SENSATIONAL CHARGE IN VANCOUVER

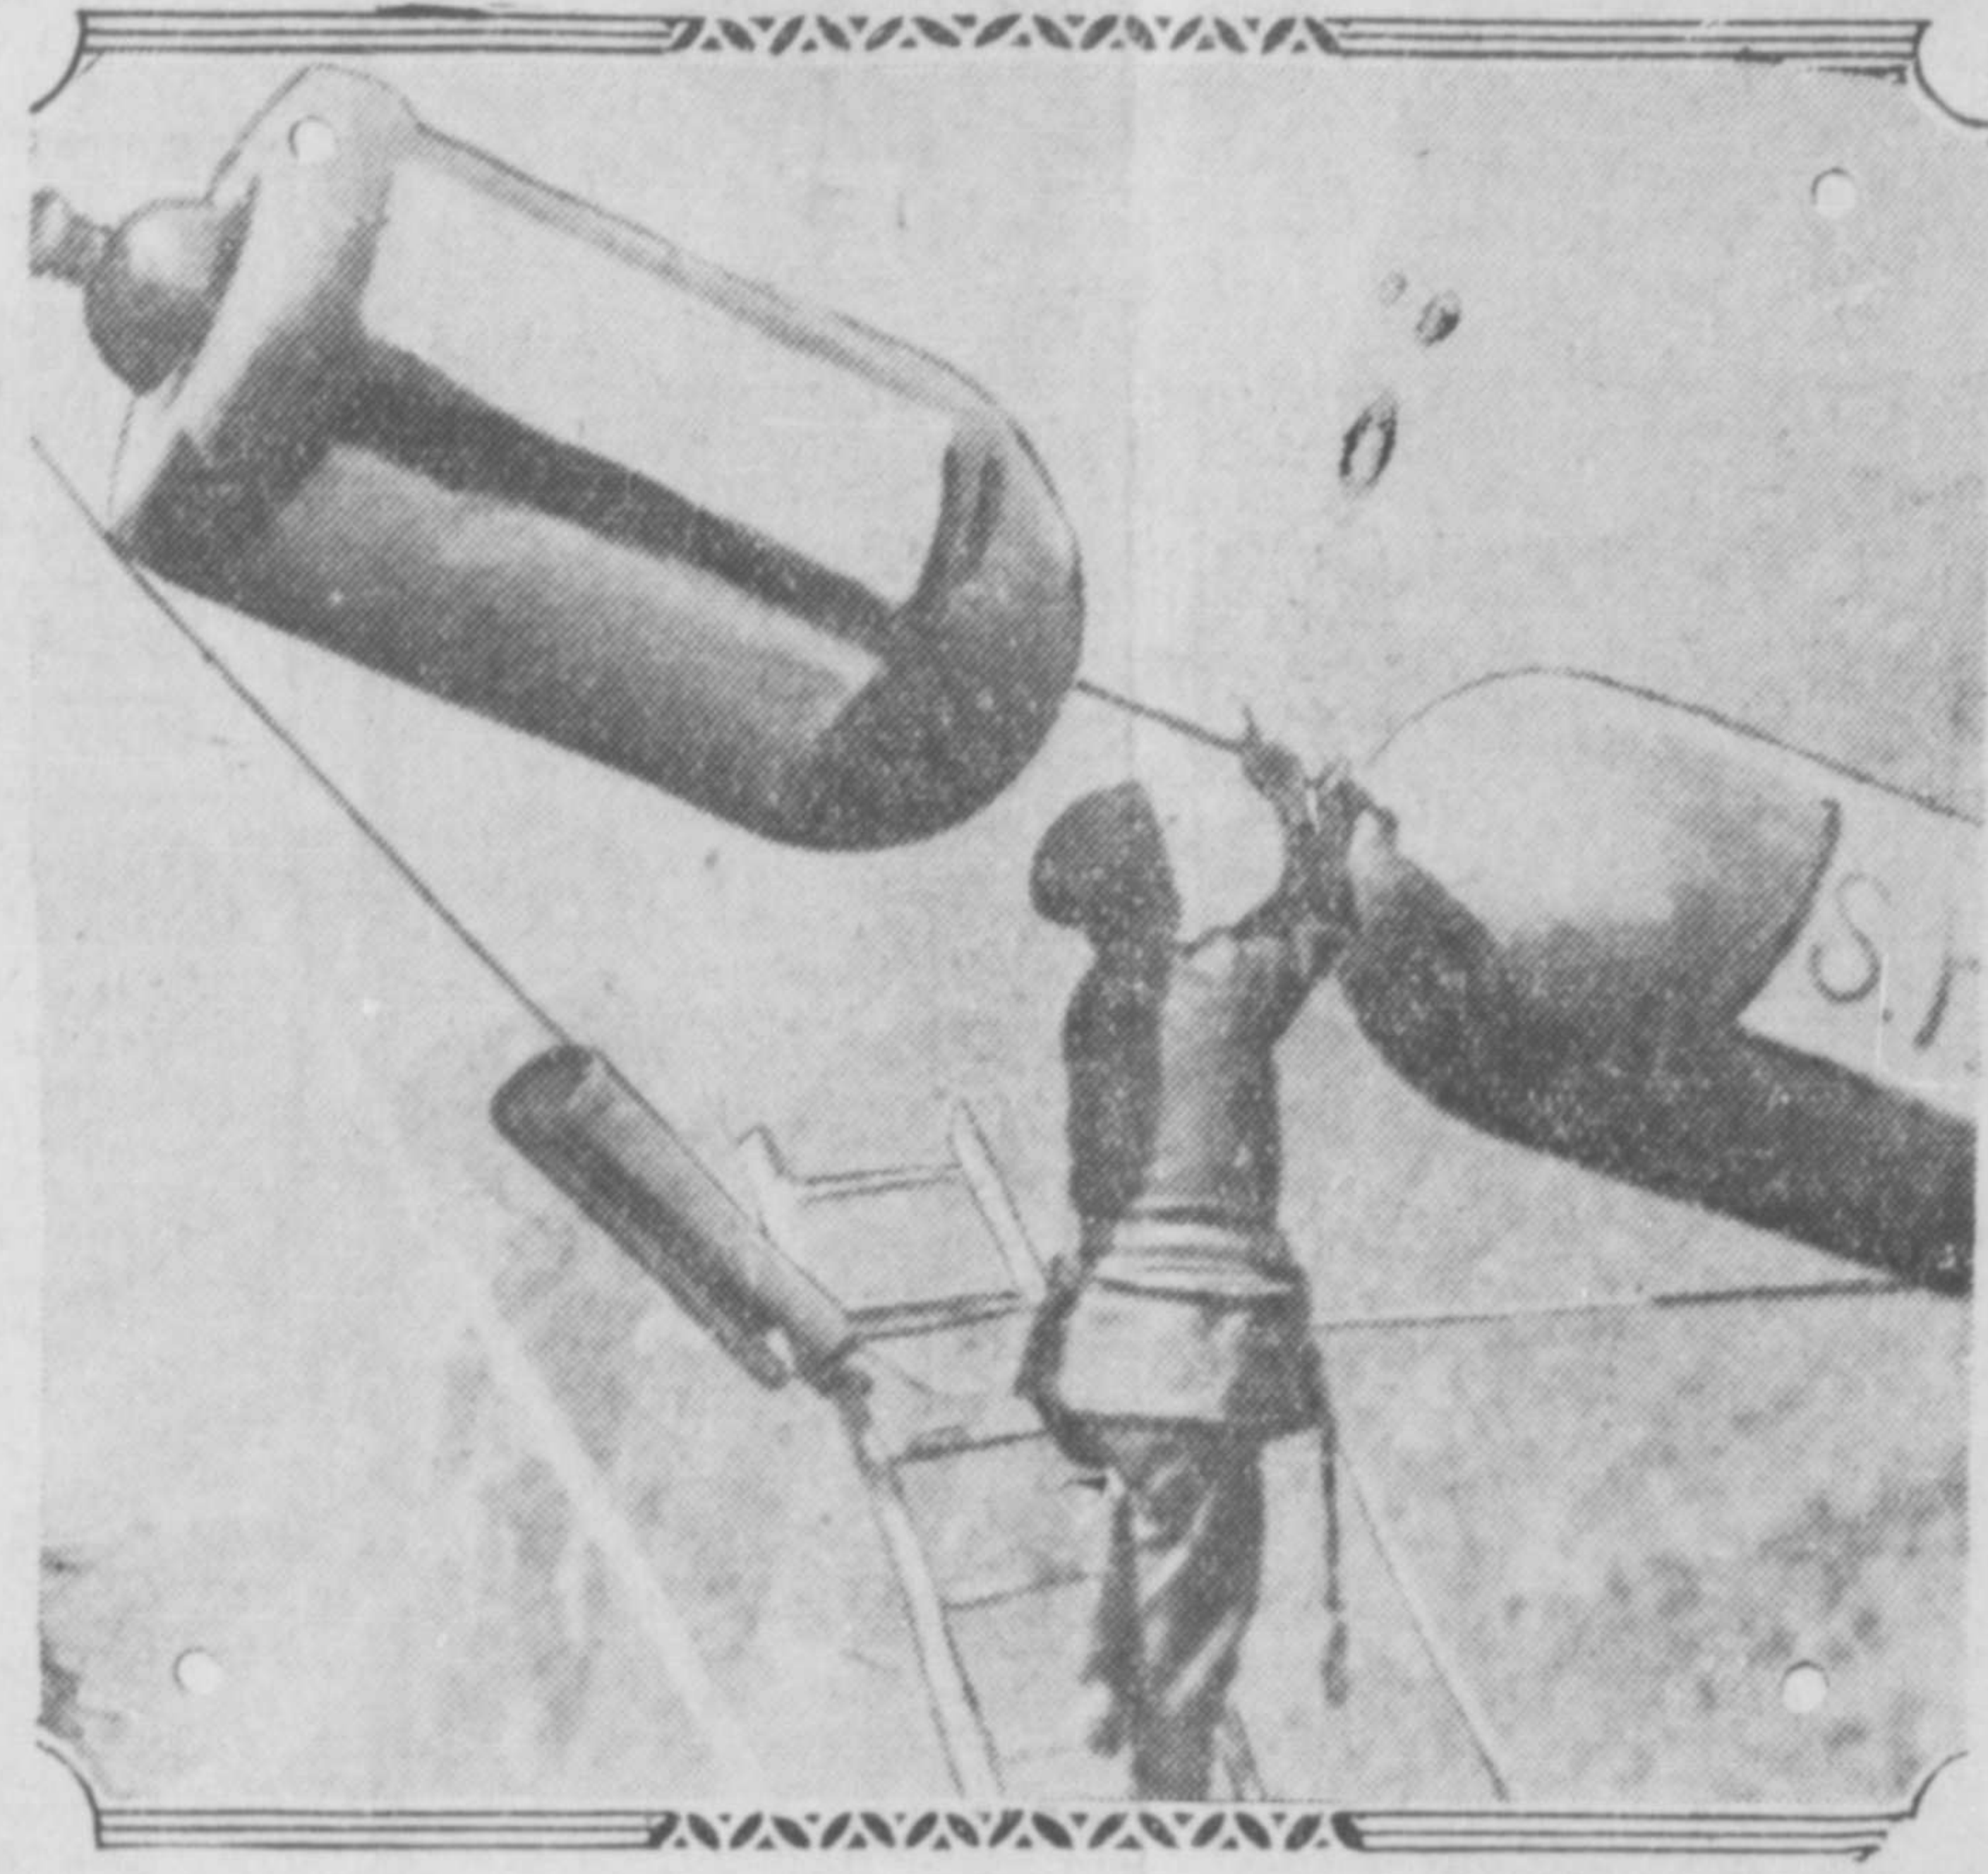

APPEAL ANNOUNCED AGAINST DECISION IN CURRIE SUIT

Mayor of Vancouver Charged With Allowing Lawbreaking That City

VANCOUVER, May 2.—Declaring that Mayor Taylor is charged with permitting gambling and the operation of disorderly houses and with instructing officers to refrain from carrying on their duties, G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for police commissioner Fletcher, supplied the sensation at this morning's hearing of the police probe.

McGeer's statement followed a demand from Alex. Henderson, K.C., counsel for the mayor, that either the charges against his client should be made public or hearsay evidence inferring them should be ruled as inadmissible.

The mayor was in the court room when McGeer made the charge.

Currie Trial to Cost Losers About $15,000; Appeal is Announced

More Particulars of Case Which was Decided Against Preston and Wilson With One Juror Dissenting

COBOURG, Ont., May 2.—By a poll of 11 to 1 the civilian jury yesterday rendered a verdict against W. T. R. Preston, writer of the defamatory article which appeared June 13 in the Port Hope Guide entitled "Mons" and against the publisher of the paper, F. W. Wilson.

The jury found that the publication of the article was libellous and they awarded Sir Arthur Currie, who is the aggrieved party in the suit for damages, the sum of $500. The former commander of the Canadian Corps had claimed $50,000.

