VANCOUVER POLICE PROBE CONTINUES

SCOPE OF INQUIRY ENLARGED TO INCLUDE COMMISSION

Owner of Keefer Street House Tells Constable That He Runs Police and Complains to Mayor

That is the evidence of constable Thompson in inquiry proceeding at Vancouver, scope of which is being widened

VANCOUVER, May 3.—Action to widen the scope of the police inquiry to include administration of the police force by the police commissioners was taken yesterday by the city council. That he had been told by Detective Sergeant to tell Constable W. O. Thompson to go easy in Chinatown or he would get into trouble was related on the witness stand by Sergeant Tuning.

Constable Thompson on the stand said: "Joe Celoni operated at 210 Keefer Street. I stopped people from going in all I could and hurt their business. I was met a short time later by Celoni, who asked why I was riding his place. He said he was the owner of the place and ran the police and bet he would have me run off my beat. Then next night I was told by Deputy Chief Leatherdale that the owner of 210 Keefer Street had complained to the mayor that I was riding his place. I asked if I had orders to lay off his place. He said 'No, but to use discretion.'"

POLICE KEPT FROM ANNOYING

EVIDENCE SAYS CHIEF LONG TOLD ROBERTSON TO KEEP MEN AWAY FROM HOUSE

VANCOUVER, May 3.—John Robertson, the police sergeant who was discharged last week, at the police probe yesterday testified that Chief Long had ordered him to keep his men away from Joe Celoni's, the alleged Union Street disorderly house, as Celoni had been complaining to the mayor of being annoyed by the police.

Robertson declared the disorderly house and gambling houses had been running wide open during the past two years.

TRYING SECURE BRITISH HERE

FOUR TIMES AS MUCH SPENT IN BRITAIN AS IN OTHER COUNTRIES COMBINED

WINNIPEG, May 3.—The C.N.R. is spending four times as much money and effort in an endeavor to secure British immigrants for Canada as they are spending on all other types combined, according to Dr. W. J. Black, director of colonization and agriculture for the system, who arrived in Winnipeg last night with vice-president Robb. In spite of this expenditure it is only with difficulty that the right type of British immigrant can be secured. Black said, while immigration from foreign countries was flourishing with scarcely any effort on the part of the railway company to foster it.

TRAGEDY OCCURRED THIS MORNING IN MONTREAL WHEN THREE CHILDREN LOST THEIR LIVES

MONTREAL, May 3.—Three children, Charles, aged 3, Madeline 7, and Gilbert 9, lost their lives in a fire which badly damaged the home of Alfred Desbais here this morning while the parents were absent.

BYRNES-DROPS OUT BUT BENNY WENDLE ADDED TO FIGHTERS

It looks now as if there would be a big card in addition to the main bout at the fight event this evening at the exhibition building. Ned Byrne has hurt himself and has had to drop out so the Byrnes-Bard bout will not be on the program but, in place of it, Benny Wendle will meet George Mathison of Port Simpson. Benny is going south tonight but he will do his bit before he goes.

The management says it expects to have another interesting preliminary, making a long list altogether.

Thousand Yelping Malamutes Head Rush to Scene of Beaver Trapping Near Cook's Inlet, Alaska, When Season Opened May Day

SEWARD, May 3.—With a thousand malamutes yelping and tugging at the traces and with mukluks and snowshoes, 265 men and women stampeded on May Day to Clark's Lake with beaver, not gold, as their hope.

The rush started at Iliamna on Cook's Inlet where the stampedees gathered to await the hour at which they might start for Clark's Lake, which was thrown open on May 1 for 30 days for beaver trapping. Each person can trap 20 beaver during the thirty days, after which the district will be closed for an indefinite period.

Trappers from all parts of Alaska participated in the stampede.

CHIEF MAGISTRATES THROUGHOUT CANADA

Book Shortly to be Published as a Sort of Municipal Who's Who

A most interesting biographical record of the Mayors of Canada will shortly be published, and just such a work of reference has been needed in every newspaper office in Canada.

There are a few mayors who realize how important they are in the eyes of the public, as chief magistrate of their community, but there are many who are also primarily interested in home affairs only, and do not take the interest in national questions that they should.

