Al Smith of New York Chosen by Democratic Convention as Their Candidate for the Presidency

HOUSTON, Texas., June 29.—Alfred E. Smith, four times governor of New York, was nominated for the presidency by the Democratic National Convention last night.

A single ballot was sufficient to break through the last resistance of a group of candidates opposing him. Although at the conclusion of the roll call of the states he was a handful of votes short of the two-thirds required to nominate, he was so near the mark that state after state broke away from the favorite sons they had been supporting to lay their support at his feet.

TOLMIE OBJECTS TO SUCCESSION DUTIES IN B.C.

Official tabulation, after all changes of votes in favor of the leader, records that Smith had 849 2-3 votes while he needed only 733 1-3 to nominate.

Announcement of the nomination was followed by a loud and colorful demonstration on the convention floor.

Of the 55 state and territorial delegations in the convention, Smith in the end had the solid support of 35. Five states, Florida, Georgia, Missouri, South Carolina and Texas gave no votes up to the last.

Ten names were put in nomination. Senator George of Georgia got but 52 1/2; Senator Reed of Missouri 52, and Representative Hull of Tennessee 50 5-6. Others were very low.

It was the Ohio delegation that supplied the votes to elect on the first ballot, changing 44 votes from former Senator Pomeroy of Ohio to Smith, when it was seen he lacked but a few for election.

ALBANY, June 29.—Al. Smith's acceptance of the Democratic nomination reiterates the belief that there should be fundamental changes in the prohibition law.

DEFENCE MADE MAYOR TAYLOR

COUNSEL CLAIMS NO EVIDENCE OF CORRUPTION AGAINST HEAD OF VANCOUVER CITY SUGGESTS MOTIVE

HENDERSON SAYS TAYLOR ANXIOUS TO BECOME FIRST MAYOR GREATER VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, June 29.—"There has not been one scintilla of evidence in the whole four thousand pages of this inquiry which points to an act of corruption by the Mayor," declared Alexander Henderson, K.C., in closing argument on behalf of his client, Mayor Louis B. Taylor at Vancouver police inquiry yesterday afternoon.

The motives of Police Commissioner Fletcher in pressing for the inquiry were questioned by Mr. Henderson. "In bringing about this inquiry," asked Henderson, "was Fletcher actuated by a desire to put the force in a better position than before or to hurt Mayor Taylor? How far was he actuated by a desire to thwart the mayor's legitimate desire to be first mayor of Greater Vancouver? And was it an effort by Fletcher to cover Mayor Taylor with some kind of infamy?"

G. H. Cowan, K.C., counsel for Chief of Police Long, presented a written argument to Commissioner Lennie, concluding with the remark that there was not one particle of evidence to support the charge against his client.

Liberals to be Very Active Here From Now Until Election Day With Victory for T. D. Pattullo Assured

The Liberals have made up their minds that the seat of Prince Rupert is not to go again to their opponents by reason of their lack of energy. The provincial campaign here is to be fought just as strenuously as in any other riding in the province.

Next Monday, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, the candidate, will arrive from Victoria and he will be in the constituency until election day. On Monday he will be proceeding through to the Queen Charlotte Islands to spend a few days before coming back to the city.

On July 11 Hon. A. M. Manson will be here for a brief stay at least and arrangements are being made for him to address a meeting with Mr. Pattullo.

On Sunday, Mrs. Joseph Sheasgreen, will arrive from Vancouver to organize the Liberal women of the city.

The party's general organization work is well under way and those in charge at headquarters say that it is not so much a question of electing Mr. Pattullo as how big a majority can be piled up for him.

CANADA IS AN AMITY EXAMPLE

REFUSAL TO BUILD ARMAMENTS SAID TO PROMOTE WORLD PEACE

TORONTO, June 29.—Canada by her refusal to build armaments and by her example of amity towards neighboring nations was doing much to promote world peace and destroy the spirit of militarism, said Lt.-Col. J. H. MacDonald, B.A., D.D., C.B.E., P.R.G.S., of Wolfville, N.S., in addressing the the Baptist World Alliance here today on "Militarism." Disarmament in terms of weapons would never bring true peace, he declared unless there were also disarmament in the heart.

