So it is revealed in a preliminary statement prepared by City Treasurer D. J. Matheson which was released today.

FISHING MAY BE DELAYED

Proposal Made to Commence Buying on March 10 Instead of February 15

KETCHIKAN, Jan. 10.—American and Canadian halibut buyers are considering refusing to buy any halibut before March 10.

It was reported today that large quantities of halibut are on hand in the cold storage plants at Ketchikan, Prince Rupert, Vancouver and Seattle and this is given as the motive for the proposed action.

In connection with the despatch Col. J. W. Nicholls explains that a meeting was held recently in Seattle attended by buyers, boat owners and fishermen which asked the government to extend the close season or, failing that, they suggested that the buyers should not buy until March 10. This was as a result of the unsatisfactory condition of the market. While nothing has been definitely decided it is possible that the suggestion may be carried out.

Canada to Open Paris Legation and France to Have Minister in Ottawa is Officially Announced

PARIS, January 10.—France and Canada have definitely decided to change the present status of diplomatic representation to the establishment of legations in their respective capitals. The French cabinet has approved the plan to appoint a minister to Ottawa.

It is quite likely that Baron de Vitrolles, the present consul general to Canada, will be the first minister, and it is presumed in Paris that Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian High Commissioner here, will become minister plenipotentiary. The announcement refers to negotiations which have preceded and interviews in December between Hon. Raoul Dandurand and Foreign Minister Briand.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—No appointment has been made to the Canadian legation in Paris and the post may stand vacant for awhile. It was pointed out that today's announcement deals only with the opening of a French legation in Canada and a Canadian legation in France.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The Canadian legation will occupy the ground floor of No. 1 Rue Francois Premier, facing the Course Albert Premier on the Grand Boulevard overlooking the Seine. It will be a stone throw from the Grand Palais and the nearest legation to the British embassy and French foreign office. It will be ready for occupancy in April.

It is understood that the Canadian Trade commissioner's office and the Canadian archives will be moved to the Canadian Legation quarters. Ample accommodation will be provided for Canadian visitors to register, receive mail and read newspapers.

Pacific Outlet for Peace is in Hands of Special Committee of Edmonton Board of Trade

EDMONTON, January 10.—Having in view the extension of the Edmonton Dunvegan and B.C. line to the Pacific coast, probably connecting with the Canadian National and Prince Rupert, efforts are being made to impress upon the authorities concerned the desirability of one of the big transportation companies taking over the provincial government lines and extending to the coast or with a coast outlet.

The Edmonton Board of Trade is overlooking no opportunity to do anything in its power to hasten the building of the sorely needed outlet. So vital to the development of the northern part of the province and the future prosperity of Edmonton is this outlet considered that the board of trade has appointed a special standing committee to deal with questions pertaining to northern development. This committee under the chairmanship of E. T. Love is one of the strongest if not the strongest committee ever appointed by the board, having as its personnel H. M. E. Evans, D. M. Duggan, W. W. Prevey and J. D. O'Moherill.

MARKETING OF GRAIN Although this committee has been functioning two weeks only, it has already aggressively attacked the problem of a northern outlet and is daily collecting the most authoritative information from every possible source. No stone is being left unturned which might expedite the building of the required line, since it is fully realized that Edmonton's prosperity is largely dependent upon the development of the northern half of the province which in turn is dependent upon facilities which will enable Peace River farmers to market their grain at a minimum cost.

In view of the fact that both the C.N.R. and C.P.R. are anxious to acquire the northern lines now owned by the Alberta government, it is felt that Albertans who have paid and are still paying for these railways, should know what both large companies propose doing in the way of further construction in the event of their purchasing the roads. Telegrams were accordingly sent last week to Sir Henry Thornton and E. W. Beatty asking for a conference with some representative of their respective companies who would be authorized to give the committee an authentic outline of the proposed developments.

THORNTON IS WILLING A reply was received from Sir Henry Thornton stating that if the northern development committee had any representative in the east whom they could have met him, he would be very pleased to talk over the northern Alberta railway system, although there was not much that he could say for public consumption at present. No reply has yet been received from E. W. Beatty and further action is being held up awaiting word from the head of the C.P.R.