The jury deliberated three hours and forty minutes and one juror voted against the verdict. He was a returned soldier.

Defendants stood upon their assertions that what had been printed in the article "Mons" was true in substance and in fact, while counsel for the plaintiff contended that the article was libellous and that a portion of it referring to the Canadian soldiers having their rifles trained on the headquarters staff was the meanest thing that could be said by a mean man.

Frank Regan for the defense explained to the jury that even a technical verdict against his clients Wilson and Preston would impose upon them the costs of the trial, which might mean about $15,000.

Preston's address to the jury dealt largely with the circumstances of Sir Sam Hughes' address in the House of Commons and he complained he had not embraced the opportunity that lay at hand at that time to have a parliamentary investigation to clear himself.

W. N. Tilley for Currie confined most of his address to explaining technicalities of the issue at stake. He said Preston might be a good general with German troops out of Belgium and together but he had to do the job before they got out. He had issued an order which read that it was important to maintain and hasten our action and the Canadian commander was trying to carry out the orders of the high command.

F. W. Wilson announced today that the Currie verdict would be appealed.

SPENCER-McRAE INTERESTS ARE TO WORK MINES

TO CARRY OUT DEVELOPMENT ON MOOSE AND CLIMAX PROPERTIES AT ALICE ARM

The Spencer-McRae interests of Vancouver, which last fall dropped the Vanguard, Red Point and Copper Cliff properties after carrying out considerable work on them, will this season carry out development operations of the Moose and Climax properties in the Alice Arm camp. It is learned. These mines which are considered very promising, lie across the Kitsault River about four miles from the famous Dolly Varden. They adjoin each other. The Vancouver syndicate has undertaken to do at least $5,000 worth of development work on them this summer.

Egypt Postpones Obnoxious Bill in Relation to Assemblies and Peace Once More Haters in Near East

LONDON, May 2.—The Egyptian crisis took a favorable turn today when Sir Austen Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons that the instructions which were previously thought necessary to give to certain warships had been countermanded.

The foreign minister also announced that the British reply to the Egyptian government's note while welcoming its sentiment warned that if the Assembly's bill was revived or a similar legislation introduced, Britain would be obliged again to intervene.

CAIRO, May 1.—The Anglo-Egyptian situation is easier following the decision of the Egyptian Chamber and Senate last night to postpone discussion of the Assemblies' bill until November. Apparently this meets the British demands.

VANCOUVER, May 2.—At the police inquiry yesterday Sergeant J. W. The chief told him, said witness, that Mayor Taylor had been over "raising hell" about the campaign of punch board seizures.

Alex. Henderson, counsel, strongly objected to second hand reports of the mayor's statements.

The session was featured by sharp clashes. G. G. McGeer, representing police commissioner Fletcher, insisting on a full and impartial inquiry.

ACCEPTS WATERFRONT PROPERTY

Some time ago the provincial government, through Hon. T. D. Pattullo, offered the city the waterfront property at the foot of McBride Street formerly occupied by the Prince Rupert Boathouse. There was some delay in accepting the land although for years requests for a piece of waterfront had been made by the mayor and others. Monday night it was finally decided to accept the property so that the city would have a place for public floats.

This is one of the most valuable waterfrontages in the city because it is centrally located and enables the city to provide a public landing place where it will be of most value.

ALL JOIN IN IMPROVING CITY

Once more we mention the fact that the city has arranged this as the period in which residents are expected to clean up their premises, if they have not already done so. Other places are spending much time and money and appointing local committees to see that the beautifying and improving of the city is carried out. Here we are trusting to the co-operation of all property holders and householders to help carry on the work. If just one or two fail, it means that the efforts of the others are to a large extent nullified.

VANCOUVER POLICE

It is to be hoped that the police inquiry at Vancouver will be a thorough one and that all the facts of the case will be brought out and made public.

Vancouver is a big city and policing is a great problem. There are so many influences at work which tend to corruption that only by now and then having a thorough cleanup can affairs be kept free from taint.

People who give evidence or who aid in the cleaning process find it a most unpleasant job and one for which no one craves. But it is a job that must be done and it is to be hoped the investigation will be thorough.

RED CROSS FOUNDER

The Red Cross Society was founded by Henri Dunant, a Swiss who was born in Geneva in 1828 and died in Paris in 1910.

Casually travelling through Northern Italy in 1859, Dunant came upon the ghastly plain of Solferino where, on June 24, 300,000 men had been engaged in a battle which had lasted fifteen hours.

Shocked into action at the sight of 40,000 dead, wounded and dying soldiers, Dunant undertook to establish a volunteer ambulance and nursing service, recruited from the nearby town of Castiglione. With these workers, he obtained official permission to tend the wounded and dying on the field of battle, going out personally with wine, food, cigarettes, tobacco, for which he paid out of his own purse. So indefatigably did he work that, in gratitude, the invalids named him "The Good Samaritan of Castiglione."

The vision of the suffering witnessed at Solferino never left him. For three years he travelled about Europe, preaching, lecturing, writing, advocating the need for speedy reorganization of military and medical nursing service. Finally, in 1862, his little book, "Un Souvenir de Solferino" appeared and startled a shocked world into the immediate need for change.

The Committee of Public Safety consequently, under the presidency and chairmanship of Gustave Moynier and General Dufour, became so interested that it succeeded in calling together an International Conference in 1863. As a result of these efforts, still another conference was called in 1864, when 16 nations sent delegates. The meeting ended when 12 out of the 16 national representatives signed the first Treaty of Geneva, and Red Cross was established for the first time in international law. Today 59 nations subscribe to this Treaty, which grew out of the ideals of Henry Dunant.

Dunant lived a long and useful life, devoting a large fortune to the furtherance of his benevolent and philanthropic work.

KING EDWARD SEVENTH
DANCED IN COBOURG

Scene of Famous Libel Case Graced by Him When he was Prince of Wales.

COBOURG, Ont., May 2.—King Edward VII, danced in the court house where the trial of the action for $50,000 damages for alleged libel brought by General Sir Arthur Currie against F. W. Wilson, of the Port Hope Guide and W. T. R. Preston has been in progress. That was in 1880, when, as Prince of Wales, the ruler who was later to be known as "Edward the Peacemaker," was visiting the Dominion. The court house was built in 1857 and formally opened in 1860. The dance was held in honor of the Prince of Wales at the new court house, and he graced the ball with his presence.

The building at first was partly a trial of actions at law, and was regarded as a triumph of architecture. The foundations of the building are all of eight feet in solid masonry and the situation is a commanding one enabling old masonry building cannot to sweep approaches to the Canadian shore.

