Election is Being Discussed at Victoria with a Suggestion That P.G.E. Policy Will Loom Large

VICTORIA, March 17.—There seems to be a division of opinion here as to when the provincial general election will be held. While it has been generally understood that it would be called for the late spring or summer, it is not at all certain that it may not be delayed until fall.

Two courses seem to be open to the government. One is to arrange a sale of the P.G.E. and then call the Legislature together to confirm the sale, and the other is to arrange the sale and then lay it before the people and ask to be returned in order to put it into effect. In any case the P.G.E. and the policy of general development are likely to be important features in the election whenever it may be held. The general feeling seems to be that the government will be returned to power in order to give Premier MacLean an opportunity to make good or prove that he cannot do so. In discussing the bill just before adjournment of the Legislature, Premier MacLean said: "If this $4,000,000 is not spent in construction on the P.G.E. it will not be spent at all. If the sale of the line effected the loan bill will lapse. This is the way in which Premier MacLean explained the P.G.E. loan bill for $4,000,000 on the motion of its second reading at the afternoon sitting of the Legislature. "The confidence shown in the passing of this bill," he also stated, "would be no deterrent in securing a good bargain for the road." The Premier said that he doubted if the money that was being asked to be authorized by way of a loan would ever be required. In connection with the fact that he expressed in the sale of the road, the Premier repeated the statement made earlier in the session to the effect that before any deal was consummated in connection with the sale of the road that the Legislature would have the opportunity to pass upon it. LEGISLATURE MUST RATIFY "The sale will not be ratified until the Legislature pronounces upon the terms of the offer," said the Premier who continued: "There can therefore be no objection to the loan bill." The members of the House on the government side, the Premier announced, had not been taken into his confidence with respect to the terms of the negotiations in progress. Only the members of the government were so informed. This was not because he had no confidence in the members on his side of the House, but in matters of his magnitude it was wise to have information confined to a very few persons. In explaining the bill, the Premier said that this was one of the largest projects that the province had to face. He had given a lot of attention to the matter while he was minister of railways for a time. Then since he became Premier of the province he had turned his attention for some time to the attempt to solve it. There was no advantage, he said, in dishing out old straw, and for that reason he did not go into the details connected with the problem. The road, he said, was originally designed to be the connection with Vancouver of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and was to connect with that road at Prince George. The latter railway had got into difficulties, and in 1917 it had been merged with the C.N.R. CONTROL OF RAILWAYS In his investigations into the matter, the Premier said that he had reached the conclusion that no provincial government should own and operate a railway. In connection with a national line the matter of public ownership was a different thing. There was, he said, associated with the matter of this road the return of the Peace River lands, and the railway lands. This situation he had attempted in the carrying out of his negotiations. He had, he said, had some success in this connection. As a result of the negotiations that he carried on during the past six months he began to see light, and there was some prospect of disposing of the road. Two months ago, as a result of these negotiations, he was very much encouraged, and he had hoped before now to have been able to announce the completion of a deal for the road. It was a large proposal, however, but he was convinced that the sale would be completed.

COURT HOUSE GROUNDS

It is satisfactory to know that steps are being taken by the provincial government to make the Court House grounds in keeping with the rest of the city in the matter of beautification. The building of bitulithic roads and walks is the first step in the right direction. Evidently the beautification virus is spreading to the government and with their co-operation with the city council, the other public bodies and the citizens generally we shall have a city that will be a credit to the commercial centre of the north coast.

The hospital board is to be congratulated on contributing its bit to the general movement. Given a fairly good summer, the results all round should be excellent.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

With the growing responsibility of the local member, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, it is noticed that he oftener comes in for attacks from the opposition. That is a pretty sure sign that he is making good.

If a person is so inactive that nobody notices him, he is not much good to the country. The moment he becomes open to public attack it may be taken for granted that he is a live person and that he is feared by those who oppose him.

Mr. Pattullo has taken a very important part in the work of the past session and in doing so has had a number of tilts with the members who sit across the floor from him. That he has come out unscathed is matter for congratulation to the people here who elected him and who wish to see their member make good.

PEACE OR WAR?

Ours is a democracy and we talk glibly of the commonwealth, the good of the nation and the liberty of the subject and yet we know well that politically each side is out to murder the other politically. Kill the enemy. Give no mercy. Make it so that they can never come back. Then some day when an individual politician leaves this world all gather round and praise the work he has done.

It's a wonderful system, this democracy of our. When we talk of civilization we have to admit that we have not reached a very high state so far. We have a long way to go before we get to a condition where he can be said to be much higher than the savages.

