Fine Herring Being Taken and Cured on West Coast of Moresby Island and 200 Barrels Shipped

SKIDEGATE, Aug. 7.—The new fish curing plant at Moore Channel, on the west coast of Moresby Island, has shipped into Queen Charlotte City over 200 barrels of Scotch cured herring.

The fishermen who caught the herring say they believe if their nets had been deeper at the start they would have had over a thousand barrels shipped by now. Quite a lot of time has been lost adding another strip to their nets to make them deeper.

It is reported that Moore Channel and Inskip Channel are full of herring just now.

WOMAN AND TWO CHILDREN LOST LIVES NANAIMO

Drown in Boating Accident When All Were Thrown Into the Water

NANAIMO, Aug. 7.—Meagre advices reaching here state that a woman and two children were drowned in a boating accident at Boat Harbor, eight miles east of Nanaimo, last night. Mrs. E. T. Mines of Island Park, Burnaby, B.C., an 8-year-old boy named Cummings, and another whose name was not given were the victims. A 3-year-old child, at first believed drowned, was reported later to have been saved.

In some manner, which is unexplained, three occupants of the boat were thrown into the water, only the little child was left safely aboard. The only witness of the tragedy was Mrs. Cummings, the mother of one of the lost, who in a state of collapse could give no information.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings are the only residents of Boat Harbor, which was a former shipping port of the defunct Pacific Coast Coal Mines Company. Mr. Cummings was caretaker there, and Mrs. Mines is Mrs. Cummings' sister.

JAPANESE FISHERMAN DROWNS NANAIMO

VANCOUVER, Aug. 7.—Canada's Pacific exhibition opened this morning at Hastings Park, but Premier S. F. Tolmie will formally open the exhibition this afternoon.

Rush of Miners Into Taku River Country and Many Licenses Issued at Rupert

Over three hundred miners' licenses have been granted, about half of them from the Prince Rupert office and the other half from the Atlin office, for miners going into the Taku River country, where good ore is reported to have been found on the Tulsequah River, a tributary of the Taku.

The Tulsequah group of claims was taken over last fall by Los Angeles people, who did some development work and found a large body of rich ore going from $25 to $30 a ton. The Alaska-Juneau also took an option on some adjoining property and apparently some other good rock has been found in the neighborhood, for there has been quite a movement into that part of the country. It is ten or twelve miles from the Alaska boundary and is accessible only up the Taku River, which is navigable beyond the district to which the movement is taking place.

SNOWDEN FIRM AGAINST PLAN UNITED STATES

Also British Bankers Oppose International Bank Scheme

THE HAGUE, Aug. 7.—Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer, stood firm today against the adoption of the Young plan for the settlement of war debt problems.

In face of the attitude of France and Italy the British bankers were opposed to the scheme of bank for international debt settlement, believing that the plan would intensify the scramble for gold for international bank purposes. The proposal included the buying and selling of gold on its program.

CHANGES IN NAVY UNITS

Atlantic Fleet Strengthened at Expense of Mediterranean Fleet

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The British Mediterranean fleet has been reduced with the transfer of capital ships to the Atlantic fleet to make it the most powerful floating battle unit in the world.

The change of policy will give additional work to the British navy yards and dry docks which needed, since the cruiser building was halted.

NELSON, Aug. 7.—Douk-hobor schools at Champion Creek, Brilliant, Spencer and Krestova and a flour mill and warehouse at Glade were destroyed by fires of an incendiary origin Monday night.

Hon. Joshua Hincliffe last night interviewed Peter Veregin Jr., who agreed to have the schools rebuilt, the Douk-hobors to stand all losses.

BENNETT STARTS NORTHERN TOUR

ALERT BAY TONIGHT

Tells How Canada Is Handicapped in Regard to High Grade Papers

POWELL RIVER, Aug. 7.—Hon. R. B. Bennett commenced his tour of northern British Columbia yesterday, holding his first meeting at Powell River. This evening he is to be at Alert Bay and tomorrow at Ocean Falls. From there he goes direct to Anyox, where he plans to speak Friday night, proceeding then to Stewart, and returning to Prince Rupert on Monday.