Militarism, he defined as, "not merely the swaggering arrogance of the professional soldier but the spirit of anyone whose thoughts run in military, material channels without regard for the soul."

The forces making for militarism, he said, were false patriotism, race prejudice, avarice, glorification of warlike exploits, and aggression of other nations.

The chief factors, combatting against militarism were, a realization of the butchery of war, the hostility of veterans to war organized labor, tax-payers, an atmosphere of peace making both within and without the League of Nations, Christianity.

Henry Rivard Not Guilty of the Murder of William Ritchie Says Jury at Assize Court Yesterday

After having spent six months less two or three days in jail awaiting trial, Henry Rivard stepped forth from the prisoner's dock at the Supreme Court Assizes here at 4.30 yesterday afternoon, absolved of blame in connection with his shooting of William Ritchie at Stewart last New Year's morning. After deliberating but twenty minutes, the jury returned with a verdict of "not guilty." Mr. Justice Gregory immediately discharging accused from custody with the warning that he should in future be more careful about having firearms in a place where there was trading in liquor. There was a round of applause in the form of hand clapping in the public section of the courtroom. His Lordship checking this immediately with the remark that such applause was never permitted in a British court of justice. The first to congratulate Rivard was his counsel, Gordon Wismer of Vancouver, who had conducted an able defence for him. Then friends of Stewart of the accused gathered around to offer their congratulations to a man who was perceptibly relieved after the strain culminating in the trial, which had followed the tragedy.

The court was engaged from 2.30 yesterday afternoon in addresses of counsel to the jury and the charge of His Lordship. Mr. Wismer spoke 25 minutes; A. M. Johnson, K.C., crown prosecutor, half an hour, and the judge, 35 minutes. Rivard, evidently borne down with the two day ordeal of his trial, was silently weeping in the dock much of this hour and a half. He scanned the jurors as they filed into the courtroom after their deliberations with his fate in their hands. He brightened somewhat when the verdict was announced but it was evident that his six months' imprisonment had told heavily upon the man who was otherwise well kept for his sixty years.

Mr. Wismer urged the jurors to not permit any suggested trafficking in liquor to influence them in passing upon the case of this unfortunate man who was on trial for his life. Ritchie had been the accused's friend but, even had he been his enemy, it was not likely that he would sacrifice the remaining years of his life by killing him. Mr. Wismer felt that accused had satisfactorily explained the presence of the gun in his place. In this connection he complimented Constable Potterton, describing him as "a fine type of policeman who had been fair to the accused even so far as making a voluntary statement to benefit him" in the matter of the gun not being even safe enough to shoot a dog. When such a bunch of rough men got together anything might happen. It was evident that Rivard had not had the gun in his place for the purpose of shooting any one. Crown witnesses agreed, Mr. Wismer observed, that accused had first tried to get them out without employing violence. He suggested that O'Donnell had gone wild and had done his best to get Rivard. He did not say that it was a wise thing for Rivard to get the rifle at all but there was no criminal intent unless he meant to shoot. But how was he to tell where the fight was going to end? Defence counsel contended that accused had the right to protect his home, regardless of the nature of that home.

WAS HIS FRIEND

If accused had had murder in his heart and intended to kill, who was it reasonable to believe he would have killed? O'Donnell, who had called him foul names and dared him to shoot, or Ritchie, his friend? Mr. Wismer discounted the possibility of accused having mistaken Ritchie for O'Donnell. One man was much taller than the other and they had markedly different features. "He did not shoot O'Donnell so I make the point that he did not intend to shoot anyone," submitted defence counsel. Mr. Wismer contended that the course with which the bullet had entered Ritchie's body eliminated the possibility of Rivard having aimed at him. He suggested that accused had made a clean breast of it to (continued on page five)

His former promises proved smoke screens. Will his promises today prove anything else?"

CULTURAL EDUCATION

Prince Rupert is deeply indebted to a few faithful teachers who train the young folks and inculcate in them a love for music. They work quietly and sedulously and the results they obtain are well known to most people. The fact that they are paid for their work does not cancel the obligation. The city has been particularly fortunate in the calibre of the men and women who have carried on this work. There have not been very many of them but they have done their work well and the city has been immeasurably benefited.

