Big Yellow Plane On Way Today From Ottawa to Pacific Coast and May Come to Prince Rupert

Squadron Leader Godfrey Piloting Seaplane on Long Flight Across Country Makes Thrilling Takeoff This Morning

OTTAWA, September 5.—Squadron Leader A. E. Godfrey, staff officer of the local Canadian air force, with Sergeant Major M. Graham, mechanic, took off at seven o'clock this morning on the longest cross-country seaplane flight ever attempted, with one scheduled stop between here and Vancouver and with Prince Rupert as an alternative if conditions prove unfavorable for the southerly route.

The flyers plan to spend the night at Lac Dubonnet should they meet adverse winds.

Following the jump of six thousand miles, a jaunt will be made back across Canada in easy stages.

The takeoff of the great yellow ship from Shirley's Bay, west of Ottawa, loaded with 390 gallons of gasoline, a sack of mail addressed to Vancouver and the flyers' baggage, was one of the most thrilling ever seen here. Taxing for nearly two miles down Lake Deschenes, the plane turned round and faced against a slight breeze which was pushing a light haze across the lake but was unable to make sufficient headway to lift her off the water.

The pilot turned again and Squadron Leader R. S. Grandy with others in a motorboat raced across the path of the onrushing machine. The launch left a swell riding high which caught the front of the floats, tilting them back and lifting the ship on to the "step" or lower part of the float. With a tremendous roar the Wasp engine lifted the machine a few feet. The pilot levelled off to gain speed and then ascended gradually until as she was passing out of sight it was 500 feet up.

The morning was perfect.

The plane will follow the natural waterways, continuing up the Ottawa River to Lake Nipissing, thence to Sudbury. It will then take the Canadian National line toward La Dubonnet across Lake Winnipeg and to Cormorant Lake.

Tomorrow, if conditions are favorable, the Saskatchewan River will be followed toward Prince Albert, Battleford, Edmonton, and Jasper.

It is intended to penetrate the Rockies to Yellowhead Pass, then over Kamloops and along the Fraser River to Vancouver.

If the weather is unfavorable, the northerly route Prince Rupert will be chosen. The flight is of an exploratory nature. Before return a tour of the coast will be made.

Squadron Leader Earl Godfrey was in charge at Vancouver when the fisheries patrol was first established in these waters and he made frequent visits here in connection with that work.

BODY OF SCOTT IS RECOVERED

What is Believed to be Wreck of Plane Held by Coastguardsmen

SEATTLE, Sept. 5.—Coastguard searchers yesterday afternoon discovered the body of Alexander MacCallum Scott, former member of the British parliament and one of seven persons who lost their lives when the British Columbia Airways monoplane plunged into Puget Sound August 25. The body of the third was recovered as coastguard men carefully hold what is believed to be the wreck of a plane off Point Gardner near Port Townsend.

The body was identified by papers and clothing. A diver is expected today to determine whether the object held by the coastguard boats is the plane.

On motion of Ald. Collart, seconded by Ald. Rudderham, the city council last night passed a resolution urging the provincial government to proceed with the construction of the Kaien Island Highway beyond Gallo-way Rapids as well as the building of a bridge across the rapids.

As the new government, which had just taken office, would soon be formulating its policies for the future, Ald. Collart felt that Prince Rupert should ever keep its road needs to the fore.

TORONTO, September 5.—The Wrigley fifteen mile marathon for prizes totalling $35,000 of which the first prize is $25,000, started at 11 o'clock this morning. Cold water forced many of the 198 starters out early. The sole woman swimmer, Olive Gotteram of Seattle, quit because of the cold. George Young of Toronto, Norman Ross of Chicago, and Ernst Vierkoetter of Germany, were early leaders. Young and Ross dropped out later.

The account was made up of an accumulation of such sales tax and penalties thereon for on-payment.

The sole score of the match was made by Jack Harris in the second period.

Chamberlain's Illness Worrying Great Britain

Suggested That Egyptian Situation and Cares of State Caused Breakdown in Health: Cabinet Disturbed

LONDON, September 5.—Austen Chamberlain, foreign secretary, is not likely to resume his office when he returns here from California and Canada is the opinion in British political circles. It is believed that the short space of two months away is too short for recovery from his recent breakdown. This opinion is echoed in London newspapers and there is much emphasis in their columns of growing concern respecting that statesman's health. Officials of the foreign office maintain they have no information that would give the slightest inclination of their chief to resign.

