Claim Made That the Tariff on Woollen Products Influenced by British But This Is Repudiated

OTTAWA, March 23.—Budget changes to the tariff on woollens brought a sharp discussion in the House last night. Conservatives attacked the changes as having been inspired by English woollen interests. The tariff changes, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader charged, seemed to have been moulded by Huddersfield and Bradford rather than by Canadians for Canadians. Hugh Guthrie expressed resentment at what he termed interference of Yorkshire millmen.

Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of finance, remarked that there were instances where Canadian manufacturers made representations to the British government through the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in London. Representatives of a similar nature had been made to the governments of South Africa, New Zealand and Australia in an effort to obtain privileges in these markets at the very moment representatives of the Canadian industrial interests were in Washington before the U.S. tariff board in connection with importation into the United States of milk and cream.

FIRE DESTROYS MAIL ON BOAT

BLAZE BROKE OUT ON STEAMER PRINCE JOHN AS VESSEL WAS COMING NORTH THIS TRIP

There was considerable smoke and excitement but speedy action on the part of the crew prevented the flames from spreading and about the only damage to the ship was some burned paint in the mailroom. The origin of the fire was apparently not ascertained although the suggestion is made that there might have been some inflammable material in the mail.

CONSCRIPTION OF WEALTH

During the recent war if anyone mentioned "conscription of wealth as well as men" he was looked upon as a Red. Since then many people have been thinking it over and have decided that one is just as reasonable as the other. It is undoubtedly the duty of every person in a community to help defend it against an enemy and it is also right that at such a time all the resources of the country should be available and no one person or group of persons should be allowed to make big profits from the blood of the nation.

But of course there are difficulties in the way. The people who organize wars are mostly wealthy and usually they do not take part themselves. Neither form of conscription appeals to them. Whether it is wise or not to pass a law or place a resolution on the statute books, it is pretty certain that in future any war, if there should be one, will result in the whole wealth of the nation being taken for the purpose of aiding in repelling an invader. So far we have been unable to see any good argument against this. Possibly there is one, but the resolution of the former member for Metaskiwin on the face of it looks reasonable. If it were adopted in every country, there would be no war.

PEACE RIVER POSSIBILITIES

The Edmonton Journal has just issued a special number dealing particularly with the Peace River country. It is a splendid effort and if it does not give Prince Rupert much mention it must be remembered that such was not its object. It is worthy of the enterprise of a growing city and Edmonton is a city that is moving ahead at a great rate.

Anyone wishing information about the Peace country cannot do better than send for a copy of the ninety-page edition of the Journal dealing with the subject.

REFORMED POLICE

The first police institute in the United States, dedicated to courtesy, fellowship and social service, has been inaugurated by Fordham University as a gift to the city. Seventy-five grizzled police lieutenants, a bit puzzled by it all, and one hundred policemen heard the new doctrine expounded in the classroom on the twenty-eighth floor of the Woolworth Building by Chief Magistrate William McAdoo.

"The old policeman of the Sullivan type is being replaced by the newer policeman with the higher mentality of a Tunney," said Magistrate McAdoo, who, however, had a word of praise for the old-timers.

"They were fine cops of the good old days, God bless 'em," he said. "They were ample of back, rolling of front, strong of arm, hard of head, soft of heart, broad of feet, like a perchon horse."

"But today there are new ways and new police. The New York police are walking advertisements of clean living and clean thinking."

Lieutenants assigned to welfare work and all policemen are required to attend the school one night a week. Lectures will be given by Fordham instructors and others.

WHAT I MIGHT HAVE BEEN

As Told by Harold C. Burr
By IRVING BERLIN

"MY FATHER tried to groom me to be a rabbi, but I wanted to be a musician. I mean the sort of a fellow who doesn't want to work. Before his plans changed through my father's intervention he died. And I was rapidly deteriorating toward my own left choice of a career, when I wrote my first song. But there were other things between those two extremes."

"On my arrival in America from Russia with my parents I didn't have any idea what I'd make of myself—if anything. The skyline of New York didn't inspire one little immigrant. I was only 4 years old."

"Afterwards when I went to school I used to try my hand at drawing, but I never got very far beyond the tracing stage."