Last night Mr. Bennett denied that Conservatives had opposed the Australian treaty. The opposition had pointed out that the effect of the treaty in the form sanctioned by the Government, while beneficial to certain industries, was detrimental to the dairy industry.

Dealing with the question of newsprint, Mr. Bennett said Canada had been unable to make and export fine grades of paper because of the United States tariff barriers.

COMMENT ON SITUATION IN EGYPT TODAY

Objection Taken in Britain to Handing Over Complete Control of Country

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Newspaper comment points with concern to the selection of the British Egyptian agreement which surrenders the responsibility for lives and property of foreigners in Egypt and gives the responsibility to the Egyptian Government.

Formerly the British Governments have stood firm and retained the responsibility and other powers relied on Britain's strength for protection.

With this removal and with the recurrence of such trouble as arose five years ago when foreigners were murdered in the streets of Alexandria, the possibility of other powers landing forces to protect their nationals, arises.

"What would be Britain's position as an ally of Egypt in such an eventuality?" the Journal asks.

Prominent Visitors to Canada

Three of the most prominent political leaders in the Motherland will visit Canada this month when they are expected to make important announcements regarding the welfare of the British Empire. They are: left, top, Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, former Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Baldwin Government; bottom, Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, present Lord Privy Seal and Minister of Employment in the MacDonald Cabinet, and right, Rt. Hon. L. C. M. S. Smery, Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs in the Baldwin Government.

British Labor Chancellor Stands Up for Rights of Britain in Hague Speech

THE HAGUE, Aug. 7.—Hon. Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer and chief British delegate to the conference of nations on reparations payments, attacked the experts' report, including the Young plan, declaring that Great Britain could make no further sacrifices. Under the distribution made by the experts, France and Italy got more than they were entitled to under the Spa agreement and Britain and the smaller creditors got less.

Mr. Snowden added that Britain was willing at any time to wipe the slate clean, as outlined in the Balfour note, but so long as debts were receivable by any, the government of Great Britain would insist on fair treatment.

The delegates gave closest attention to the speech of the British chancellor.

British Will Withdraw From Egypt if Latest Draft Treaty Adopted

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The British military occupation in Egypt, except for the Suez Canal zone, is abandoned and other important and far reaching reforms are agreed to in the new Anglo-Egyptian draft treaty, details of which will be issued by the foreign office.

The proposals are a great advance on anything hitherto offered. Britain recognizes that protection of foreigners in Egypt is a matter devolving solely upon the Egyptian Government. The proposals must be approved by the newly-elected Egyptian parliament before they can be submitted to the British parliament for their approval and embodied in a treaty.

France and Italy Speak in Favor of Young Plans Reparations Settlement

GREECE WANTS CASH

Venizelos Voices Complaint of Smaller Powers That They Have Been Left Out

THE HAGUE, Aug. 7.—Right Hon. Philip Snowden, Britain's chief delegate at the reparations conference, who attacked the Young plans of settlement yesterday, was answered today by Henri Cheron, French minister of finance, and Senator Maconi, Italian delegate, who defended the plan.

Premier Venizelos of Greece stated the case of the smaller powers in objecting to the Young plan, saying they had been overlooked. The Paris experts forgot the smaller power's debts when they fixed the shares or reparations payments coming to them. While the small powers had no intention of attacking the Young plan, they wished to call attention to the unsatisfactory position of Greece's debt to England, France and United States arising out of the war, amounting to over 1,400,000,000 gold marks. The Young plan gives Greece only 500,000,000 gold marks in 58 years.

THREE HUNDRED FOR THE PEACE

CHARGE STATES WITH DESIGNS ON MANCHURIA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Allegations are being made in Moscow that the United States is seriously concerning itself in the international dispute between Russia and China with the object of ejecting Russians from Manchuria. One of the objects said to be influencing the States in their alleged move is to bring about greater imperialistic expansion in Manchuria and that they plan to place the management of the Manchurian railway in the hands of either Germany or Italy.