Officials are positive in denying that criticism voiced in some sections of the British press over the Anglo-French naval agreement had anything to do with Chamberlain's condition. However, they say the breakdown calls attention to the increasing strain of the Empire's political life.

The Daily Mail says that the cabinet is already disturbed by the announcement of the forthcoming retirement of Mr. Bridgman, first lord of the admiralty, and by the illness of Sir Austen Chamberlain. It further says that Lord Birkenhead has decided to end his political career and to take an important position in the world of business and finance, probably in November.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Denial that Sir Austen Chamberlain contemplates resigning was made by Premier Baldwin's office today.

Time'y Change of Wind Proved Salvation of Port Simpson As Place Was Threatened by Fire

PORT SIMPSON, September 5.—Only three native houses were completely destroyed by the fire here yesterday. Several others were badly scorched or partly burned. The church was saved although at one time it was afire and the exterior of the building is blackened and some repairs to walls and roof will be necessary. The interior is quite intact.

The village was saved through the fortunate fact that a shower of rain came at an opportune moment and that at the same time the wind changed.

In fighting the fire the people of the village were somewhat handicapped in the use of the hose because the pressure was not sufficient to send the stream to the tops of the buildings. A bucket brigade was formed and did excellent work. Wet blankets were spread on the roofs and walls of adjoining buildings and this proved considerable protection against being ignited from flying embers.

Fred Ross, an Indian, seems to have died from heart failure due to excitement.

Indian Agent Report
 Rev. W. E. Collison, Indian agent, who returned early this morning from the scene of the fire at Port Simpson, reports that the three houses totally destroyed were the property of Fred Ross, who died from excitement at the beginning of the outbreak, Henry Bradley, and Joseph Ryan. A fourth house owned by Joe Mat- shell remaining. Several others were damaged and there is a big hole in the roof of the church where the fire was checked by men breaking through from inside and pouring water on it. Immediately on word being received here of the fire Mr. Collison, Constable Watkinson, fireman Smith of the Prince Rupert fire department with considerable apparatus, left with Newton Burdick of Vancouver in the latter's yacht Helen B. which was kindly placed at their disposal. By the time they reached the village the fire was well under control, the wind having changed from the west to the north.

HONOR TO CANADA

It is a great honor to Canada to have the prime minister of the country vice-president of the League of Nations Assembly. The League is the most important gathering in the world at present and to have Canada so well represented there speaks volumes for the standing of this country in the eyes of other nations and for the quality of the man who is representing her.

WESTHOLME THEATRE

While we know nothing of the laws governing the inspection of buildings, we know that the people of Prince Rupert are anxious that the Westholme Theatre, no matter under whose management, shall be kept in operation until the other theatre is able to cater to the amusement needs of the community. After that we are not so much concerned. It then becomes largely a matter of business rivalry.

In Prince Rupert we need the attraction of a moving picture theatre and need it badly. Especially is this true during fair week. For that reason alone we hope some understanding will be arrived at by which the theatre may operate. If it could be used before the new seats and new machines were installed, it is difficult to understand the logic of closing it now, as long as the management is prepared to comply with the law in regard to theatres as early a date as possible. What we cannot understand is why the old conditions should have been allowed to continue as long as they did if the lives of people were being endangered.

PORT SIMPSON FIRE

The absolute need of having a fire department always in good working order seems to have been exemplified in Port Simpson where the hose stream was not strong enough to reach the tops of buildings. Of course it is a good thing to have water laid on even with a low pressure behind it, but it is probable that the pressure might be increased with very little extra cost.

We must congratulate Port Simpson on its getting off so easily as when everything looked so bad.

AND NOW FOR THE FAIR

Next week at this time the big fair will be in full swing. Much now depends upon the efforts of local citizens as to whether it shall be a success or not. Those who have flowers in their gardens are asked to enter them. Those who have needlework or other articles which they have done are asked to put them on exhibit. Let us all feel that this fair is ours and that it is up to us to make it a success. Then results will be achieved.