Dr. R. G. Large of Port Simpson is a visitor in the city, having arrived yesterday afternoon on his power cruiser Sunbeam II.

WHAT I MIGHT HAVE BEEN

As Told to Harold C. Berry
By WALTER JOHNSON

WALTER JOHNSON
"I wanted to be a rich man and raise dogs and horses."

There is one country boy who has learned city ways yet wants to go back to the farm. His name is Walter Johnson, one of the "greatest" pitchers who ever sent a ball smoking past a bat.

"But, baseball," he remarks jokingly, "sort of ruined me as a farmer. Still, if my family hadn't moved from Kansas to California while I was a boy I might not have been a baseball player at all," he continued. "Likely I'd still be a farmer."

Fortified by a fifteen-minute breakfast and leaning informally against the marble theatre ticket counter in the lobby of his road hotel—the Washington team being on tour—he, whom the baseball fans of the country have nicknamed Sir Walter out of respect, told of his boyhood that was largely hard work and very little play.

Johnson comes of raw-boned Swedish farming stock. He was born on a farm. His father before him was a farmer. When Walter Johnson was 10 he was driving a team of horses in the field, doing a grown man's work.

"I'd read of Matthewson, Lajoie and Cy Young," he says. "But there wasn't very much opportunity to play baseball myself."

It was mostly plowing a lonely furrow. "But I didn't mind the work," Johnson, whose iron arm on the pitching hill has been a byword ever since he broke into baseball, hastened to declare. "And I had my day in town at the circus or the county fair. One Fourth of July my father gave me a dime to spend. I made straight for the lemonade booth. I was so excited I forgot my change and didn't remember where I left it until a couple of hours later, when the sights were becoming exhausted. But the nickel was still on the counter."

The relief of striking opt. Lou Gehrig with the bases full was as nothing compared to that discovery.

The race restlessness that sent the hardy Johnson ancestors sailing westward over the seas to a new land magically called America drove young Walter's father farther west, out to the oil fields of California.

"Until my father went to California, taking us with him," Johnson resumed, "and I had entered high school and afterwards business college I didn't think of taking up baseball seriously. He used to ask me what I wanted to be, but before anything developed I started to play semipro ball around Tacoma."

Even then he didn't think he would stay in the sport very long. It was just after the San Francisco earthquake and everything was unsettled. But he made enough to commission his father—back home on a visit—to buy a farm in Kansas, and the lure of the game became too potent to let him go. That was twenty-one years ago last summer, and today Walter Johnson is still very much in the big leagues.

But the ingrained love of the soil remains robust. "If I were a rich man," he concluded wistfully, "and didn't have to work for a living, I'd like to raise dogs, horses and chickens." (Copyright by Public Ledger)

In The Letter Box

SKEENA RIVER REBELLION

Editor, Daily News.
I was interested in reading Rev. W. H. Pierce's letter in your issue of April 25, but he is slightly out in some of his dates and details in regard to what was called at the time "the Skeena Rebellion," following the shooting of Kit-naacool Jim.

The shooting of the Kitseguela medicine man occurred a little over forty years ago, not forty-two, by Jim. On complaint being made to the then Attorney-General, a party of special officers was dispatched from Victoria to the scene with a warrant for the arrest of the Indian. The party consisted of Constables Homans, Parker, Green and Loring, afterwards Indian agent at Hazelton. In attempting to arrest the Indian later at Kitwanga, he was shot by Constable Green while escaping to the woods in the early morning. The constables immediately started with him to the H.B.C. post at Hazelton and he expired in the canoe on the trip. The Indians all around the section immediately went on the war path and the constables and Chief Factor Clifford and his family were compelled to take to the fort and barricade themselves in with sand bags.

RELIEF FORCE

On receipt of the news in Victoria the Government immediately took steps to despatch a relief force. I was engaged at Nanaimo at the time at the Assize Court in connection with the Jva Bird and Miller & Dring murder cases, the perpetrators of which I had just brought to justice after a two year search in the then wilds of Knight and Kincaid Inlets. The Hon. Theo. Davie, a school mate of my own, then Attorney General wired me to come to Victoria at once. I immediately returned and organized a posse of thirty men, leaving Esquimalt on the 4th of June 1888 on H.M.S. Caroline, which had been placed at the disposal of the local authorities by the Admiralty, under command of Commander Hutchinson. C Battery of the Canadian Garrison Artillery, stationed at Victoria, were also ordered to proceed to the Skeena to overawe the Coast natives as there was a good deal of unrest amongst them owing to the recent Duncan troubles at Metlakatla.

UP THE SKEENA

I reached Port Essington with my force on June 6. It was very difficult to get any Indians to take a "trip" upriver but I finally succeeded in securing a captain and bowman for each of two three-ton Port Simpson canoes. As I had picked a number of men who were fairly good canoe men I required no more Indians. I was strongly advised by the late Robert Cunningham not to attempt the then bad stage of the river in the face of hostile Indians, but as I had been up against just as hard propositions before I determined to proceed and left Eslington on the 8th of June. After a desperately hard trip up river but without meeting any considerable opposition from the Indians we reached Hazelton at 9 a.m. on the 17th of the month, making the trip in nine days, which would have been considered a good trip at the best stage of water.

When we landed, the river bank was lined with Indians who, we afterwards learned, had made their boast that when we went into the H.B. fort they would keep us there as they had done Clifford and the constables. To their surprise I camped my men on the open flat below the Indian village.

GREAT COMMOOTION

That night there was a great commotion in the Indian town above us, accompanied by beating of tom-toms, firing of guns, etc., they evidently thinking this would frighten us into the fort, and I hourly expected an attack on our camp. Nothing further occurred however and the noise subsided about two a.m., it then being break of day.

Early in the morning I took some of my men up to the Indian camp and was rather surprised to find that most of the able bodied men had gone to the woods in different directions. As I had several warrants for the arrest of Indians for various offenses which had been committed over a considerable period of time I sent officers to various outlying camps to effect the arrests of the culprits. I eventually succeeded in clearing up the whole situation and returned south some weeks later without further incident, leaving Capt. Westlake, who had arrived in the meantime as Magistrate in charge, with Constables Homans and Parker as his aids. On my return to Victoria I made my report to the Government and was ordered to return to Skeena and organize the district, which I did, becoming the first gold commissioner and government agent for Skeena district.

GUN-A-NOOT CASE
Although conditions were very unsettled amongst the Indians for quite a while I had no further serious trouble until the murder of McIntosh and Le-Claire by Simon Gun-a-noot in 1903, with the particulars of which most of your readers are familiar. The news of this murder reached headquarters much more rapidly than on the former occasion, as in 1888 there was no telegraphic communication and only a mail service to Skeena once in from four to six weeks by steam schooner.

