Big Final This Afternoon in Athletic Carnival at Vancouver Against Great Runners of Continent

VANCOUVER, July 13.—Running on a soft dirt track at Hastings Park, Percy Williams, Olympic champion and idol of Canada, equalled the world's accepted 100-yard dash record of 9 3-5 seconds yesterday in the British Columbia mid-summer athletic carnival to prove he is one of the greatest sprinters on earth. Running in the preliminary heat, Williams breasted the tape a full yard ahead of Frank Wyckoff, the California flash, and Johnny Fitzpatrick of Hamilton came third.

RAILWAY OPENS IN THE SPRING

Likely Freight and Passengers Will Get Through in Fall but Golden Spike Later

OTTAWA, July 13.—While the official opening of the Hudson Bay Railway will not take place until next spring when the golden spike will be driven, it is expected that freight and passengers may be carried over the line this fall.

The fires in northern Manitoba this summer seriously delayed construction of the line. Just now 2000 men are employed on the ballasting, which has been proceeding steadily. Steamers are taking in supplies for the development of the port at Churchill, in addition to the material taken in over the frozen muskeg early in the spring before ballasting commenced.

EDMONTON PLANS FOR EDUCATION

Two Million Must Be Spent Soon, Says Superintendent McKee

EDMONTON, July 13.—Expenditure by the people of Edmonton of between $1,800,000 and $2,000,000 on high school building within the next four to six years, is strongly urged by Superintendent G. A. McKee in a 15,000-word report presented to a meeting of the school management committee of the Edmonton public school board.

Other high lights in the report advocate construction of a central school plant located east of the present Victoria high school, and costing approximately $1,000,000 (this plant would consist of an academic building and technical school building and would operate in conjunction with the present buildings). In addition, Superintendent McKee urges use of the present technical school building as an administrative centre, housing the school board offices and officials.

DISESTABLISHMENT OF CHURCH IN ENGLAND IS HINTED BY ARCHBISHOP

LONDON, July 13.—The Archbishop of York, who comes next in authority in the Church of England to the Archbishop of Canterbury, hinted that the church might have to ask for disestablishment from the state in order to secure changes which it desired in its constitution. An inquiry will be held and if that is ineffectual other action will follow.

The main drive of poles from the Hanson Timber & Lumber Co. along the Skeena River got under way early this week and although the water was a little higher than was required for ideal conditions, the operation opened with success, this drive being the largest of the season. The company estimated that about 45,000 poles will come down the river, of which 30,000 will be caught at the new boom at Nash when the boom there will be drawn and the remaining 15,000 allowed to go on down to the assembly yard at Cedevale. The drive requires a large number of men for the short time it is under way.

Pilot Gilbert and Airplane Now at Stewart to Survey Route to Terrace Commencing Next Week

VANCOUVER, July 13.—The contract for the aerial survey of the proposed Prince Rupert-Terrace highway has been let by the provincial government to the Western Canada Airways, Limited. The start on the photography work will probably be made next week by Pilot Walter Gilbert, now engaged in carrying freight from Stewart to Bowser Lake.

Gilbert went north about a week ago under contract with the Northern Prospectors' Syndicate, which has a large group of claims at Bowser Lake which are to be developed this summer.

The work to be done by Gilbert between Prince Rupert and Terrace is for the purpose of deciding once for all if there is another possible route to the interior besides the Skeena gorge and if so whether it is a better one than that along the river. The survey will be a valuable one in view of possible future developments in the district.

Cotton Workers Resist Attempt to Lower Wages Over Twelve Per Cent

MANCHESTER, July 13.—A big lockout in the cotton manufacturing industry, possibly affecting half a million workers, is expected to result from a decision of the de-factored master cotton spinners to enforce a reduction of 12.2 per cent in wages on July 29. There seems little hope of any compromise unless the minister of labor intervenes.

Counsel Asks Dismissal of Four United States' Fishing Vessels Seized Goose Harbor Anchorage

VICTORIA, July 13.—Claiming that four United States fishing boats, the Tacora, Jeannette, the We and the May, were lawfully within Canadian waters by the rights under international law and under the convention between Great Britain and the United States, William Savage, counsel for the owners, sought dismissal of condemnation proceedings in the admiralty court yesterday. The four ships were seized by the cruiser Malaspina on May 6 in Goose Harbor anchorage.

