WILKINS TELLS ABOUT HIS FLIGHT

MINISTER CONSULTS LOCAL PEOPLE REGARD HIGHWAY

Perilous Flight Was That of Capt. George Wilkins to Spitzbergen About Which He Tells in Article

Saw no land in Arctic Ocean and but one single mountain peak in Greenland; rocked by violent gale over turbulent ocean

NEW YORK, April 23.—The Times in a copyrighted article today carries a despatch from Captain George Wilkins describing a polar flight. He says the flight ended under conditions of the greatest peril. The take off from Point Barrow, despite the help of a large band of volunteer snow-shovelers from among the Eskimos, three failed before the heavily loaded plane rose into the air, the metal skis with which it was equipped, breaking each time. Finally the start was made on Sunday.

Weather was good for 500 miles and then it changed to cloud-banks of even grassness. No signs of an island were seen where Peary, Stefansson and McMillan thought there might be land but it was too dangerous to land and take soundings.

When 900 miles from Spitzbergen stormy winds were encountered but they were in the flyer's favor. A single mountain peak in Greenland was sighted.

They ran into heavy clouds over a turbulent ocean stirred by a violent gale which rocked the plane to a perilous degree.

At this time they passed an island containing an area of smooth surface. They were running short of gasoline so the only recourse was to turn back and descend, which they did and made a safe landing. The island proved to be Deadman's island, more than 50 miles from Green Harbor. They were held there for five days during the worst Arctic weather Wilkins ever experienced. Then the gale blew itself out, Wilkins flew to Green Harbor where they landed within an hour and were hospitably received.

Major Brandt is survived by a widow, formerly Mrs. J. Charles Halsey, sister of Drs. W. T. and L. W. Kergin of Prince Rupert and a young son. He had been in Prince Rupert for some time.

WILKINS MAY FLY IN SOUTH

PROPOSAL TO ENCOMPASS ANT-ARCTIC REGIONS IN PLANE IS UNFOLDED

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—The Examiner in a copyrighted article today says that the next great flight of Capt. George Wilkins will be a trip over the uncharted waters of the Antarctic regions.

The article says that J. K. Northrop, an aeronautical engineer, and a few of his associates disclosed that Wilkins told them of his plans and needs for the contemplated flight over the southern polar regions in case he was successful in the hop over the other end of the Globe.

Northrop designed the plane for Wilkins.

MAN TAKEN OFF VESSEL CATALA

INVESTIGATION AT VANCOUVER REVEALED THAT SUSPECT HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH MURDER

The search for the "murderer" of Mrs. Esther Killas here led surely enough, but without avail last week to the steamer Catala which left Prince Rupert for the south on Tuesday evening the night following the crime. Enroute to Vancouver, officers of the ship were advised by the provincial police to keep a watch out for any suspicious looking individuals and the steamer was boarded at Alert Bay by Corp. R. P. Ponder formerly stationed here, who proceeded to Vancouver with her. Corp. Ponder searched the ship thoroughly and caused to be held up one of the steerage passengers who, peculiarly enough bore cuts on his hands and who was evidently recovering from the effects of a drinking bout in which he had engaged before taking passage from here. Two police officers, one of them Corp. Fred Markland, also formerly of this city, met the Catala when she docked at Vancouver and took the man who had evinced much nervousness, in charge. He was landed in the lock-up in the southern city and, after being closely questioned, was finally released on Friday, the day after landing. He told the police that he had been drinking by himself in a shack on Ninth Avenue and knew nothing of the crime. Advice from Prince Rupert satisfied the police that his story was correct and that he had nothing to do with the affair. Corp. Ponder returned to Alert Bay on the Catala.

It is also said that two possible suspects also went from here on the Catala and disembarked at Butehead from which point there has been no further trace of them.

Plan to Haul Autos on Flat Cars While Difficult Part of Skeena Highway Being Built Beyond Tyee to About Kwinitsa

AT the conference of the Board of Trade and City Council with the minister of public works Saturday, the minister asked what would be the attitude here toward carrying the cars by ferry or rail while the difficult part of the Skeena Highway was being built. The government would be prepared to subsidize such a scheme if it met with approval here. He suggested that with a gas-electric engine and flat cars a service several times a day between Tyee and Kwinitsa might be maintained. It took a very short time to load cars and unload them. If this scheme met with approval he was prepared to go further into the matter.

Those present at the meeting agreed that it would be a good thing, so the minister said he would investigate and probably make some such arrangement with the railway.

S.S. Ainderby Due Thursday for Second Grain Cargo of Season and More Vessels Yet Expected

PRINCE Rupert's twenty-seventh grain cargo of the season will be loaded out for the United Kingdom or Continent aboard the British steamer Ainderby, Capt. Simpson, which is due on Thursday of this week from the Old Country. This will be the second cargo to be taken from here this year by the Ainderby which was here last in November. The vessel is now coming from the Old Country. Loading of the British steamer Indian City with a full cargo for the United Kingdom or Continent is now proceeding at the elevator and it is expected to get the vessel away on Wednesday.

At least two more ships besides the Ainderby are expected to load at Prince Rupert before the present shipping season is ended.

POLICE HEAD STARTS WORK

INSPECTOR CRUKSHANK STARTS CAMPAIGN DESIGNED TO FIND KILLER OF ESTHER KILLAS

Following a conference with local police officers, Inspector Fortes Cruikshank, head of the criminal investigation department of the British Columbia Police, visited the scene of the crime on Saturday afternoon and gave the house and vicinity close and searching scrutiny. An intensive police campaign was in full progress with a view to apprehending the fiend who in the early hours of last Tuesday morning took the life of Mrs. Ethel Killas at 837 Comox Avenue.