THE TEACHING PROFESSION

There are the other educationalists that teach the young people in the schools who also are deserving of special mention just now when the work of the year has closed. We do not realize how much depends upon their efforts. If they do their work well, the whole community benefits and if they shirk, the community suffers.

During the past week there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to a few members of the teaching staff whose work has been up for consideration by the board. There is a feeling in some quarters that these teachers have not been well treated. It is openly stated by many that the school board has been mistaken and the axe has fallen in the wrong quarter. Teachers who were obtaining excellent results have been let out and others retained whose work was much more subject to criticism.

It is very hard for teachers that their fate should be in the hands of possibly only one person and that one liable to strong prejudices. In some provinces the teachers' organization has a say in the matter and can step in to protect the members of their profession whom they think are really doing good work. Here the organization has not assumed to interfere. We suggest that in cases where there are strong protests or where it is possible an injustice has been done, the board should reconsider the matter and investigate more thoroughly. There are so many methods of judging work and the methods of good teachers differ so greatly that care should be taken that there is no injustice. It has been the custom of recent years for Prince Rupert school board to relieve a good many teachers from their duties until this place has become known as one of doubtful tenure.

We all know that the work of a school trustee is a most difficult one but at the same time when he or she undertakes that work, difficulties must be expected. When a teacher gets an excellent report from the inspector or from the principal of the school and then very soon afterwards is relieved of duties it makes them wonder if a report is worth anything. Also, it is noted that while a principal reports on the members of the staff under him there seems to be no one to report on the principal.

DR. TOLMIE'S FEARS

Dr. Tolmie is a fearful soul for the leader of a great party. He is afraid of a Liberal plot. He thinks the Liberals are going to put something over which will win the election and which it will later be shown was only a plot.

The Doctor need not worry. His party will not win, plot or no plot. No matter what takes place in Prince Rupert, there will be a government in power after the election that will be led by Premier MacLean, and the P.G.E. will be sold whether the negotiations are completed before or after July 18. Should the MacLean government be defeated, there would be grave doubt of the consummation of the deal.

STRAWBERRIES ARE NOT RIPENING VERY WELL

Hot Dry Weather Shortening the Season at Terrace and Rain Wanted Badly

TERRACE, June 29.—The continued hot, dry weather of the past few weeks is likely to shorten the strawberry season, as well as causing the berries to be much smaller than usual. The Alaskan strawberry is now on the market and the Magoon berries will be ready in a few days. The raspberries are also badly in need of rain and despite the fact that many berries were winter killed there will still be a heavy crop if rain comes in time to bring them to proper maturity.

ACTIVITY IN PEACE RIVER

Hon. V. W. Smith of Alberta, brother of Arthur Smith of this city, is a great booster for the Peace River country. In a recent address at Lethbridge, he said: "It reminds me of the old days in southern and central Alberta when every train was full, every hotel was full, and new settlers were lucky to find a sleeping place on the pool tables or the station floor. Trains going into the north go loaded to capacity, three to five hundred people going in on every train. Vacant land is being taken up, new buildings are going up in the towns, and there is an air of confidence and prosperity."

FIRST DOCTORS Then a Skin Specialist Then a Bottle of D.D.D.

"How grateful I am to D.D.D.—I was a sufferer from eczema for twelve years. I tried every ointment advertised for the disease. Some gave me temporary relief. I also went to doctors and specialists and with the disease only partly healed had to pay their bills. I tried D.D.D. and after the second bottle, began to see signs of healing. I used three and one-half bottles and today I am completely healed."—G. W. Butler, Suite 40, Centre Block, Fort Osborne, 234, Winnipeg.

Why not try this Prescription that Mr. Butler found so remarkable. We will guarantee relief on the first $1.00 bottle, or your money back. Stop that itch today. Try D.D.D. Soap, too.

MORE ABOUT GOLD STRIKE

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT OF NEWS TELLS OF FIND AT GRANBY BAY. ALICE ARM, June 28.—The facts in regard to the new gold strike on Granby Bay are as follows: Construction work is being carried on by the Granby Co. at their Bonanza property on Bonanza Creek. Two of the workmen—Ralph Ingraham and John McCallum—one evening broke some rock in an outcropping of quartz not far from the camp. This showed free gold. Further prospecting showed that this quartz ledge could be traced over a distance of several hundred feet. Some specimens of the rock showed a fairly rich mineralization of free gold. It is understood here that the greater portion of the ledge as uncovered is located on the Granby holdings of the Bonanza property.