U.S. Dominated the Last Generation but Next Is for the British Empire

Right Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery Urges Value of Co-operation Between Countries of Empire Just as States Had Co-operated With Each Other

VANCOUVER, January 10.—The United States dominated the last generation economically but the coming generation will belong to the British Empire, it is predicted by Right Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, British secretary of state for Dominion affairs, in addressing the board of trade here last night.

The United States, the visitor said, had developed because she had pooled her resources. The British Empire had been backward because she tended to work in watertight compartments. The value of co-operation was now appreciated and the problem for the years ahead would be how in the free partnership of nations that made up the British Empire that co-operation could be made most effective.

Canada's unequalled resources necessitated foreign trade but the great secret of modern commerce lay in the carriage of products of the temperate and tropical zones, Col. Amery said. Canada lay in the temperate zone and to complete her development she needed a tropical empire with which to trade. That was recognized at the Imperial Conference when the heritage was agreed to belong to every part of the Empire with no monopoly or priority of the mother country, was declared.

KETCHIKAN, Jan. 10.—Seward Wise, an officer from the freighter Oakridge bound from the Orient for Seattle, is here in a serious condition with a burst appendix. The coastguard Cygan attempted to take him off the freighter Saturday but the storm prevented it. The power schooner Dorothy, Capt. Hyatum, under charter to the international fisheries commission, took him off in the shelter of Mary Island. The Dorothy damaged her propeller on logs which slowed her down. The damage here from Saturday's storm is being repaired.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—Representatives of the Retail Merchants' Association met the government yesterday and urged that the stamps on excise and negotiable bills be wiped out. Further tax reduction was also advocated.

Opposition was registered against reduction of the rates on parcel post as giving an unfair advantage to mail order houses. It was also urged that mail order houses should pay a tax to each municipality in which they operate.

DAMAGE TO PICTURE GALLERY

The worst damage done by the recent floods in London was that to the homes of the workers who live on the lower floors of tenements that were flooded. How much that amounts to will never be known. The worst thing is that it proves a real hardship to poor people who lost or had spoiled everything they possessed. Next to that comes the damage to the Tate Picture Gallery where the assembled canvases are valued at millions of dollars. These were presented to the nation and are open to the public all the time. While many of the pictures will be saved many will be lost or so badly damaged as to be almost worthless.

SUSPICIONS FROM SECRETIVENESS

Inspector Byrnes of the New York police is credited with the statement that one electric light to the block is worth two policemen. Light is the greatest preventive of crime. So in connection with public office, publicity is the greatest preventive of political crime. Officials and politicians will keep straight as long as the eyes of the public are on them but give them a chance to keep things secret and then just watch out. This is true whether it be in municipal, provincial or Dominion affairs. The white light of public opinion is the greatest cleansing power in the world. That is why meeting of public bodies should be always open to the people and press.

WINSTON CHURCHILL

If a vote were taken to determine the most talked of person in British political life today, I am sure that, if not leading, then, among the first five, would be the name of that "stormy petrel" of British politics, the present Chancellor of the Exchequer, Winston S. Churchill, says an article in the Toronto Mail and Empire. "L'Enfant terrible" has long blazoned from his banner, and how deliberately and with what an extraordinary devotion has he lived up to it. Almost every office in the cabinet has been his, except that of Prime Minister, and his designs upon it may be readily imagined. He has served in two regiments, fought with the Spaniards in Cuba, and held a commission in the South African Light Horse. He has seen life on four continents and smelled powder in three; has seen more wars than any man of his years, and written several books. During part of the South African war he was a special war correspondent for a famous London daily. He was captured by the Boers, escaped from prison, and through on account of this escapade in a book which he wrote, together with the thrilling stories he cabled back to his London paper—he became a celebrity of the first order, and was one of the youngest members elected in the famous khaki election of 1900 to the British House of Commons. All of which leads up to considering the many-sided Mr. Churchill from a new angle—namely, his great love for books. It is said that the library of his home near Westminster contains one of the most varied as well as valuable collections of books in the possession of any book-lover. Modern fiction, French, English, the Greek and Latin classics, ponderous looking books on philosophy, memoirs, histories, complete editions of the poets and dramatists, in fact all and every branch of the author's art is here well and faithfully represented. Furthermore, it is said, that he has read them all. Not possibly as you and I read a book, because he has confided to a friend the astounding fact that he can comfortably digest the contents of an average book in the limited space of one hour. It is recorded that when a fiery-headed youth at Harrow he was asked what profession he thought of taking up, he replied, "The Army of course, so long as there's any fighting to be had. When that's over, I shall have a shot at politics."