Take the legislature at Victoria. Without mentioning either party as being better than the other, we must be convinced that the opposition has no conscience. Anything will go if it will only embarrass the government. The question of disgracing a member, of discrediting any good work that is done, of killing a member politically, ruthlessly and without mercy. Any of these things are done if the opportunity occurs. The only reason it is not done oftener is the lack of brains and ability in those who oppose.

Democracy is a state of war. There is no such thing as peace for those who have to do with governmental affairs.

U.S. PEACE POLICY

As it is at home so it is abroad. People are everywhere talking peace but they are not acting as if peace were likely. However, it is a good thing to talk peace. Possibly it is the first step toward universal international peace.

Yesterday the New York despatch giving the address of Secretary Kellogg before the council of foreign relations was an extremely interesting one. The policy of that country is, he says, that they will not bind themselves to armed intervention in the cause of peace, but they will enter into peace treaties and do everything except that.

The constitution of the United States will not allow of binding agreements. Peace and war arbitration lies with the President and Senate and the right to decide is left with them, no matter what else may be said or done. The hope of the future, the secretary said, was the arousing of a public conscience in the nations of the world against war. However, this can be done only in an educated world and today much more than half the world is illiterate, so there is a lot to be done.

ROD AND GUN CLUB REPORT

ORGANIZATION ENROLLED 67 MEMBERS DURING 1927 AND TOOK UP MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE TO SPORTSMEN

During the year 1927, there were 67 members enrolled in the Prince Rupert Rod & Gun Club according to the annual report of the secretary-treasurer, F. W. Grimble, which was presented at the annual meeting of the club this week. A number of matters of importance to the interest of both rod and gun sportsmen were taken up during the year by the club.

The Dominion Fisheries was requested to place a stock of trout eggs in Shawastlan and Cloyah Lakes, the department agreeing to distribute fifty thousand Kamloops eggs in Cloyah Lake.

Owing to numbers of female fish laden with spawn being found to have been taken in lakes and streams before the end of May, the club suggested to the government that fishing be closed in such lakes, and streams in this district until May 24, it being felt that such a regulation would work hardship on no one. No reply had been received from the department.

Owing to the large increase of wolves in the district, it being held that these wolves killed more deer annually than the hunters as well as being a menace to camp life, the Game Conservation Board of the province was asked to increase the wolf bounty to $25. It was also suggested by the club that a depletion of bucks being feared, hunters be allowed to take three deer during the season of any sex, does with fawn, of course, being protected.

The secretary-treasurer made a recommendation that the club put in good condition for the coming year—a canoe on Woodworth Lake which had been presented to the organization by the Prince Rupert Yacht & Rowing Club through Alex McRae and R. E. Benson, and a flat-bottomed dinghy on Khatada Lake which was purchased and delivered under the management of George Bryant.

Last year's officers of the Rod & Gun Club were: President, D. C. Stuart; vice-president, J. W. Durran; secretary-treasurer, F. W. Grimble; executive members, J. E. Boddie and Dr. J. P. Cade.

This year's new officers are: President, Alex McRae; vice-president, Robert Blance; secretary-treasurer, F. W. Grimble; executive members, J. W. Durran and R. E. Benson.

No publication sells Canada—not only to Canadians but to the world—more effectively than this tabloid encyclopedia, and one can well understand that it has a large circulation. It may be had from the leading newsdealers or by sending 35c for a copy of the Canadian Facts Pub. Co., 388 Huron Street, Toronto.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IS TODAY

ANNIVERSARY OF PATRON SAINT OF IRELAND IS BEING OBSERVED AS USUAL HERE

On account of St. Patrick's Day falling today (Saturday), full observance of the date does not fall on the day proper. While a number of functions are being held today, the annual St. Patrick's concert by the Catholic Church will not be until Monday night.

St. Patrick, patron saint of Ireland, whose anniversary it is, lived, according to history, from the year 373 A.D. to 463 A.D. Concerning him many miraculous stories are related, the best known of these having been his reputed extermination of serpents from the Emerald Isle. He carried out a Christian mission, extending over probably about forty years, among the Irish with great success. In 441 he was consecrated a bishop. The "Confession" and the "Epistle" were his best known literary works. Upon dying at an advanced age, he was buried at Downpatrick.

Man in the Moon

"MAIZIE" the world's best laying hen, the property of the University of B.C., officially known as Hen Number 6, that laid 351 eggs in a year, brought the university last year much fame and a total revenue of $2,225. Fertility is evidently esteemed in the poultry world even if it is not in our own.