HENRY RIVARD NOT GUILTY OF THE MURDER OF WIL-LIAM RITCHIE SAYS JURY
AT ASSIZE COURT YESTER-DAY.

Staff Sergeant McNeill on the steamer after having confessed to and consulted with his spiritual advisor, Father Leray and the story he had told then was exactly what he has told in the witness box—a story that was unshaken in spite of a severe cross-examination. If Rivard had wished to kill O'Donnell he could have pumped all the bullets in the gun into him. If accused had had no intention of killing Ritchie, then he could not be found guilty. Mr. Wismer reviewed the evidence of crown witnesses and suggested that they might have made mistakes. It was evident that Rivard was the only one there that night who was quite sober. Was he not the more likely to remember what had actually happened? It was for the jury to decide not upon probabilities but upon facts. The jury had to be satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that accused had killed the man intentionally. Unless it had been proven beyond a reasonable doubt that the accused had not killed deceased in the manner he had sworn, then the jury must acquit.

The unfortunate man, defence counsel concluded, was already sixty now and had failed greatly since his arrest. No matter whether he were sent to the gallows or to jail, he could not last long. "If you think his story reasonably true, then I ask you to acquit him," concluded Mr. Wismer.

CROWN COUNSEL

Mr. Johnson pointed out that the case was not a contest between himself and defence counsel. It was the most important function of the crown prosecutor to bring out the true evidence—whether or not it should be favorable to the accused. His sole object, Mr. Johnson asserted, was to get the truth. It had been admitted that the man was dead and had been killed with a bullet from a rifle in the hands of the accused. The crown's case was that, first, Rivard was not in lawful possession of that rifle and, second, there was no lawful reason for his using it. It was for the jury to decide whether the story of the accused or that of the crown witnesses was the correct one.

Crown counsel also asked the jury to dismiss the matter of liquor from its minds. This had nothing to do with the case. Apparently, all were on good terms except Rivard and O'Donnell, "the whiskey bum." Even though Paddy had made as great nuisance of himself as possible, the accused was not justified in using the loaded weapon. A man could not take the law into his own hands in such a manner without being liable for the consequences. There was no doubt that accused had been the most sober man there that night but every crown witness, he maintained, had tried to tell the truth.

Was it probable, asked Mr. Johnson, that the scraping of the rifle against the banister had caused the discharge of that bullet that killed Ritchie? If the story of accused had been correct, "contended crown counsel, the bullet would have passed clean over Ritchie's head. His suggestion was that the rifle, unfortunately, was pointed straight at Ritchie. There were certain things that led one to believe it was not an accident. Three witnesses had sworn that they had heard the sound of a click. If that clicking had been caused by accused raising the hammer, then he had some evil intention. In any case, a man was supposed to appreciate the consequences of his act.

Mr. Johnson referred to the fact that accused had sent for no help after the tragedy occurred although there were men there who could have gone. It had been an accident why had accused told Potterton that he had gone for a gall of water and found the body there when he returned?

Mr. Johnson questioned the veracity of the evidence of Sam Deschamps who had testified that Casey had told him that he (Casey) had thrown the gun away. It was peculiar that counsel for the accused, knowing of such evidence as Deschamps had said, had not caused it to be adduced at the inquest thus "going a long way in defence."

"I suggest," said Mr. Johnson, "that this evidence did not exist but is a figment of Deschamps' imagination."

Crown counsel stated that only accused had said that O'Donnell had come back after he had once left. There was no suggestion of self-defence in the

This advertisement is not published or displayed by the Liquor Control Board or by the Government of British Columbia

Mr. Johnson urged the jury not to be influenced by sympathy either for the accused or for the deceased. The crown did not merely want a victim because a man was dead. He urged the jury, in conclusion, to deal with the facts as would ordinary, rational men in every day life.

JUDGES CHARGE

In opening his charge, Mr. Justice Gregory urged the jury to be guided by its own recollection of the evidence and not by his. It was the duty of the jury to decide whether accused was guilty or not guilty and he urged the jurors not to be guided by any view they might perceive or thing they perceived.