"I would like to have been a cartoonist. Often now I get an idea for a picture when I ought to be getting one for a song. But then everybody thinks they have good ideas for cartoons."

"I really arrived at being a composer by a process of elimination. My first urge, as I've said, was toward loafing. I was restless to get away from things. So I ran away from home to the cabarets along the Bowery. It was a sort of a game all the East side boys practiced. We called it playing hooky from home. The majority of us returned eventually because we had to eat. I sang in a cabaret for awhile. It was what we were pleased to designate as entertaining."

"About then I attained to my first ambition. It was to make $25 a week. I would have worked for $10. Twenty-five was just the ultimate goal. I didn't care particularly what the job would be, either, so long as I was paid that princely sum."

"That first song I sweated over two weeks. It was the most gush-awful lyric ever written. I named it 'Marie from Sunny Italy.' One of the rhymes still haunts me. 'Come to me, my lovely queen. Can't you hear my mandoline?' I still have one copy. I hope it's the only one in existence."

"Another thing I'd like to be is a musician—not simply a composer. It would be such a distinct advantage. I could get things done so much more quickly. And that would give me time to attempt other things than just the verse and chorus of a melody. My greatest pleasure would be to be able to write a real folk song, like 'Annie Laurie,' for instance."

IRVING BERLIN

"My father tried to groom me to be a rabbi, but I wanted to be a bum!"

"You've probably heard that I don't even know the notes on the piano, but that isn't anything—well, so freakish! You might be able to write a story yet not know how to type it. The key of the typewriter transcribe the word of an author. So then the keys of a piano are the medium that transcribe the song of a composer."

"I have a music-stenographer. He understands the science of music, and takes down the notes the same way I'd dictate a letter to him. Then I read it over—if it doesn't sound right I change it."

"But I wouldn't give up my sense of melody to be the best musician in the world. Music is something you can learn in a college. Composition come to you—like when the doctor says, 'It's a boy!'"

LOCAL RESIDENT AND FAMILY TO RAISE FRUIT AND SHIP TO PRINCE RUPERT

Mr. Robinson plans to raise fruit at his new ranch. He has seven of the ten acres cleared and a modern house with hot and cold water laid on. He has already made arrangements for marketing his produce here and is looking forward to the change, which is largely on account of his health. While here he was employed at the Cold Storage.

ARCHDEACON RIX IS LUNCHEON SPEAKER

Gives Serious Talk to Rotarians at Commodore Cafe Yesterday Afternoon

At the regular weekly luncheon held in the Commodore cafe, Archdeacon Rix gave the members a serious talk on their responsibilities both to the public and to themselves. He said that every man had a reputation to sustain as well as character. The community usually held an estimate of each man and he found that the man on the street was a pretty good judge. He urged the members to live so that they might be above criticism.

While the estimate placed on a man by the public might be wrong each person had to render an account to himself, to be true to himself. By living in such a manner that with pride he could look back over his record he would get the best out of life.

WAS THE FOUNDER OF IMPERIAL TOBACCO CO.

Sir Mortimer Davis Spent Much Time Experimenting With Growing of Weed in Canada

As early as 1888, at the age of 22 years, Sir Mortimer Davis, whose death was announced yesterday, commenced that commercial activity which resulted ultimately in the organization of the Imperial Tobacco Co., a company which has long been recognized as a model of administrative efficiency. Many years ago Sir Mortimer had the foresight to recognize the wonderful possibilities of tobacco growing and its manufacture is today one of Canada's largest industries. Imbued with an unflinching confidence in Canada's future, Sir Mortimer was keenly interested in every phase of its commercial and agricultural development and this belief in the destiny of the Dominion as the country of the future was unquenchable.

At the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served by Miss Haddock, assisted by the Misses Nellie Gurdich, Helen Sim, Ella Steen and Eleanor Title.

Treble and Bass

all There!

Fifes --- clarinets and flutes, --- as well as traps, --- tympani --- bass viols and gruff-throated tubas --- all clearly heard.

Liquid trebles,—deep, low fundamentals,—these tones give Orthophonic Victrola music its beauty and color. So that today a public concert by famous artists and an Orthophonic Victrola performance by the same great artists,—are two things alike as twins,—and you need not stir from the lazy comfort of the fireside to hear the Orthophonic Victrola. It's really marvellous when you come to think of it. We moderns owe a tribute to the scientists who have contributed the rich gift of "matched impedance" or "smooth flow of sound" to the Victrola. To Victor was extended the privilege of developing this principle for your greater enjoyment.

