Liquor Law Changes Asked By Temperance Federation of Canada

OTTAWA, October 20 .- With the object of overcoming what delegates considered a difficulty in convicting persons who drive an automobile while in an intoxicated state, the annual convention of the Canadian Temperance Federation voted to ask the dominion government to amend the criminal code section to read "under the influence of liquor" instead of while "intoxicated."

The convention also asked the dominion to prohibit the brewing of beer for private use.

Regarding the manufacture of liquor in general, the convention went on record as favorable to taking such action as may secure an authoritative judgment on the question of whether the authority to manufacture rests with the federal or provincial governments.

The federation further passed a resolution calling upon the government of Canada to take such action as will effectually "prevent the importation of intoxicating liquor from Canada into United States contrary to the laws of that nation." The convention viewed with apprehension the conditions along the border resulting from liquor smuggling from Canada into the United States.

Several new players are on hand to strengthen the teams and some interesting games should result. The boys' and girls' junior basketball teams are also preparing for a series of games during the winter.

Soccer throughout British Columbia is in need of some "Strong Arm," if it is not to follow in the footsetps of lacrosse, write the sport editor of the Victoria Times. In recent years there has been a strong tendency for players to fight on the field, while 15 Oanadian National Ladies vs. in some ogses referees have been the object of blows. This is what killed lacrosse Fighting on the field of play will ruin any game, and football is headed for darker days if this kind of thing is not stopped. Only last season a player in Victoria drew the ire of football heads, for striking referee, and was promptly suspended for a year. More punishment of this sort would tend to remind the players they should act like sportsmen. Last Saturday two local players were banished from the field for fighting This sort of thing does not please the average fan, even although it does cause a little excitement. The soccer fan goes out to see what he hopes will be a good game of soccer and this is impossible if the players are sent off the field for misconduct.

Referees are largely responsible for trouble between opposing players. They fail to keep them in check and as a result feelings run high. If a referee handles a game in a capable manner there is little chance for trouble to develop among the players. The "fight bug" has developed in Vancouver soccer circles also. FIRE ABOVE BARBER SHOP CAUSES MUCH EXCITEMENT TODAY

Considerable excitement was caused in the rooming house above the Empire Baths at 7.30 this morning when an overheated stove in the kitchen set fire to the wall and burned all the paper in the room. Otherwise, no dam-. age was done. Timely work on the part of one of the lodgers with a water bucket did much to quell the blaze until the arrival of the fire department.

Massett Inlet Canning Now Over for Season-Big Boom of Logs for Sawmill-Capt. Pete Anderson Plans New Boat

John Dybhavn, manager of the Royal Fish Co. and the Massett Henry Dorreen, returned to Prince trade here during the coming Canners Ltd., returned to Prince Rupert on Thursday after having Rupert on October 16 after a six winter. spent the summer at Old Massett on the Queen Charlotte Islands personally superintending 1928 packing operations at the cannery of the Massett Canners. Though there were rumors of another run of fish in Massett Inlet it was not deemed sufficient to keep the cannery open longer. The usual run of chums at Cape Edenshaw did not materialize this year and, while there were a couple more halibut trips before few fish for a while on the west coast of Graham Island, the chum the season ends and left for the run as a whole this season on the Islands was very disappointing, first on Wednesday night. Mr. Dybhavn reports. Consequently, there was little doing either in fishing or packing.

While the Massett Inlet cannerpected, the pack, in view of existing conditions, might be called a fairly satisfactory one. The big volume of the season's pack in Massett Inlet canneries was made in August from a good run pinks in Naden Harbor for two or three weeks. Skidegate Inlet canneries have also reported a snortage of chums this season. Massett were the last plants to pack this hampered progress with the vessel. season in Massett Inlet, Watun heavy boom. River, Shannon Bay and Ferguson Bay having closed down several weeks previous.

Mr. Dybhavn returned to the city on the cannery tender Jedway, Capt. Johnny Hartlin, which is to be given annual overhaul before being tied up for the winter if no other employment can be found for her.

The power vessel Delphinium, Capt. Dan Larsen, used as a service boat in connection with the Massett Canners plant, arrived in port from the Islands last Saturday, having in tow the seineboat Pacific which drifted ashore in a gale on North Island and sustained damage which was principally confined to the keel and the rudder. Repairs will be effected to the Pacific in the local dry dock and the Delphinium will also be tied up here for the winter.

Mr. Stork made a brief address in which he thanked the meeting for its vote of confidence. Mr. Stork said he had been acused of pulling the other way when appropriations for this disrict were asked. This was ridiculous for he was as much incerested here as anyone.