Bitter Creek Mines Ltd. Financed—Cassiar Gold Starts Developments in Upper Salmon—Georgia River Gold Getting Down to Business

If certain negotiations which are now reported to be under way materialize, considerable capital will shortly be available for the development of the property of the Bitter Creek Mines Ltd. at Stewart consisting of nine claims composing the well known L. L. & H. group situated on the south fork of Bitter Creek. The Bitter Creek Mines Ltd. was organized last spring for the purpose of taking over and financing the development of the group. Two-thirds of the capital stock of $1,500,000 is still in the treasury and the company has no debts so is in a good financial position. With completion of the negotiations for development capital, it will be in shape to institute an aggressive development campaign. Considerable work was already done by former owners in the driving of 375 feet of cross-cut tunnel which cut one

F. C. Winkler, manager of the Cassiar Gold Mines Ltd., owning property in the upper Salmon basin, has arrived in Stewart to start a campaign of active development on the property. He brought in a large amount of equipment and supplies which have been moved up to the mine. The Cassiar consists of seven claims lying four miles north of the Premier. Some fine surface showings of ore will now be opened up.

Harry Thomey and Frank Haugh have reported the discovery of rich ore on their claims situated above the Ben Bolt property on the south fork of Glacier Creek, the report attracting considerable attention in Stewart. Assays gave exceptionally high values and a well known Stewart engineer left immediately for the purpose of looking over the showing.

"It is a surprise to me that the developments just getting under way in the Portland Canal were not undertaken years ago," declares C. W. Tully, mining man of over twenty years' experience in Ontario, Quebec and Northern Manitoba, who has been making an inspection of the Stewart district. "Anyone experienced in mining and mines must be impressed by the ore showings that are now being opened up in different sections of the camp and the great promise of large tonnage of commercial ore which some of these new developments hold. The lack of cheap power seems to me to be the chief obstacle to rapid development. I am not familiar with the possibilities for large power installation in this locality but, if such an enterprise could be established, it would, I feel sure, be a profitable one and would very quickly result in making a booming camp of big production and Stewart a large and prosperous town. One does not need to be a fortune teller to see that this is your ultimate destiny which should not be much longer in developing. As regards transportation, this camp is ideally situated and some day in the near future I expect to return and find these hills a hive of industry and Stewart the busiest harbor on the northern coast."

The trail from the Portland Canal beach to the Georgia River mine, a distance of some nine miles, has now been completed and the first pack train went through recently. An additional dozen pack horses have been sent down from Stewart to rush in material for camp construction and supplies for winter. The intention is to work a crew of from 15 to 20 men all winter. A new adit tunnel will be started at once on the main vein for the purpose of developing at depth of 100 feet a rich shoot of ore which occurs on the surface, 150 feet from the portal, and carries very high values in gold. The Bullion vein tunnel will be extended to the intersection of the main vein from which point both it and the main vein will be developed, giving a depth of practically three hundred feet on the main vein and 150 feet on the Bullion vein. When the adit tunnel on the main vein reaches the southwest vein, the latter will also be drifted on, exploring it, as well as the main vein, at depth.

"Well, madam, why don't you wish to serve on the jury?" asked the Judge.

"I'm opposed to capital punishment." "But this is merely a case in which a wife is suing her husband for an accounting. It seems she gave him $500 to pay down on a handsome fur coat, and he is alleged to have lost the money at poker."

The woman juror spoke up promptly: "I'll serve. Maybe I'm wrong about capital punishment."

Perspiration Odour so unpardonable so easy to banish

What quality is so attractive as personal charm . . . and what social fault so obnoxious as perspiration odour.

Every person perspires, of course. It's natural, it's healthful. Physicians say the perspiration of the average person measures between one and two pints daily. Nature takes this way of ridding the body of impurities through the millions of tiny pores of the skin.

But perspiration need not be objectionable. Lifebuoy Soap, used in the bath, banishes the odour. Lifebuoy's creamy, mild lather not only cleanses, but also purifies the pores—antiseptically—and keeps them sweet, open and breathing.

To Keep Well

Drink plenty of water, perspire freely and banish perspiration odour with Lifebuoy Soap.