From one end of Canada to the other there are no less than 4,300 mayors or Reeves, apart from the deputy mayors and Reeves, and the members of councils. These men represent the head of municipal government of 4,300 communities, and of elected and appointed officials there are probably nearly 50,000 men engaged. It will be seen that municipal government in Canada is a very important matter, and the expenditures of Canadian communities exceed that of our governments, railways or other large bodies.

It will be seen that the forthcoming edition of "Municipal Who's Who in Canada," is covering an enormous field, in chronicling the mayors and their achievements in office. It will be of the greatest interest as it will present to the reader a true picture in a de luxe form of the chief magistracies.

Report of President Beatty of C.P.R. Shows Operations Last Year Not Very Satisfactory

Decrease in Rates and Increase in Wages Have Inevitable Effect: Earnings This Year are Increasing

MONTREAL, May 3.—"The results of the year's operations accurately reflect conditions which prevailed during that period and, viewed from the standpoint of sufficient margin of net earnings after charges and dividends, they cannot be considered entirely satisfactory," E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific, said yesterday, in addressing the annual meeting of shareholders.

"The decrease in rates and the increase in wages had the inevitable effect upon the earnings of the company and in addition expenditures of equipment and maintenance of way were substantial.

"Gross earnings for the first three months of this year increased $3,864,500 and the net earnings were $1,651,000. If the same relative increase is maintained for the rest of the year, the surplus after charges will be able to take charges of the increased dividend requirements for the year," the president said.

EGYPTIAN SITUATION

The Egyptian problem has solved itself. Britain's quick move brought the rulers of that country to their senses and the obnoxious bill it was proposed to pass is set over to autumn, probably never to be revived.

If Britain had had no warships she might have whistled for any support she would have got from the Egyptians. Reason is nothing to them. All they understand is a display of strength. That is the greatest of all arguments against total disarmament. At the present stage of development it would be impossible.

SELLING BOGUS STOCK

Men in Vancouver who sold bogus stock and cheated people out of their hard earned savings will have a chance to cool their heels in the penitentiary for a few years. They were sentenced Tuesday.

While we know nothing of the particular case for which these men are to suffer, we are strongly of opinion that the public must be protected in matters of the kind. The broker or promoter who deliberately sells stock known to be worthless is a danger to the community.

We have seen a lot of stock selling by high pressure salesmen in Prince Rupert. We have several times warned local people about buying stock on the recommendation only of a salesman and we take this opportunity of again suggesting that the man or woman who does it is very foolish. Discuss the matter of investment with the banker or broker, choosing a well known local man of repute. Then the investor is likely to get returns for his money. To put it into wonderphone or some other concern of doubtful value is very foolish.

BORROWING BOOKS

On the subject of "Book Borrowing" The London Times has a lengthy editorial in which it says, in part: The brilliant suggestion made by a correspondent that there should be a National Day set apart for the return of borrowed books has been followed by more letters from lenders than from borrowers, though borrowers are the gibber race. But the great army of borrowers may take heart from the thought that numbers are on their side, and that it is they who really represent the national attitude.

We are a nation of bookborrowers and take for granted facilities for borrowing, with or without payment, as essential if we are to read at all. Borrowing is easy work, and what is lightly borrowed is not so lightly read, and is not returned because it has not yet been read. There is thus a double obstacle to be overcome—the difficulty which applies equally to all other borrowed things of making the effort to return them, and the difficulty special to books that they have first got to be read. To encourage the weak flesh to make this effort and to assist the imagination of borrowers, a Patron Saint as well as a National Day has been suggested.

But though a National Day were appointed, the friction would still continue, for there are few deeper divisions between men than their division over books. There are men whose only care is to find out what is inside the book and get inside it themselves, who do not mind about print or paper or whether there is a cover or not, or whether there is a legal owner of these external things. And there are bookowners who are collectors and would be happier collecting candlesticks or china; their desire is for clean and beautiful objects, for fine binding and printing that are art, or even for symmetrical shelves. For all these men it is a hardship and a puzzle that their friends, who would never have the effrontery to borrow the adornment of their mantelpiece or take away their pictures for a few weeks or months, will go off with armloads of their books, and that it is for some obscure but profound reason curmudge only to refuse to lend a book. A higher and more delicate standard is expected from the owners of books than from the owners of garden rollers. It is churlish to refuse a book which may change the borrower's whole life, when that life might profitably be changed, and it is churlish to refuse one book, or an armful of books, from fat shelves.