As a result you may have beautiful, realistic music at home, and you may have it contained in graceful cabinets wrought in fine woods. Artistically designed models,—all equipped with a device which stops each record after playing. Electrical drive, if you wish,—at slight additional cost, eliminates winding. Prices from $1400 down to as low as $115,—on convenient payments from all His Master's Voice dealers.

A Bad Case of Eczema

Are you reading the weekly Canadian letters, telling stories of suffering from skin diseases and how relief was effected?

Here is part of a letter from Mrs. E. Cason, Box 112, Midland, Ont. Write her if you desire. "I had a very bad case of eczema on my face and neck, also scalp. Could not find anything to give me relief. One small bottle of D.D.D. gave me great relief, so then I secured a large bottle and I am now without a blemish."

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. When a prescription for skin disease has letters of endorsement from nearly every city and town in the Dominion, surely it is enough to convince the most skeptical.

Relief from itching torment is immediate. Try one $1.00 bottle of D. D. D. today on the positive guarantee. And D. D. D. Soap, too.

U.S. PLANNING USE AIR MAIL

WILL CO-OPERATE WITH BRITAIN IN TRANSATLANTIC AIR SERVICE THIS FALL

CARRY 100 PASSENGERS IF SUCCESSFUL BIG COMPANY WILL OPERATE REGULAR SERVICE WITH SEVERAL SHIPS

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 23.—Confident that forty-eight hour air mail and passenger between London and New York is so close at hand that its attainment is only a matter of months, the government is clearing the way for participation by the United States in a new era of trans-oceanic transport.

Spurred by announcement that the giant British dirigible R-100, nearing completion in England, will make demonstration voyages over the Atlantic in September to show the feasibility of the plan, executive branches are moving quickly to assure full United States co-operation in consummation of an air line over the Atlantic.

The post office department, through Warren I. Glover, assistant postmaster general in charge of air mail, has indicated that if Britain institutes regular trans-Atlantic service, the government will be ready to despatch mail in quantities to England by air at the regular two-cent postage rate now in effect. Similar plans by British postal authorities call for a three-cent letter rate on United States-bound mail with a surcharge of nine cents.

Rep. Clyde Kelly of Pennsylvania has offered in Congress a measure authorizing the postmaster general to contract for trans-oceanic mail at three dollars a pound. Its passage will remove almost the last barrier to United States use of the liners for mail.

President Coolidge has expressed his interest in the plan in connection with the visit to Washington of C. D. Burney, member of the British Parliament and representative of sponsors of the R-100.

At the president's direction, Secretary Wilbur of the navy is making available the mooring mast at Lakehurst, N.J., for the demonstration flight, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover is looking into the project with a view to aiding it as he may through the department's section of commercial aviation.

The R-100 will be 709 feet long—31 feet longer than the U.S. navy dirigible Los Angeles. It will have a carrying capacity of 100 passengers and ten tons of freight, a cruising radius of 4,000 miles and a speed of 75 miles an hour.

It will be able, Burney estimates, to voyage from New York to London in about 38 hours but the westward flight will take ten hours more because of the difference in prevailing winds. The ship will have the luxurious staterooms and appointments of an ocean liner.

Present plans call for endurance maneuvering and mooring tests for the R-100 in July and August, to be followed in September by the trans-Atlantic tests. If these succeed, British capital is prepared, Burney says, to organize at once a $35,000,000 corporation to build five more ships to serve with the R-100 as a trans-Atlantic air fleet.

NIZAM OF HYDERABAD HELPS LONDON MOSQUE

Gives $200,000 Towards Cost of Erecting Building for Moslems Living in London

LONDON, March 23.—Information has been received by Moslems in London that the Nizam of Hyderabad has promised five lakhs of rupees (about £40,000) to the fund which is being raised for building a mosque in London. The gift was made as the result of an appeal by Lord Headley last December at Delhi, where he presided over the All-India Tahligh Conference. Lord Headley was afterwards the guest of the Nizam in his capital.