The allegations are looked upon here as propaganda.

PRINCE GEORGE IN ILL-HEALTH

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The Daily News says that it has learned that the royal family are somewhat anxious about the health of Prince George. The prince left the navy because of his health and went into the foreign office, but this did not benefit him but rather caused his present indisposition. On July 19 the prince was kept by illness from keeping an engagement and his brother, the Duke of Gloucester, says the prince might have to go away and take a brief cure.

BRITISH AND U. S. CONTROL

According to Sir Thomas Holland, in a paper before the British Association two or three days ago at Capetown, Britain and United States practically control the war situation because they control the supply of minerals which are necessary to its continuance. China and other countries of the far east are notably deficient in these minerals.

It is suggested that it is easy to prevent the export of minerals and thus prevent war.

To do beautiful things in a beautiful way is art.

MOTOR LICENSES

Prince Rupert gets over six thousand dollars for her share of the motor licenses, which means that another six thousand dollars is retained by the Government, in addition to the tax on gasoline. Now we are told we are to have a motor highway and once that highway is through to Terrace our motor licenses will quadruple in number and our gasoline tax will increase even more.

In spite of apologists for the Government, however, there does not seem to have been much action this year which would speed up the building of the road. Even the bridge across Galloway Rapids was delayed, a work that has nothing at all to do with the route the highway is to take on the other side.

The man who is no better for his mistakes is a failure.

WORK OF ENGINEER

At the end of last week this paper published an article purporting to tell about the latest developments in regard to highway construction. As most of it was written by a Hazelton man who is supposed to be conversant with what is going on in Government circles, we took it for granted that the article was correct. However, we realize that only the Government at Victoria is in a position to make a definite announcement. We believe the engineer is doing excellent work and if he has his way will give us a good highway within a reasonable time. Anything we can do to help him attain that end we shall be only too glad to undertake. We want the highway. We told Provincial Secretary Howe that when he was here and we tell everyone the same on every possible occasion. We shall continue that policy and would like to see the apologists join us.

The most useless creature in the world is the man who tells his troubles or the woman who is proud of her operations.

OUR SCIENTIFIC METHOD
(Winnipeg Free Press)

To determine the national origins of the people of the United States in order that the new immigration quotas might be fixed in accordance with them, a staff of experts was employed for months. They made elaborate calculations to find, for instance, what percentage of the 90 million white Americans of 1920 had ancestors who, presumably, would be recorded in the census of 1790. The latest estimate of this colonial stock gives 41 millions, about 43 per cent, and, in order to arrive at a scheme of national origins, attempts were made, with the help of the first census, to trace the countries of origin of this conjectural body of ancestors. Mr. Hoover, when secretary of commerce, expressed his grave doubts as to whether the calculations were of any value and in the presidential campaign he declared that there was no way by which national origins for all the people of the United States could be ascertained.

Mr. Hoover and the toiling American experts have never heard, apparently, of Canada's simple method of determining national origins. Simple is the word all right. Here in Canada we can always tell what race a man belongs to. He is just asked from what country his original paternal ancestor came—most people can answer this question. He is then marked down as of the same race as this paternal ancestor. If this ancestor came to Canada five generations ago he would be only one of 32 ancestors of the Canadian of today; nevertheless if he were Polish his descendant of today, though his other 31 ancestors might happen to be English, would be Polish too. This method is defended by our census officials on the ground that it is "scientific"!

By all means be optimistic, but be sure that you have something to be optimistic about.

CANADA'S NEW SENIOR SCULLING CHAMPION

Jack Guest, famous Canadian sculler, who represented Canada at the Olympic Games with Joe Wright, jr., last year, and who was narrowly beaten by his clubmate at the Royal Henley Regatta in England, early this month, turned the tables on Joe Wright, jr., at the Canadian Henley, to win the Dominion Senior Sculling title by three clear lengths. Guest has now gone to Springfield, Ill., to compete for the United States singles title.