Make sure of avoiding the needless social error of perspiration odour. Use Lifebuoy Soap, for hands, face and bath.

Low in price—wonderful in results.

Tinker suggested at last night's council meeting that steps be taken with a view to having removed a dilapidated building at the corner of Third Avenue and Cow Bay road, the place being described as a menace to traffic as well as being unsanitary. The city engineer was instructed to look into the matter.

A resolution from the Esquimalt municipal council requesting an amendment to the Municipal Act whereby the taxing of improvements of oil tanks, now exempt, will be permitted was endorsed by the city council last night. The amendment at present will not affect this city, improvements not being levied upon here.

The matter being brought up by Ald. Rudderham, chairman of the reading room committee, the city council last night authorized the making of certain minor repairs to the reading room premises as well as the ordering of two tons of coal which it was estimated would be all that would be needed until the end of the year.

SAILORS FROM WARSHIP HIT

ONE DIED FROM INJURIES AND OTHER BADLY HURT AT COWICHAN

VICTORIA, Sept. 4.—A sailor named Richards died this morning. Another man of the same name was seriously injured as a result of being struck by a motor stage on Buena Vista hill near Cowichan Bay Monday. Both were from H.M.S. Despatch. FIRE INSURANCE RATES WILL BE REDUCED HERE

Manager of Underwriters Board Promises Early Cut in Premiums, Aid. Collart Informs Council

The report of the fire chief for the month of July, presented to the city council last night, showed that there had been six alarms during that month, the only damage being $141 when the halibut boat Inez H. caught fire on the water front, this being covered by insurance. Expenses of the fire department for the month totalled $1,235.35, including $1,216.10 in salaries. The usual inspection has been made and equipment was reported to be in good order.

Ald. Prudhomme remarked that the city could do more to congratulate itself on the small loss from fire here. In view of this, he inquired if any progress had been made by the committee which had been delegated to make efforts with a view to bringing about a reduction in fire insurance rates here.

Ald. Collart replied that the manager of the British Columbia Board of Underwriters had been here recently and had stated that a reduction in rates would soon be forthcoming in Prince Rupert. Meantime, engineers had been making the necessary inspections and adjustments, all of which took time.

Ald. Prudhomme expressed his satisfaction that action was being obtained.

PREMIER VENEZELOS SUFFERING PLAGUE

ATHENS, Sept. 4.—Premier Venizelos is today suffering from Dengue Plague which has killed 413 persons in Athens during the past month. The Premier's condition is not considered serious.

Man in the Moon

Success is often achieved at great expense. Friendships often have to be discarded along the route.

Wealth doubtless has advantages but those riding in flivvers usually seem to have the most fun.

A Winnipeg paper suggests that the British Columbia premier has in his cabinet a logger, a lawyer, a surveyor, a financier, a baker, a parson and a contractor. And the Premier himself is a farmer, a veterinary surgeon, a judge of livestock, a horse race starter, an organizer and a pretty good all round man. If the Liberals can beat that they're going some.

3RD PERIOD ENDS FRIDAY

Promptly at 9 o'clock Friday night, September 7, the last big vote period ends forever. Then just one week remains until the big campaign will come to a final end. What you do by Friday night can mean one of the very biggest prizes to you. As you will notice by the smaller list of candidates many are falling by the wayside, and are dropping out of the race. Will you be one to drop out after having gone this far, or will you show your friends and the general public that you have the ability to stick to it and win? Your results by Friday night will determine the answer.

DISTRICT NO. 1

District No. 1 includes only those participants residing within the city limits of Prince Rupert. One of the prize cars and as many cash awards as there are active participants will be awarded to candidates living in this district.

Mrs. J. M. Collison	3,435,775
Mrs. Hugh M. Smith	2,267,525
John R. Stevens	787,250

DISTRICT NO. 2

District No. 2 includes only those participants residing outside the city limits of the City of Prince Rupert. One of the prize cars and as many cash awards as there are active participants will be awarded to candidates living in this district.

CAMPAIGN NOTES

Any candidate can well afford to take a vacation from all other work these last few days and devote every minute to his or her campaign. Here is a proposition worthy of the joint effort of the entire family. It affords such an unusual opportunity that anyone blessed with organizing ability should not hesitate to organize his or her friends for the last grand rally—the super-effort of all—and thus put over a spectacular winning finish. A finish which will leave one standing out in front, the proud champion of champions as well as the winner of a new motor car and a substantial sum in cash.