About 600 Moslems are resident in London, and throughout the country there are about 3,000 but the floating population is much greater. At present there is a mosque at Peckham and one of the Ahmadiyah section at Southfields.

The movement to build a central mosque for London was started in 1906, but the war stopped its progress. The total cost of the scheme, which includes a house for the priest, a guest house, baths, and possibly a restaurant, is estimated at £100,000. A substantial sum remains to be raised, but the Nizam's gift will enable the committee to proceed with arrangements for construction as soon as a site has been obtained.

Moslems resident in Great Britain intend presenting an address to the King of Afghanistan during his visit here.

POLICE PATROL WITHIN SHADOW OF NORTH POLE

LONG JOURNEY MADE UNDER TRYING CIRCUMSTANCES ACROSS ELLESMERE LAND AND BACK

PLENTY OF GAME SEEN

OTTAWA, March 23.—(By the Canadian Press)—How the Royal Canadian Mounted Police—formerly styled the Royal North-West Mounted Police—continue to uphold the authority of Canada up in the Arctic wastes, thousands of miles from civilization, is told in simple, straightforward language in the annual report of that body which was recently made public. Patrols undertaken within the shadow of the North Pole itself, demanding an absence of months from their base, involving treks over glaciers, through blinding blizzards and under conditions that call for the utmost endurance and hardihood, are recounted as a matter of routine duty.

All the land lying north of the mainland of Canada has long since been claimed as the possession of Canada, and in order to assert her authority Canada sends those stalwart constables to apply the laws of the Dominion, to succor the Eskimos, whom Canada has adopted as her wards, when they in need of help, to establish post offices and customs posts, and in general to administer in the name of the King that vast sub-continent that lies beyond the northern shores of this country.

IN FARTHEST NORTH

At Bache Peninsula, in Ellesmere Land, is the most northerly outpost of civilization in the world. It is 700 miles south of the Pole, and stationed there are three men of the Royal Mounted, with three native Eskimo families and a further animal equipment of 19 huskie dogs. They are housed in two small but comfortable shacks for the natives, with living quarters, storehouse, blubber shed and other small constructions for the officers. The winter of 1926-27 was a mild one and such being the nature of communications the most recent news from Bache Peninsula is that of last winter. Only one night did the thermometer go below 41, and climatic conditions generally were good.

Perhaps it was this mild weather which inspired Sergeant Joy to undertake his trip directly across Ellesmere Land with two Eskimos, Ahkeoo and Nookapeungwak, covering a distance of 1,320 miles and doing it in 34 days. The story of the trip is told in plain, unvarnished language, with no heroics and no superlatives. The party left Bache Peninsula at noon on March 26, 1927. Constable Garnett and Eskimo Oode accompanied them part of the way. Four dog teams made up the four-footed part of the expedition. After 10 days the constable and his Eskimo returned to the base, and Sergeant Joy and his two natives continued their journey. The trip was one which brought out the great endurance of the white man and his natives, and the casual manner in which circumstances are told form one of the most interesting features of the journal.

SEARCH FOR FOOD

"On the 6th (April) Nookapeungwak and Ahkeoo walked inland in search of caribou, while I made a further attempt to dry out clothing. During their 10-hour absence they killed four hares, and saw many caribou tracks a few days old, but no caribou."

Many mink oxen were seen, hares were plentiful as were ptarmigan, while polar bears and wolves also put in occasional appearance. The party replenished their larder from the result of a caribou hunt, but the after-effects looked bad for a while.

"While returning to camp with the caribou on the komatik, two hares jumped up from under the dog's feet; the dogs followed the hare-like animals some mad and took the komatik over a high cut bank into a bed of rocks, with bad results on the komatik. It took over a day to put it in running order again."

RAN INTO BLIZZARD

On April 16, the party ran into a blizzard while making towards a high cape. "We had barely covered half the distance when the storm came on again. We reached the cape, but the storm made it almost as dark as mid-winter, and we were unable to see more than a few feet on land or ice. The storm continued until the morning of the 18th when the snow ceased drifting and the wind moderated to a strong breeze.

Fogs and storms became an almost daily portion of their trip, but even in those exposed wastes there was vegetation.