WE all should be proud of Maizie
For she lays an egg a day.
She'll keep the rice increasing in
The good old fashioned way.

IF the land were full of Maizies
Keeping busy every day
We could cultivate to the polar land
And turn migrants away.

THE cause of most of our discontent
Is the cars our neighbors are driving or our dealer is showing.

MY neighbor bought a Ford today
He brought it home with pride
And now he daily takes his girl
Out in that car to ride.

Another has a natty Chev.
It makes me blue with rage,
For I have nothing I can drive
Except an ancient Paige.

I want to buy a modern car,
I hate to make them stare,
For every neighbor that I meet
Is cutting quite a flare.

IT is suggested that as a means of revenue the city might rent parking space along the wider streets.

THE United States came into being,
as a result of a revolution and since that she has been trying to prevent a repetition by stopping revolutions in other countries.

WHEN a man tells you what a bad place Vancouver is, you know just about how he spent his time there.

THE difficulty the Republicans are having in the United States today is to decide how to get rid of Hoover as a presidential candidate.

SPORT CHAT

The proposed return bout about the end of the month between Battling Dido Gurvich of Prince Rupert and Jimmy McDonald of Vancouver, who were unable to settle their dispute this week, promises to be even more interesting than was the first battle. Both boys are confident that they can do the other in with another meeting and there is much enthusiasm on both sides. It was Dido's first meeting with a man of McDonald's class and the local boy no doubt gained a lot of self-confidence with the engagement which should serve him in good stead in the next battle. On the other hand, McDonald probably found that he had a tougher pill than he bargained on and it may be assured that he will act accordingly when he comes up against it again. It is pretty sure to be a hot old battle with just enough feeling aroused to make it very interesting for everybody concerned.

Prince George and Vanderhoof have been having a number of hockey engagements between themselves lately with both the stronger and the gentler sexes participating. Possibly the best hockey game that has ever been played in Vanderhoof was that last week when the Prince George Hockey Club defeated Vanderhoof by a score of 5 to 4. In the amateur class, the brand of play would have been hard to beat, both teams being far above average with the shade fairly in favor of Prince George. The same day an interesting match was played between ladies of Prince George and Vanderhoof, the latter winning 5 to 2. It is proposed to make regular events of these ladies matches which have created general interest and no small amount of genuine amusement.

Eager on the Getaway First at the Finish

The fundamental reason for the ample power of the McLaughlin-Buick engine is its valve-in-head construction. In this type of engine, the full force of the explosion is concentrated directly upon the piston, for the combustion chamber fits exactly over the cylinder bore, like the breech of a gun.

The G.M.A.C. Deferred Payment Plan offers many advantages to buyers of McLaughlin-Buick cars.

Waterfront Whiffs

Trolling in Harbor This Week—Two Fishermen Hurt in Explosion—"Clipper" is Interesting New Model—Halibut Landings

There was the somewhat unique sight in Prince Rupert Harbor this week of a gasboat with its spars down trolling for spring salmon, quite an abundance of which is now being reported in surrounding waters. If ever before, it is years since one has been able to witness such an operation from the wharves of the city.

With a considerable run of fish being reported, the trollers have been busy making final preparations for the season's start. Besides at Warke Canal, Dundas Island, etc., some trolling has been going on in the Skeena River.

Sig Grunfur and Julius Johnson, members of the crew of the new halibut boat Southend, Capt. Anton Moen, were landed in the Prince Rupert General Hospital this week as the result of an explosion which occurred on the vessel on Wednesday night, the eve of the boat's scheduled departure for her maiden trip to the halibut grounds.

It appears that Grunfur and Johnson were boarding the vessel to turn in for the night when one of them struck a match and the explosion followed. Gas had spread from a leaky tank, it was later ascertained. The boat itself was undamaged but had to go into dry dock to have a new tank installed, thus causing considerable delay in making the "hop-off" for the grounds.

The Southend was built during the winter at one of the Japanese shipyards in Cow Bay. With so many new and larger boats in the game, there is reported to be somewhat of a shortage of halibut fishermen at Prince Rupert.

BONEYARD CREEK

The city parks board has actually ventured to stir up Prince Rupert's long standing waterfront fester, namely Boneyard Creek, the safe and sacred repository these long years of our marine outcasts, veterans and reprobates. Funny nobody ever thought of it before but the waterfront, too, it seems, must fall to this here civic beautification bug with which we have become afflicted.

Galt freighter Salvor, Capt. Rush, arrived in port on Thursday morning from Vancouver with a cargo of coal and cement for Albert & McCaffery, sailing the next day on her return south.