Friends of the unfortunate woman at the week-end were making a search of the surroundings in the attempt to find a weapon or some other leading clue.

The covering of the trail of the criminal was apparently as thorough as the crime was deliberate and cold-blooded.

There are reports that a reward may be posted for information leading to the capture of the murderer.

Police officers, with evidently little evidence to go on, were reticent when inquiries were made today as to new developments in the case. Inspector Spiller stated that no arrest had yet been made though it is understood that a number of fresh clues were run down but to no avail.

The case is developing into one of the most sensational and baffling mysteries in the annals of crime in the province.

WORK ON HIGHWAY

The visit of Hon. W. H. Sutherland, minister of public works in the MacLean Government, has made it quite clear that the government is in earnest in its desire to give Prince Rupert connection by road with the interior. The minister while here stated that the road would be continued beyond the bridge, which would be built this year. He also stated that the present road would be much improved over its present condition and next year would probably be surfaced with tarvia.

Roads are today very much in demand and the government apparently realizes this for highways are being constructed all over the province. In the past Prince Rupert has not shared in this work to any large extent but now the work is in hand and will be prosecuted steadily.

WORK AT DRYDOCK

When times are rather dull here, the pessimists get in their deadly work and suggest all sorts of doleful possibilities. The suggestion that the drydock might be closed, was stopped with a bang Saturday when it was declared by the management that not only would it continue to operate but it was expected the work there would be increased. That is the sort of talk we like to hear. It is what we expect.

FLIGHT OF WILKINS

It is to be supposed that the flight of Captain George Wilkins has some scientific value, otherwise we would suggest that the man is foolish to take such risks. Later we shall hear more about the observations he made.

Soon there will be no more flights which would tend to bring notoriety to the flyer. The Pacific has to be crossed but owing to the fuel problem it is hardly likely it will be accomplished just yet. To link Canada with the Orient, a lighter-than-air ship will probably be used.

FORESTS IN DANGER

The people of Canada can hardly realize how fast fire and axe have eaten into Canada's forest resources during the present generation. Forestry experts state that of what was a primeval forest no farther back than 1810, practically untouched by the axe, little more than one-quarter now remains.

In Eastern Canada comparatively little timber of really prime sawmill quality is left and it is stated that 70% of such timber in Canada now stands in British Columbia. In this province also the work of devastation and waste is going on at a much faster ratio than the annual growth.

A great area of forest land still remains to the north of the populated parts of most of the provinces, but this forest consists largely of spruce and other woods required for the great pulp and paper industry. This forest of recent years has come to feel full force of the United States demand for newsprint paper. It provides a very big factor in our list of profitable exports, but foresters point out we are cutting and burning at a rate that will exhaust our accessible timber supplies in twenty-five years.

These experts say that with proper regulation as to cutting, reforestation and protection from fire, it is possible for Canada to have her forest industries in perpetuity. Fire has always taken greater toll than the axe. Fire prevention, the forestry men say, is the only salvation.

Forest fire fighting methods are being improved. The aeroplane has been called into requisition to locate fires at their first break and thus prevent fire spreading beyond control. But experience has proved to Canada's cost that fire fighting is not nearly as simple as fire prevention. Every single individual whose business or pleasure takes him or her into the woods, must, while there, be impressed with one idea above all others and that is to prevent forest fire.

SCIENTISTS AT WINNIPEG ON WAY TO RUPERT

FAMOUS PARTY TO ARRIVE HERE THIS WEEK TO JOIN SCHOONER MORRISSEY

SEEK QUEER MUMMIES

Discovery and Collecting is Aim of Expedition of New York Museum

WINNIPEG, April 23.—Bound for the Siberian Arctic Coast to explore new lands and to seek for reputed Mongolian mummies, older than those of the Egyptians but, unlike the latter, mummified by nature in caves, members of the Stoll-McCracken expedition of the American museum of natural history will reach here tonight over the Canadian National Railways, en route to Prince Rupert, from which port they will sail on the good ship Morrisssey, under command of Captain Bob Bartlett of Arctic fame. The party comprises Harold McCracken, leader; Charles E. Stoll, director; Captain Robert A. Bartlett of the Morrisssey; H. E. Anthony, naturalist; Mrs. Merle E. Stoll, still photographer; F. L. Jacques, artist and assistant to Dr. Anthony; Edward M. Weyer, archaeologist and assistant to McCracken; Andrew Johnston, taxidermist and Edward Manley, wireless operator.

With the exception of McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. Stoll and Manley, the members of the expedition are all from the staff of the American museum of natural history.

MONGOLIAN MUMMIES

The Mongolian mummies which the party will seek, were reported several years ago by the late Dr. William H. Island refused to molest the mummies in existence. It is said that none have been taken from the caves, where they have been lying for possibly thousands of years or since the post-glacial period. The earliest settlers on the Aleutian Islands, according to Dr. Dall buried their dead in caves and in some of these the atmospheric conditions were such that the bodies were preserved in a natural state. The natives of the islands refused to molest the mummies, there being a tradition fostered by the medicine men of the tribes that any one interfering with them or with their resting places was courting certain death. On one occasion a Swedish fisherman is reported to have taken one of the mummies into his boat with the expressed intention of bringing it to the United States. His boat sailed away and was never again heard from according to the story.