ELKS NOW LEAD BALL LEAGUE

S. O. C. Went Down to Defeat in the Fifth Inning

Last night at Acropolis Hill grounds, the Elks went into first place in the City Baseball League by handing the Sons of Canada a ten to two drubbing. The Sons started off like winners, netting a run in the first on a single by Howe and Wendle's double. Bill Harold, first man up for the Elks hit to right, and got as far as third base, but died there. After that both teams played snappy ball until the fifth, when Wendle, on the mound for the Sons, fell down badly, allowing five hits, and six runs, before he was replaced by Bill Mitchell. The damage was done then, however, but the Elks managed to garner three more runs in the sixth for good measure. Loblick was again on the mound for the Elks, and allowed eight hits, but kept them fairly well scattered.

Wendle and Harold starred at bat, the former getting a single and two doubles in three trips to the plate and the latter, three singles in four times up. Harold made a nice catch in the seventh when he went up in the air to nab Smith's hit and then threw to Stevens to make a double play, catching Phillips. Astoria made a nice hit in the seventh, but as he rounded second base, he went into a nose-dive, and before the ice-man could gather himself up the ball had been fielded and he was put out. Following is the score by innings:

IT'S NOT CROWDED ANYWAY

In all this street-widening program, no one has yet tried to widen the straight and narrow path.—The Detroit.

Sport Chat

Floyd Fitzsimmons, Michigan fight promoter, set September 5 as the date for a boxing match between Jack Sharkey, of Boston, and Pierre Brown, Belgian heavyweight, James Brown, chairman of the State Boxing Commission, announced, Olympia Arena was awarded September 19 for the Sharkey-Schmeiling fight.

Ten prospective Channel swimmers, eight women and two men, have been in training at Cape Griz Nez for several weeks and there has not been ten lines in the French newspapers about their activities. Five years ago the appearance of one lone Channel swimmer was good for at least a column. Mrs. Huddleston, billed as the American professional long distance champion, plans to swim from Griz Nez to Dover and back again. Whatever the outcome of her efforts, Mrs. Huddleston, if her record may be taken as a criterion, is certain to spend more hours in the water than any of the other nine contestants. The Zittenfield twins, American girls, aged fifteen, the Misses Ivy Hawke, Joan Brunton, Molly Parker and Connie Gilhead, of England, and Mile. Estelle Delannoy, of France, are the other memers of the "weaker sex" vowing to swim the Channel. Doctor Sciffe, of Germany, and Ishak Helmy, the giant Egyptian who crossed last year after innumerable unsuccessful attempts, complete the swimming colony. Helmy said he has acquired the Griz Nez habit. "It is such a relief from Cairo in August," he said, looking all chilled in 90 degrees.

The Regiment line-up for tonight's game is as follows: Brand, Burdett, Heilbroner, Edgecumbe, Hadden, Kelsey, Russell, Strachan, Murray, Tinker and Norrington. Spares are Owens and Underwood.

According to an alleged statement made by Lionel Conacher, the New York Americans will not hockey Frank Patrick, Vancouver hockey magnate, or Eddie Gerard as manager. It is hinted that Harris Ardiel, formerly of Toronto, may succeed Tommy Gorman.

There is trouble afoot in the Ontario Lacrosse Association, the Torontos taking the initiative in writing an open letter to President Lyon in which they go right to the point. Years ago hickory-wielding tactics ruined the professional leagues, and it was thought that the lesson taught would not be forgotten, but the Blue Shirt officers now maintain that the games this season have been about the roughest in history. They deplore the fact that cross-checking is rampant, and that the officials have made little effort to stop this sort of defense. It seems that there is need of a Moses to lead the warring factions into the promised land, and bring the sport back to its former glory. There is nothing the matter with lacrosse itself. Given a chance it will come back.

Jimmy McLarnin, who had been offered a match against Jack Fields for the welterweight title, may be disappointed owing to the fact that the new champion, whose right name is Finkelstein, values his services too highly. Then again the estimable Mr. Fields remembers that McLarnin once knocked him out in the second round.