DUCHESS AS SALESGIRL POPULAR WITH BUYERS

At Sale of Christmas Gifts Duchess of York Disposes of Her Stock Quickly

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A number of people who have received Christmas presents bought from the Duchess of York, who held a stall at the Royal School of Needlework Sale of Christmas Presents recently. Throwing off her coat, and working hard in her pretty pale grey georgette frock, she cleared the stall in little more than an hour of most of its small artistic gifts in antique silver, glass and embroidery and was still surrounded by a crowd of people anxious to buy. In a quick tour of the stalls the Duchess herself bought a dainty baby dressing jacket, two warm white woolly coats, a pretty toy or two, and a blue coat cover. Wonderful embroidery, lingerie, upholstery, lace and antique needlework were among the goods offered.

The Queen had bought beforehand an old fashioned embroidered cotton box, a tapestry bag, and a tiny dressing gown, with cats' heads embroidered on the pockets.

HER SECRET.

Wife—Have you any secrets you keep from me, dearest?
Husband—None, darling.
Wife—Then I am determined I will have none from you, either.
Husband—You have secrets, then?
Wife—Only one, and I am determined to make a clean breast of it.
Husband (hoarsely)—Go on!
Wife—For several days I have had a secret longing for a new dress, with hat to match.
That fetched him.—London Opinion.

INDIANS WHO WORSHIP SUN

Expedition Planned to Explore in Southern Mexico

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 10.—In search of data on a civilization that flourished 3,000 years before the birth of Christ, an expedition of Tulane University will leave here in December on an eight-month exploration of the Mayan country of southern Mexico.

Professor Frans Blom, archaeologist of the department of Middle American research, will be accompanied only by Webster McBride and Louis Bristow, two students, and native guides into regions where the tribes are reported fierce and resentful in intrusions.

The Mayans not only cultivated their lands and built great cities, but were leaders in the arts of sculpture and painting, Professor Blom says. Theirs was the first mathematically correct calendar in use.

Covering thousands of miles, the Tennessees forests have never been fully traversed by explorers. It is there that the expedition expects to make discoveries of incalculable value in tracing the history of the Mayans, who are believed to have come to Alaska from Asia and then gradually fought their way down through the western United States into Mexico and Central America.

In these forests are to be found the Lacandon Indians, who still worship sun and rain gods and make war with bows and flint-headed arrows. They are of a warlike nature. Women of the forests wear clothes made from the bark of trees.

Huge temples, built of squarely cut blocks of stone, have withstood the ravages of passing ages and indicate they were the work of master architects, says Professor Blom. Erected at places to offer prayers to appease the anger of the sun and rain gods, the temples as a rule, are at the summit of hills and in many instances almost inaccessible due to centuries of jungle growth.

The Least Excitement Made Her Heart Palpitate and Flutter

Mrs. Ambrose Orser, Elginburg, Ont., writes—"I suffered for some time with a bad heart which seemed to be controlled by my nerves. The least little excitement would cause it to flutter and palpitate, and at times I would have real bad spells. I suffered in this way for some time when, one day,

FLYING PAGEANTS TO BE CONTROLLED

Royal Air Force Will Assist at Four or Five in Different Parts of England

LONDON, Dec. 10.—There are so many flying clubs in the country now that the arrangement of the various air race meetings, if they are to be on an adequate scale, is likely to become a difficult problem, and recently a meeting of the Royal Aero Club Associated Clubs' General Council was held to consider the best arrangement in the interest of sporting aviation.

There are now over a dozen clubs represented on the council, and this year the help of the Royal Air Force was enlisted to give display events at some of the larger meetings. It is desired, however, in 1928, to fix in advance the extent of the assistance of the Royal Air Force.

Flying clubs exist primarily to train members to fly and afford facilities for flying when trained, and every club race meeting makes a big drain of flying equipment on other clubs, for instructors and machines are directed to racing purposes at the week-end when the greatest demand for flying facilities comes from the non-racing members.

MRS. DAWSON ON KIPLING

Enjoyable Evening at Baptist Church Fireside Club Provided by Local Lady

The opening of the Fireside Club after the Christmas festivities was the occasion for a most enjoyable and educative recital by Mrs. F. G. Dawson who gave "An Evening With Kipling." She was introduced by Rev. W. F. Price and the large audience was very appreciative of this, the first public appearance of this lady.

