GALES SWEEP ACROSS OLD COUNTRY

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT IS SUSTAINED IN ELECTION

Terrific Gale Sweeps Britain France and Belgium Causing Ten Deaths and Much Property Damage

Ramsay Macdonald and Sir Arthur Steel Maitland Had Narrow Escape From Trees Blown Across Railways in England

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The death toll from a south-westerly gale that swept Wales, England, France and Belgium yesterday stood at 10 today, with several score injured.

Property damage in England and Wales was enormous and widespread. Thirty families are homeless, their dwellings having been wrecked by the gale. Roofs were swept off several of the large buildings. Two hundred and eight trunk telephone and telegraph lines out of London are down. Seventeen broadcasting stations are isolated.

Most of the channel steamers suspended service and many fishing boats sank.

Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay Macdonald and Hon. Sir Arthur Maitland, minister of labor, had narrow escapes when trains on which they were riding in England ran into fallen trees.

AUSTRALIAN DUTY CHANGE

Advantage Given On Canadian Goods Shipped Through United States

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—A statement issued by the Australian high commissioner's office in New York indicates that goods of Canadian origin shipped to Australia from Eastern Canada via Vancouver will be subject to increased duty under the revised Australian tariff coming into effect on January 1. The full rail charges from Eastern Canada to Vancouver will be included in the value where the goods are shipped from Vancouver, but if the goods are shipped via United States only rail charges from Canada to the United States border will be included, the border point being regarded as the point of export under the Act.

Labor Failed to Oust Government Australia in Election Today but Gained Some Five or Six Seats

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 17.—The Australian Government, a coalition of the National and Government parties, apparently were sustained in the general elections here today. So far as could be figured from the tremendously heavy polling, the Labor opposition gained five or six seats. This would leave the Government with a safe majority of probably 17.

It was indicated from the result of the count so far that the Government and Country parties would have a total of 46 members in the House of Representatives, the total number of seats being 75. Labor probably will have 28 or 29. The Labor party leaders seemed safe and also a majority of the ministers, but some of the latter had close fights.

POLITICAL PARSON RESIGNS POSITION

The Rev. A. M. Sanford, D.D., principal of Columbian College, New Westminster, has resigned and the Board of Directors have accepted the resignation with regret.

Coroner's Jury Slates School Trustees for Persecution of Teacher Who Took Own Life

VICTORIA, Nov. 17.—The coroner's jury investigating the death of Mabel Estelle Jones, the 20-year old school teacher found dead in the house at Camp 6 of the Cowichan Logging Co., came to the opinion that "deceased came to her death through self inflicted wound while temporarily insane. We are further of opinion that this mental state was the result of unjustifiable, unfeeling and unkind criticism of her work on the part of two members of the school board."

The jury also expressed the opinion that the School Act should be so amended as to place the affairs of the school board in small isolated assisted schools in the hands of competent trustees not necessarily elected, "thus freeing teachers from the gossip of irresponsible and petty citizens."

Maple Leafs, Players Club, Toc H and High School Basketball Winners at the Exhibition Hall

The ladies' senior basketball game played last evening in the exhibition building was about the hardest fought game so far this season. The Maple Leafs won from the Drill Team by one point, the score reading 10-9. The Maple Leafs played a fast game and seemed to be inspired to do better as the game went on. The Drill Team, although playing a hard and fast game, was at times a little slow in checking, and the same old die spirit was lacking. The

OPPOSED TO FISH TRAPS

It was a good thing for the Liberal Convention to make its position clear in regard to fish traps on this north coast. The resolution objecting to their use was passed unanimously and doubtless the Fisheries Department at Ottawa will take cognizance of the action of the representative gathering and govern themselves accordingly. To grant the trap license in the face of the resolution would be to put themselves in opposition to Liberal opinion here.

A RELIGIOUS CONTROVERSY

A good many people not in touch with the situation wonder what the controversy in the Anglican Church in Britain is all about. It must be remembered that it is a state church controlled by Parliament. Its present constitution was formed at the time of the Reformation and one of the great features of the church doctrine was that the bread and wine used in the sacrament were not really changed into the body and blood of Christ, but remained simply the natural elements even though consecrated by the priest.

Gradually what is known as the high church section of the Church has been veering toward Catholicism and of late has been reserving the consecrated bread and wine for the use of the sick. This indicated that they considered the consecrated elements different from ordinary bread and wine and was really an admission of the doctrine of transubstantiation. It is to that doctrine that the opposition has developed, the low church section of the Church considering it idolatry.