DRAW GAMES REGINA CRICKET

REGINA, Aug. 7.—In the western Canada cricket tournament yesterday British Columbia batted out 242 runs from seven wickets and then declared, while Manitoba had accumulated 196 for the same number of wickets when stumps were drawn. Saskatchewan and Alberta also drew.

RUTH LEADER OF LEAGUE IN CIRCUIT SWATS

Forged Ahead of Gehrig Yesterday When He Made Two Home Runs Against Washington

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Babe Ruth knocked out two homers and took the leadership in the American League for circuit clout honors from Gehrig and Fox who pressed him closely. Fox cracked out a circle too yesterday, but Gehrig failed to follow.

Washington assaulted four Yankee pitchers in the first game of a double header and won 13 to 9, but in the second game Ruth did his hitting and once the bases were full when he delivered, the result being that the Yankees won eight runs to nil. Philadelphia and St. Louis split their double header, the westerners winning the first and losing the second.

In the National League there were only two games. At the end of the day's play the Cubs remained seven and a half games ahead of the Pittsburgh Pirates who were beaten by the Giants, while Brooklyn disposed of Chicago.

National League
New York 5, Pittsburgh 3.
Brooklyn 5, Chicago 4.
Boston at St. Louis postponed.

American League
Washington 13-0, New York 9-8.
St. Louis 8-3, Philadelphia 3-11.
Detroit 5, Cleveland 6.

When appetites are sluggish ~
WIN THEM with
Quaker Puffed Wheat

Puffed Rice is Good, too

Quaker Puffed Rice is exploded the same way as Puffed Wheat, and is equally delicious. Full of the ready energy of the finest white rice. For variety, keep both kinds of puffed grains in the house.

EVERY MOTHER knows that appetites are often sluggish. Sometimes the children won't eat, sometimes it's dad himself. Ordinary food does not tempt them.

Quaker Puffed Wheat always wins the sluggish appetite. Puffing the wheat grain to eight times its natural size gives it a delicious, nut-like flavour which everyone relishes. It contains astonishing nourishment, too.

In each grain, the puffing breaks down millions of tiny food cells and releases valuable food stores so that their assimilation becomes easy and complete. The wheat bran is all retained, but artfully concealed.

Serve Quaker Puffed Wheat just as it comes from the package or warm it. Use it with berries, jelly or jam, or just with cream or milk.

WARREN TAKES MANAGEMENT WESTERN LINES

Says Coming to West is Like Again Coming Home

WINNIPEG, Aug. 7.—A. E. Warren, whose appointment as vice-president in charge of the Western Region of the Canadian National Railways became effective on August 1, arrived in Winnipeg today to discuss with Mr. Kingsland, formerly general manager of the Western Region and now general manager of the Central Region, matters of immediate importance.

"To return to Western Canada is to come home," said Mr. Warren on his arrival at the station. "I have been happy in the East and the experience has added to my store of knowledge, but most of my working life has been spent in the west and I am happy of course to be back again."

"It is easy to make promises, but there are a few things I will strive earnestly to do. Among these will be to maintain and strengthen the good feeling which exists between the public and the railway system in Western Canada to hold the good fellowship and regard of the officers and employees who are doing their utmost in the interests of the road and to give every support to A. A. Tisdale, the new general manager, upon whose shoulders rests the task of carrying on the splendid work accomplished by W. A. Kingsland during his four years of successful management in the west."

"I would also like to take advantage of this opportunity to express my thanks to the many friends who have sent me their good wishes and to the newspaper press of Western Canada for the nice things they have been so generous as to say since it became known I was to return to the west."

Mr. Warren will remain in Winnipeg for a few days and will then return to Toronto with Mr. Kingsland to turn over to him the affairs of the Central Region. He will return to the west probably in time to join Sir Henry Thornton on his inspection of the Western lines.