Incidentally I might observe that my trip on the "Caroline" was an eye opener to me of the ability of the British naval officer. Not a single officer on the vessel had ever been north of Comox, yet we made the trip from Esquimalt to the mouth of Skeena in forty hours, arriving there and anchoring at Cardena Bay at one in the morning. As there was no chart of the river the Navigating Lieutenant with a crew was despatched in the steam pinnace at two a.m. to survey and chart the river. He returned and piloted the vessel up to Eslington where we anchored at nine o'clock the same morning, eight hours after our arrival at Cardena Bay.

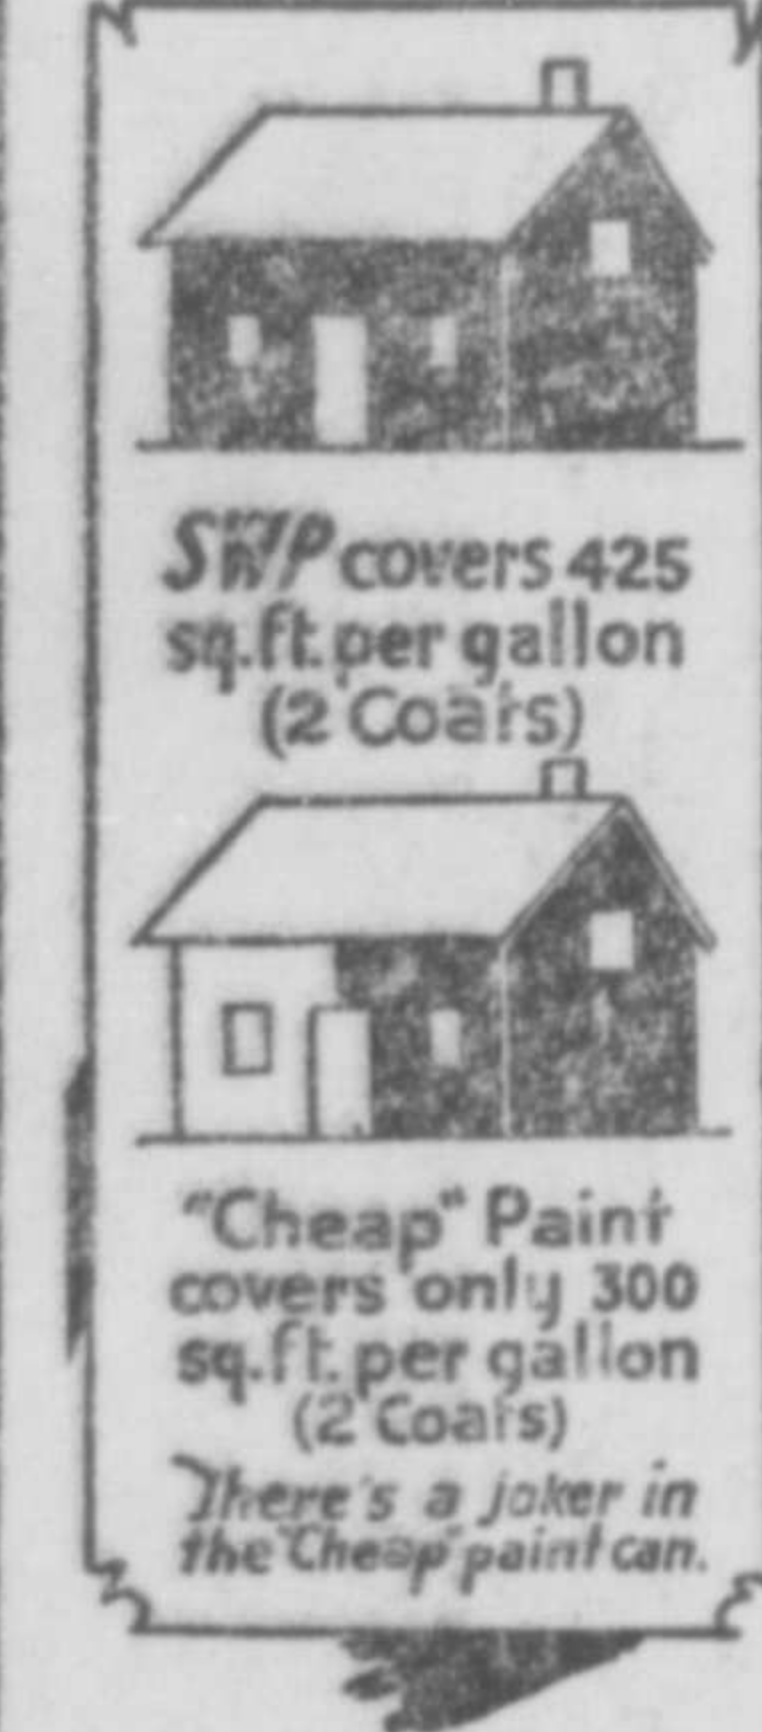

COST B.C. NOTHING

Mr. Pearce is wrong in his statement of the expense as H.M.S. Caroline and "C" Battery were both under pay in the regular service and cost the B.C.

Don't let the Joker hand you any Applesauce

BUY a so-called "cheap" paint and you'll get a good sized Joker in every can of it.
Maybe somebody assures you that this low-priced paint is just as good as SWP. That's just plain "applesauce." The "cheap" paint will not give you as beautiful a job, as durable a job, or as economical a job as SWP. It just can't do it.
There's a Joker in the "cheap" paint can.
The "cheap" paint isn't cheap at all. The low price per gallon is a delusion because many more gallons of it are needed. About one half the quantity of good old SWP will do the job. And when it's done with SWP it's done right. SWP will last longer and look better. It has the Quality that stands up to wear and weather. Long after the "cheap" paint job has gone—faded out—the SWP painted surface will be in good condition. No Joker here. No "applesauce." A little more per gallon in the first place but you won't need as many gallons. And you won't have to do the job all over again in a year or so as you will if you fall for the spurious economy of the low price paint.
Give the "cheap" paint joker a wide berth. Go to the store of the Sherwin-Williams dealer—"Paint Headquarters"—and get his advice on the work you contemplate. He'll tell you you how much SWP will do the job. He'll give you helpful advice and useful free literature, including copy of the Sherwin-Williams "Household Guide."