"I regard the four American ships as being of a friendly nation seeking our shores under necessitous circumstances, believing Canada would tender them an international courtesy," counsel declared. He claimed that evidence had failed to connect the seized ships with any overt act which contravened the laws of Canada or the treaties. "These American seamen ought not to be here at the present time and would not be if they had been tendered proper Canadian courtesy and been warned of their position. Once it was learned they had gone into Goose Harbor they might have been warned to leave or asked to present written statements of the cause of their presence in Canadian waters," Mr. Savage declared.

Argument by counsel for the crown will be submitted Monday morning.

NORTH IS NOT SO VERY COLD

Famous Explorer Tells of His Investigations and Sees Future Development

EDMONTON, July 13.—That the north pole was not nearly as cold as was universally believed and that the northern portions of Canada would some day be of great value to the world, were statements made by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Canadian explorer of the arctic, who spoke at the Chautauqua gathering here on "The Friendly Arctic."

In opening his address, Mr. Stefansson stated that many persons had misconceptions concerning the far north which he would endeavor to dispel. At one time he had believed much of the story told, but on investigation for himself had discovered the truth.

At the north pole the extreme winter temperature never went below 55 degrees below zero and this was met with throughout the Dominion and even on the international border. He contradicted stories about the Eskimos, stating that they were not stunted and were fast adopting the methods of civilization in living and work.

Mr. Stefansson then pointed out the vast quantities of edible mosses and grasses, suitable for feed for caribou, reindeer, muskox, etc., found in the arctic, and that the arctic prairies in summer were thick carpets of brilliantly colored flowers.

The explorer went on to deal with the attitude taken by other centres and sections in Canada toward the north, stating that it was jealousy and fear of loss that was responsible for the antagonism towards its development.

The address was concluded by a large number of pictures showing various aspects of life in the arctic, together with many scenes of splendor and grandeur.

He gave himself up to the police at Stanwood saying "They robbed me."

The dead are Mose Henry, 60, pioneer Skagit county settler in whose home the tragedy occurred; George Stump, 45 of Everett, Wash., and Virginia Ray, 34, of Bellingham. May Hoffman, 28, is in the hospital with head and arms slashed.

GYPSY VAMP IS UP IN COURT

Got Away With Part of Roll of Bills From Edmonton Bank Using Smile as Weapon

EDMONTON, July 13.—Rose Demitro, gypsy girl with a tooth-brush ad smile and fascinating ways which are alleged to have nearly spelled disaster to a clerk at the Mundare branch of the Bank of Montreal recently, was remanded for trial by Magistrate George B. McLeod in the city police court on a charge of stealing $415 from the bank.

Rose, the crown alleged, went into the bank and exhibited her now famous smile, and then asked for change for a five dollar bill. While change was being made Rose, the crown said, wandered around to the space which is no-man's-land, or ladies either, as far as the general public is concerned.

While being shooed out Rose went over to the vault and playfully twisted the dials until the teller came to the rescue. And then Rose beat the teller back to his cage and was thumbing through a roll of bills containing $800 before the teller snatched them.

Rose went out of the bank and that was the end of that—for the time being. Some hours later the teller discovered half of the bills missing, and Rose was picked up in Edmonton charged with the theft.

Two of the Gypsy band of which Rose is one of the star members, were discharged from charges of having possession of stolen goods, to wit: some of the $415, when the crown offered no evidence. So now Rose and her smile must go up to the big court all alone.

Bail of $400 was supplied after she was remanded.

DAILY EDITION Saturday, July 13, 1929.

There's a difference between unison and harmony. We do not have to do the same as other people in order that our work may fit in with the general scheme of things.

PUBLIC HEALTH

"Just as fertility was the essential feature of the Egyptian culture; beauty the ideal of the Greek; and order that of the Roman, so the welfare of the mass of mankind is becoming the goal to which we are moving today," declared Dr. J. L. Biggar, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross Society, to the nurses' convention at Montreal. His words are worthy of emphasis. "Slowly, very slowly, but still surely, public health workers are instilling into the general mind of the people the knowledge that many of their sufferings spring from neglect of the simple laws of health," he said. "And very slowly civilized people are beginning to realize that it is not enough to guard themselves against infections and to be free from definite diagnosable diseases. They are beginning to realize that health is a positive, priceless possession. They are developing, along with their broadening humanitarianism, an ideal of robust and vigorous health for every member of their clan or race or nation."