THE GREEN SHADOW

by HERMAN LANDON

SYNOPSIS

While Captain Summers is meditating on the escape of "The Picaroon," whom he is convinced is really his friend Martin Dale, Mr. Alexander Ferrymann calls and requests that strange happenings at 262 Bank Street, the house next to the one in which he lives, be investigated. Axelson, a watchman employed by Ferrymann to guard the house in which he lived before he moved next door after his wife had deserted him, has heard footsteps and seen an eerie green light.

Just as Ferrymann is showing the captain a picture of his wife, the telephone rings and a voice tells of finding a woman's body at 262 Bank Street. Summers and Ferrymann hurry there.

"The Picaroon," who preys upon the rich and then offers the return of his loot on the payment of 10 per cent of its value to charity, has written a note to Adele Castle, requesting a meeting in Central Park. Adele has had a terrifying experience. She was taken to a strange house where, through a queer green light, she could glimpse only the outline of a man calling himself Dr. Moffett, who tells her he holds evidence which would convict her father of being connected with a crooked financial deal and send him to prison. Mr. Castle tells Adele Dr. Moffett demands blackmail of $100,000.

Summers continues his investigations and finds a band from a Verona, the special sort of cigar Martin Dale smokes. The captain and Dale meet in a restaurant and save that Dale knows something about a green light and admits that there are few Veronas in the country, Summers learns nothing.

Adele and Dale meet. He tells her he was present during her strange interview with Dr. Moffett, which took place at 262 Bank Street, and promises to help her.

Dale calls at 262 Bank Street and tells Axelson he knows that the dead woman is Miss Conway. Axelson denies knowing her or Dr. Moffett, as does Ferrymann. Dale's attention is held by the wainscoting of the library.

Green Light Again

The keen night air had a soothing and clarifying effect. The cobwebs dissolved. He glanced at his watch, saw that it was a little after midnight, and went to his bedroom and undressed.

Gradually he grew drowsy. A face, vague, remote, tantalizingly lovely but shrouded in the mists of years, haunted his dreams. Another face appeared, equally beautiful but fresher and clearer of outline.

Then a shadow fell over the two faces, and somehow he knew that the shadow was Dr. Moffett. Little by little the shadow brightened, and at the same time the faces receded into a rich, green illumination.

He awoke with a start. Instantly he was fully awake, but he could not yet determine the nature of the disturbance. Sliding his feet to the floor he sat upright on the side of the bed and gazed into the darkness on all sides. A sound came, shapeless and elusive, and he sprang lightly to the door. The knob turned noiselessly in his hand, and he pushed it open.

Now he paused and listened, but for the moment he could hear nothing. He waited, wondering whether Bilkins could be prowling about the house at such an hour. It was not very likely, he decided. Bilkins, despite his evil countenance, usually slept the sleep of the just.

Then he recalled the vague, bewildering impressions that had been with him for an hour before he retired. He hurried into dressing gown and slippers, and in a moment he was gliding softly across the floor of the adjoining room.

Now he stood at the door of the library. Very cautiously he drew it open a crack, but despite his care the hinges squeaked so slightly. There was a sudden movement inside, and it seemed to come from the vicinity of the huge library table. The intruder had been warned of his approach.

He cursed his clumsiness, at the same time wondering what the prowler could hope to find in his library. There were many hooks and curios which he prized highly, but little that could interest a burglar in search of readily marketable loot. There was the secret drawer in the desk, of course, but even that—

A sudden suspicion entered Dale's mind. The hidden drawer contained little of material value, but there were papers and other articles which had an intimate bearing on the career of "The Picaroon."

The typewritten note with its pressed the switch, but without result. The intruder had wisely taken precautions against an interruption by severing the connection. Briefly Dale considered what sort of strategy would be most effective in the circumstances. The library occupied a corner of the building, and Dale was guarding the only door. There were two windows, but it was quite a drop to the ground, and the prowler would not risk it except in a grave emergency.