The opening remarks of Mrs. Dawson briefly described the life and character of the noted writer and poet Rudyard Kipling, followed by the reading of "Wee Willie Winkie." Mrs. Dawson soon captivated the audience with her eloquence and clear and forcible expression. The reading was followed by one of Kipling's poems "Gypsy Trail" set to music, sung by R. W. Howard.

Mrs. Dawson then rendered several selections from "Departmental Ditties," "Pink Domino" was humorously enjoyed followed by the "Story of Uriah." In the "Past That Fitted," Mrs. Dawson fully conveyed the meaning of Kipling's songs. "Mandalay," sung by Mr. McPherson in a manner that pleased the audience. An encore of another was as fully pleasing. Mrs. Dawson then continued with the "Ballad of East and West," "Tommy Atkins" and "Gunga Din."

There is no doubt that those present grasped the meaning that Rudyard Kipling intended should be conveyed by his writings in Mrs. Dawson's rendition of them. Another song by this writer, "Mother of Mine," was sung in a very enjoyable manner by Mr. Howard.

"How the Whale Got His Throat" was the cause of many mirth quakes, even the eldest being carried back to the land of make-believe. A quartette by Mesdames Howard and Larkin and Messrs. Howard and Price rendered the well-known "Recessional."

The concluding number of Mrs. Dawson, "H," brought the enjoyable program to a close.

Accompanists for the evening were Mrs. R. W. Howard, Mrs. J. D. Thurber and W. Vaughan-Davies.

A summary of work done by the Sunshine Fund committee shows that merchandise to the value of $326.65 was distributed to the needy in town and district during Christmas Week which, with $4.91 expended in having parcels forwarded to their destinations, makes a total of $331.56 expended by the committee.

The choir of the local Anglican Church is holding practices bi-weekly at the home of members. The first practice was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bowman.

A committee consisting of George Snell, George R. Matthews and Harry V. Taylor has been appointed by the local Board of Trade to obtain mineral samples from this district for the Bureau of Mines which is being formed in Prince Rupert.

Joseph Murray came into town at the end of the week from his trap line on a business trip. This is the first time he has come into town during mid-winter for a number of years.

Barclay, Curie and Co., Glasgow. With appropriate ceremonies and in the presence of a large gathering of Canadian Pacific officials, the new ship was christened "Beaverhill" by Miss Mavis Gillies, (inset) daughter of Captain James Gillies, general manager of the Canadian Pacific Steamships Ltd.

When these new steamers are delivered, the Canadian Pacific cargo fleet will be augmented by five of the highest type of express cargo steamers and capable of maintaining a speed of 14 knots an hour, which is regarded as exceptional for cargo steamers. The marked growth of ocean trade between Great Britain and Canada via the St. Lawrence route, has prompted the Canadian Pacific to augment their freight service to this extent. These vessels will be used to maintain a weekly service between Canadian ports and those in Great Britain and on the Continent.

The new freighter, like her sister ships the Beaverburn, Beaverdale, Beaverford and Beaverbrae, is 520 feet in length 61 and a half feet in width with a deadweight carrying capacity of approximately 10,000 tons and load draft of 27 feet; but should a need arise as much as 13,000 tons may be carried on the maximum load draft. The ships will be driven by twin screw.

NO DOGS BURIED IN CEMETERY AT BERLIN

BERLIN, N.J., Jan. 10.—Request of a mother to bury a pet police dog beside the grave of her daughter, Julie Price, here, who died last March, because the dog was her "best friend," has been refused by officials of the Berlin Cemetery.

The mother, Mrs. Julia Price, Stratford, N.J., said the dog, which was killed by a truck, followed the little girl to the grave and often took toys from a cedar chest in which they were kept and carried them to the cemetery.

"The dog was buried in a cedar chest in the Price back yard," Mrs. Price says in image of the dog carved in marble will be placed near the girl's grave.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—When the counsel in the King's bench recently asked a woman witness why another woman had made a certain statement, Justice Swift remarked: "Who can tell why a woman says anything? Apparently they say a great deal. The witness cannot possibly know what another woman thought. I don't know what a witness thinks. I can hear what is said, but people don't always say what they think."