POSITION OF CANADA IN EMPIRE

The position of Canada in the British Empire is an interesting one. This country shares in all the privileges of the Commonwealth of Nations, but contributes nothing to its defence, leaving the whole burden to be borne by Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand. Beyond the two little destroyers, one on each coast, the country has no navy, and neither has she any army worth mentioning. She assures herself that under the shadow of the Union Jack, with the additional protection of the Stars and Stripes because of the Munroe doctrine, she is secure against all attack and therefore does not need to worry. That is a petty position to take. There should be a naval squadron on the Pacific for the protection of commerce, and this should be a Canadian squadron kept up by the Canadian people. Possibly it was to this Sir Austen Chamberlain was referring when he mentioned that if Canada shared in the benefits of the British Empire membership she should also share in the responsibilities.

Mrs. W. H. Thorne Succumbed In Interior Town Last Night After Critical Illness

Many friends in this city will learn with sincere regret of the death in Smithers last night, after a two weeks' critical illness with fever, of Mrs. W. H. Thorne, a former resident of Prince Rupert and wife of a well-known Canadian National Railway baggage man. The late Mrs. Thorne lived in Prince Rupert for several years with her family before moving to Smithers a couple of years ago.

Deceased was about 35 years of age and is survived by a family of six young children, the oldest of whom is about 13. To the widower and the family general sympathy will be extended. The late Mrs. Thorne's father and two brothers reside at Duncan's, Vancouver Island.

Frank Morris, manager of the B. C. Undertakers, left today for Smithers to take charge of the funeral, which will take place on Monday.

AUSTRALIAN ELECTION ON

Greatest Political Struggle in History of Commonwealth Being Decided Today

CANBERRA, Australia, Nov. 16.—The national triennial Commonwealth election being held today will probably go down to history as the hardest fought political struggle since federation. Premier Bruce and his federal treasurer have forced the appeal to the country on the question of law and order and industrial peace. The Government is opposed to strikes and has in the course of recent waterfront strikes taken an active part in preventing pressure being brought on working men to force them into a union or to cease work at the call of the leaders. The Labor party lead by J. H. Scullin does not defend its strike policy, but attacks the Government on other issues. The Labor party has promised to revise the Arbitration act, to give a business administration, to amend the Crimes Act to prevent it being used against decent working men, the abolition of expensive commissions, and, finally, to repair the breaches in the tariff wall to prevent manufactured imports from flooding the country. They have also promised to take a referendum on proposed changes in the constitution, to restore the system of making per capita grants to the Australian states, to promote organized marketing and the unification of railway gauges.

ies, and the leper is being given firm ground for hope. "Unclean," the cry of fear, horror and revulsion has come down the centuries. The fear has always been exaggerated to a greater or less degree, but has been none-the-less real in the minds of victims and those about them. Within the last few weeks, on probation from the National Leprosarium here, sent back to their homes no longer a menace to the public health. Since the institution was established by the United States public health service seven years ago, 377 have been released, and only one has suffered a relapse. Those released recently had been under treatment from two to seven years, and about 400 others remain.

Year's Halibut Landings at Prince Rupert Well Ahead of 1927; Many Hunting Parties Out Over Week-End; Daring Rescue

With some 70 large American schooners estimated to be inward bound from the banks, it is expected that halibut arrivals at Prince Rupert and Seattle will be heavy during the coming week, and that, during that period, the last halibut of the year will be landed following the commencement of the close season on November 15. The last of the Canadian boats are expected to be in by Monday.

Fish having been rather scarce on the northern banks a few weeks previous, many boats continued operations until the last hour of the open season at midnight, November 15. This should make for heavy landings during the week following the close.

With both the American and Canadian totals showing gains, halibut landings at Prince Rupert for the year up to yesterday stood at 26,091,700 pounds, well over a million pounds in excess of last year's 24,739,950 pounds at a similar date. American landings stood at 18,709,200 pounds, as compared with 18,369,850 pounds, while the Canadian total was increased to 7,382,500 pounds from 6,388,200 pounds. Landings during the final week, it is expected, will boost the American total still further over that of 1927.