MUSEUM SPECIMENS

In addition to searching for mummies, the expedition will explore Czar Nicholas II land, an island of unknown extent north of Cape Cheleyuska, off the coast of Asiatic Siberia, about 600 miles south of the pole. It will study the economic possibilities of Kamchatka which is rich in timber, coal, gold, lead, zinc and other minerals, but will be chiefly concerned in seeking for the museum specimens of birds and animals of the far north, hardly any of which are found in any museum. These will include Siberian sheep, transitional ruminants between the ovine and the sheep of this country; Siberian grizzlies and moose; sea otters and ribbon seals, which are unique in that they have a band of white across their breasts. Only one specimen of this species has so far been secured and it is not good. In addition, Capt. Bartlett will conduct oceanographic work, dredging and collecting plankton or fish food in the northern waters.

BOAT FROM SYDNEY

Early in December Captain Bartlett moved the Morrisssey from Sydney, N.S., where she had remained for some time, to New York to be outfitted for the expedition, after which she was sent via the Panama canal to Prince Rupert where the party will board for their exploration trip, which will last for six or seven months.

From Prince Rupert they will sail to Kodiak, Alaska, and thence to Unimak Island on the western end of the Alaska peninsula where grizzlies and bird life are to be found. Thence the party will sail to Kamchatka and up the Siberian coast, then, when weather permits they will go through the Bering Straits to the Arctic coast near the mouth of the Kolima River where they expect to find the Siberian moose and specimens of fresh water fish which are unknown to museums in this country and the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoll and Captain Bartlett are joining the other members of the party at Prince Rupert where the final details of outfitting are now in the hands of Captain Bartlett.

ASSISTANT ENGINEER OF PUBLIC WORKS TO MOVE TO WESTMINSTER

Transfer to New Westminster for Ernest E. Smith, assistant district engineer for the public works department, who came here from there about a year ago, was announced during his visit here of Hon. Dr. W. H. Sutherland, minister of public works. Mr. Smith will be leaving for the south in about two weeks to take up his new duties. Mrs. Smith is already in the south.

Mr. Smith left Saturday night on the Prince John for the Queen Charlotta Islands on official duties.

"ROUGH RIDERS" ROMANTIC YARN

ROOSEVELT TROOPS OF SPANISH AMERICAN WAR GAVE WARTIME FLAVOR TO PICTURE

The much-publicized picture of Teddy Roosevelt and the Spanish-American War certainly lives up to its advance notices. Seeing that these films must embrace wartime adventures which crackle with action this celluloid treatment of the hectic days of '98 sets a fast pace and keeps it through the finish. "The Rough Riders" is not so episodic as its title indicates. True its moving moments have to do with the exploits of the famous troop, but the director has enlarged the theme to capture a romantic yarn having to do with a couple of San Juaners and the girl they left behind in San Antonio.

The story is told in simple style and builds directly to its climax. No attempt has been made to paint a halo over the head of Roosevelt. He merely takes his place here as one of the boys, and Frank Hopper, a remarkable double for T. R., does his work without any ostentatious swagger. The picture balances its war scenes with a deal of comedy gags and keeps from waving the flag as a result. The high spots are found in the training camp at San Antonio and in the climb of San Juan Hill.

There is some good pathos and some worthy heroics, noticeable when Charles Farrell carries his rival, Charles Emmett Mack (who, sad to relate, was killed a few days ago in an auto accident) through the enemy lines to a hospital tent. The acting is good.

"THE WHIP WOMAN" IS TONIGHT'S PICTURE

"The Whip Woman" is a sensational story of Hungary after the war. It deals with a beautiful peasant girl, much sought by men, who repulses them all, only to fall in love with a disolute nobleman. The adventures that befall them both make up a story that holds interest from beginning to end.

Many novel sets were provided as a background and the production is rich in color.

By her clever work as "The Whip Woman," Estelle Taylor will win additional friends, for she has never appeared to better advantage. Joseph C. Boyle directed the picture.

ALL-COMEDY NIGHT AT THE WESTHOLME

"Adam and Evil" is Comedy-Farce and Two Minor Comedies Follow

Tuesday is an all-comedy night at the Westholme. The main feature picture "Adam and Evil" is a comedy-farce, and there are two minor comedies, which make a whole evening of merriment.

The story, based on the somewhat time-worn theme of twins and mistaken identities, has been treated from a new angle, and a number of unusual twists have made it into a first class vehicle for the talents of these extremely clever players.

Cody has handled the dual role with exceptional ability and Miss Pringle has shown that she has unlimited ability as a comedienne.

"THE MAGIC FLAME" IS A TALE OF EUROPE

The action of the "Magic Flame" here at the week-end occurs in a Mediterranean country, Baret's circus furnishing

No Substitute for "Fruit-a-tives"

It Cleanses, Strengthens and Tones up the System

SOME people buy laxatives casually and then wonder why constipation persists.

Ordinary laxatives merely goad the system into action; then, weakened by harsh treatment, the body lapses into worse condition than ever.

While relieving constipation Fruit-a-tives builds up general health. Made of juices of fresh fruit and tonics, for 24 years it has been aiding people to positively overcome constipation. Try it yourself. 25c and 50c a box.

"My success is in keeping Healthy."