MY KITCHEN NOTEBOOK

by Mary Blake
Domestic Science Counselor

When Hungry Youngsters Come in from Play

You cannot wonder that they need fuel for their engines, when you see the amazing amount of energy they burn up in tireless play. But you look at the clock—it's near supper time. One mustn't spoil their appetites for the evening meal. Something simple and nourishing but not too heavy is what you want.

Why not suggest a chocolate or maple custard? You'll be rewarded not only by wide grins but by the comforting knowledge that they are getting their all important quota of milk in a disguise so pleasing that it is looked upon as a special treat.

Your Oven Temperature Decides the Success of Custards

Custards are so simple to make that one is apt to grow careless or hurried in the baking of them. The result is a watery custard, none too appetizing to look upon and even less appealing to eat. Baked in a slow oven—225°—until an inserted knife comes out clean, the resulting custard will be smooth, firm and creamy. For variety try chocolate, caramel, brown sugar and maple custards or combine them with fruits or with lady fingers. But the most important thing of all to remember in making custards of any variety is to use Carnation Milk.

The Creamiest, Smoothest Custards

If you want richer, creamier custards, custards with a finer texture and a greater smoothness—you'll never use anything but Carnation. There's very good reason for its exceptional success. The evaporation of Carnation to double richness gives a richer, creamier custard. The "homogenization" of the milk—a breaking-up of the cream globules into minute particles distributed uniformly throughout every drop of milk—creates a smoother, finer texture.

And what is true of custards is true of all other foods in which Carnation is used. Carnation gives in puddings, ice creams, cakes, soups, sauces and candies results which even the best of bottled milk cannot equal.

There are new food delights awaiting you in the use of Carnation Milk—new cooking economy and convenience. The Carnation Cook Book—"My Hundred Favorite Recipes"—is full of fascinating recipes. It's free. Won't you send for it? Address Carnation Milk Products Co., Limited, 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Carnation Caramel Custard

2 cups Carnation Milk diluted with 2 cups hot water, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt, 5 eggs, 1 tsp. vanilla. Caramelize sugar by melting over a flame, add to scalded diluted milk in double boiler; when sugar dissolves add to slightly beaten eggs; add salt and vanilla; pour into buttered cups; bake in 225°F. oven, in deep pan of hot water.

Use It In Custards

IT is easy to make the richest and creamiest of custards. Just use Carnation Milk—the creamy-smooth milk which insures better results in all cooking because it is pure, whole milk, evaporated to double richness. It keeps. It saves money.

THE STOMACH

The Stomach is that portion of the alimentary canal through which the human organism gets its nourishment. Therefore it is of the utmost importance to good health and long life that this organ should be in perfect working order.

The beginning of stomach trouble is so insidious that you are unaware of any disorder till an acute stage develops. If the stomach is giving any distress whatever, the rest of your organism is going to suffer in consequence, since a diseased stomach is incapable of rightfully fulfilling its important function in the chemical process necessary for pure nutritious assimilation.

My system of curing stomach disorders is ultra-modern and is achieved by natural methods.

Ball-Bearing Motors

The life of a motor is the life of its insulation. Hard brittle insulation, especially if oil soaked, sends motors to the repair shop or to the scrap pile. Fairbanks-Morse motors have insulation that will not harden and crack.

Fairbanks-Morse ball bearing motors require greasing only once a year and eliminate oil soaked windings, oil spotted products, oil slip on the floor and the cost of oil and oiling. Fairbanks-Morse motors have a liberal overload capacity and are now made in "fully enclosed" and "ventilated" types, which can operate safely in the foulest acid fumes and in extremely damp and dirty places.

WILL CONTINUE JUVENILE PART LOCAL LIBRARY

WISH OF PARENT-TEACHERS IS ACCDED TO AND EFFORT WILL BE MADE GET MORE MONEY

At the meeting of the Library Board last night it was decided to continue the juvenile section of the library for the present and make an effort to have next year's appropriations increased enough to cover the extra cost and also if necessary curtail on the adult sections. Some of the books will be sent away to be bound and later in the season a few new juvenile books will be purchased.

The action of the board followed a report of a committee which was waited on by a delegation from the Parent Teachers recently.

The secretary was asked to write to the school principals asking that attention be drawn in the schools to the need of taking better care of the books and it was reported that the Parent Teachers also would take the matter up and institute a campaign for better treatment of books.

President James Black and V. Bassett spoke strongly against the elimination of the children's section and the others members concurred.

SUMMARY OF CANAL PROJECT

CANADA'S POSITION IN REGARD TO HUGE WORK IS SET FORTH CLEARLY BY WRITER

MANY TRADE TREATIES OTTAWA MAN SPEAKS VERY HIGHLY OF THE LATE LAMENTED SIR HENRY DRAVTON, M.P.

(By R. J. Deichman)

OTTAWA, May 2.—The proposal now is that Canada should consider providing for the construction of that part of the St. Lawrence waterway in the section that is wholly Canadian, that is, the Welland Ship Canal and the works below the International boundary on the St. Lawrence. The Americans would proceed to the deepening of the canals on the upper lakes, including the Sault Canal. They would also construct the International section of the river between Lake Ontario and Cornwall. The suggestion of the Canadian government is that the Americans would proceed with the works of the Upper Lakes first in order to give further time for the study of the engineering problems involved. It would also give time for the development of a market in Canada of the amount of power that would be generated through the development of the canals. The Canadian government also urges that a 27 foot canal should be built instead of a 25 foot one. The main expense in construction of the Welland Canal has already been borne by the Canadian government. That has now to be finished and will, of course, form a part of this great interior waterway. The anticipated division of the cost of this work between the two countries is given by the engineers as follows:

THE TOTAL COSTS

Canada
Present works—St. Lawrence ship canal, $30,000,000; St. Lawrence and Welland canals, $50,000,000; lock at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, $5,560,000—$85,560,000.
Proposed works—Welland ship canal, $115,600,000; wholly Canadian section, St. Lawrence shipway, 27-foot navigation and development of 949,300 h.p., $199,370,000—$315,270,000.
Total for Canada—$400,830,000.
United States
Present works—Dredging St. Clair and Detroit rivers, $17,536,000; locks at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, $26,350,000—$43,886,000.
Proposed works—International section

St. Lawrence shipway, 27 foot navigation and initial development of 597,600 h.p., $182,157,000.

To complete development—Additional power, 1,602,000 h.p., $92,090,000; upper lake channels to 27 foot, $65,100,000—$339,347,000.

Total for United States—$353,193,000.

