MUTUAL LIFE'S 1927 REPORT REFLECTS THE PROSPERITY OF DOMINION OF CANADA

President Hume Cronyn and General Manager Somerville Present Splendid Analysis of Company's Operations to Policyholders at 58th Annual Meeting

YEAR'S RECORD OF MUTUAL LIFE OF CANADA

WATERLOO, Ont. February 2. - The rising tide of prosperity in Canada is reflected in the Annual Report of the Mutual Life of Canada presented at the fifty-eighth Annual Meeting of the policyholders of the Company held at the Head Offices here today.

"The general prosperity which prevailed throughout Canada during the past year," said Mr. W. H. Somerville, the General Manager, in his address covering the Annual Report, "the steady improvement in agriculture, and the good tone of business, not only enabled our efficient agency staff to produce a healthy increase in the volume of new business written, but also placed our ninvestments in a highly satisfactory con-

Mr. Somerville pointed to the new assurances written during 1927, a gross amount of $52,295,136, as compared to $50,039,348 in the year previous. An analysis of these figures showed that the average policy issued in 1927 was for a larger sum than the average of 1926-a desirable feature. In the past three years 25% of the Mutual Life's new policies were written with the Disability Benefit Clause and 22% with the Double Disability Benefit Death losses 2 for 1927, Mr. Somerville showed, were remarkably low.

"We continue to encourage our policy-holders to safeguard their good health by offering, at the Company's expense, periodical health examinations by experienced physicians. Advantage is quite generally taken of this service." Mr. Somerville analysed the sound inestment position of the company in detail, showing 79.1% of its total bond oldings to be invested in Government and Municipal bonds.

"THE PRINCE OF HEAD WAITERS" FOR MID-WEEK

Lewis Stone Stars in Picture Which Proves to be Unusual One

So sure of his technique and other acting accomplishments is Lewis Stone that he invariably stands head and choulders above the material given him. Take "The Prince of Head Waiters." It is no great shakes in either its plot or treatment, the idea behind it being quite hackneyed-and the bright touches too skippy to give it novelty. But Stone is there with his personality and talent. And it shapes up as enjoyable.

This time the star appears as an art student in Paris and according to the Hollywood pattern he sports a Van Dyke. The sequence of the whiskers starts the celluloid off on its revolution from which develops a time lapse. Several years later Stone bobs up as a headwalter—a good one, too. Leave that to Lew. He has been mourning the death of his girl wife ad interim. During his journeys from table to table in a New York restaurant, he discovers the son whose existence he had been ignorant. The boy is fast in the clutches of a golddigger-and the headwaiter, with a parental influence guiding him, starts to hand out some fatherly advice. The upshot of if is he sayss the youth from himself-aided and abetted by a sweet young thing and some selfsacrifice of his own.

The picture will be shown at the Westholme Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

SPINAL ADJUSTMENTS CURED RHEUMATISM

How rheumatism was banished from the life of one man is told in the fol-

"For three years I suffered intensely from rheumatism. The pain was so severe in my hip and thigh that I would have to stop and rest when walking along the street or working in the field; (I worked on my farm spring and summer months and on the railroad in fall and winter). Often I would have to lay off.

"I consulted five regular physicians at different times, took their medicine; followed their instructions. No change. Next a specialist removed my tonsils. No change-except to get worse. Then a course with an osteopath. No improvement. Pain became so severe that I had to secure a leave of absence from railroad duties. The superintendent advised going to the Rochester Clinic. To Rochester I went. The only change suggested here was to follow a prescribed diet. This I did faithfully and carefully for many months. But still no change.

"Chiropractic adjustments had been urged by my friends. These I decided to give a careful tryout. In January, 1925, I began taking adjustments and continued regularly for two and onehalf months. After a few adjustments I could notice a slight change for the better. The improvement was very gradual, however.

"The pain gradually lessened and since the middle of March, 1925, to the present-over a year-I have not had an ache or a pain of any kind in my hip or thigh, nor have I lost a day's work from rheumatism during this

"I believe that anyone who will take regular adjustments, and allow the chiropractor the necessary time, will get well."

Waterfront Cases Discussed This Morning by Lawyers in Appeal Against Assessment

The civic court of revision was engaged this morning in consideration of the appeals of P. Burns & Co., Ltd. and the Imperial Oil Co., Ltd., represented by L. W. Patmore; Thomas Trotier, C. C. Ketchum, Edward Lipsett (Prince Rupert) Ltd., and N. M. McLean, represented by Milton Gonzales, and the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., whose counsel was W. E. Fisher, against assessments on waterfront property. Overvaluation and exorbitant taxation are the grounds of appeal in all cases. Counsel in each case were heard and the decision of the court was reserved.

L. W. Patmore, in speaking on the Burns' case, submitted that the assessment on this property amounted to $107 a front foot, taking into consideration both the frontage assessment of $80 per foot and the assessment of the acreage to the rear. He claimed inequitabilities in assessment and compared the land in point with other parcels on the waterfront. He claimed that the Burns piece was one of the poorest parcels of the waterfront. I was faced with a reef and wharf building was both a costly and difficult operation. He held that it was inequitable to assess Burns at $80 a front foot, which was the same as more valuable waterfront such as the Big Bay's England while the Imperial Oil Co. was $70 per front foot. In 1926 the assessment on Likes this particular piece of waterfront was $78.40; in 1927, $97, and in 1928 $107 He saw no corresponding increase in suggested that there had been an increase in the number of utility users, Mrs. Hans Underdahl Elected President thus an increase in population. This would increase the value of city land. Assessor J. C. McLennan held that this waterfront property was worth The Busy Bees, girls' organization of more today than it was two years ago. Mr. Patmore did not agree with Saturday afternoon at the home of either Mr. Collart or Mr. McLennan. Mrs. H. Dahl, 230 Fourth Avenue East. He saw no reason why waterfront property should be more valuable today than it was two years ago. All assessments along the waterfront, he claimed, were too high and increases were > not warranted. In speaking to the Trotier appeal. Mr. Gonzales agreed that waterfront piece was $65; in 1925-26, the same; in 1927, $87, and this year, $107. He submitted that there was no reason for the increase. It should be remembered that Mr. Trottier's was only a small business. A wharf had been built at for it. tremendous cost. Mr. Trotier simply "But common sense does," replied on borrowed money and taxes. It Mr. Jones disagreed entirely with would put him out of business. Go where you will in Canada, there is no finer dairy country, dairy cows or dairy men than you see in the Fraser Valley. To us, here, the sight of fine herds is common. We sometimes fail to appreciate their value to British Columbia.

Pacific Milk is gaining a big demand in England because it is so rich and has true natural flavor.