To me YEAST will always be as necessary as water"

GETTING along, and keeping happy at it, depend pretty much on what folks think of me, and how I strike them. And I've learned that that depends largely on my own outlook on people and affairs in general. Clear thinking, rightness of feelings, mood, attitude, and decisions—the sunny-side habit—fitness, energy, poise—they mean everything to me. So I'm one of these HEALTH CUSTOM people, eating yeast three times a day, with every meal, and that means 360 days this year. More than two years since I started. Made some wrong starts the first few days, too. At my yeast last instead of first. Mixed it with other food, or put it on top of the meal. . . . instead of the right way, eating it before or between, sending it ahead to prepare the way, and get all the forces of appetite and digestion at their best. I was missing a lot of the benefits. But I knew what it was doing for other folks. And I kept right on. Found the best way. So much better it amazed me. Stuck to it ever since. No off-and-on about it.

To ever-increasing thousands, their thrice-daily yeast with each meal is a confirmed and matter-of-fact HEALTH CUSTOM, bringing a daily well-being, physical and mental—a serene joy of living—which they will never willingly forego. A Health Custom not as essential to their physical self-respect as their twice-daily brushing of teeth.

SERMON DEALT VICE QUESTION

REV. WALTER ALLEN DEALT WITH PROBLEM WHICH LED TO RECENT TRAGEDY

Last evening Rev. Walter Allen, who was relieving for the day for Archdeacon Rix, referred to the tragedy which had occurred during the past week and to the causes underlying the restricted district. Industrialism was largely to blame because under the present system young men were not in a position to marry early as had been the custom in the old days. Usually a man was thirty before he felt he could take up the duties of house-keeping.

Mr. Allen deprecated recourse to repression but believed rather in giving young people information which would help steer them clear of pitfalls and more especially the remedy was religious. Repression was ineffective. The duty lay with parents and members of the church to see that the young people were properly informed and that they were brought under those influences which would keep them from giving way to their natural passions. He thought the churches and the people connected with them should provide suitable outlets for the activities of the young people, such as sports and games and not let such things be managed through undesirable agencies.

RADIO CHARGING ANNOYANCE

Editor, Daily News.

Radio fans have been greatly disturbed by what appears to be a radio charging outfit for the past three days. In a check up in this city the annoyance stopped at exactly 3:25 yesterday afternoon, but resumed at 9:50 last night. This interference renders reception impossible to other radio users. It is also possible that some reader of the Daily News is unknowingly the culprit. If he is, he will know by checking his charging periods by the times I have mentioned. And he would confer a great benefit upon his fellow radio fans if he would cut his aerial at the instrument and put in a switch to disconnect his aerial from the storage battery when charging it.

FAMOUS CROW WAS EXECUTED

ST. THOMAS, April 23.—Jimmy, the city's pet crow, is now in the obituary notices. He was sentenced to death by Magistrate C. F. Maxwell after an excited mother telephoned to the police station and reported that the crow had attacked her little daughter and was pecking at the child's eyes.

The complaint was the culmination of several of a similar nature that had been received. The crow was captured by William Balkwill, a local youth, and executed by Sergeant William Ketchabaugh of the city police force, the officer administering chloroform.

Even while the execution was taking place Jimmy played a last prank, grabbing Sergeant Ketchabaugh's third finger of the left hand, which he almost bit off.

The crow was one of the novelties of this city for nearly two years, frequenting the municipal golf course during the summer months and greatly annoying golfers by stealing the balls and amusing himself during the winter months by riding up and down Talbot Street on the tops of automobiles, or quarrelling with the pigeons in the church belfry. Numerous amateur gardeners of the city, as well as mothers, will be thankful now that Jimmy is dead. His favorite stunt during the past fortnight was pulling up tulip shoots to see what was at the ends.

CONFERENCE AT MEETING WITH DR. SUTHERLAND

MINISTER OUTLINES GENERAL ROAD POLICY AND INDICATES WHAT WILL BE DONE
KEEP TO RIVER ROUTE
BUILDING DIFFICULT AND COSTLY BUT NOT BY ANY MEANS IMPOSSIBLE

