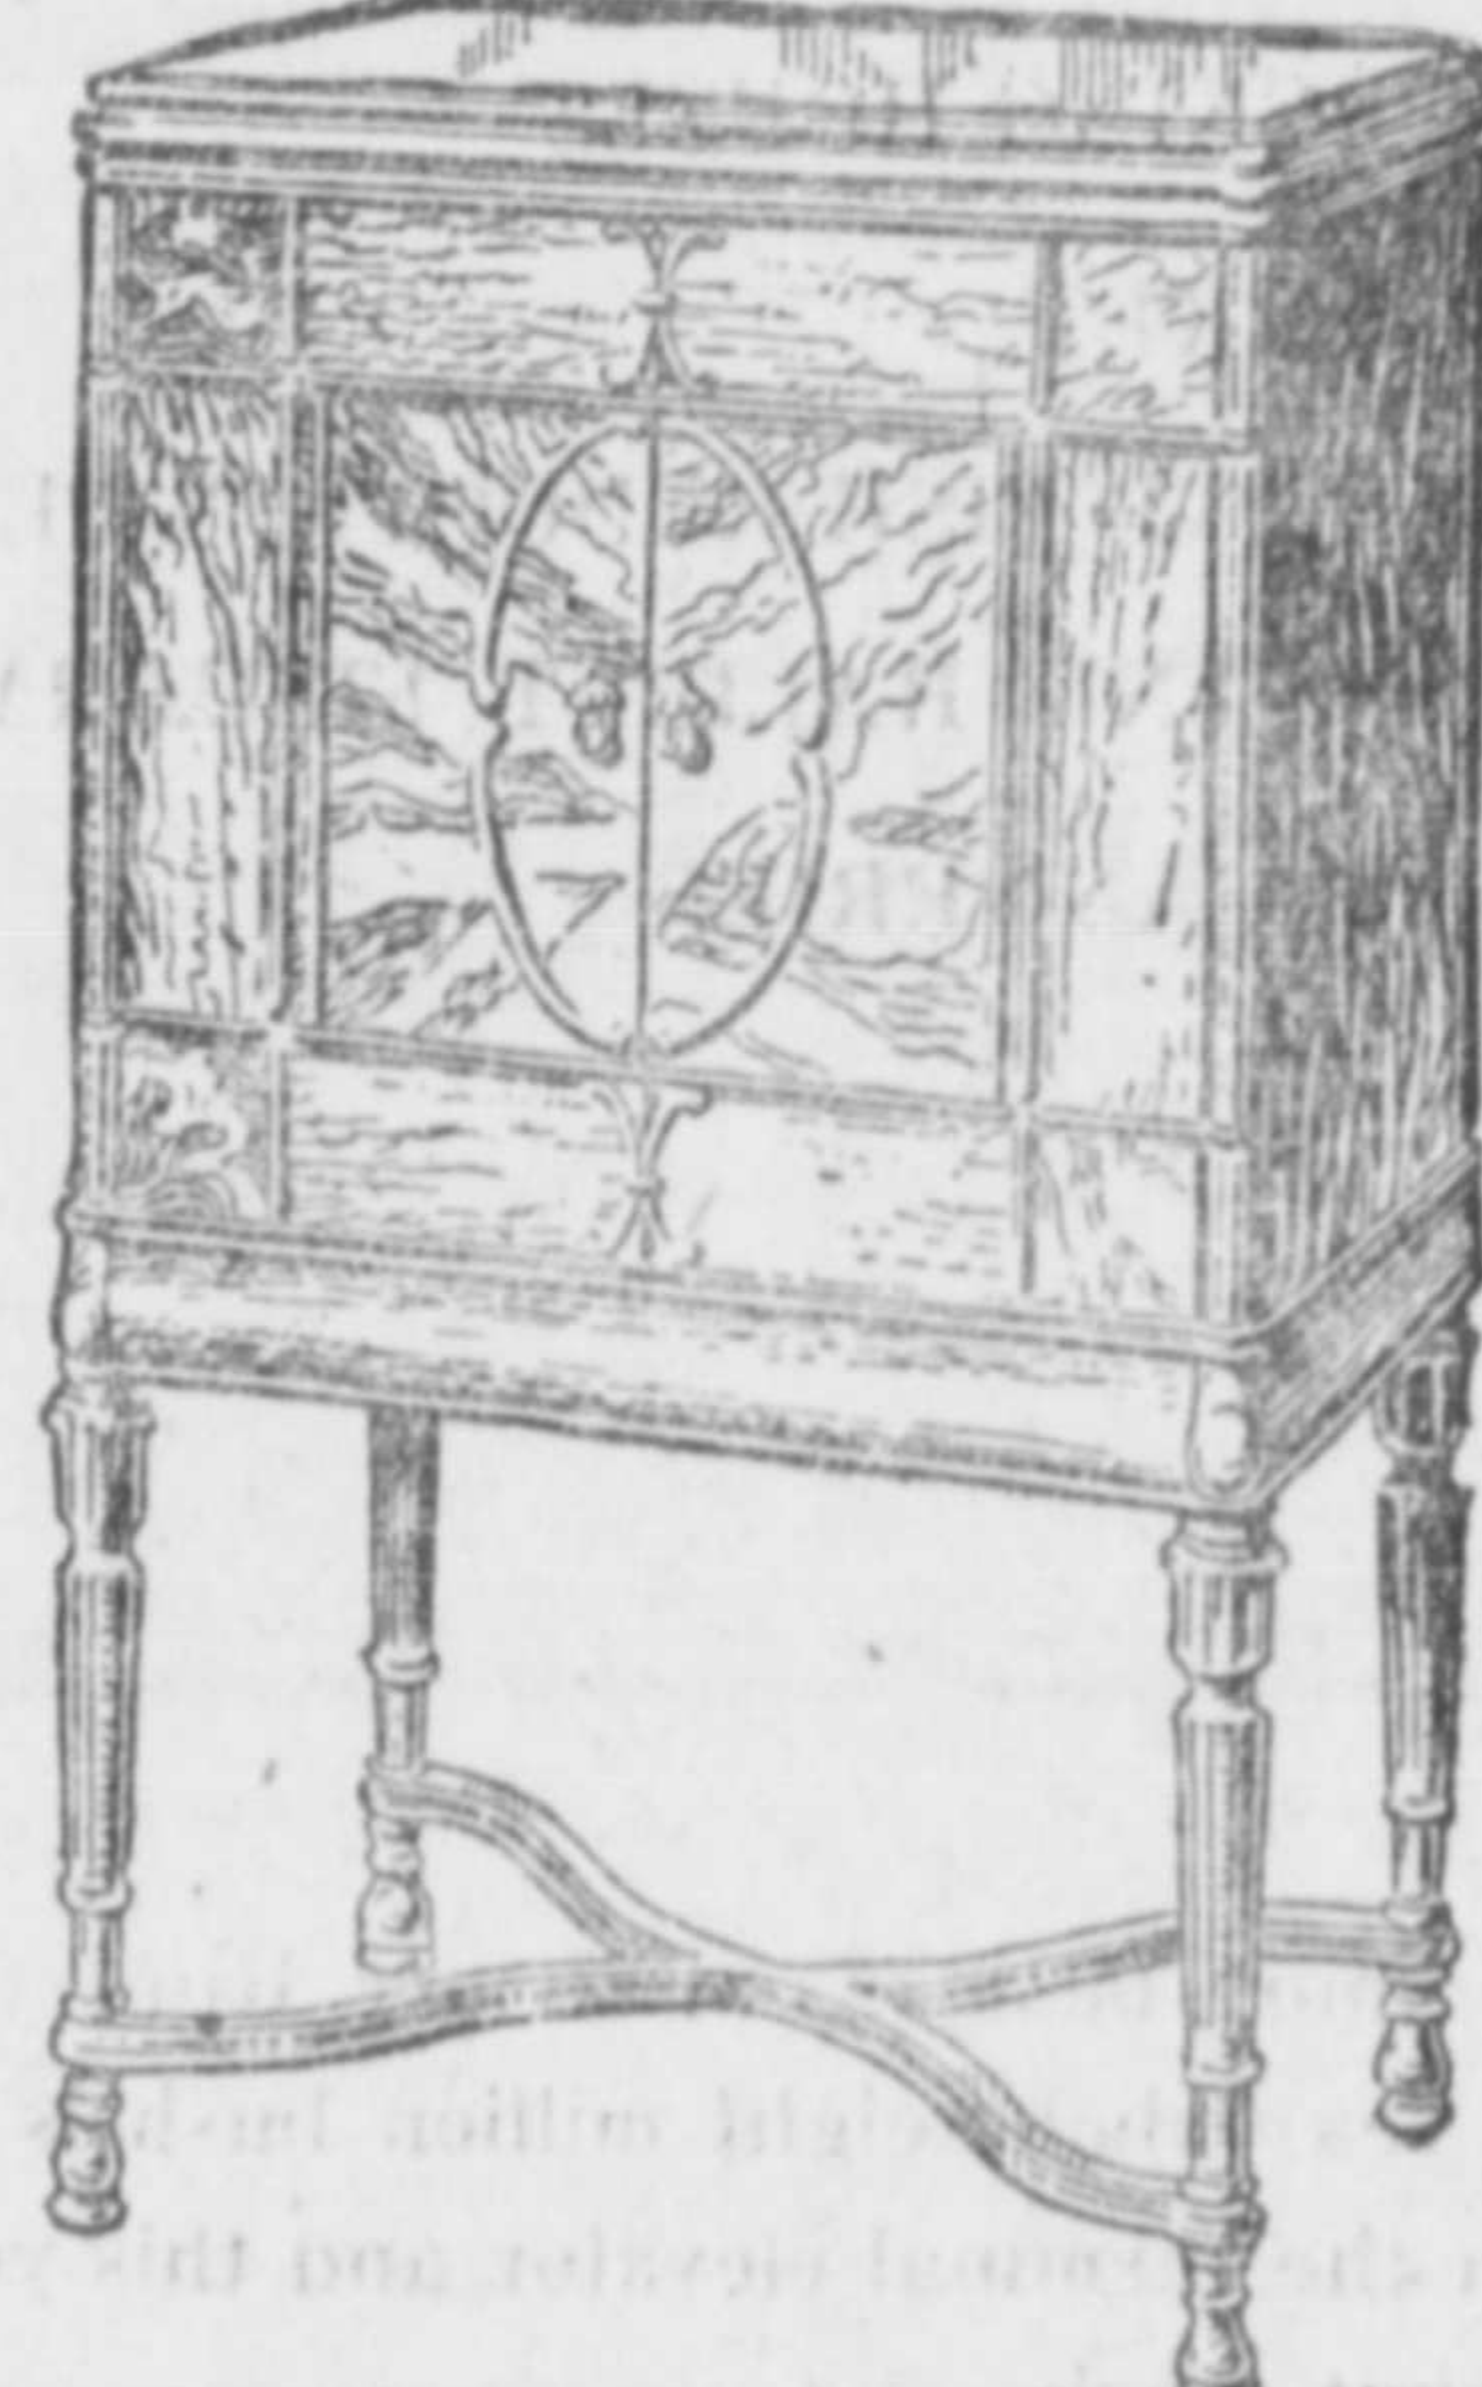

This afternoon's train, due from the East at 3.30, was reported this morning to be on time.

INVESTIGATION OPENS IN REGARD TO WORK OF ENGINEER'S DEPARTMENT

tion as an expert witness in the same connection.

Mr. McLean was represented at the investigations by counsel in the person of L. W. Patmore. Ald. Brown is chairman of the committee conducting the investigation, other members being Ald. Collart and Ald. Dibb. Ald. Prudhomme was present to submit evidence in connection with his criticisms. There was quite a crowd of spectators. All the testimony is being recorded by stenographer.

Ald. Brown, in opening the investigation, read the list of criticisms which had been made by Ald. Prudhomme, the document concluding with a demand that the engineering department should be re-organized.

Nothing Personal

After the statements had been read, Ald. Prudhomme pointed out that his criticism had been made with no personal animosity against the city engineer. As an alderman and member of the Board of Works