"Here and there a few tufts of grass, an occasional frozen Arctic poppy and a little heather were all the vegetation that could be seen within several hundred yards off the shore line. At this time we had only two feeds of dog pemican for each team; our dogs were thin and languid, and I decided to start on our return journey immediately."

BARREN GROUND CARIBOO

However, the Eskimos re-stocked the cupboard with a large, bearded seal while a polar bear was also shot and led to the dogs. On the way back the food supply became more plentiful, but the storms and the fog continued. The sergeant found evidences that led him to believe that in that part of Ellesmere Land caribou were increasing, but "they appear to be a very stupid animal, even more so than the barren ground caribou. They are not afraid of men, nor are they much concerned over the noise made by a team or a number of teams of howling Eskimo dogs. For the latter reason it would be interesting to observe how they would act when being approached or stalked by wolves. The wolves must play havoc with such easy prey. And no doubt many die annually from starvation and sickness, for they are wretchedly poor in the spring and not all can be lucky enough to survive the winter's living skeleton."

The Eskimos worked very hard throughout the trip, and Sergeant Joy expresses appreciation of their good work. The patrol reached Bache Peninsula Post on May 18, 1927, after having travelled 1,320 miles.

JAPANESE BUILDING NEW VESSELS TO OPERATE ACROSS PACIFIC SOON

VICTORIA, March 23.—To successfully compete for trade on the Pacific the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, premier shipping company of Japan, will have three large motor liners in commission by the early part of the year 1930, it was stated by Taine H. Kawada, general passenger agent of the company at Tokio, who has been in the city on the course of a world tour studying traffic conditions.

Interviewed here Mr. Kawada stated that the first of the three motor liners now under construction in Japan will be commissioned for service on the Pacific by September 15, 1929. The vessel will be the first of two motorships building at the Mitsui Bishi plant at Nagasaki. The third vessel, building at the plant of the Yokohama Dockyard Company will be turned over to the company in March, 1930.

SPEEDY VESSELS

All three ships, Mr. Kawada states, will each be of 16,000 tons gross and will have a sea speed of twenty knots. They will have accommodation for 200 first class, 100 second class and 500 third-class passengers and will have large cargo-carrying space.

The new motorships will be operated by the N.Y.K. in the service between Hong Kong, Yokohama and San Francisco in conjunction with the steamships Taiyo Maru, formerly the German ship Cap Finisterre, and the Shinyo Maru. The N.Y.K. is contemplating the construction of three additional motor liners for the North Pacific service between Hong Kong, Yokohama, Victoria and Seattle. This boat would make excellent packer. after supper called on the company to rise to the toast of the King, which was followed by the National Anthem. Glen Mohr proposed the toast to the Dads and J. S. Irvine replied.

The toastmaster called on the company to rise and sing "O Canada." Ronald Wilson then proposed the toast to Canada which was responded to by Earl Barrie.

Eddie Anderson gave a humorous recitation "Finigan and Flanigan." Jim and Walter Bennett rendered a violin and piano duet in splendid style and responded to the hearty encore with a second number.

Jack Cobb spoke in a humorous vein and Geo. A. Wilson, Tuxis mentor spoke on the C.S.E.T. program.

Bruce Stevens, mentor for the Trail Rangers, in the course of his remarks on the work of his group, expounded forcefully the viewpoint of the young folk in regard to the proposed cenotaph as a memorial to our Canadian soldiers, in which he claimed that a gymnasium would be a far more fitting and useful memorial to the heroic dead.

Others speaking in commendation of the C.S.E.T. work were S. D. Macdonald and Jack Stevens.

The program was interspersed with community singing led by G. S. Wilson, accompanied ably on the piano by Cliff Cameron. The evening closed with the singing of "The Maple Leaf."

NEW TERRACE COUNCIL HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Deals With Number of Detail Matters Concerning Village: Gordon is Chairman

TERRACE, March 23. — Following the court of revision Tuesday the councillors met for their regular monthly meeting—the first held since the election.

On motion of Geo. Little, seconded by E. T. Kenney, J. K. Gordon was elected chairman of the council.

A letter was read from the B.C. Corporation of Land Surveyors regarding the preservation of survey posts and monuments and requesting the co-operation of the council in this respect. The clerk was ordered to send a sympathetic reply.

Another letter, regarding the purchasing of a safe, was ordered tabled.