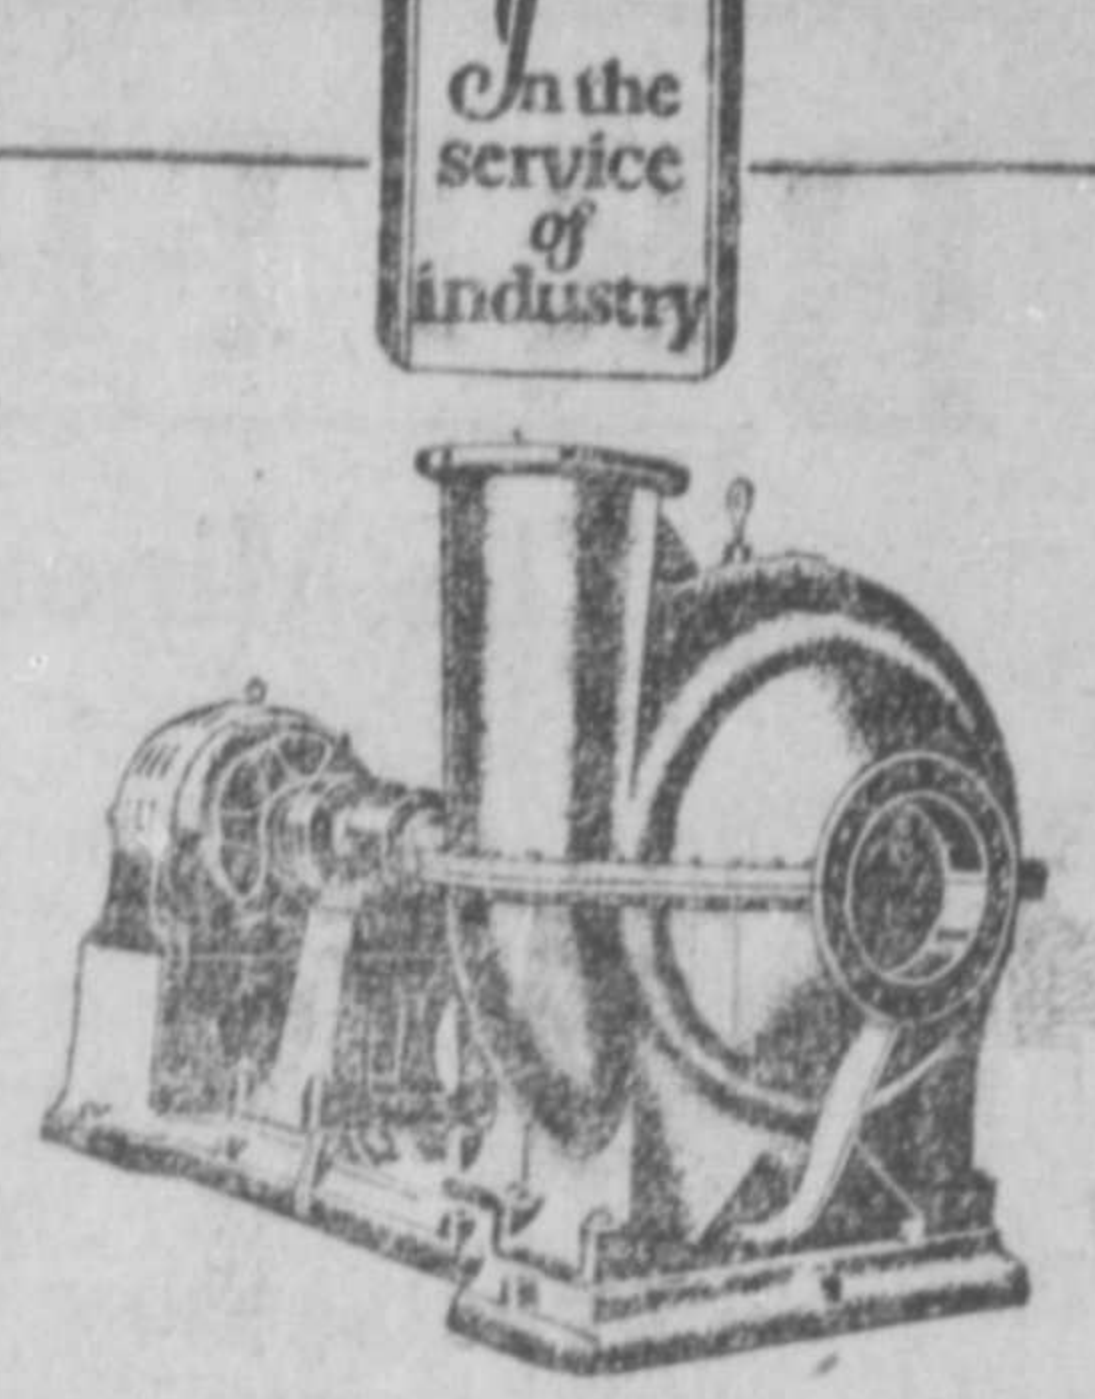

The general policy of the government of late has been to try to connect up all parts of the province by means of good highways and a start in that direction had been made at Prince Rupert, said Hon. W. H. Sutherland, minister of public works, in the course of a conference held with members of the council of the board of trade and the city council Saturday afternoon. It had been found that the bridge across Galloway Rapids would not be as expensive as was at first expected. It would probably be built partly of steel and part wood. Spans above a certain length were cheaper of steel.

The suggestion of taking a route back from the Skeena had been pretty well abandoned and it was expected the route would have to follow the river. Building to Tye would be comparatively easy but after that the work would be costly and would take a little time. He asked what would be the attitude of this city toward the provision of a ferry or a special rate on the railway for cars while the difficult part of the road was being built. The government would be prepared to subsidize some such scheme.

BEYOND TYE
The road for about forty miles beyond Tye looked difficult but it would not be at all impossible. It was already found that tourists reaching Hazelton did not like returning over the same road. If they could get through to Prince Rupert they could take their cars south on the steamer.

The minister said the road out of here had cost from ten to twelve per cent more than was estimated. This was not a large amount. The road was not yet in very good condition as the construction contractors had been hauling fifteen ton truck loads over it. This would be rounded off and left in good condition.

Dr. Sutherland disabused the people here of the idea that the government was giving them anything. All that was being done was to spend here the money collected in motor licenses and gasoline tax. This money went into a special fund and was used for roadwork throughout the province. The money

Fairbanks-Morse Stock Pumps

The Fairbanks-Morse Stock Pump is not just another pump. When Fairbanks-Morse & Co. decided to build a pump for handling wood pulp stock and other fibrous or stringy material, they consulted with Mr. A. B. Wood, an outstanding authority and designer of pumps of this nature. Mr. Wood worked with Fairbanks-Morse engineers and produced a pump that is an improvement on anything heretofore designed or constructed. The new improved stock pump, with its two blade enclosed impeller, will handle, without clogging, fluids containing solids up to one pipe size smaller than the suction opening, and fibrous or stringy material of any consistency that will flow through a pipe line.

HIGH SCHOOL BEAT BORDEN

TEAM WON BY FIVE CLEAR GOALS IN FIRST GAME OF SECOND HALF

The Junior Football League opened the second half of the season on Saturday when High School won over Borden School by five clear goals. Borden won the toss and elected to play uphill. High took up the attack from the start and play was rarely out of the Borden half of the field. The advantage of height, weight and experience all told in favor of High School and goals were scored by Johnston, Wicks and Stiles.