MAYOR NEWTON SAYS FAREWELL

Chief Magistrate and Ald. Larsen Speak Appropriate Words at Final Council Meeting

Presiding over his final council meeting after eight years as chief magistrate, the past five terms consecutive, it was appropriate that Mayor Newton last night should make a few farewell remarks. He thanked members of the council for courtesies that had been extended and wished them all a happy and prosperous 1928. He was also desirous of expressing his appreciation publicly to the City Hall staff which had always done its best to try and lighten his official duties.

"And what would you wish the majority candidate?" facetiously enquired Ald. Stephens. "Success at the polls for all of you is all I can wish," Mr. Newton replied in the spirit of the occasion.

EXTENSION OF THEATRE LOTS

Payment to City for Conversion of Lane Gives Aivazoffs Additional Ten Feet of Depth for Structure

As a result of a deal closed with the city council last night M. Y. and Paul Aivazoff will obtain an extra ten feet of depth for the new theatre they are building on Third Avenue near the corner of Fulton Street. This will give them a total ground space of fifty by 110 feet for the structure.

The proposal of the Aivazoffs, which was accepted by the council, was that they purchase from the city for $400, a valuation placed on the property by Thomas McLymont, a strip 10 feet by 100 feet on the south side of the lane in from Fulton Street and back of lots 6 and 7 where the theatre will be built and then exchange therefor 10 by 50 feet of the lane immediately back of lots 6 and 7, they (the Aivazoffs) to bear all the cost involved in the moving of the present reading room building off the new lane as well as removal of telephone poles and sewer alteration.

CITY REPEATS ITS REQUESTS

FAVORABLE REPORT ON SUPERANNUATION

The finance committee reported favorably to the city council last night on meeting the request of the fire department for the institution of a scheme of superannuation subject to the provisions of the Superannuation Act but, on suggestion of Ald. Stephens, it was decided to refer the matter back to the city treasurer for a more complete report thereon.

Heavyweight title fights in the near future will draw crowds of possibly 200,000 persons, Gene Tunney, the present titleholder, told champions in the various major branches of sport at the "sport champions' dinner" given by the Madison Square Garden Athletic Club in New York. Tunney said he thought the "time was coming when title bouts in his own division would draw twice as much as they do now—in crowds."

HOCKEY TEAM FOR OLYMPICS

Varsity Grads Lost Only One Game in Their Allan Cup Series Last Year

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—The University of Toronto Graduates' Hockey team will sail for St. Moritz, Switzerland, in January to represent Canada in the Hockey division of the Olympic Games. Organized only at the beginning of last season the Grads won the Allan Cup, emblematic of the Amateur Hockey Championship of Canada, by a brilliant series of victories. Not until as champions of the East they met Port William, Western winners in the final playoff at Vancouver, did they encounter a single defeat. The Grads' first appearance was in the Sportsmen's Patriotic Association series in the fall of 1926. They were nosed out of winning this event by Marlboro, another Toronto club.

The Grads' first appearance was in the Sportsmen's Patriotic Association series in the fall of 1926. They were nosed out of winning this event by Marlboro, another Toronto club. Then with the opening of the Ontario Hockey Association series the team began to make itself felt and to attract attention by a consistent run of victories. By defeating Marlboro, Peterboro, Brantford, Toronto Canoe Club and North Toronto they won the right to meet Peterboro in the group playoffs. The Peto, who had already suffered a 10-1 defeat at the hands of the Grads, surprised the fans by holding the ex-collegians to a score of 1-1. In the second playoff game, however, the Grads came through, winning 2-0.

St. Francis Nationals of Montreal, Quebec champions, held the Grads to a score of one all at their first meeting. The second game played in Toronto gave the ex-students a seven to one victory over the French-Canadian team. In this game Red Porter, dashing defence player, and Joe Sullivan, the goalie, were the outstanding players.

After beating the New Edinburgh team of Ottawa by scores of 10 to nothing and seven to one the Grads were entitled to meet Fort William in the Allan Cup final at Vancouver. The second game, in which Bert Plaxton starred, was scarcely over before the Grads were aboard a west-bound train after an enthusiastic send-off from Toronto fans.

The four games played at Vancouver against the Fort William team proved one of the hardest fought series in the annals of Canadian hockey. The brand of hockey displayed by both teams was in the estimation of many old-time fans who witnessed the games the finest ever shown on Canadian ice.