"I think that without any undue stretch of our imaginations we can foresee a time when an organized society which prides itself on being civilized will by reason of its humanitarianism frankly adopt universal health as its ideal. It will come to understand that a government free from tyranny is not enough, that education is not enough, that a high standard of living is not enough, that nothing in fact is enough unless there is assured to everyone of the citizens who compose it every opportunity and every encouragement to maintain himself and herself in a truly healthy condition, and that those who fail to do so are infringers of the code and to be classed with other malefactors.

People who think themselves better than others usually have a false conception of values.

MORE CANADIANISM WANTED

(Victoria Times)

An anonymous writer in an eastern newspaper says he thinks Canadians who so forget their birthplace as to sell it for a few extra dollars should be treated as immigrants when they come back to their own land. He was replying to another communication in which a native son of this Dominion had said that the reason the Canadian-born go to the United States is because they have to call themselves British subjects. He then proceeds with his reply:

Well, I take it upon myself to correct him. The reason they went to the United States is because there were a few more cents an hour in the job. Nationality of flag had nothing to do with it. It was the call of the dollar. Now times are slack over there they beat it back here to God's country, and for all their big money, they usually come back next to being broke and think they should horn in on a job right away.

It is very little use wrangling over the reasons why some people always will think the grass is much greener in the field a few miles away than it is in the one near to them. There is a stubbornness in human nature upon which even the mellowing influence of time appears to have little effect. But it does no harm to emphasize the outstanding fact that in this great country there is ample opportunity for many more millions than our present population to make a good living. It may be that for a time bigger wages may be earned in some of the highly industrialized areas of the neighboring republic than in pioneering work—which eventually will pay well—in this country.

Canadian youth should learn to think more in terms of Canada and Canadianism. And in this regard the duty, in large measure, of directing the thoughts of youth devolves upon our public men. It is only natural for boys and girls in their impressionable years to absorb with all seriousness what their elders tell them.

How odd it is that the people who know nothing wish others to recognize the fact. Had they only the wisdom of the owl they'd learn to listen.

News of the Mines
AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Bayview to Operate at Stewart; Big Visions for Silver Cup; Geological Survey Active in District

Having recently decided to abandon all operations on the Arlington property, near Nelson, the Bayview Mining Co. will now concentrate operations on its Portland Canal property, where, it is stated, the company has every intention of proceeding with further development work, operations probably being resumed within the next few weeks. Considerable development has already been carried out on the property, which lies about 24 miles north of Stewart. Ore shoots, so far as proven, have been short, but carry good grade ore. On the whole, however, the results proved disappointing. One of the difficulties in connection with development is the fact that the property lies at an elevation of 5000 feet and that the present trail is rather dangerous. Efforts are being made to secure assistance from the government in the matter of trail improvements. It is proposed to spend only sufficient of the company's funds to justify installation of a tramway. Until such a tramway is in operation, it will be expensive to operate owing to the difficulty of getting in supplies and equipment. Pending the resumption of operations at Stewart, approximately $25,000, representing the funds the company has on hand, have been invested in a selected list of securities.

Shareholders and directors, including W. B. Dornberg, president, Vancouver; A. Lobe, Seattle; A. H. Seil, Seattle; Louis Dietter, Vancouver; C. W. Tourtelotte, Vancouver; Reginald Beaumont, Captain P. G. Groves and Fred McGregor, Vancouver, and Van B. Smith, Vancouver, as well as M. A. Burbank of Prince Rupert, who recently visited the Silver Cup, near New Hazelton, were so well pleased with the results of present operations that visions of a large mill or a mill on the railway connected with the mine by an aerial tram suggested themselves to them. A steady flow of high grade zinc and lead concentrates at the rate of ten tons per day is now being produced by the mill, which may before long be increased to a greater capacity. The tunnels at the mine are to be continued and the mine superintendent is satisfied that the ore will run right through the mountain and that in due course operations will be from the south side of the hill. There is also reason to believe that a depth of at least 2000 feet will be secured on the veins and because of this decision has been made to start development on another level some distance down the hill the work to be started at an early date. In the present workings all the four tunnels are now in one of good width and grade and all are connected with raises. The stopes are in and the ore is ready to come down, the mine being in perfect shape to keep the mill going for two years at its present capacity without any further development. The raise from No. 4 to No. 3 tunnel has been finished, giving a manhole, skipway and ore shoot. Meantime, the management is devoting its efforts to producing concentrates at the lowest possible cost consistent with efficiency. With 21 now employed, the total staff connected with the Silver Cup mine and mill, where everything is now running to perfection, will be 40 men until such time as the new and larger development is undertaken. Road improvements are being completed and concentrates are moving in gradually greater volumes to the railway for shipment to Trail smelter. Roy Guss is now chief mechanic for the mine.