A most interesting situation is revealed as a result of a casual checking over of results. There are several candidates, in each district, who are closely bunched as far as winning both the biggest prizes and the district prizes are concerned. If the campaign had ended last Friday night, there would have been some candidates who would have lost a big prize by about half dozen subscriptions. The difference between the biggest prize and a second or third prize is from $700 to $1100—this difference, alone, represents a sum well worth every effort you can possibly make during the last few days of the campaign. Your efforts this week will bring many more votes than it will for subscriptions turned in after next Friday night. A word to the wise is sufficient. You can win by your effort this week.

Over-confidence is the greatest handicap under which any candidate can labor. Some candidates are letting down on their work the past few days, whereas if they get back in the harness again, they can win one of the biggest prizes. Otherwise they can hope for nothing more than a commission. The race is so close that, an hours extra work, or a little better luck than usual, might give a candidate just the votes they need to make the difference for them between a car and a cash prize—or between a cash prize and a commission.

A little figuring will do more to show you the big advantage of securing subscriptions this period than whole columns of type possibly could. For instance a new 6-year subscription by Friday night will count you 310,000 votes—after Friday night you will only receive 175,000 votes for the same subscription. A 5-year extension on a first period new 1-year subscription will count you 498,000 votes up until Friday night where after Friday night, the same subscription would count only 100,000 votes. All other subscriptions decrease in about the same proportion. Use your head. Use your pencil. Then get busy and win this week.

With the all-important third period ending forever promptly at 9 o'clock next Friday night, it is only natural to expect every candidate, who expects to win either one of the big prizes originally announced, or one of the two $100 cash prizes in the new $200 competition, to do their very best during the short time that remains.

To make it easier on the campaign department to handle the volume of subscriptions which are expected to come from the "live" candidates before this period ends, every candidate is urged to make frequent reports to campaign headquarters. By doing this we will be able to give you more time than we will if all the candidates wait until the closing hours of this period to make their reports. Out-of-town candidates are urged to mail their subscriptions on each mail coming to Prince Rupert and not hold them until the end of the week.

No candidate will be permitted to enter The Daily News office after 9 o'clock Friday night, September 7, for the purpose of turning in subscriptions to apply on the big votes and points of the third period. All candidates in the office by that time, however, will be waited on and their subscriptions will count on the present big vote and point schedules.

ANY subscriptions mailed in ANY postoffice ANYWHERE which are post-marked not later than 12 p.m. (midnight) Friday, September 7, will also count on the big votes in effect until Friday night only, providing they reach this office, not later than Saturday evening, September 8.

Campaign headquarters located on the second floor of The News Building, 243 Third Avenue, are open each day from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m. (next Friday night until 9 p.m.)

DRAMATIC END TO BALL GAME

PHILADELPHIA WON IN NINTH FROM GIANTS IN SECOND OF DOUBLE HEADER

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Jack Scott forgot yesterday that Cy Williams is poison in his own back yard and the shave a full game off St. Louis' lead. They took the first of a doubleheader from Philadelphia and were leading seven to six when Scott entered the box to pitch the ninth inning. He got rid of Thompson but Klen singled and Leach popped out. It appeared that the game was over.

Then enter Williams. Jack sent one down Cy's alley and the old timer hit it over the right field wall scoring behind Klein and winning the game.

THEATRE IS TO RE-OPEN

Permission having been granted by the provincial fire marshal's department to use the downstairs portion of the house but not the balcony and gallery, Col. S. P. McMorde, manager of the Westholme Theatre, announces that the theatre will be reopened tonight under these conditions. The pit of the house has accommodation for 375 persons and, in order to take care of patronage, it has been decided to run three shows nightly commencing at 6 p.m. instead of two as has been the custom.

Meantime, it is expected that the management of the theatre will proceed in the near future with work that it has been ruled must be done before the whole house can be used. This work will include extensive alterations to the floor of the gallery as well as the putting in of two fire exits on either side to the front of the building. Carrying out of this work, it is expected will not interfere with the use of the pit of the theatre.