certain matters had come to his attention and he would be falling in his duty, he felt, should he not bring these matters before the council. He was desirous of helping the committee to get the facts in fairness to the city engineer as well as to other parties concerned.

Ald. Brown was glad to hear Ald. Prudhomme express such sentiments. He hoped they would be able to see eye to eye.

In view of the many reports that had gone forth, some of them giving a very wrong impression, Mr. Patmore felt that the investigation was a good thing. He urged that they tackle things in an amicable frame of mind, in order to get the truth of the whole matter in fairness to all concerned. Regarding "other matters" which Ald. Prudhomme had suggested in his statement, Mr. Patmore asked that everything pertaining to the investigation be submitted. It was impossible to answer vague charges. All matters he and his client were prepared to deal with seriously.

After further discussion, the committee decided to ask Ald. Prudhomme to submit all further criticisms he had to offer at the next session of the enquiry. Pointing out that he did not wish to take the role of a prosecutor but merely as a public servant offer any criticisms he thought warranted, Ald. Prudhomme objected to the term of "charges" being used. They were merely "statements" he was making. The commission agreed to use the term "statements."

Mr. Patmore understood that evidence was not to be taken at this session, but that the committee was merely to be organized and the plan of the investigation settled upon. His client was not prepared to go ahead with the matter of concrete sidewalks until an expert they had retained could be in attendance.

Document Submitted

Ald. Prudhomme presented a document to Mr. McLean and asked if it came from his department. Mr. McLean replied that he would have to be given time to look it over before answering. When it was learned that it was a cost sheet pertaining to concrete sidewalks, the commission ruled Ald. Prudhomme's question out for the present. Ald. Prudhomme declined to give the document up.