The Geological Survey of Canada will give particular attention in its operations this season to the eastern and western margins of the Coast Range batholith, a great core of granitic rocks that extends the length of British Columbia and the Yukon, and along the edges of which gold, silver, copper, lead, zinc and other metals occur. Dr. F. A. Kerr will conclude a topographical and geological exploration of a practically unknown and difficult region drained by the Stikine and Iskut Rivers, which appears to be a promising prospecting ground for deposits of lead, zinc, silver and other metals. R. Bartlett will continue topographical mapping at Alice Arm in the Kitsault and Illiance River districts in which prospecting and mining operations are active. Dr. George Hanson will complete detailed geological mapping at Alice Arm and an investigation of the silver, lead, zinc and copper bearing mineral occurrences. He has established a camp on McGrath Mountain for his party which consists largely of University of British Columbia students. Dr. Hanson with A. H. Lang, also recently investigated a promising group of copper and gold bearing mineral deposits near Owen Lake.

H. W. M. Rolston has arranged for a renewal of development of the Melvin Mining Co.'s property at Stewart, where a situation of great promise was showed up last fall. The workings and camp at present are only 1000 feet from those installed by Premier on the Prosperity and a continuation of the Prosperity and Porter-Idaho veins into the Melvin has been practically proven. Some work will also be done on the Glacier Girl ground on the opposite side of Marmot valley.

NURSES HEAR OF TRAINING OF CHILDREN

MONTREAL, July 12.—From the day a child is born he must begin to learn to live independently if he is to grow into a being who is sound mentally and physically, declared Winifred Rand, of the Morrill Palmer School, Detroit, Mich., in addressing the public health section of the sixth triennial congress of the International Council of Nurses today.

Taking as her subject "the study of the normal child as a preparation for public health nursing," the speaker said the woman who has been trained in a hospital to care for the sick is not equipped to be a public health nurse. Her training should be re-ordered that the nurse "may know what the wise care of children really is and thereby be prepared to meet her great opportunity," she said.

"A mother, convinced that obedience is the criterion by which a child's goodness is judged and also probably convinced that her will (whether it be good or bad) should be the guiding force in the child's life, tests him out continuously by innumerable commands," she said; "she does not see the fact that the child is a reasonable being who must begin to learn to make some decisions for himself if he is to be a satisfactory adult. She does not face the fact that the child is an intelligent and independent being who is beginning to develop his own thinking powers and his own initiative. Because she does not face these facts she looks upon the child who does not come promptly to her bidding, who questions what is sometimes an unreasonable demand, or who finally rebels at the countless orders he receives in the course of the day, as a child whose behavior is unsatisfactory. The child who always obeys as he is told, who never questions the direction no matter how unreasonable, who never expresses his will as the child who is called 'good,' and yet is that child really developing traits which will make him a satisfactory adult? Weak willed, inadequate, easily led, the prey for a man who tempts him, we find him and so condemn him."

BISHOP MAKES PROTEST AT A NEWS REPORT

Declares He Has Great Admiration for French-Canadian People

VERNON, B.C., July 13.—Concerned because he was reported by an eastern newspaper as having criticized the French Canadian race, the Bishop of Kootenay, Rt. Rev. Dr. A. J. Doull, has issued the following statement to the Canadian Press:

I have been greatly surprised that a short paragraph of my charge to the synod of Kootenay has been magnified and distorted by some newspapers in eastern Canada as an attack upon French influence in Canada. Thus in a leading Montreal journal I read: "Bishop Doull Sees Quebec Control in Canada Injurious." "Declaring that Quebec was injurious to Canada and that Anglo-Canadians should unite to counter-act her influence, Rt. Rev. A. J. Doull, Bishop of Kootenay, startled the twentieth session of the diocesan synod."