The Ketchikan halibut boat Vave has been on the ways at the old McLean shipyard in Cow Bay this week for minor underwater work.

Boats going on the Ward Ways during the week for hull work have included the halibut boat Royal III, and the trollers Donalds and Laura L.

Skipper Pullen's yacht Owen was on the Yacht Club grid this Thursday receiving spring overhaul in the form of bottom scraping and painting. The vessel will go up again on Monday to have a new propeller shaft installed to see if this will relieve Owen's sufferings and put her in a little better humor.

Shef Thomson has been using up all the good weather and daylight of late advancing his program of bottom painting, every day averaging a ship, until the work is now well advanced.

to land its maiden catch in Prince Rupert any time now. Of rakish design, the Clipper is eighty feet long with a beam of but seventeen feet. What with her greyhound design and the good offices of a 180 h.p. Washington-Estep c.o. motor, she is said to have no rival for speed in the Pacific coast halibut fleet, turning up a speed as she does of some fourteen miles an hour.

With a party of Port Simpson people, Dr. R. G. Large arrived on Tuesday in his power cruiser Sunbeam III, returning the next day to the village.

Striking a log off the Rose Spit bar where she was fishing on Sunday, the Prince Rupert halibut boat Rose Spit, Capt. Ole Stegavler, became disabled with a damaged propeller. The boat Oslo, captained by Axel Olsen, who also owns the Rose Spit, towed the latter vessel to Lawn Hill, coming in on Tuesday to Prince Rupert where repairs are being effected at the dry dock.

CURIOUS HAGFISH

Another strange denizen of the deep has been added to the growing museum collection of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station in the form of a specimen of the species commonly known as hagfish which was recently turned over by Capt. H. Selig of the halibut boat Onah. A long eel-like and eyeless creature, it is the peculiar characteristic of the hagfish to attach itself when little more than a larva, to the gills or such soft parts of other fish and gradually work itself into the body of the larger fish. The species is the same family as the borer fish which eats itself into the other fish and eventually consumes everything but the skin, of course, proving fatal to its victim. The hagfish, while not unknown here, is rarely found in these waters. Its breeding place is at the bottom of the ocean where it attacks such fish as halibut whose habitat is usually there.

REDUCTION PLANT BUSY

The Rupert Marine Products plant at Tucks Inlet is again in full operation on herring following temporary cessation owing to the barring of Pearl Harbor herring to the company's use. The plant is finding its supply immediately outside of Pearl Harbor and is getting all that it needs, boats of the company fleet being engaged in seining and packing the same. The company is producing oil and meal, having already shipped some of the latter.

According to reports reaching the city, the herring run at Pearl Harbor, phenomenally abundant for about three weeks, has now petered out there but the fish are being taken elsewhere and the outfits that have been engaged in fishing for bait purposes have moved to the more fruitful fields close by.

Power tugs M.T. 3, Capt. Reg. Green, and P.R.T. Capt. Harris Kerr, are busy these days bringing into Prince Rupert machinery and equipment from the old mill at Georgetown for use in the Big Bay Lumber Co.'s mill at Seal Cove.

George J. Dawes, chief petty officer instructor here with the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, whose period of service closes in about ten days' time, has decided to cast his future lot with the city of Prince Rupert by going into the auctioneering business. He has rented large premises on the main floor of the Federal Block where he will open up what will be known as the "Prince Rupert Auction Mart."

There seems to be as little known about the habits of the herring, one of the most important species of fish in northern waters because of its many uses, as there is about the habits of the salmon. Reverend David Waggoner, missionary worker, was stationed 13 years at Klawock, Alaska, and closely observed the annual movement of herring. He says he has satisfied himself that they spawn in deep water and he believes that they run in cycles like salmon, but are unlike salmon in not running or returning to any particular place.

Klawock, for years, has been where herring generally show up first, but none has been seen there so far this year. Owing to the scarcity of herring for halibut bait this season and their great value for halibut and king salmon bait, more interest than ever attaches to the movement of these fish.

HALIBUT LANDINGS

Halibut landings at Prince Rupert for the season up to yesterday were twenty-five per cent heavier than at the corresponding date in 1927. The total up to date for 1928 is now 2,188,700 pounds as compared with the total for the previous season at the same date of 1,572,350 pounds. American landings this season total 1,654,800 pounds and Canadian 503,900 pounds as compared with respective figure in 1927 of 1,339,500 and 242,850 pounds or a substantial increase in both classifications. The increase is in spite of numerous American fares that have refused to sell here on account of low prices and went elsewhere.