After all, books are meant to be read, not preserved spotlessly behind glass till they are out of date or unwanted or in powder; and it is not good for them to stay too long on the same shelf instead of circulating about the world.

CANADIAN CLUB MET YESTERDAY

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATION FAILS TO ELECT NEW PRESIDENT BUT OTHER OFFICERS CHOSEN

SPLENDID REPORTS
 LARGE NUMBER ATTEND ANNUAL GATHERING BUT LADIES BACKWARD IN SERVING

At the annual meeting of the Women's Canadian Club held in City Hall last evening, Mrs. George Woodland presiding, officers for the coming year were elected with the exception of president and this was left for the executive to fill. Several ladies were nominated but all refused. The new officers were as follows:

- 1st Vice-president—Mrs. Blott.
- 2nd Vice-president—Mrs. Johns.
- Secretary—Miss Rivett.
- Assistant Secretary—Mrs. Mills.
- Treasurer—Miss Mitchell.
- Assistant Treasurer—Mrs. Patmore.
- Executive—Mrs. Friezell, Mrs. Joe O'Leary and Mrs. Blance.

The retiring president thanked the members for their support during the year and then called on the secretary to read the report on the activities for the past year which she did as follows:

THE REPORT

During this last year we have done our best to live up to the excellent standard of former years. We have had some interesting speakers with a wide range of topics and our membership has increased steadily all through the year.

On June 4, 1927, the club was addressed by Sir Archibald Macdonell, G.O.C., of the Canadian Division, at a luncheon at the Boston Hall. There was quite a large attendance at this meeting to which husbands of the members were invited and also men of the 1st Canadian Division who were living in Prince Rupert. After the luncheon, Sir Archibald addressed the meeting taking for his subject, "The Royal Northwest Mounted Police." This speaker was sent us by the Association of Canadian Clubs.

On October 4, 1927, Harlan I Smith of the Dominion Archeological Research Society addressed the club at a tea in the Commodore Cafe, his topic being "Research."

At luncheon of December 10, 1927, at the Commodore Cafe, the Hon. T. D. Ataulfo, minister of lands for British Columbia gave an interesting talk on "Immigration."

HEAR ABOUT CHINA

On January 20, 1928, the members of the club had the pleasure of listening to Miss Robins on "Present Day Conditions in China," of which she had first-hand knowledge, being on furlough from her missionary and scholastic duties in Honan, China. There was a good attendance of members at this meeting and Miss Robins' talk was extremely interesting and formed one of the outstanding addresses listened to by the club this year. Tea was served and members availed themselves of the opportunity to meet the speaker.

On February 25, 1928, D. B. Finn was the guest of honor at a tea in the Commodore Cafe. Mr. Finn is in charge of the Government Fisheries Experimental Station located here in Prince Rupert and he gave us an interesting speech on the valuable research work of his station.

On Saturday, April 27, 1928, we were fortunate in obtaining Harold MacCracken, director of the Stoll-MacCracken exploration party to Alaska. Mr. MacCracken told the club of the purpose of the expedition and described the work of each member of the party and also his own personal interest in the bears of the locality. He described many incidents which occurred during his work of filming these bears in their natural haunts and promised to address the club on his return next November, when he should have many more interesting things to relate. Seventy-two members were present and tea was served.

At all our social meetings, our president, Mrs. Woodland, was in the chair and she has proved a very able president.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

This year, as last, we were affiliated with the National Association of Canadian Clubs and were frequently in touch with them by letter, but, owing to our somewhat isolated geographical position they were only able to send us one speaker. The year was marked by the issue of the official magazine of the National Association of Canadian Clubs which is entitled "The Canadian Edition." It is to be issued four times a year and the first number has already been sent to all members who were in good standing by December 31, 1927. It is a somewhat modest little production and has for its object the fostering of the Canadian Club ideal in promoting Canadian interest in Canada.

In January of this year we were asked by the Prince Rupert Branch of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League for our support in their effort towards establishing a cenotaph in memory of the men in the Great War. The Executive felt that such an object was particularly worthy of our support and a cheque for $75 was donated to the cenotaph fund.