In another prominent publication I find the following: "Verbal bombshell thrown by Bishop. Criticism of French in Canada creates deep impression here. Radical views."

All the above, similar headings and paragraphs, is purely the work of the representatives of the press. It comes as a greater bombshell to myself than it can to anyone else. I never wrote or uttered one word to justify such statements.

These are the facts: I was dealing with the subject of immigration and deploring the fact that the tide of foreign immigration is increasing even in British Columbia, which will soon be British only in name unless something be done quickly to increase the number of British settlers. I suggested as a remedy that English-speaking Canadians should make the maintenance of the British character of Canada a matter of supreme concern. My words were: "The only solution of the problem that I can see is that all English speaking people throughout the Dominion should band themselves together and demand of whatever government may be in power at Ottawa that this country must be kept British and made more British still."

What He Said

And then followed the paragraph which contained the one and only reference to the French. "The French in Canada, who are not friendly to British immigration have gained control of our country by putting the interests of the French people first and party interests second. If we did likewise for British interests we could yet save the situation."

That surely is a very harmless bombshell. There is nothing about French influence being injurious to Canada. I quoted the French as an example of what could be done if party interests be subordinated to racial interests, an example of what could be done to stem the tide of foreign immigration if only English speaking Canadians united on this one vital question. I do not blame or resent the French for not being friendly to British immigration, honor them for putting the welfare of their race first and before the interests of any political party.

I am more anxious that the British in Canada should follow the French example and be equally keen to maintain their ideals, paying a similar price. When my words are read in connection with the context and having reference only to the subject of foreign immigration, I shall surely have the sympathy of all fair minded persons in being so utterly misrepresented.

The mischief which some newspapers have done cannot be done, for only one person will see this explanation for every thousand persons who read the distortion of my words as given in certain newspapers, but all who know me will realize that I am simple incapable of saying one word against French people, for whom I have the greatest admiration and amongst whom I number many friends.

"The World's Greatest"

The Bridge of Sighs

At the gate of a cemetery there is a certain bridge—"A Bridge of Sighs." Many a widow passes over it to return to a home from which death has taken husband and father.

Death is not a tragedy. Tragedy strikes the living—those who are bereft of their natural provider.

No life insurance policy can take the place of a husband and father, but the proceeds of it will relieve a family from distress until they are able to adjust themselves to new conditions.

We invite enquiries from men who desire advice concerning the right type of life insurance protection. Write for our pamphlet entitled "No Matter What Happens". It is most interesting.

Large Crowd Out but Poor Exhibition of Game When Elks Lost to Native Sons

One of the largest crowds of the season turned out last night to see the Native Sons of Canada strengthen their lead in the City Baseball League at the expense of the Elks. It was the poorest exhibition of ball that has been seen here this season. The Elks started kicking at the umpires' decisions in the first inning and if they hadn't amused the fans so much with their tactics no one would have stayed to see the game finished.

The Elks led eight to two in the third inning, but the Sons managed to score every inning after that. In that stanza the Elks scored seven runs off Lambie. Downie went in the box in the fourth and displayed better control than he had on Tuesday, striking out 11 men in the four remaining innings and only allowing one free pass.

The less said about the game the better. Following is the box score:

Sport Chat

After all the baseball players should remember that the umpire is absolute, even if his decisions may sometimes appear poor ones, and it is not playing the game to squawk and threaten to leave the field as one or two of the Elks did last night when they thought His Umps had pulled a boner. We thought the baseball boys were getting away from that kind of thing but, instead, they had to make a poor game worse last night by precipitating a near riot on the field. Those kind of things may seem funny to a few of the spectators but the most of them go up there to see baseball and not unseemly arguments. When the umpires and players which are not legal anyway, and are not good advertisements for the game.