Landings during the week of Saturday to Friday were very light, totalling only 335,100 pounds, of which 187,400 pounds was from American vessels and 147,700 pounds from Canadian. On the whole, high prices featured the week's bidding. The best American price was 20.6c and 7c, received by the Onah for 10,500 pounds, and the lowest, 16.1 and 8c, paid the Jack for a broken catch of 400 pounds. Prices for Canadian fish fluctuated from 18.9c and 7c, received by the Nuba, Oslo and Zero for catches of 1000, 10,000 and 1000 pounds, respectively, down to 13.1 and 6c.

After advertising the vessel for sale, the provincial government has now withdrawn the local police boat P. M. L. 2 from the market. In the meantime, the intentions of the authorities in connection with the craft seem to be uncertain. Though no definite offers were made to purchase, a number of inquiries were made in connection with the boat. Constable Raybone is now in solitary command of the P. M. L. 2, following the departure of Constable

Thomas Camm for the Peace River country.

With the entire upperworks missing as the result of explosion and fire which sunk the vessel several months ago at Butedale, the local halibut boat Caygeon, salvaged last week by the Prince Rupert Salvage & Towing Co., is a sorry looking sight moored at the floats of the salvors. The engine was taken out of the boat immediately after it was brought here and is now undergoing renovation. The vessel, which was owned by Dominic Mara and Capt. John Wick and was abandoned by the underwriters as a total loss, will probably be offered for sale by her recoverers.

The trolling boat J. and N., upon which her owner, Jack Beale, lost his life last Saturday in a fall on the waterfront, is now tied up at the floats of the Prince Rupert Salvage & Towing Co. and will, it is understood, be offered for sale by the official administrator.

Before tying up their vessels for the winter, a number of the local halibut boat skippers made hunting trips during the past week. Capt. Pete Meuse made a trip to Porcher Island with Reg. Webber and Capt. Jack Christianson as his guests. They left on Saturday and returned Wednesday with 25 ducks.

Capt. Pete Thompson made a trip to Kumeleon Inlet aboard the Verna with Tom Dybhavn, Helge Essen and C. Herfle. Between them they got one buck, leaving on Saturday and returning on Wednesday.

Capt. Chris Henriksen and party on the Gibson got a bag of five on Porcher Island, also leaving Saturday and returning Wednesday.

Leaving last Saturday night, Capt. Ole Skog took a large hunting party to Campania Island aboard the seineboat Azurite in quest of deer. The expedition is expected to return home the end of this week.

Capt. Clarence O. Campbell and his better half returned home last Sunday after a five day trip to Porcher Island aboard the halibut boat Joe Baker. The cranberry patches were visited and were found comparable with the marshes of the skipper's native Nova Scotia. A little gunning was engaged in but not very seriously.

Friends of Alec McRae are pulling for a Nobel prize for the popular secretary of the Prince Rupert Yacht & Rowing Club for Alex proved himself to be a real hero last Monday in his manipulation with Alec MacDonald's power cruiser of the rescue at Hodgson Reef of a disabled power boat and its occupants who had drifted for twenty-four hours in the troubled waters of Chatham Sound. Quite a feat was performed with skill and discretion, much to the relief of at least two of the parties concerned. Though Alex and his companions—Bill Wilkinson and John McRae—did not bring home from Big Bay so very much in the game line, they did fetch a mighty scared young lady, which is a good deal more than the most of the boys have been able to do so far this season.

A Cold Bath
John Matson, well known local fisherman, had an experience last Saturday on the floats of the F. E. Hunt Co. Ltd. which might easily have been attended with disastrous results. Going down the approach to the floats with a heavy box of groceries while the tide was low he missed his footing and slipped into the water. He was caught in such a manner between a fender pile and the float that his head was held under the water. Fortunately, aid was immediately forthcoming and John was extricated from a predicament which could have readily proven a very serious one.

Jack Lindsay and party aboard the Irene L. were among the more successful huntsmen over the holiday week-end. The expedition of eight was reported to have brought back from Porcher Island some seventeen bucks more or less. It is a good thing for the deer that the season is closing in about a month's time, particularly with these Lindsay's ground.

Blossoming forth in a Christie stiff which makes him very dignified indeed, Capt. Tony Martinson, owner of the halibut boat Livingstone, called upon his waterfront friends this week. Tony has been landed owner all this year following his marriage last winter and has not made a single trip to the banks during the season. The way things are going some of the boys are beginning to fear that Tony will be forgetting to recognize them before long.