There was some discussion as

Weak and Run Down Didn't Want to Eat Could Not Sleep

Mrs. D. Leone, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., writes—"I was weak and run down; did not want to eat, and could not sleep. I felt tired of living and often longed for death to free me from my terrible misery as I felt I would never be strong again. I thought I would try and really I soon felt like eating and living, and new life seemed to come to me. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

to the powers of the committee to call witnesses. It was finally agreed that Mr. Tobey should be invited. Ald. Prudhomme stated that it was not his intention to draw city employees into the hearing if it could possibly be avoided. No matter what their views might be, they might fear punishment if they expressed them.

Finally the matter of piers under buildings in the vicinity of the Empress Hotel was proceeded with. Mr. McLean explained that an old watercourse had been found to run across the street and onto the property. There was an old wooden retaining wall erected at some time by the property owners which had practically rotted away. The work could not be proceeded with without a caveat. The city solicitor had advised him that the city would be held responsible if the fill sloughed into the cellars. Piers, to which the owners had agreed, were therefore put in, one foot under the street and one foot under the buildings. A retaining wall had added $1000 to the cost. These piers had not cost the city a cent, as the property owners paid for the work through assessment.

Mr. McLean admitted to Ald. Brown that all property owners in the block would share in the cost of the piers, not only the owner of the property concerned.

A document had been obtained, the engineer continued, relieving the city from responsibility in connection with the retaining wall.

In answer to repeated questions, Mr. McLean stated that he had acquainted the Board of Works of the situation and the committee had approved of the steps he was taking. "They not only did not oppose it, but thought it was a mighty good idea," asserted Mr. McLean. This was before the work was proceeded with. Ald. Prudhomme asked the engineer for certain measurements which the latter stated he could give at the next session of the enquiry. Ald. Prudhomme asserted that the water course was not under the Old Empress Hotel, but under the Louis Ross building, two or three lots further east. There was no need for the piers, he contended.

Common Practice

Mr. Patmore pointed out that in Victoria the city replaced retaining walls right along. Ald. Prudhomme stated that he never knew of the Board of Works giving authority for the work.

The engineer admitted certain conversations with Ald. Prudhomme and the mayor. He did not remember Ald. Prudhomme warning him that the city had no right to put in the piers under the buildings. After a conversation with the mayor, he had consulted with the city solicitor and a paper had been drawn up relieving the city of responsibility. The matter had been taken up with and approval by the Board of Works before the conversation.

Ald. Prudhomme insisted that the engineer had gone ahead with the piers in spite of warnings. The property owner had threatened to sue for damages if he were charged for the piers.

On this point Mr. Patmore himself testified that a client had asked him to take out an injunction against the work but, when it had been shown that the work was for the benefit of all property owners as well as for the city, the matter was dropped. He was surprised to see this included among Ald. Prudhomme's "statements." He thought that "mare's nest" had already exploded.

There was further discussion of a detailed nature as to how the work was carried on at the point in question and in other places and it was decided to leave the matter over until the engineer could produce certain further details. The city solicitor will also be asked for a ruling as to the city's responsibility in connection with retaining walls.

Engineer's Son

Regarding the employment of his son, Mr. McLean explained that for a long time he had been confined to his office when he should have been outside, owing to the fact that he had neither an assistant or a clerk. The mayor had learned of this and had said that it was not fair that he should be doing two men's work. Thereupon, the Board of Works had given instructions that a clerk or assistant should be advertised for. There had been a number of applications including that of his son. When the latter's application was being considered, he asked to be excused from the Board of Works meeting and stepped outside.

One man was picked upon but he did not prove up to requirements and it became necessary for him (the engineer) to come back after working hours and do his work over again, mistakes were so frequent. The mayor found out about this situation and advised him to get his son to help out. The boy had been previously helping his father after school, without pay, so knew the general run of the office. The engineer said that he had declined to have his son on the payroll until approval was given by the Board of Works. The result was that the mayor had brought the matter up in the Board of Works and the committee, including Ald. Prudhomme, had sanctioned the boy's name being put on the payroll. In answer to Ald. Prudhomme, the engineer insisted that his son had not been placed on the payroll until the Board of Works had approved of it.

"Why did you not object before the Board of Works?" Mr. Patmore asked Ald. Prudhomme who replied that he had objected before the Board of Works.

Ald. Prudhomme requested that the minute book of the Board of Works and the payroll be produced at the next session of the enquiry.