The executive also decided to add to the shelf of Canadian literature in the local library, which was begun by the club last year and a cheque for $25 was handed to the library secretary for the purchase of books.

Nine executive meetings have been held during the year with an average attendance of seven members. One general meeting was held on April 4, 1928, for the nominating of officers for the year 1928-9.

MANY MEMBERS
 Twenty-nine new members joined during the year making a total of 126 paid-up members. Quite a number have left the city during the year, but we are adding new members all the time—six were added last Saturday and their membership begins today, at this meeting.

Thirty-eight letters have been written during the year, 125 postcards were addressed and 156 were written and addressed, both. New books were purchased by the club for the secretary and treasurer. Our treasurer is to be congratulated on the businesslike way in which she managed our finances.

The members of the executive have supported the president and officers very loyally and harmoniously and I think I can say that our club is in a very healthy condition.

FEAR OUTBREAK OF COMMUNISTS

OFFICIAL FROM SHANGHAI TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN THAT CITY WHEN HE LEFT

VICTORIA, May 3. — Shanghai lives under the constant threat of a Communist outbreak, according to W. J. Furness, electrical engineer for the Shanghai municipal council who arrived here from the Orient aboard the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Arizona Maru.

"It was rumored the Communists were going to start making trouble two weeks after we sailed," Mr. Furness said, asking whether any word of an outbreak had been received here.

"On being told that no news of disorder in Shanghai had been cabled to this continent recently, Mr. Furness declared that there was not much likelihood of trouble unless the city were overrun by the rabble of a defeated Chinese army.

The Communists were kept under strict surveillance and control by the authorities, he said. Danger from them would only arise in the event of turmoil following an attempt of a Chinese general to seek refuge in the city with his army after defeat in the field. Such turmoil as might be expected would provide the Communists with an opportunity to break out of control. There was not much real likelihood of such disorder, Mr. Furness thought.

COMMENTS ON WAR

Commenting on the recent successes of the Southern cause in China, Mr. Furness said:

"It is a question whether the Southerners would run the country any better than the Northerners if they did get control of Peking. Of course, we foreigners in China think the only solution to the problem is foreign intervention. Many of the better class of Chinese would welcome intervention. The Chinese is essentially a business man, a man of commerce. All he wants is the opportunity to conduct his business in peace and quiet. If it were not for politics and inefficient government, he could, foreign intervention would open up the ports of the country to increased commerce."

JUNIOR SOCCER LAST EVENING

HIGH SCHOOL WON FROM BOOTH FOUR TO ONE IN WELL CONTESTED MATCH

The regular Junior Football League fixture between High School and Booth last evening resulted in a win for High School 4-1. The game was keenly contested all the way through, play was fast and at all times exciting. High were valiant for their win but the score is not a fair indication of the difference between the teams.

Booth had nearly as much of the game as High, and were dangerous to the end. High played up-hill and Booth attacked. Kelsey relieved and at the other end Colucci cleared. High were lucky to clear following a run by Walters. Walters was again dangerous. Then McKay held a dangerous high shot from Stiles in a safe manner. Dickens threatened. At this time Booth were pressing but Stiles and Kelsey were very safe. Porter cleared. High now attacked but shot weakly. Fisher missed a good chance. Dickens was in the picture again and with Bacon and Walters kept High defense busy. Then with a long shot Dickens put Booth on goal.

With the advantage of the hill and of the wind which also turned round High soon made things warm for Booth defense. Cleuston Johnston shot past. Walters got away but was stopped. McKay saved splendidly from Cameron and Wicks. Then Thurber made scores level. It was now High's game and Kelsey put them ahead. The strong kicking of High School told on Booth and Cameron added a third. Booth now got back to their game and their forwards made headway. Walters made several clever runs. Dickens and Busanek combined but Bacon threw away a good chance. Cameron was again through and High had four goals. From now on Booth pressed and raided strongly but could not score and High ran out winners.

SPORT CHAT

For the winners Kelsey, Stiles, Thurber, Cameron and C. Johnston were best. Booth were best served by Dickens, R. Nelson, Gilker, Walters, Colucci and McKay.

