Sir Henry Thornton and Board of Management Given the Whole Credit

One of Conservative Leaders Says Government not Entitled to any Cudos From Success of Government Railways

OTTAWA, March 9.—Hugh Guthrie, Conservative house leader for last session, charged the finance minister and the minister of railways with endeavoring to appropriate to themselves the credit due to Sir Henry Thornton. He thought Sir Henry and the board of management should be congratulated upon the splendid showing they made during the year. The net earnings of the road had increased by $125,000,000 in four years, $125,000,000 which formerly had to be withdrawn from the treasury of the Dominion. The government was not entitled to a particle of credit. Thornton and the board were entitled to the full credit for the result obtained, Guthrie pursued.

Hafiz said that Ibn Haud was trying to quiet the tribesmen who had revolted against the British air raids, which in turn were reprisals for raids over the border made by the complaining tribesmen in violation of treaties among the clans.

A member is in the midst of developing an idea when the Speaker calls "Order" to signify that the forty minutes is up and then the report goes on to the next address. Better terminal facilities will have to be developed if the effect of these utterances on the constituents that they are expected to impress, through the distribution of Hansard copies, is not to be marred.

FORCE SOMETIMES NECESSARY

Force is still necessary, especially in dealing with backward nations like the Arabs, Indians or Russians. Nothing else counts with them. They despise the weakling but they respect a regiment of soldiers with guns and other equipment.

We all look on peace as the greatest blessing that could come to the world but perfect peace is a long way off and must not be expected in our day. We have to prepare to deal with such people as those now running riot in Arabia.

Peace principles do not particularly appeal to those people. They have no world outlook except it be perhaps a vision of world dominion of the Moslems. The leader of their religion enforced his precepts with the sword and it proved effective even when peaceful measures failed.

FARM LOANS

Central B.C. will be much interested in the passing of the Farm Loans bill which has been approved by the Legislature of B.C. It will enable farmers to borrow money for the extension of operations and will enable them to clear land and increase their production. This will benefit everyone.

If the farmers have money, everybody has money. They are producers and the development of Central British Columbia depends largely on them.

With the development of Central British Columbia is bound up to a large extent the future of Prince Rupert. Railway service can be improved if the country is more closely settled, and the farmers produce more.

NOBODY SURE OF TIME

Nobody can say just when the general election will be held but the opinion in the south seems to be that it will take place in the fall, according to advices received yesterday. Probably some announcement will be made by Premier MacLean before the legislature rises, which will give a clue as to the possible time for the event. Under our elastic constitution the Premier can decide when he will appeal to the country as long as he does it within the time specified in the law which provides that a legislature shall not sit for more than five years.

We suggest that in any case those not registered should be busy and get their names on the voters' list at once.

GRAIN SHIPPING ACTIVE

There is rather sudden activity here in grain shipping, due doubtless to some economic cause which makes it advisable to route the grain this way. It is nice to see the big steamers in the harbor and to feel that this is really a grain port which is proving its value to the country.

Once the Orient buys grain once more we may look for greater development in the grain business here. Just now all the shipments are being made to Europe.

SETTLERS COMING

Once more the spout has been opened and settlers are coming to the country from Europe. So far the movement has just begun. Men are needed to help put in the crop and they are being brought to the prairies by the railways. Those wishing to take up land are encouraged to do so and the prospect is more of this class than ever before will come to the country.

Large numbers of men are being employed on railway construction and mining this year and they will tend to make labor scarce so that Canada will be in a position to absorb a good many and some of them are anxious to go on the land as soon as they have made enough money to start.

TERRACE BOARD OF TRADE MEETS

NUMBER OF MATTERS DISCUSSED, INCLUDING ROADS AND MINERAL DISPLAY

TERRACE, March 9.—The council meeting of the Terrace Board of Trade was held in Gordon's Hotel on Tuesday evening.

Correspondence arising from action taken by the railway committee showed that the seeming discrimination against local merchants in the matter of a lower freight rate from Prince Rupert, for way-employees, was shown to be brought about by action of the employees themselves, who annually voted where they wished their cheap rate to apply from. As the rate carried with it a free pass to the point designated, it was natural that the larger centre should be chosen in most instances. In this connection the secretary was asked to write and ascertain whether the half rate allowed was confined to only one point, or whether, if the employees requested, he might have the privilege of the reduced rate from more than one point.

Correspondence also showed further weight being brought to bear on the departments concerned, in the matter of platform extension, inadequacy of waiting room accommodation, and insufficient way freight service. It was also suggested at the meeting and the committee were asked to take up the matter of having a passenger car attached to the way freight during the winter service.