To Big Bay

One goose and several mallards was the bag of J. A. Hinton, Lyman Hinton, Roger McLennan and E. H. Mortimer who made a trip to Big Bay on the Ethelda over the Thanksgiving week-end. Like others leaving at that time a rough trip was experienced by the party.

A hunting party consisting of four local youths—William Richards, Ralph Edwards, F. Brooksbank and Ray Ingraham—over whose safety anxiety had been felt since they failed to return home by Tuesday morning, got back to town safe and sound Wednesday night after having experienced some unexpected incidents, the most distressing of which, apparently, was a shortage of eating material, an important matter for such thriving young gentlemen.

In their gasboat Dolphin the party left town on Saturday afternoon and reached Kumeleon Inlet without incident. Prospects there, however, did not seem satisfactory so the course was set homewards with the object of potting a few on the way back. Then the trouble began. The first thing the youthful navigators did was to hit a rock which wasn't so bad as the tide floated them off after a time. Then the engine broke down and, after some difficulty, harbor was safely made in one of the Porcher Island bays. Food running short, the engine failing to start in spite of ingenious persuasions, all distress signals failing and things starting to look more and more serious, generally, Richards and Edwards, after the party had been marooned almost forty-eight hours, set forth in the dinghy for assistance and, after arduous duty at the oars, reached Inverness on Tuesday, spent the night there and walked into town yesterday. A fishing boat was thereupon sent out and returned to port at midnight last night with rookshank, Ingraham and the disabled boat. The Star Welding, Post Office, Royal Bank and Big Bay Lumber Co. staffs were again at full strength this morning.

The provincial police boat P. M. L. 2 went out Wednesday presumably to search for the lost hunters but the latter stated that it passed them, apparently without detecting their distress signals.