Nowhere does baseball rivalry run keener than between the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis. They always hook up in holiday games, and the morning pastime at Minneapolis on July 4 saw an old-fashioned fist fight introduced and the banishment of six players. Huck Betts, St. Paul pitcher, one of the principals in the general melee, was knocked unconscious, by Sammy Bohne, Minneapolis coach, with a straight right to the chin, while Oscar Roettger, St. Paul first baseman, was so badly cut up that he was unable to continue in the game, which was won by St. Paul, 8 to 7, in 11 innings.

The rough-house started in the third inning when Hugh McMullen, Minneapolis catcher, collided with Betts, trying to beat out a bunt. The latter, evidently peeved, threw the ball at McMullen but missed. Bohne, coaching at first base, walked over to Betts and struck out with a straight right. Betts went down—cold. A general fight followed, and was not quelled until the police took a hand.

The New York Yankees, representing the real threat to the fond hopes of the Philadelphia Athletics in the American League baseball race, are bound to get better pitching from now on. It couldn't be much worse, broadly speaking, Waite Hoyt has kept the club in the pennant race, and he will be good right through the season unless he meets with an accident. The other pitchers on Miller Huggins' staff show signs of getting tougher between now and the end of September. If old Mr. McGillicuddy is to achieve his ambition and wave his score card signals from the players' bench during the next world series, he needs good pitching. There is no reason to suppose he won't get it, and if he does, the Mackmen are likely to bat their way right over the top of the American League long before the curtain comes down. His present lead is a comfortable if not a safe one. It is well for everyone interested to remember that the New York Yanks, while they still were just about the best ball club of modern times, blew a thirteen game lead not more than a year ago, and had to work like blazes through the heat of the September stretch to get enough of it back to qualify for the world series.

NINTH INNING BALL RALLIES

Were Deciding Factors Yesterday in Several Big League Baseball Games

NEW YORK, July 13.—The New York Giants rallied in the ninth inning yesterday to beat the Chicago Cubs and won the pennant when Travis Jackson hit a home run. After the St. Louis Cardinals had rallied for five runs against Dazzy Vance in the ninth to win a two-all tie, Brooklyn Ralston scored six times on Johnson and Frankhouse to pull out a decision. Pittsburgh Pirates made it in a row over the Phillies and have a lead of three full games over the Chicago Cubs. Cincinnati Reds took their lead straight from Boston Braves.

American League
In the American League the New York Yankees trounced Chicago White Sox behind Herb Pennock. Cleveland Indians downed Washington Senators and Detroit Tigers nosed out Boston Red Sox by scoring four runs in the ninth. Dohens forced in the winning run by hitting a batsman when the bases were full.

Philadelphia Athletics maintained their lead by shutting St. Louis Browns in the game and also taking the second of a double-header. Yesterday's big league scores:

BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McManus

Man in the Moon

How foolish people are to spend money on books when they do not even own a car or a motorboat.

I have known people set table without putting on a "butter" knife and yet they are very decent people and bring up their children just as nicely as the rest of us.

When a country goes dry the sap disappears. Now that's queer!

A woman may be pretty but if her ankles are not neat, she is liable to be neglected.

I got a letter last night by the daily mail. But that's nothing new for me. There's a good looking flapper at our house and the male comes regularly.

Jake wants to know why a man by the name of Robb should be minister of finance. Jake should study more carefully the duties of a finance minister.

With fingers weary and worn With eyelids heavy and red The reporter tapped and tapped and tapped And wished to go to bed.

Jake says life would be all right if it were not for the little black flies on the beach.

"We won the war," the Yankee said And proudly tossed his head. "We won the war, and did it too With good old Yankee lead."

"You won the war?" John Bull inquired. "You won it 'gainst the Hun?" "You came in when the end was near, So you could have some fun."

Wonder what the football players would do without Doc Clapperton on the lines.

When teams face up to start the game And everything looks fine, They cannot kick the ball until Old Doc is on the line.

If disagreement should arise And cause a mighty lunge They call in Doc to set them straight And thus to stop the wrangle.

Here's to the boomarangoutang, The king of all exporters, Who makes those awful banquet talks To torture poor reporters.

Linzey; master at arms, W. Burken; keeper of records and seals, J. S. Carmichael; master of finance, Sid Hamblin; master of exchequer, Fred Shaw; inner guard, J. Rowatt; outer guard, G. W. Johnston.

Agitation has been started at Alice Arm with a view to obtaining a government wharf.
