On Thursday, June 7, the Liberals of Skeena will hold their nominating convention at Terrace and Premier MacLean will be present and will also address a public meeting there at night. It is reported that Hon. A. M. Manson will also be present at this meeting and it is possible he may be at the Prince Rupert public meeting the previous evening.

It is not known here whether Premier MacLean will proceed to the Omineca constituency for the nominating convention at which Hon. A. M. Manson is likely to be again a candidate, but such seems likely.

The Premier is to attend the convention at Prince George Monday where he will be the chief speaker at a luncheon and will also address a public meeting in the Strand Theatre in the evening. H. G. Perry is understood to probably be chosen as candidate for the Liberals in that riding.

CLASSES OF REFORMERS

With the exception of a few morons, every person is a reformer, active or passive. Every person thinks the world can be improved and most people have some idea what would make it better.

Classifying generally there are two classes of reformers. There are those who think mankind can be moved in the mass and those who feel that it is only individual effort that counts.

Moving people in the mass by legislative means, by public movements, revivals, national treaties and national, or provincial propaganda is often effective. There is such a thing as a national conscience as well as an individual conscience. During the war we were influenced by pride in our armies and hatred of the enemy. This was general throughout the Empire and beyond. It was bolstered up by propaganda, by psychological influence, by the beating of drums, the singing of national airs and waving of flags. With it went a spirit of sacrifice which carried in its train liquor prohibition. These were general movements, mass movements, and they had a great effect for good or for ill on the individuals.

Again there are those who declare that nothing good can come except by individual reformation. Those who believe in religion sometimes take the view that only by converting each individual one by one can the world ever improve. Individual effort is with them the only thing that counts. They view with suspicion national movements and mass changes.

As a matter of fact it is the combination of the two by which best results can be obtained. Public conscience is formed by the individual and to a large extent the individual is made to conform to the public conscience. There are many men and women who under the best environment live model lives but put in the company of loose and dissolute persons they themselves become loose and dissolute. They are the people most influenced in the mass.

The moral of the whole matter is that if we wish improvements in the homes, the community, the province, the country, the empire or the world, we have to do our little part right here and now.

WORK OF I.O.D.E.

It is the mass influence that is attempted in the work of the I.O.D.E. in their effort to inculcate a patriotic spirit in the young people of the community. The big gathering in the theatre, the saluting of the flag and the singing and addresses all tend to do that. It is a good movement and one that is worthy of encouragement. We must cultivate a national spirit in order that our people may take a pride in their country.

The spirit of the age is a critical one. We hear emphasized the political differences and the errors of the few. It is a pleasant change to hear the good points of the nation emphasized.

WHAT ABOUT DEMOCRACY?

At a recent gathering the question of whether democracy was a success or a failure was discussed at some length. As in all similar discussions there was no finality to it. It was shown that in many respects democracy was a failure. A democratic form of government was often expensive and ineffective, as compared with an absolute government. The alternative was that it was only through democracy that the common people could learn the arts of government and in the end learn to be self-governing. We are all new to education and have not yet learned in the school of experience how to use the little we have. Often the school men who are supposed to be the best educated are least able to apply what they have.

Democracy is more or less in embryo at present. What it will be in its fuller development none of us can say.

PRINCE RUPERT PUBLIC MARKET

J. C. GAVIGAN TO ORGANIZE ONE FOR THE BESNER BLOCK, OPENING JULY 1

AT LEAST 5 STALLS

WILL BE NEW DEPARTMENT FOR THIS CITY AND WILL BE COMPREHENSIVE

Local consumers will be gratified to learn that, while disposing of the Rupert Table supply business which he has successfully conducted for the past thirteen years, J. C. Gavigan is to remain with the retail trade in this city by organizing an even more ambitious and progressive mercantile undertaking in a public market project which he expects to have in operation by July 1. Mr. Gavigan announces that he is retaining his lease of the basement in the new Besner Block and there will be housed the new business which will be the first of its kind in Prince Rupert. There will be at least five stalls or departments which Mr. Gavigan will lease separately, and the merchandise and business in which will be owned by the respective operators. Present plans call for one stall to handle fresh meats, the second, groceries; third, fresh and packed fish; fourth, fresh fruits and vegetables; and fifth, smoked meats, provisions, butter, eggs, lard, cheese, etc. There will be no inter-competition in the market, each department handling its own exclusive commodities. Arrangements are now being made to lease the stalls to responsible persons, some already having been spoken for and promised. Cash and quick turnover will be the principle of the new business to which Mr. Gavigan will, no doubt, apply the same progressive methods that has characterized his past participation in the local retail trade.