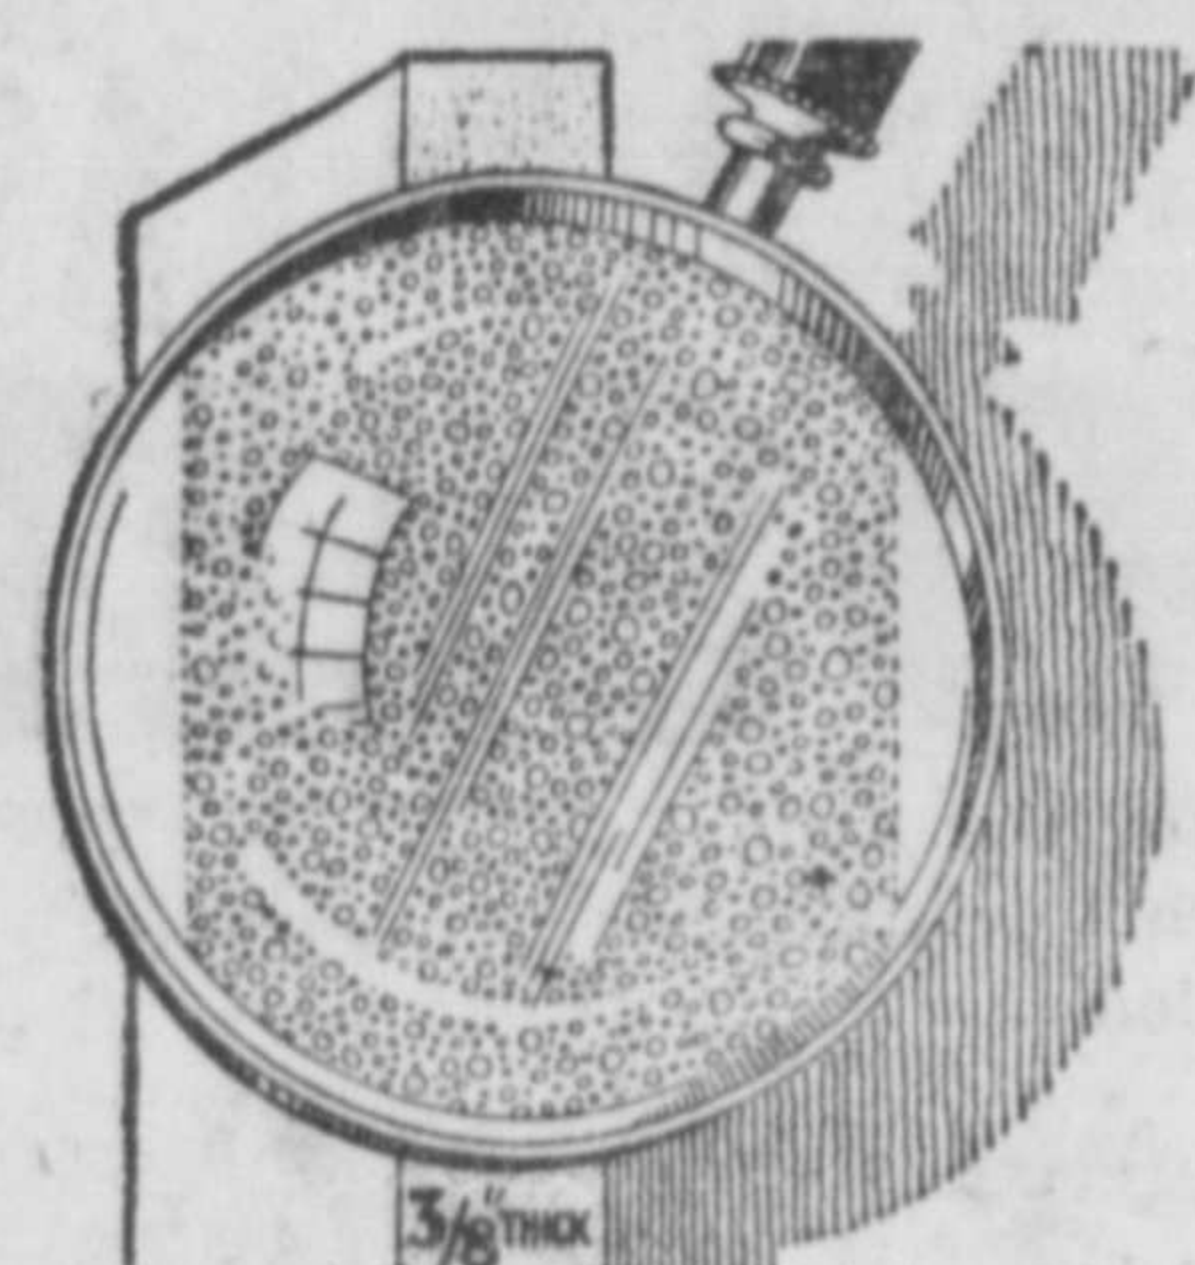

Aboard the seineboat Zenardi, Capt. Charlie Larkin, Hubert Ward left Wednesday evening to pay a visit to his mining claims in Griffin Pass, this side of Milbank Sound. He was accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Ned Tait, and they will do some hunting on the side. The party expects to return home on Monday.

One of the longer and more successful hunting expeditions this week was one headed by P. W. Anderson and H. B. Stiles which returned to port last evening after a week's trip to Kumeleon and Kitkatla Inlets. There were six in the party which travelled on the Anderson boat Zenobia and the bag consisted of ten bucks and some fifty or so mallards. Other members of the party were George Roter, E. Hellman, John Viereck and Stan Parker.

Salmon and halibut fishermen operating out of this port are getting together in order to impress upon the government the necessity for further float accommodation at Prince Rupert for the fishing fleet.

LATEST STORY ABOUT BRUIN

Bill Campbell and His Dog Chummy Rival Percy Williams in Making Getaway

SKIDGATE, Nov. 15.—Bill Campbell, pioneer prospector of the Queen Charlotte Islands, was out in the hills recently with his dog Chummy, when looking up he saw one of the largest bears he had ever seen looking at him. Bears usually move away when disturbed but this one did not. It blinked its eyes and Bill blinked his.

Bill then looked over his shoulder to see how he going was toward the beach. He decided to retreat but retreating was not very attractive with the bear so close. Percy Williams had nothing on this seventy year old prospector as he made a straightway for the boat and he was the first to arrive there, Chummy coming in second.

Around Skidegate the story is greeted with some merriment and the jocular remark Bill was too tough for the bear or he would never have got away.

Going Upstairs Had to Sit Down Breath So Short

Mrs. H. Brousseau, Magog, Que., writes:—"For many years I suffered with shortness of breath; then four years ago I had palpitation of the heart, and was so bad I had to sit down two or three times when going upstairs. I read about so I got a box, and in no time I felt better, so I took three boxes more and I have never had shortness of breath since."