Playing down hill in the second half was of little advantage to Borden and they were mostly on the defensive. Kanaya, Nakamoto, Pyle, Carl Smith and Vacher all defended heroically and with success but High were not to be denied and further goals were added by Wicks and Fred Cameron. Full time found High winners by five goals to nil.

For the losers Kanaya in goal saved many good shots, one stop in the second half at the expense of a fruitless corner being specially clever. Pyle showed good judgment and with Carl Smith stopped many a High raid. Fong, Nakamoto, Vacher and Fisher all defended to the last. With a little more coaching and practice Borden will put up a much better show. For their first appearance they are to be congratulated on their play and especially for their plucky fight right up to the last whistle.

High School were ragged all through. Roy Wicks, Thurber, Clouston Johnston and Fred Cameron played the best football. Scott in goal was not tested. But Stiles and Fisher had too much weight and height to be bothered much by the opposing forwards though Fong and Vacher were not to be easily dispossessed.

Teams—High School: D. Scott, A. Stiles, Fisher, Thurber, C. Johnston, A. Thompson, Batt, Wicks, W. Johnson, Cameron, R. Morrison.
Borden School: Kanaya, Nakamoto, Pyle, H. Fisher, Carl Smith, G. Dibb, R. Fong, P. Fisher, P. Vacher, R. Chesnoski, A. Hardy.
J. S. Wilson refereed and G. Stocks and W. W. C. O'Neill were linesmen.
Next Saturday Borden and Booth meet at 2:30 in a regular feature.

Around The World With Sport Fans

(By The Tramp)

Canadian Olympic athletic trials will be held in Hamilton, Ontario, June 30 and July 2.

Clifford Bricker, first choice for the Canadian Olympic marathon team has gone to Holland for three months training prior to participation in the marathon at the Olympic games in Amsterdam in August.

A fine of £25 was imposed on the Southall club at a meeting of the council of the Athenian football league. The council also passed a vote of censure on Southall. This club recently had an opportunity to make a remunerative tour of the Channel Islands. It should have played a league match against Kingston, but was unable to do so with its regular team. However, it signed on a team from H.M.S. "Excellent," and sent them against Kingston and went on the tour. It was thought at the time the council could not do anything about it, but it was found that a rule provided that each club in the league should play its recognized first eleven in all senior division league matches or be liable to be dealt with as the council might determine.

Art Nehf southpaw hurler for the Cincinnati Reds until last year when he was discarded, seems to have staged a comeback with the Chicago Cubs.

It was hardly necessary for Leo Dandurand of Canadians to say that none of his players is for sale. Stories have been going the rounds of the N.H.L. press to the effect that an offer of $50,000 for Morenz was being entertained, and other stars of the team are likely to be disposed of. There is no apparent reason why the greatest hockey sextet extant should be dismantled.

Miss Mercedes Oheitz, the English typist, who recently announced that she had swum the Strait of Gibraltar, has accepted a challenge to an endurance test in the open sea, at a time and place to be arranged. Mrs. Lottie Schomemmel being the lady who would make the test.

While we hear more about the English football cup series here than about the Scottish, more fans turn out to the Scottish games. The total of 98,000 at Wembley is rather disappointing compared with well over one hundred thousand at Hampden Park.

Considerable local money changed hands Saturday over the big cup final. It was interesting to note the different expressions on the faces of those financially interested, when they heard the result. In one case it was a beaming smile and in the other a puzzled expression which seemed to say: "How could I have made such a mistake?"

Hostility to the forthcoming Olympic games has arisen in Dutch religious circles and a report on the subject by a seven Amsterdam clergymen has been made public. The report declares that there appears "to us to be ample justification for decisively opposing the forthcoming Olympic games. Everything is opposed to the principle of loving God above all else. The strongest being is here the most exalted and is raised to the place which God alone should occupy."

Springfield Indians, for the second year in succession, won the championship of the Canadian-American Professional Hockey league when they defeated Quebec Beavers recently in a five-game series. One of the main reasons for the Indians' great victory was Leroy Goldsworthy, an Edmonton boy and a chap who played in junior, senior and finally professional hockey in that city.

Twelve years ago Dempsey would have fought anybody for the modest remuneration of ten dollars a round. Just now he would command a price of from $15,000 to $20,000 a round with full pay guaranteed for ten rounds or fifteen, even if he "shouldn't" last through the first round, and he would be allowed to pick almost any opponent he might prefer.

The possibility of a British Columbia Cricket Week in Victoria this summer will depend largely upon the support of outside competition. At a special meeting of the Victoria and District Cricket Association held here a sub-committee of local cricketers, with Major Howden as secretary, was appointed to inquire into the prospects of probable entrants and financial possibilities.

Rennie & Taylor, soccer machine of Victoria put a fitting finish to a most successful season when they defeated Saanich United in the MacKay Shield final by a 4-2 score. The Bakers have set what is believed to be a record in local soccer circles. They have won the four trophies put up for competition in the Wednesday Football League, and in addition only suffered one defeat this season, and that at the hands of Saanich United.

SPORT CHAT

Providing that there is good weather Prince George baseball fans will be enabled to witness their first of the season baseball game tomorrow. During the past two weeks there has been a good turn out of players and from the material on hand there will be two good teams chosen to play the opener. A final practice was held last evening at Duchess Park.