Noislessly, with no other thought than that he must not let the intruder escape, Dale stepped inside the room. He closed the door behind him and slipped the bolt into place, then moved forward as quietly as he could. Should he make a dash for the door, the trespasser would lose several precious seconds while manipulating the bolt. Without a sound Dale approached the desk. There he paused, straining his ears for sounds. A muffled breath sounded in the stillness, and it guided his sudden leap. A gasp sounded. Two bodies crashed. Dale caught hold of something—a sleeve.

It was an empty sleeve! And in an instant the sleeve was jerked away from his clutch. His quarry sprang aside, toward the corner in the rear, and Dale chuckled. That particular corner was almost as good as a trap. From that position the man would be unable to reach either the door or the windows.

A Shadowy Form Blended With the Emerald Light, But He Could See No Face

"You are caught my friend," Dale murmured, and at the same time he stepped forward cautiously.

"Careful!" a voice hissed. "I can shoot straight."

"Not in the dark." Dale stepped quickly aside so that his voice would not serve as a target. The movement brought him closer to the other man, whose quickly breathing was now clearly audible.

"Stop!" the other cried. "I warn you—"

Dale sprang, struck out in the direction of the voice, then sprang back, momentarily blinded by the yellow-green light that suddenly flooded the room.

A laugh sounded. Dale's sense whirled. He glimpsed a shadowy form whose outlines blended with the emerald light, but he could see no face.

"Get back!" the voice commanded. "Get back, or I—"

The voice, the green light, the emerald walls and furnishings jumbled crazily in Dale's brain. Only one clear thought gleamed through the chaos. Dr. Moffett! Who else could it be? A green light, a voice, a face that could not be seen—

He felt a little mad. He hurled himself forward. He struck out into emptiness. Another laugh, and then a knuckled fist crashed against his jaw. Another blow, a third. He reeled dizzily, fell. The green light faded out into nothingness.

To Be Continued Tomorrow

FOR A TUPPENCE

Mrs. MacDougall leaned from the window as the train pulled into the small town. Spying a small boy, she beckoned.

"Little boy, do you mind your father and mother?"

"Yes, mam."

"Do you go to Sunday School."

"Yes, mam."

"You never play hooky?"

"No, mam."

"I think I can trust you. Take this tuppence and get me two buns at the baker's. And remember, God sees you!"—Scotsman.

SHOOTING MEET IS BIGGER THAN EVER

Governor-General's Match at Naught Ranges Will Draw Unprecedented Entry

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—The increased interest in rifle shooting is very pronounced in Canada this year. Reports coming in from the local ranges show the entries to be almost double of what they were last year. This is expected to result in increased attendance at the national match held by the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association at Comber Ranges near Ottawa from 12 to 17. Last year 500 rifles from every province competed and the indications this year that there will be well over a thousand are the largest since the war.

The D.C.R.A. program this year has not been changed materially from that of last year, but of the changes made will be the general approval, particularly the addition of prizes to the Governor General's Match. The Governor General's Match will be shot this year on the usual two stages, and the stakes will be at 300 yards, when 15 shots must be fired at each range. Both ranges of the Banker's Match will year be in the Grand Aggregate.

The Letter Box
QUICK ACTION NEEDED

Editor, Daily News:

The time is passing rapidly and nothing seems to have been done in regard to the lights asked for in order to allow vessels to use Hecate Straits in coming into Prince Rupert and thus take the first step toward removal of the differential against this port.

The present light on Bonilla Island, I understand is not of sufficient power and a light is asked for Butterworth Rocks.
These two would enable vessels to use Brown Passage in perfect safety and I believe this is all that is required by Lloyds before they grant insurance rates the same as coming in through Dixon Entrance.

The lights would be of great value to fishermen and others as well as for deep sea vessels as all who pass in that direction will use them to great advantage.

We are laying great stress on the building of a road which will cost millions but these improvements will cost comparatively nothing in comparison.

If anything is to be done this year, it must be done at once, as all know it will be impossible to do the work in the fall or winter when the weather is bad.

I think further action should be taken in regard to this at once by the Board of Trade and City Council as it means so much to this port.

So realistic was the set, accord-expected the San Francisco fog play the supporting roles, Asther

as Miss Garbo's lover and Stone