Besides giving out the leases, Mr. Gavigan will give those engaged in the new undertaking certain particular services such as supervising the receiving, shipping and delivering of goods, advertising and display, general office work and bookkeeping, etc.

There will be one delivery service, under the charge of one man, for all the stalls and as much equipment as required will be supplied. This will be under an arrangement whereby each stall will be charged with its own deliveries.

As he has done in the past being repaid with good results and greatly expanded business, Mr. Gavigan plans to use newspaper advertising extensively in the new undertaking. This, as well as the arrangement of the show windows on the Third Street side of the building on the main floor, will be directly under his supervision.

Mr. Gavigan will have an office and staff of his own and his office as well as each of the stalls will be equipped with telephones. A credit system may later be evolved but this will be carefully administered.

Part of the equipment in the present Rupert Table Supply premises will be used in the new stand which will probably be named the Basement Public Market.

PUBLICITY FOR PRINCE RUPERT

FINE ILLUSTRATED FEATURE IN LONDON SHIPPING PUBLICATION IS VALUABLE

"The Dock and Harbor Authority," an illustrated journal published in London, England, in its May number has a three page spread of information in regard to the port of Prince Rupert. It is illustrated by pictures of the elevator, the ocean dock, fishing boats, a whaling boat, the court house and a general view of the harbor, eight cuts in all.

The information is taken from the booklet issued by the Prince Rupert Board of Trade and deals with all the local institutions and industries and includes also the useful table of distances showing distances from Prince Rupert to the ports of the world in comparison with Vancouver, as compiled by the Dominion authorities.

The publicity should prove valuable to Prince Rupert and its publication indicates the renewed interest of British people in this part of the country.

In The Letter Box

SKENA HIGHWAY.

Editor, Daily News.
The writer in the Daily News of May 23, advocating the river route for the Skeena Highway attempts to strengthen his argument in favor of that route by stating that in any event it is desirable that it should go to Port Edward, for the reason that it would serve the new saw-mill being built at the head of Porpoise Harbor.
If the writer's judgment is no better than his geography I am afraid that his arguments will have little weight.
For instance, the mill is being built on Kallen Island, while Port Edward is on the main land, in order to reach Port Edward from the mill a road would have to be built to the crossing at Galloway Rapids, a distance of about six miles by the old preliminary survey. A shorter route could be obtained by building a costly bridge over the Zanardi rapids, together with some two and a half miles of road to construct, either of such projects would cost several times that of the sawmill. The distance from Prince Rupert townsite to Galloway Rapids is less than the distance from the sawmill to Galloway Rapids.

IS CHARTERED BY C.N.R. FOR NORTH SERVICE
MOTORSHIP HURRYON TO CARRY FREIGHT TO QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLANDS AND OTHER SECTIONS
Queen Charlotte Islands and northern coast business of the C.N. S.S. has necessitated addition of another vessel to the service and the steamship company has taken M.S. Hurryon, owned by Hobbs Bros. Ltd., on time charter, says the Vancouver Province. The ship is a steel vessel, 338 net registered tons, and has been operated by Hobbs Bros. Ltd. for nearly two years. Last year she served seven months' time charter and gave fine service on the lumber trade between Maracaibo and Curacao, coast of Central America.
In 1926-27 the C.N. S.S. M.S. Lillehorn operated on the summer run to Queen Charlotte Islands. The Lillehorn is a vessel of about the same tonnage as M.S. Hurryon.
M.S. Hurryon, which was bought about two years ago by Captain J. W. Hobbs while in England, is now a full-fledged Canadian vessel. Today her owners put her under the Canadian flag, home port Vancouver, after paying the Dominion government customs department $16,000 duty. Though the ship arrived here under British flag, she was built in Germany. Consequently a duty was charged when she accepted Canadian registry.