Mr. Patmore stated that he could show that for eight months his year the city engineer had been doing the work of two others besides his own, having neither assistant or clerk. The department had never been run more economically and he would like to see how spendthrift charges could be justified.

Not Correct?

Ald. Prudhomme replied that eight months was not correct. Possibly it was three or four months. "But the records will prove that," Ald. Prudhomme and Mr. Patmore agreed.

Ald. Brown pointed out that the city engineer had also the duties of building and plumbing inspector. He was at the beck and call of every contractor in town.

At 9:30 p.m., the investigation was adjourned until Tuesday night next.

Merely routine business was taken up last night at a meeting of the Carpenters' Union. Alex Cameron, president, occupied the chair and there was a good attendance of members of the trade.

News of the Mines

AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Dunwell Is in Limelight Again; Tonic Mine Makes Second Concentrate Shipment; Telkwa Coal Mine Busy Again

The Dunwell mine is much in the limelight again as a result of the radiore or electrical prospecting campaign which has been carried out on the property. A successful electrical survey was carried out on the Hidden Creek property at Anyox for Granby Consolidated, and now Dunwell was tried out by the same means. The party at Dunwell was in charge of R. C. Kirkpatrick and his companions were W. McGowan, G. L. Oates and Mr. Schrader. F. F. Clarke, supervisor for the prospecting company, also arrived from northern Manitoba to take up headquarters at the Dunwell camp.

The Tonic mine at Alice Arm recently sent out its second and third shipments of 1000 sacks of concentrates to the Selby smelter in California. The first shipment of a few weeks ago was made to Tacoma, but owing to an increased amount of lead in the concentrates, it has now been decided to treat the ore at Selby. The mill is now producing about 30 sacks a day, and it is expected that shipments will be made steadily from now on. No large increase of tonnage at the mill will be possible until a new power unit is installed next spring. Preparations have been made to conduct operations throughout the winter and transportation will be kept up by sleighs when snow makes use of the railway impossible. A half-way house has been established at Spring Camp. Ore for the mill is being taken from two stops, and is of good grade.

W. B. Dornberg, head of the Duke Mining Co. which is developing the Silver Cup mine at New Hazelton, is well satisfied with the progress being made at the mill in face of difficulties, such as the extra long haul and the poor road condition en route to the mine. In spite of all this, the machinery has been delivered to the mill site. Mining has been resumed in the lower tunnel. A raise was started toward the surface, but two feet of solid high-grade ore was encountered and work there was stopped and started in another part of the mine. The new ore was too rich to handle in the ordinary way as mill feed. Ore, in addition to the $800,000 worth already blocked out, is being rapidly disclosed. Every preparation is being made to keep the mine and mill working all winter.

A syndicate of California men has taken an option on the Sultana group, located on Boulder Creek, about half way between Smithers and Hazelton. No work will be undertaken until next June, when operations will proceed from a shaft sunk several years ago when the property was worked under a bond held by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. Very good reports have been made on the Sultana and the prospects for proving another mine are considered to be favorable. The ore has shown high values where it has been exposed.

Frank McLean of this city is the recorder of seven coal claims located in the vicinity of Cedarvale, mention of which was made in these columns recently. The vein, Mr. McLean says, measures eight feet in thickness at some places, though not enough work has yet been done to indicate the exact extent of the measures. The coal, which is said to have tested as anthracite, was found on seven claims. The discovery has created considerable interest locally and a number of Prince Rupert people have staked in the vicinity. One local concern sent a man in to look the showings over.

As a result of heavy advance orders the Telkwa Collieries, belonging to Jack McNeil, have reopened earlier this fall than in any previous year. A crew of 10 men has been busy ever since August getting out coal for the market between Prince George and Prince Rupert. Never at any previous period has the Telkwa coal proven more popular in the district, here was considerable difficulty in getting the coal introduced at first, but each year, as depth has been obtained, the product has improved in quality until now it is generally favored. Production at present is at the rate of about 20 tons daily, but when winter conditions set in this tonnage will be increased to between 40 and 50 tons. The coal is hauled on trucks from the mine to the railway at a low cost.

Deceased was 64 years of age and a native of Germany. He gave the Peace River as his place of residence, and, as far as is known, he had no relatives and few friends hereabouts.

Why BOVRIL prevents that Sinking Feeling

Why is it that one has such a fine feeling of buoyancy after drinking a cup of Bovril? Modern research has shown that in addition to proteins of exceptionally high food value, beef has certain unique powers of stimulating cellular activity—that is to say of stimulating vitality.

Bovril is the concentrated essence of this "vitality power" of beef. That is why Bovril is such a powerful stimulant and sustainer, why, in fact, "Bovril prevents that sinking feeling."