Jack Campbell refereed and D'Arcy Marsh and Bobbie Irvine were on the line.

There was a good turn out of spectators and they were all very favorably impressed by the promising play of the juniors.

High School meet Borden on Saturday next at 2:30.

SPORT CHAT

There should be something doing very soon in the matter of local baseball organization if this line of sport is not to go by the board this summer which would be a regrettable eventuality. Even though there should be but a two team league which is not a very encouraging state of affairs as far as interest is concerned, it is important that the players should be kept in form in case there should be any inter-town matches as is usually the case. The holding of the league series seems to be about the only means of meeting this need. It is not usually an easy matter to cause players to practice just for the sake love of the game. The league season usually opens about May 24. If this is to be done this year, the annual meeting of the Association will have to be called soon so that organization may be got under way. Prospects are that if baseball is played at all this summer there will be but two teams—probably the Gyro Club and the Native Sons of Canada.

In spite of the fact that there will be little of the "home town boy" sentiment prevalent, it looks as though the ten round boxing bout in the Exhibition Hall tonight between Jimmy McDonald, late of Vancouver, and Alf Harding of Calgary is going to draw a large crowd. Considerable interest is being taken in the engagement as might be witnessed from the crowds of fans that have regularly attended the workouts. And it promises to be a well contested battle with McDonald's skill setting off the courage and aggressiveness of Harding. But probably the semi-final between Ned Byrne and George Bard is going to vie with the main event for general interest in the card. This is the first time Byrne, who recently underwent some training in the south, will have been seen in action. No better opponent could have been selected for him than the promising and wiry Bard. Four good preliminaries will round off an attractive program.

- P. Laporte has been named referee and the judges, who will participate in making the decision, will be Johnny May and Bert Morgan. The full card will be as follows:
- 1.—Tod Morgan vs. Herbie Keeffe.
  - 2.—Billy Murray vs. Curly Donald.
  - 3.—Mina Gurvich vs. Billy Mulhern.
  - 4.—Louis Peacock vs. Jack Holroyd.
  - 5.—Ned Byrne vs. George Bard.
  - 6.—Jimmy McDonald vs. Alf Harding.

BROOKLYN IS AGAIN BEATEN

NEW YORK YANKEES MENACED BY CLEVELAND AND GIANTS BY CINCINNATI REDS

(Special to Daily News)

NEW YORK, May 3.—The New York Giants continued their victorious swing yesterday and further dashed the National League pennant hopes of the Brooklyn Dodgers by defeating the men across the river to one in a spirited contest. Cincinnati Reds are now menacing the supremacy of the Giants as a result of a 6 to 4 victory over St. Louis Cardinals. The Robins, Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates are all even in third place with eight victories and eight losses each.

In the American League, the leading New York Yankees were taken into camp by the Washington Senators with a score of nine to five. The Cleveland Indians are still runners-up though they lost yesterday to the fourth place St. Louis Browns.

Yesterday's scores were as follows:

The University of B.C. is out after the Canadian basketball championship. This week they are journeying to Edmonton and on Saturday will play the Commercial Grads of that city. Following their victory over Toronto Lakesides, the Grads are said to be very confident they will not lose out to the students on the coast, but the U.B.C. girls also have their eyes glued to the silverware and it is said have made special arrangements to carry back the trophy with them.

Kid Roy in his fight with Pete Zivie the other day had but a small margin on points and it is suggested there may be no margin at all when he meets Vic Foley of Vancouver.

Alberta is making pretty good use of her lakes. She has a Yachting Association and races are held every summer which are keenly contested. Also there are city yacht clubs in the large centres.

MY KITCHEN NOTEBOOK

by Mary Blake Domestic Science Counselor

When Hungry Youngsters Come in from Play

You cannot wonder that they need fuel for their engines, when you see the amazing amount of energy they burn up in tireless play. But you look at the clock—it's near supper time. One mustn't spoil their appetites for the evening meal. Something simple and nourishing but not too heavy is what you want.

Why not suggest a chocolate or maple custard? You'll be rewarded not only by wide grins but by the comforting knowledge that they are getting their important quota of milk in a disguise so pleasing that it is looked upon as a special treat.