The past week showed considerable betterment in the price situation although there is still room for much improvement. Proceeds, however, have been sufficient to cover expenses with a little something to spare during the week. The highest price for Canadian fish during the week was 9.2c and 4c paid the W. T. for 10,000 pounds while the American high was 11.7c and 5c paid the Augusta for 12,500 pounds, the Hazel H. for 16,000 pounds and the Star for 10,000 pounds.

The following boats landed catches here during the week, the number of the season's catch being noted: Canadian—Zeb (second), 7,500; Sea Maid (second), 15,000; Viking I. (second), 7,000; Helen (second), 7,000; Imperieuse (second), 4,500; P. Dorreen, 8,000; W. T., 10,000; Muirneag, 5,000; total for week, 64,000 pounds. American—Reliance I. SPIRITUALISM GETS HARD RAP

EVANGELIST DECLARES IT IS DEVIL'S MASTERPIECE OF DECEPTION AND DELUSION

EDMONTON, March 17.—"Spiritualism is the devil's masterpiece of deception and delusion, which is sweeping the world like a mighty avalanche, and carrying with it unnumbered multitudes into Christless graves and the only thing that will save us from being swept into its horrible vortex is a firm stand in the truths of the Bible," declared Evangelist White in a lecture on "Spiritualism and Do the Dead actually appear," held in the Memorial Hall, and attended by more than seven hundred people.

Explaining the reason for the popularity of Spiritualism, Mr. White said that it appeals especially to those who have lost loved ones and to those who are curious as to the life beyond the grave.

"There has been and still is much trickery and fraud practiced by the mediums of this art," continued Mr. White "and a great part of the table lifting, ouija board, automatic slate writing, the playing of musical instruments by unseen hands and photographing of the dead is nothing but charlatanism, while hundreds of accredited mediums have been caught in the rankest forms of misrepresentation and sleight of hand."

"Harry Houdini, the master magician challenged spiritualists for many years to show him any of their purported spirit manifestations that he could not reproduce, and the "Scientific American" had a prize of $5,000 posted for many months for any medium to claim who could reproduce one phenomenon which five judges should accept as supernatural. Many mediums tried for the money, but all were caught in trickery."

Dealing with the popularity of spiritualism Mr. White said that there was no use in us blinding our eyes to facts, as the evidence is too great—Spiritualism being older than secular history and able to be traced back as far as 4275 years ago.

OAK LINED TROLLER WITH RADIO SET IS LATEST IN ALASKA

Owner Says Fishermen Should be Comfortable When Engaged in His Work and Taking his Wife

From Elsie I, a hand trolling boat in which Al Johnson of Ketchikan operated in 1914 to Elsie III, now at the city, his newest boat, with its mahogany and oak finish and radio set, is a far cry says the Ketchikan Chronicle.

The new boat was built in Seattle and arrived here recently on her maiden trip. She is 36 1/2 feet long and driven by a 30 horsepower Lathrop engine. The boat cost the owner nearly $5000 and is declared to be a perfect "gem" by all the old trollers. Every new automatic device used in the trolling game is installed.

Mr. Johnson is accompanied by his wife. They were married November 4 last in Seattle, her maiden name being Lenora M. Dodge, and she accompanied her husband north and will go trolling with him.

"A man might as well be at home on his boat," said Mr. Johnson. "The time is past when a fisherman is expected to lead a 'dog's life' the same as a good many of us had to do in the old days."

Mr. Johnson said that there was a veritable craze on in the coast towns for building trolling boats, many of them of larger size and equipped with 30 to 35 horsepower diesel engines. Many of them, he says, figure on ocean trolling.

Despite the activity in boat building, Mr. Johnson says the price of boats keeps up. He says also they are really higher in Seattle and coast towns than offered for sale in Ketchikan. He sold his Elsie II, to Walter Carlson.

MORE DAYLIGHT IS BEING ASKED FROM VARIOUS SECTIONS

(Nelson News)

Vancouver, the largest city in British Columbia; Kelowna, centre of one of the province's best agricultural districts, and Kimberly, the location of the greatest mine in the province, have all endorsed the request of the Nelson board of trade to the provincial government to put into effect the Daylight Saving Act. It has been on the statute books of British Columbia for some years and only requires the stroke of a pen to make it operative.

The movement started by the Nelson board has thus received indorsement from representative communities in the province, communities which are far apart and which are centres of various industries and various conditions.

Boards of trade throughout Kootenay and Boundary, who believe that daylight saving on a provincial-wide basis would be advantageous, can help the movement by indorsing the Nelson resolution as promptly as possible.