CELEBRATION AT TERRACE
BASEBALL GAMES AND PONY RACES ENJOYED ON MAY 24, FOLLOWED BY DANCE
TERRACE, May 25.—Victoria Day was celebrated here with a full program of sports under the direction of the Terrace Baseball Association. The weather was cloudy throughout the day but no rain fell and the athletic park was in good condition.
Arrangements for a baseball game with Hazelton fell through but two games were played by local teams. In the school team game the juniors won from the seniors and the Native Sons team were victorious over the town team. The games were refereed by Dr. Brummitt.
A pony race took place during the evening. C. Dobbie's horse winning first place and Dudley Little's second. The bicycle race was won by Edward Wilson and Frances Green.
The committee in charge of the program for the afternoon were O. T. Sundal, A. Holmwood and W. J. Kirkpatrick. A collection was taken on the grounds to help defray expenses for the prizes.
The afternoon's program was followed by a public dance in G.W.V.A. Hall at which a very large crowd was in attendance. The G.W.V.A. orchestra furnished music and the evening was done by the Women's Institute.

THIRTEEN YEARS AND SEVERAL MOVES PUTS AWNING IN OLD PLACE
Ending up over the same old premises where it flapped in the breeze thirteen years ago, the awning which J. C. Gavigan placed over the Rupert Table Supply store in 1915 has been purchased by Joe Brown and has been put up over the same window fronts on Third Avenue where Mr. Gavigan placed it in his day there. It is a much travelled awning by now for it has served to protect from the rain and shade from the sun at Mr. Gavigan's various stands including the Empress Theatre block and the location where the Rupert Table Supply formerly conducted its fruit stand on Sixth Street. And it is good for a lot more rain and sunshine yet.
G. A. Pyne of Prince George, who has been a business visitor in the city and at Ocean Falls for the past week or so, returned to the interior on this morning's train.

Further Cannery Mergers on Coast Expected—Former Local Man to Attempt Hazardous Trip—Halibut Close Season to Continue

British Columbia's salmon packing industry may very likely see further mergers, in the near future. The intense competitive strain felt in recent years is increasing, both among the local packers themselves and in world markets. Necessity for greater economy in operation points to amalgamation as a likely solution.

With the newly formed British Columbia Packers Limited now the predominant unit in the salmon canning industry on the coast, the prospect is for several of the smaller individual firms being welded together into another larger new company, with a number of the medium sized firms joining them. At the present time at least there appears to be very little likelihood of British Columbia Packers Limited taking in additional interests but that others of the older firms will unite is almost certain.

Interests close to the management of the British Columbia Fishing and Packing Company and the Gosse Packing Company are confident that the merging of these two companies will result in such economies and profits as will put the new organization in the dividend paying class very shortly. Dividends of both the former units—B.C. Fish and Gosse—have been deferred of late the Gosse company experiencing a decidedly disappointing season in 1927.

One of the first things resulting from the merger will be the closing of some ten competitive canning plants, with subsequent savings of from $12,000 to $20,000 per cannery. Another effect will be the operation of the remaining canneries on a steady operation basis that will eliminate the long and disastrous intervals between operation during the season itself. In other years this has been largely due to the number of fishery licenses issued and the consequent curtailing of fishing days allowed. There have been interruptions in operations as long as eight consecutive days actually during the season.

Last year licenses issued were nearly double the number of the previous year, with the result that non-fishing periods were numerous and large and inoperative periods at the plants irregular and, of course, costly. As a result of the merger it is expected that idle periods for the coming season will be kept down to probably forty-eight hours per week—or in other words, inactivity on Saturday and Sundays only.

These and other resultant advantages are lending strength to the inclination of other fishing interests to follow suit by combining forces.

The total operating savings of B.C. Fishing and Packing and the Gosse Packing Company is foreseen to be in the neighborhood of a half million dollars annually. Not only will existing plants of the two companies be operated more economically, but the introduction of new capital will enable them to make certain extensions and expansions at strategic points; and as these two companies pack a great part of the total their merging might easily be followed by the joining together of many of the remaining B.C. companies.

Probably the biggest factor in the merging of the B.C. Fishing and Packing Company with the Gosse Packing Company, is the elimination of the keen competition that has existed between them for years.

Doug. Stork's speedboat "Spirit of Bronchitis," terrible enough nomenclature to be sure, is the latest new acquisition to the harbor fleet. The vessel's trials on Tuesday evening of this week caused plenty of attention along the waterfront and everything is reported to have worked to the owner's complete satisfaction. The "Spirit of Bronchitis," built of cedar and fir, is 14 feet long with beam of 4 feet. She was built recently in the old Shockey factory on the Market Place and is powered with an 8 h.p. Johnson outboard motor. A speed of up to 20 miles per hour is claimed for the vessel.