Your Oven Temperature Decides the Success of Custards

Custards are so simple to make that one is apt to grow careless or hurried in the baking of them. The result is a watery custard, none too appetizing to look upon and even less appetizing to eat. Baked in a slow oven—225°—until an inserted knife comes out clean, the resulting custard will be smooth, firm and creamy. For variety try chocolate, caramel, brown sugar and maple custards or combine them with fruits or with lady fingers. But the most important thing of all to remember in making custards of any variety is to use Carnation Milk.

The Creamiest, Smoothest Custards

If you want richer, creamier custards, custards with a finer texture and a greater smoothness—you'll never use anything but Carnation. There's very good reason for its exceptional success. The evaporation of Carnation to double richness gives a richer, creamier custard. The "homogenization" of the milk—a breaking-up of the cream globules into minute particles distributed uniformly throughout every drop of milk—creates a smoother, finer texture.

And what is true of custards is true of all other foods in which Carnation is used. Carnation gives in puddings, ice creams, cakes, soups, sauces and candies results which even the best of bottled milk cannot equal.

There are new food delights awaiting you in the use of Carnation Milk—new cooking economy and convenience. The Carnation Cook Book—"My Hundred Favorite Recipes"—is full of fascinating recipes. It's free. Won't you send for it? Address Carnation Milk Products Co., Limited, 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Carnation Caramel Custard

2 cups Carnation Milk diluted with 2 cups hot water, ½ cup sugar, ½ tsp. salt, 5 eggs, 1 tsp. vanilla. Caramelize sugar by melting over a flame, add to scalded diluted milk in double boiler; when sugar dissolves add to slightly beaten eggs; add salt and vanilla; pour into buttered cups; bake in 225°F. oven, in deep pan of hot water.

Use It In Custards

IT is easy to make the richest and creamiest of custards. Just use Carnation Milk—the creamy-smooth milk which insures better results in all cooking because it is pure, whole milk, evaporated to double richness. It keeps. It saves money. (See recipe above)

Laundry Washed Clothes Are Not Rubbed

YOU know how you douse your dainty lingerie up and down in a bowl of sudsy water... that's the way your clothes are washed in a modern laundry. They are not rubbed or scrubbed but are gently swished back and forth in warm filtered rainsoft water until the pure soap actually foams. Every particle of dirt is loosened without unduly lessening the tensile strength of the fabric. Then come many rinses of rainsoft water so that your laundry washed clothes not only look and feel clean but are scientifically clean.

TELLS ABOUT MOSQUITOES

EXPERTS GIVE INTERESTING INFORMATION ABOUT TINY PESTS IN CANADA

SEVERAL VARIETIES

Feed on Vegetable Matter But Like an Occasional Diet of Blood

During the warm months of the year mosquitoes are often a serious pest in Canada, over widespread areas, not only in rural and forested sections, but also in urban localities says an article on the subject published officially. About sixty species representing several genera are known to occur in the Dominion, and a considerable portion of them attack warm-blooded animals and man.

THE LIFE HISTORY

In common with many other insects, mosquitoes pass through four distinct life-stages known as the egg, larva, pupa and adult. The eggs, of which one female may lay several hundreds, are deposited on water or moist places and hatch under suitable conditions, into tiny active larvae commonly known as "wrigglers." The larvae feed on minute forms of animal and vegetable life, and decaying organic matter in the water. They breathe principally through a tube-shaped apparatus at the end of the body with which they pierce the surface of the water at frequent intervals. On reaching full growth, the larva transform into the pupal stage. The pupa, which is somewhat similar in shape to a large-headed comma, does not feed, but is capable of moving actively in the water, and breathes through two trumpet-shaped organs on the thorax, which it applies to the surface of the water. While in this stage, the insect transforms within the pupal

Poor Stomach? Dyspepsia?

"Fruit-a-tives" the Sure Remedy

MRS. O. MONETTE.

Montreal, Que.—I hardly dared take 'Fruit-a-tives', fearing my dyspepsia wouldn't vanish, but finally took two boxes. Now I eat well and recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to all my friends as the best remedy for dyspepsia.

—Mrs. O. Monette.