His Lordship pointed out that if a man shot at another thinking it was someone else, he was just as guilty of murder as if he had shot the man intended. If an offender did an unlawful act likely to cause death without, however, intending to do hurt, murder might be implied. The possible verdicts in this case were: guilty, not guilty or manslaughter. His Lordship defined manslaughter in which provocation was often involved. If the jury believed there was provocation and the killing had been committed on the spur of the moment it might bring in a verdict of manslaughter.

In order to convict of murder, the crown must show that there was an intent. If the jury thought that the accused had been justified in taking the gun, say in defence of his home, and that it had accidentally went off, the verdict should be "not guilty." But there must be some good reason to make it necessary to use the gun.

His Lordship did not recall any attack that had been made upon accused except by Paddy, "the whiskey bum," and then a general fight ensued which had not been in the nature of an attack upon accused but a dispute among themselves as to whether accused should have been attacked. If one was apprehensive of being killed or receiving grievous bodily harm, then one might deal just such a death or bodily harm but to no greater extent than was required to protect one's self.

Dealing with the facts of the case, His Lordship remarked that it was to

NEW YORK YANKEES AND ST. LOUIS CARDINALS CONSOLIDATE THEIR POSITIONS OF SUPREMACY

(Special to Daily News)
NEW YORK, June 29.—Both New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals increased their margins of leadership in the Big Leagues yesterday. The Yanks are now twelve-and-a-half games ahead of the Philadelphia Athletics in the American League while the Cards are five-and-a-half games ahead of the New York Giants in the National League.

St. Louis Browns renewed their threat on second place in the American by winning over Detroit Tigers while the Athletics fell victim again to the Yankees.

The Giants consolidated their hold on second place in the National by defeating the long-suffering Phillies yesterday's scores:

CRICKET WILL OPEN TONIGHT

FIRST PRACTICE TO TAKE PLACE AND TEAMS TO ORGANIZE AT ACROPOLIS HILL

There has been a great rummaging for cricket paraphernalia by the old cricket players of Prince Rupert in an effort to secure enough for their use in the proposed games against the Durban team. The greatest difficulty was to find cricket balls. However, after much searching, several have been discovered and the first practice is slated for tonight at Acropolis grounds.

Something like two dozen players have signified their desire to take part in the game and if it succeeds the club

CONDITION OF FIELD PREVENTS PLAYING OF LEAGUE SOCCER MATCH

On arrival at the Acropolis Hill sports field last evening, Thistle and Grand Terminal football players and a substantial crowd of fans found piles of sand strewn along the grounds, making it impossible to play the scheduled opening game of the league soccer series for the Mcbley Cup. Apparently, there was no explanation of how came the sand to be there. The Football Association will decide later upon when this game will be played.

the Stewart diamond with the local boys in the lead throughout and checking past the post with a score of 11-4. Batteries: Andy Mca, C. Turner for Hyder; Jimmy Gunn, V. S. Moore and G. O. Shaw for Stewart. Despite the fact of its being the initial game and the players rather out of practice, the large crowd of fans thoroughly enjoyed the battle. Although only three members from last year's Stewart team were in the game, the new material shows extraordinary promise and with practice they should shape up into a formidable aggregate. A feature of the game was the heavy slugging of the Stewart boys, Jimmy Gunn, in the box, did some fine twirling, and Shaw seemed at home behind the plate. Altogether indications point to the fact that Stewart baseball fans should witness some fine bouts during the present season.

In connection with a report published Wednesday regarding the game that was not played on Saturday evening last between High and Booth Schools, Principal Peddie points out that he did not withhold permission for High School to play. When he informed the League secretary on Friday that it was absolutely impossible for High School to play, he was under the impression at that time that some of the members of the team would not be available for the game.

The Prince George ball players took a team to Quesnel last Sunday and played a game with the Queen's nine winning 12-10. It was a free hitting game with numerous errors scattered through it, but close enough to maintain interest. The Prince George team was composed of players from the C.N.R. and City teams with Taft in right, Muirhead on third, Kitchener at short, Ternan at second, Johnson pitching, McLeod catching, Parker in center, Wilson at first, and Goodwin in left.