ROAD OBSTRUCTION

The obstruction on the West Hill Road and the continued inactivity of the public works department in this matter was again brought to the attention of the meeting. It was suggested that the secretary write the department asking that, in the event of a pile driver being brought in soon for the Copper River bridge it be first used in repairing this hill road.

On behalf of C. Gordon of Alyanah, President J. K. Gordon brought up the matter of requesting the government to build a road connecting Alyanah with Terrace, thus giving the former a connection with the railway and thus facilitating mail and freight delivery. It was pointed out that about thirty miles of the total distance of approximately seventy miles was already constructed. It was the general feeling of the meeting that this road should be built as it would assist in opening up a large stretch of good land and give the settlers of the Naas a much more convenient outlet, thus offering some inducement to prospective settlers. It was decided to bring the matter to the attention of the public works department, and to ask the people of Alyanah to co-operate in the matter.

The attention of the public works committee was drawn to the almost impossible condition of the road leading to the ranch of W. J. Goodwin at Kitsumkalum and also to the desirability of having a trail constructed this year on what will later be the cut-off or shorter road to Lakelse Lake.

MINERAL DISPLAY

The mining committee reported that the mineral show case to be placed at the local depot was ready to be set up and some splendid specimens of ore were on hand to be placed in it, with more promised as soon as prospectors could get out to their claims. As a means of advertising and publicity it was suggested that an attempt be made to have the district mining engineer look over a number of the prospects in the district and make official reports.

At the request of the hospital board to appoint a representative from the board of trade to the hospital executive, A. H. Barker was named to act in that capacity.

TERRACE

ITS ROMANTIC STORY

World Search for Rare Medicinal Herbs

It is not commonly known that countries so far apart as China and Spain, Japan and England, and Tasmania and France have been searched for the species of herbs used in the manufacture of that world-famous healing balm ZAM-BUK. These herbs are many of them rare and costly. They need to be gathered just at the right season when their juices and medicinal elements are at their very best.

Zam-buk is the true successor of the original healing balsams of Ancient Rome, with this important advantage—Zam-buk, in addition to its rare herbal composition, has twentieth-century medical knowledge and manufacturing skill, to bring it to a pitch of perfection, probably never equalled in the annals of healing. The different medicinal qualities in Zam-buk are beautifully balanced. The healing side with the antis-ptic, the soothing with the germicidal, it is restorative yet not too stimulating, and has just the right lubricity for removing superficial swellings, sprains and rashes. Thus Zam-buk is a useful, reliable, and highly-concentrated, medicinal dressing always ready to instantly soothe pain, swiftly allay swelling and inflammation, expel deep-seated disease, and give new healthy skin. Moreover, users of Zam-buk have perfect confidence which alone comes from the knowledge that it is a refined herbal preparation and not an artificial ointment composed of clogging fats and crude drugs. Zam-buk is invaluable in all itching, chafed, and diseased conditions of the skin, whilst its swift antiseptic healing makes it the ideal first-aid dressing for burns, scalds, cuts, etc. It is also the soothing remedy for piles. Of dealers everywhere 50c the box; 3 for $1.25, or Zam-buk Co., Dupont St., Toronto.

LOCKED DOORS

"Suspicion is the poison of friendship"

"Is that room haunted?" I asked Cam.

CAM had carried his pretty girl- bride over the threshold of her beautiful new home in the traditional manner. It was such a home which only great wealth and exquisite good taste could make possible. Joyously, breathlessly, Rosamond flitted from room to room, clapping her hands in ecstasy and wonderment.

And then . . . she paused before one unforbidding door upstairs — glanced at her husband — tried the handle . . . it was locked! Why? An anxious expression warned Rosamond to drop the subject. But, curiosity and suspicion got the better of her. "Is that room haunted?" she enquired, lightly. And all he said was:—"You're too much of a baby yet to be trusted with such a big problem!"

What a little spark is required to fan the flames of jealousy! Rosamond was hurt at her husband's apparent lack of confidence in her. And gradually there conjured up in her mind the thought that Cam was a modern Bluebeard — that behind that closed door was . . . Oh!

And later as Rosamond stood before that closed door which her own hands had unlocked against her husband's wishes, she began to shake from head to foot, too limp to turn the knob and come face to face with the haunting secret that was to wreck her life. Little did she realize that her sudden fear was a warning — one of those psychic messages from—who knows where?—warning her that behind that door lay . . .

But to appreciate this poignant story—taken from life — you must read it as told by the woman in whose life the episode is a continual nightmare . . . the memory and result of which she will carry with her to the grave. It is entitled: "LOCKED DOORS" — and appears in TRUE STORY MAGAZINE for APRIL — now on sale at the newsstands.