Mrs. Monette's grateful and honest letter proves that "Fruit-a-tives" quickly ends indigestion. For nearly thirty years this wonderful medicine, a combination of intensified fresh fruit juices and tonics, has been stimulating lazy stomachs, bowels and livers in a gentle, natural way. Get a box and try it. 25c and 50c at all druggists skin into the winged adult. When the adult is ready to emerge, air is taken into the pupal case, causing it to float. The skin then splits along the upper surface and the mosquito makes its exit, resting on the water or nearby vegetation until ready to fly away.

The life of a mosquito in its aquatic stages varies considerably, depending on the species, temperature and other conditions, and may be as short as one week or as long as one month or even six weeks. It is during these stages that mosquitoes are most vulnerable to attack. Adult mosquitoes live from a few days to several weeks. Both sexes feed on plant juices, but the females of the majority of our species also drink blood. They attack not only man, but also other warm-blooded animals, including poultry and other birds. A blood meal is not essential to the life of a mosquito, but in most species, appears to be necessary for the proper development of the eggs.

ferent species are dominant, and as the duration of the life-stages, the habits, and breeding places of mosquitoes vary considerably, it is of importance, in outlining control measures, to know the species involved. Some species may migrate several miles; others remain in the vicinity of their breeding pools. Some mosquitoes inhabit open prairies and others do not venture from the shelter of deep woods. Some are persistent in entering houses and others are never to be found indoors; some bite in the daytime, and others at night.

Our most common species belong to the genus Aedes and have only one generation each year. They breed largely in temporary bodies of water such as snow and rain pools and river-flooded areas and lay their eggs in summer, usually in moist situations left by receding flood-waters and drying pools. The eggs remain unhatched throughout the summer and winter months, and in most species do not hatch until spring. In the spring the transient pools of field and woodland, and areas temporarily flooded by rising river waters teem with developing larvae and pupae, giving rise in early summer to hordes of blood-thirsty mosquitoes which haunt the countryside during the summer months.

Several species which belong to the genera Culex, Theobaldia, and Anopheles, usually of comparatively minor importance in Canada, have more than one generation in a year, and pass the winter as winged adults, hibernating in protected situations such as in cellars, outhouses, hollow trees, etc. They emerge from hibernation in the spring and lay their eggs on suitable bodies of water, usually of a more or less permanent character, after which successive broods appear until their further development is arrested by the frosts of autumn.

PERMANENT CONTROL

Mosquitoes develop only in water, and the method of control which ultimately gives most satisfaction consists of eliminating the breeding places by drainage or filling and, in the case of large flood areas, by diking and pumping. Filling and levelling of low places where water accumulates should be carried out wherever possible. Such materials as city garbage and ashes, and sawdust from local lumber mills, may be used for this purpose. Simple drainage systems are often practicable in preventing water from collecting in low places. Care should also be taken to prevent mosquitoes breeding in artificial containers, such as water barrels, either by emptying them or screening them. Other measures that at times are of value consist of controlling lake levels in order to prevent flooding during spring freshets, and the transformation of low areas containing mosquito-breeding pot holes, shallow temporary pools and sloughs into permanent areas of deep water. If the edges of such places are clear cut and the water deep enough to prevent the growth of vegetation, wind action and natural enemies will prevent the development of mosquitoes.

Discrimination is needed to avoid wastage in control efforts, as in each district there is usually some particular type of breeding place from which the pest principally emanates. If control efforts are at first restricted to these places, results can be obtained much more economically than if attempts are made to cope with all water areas in an indiscriminate way. In many sections permanent standing water is of little importance from a mosquito-breeding standpoint, and good control may be obtained by dealing only with temporary bodies of water formed by melting snow, rain and floods.

TEMPORARY CONTROL

Where the application of permanent control measures is not feasible, or where it is necessary to augment such

THE STOMACH

The Stomach is that portion of the alimentary canal through which the human organism gets its nourishment. Therefore it is of the utmost importance to good health and long life that this organ should be in perfect working order.

The beginning of stomach trouble is so insidious that you are unaware of any disorder till an acute stage develops. If the stomach is giving any distress whatever, the rest of your organism is going to suffer in consequence, since a diseased stomach is incapable of rightfully fulfilling its important function in the chemical process necessary for pure nutritious assimilation.

My system of curing stomach disorders is ultra-modern and is achieved by natural methods.