There seems to be quite a revival of interest in speedboats generally here this season and possibly some events may be arranged during the summer for them to participate in.

A HAZARDOUS UNDERTAKING

Replete with hazards and thrills promises to be the exploit planned to commence about the end of June when Sidney A. McQuillan, formerly of this city and a brother of Miss Agnes McQuillan of the Post Office staff, and J. McArthur of Vancouver will start from Toronto in a thirty-four foot speedboat on a trip that is intended to bring them around to British Columbia via the Panama Canal. The boat to be used is a Herbert Ditchburn model built at Gravenhurst, Ontario, measuring 34 feet over all by 7 feet 6 inches beam and equipped with a six cylinder 180 h.p. Sterna motor, developing its power at 1600 revolutions per minute. The boat is the ordinary runabout model with a forward and after cockpit, the forward cockpit to be used in this case as tank space to carry extra fuel. The boat will be navigated from the after cockpit which will be protected with a navy type top. There is a special form of underbody designed to eliminate the vacuum which develops from the propeller and other causes when boats are driven at high speed.

Mr. McQuillan, who has had considerable experience on this coast including the Skeena River operating high speed fishing scouts, has great confidence in the seaworthy qualities of a well designed speed boat and does not anticipate any special difficulty in making this long voyage which he intends as a further demonstration of their seagoing ability.

The adventurers propose to follow the Atlantic Coast most of the way after leaving the St. Lawrence River but from Florida will probably strike across to Cuba and from there across the Caribbean Sea to Panama Canal. Coming up the Pacific Coast they will have a number of long runs between ports.

As the five-year period set as the minimum duration of the North Pacific Halibut Treaty has expired, some question has arisen as to the status of the three months' close season in 1928-29. The treaty seems to clearly indicate, however, that the close season will continue in effect as before unless some change should be made in the treaty and the law before November 15 next in accordance with the recommendations submitted by the International Fisheries Commission. The commission's formal report has now been completed and transmitted to the authorities at Washington and Ottawa. The nature of the report and the recommendations it contains will very likely be announced by the governments in the near future. No desire of the contracting parties to terminate the treaty has been expressed so the present regulations will probably continue in effect for at least two years in the future unless the terms of the treaty are altered by mutual consent of the Canadian and United States governments. Probably there will be no definite action before the end of this year. As for the close season, the hearing last fall brought out a unanimous sentiment against abolishing or shortening it while many expressed a desire that it be increased.

The Canadian Fishing Co., Ltd., is moving its Shushartie Cannery from the northwestern end of Vancouver Island at Shushartie Bay to Bones Bay cannery, Craycroft Island, about 20 miles south of Alert Bay. Work is well ahead and the Bones Bay cannery will be in operation for this season's pack.

GURDIES FOR TROLLING

The average run of Prince Rupert trolling boats are now being equipped with power gurdies. Pulling in the lines by hand is becoming impracticable owing to the increased depths at which the fish are caught. During the past winter a number of the local trollers received their new equipment in this way.

George Frizzell and Douglas Frizzell made a trip to Johnson Creek at the first of the week taking up the Estall River a party of provincial government hydro-electric power surveyors who will inspect the falls in that vicinity. The Laura F. left with the party on Monday morning, returning on Tuesday afternoon.

All the salmon packing vessels of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.'s fleet are now engaged in operation for the season, each having now been assigned to its run for the summer.

The Fredella went into service this week when she was commissioned on the Stephens and Zayas Island buying run. Capt. Billy Wilson, formerly of the fisheries patrol service, is now skipper of the Fredella.

The W. R. Lord, Capt. Sanderson, is on the North Island run, having left Wednesday night on another ten day buying trip.

The Chief Zibassa, Capt. Walters, is operating to Hippo Island, having left for there Tuesday night.

The Orier Starrett, Capt. Harold Dahl, is packing from the Naas River and Canoe Pass while the Chief Legaic, Capt. Svendsen, is on the Skeena River run.

New boats recently built at Vancouver for the fishing trade include the

Dry and mellow—like a rare old wine

SOMEWHERE in the memory of every epicure hovers a taste which never will be forgot . . . a glass of Moët & Chandon sipped in the moonlight as the Mediterranean lapped the rocks below . . . a glass of nut-brown ale before the fire of an English wayside inn after a hard day's tramp over downs and moors . . . the steaming, spicy fragrance of hot posset drunk on a snowy Christmas Eve.