CORRESPONDENCE

In the correspondence, the Canadian government points out that our problem is not quite the same as the American. We have excellent railway facilities for handling the volume of traffic which we must handle. The canals as they are, serve quite a useful purpose. There is no immediate rush so far as the development of power is concerned. The American government is anxious to secure a solution of the problems in connection with the depressed condition of agriculture. They feel that the construction of the canal would afford that reduction in agricultural transportation costs so necessary to their existence. In the course of the correspondence, these facts are pointed out on behalf of the Canadian government, and the suggestion is made that lowering the tariff upon farm products entering the United States might be a matter worthy of consideration. Mean while, nothing much can be done until the questions involved in the ownership of the power produced are determined. Reference to this matter is to be made to the courts and that will postpone the consideration of the matter still further. Meanwhile, here will be ample time for the people of Canada to form opinions upon the issues involved. There isn't a doubt in the world that some day, ocean vessels will pass from Montreal to the head of the lakes. The seaboard will be at the east of the continent. It will bring about great commercial changes both in Canada and in the United States. The problem is sufficiently important to be worthy of careful consideration.

TRADE TREATIES

The House spent a delightful few hours in discussing certain treaties with some of the minor countries of Europe. We are to have trade agreements with Rumania, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Portugal, Rumania and the Serb Croatia and Slavonia Kingdom. These countries, as far as trade is concerned, are not particularly important. For instance, goods from Latvia, we imported in 1926, to the value of $400 or just about as much as the average woman, returning from a European trip, smuggles home under her skirts (provided they are not too short). About this whole matter, quite a storm raged. Mr. Bassett expressed alarm lest there could be cut, a channel or groove into which our trade would flow and flowing there for some time might then strike an interruption in the form of a higher tariff

PLAYERS' CLUB HELD MEETING

DANCE AND MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT FOLLOWED BUSINESS SESSION LAST NIGHT

Last night there was a meeting of the Prince Rupert Players' Club in their hall, Second Avenue, President Connors presiding and Miss Irene Baurassa, secretary. There was a good attendance including several new members and after the business part of the meeting dancing was enjoyed and refreshments served.

In addressing the club the president expressed confidence that the forthcoming production of "Are You a Mason?" would be a success and would be well up to the regular club standard.

Mr. Connors also announced that the club had been invited by the Gyro Club to put on a play for their playground fund. It was decided to accept the invitation and to open the new Alvaroff Theatre with a two-night show in September.

The president stated that the executive had made a present to the retiring secretary, Miss Vi Cameron, on her leaving the city. She had been the best secretary they had ever had and that was saying a good deal.

Music for the dance was provided by Miss Morrison and Jimmie Currie and during the evening there were vocal solos by Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Brocklesby, and D. E. Finn and a piano duet by Mrs. Fraser and Miss Lancaster.

VALUABLE DONATIONS TO LOCAL LIBRARY

Ladies' Music Club and Women's Canadian Club Thanked for Valuable Gifts

The library board last night at its regular meeting passed votes of thanks to the Women's Canadian Club for a donation of $25 to be used for the purchase of historical books and to the Ladies' Music Club for a valuable set of five new volumes of Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians.

Appreciation of the gifts was expressed by President Black. In each case it would mean valuable additions to the library.

CROWDS ATTENDING CATHOLIC SERVICES

The Catholic Church last night was again crowded to the doors with men and women anxious to hear this eloquent speaker. Every evening these services are being held but tomorrow there is to be a special sermon to non-Catholics.

W. H. Waldorf, after spending a couple of weeks in the city and district, sailed by the Catala last evening on his return to Vancouver.

"Oh, that was easy, I found it in the new B-H Booklet, 'Color Harmony in the Home.' It's a gold mine of lovely color schemes and it tells the right finish for every surface. I just can't stop until I've done the whole house and the paint man says that B-H 'English' Paint will last for years and years."

MANY BOOKS LOANED BY THE LIBRARY IN THE MONTH OF APRIL

At the regular meeting of the library board last night the librarian reported the total circulation of books for the month, 4,044 of which there were 2,599 volumes of fiction, 375 non-fiction, 869 juvenile, and 201 in the duplicate pay section. The average was 192, 4 daily.

While during the month there were 22 new borrowers 16 cards were cancelled leaving a net gain of 6.

A letter received by the librarian from W. O. Carson, head of the Public Library Commission of Ontario, advised against closing the juvenile section but urged that efforts be made to increase appropriation. In a city this size the annual expenditure for books should be approximately $1,400 and there should be an assistant to the librarian. With this expenditure and the extra service the library was likely to become run down.

Those present at the meeting were James Black, president, Geo. Wilkinson, H. F. Pullen, V. Bassett, G. G. Sutherland and the librarian.

GREAT MINDS.

Landlord—I intend to raise your rent next month.

Tenant—That's nice of you. I was just wondering how I was going to do it myself.

NEW FISHERIES PATROL VESSEL

NASOGA IS FIRST OF THESE NEW BOATS BUILT FOR DEPARTMENT DURING THE WINTER

The fine new fisheries patrol cruiser Nasoga, one of the three vessels built during the past winter for the department at Hoffer Beeching yard in Vancouver, is tied up at the fisheries floats here. Fresh off the stocks, she arrived here Monday night from the south with D. S. Cameron, fisheries officer for the central division, in charge. The vessel will be operated in District No. 2 this season and is now on her way to the Naas River.

A speedy and handsomely appointed craft, the Nasoga is 52 feet long with beam 11 feet and is powered with a 65 h.p. Thornycroft high-speed engine which gives her speed of 10 miles an hour. The vessel left Vancouver last Wednesday night and came up the coast by easy stages.

The Beldis, one of the Nasoga's sister ships, will also be operated in District No. 2 and will be coming up the coast soon. The Purcra, third of the three new boats, is assigned to District No. 3.

SHIPBUILDING SHOWS SLUMP

UNITED STATES SLIPS FROM EIGHTH PLACE TO TENTH; DENMARK, RUSSIA AND JAPAN MOVE AHEAD

There has been a decrease of nearly 250,000 gross tons in the volume of merchant vessels being constructed in shipyards of the world since the opening of the year, according to a statement by Lloyd's Register of Shipping, covering returns from all maritime countries for the quarter ending March 31.

This is the first time there has been a decrease shown in the quarterly returns since September, 1926. The Register points out. In comparison with the 928 figure, however, which was 1,800,000 gross tons, the total March 31 shows an increase of 1,043,000 tons. The present aggregate, though, is nearly 270,000 tons below the level June 30, 1914, just prior to the war.

A sharp decline since the first of the year is shown by the returns for the shipyards of the United States, only 56,000 gross tons of merchant vessels on which work has been begun being reported at the end of March, compared with 97,000 tons at the opening of the year. As a result, the United States, which then ranked eighth in the volume of production, now stands tenth, both Russia and Japan having passed her in the period under review.