TAXES COMING IN

The financial reports showed license fees and taxes coming in slowly and most of the current accounts were ordered paid.

The trade license bylaw received its third reading and a minor change in motor vehicle licenses made, the charge being reduced from $5 every six months to $5 per year.

The poolroom license bylaw was given its first reading.

In this connection E. T. Kenney brought up the point as to whether the bylaws should include the penal clauses as set down in the act or whether by so doing they might be invalidated. H. Halliwell said in first drafting them he had not included these clauses but had noticed that in the bylaws of certain other villages they were included so had added them to the Terrace bylaws. He was instructed to write the inspector of municipalities for guidance in the matter.

The question of placing a suitable billboard for local notices in a prominent place in town was considered, and George Little and H. Halliwell were appointed a committee to draft specifications and ask for tenders on the work.

NEW WALKS

The same committee was also delegated to arrange specifications and call for tenders for removing the old sidewalk between the track and the town, and the piece of sidewalk in front of the buildings (west of Kalum Street), and along the railroad grounds, and the building of a new board walk in the former case and a gravel path in the latter.

A special meeting will be called to consider these tenders and get the work under way as quickly as possible.

the three drills was started this week and as much ore as possible is being prepared for shipment and for treatment in the mill.

Local shipping is increasing to such an extent that the facilities at the New Hazelton railway station are becoming far from adequate. What with growing mining and lumbering activity, the one small loading platform is now in constant use and the prospect is that extensions will soon be required.

Mrs. Homlinson entertained ladies of the district at tea on Wednesday afternoon.

With warm weather prevailing, the snow has been fast disappearing in this district during the week. Several places in Hazelton are under water and the roads at some points are being cut up with small washouts appearing. On account of the mire, most of the trucks are now off the roads.

The Mohawk mine is now being developed by machinery and excellent progress is being made. The compressor and machines were started last Sunday and have been working since without a hitch. The three-foot ore vein is looking well and the management is highly pleased.

An anniversary social was held in the United Church at Hazelton on Monday night with a large crowd in attendance. There was an enjoyable program and refreshments were served.

The Hazelton police court has been busy during the past week, mainly with cases under the Indian Act. As a result, several prisoners are now behind the bars and a number of fines have been collected.

F. M. Dockrill of Telkwa, Conservative candidate for Skeena, and W. Drinnan, provincial organizer of the party, were visitors here during the week. Mr.

Dockrill says he expects an election in June.

Rev. William Allen of Terrace was a visitor in Hazelton and Kispiox during the week.

The Kittens' Bridge Club of Hazelton met last evening at the home of Mrs. C. W. Dawson.

R. S. Sargent of Hazelton has been appointed Chevrolet dealer for this district. He received a carload of cars on Tuesday.

The mouth of the tunnel on the Comet group on Four Mile Mountain is being cleared out preparatory to the institution of an active campaign of development work for W. B. Dornberg of Vancouver who has acquired the property.

Robt. Henwood returned on Sunday from Cedarvale and after spending the intervening time at his home here left on Tuesday for Prince Rupert.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haney returned on Wednesday after spending several days in Prince Rupert.

Rev. Wm. Allan returned on Thursday from Hazelton where he conducted services on Sunday and from which point he visited Kispiox and other United Church stations in that district. Rev. J. H. Young, who made the exchange of pulpits with Mr. Allan, returned to the interior on Monday.

Reports from Usk indicate that the concert put on by the Usk Club on Saturday night was a splendid success. There were three sketches and vaudeville performances in which splendid talent was shown and much merriment aroused. A New Vision of Health

A new vision of health has appeared to uncounted numbers of people in the last few years. A vision of health approaching perfection, health maintained without drugs or operations and without the periods of illness so common to many.

This is because of the growth of Chiropractic, the health science that deals with the cause of disease rather than its treatment. By keeping the spine in alignment, the chiropractor keeps nerve lines free to function, and dis-ease does not develop.

By my chiropractic health method I correct diseases of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and lower organs.

CONSERVATIVES HOLD MEETING

WILL HAVE ANOTHER CONFERENCE NEXT WEEK IN REGARD TO CANDIDATE

An enthusiastic political speech was delivered before the Prince Rupert Conservative Association last night by W. A. McKenzie, M.L.A. for Similkameen. The speaker gave a review of the activities at the recent session of the legislature and based his prediction of an election this summer on the large amounts that had been voted by the government for public works.