The members of the Prince George tennis club completed their organization for the season at a meeting this evening. Mrs. C. P. Beykin was elected president; E. J. Newman, vice-president, and A. L. Putnam, secretary. The following membership fees were approved: Family tickets, $15; married couples, $10; gentlemen, $10; ladies, $5 and junior tickets $3.

England, because the excessive taxation abroad. Rickard believes the match will draw $1,500,000 in New York. Although the gate receipts probably would be as large in London, with the mammoth Wembley Stadium available, Rickard classed the project as "too much of a gamble." Tunney will fight but once this year, the promoter says, and if he retains his championship, will battle but once for Rickard in 1929. The New Zealand challenger, if victorious over Tunney, has agreed to fight only once next year, and then under his auspices, Rickard said.

It looks as if the American Baseball League is going to have an edge over the National circuit for the next few years, according to the performance of a number of youngsters last year. If the records of the 1927 season can be accepted as a criterion of the ability of a number of recruit pitchers, then the edge will shortly come back to the younger organization. Wilsey Moore of the Yankees, with 19 wins; Willis Hudn of Cleveland with 18; Horace Lashinger of Washington, with 14; Thomas F. Chicago, 19; Irving Hadley, Washington, 14; Pipraga of New York, 10; and Carroll, Detroit, 10, all make great showings. That is real hurling for veteran twirlers, yet when seven unexpectedly come through, it is apparent the American league has a lot of class.

"PEEPING TOM" IS STILL AT LARGE

Peers in Windows and Even Goes to Length of Using Ladders to Reach Second Storeys
"Peeping Tom" is still at large, much to the consternation of many women of this city who have just about come to the stage where they are afraid to venture forth at night unaccompanied. Last week he was reported to have visited the part of town around Eighth Avenue West as well as Borden Street. Previously he had been reported across Hays Creek in Section Seven. His specialty seems to be peering into windows and he is also reported to have gone as far as to get ladders and gaze into second storey bedrooms.

While "Peeping Tom" may be a harmless individual, it would be a profound relief to many women at least were he apprehended, particularly so in view of recent unpleasant events.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS
Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation and improvement for agricultural purposes.
Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which may be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE
Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

HOMESITE LEASES
Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES
For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.
GRAZING
Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Commission. Annual Grazing Commissions are issued based on grazing permits, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free or partly free permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to 100 head.

TOURIST BUSINESS

Dr. Sutherland spoke of the tremendous development of the tourist business. Last year 250,000 cars entered British Columbia and there were more visitors to the province than residents. In British Columbia it was estimated $42,000,000 a year was spent in cars. It cost from $50 to $60 a month to own a car including upkeep, wear and tear and deterioration. The 80,000 cars registered in B.C. last year was a large expense and if by improving the roads the cost of upkeep on the cars was cut down, that was a saving to the people of the province. It was an economic proposition.

Dr. Sutherland said enough money had been set aside this year for the bridge at Galloway Rapids and to take the road to the canneries. He thought a highway there would tend to bring business to Prince Rupert.

There would be two planes here this summer and it was proposed to have one of them give a final check up on the route to make sure nothing had been missed.

A vote of thanks to Dr. Sutherland was extended.
Yesterday the minister was entertained locally and left for the south last night.

Laundry Washed Clothes Are Not Rubbed

YOU know how you douse your dainty lingerie up and down in a bowl of sudsy water . . . that's the way your clothes are washed in a modern laundry. They are not rubbed or scrubbed but are gently swished back and forth in warm filtered rainsoft water until the pure soap actually foams. Every particle of dirt is loosened without unduly lessening the tensile strength of the fabric. Then come many rinses of rainsoft water so that your laundry washed clothes not only look and feel clean but are scientifically clean.

VENDORS AND ENTERTAINERS LONDON STREET

LITTLE OF ALMOST EVERYTHING PEDDLED AT CURBSTONE MARKET IN METROPOLIS

ENLIVEN THE CITY
BALLAD SINGERS AND STREET POETS AROUND AND ARTISTS OF A KIND OPERATE

LONDON, April 23.—In London now there are nearly as many folks carrying their wares in the gutter and plying their trades in the street, as there were in the days of good Queen Bess; you can hardly walk abroad without seeing such quaint, gay, colorful sights and busy craftsmanship as might belong to the oldtime when half the town's business was done in the streets," says a writer in the Daily News and Westminster Gazette.

"Here is a man with magic flowers unfolding in a glass of water, here a vendor of joss-sticks with a sample smouldering on his tray; there is a nimble fellow with toys that run and jump as nimbly as himself, and there is a man with a pair of tame jack-daws which will perch on your hand for a penny. There is an old man who peddles rock-salt in a child's pram, and a young one who sells country flowers in suburban side streets from an old Ford. If your fancy is for a live lobster, a tortoise or a puppy dog, bitter oranges or branches of eucalyptus silver topped walking sticks or sham dolls that squeak, you will find them all at the curbstone market.

For entertainment you have as much as any citizen of Elizabethan London: the ballad singers, the clowns and the tumblers, still contrive to please the crowd as their forefathers did—though now it is ranged two by two outside the theatre. The street poet still flourishes, chalking his verses on the paving stones of the Embankment, and the basket maker sets out his gaudy wares in Kingsway, making his strip of pavement look like the corner of an Indian bazaar; there is a one-armed

That Tired Feeling

TIRED BRAIN—TIRED NERVES—TIRED BODY

MONDAY HEALTH TALK
by
R. E. EYOLFSON, D.C., Ph.C.

Is it any wonder that digestive organs fail and the heart's action weakens under such strain? The modern business of life is carried on at tremendous expense to the nervous systems of both men and women.