TERRACE, May 2.—A large quantity of logging equipment has arrived here for the E. D. Judson Pole, Pile & Timber Co. of Vancouver and will be transferred to the Kalum Lake district where timber operations will be started as soon as possible.

Mr. Judson is at present in Terrace and has rented the home of Mrs. O. T. Sandal, south of the track. He expects to move his family here in a few weeks' time.

ALICE ARM

Dr. H. T. James, resident mining engineer, Prince Rupert, visited the camp last week and inspected the Silver Cord, Esperanza and Wolf mines.

W. G. McMorris, president of the Kitsault-Eagle Silver Mines, Ltd., returned south last week after having spent ten days at the Silver Cord property. He stated that the tonnage of ore developed at the property was fully up to expectations and that, as soon as the snow was off the ground, mining equipment and supplies would be taken in and the working force considerably increased. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor plant as early in the summer as possible and present plans call for a further three thousand feet of tunnel work. Mr. McMorris has great faith in the future of this camp and he expects a big expansion in the mining industry here very soon.

Burt Burtelson was in town last week from the North Star mine.

Canon W. F. Rushbrook conducted Sunday school and evening service in the local Anglican Church on Sunday.

Rev. Father Chamagne, O.M.I. of Anyox, conducted early Mass and evening service here at the home of Stephen Dumas last Wednesday.

G. W. Bruggy, who returned to Alice Arm last week after spending the winter in the south, states that negotiations are being carried on with English capitalists with a view to have them send in engineers to examine the Beach Molybdenum property located about three miles down the inlet from Alice Arm.

TERRACE

R. S. McGill, Vancouver, was a business visitor here at the week end.

Lawrence Greig returned home on Sunday from Saskatoon where he has been attending university during the past year.

James Coop of Abbotsford, B.C. is at present a guest of Michaud Bros. in the Lakelse Valley. Mr. Coop expects to locate here.

Gain Freedom from Perspiration Odour from Bath to Bath

WHAT a simple, delightful way to avoid the unnecessary social error of perspiration odour . . . to refresh one's skin from top to toe regularly, in a bath with the cleansing, blandly antiseptic lather of Lifebuoy Soap.

Perspiration is natural . . . even healthful. Physicians say the average human body exudes from one to two pints of moisture daily in the form of perspiration.

But, this moisture need not be offensive. Lifebuoy Soap in the bath opens the pores and cleanses and purifies them, keeps them sweet and breathing. Lifebuoy Soap gives you cleanliness that no other soap can give. . . . antiseptic cleanliness.

And this advantage costs you nothing extra because Lifebuoy Soap—a pure toilet soap for face, hands and bath—sells at a popular price.

You'll never know how truly delightful a bath can be until you try Lifebuoy.

You Perspire in both Winter and Summer

Perspiration is not caused by warm weather, exercise, or heavy clothing alone.

Joy, fear, or any emotion increases the flow of moisture through the pores of the skin. To keep well, drink lots of water, perspire freely—and prevent perspiration odour by using Lifebuoy Soap.

PAY SECTION OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY HAS BEEN QUITE SUCCESS

At the meeting of the Library Board last night Miss Cruickshank, librarian, reported that to date the cost of the pay section of the library had been $110.63 and the income from it $73.35. Over fifty books were in circulation in this section and it was well patronized. Members of the board expressed satisfaction with the experiment. It was clear from the figures submitted that it would be self-sustaining.

Laundry Washed Clothes Are Not Rubbed

YOU know how you douse your dainty lingerie up and down in a bowl of sudsy water... that's the way your clothes are washed in a modern laundry. They are not rubbed or scrubbed but are gently swished back and forth in warm filtered rainsoft water until the pure soap actually foams. Every particle of dirt is loosened without unduly lessening the tensile strength of the fabric. Then come many rinses of rainsoft water so that your laundry washed clothes not only look and feel clean but are scientifically clean.

SPORT CHAT

Supporters of baseball in Anyox have elected the following officers for the coming year: president, Ed Waterman; vice-president, A. Pynn; secretary-treasurer, Dick Manning; arbitration board, Messrs. Maxwell, Healy, McNicholas, McIntyre, Bassett and Murray. The full support of the Community League for baseball in Anyox this season has been promised. The Elks' Club has offered the use of a complete set of equipment providing one team will take the name of the Brother Bills. Three clubs have signified their intention of entering the league. The Concentrators and Mechanics have teams while the Mine is scouting for a battery.

For the first time in two years, football will be played again this season in Prince George. A revival in soccer at the interior town is due as a result of the launching of the Canadian National Athletic and Social Association which will foster the game in addition to other sports. There will be three teams in the league—the Canadian National, of which Jack Clapperton, son of Doc Clapperton of Prince Rupert, is manager; a team to be known as the City eleven, and the Cubs. For the past two years, the Perry Cup, significant of central interior football championship, has rested in McBride which will again defend it this year.

Fans will have a good opportunity to take in a Junior Football League game this evening when the High School meet Booth School on the Acropolis Hill at 6:45. These teams were tied for first place at the end of the autumn series but, since then, the High School has gained a two point lead and Booth is very anxious to share honors with it again. The High School will be represented by: Doug. Scott, Stiles, Tom Kelsey, Bishop Thurber, Fred Cameron, Archie Thompson, Roy Wicks, Bill Fisher, Walter Johnson, Clouston Johnson, Roy Morrison. Reserve: Porter and Larkin. The Booth School will be represented by: James McKay, Rudolph Nelson, Mike Colussi, Melville Forbes, Reg. Collison (Capt.), Robert Gilker, Alex. Walters, Henry Dickson, Tony Bussanich, Oscar Wingham, Billy Bacon. Reserve: James Wood, Bert Cameron, Roy Thomas, Roy Franks, Aubrey Ivarson.

THIS WORLD

A little rain, a little sun,
A little shore where ripples run,
A little green upon the hill,
A little glade, a little rill,
A little day with skies above,
A little night where shadows move,
A little play for men to do,
A little play for such as you;
A passing night, a coming morn,
A coming love, a passing scorn,
Or blackest cloud a little bit,
With silver on the rim of it;
A little trouble, lots of joy—
And there you have a world, my boy,
—Douglas L. Durkin.

THE BLACK LIST

Policeman—Sir, this man is arrested for gambling and being drunk.
Accused—Your Worship, man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn. I'm not as debased as Swift, as profligate as Byron, as disipated as Poe, or as debauched as—
County Magistrate—That will do. Thirty days, and, officer, take a list of those names and run them in; they're as bad as he is.—The Royal.