W. E. Fisher, president of the association, occupied the chair and a vote of thanks to Mr. McKenzie was passed on motion of W. W. Wright and E. A. Mann. There was a large attendance of party supporters at the meeting which was held in the Conservative clubrooms.

The matter of nominating a candidate to contest Prince Rupert riding in the next provincial election was discussed and it was decided to call another meeting for next Thursday when this will be the chief topic of consideration.

OLDFIELD TRAIL ROUTE IS GOOD

HAS THREE GOOD LOOK-OUT POINTS AND EASY GRADE—COULD BE MADE BRIDLE PATH

Ernest Smith, assistant district engineer for the provincial department of public works, and Ex-Ald. Jos. Greer, representing the civic road committee, climbed to the top of Mount Oldfield yesterday to make an inspection of the route that has been blazed for a trail from the city to the mountain top. The route, Mr. Greer reports, is somewhat west of the present trail to the old dam and zig-zags and switchbacks with an easy grade all the way to the top of the mountain. There are two good look-out points along the mountainside and a splendid one at the top. Properly built, it could be easily used as a bridle path, Mr. Greer states.

PIONEER SHIP ON LAST CALL

PRINCESS BEATRICE WILL MAKE FINAL APPEARANCE IN PORT TOMORROW

C.P.R. steamer Princess Beatrice, which has plied into Prince Rupert for 20 years or more and upon which many pioneer citizens first landed here almost two decades ago, will make her final call to the port tomorrow. After this week's trip she is to be withdrawn from service and it is reported that she will be either scrapped or sold. One of the best known and, in her day, one of the crack ships of the British Columbia coastwise trade will probably be seen here no more. At one time she operated on the Alaska run and, as a matter of fact, has been used at one time or another in almost every route of the British Columbia Coast Steamship Service.

Built in Victoria in 1903 by the B.C. Marine Railway Co., one of the heads of which company at that time was George G. Bushby, now of Prince Rupert, the Princess Beatrice is a wooden vessel of 193 feet length and 635 registered tons. One of her first masters was the late Capt. E. McCoskie of this city. Her present commander is Capt. Robert Thomson.

The Princess Beatrice will be replaced next week by the Princess Royal which is no less well known and which was built in 1907 in the same yard at Victoria. She is a larger and better appointed vessel of 238 feet length with more commodious passenger accommodation.

The Beatrice is reported due at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning from the South. She will sail at 11 a.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

GENERAL BECOMES CHIEF OF POLICE

TORONTO, March 23.—Brigadier General D. C. Draper, C.M.G., D.S.O., of Montreal, has been appointed chief of police for Toronto.

C.N.R. steamer Prince John, from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands, arrived in port at 6:45 this morning and will sail at 8 o'clock tomorrow night on her return south by the same route. During the trip north considerable excitement was caused when fire broke out aboard the John Damage, fortunately, was very slight.

FISHERMAN DIES HERE

JAMES LEASK, WHO PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY, WAS WELL KNOWN IN HALIBUT INDUSTRY

The death occurred yesterday afternoon in the Prince Rupert General Hospital of James Leask, well known local halibut fisherman. Deceased collapsed on the street yesterday morning and was taken to the hospital where he expired within a few hours. He had been in ailing health of late.

The late Mr. Leask, who was a native of Scotland and about forty years of age, had no relatives in this country, as far as is known, except two cousins in Vancouver, one of whom is Robert Goodland, who are engaged in the real estate business. They have been communicated with and funeral arrangements, which are in the hands of the B.C. Undertakers, have not yet been made, word from them being awaited.

Deceased had fished out of Prince Rupert for several years and was well known along the coast. A part of last season, he owned the boat Toodie. He had made one trip this year on the W.T.

New arrangements have been made for the return bout on April 4 between Dido Gurvich of Prince Rupert and Jimmy McDonald of Vancouver whereby a purse of $400, $240 for the winner and $160 for the loser, will be the stake, the engagement being promoted solely by Ralph Smith. It will be a ten round bout to a decision which will be given by a referee and two judges.