In the final game the ex-collegians won by the narrow margin of two to one. Ross Taylor had the distinction of scoring the winning goal on a pass from Delahay.

WRECK HORRORS RECOUNTED BY THE SURVIVORS

Captain of Noble Exposed on Rock for Three Hours Without Any Clothes

VICTORIA, Jan. 10.—Harry Williams, chief engineer, and Elvey, the cook, were washed overboard from the wrecked schooner Noble, formerly the Lady Mine, on Thursday morning near Escalante Reef. The mate, B. Wall, who had been in ill health, died in the wheel house where four had taken refuge despite the efforts of his companions to restore him. Captain W. L. Kerr died on the rock where the three remaining had taken refuge in the afternoon and where they were continually swept by waves. This was the story told on the arrival of Clifford Deschamps, wireless operator, and Frank Bell, assistant engineer.

Deschamps and Bell later reached a larger rock from which they were rescued Friday morning by the Tofino lifeboat.

The Noble on her return trip from Mexico for Vancouver had no bearings for six days on account of fog. The captain sprained his knee and for three hours after the wreck was without clothes as he was asleep when it occurred. He had no clothes until Deschamps made his way to the cabin and got some for him.

LEVENPOOL IS READY TO LOAD

Eleventh Grain Ship of Season Arrives After Stormy Time Outside

The Ropner Line freighter Levenpool, Prince Rupert's eleventh grain ship of the season, which arrived in port yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock from North Shields, England, which port she left on November 19, had an uneventful voyage in ballast via the Panama Canal other than for very unfavorable weather which dogged her from New Year's Eve until she arrived here. For several days the vessel hung off the coast in the boisterous elements and Capt. V. Forth, the master, reports having had a close call from going ashore on Forrester Island off Alaska a few days before making port.

The ship, which is already lined, has a registered tonnage of 3038 and carries a crew of thirty-one men. She was built in 1911 at Stockton-on-Tees and her port of registry is West Hartlepool. The vessel, which is now anchored in the stream, will go on berth at the elevator in a day or so to start loading.

The freighter Teespool, ninth grain ship of the season here, sailed at 9 o'clock this morning from the elevator with a full cargo for the Continent. The vessel was piloted out to Triple Island by Capt. Larry Thomson of the Federal Pilots of British Columbia.

The steamer Holmark, tenth vessel of the season, is now loading at the elevator and should get away in two or three days.

WOMEN AFTER VOTE IN SOUTH

Little Success in Argentina Toward Getting Franchise Extension

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 10.—The women of Argentina thus far have met with little success in their efforts to obtain the political franchise, notwithstanding the active campaign they have been conducting. They have the support of the Socialist Party, which several years ago introduced a measure in parliament granting universal franchise to the women of the country. The bill was referred to a committee, which failed to act on it.

There are two provinces, however, in which women have won the right to participate in provincial elections—San Juan and Mendoza. In the former the franchise includes both legislative and municipal elections; in the latter it applies only to municipal elections.

There is a feminist party in Argentina, the leader of which is Julieta Lanteri Benschaw. She was the party's only candidate at several municipal elections in Buenos Aires, but failed to receive enough votes for election. The woman vote has shown an evident decrease at every new election, and this apparently has been the cause of diminishing activity the women have shown of late.

On the other hand the women of Brazil seem to be making remarkable headway in their campaign for the franchise. It is reported that they have obtained the right to vote in the state of Rio Grande de Norte and will take part in the forthcoming state elections. It is announced that a bill conceding the national vote to women is expected to be presented in the Federal Senate. Meanwhile the Brazilian women are carrying on an active campaign.

NEWSPRINT EXPORTS

Great as has been the advance in the manufacture of wood pulp in Canada, it has been exceeded by the increase in production of newsprint paper as export figures establish. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics states that in 1920 Canada's total exports of paper were valued at only $122, whereas for the calendar year 1926 they had increased in quantity to 5,463,571,900 pounds with a value of $114,090,595.

CANADA'S WINTER SPORTS

Canada has always been noted for its winter sports. From the earliest times skating, tobogganing, and snowshoeing have had their devotees, and, with the increase in the urban population and the greater need for outdoor exercise to offset the strain of the close application to indoor pursuits, these forms of sport have been supplemented by skiing, curling, ice-boating and hockey.