And somewhere within the memory of every epicure hovers another taste, never to be forgot, always to be long remembered . . . a clear, crystal glass through which the light strikes and divides into a thousand glistening rainbows . . . bubbles rising . . . an intriguing aroma . . . a mellow, subtle taste, not too dry and yet not too sweet . . . a tingle of goodness on the tongue. . . . You have drunk the beverage. "Canada Dry," the champagne of ginger ales!

A Real Ginger Ale Made from Real Jamaica Ginger

"Canada Dry" has rightly won its place among things epicurean. It is made with something of the care and skill expended on the making of a rare old wine. Pure Jamaica ginger is used. Its other ingredients are selected and blended with the utmost care. The proportions in which part of the ingredients are mixed is a carefully guarded secret. Its delightful sparkle is the result of an exact and carefully determined degree of carbonation.

And as a result you have a drink of distinction. Serve it with dinner tonight. Give it to your friends! Order it when you dine out. How delightfully it mixes with other beverages!

YANKEES BEAT THE ATHLETICS

PENNANT HOPES OF PHILADELPHIA DASHED IN TWO GAME ROUT YESTERDAY AT HANDS OF NEW YORK

(Special to Daily News) NEW YORK, May 26.—Pennant hopes of the Philadelphia Athletics were crushed yesterday with the loss of both games of a doubleheader to the leading New York Yankees who thus increased their margin of supremacy to six-and-a-half games. Meantime, Cleveland Indians, by winning over St. Louis Browns, advanced to two games behind the Athletics. Boston, by blanking Washington Senators ousted the Browns from fourth place.

The National League race continues close and exciting. Cincinnati Reds retained the lead by winning over St. Louis Cardinals who dropped to fifth place behind the New York Giants who won over the Phillies. Chicago Cubs, winning over Pittsburgh Pirates, are still the runners-up while the Dodgers, through defeating Boston, retained third place with a scant few points over the Giants.

Yesterday's scores were as follows:
AMERICAN LEAGUE
New York 4-9, Philadelphia 2-2.
Washington 0, Boston 5.
Detroit 0, Chicago 1.
St. Louis 4, Cleveland 8.

There has been considerable criticism of the decision of last Wednesday night in giving Dido Gurvich of this city the decision in the twelve round bout over Ali Harding of Calgary. As a matter of fact, it almost looks as if ninety per cent of the fans thought the award should at least have been a draw while a few seem to think that the decision should have been reversed altogether in favor of Harding. Not even the judges who gave the best of it to Gurvich will deny that it was not the winner but Harding who did practically all the leading. On the other hand, blow for blow, which was no doubt the system the judges followed when they decided in favor of Gurvich, Dido had probably an edge though his blows on the whole were light taps when compared with Harding's fierce onslaughts which, after all, had only little success.

Dido was also the best defence fighter but many think that he spent too much of his time defending by closing up and running away and should have shown a bit more initiative. That may be right but it should also be remembered that defence counts in this boxing game almost as much as attack. As a matter of fact, the man who never defends very often never gets the chance to attack. There are no doubt a large number who would like to see these boys matched again and next time it is to be hoped that Dido will open up a bit and give Harding a little of his own style of fighting. Then it is possible there may be one of the liveliest battles this city has ever seen with the probability before it is through of somebody eating the dust—and resin.

Around The World With Sport Fans

The Winnipeg soft ball league seniors opened a four team competition Saturday and will play regular scheduled games during the summer. The girls look very natty in their uniforms. The teams are the Tigresses, Victorias, Ramblers and Golden Keys.

Archery is to be one of the sports of Vancouver this year. The game is said to be spreading and is being combined with summer picnics.

Joan McSheehy, 15-year-old swimming marvel of the Whittinsville Swimming Club, broke seven world's records and established an eighth in an exhibition under the auspices of the New England A.A.U. The records were all back-stroke style, and Miss McSheehy, resting between swims, declined to leave the pool until she had shattered all of the late Sybil Bauer's marks from 440 yards up.

July 1 comes on Sunday this year so all holiday plans will have to be made for Monday, the day following which will be the Dominion Day holiday this year.