So great are the worries of life today, that the end of the day finds the brain, the nerves, the body, tired and limp.

The last ounce of nervous energy seems to have been expended. Is it any wonder that internal organs stop functioning properly when the nerve force which controls their action is so completely exhausted?

But with the nerves on edge you are restless and irritable. You cannot sit still and relax. You must be ever on the go. You must have excitement and stimulation until finally worn out, and the inevitable result—a nervous breakdown.

There is a way out of this vicious circle of nerve exhaustion. By taking a course of Chiropractic adjustments you will soon find yourself sleeping and resting better, digestion will improve and you will forget the tired feelings in your enthusiasm for new health and happiness.

As the supply of nerve force in the body is increased your vital organs will resume their natural functions. You will feel the confidence that goes with good health. Your efficiency will improve and you will be able to get the most out of life.

Our years of local experience and a careful preliminary training assures you of the best that the Chiropractic profession has to offer.

Yours for health—

"Despite all the wide streets and brand new concrete of our modern London, her citizens still take their way among workers and chaffers, just as they did when the sweep shouted his trade from the house tops, and 'Cherry-ripe' was cried in the streets."

Pacific Milk enjoys a somewhat unique distinction. It is the only evaporated milk on the market that is 100% British Columbian and British Columbia is the only province in Canada that has canned milk produced exclusively from government tested herds. Aside from these features this good milk is exceptionally rich and fine flavored.

BISHOP'S BATH ONLY PRIVACY

HIS LORDSHIP OF ST. ALBAN'S FEARS TELEVISION WILL ROB HIM OF THAT

LONDON, April 23.—The terrors of television were dwelt upon the other day by the Bishop of St. Albans (Dr. M. B. Furse), the most unconventional prelate of the English bench.

"At present there is one place, and one place only," said Dr. Furse, "where I can secure absolute privacy, and that is in my bath. But I read that this privacy is to be vouchsafed to me only for a little time longer.

"I make no secret of the fact that I view with great trepidation the coming of the day when by television my morning ablutions at St. Albans will be reflected on a screen in New York for the entertainment of the American cinema public."

Dr. Furse is more often than not referred to as "Mike" Furse. He became Bishop of St. Albans in 1920 after seventeen years as Bishop of Pretoria. Concerning his appointment by Lloyd George, he told the St. Albans diocesan: "I couldn't help it. I was simply thrown at you by a Baptist Prime Minister, and, as far as I am concerned, I have got to sit on your chests for the rest of my natural life. It may be unpleasant for all concerned."

Considering Dr. Furse is six feet four and proportionately heavy, this is obviously true.

In one of his journeys through his present diocese he spoke about receiving letters. "If you have to write them," he said, "for Heaven's sake put stamps on them. Nowadays one has to pay postage, and it isn't worth it. "There is only one thing worse than being 'respectable,' and that is being 'superior.' Figure-heads may have been all right for the old ships, but they are not a bit of good for a church."

OBJECTIONS TO ADAM AND EVE

LONDON, April 23.—A nude painting of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden has been banned by the Southport Corporation Art Committee, as the results of protests by the public.

The painting, by William Roberts, is one of a collection by the London Artists' Association which was exhibited at the Leicester Galleries in November. This is the first time it has been exhibited outside London.

The exhibition was opened just over a week ago, and no objection appears to have been raised to the picture until a mayor gathering took place.

On that occasion the art gallery, which is an annex to the municipal buildings, was used as a refreshment buffet.

A good deal of comment was made by the 1,000 guests about the picture, and complaints were made to the art committee.

The picture was then removed to a private room, where it remains. Members of the committee supported the ban.

Councillor J. Waterhouse said that the picture was sound enough in one way, but not likely to be an advertisement for the town.

"My own views about such things are pretty free," he said, "but considered from the point of view of the good of the town it was wisely removed."

Dr. Lewis, vice-chairman of the committee, said he would not hang the picture in his own home, as it was, in his opinion, neither artistic nor elevating.

Mr. Roberts, who was a student at the Slade School, some years ago held a notable exhibition of his work at the Chennell Gallery. In an introduction to the catalogue, Muirhead Bone, the distinguished teacher, said: "He presents his memories of life in a sharp manner, odd, vivid and quite his own, whose foundation is a really sterling draughtsmanship."

PRINCE OF WALES TO OPEN NEW DOCK

Eastern Arm Extension at Bristol Has Cost about $5,000,000

LONDON, April 23.—The Prince of Wales will visit Bristol on May 23 to open the eastern arm extension of the Royal Edward Dock. He will have a civic welcome when he reaches the city at 11 o'clock, and will go to Avonmouth by road. At the Junction Cut, which connects Avonmouth and the Royal Edward Dock, he will join a steamer for the dock extension, and the vessel will cut the ribbon stretched across the entrance. Going on to the far end of the new arm the Prince will land at the wharf where an address of welcome will be presented.

The new dock, which has taken nearly two years to construct, has cost about $5,000,000. The corporation received help for the scheme in Government grants for work for the unemployed. With a water area of 21 acres the new dock space is 1,700 feet long and 400 feet wide. There are six extra deep water berths. It is equipped with the most modern appliances for the rapid handling of cargoes. An additional granary has 20,000 tons capacity.

The teacher was reading an account of the Battle of Banockburn.

"And when the English saw the new army on the hill behind," he read, "their spirits became damped."

"Now, what is meant by damping their spirits?" he asked one bright lad. "Pittin' water in their whisky," came the prompt reply.—Ayrshire Post.
