Euler, who spoke in reply to speeches by J. S. Woodsworth, Labor member, and others, in the Progressive and United Farmers' Association ranks, in which the statement was made that Canada was guilty of an "unfriendly act" in not acceding to the United States request.

Lauder Family Say Whole Matter Was Discussed By Them Long Ago

NEW YORK, May 22.—Unqualified denials of claims of Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty, who seeks half a million dollars from Gene Tunney, have been made in behalf of the retired heavyweight champion and the "Lauder family." His wife was formerly Polly Lauder, Floyd E. Lauder, secretary to Mrs. George H. Lauder, said "the matter of Mrs. Fogarty was discussed at length by the Lauder family before the marriage. It was decided that there was nothing to claim." Tunney's attorney, George W. Whiteside, said, "Numerous threats of this kind have been made in the past by this woman. At that time very thorough investigation of her claims was made and they were found to be without the slightest merit." He noted the affidavit he said Mrs. Fogarty swore to at that time stating that her relations with Tunney were "at all times such as in no way to cast the slightest criticism or discredit upon him. I have no claim of any kind and never have," the affidavit said.

The Letter Box

JUSTICE OF NEW PROVINCE

Editor, Daily News.—
Sir,— Press reports indicate that in every interview, Mr. Shelly is trying to throw out a smoke screen to divert the public resentment at Norman Watt's unwarranted dismissal by stressing the appointment of C. L. Munroe, government agent at Atlin (a Liberal appointee), to Norman Watt's position, stating that the position is being filled by a Liberal, therefore the dismissal could not be considered as making an opening so that a Conservative might get the position.

That is not the point at issue. Nobody in Prince Rupert is concerned whether Norman A. Watt is a Liberal or Conservative, but they are concerned that an honorable, efficient, painstaking and courteous official, an upright and loyal Canadian and a battle scarred veteran of the great war should be summarily dismissed for political activity when everyone who has come in contact with him in his official or social position knows that the reason given is only subterfuge.

Mr. Watt is a northern man, having lived for years in the Yukon and northern British Columbia. He has pioneered with us, knows our sentiments and our aspirations, therefore it behooves the men of the north to get behind and stay behind him (irrespective of political affiliations), until the wrong is righted, and if Mr. Shelly and his ilk in the south treat us only as a few scattered pioneers whose opinions and rights are of such little importance that they can get away with such methods, then I think it is high time for the men of the north to band themselves together with a view of forming a new province for the central and northern portion of British Columbia, so that justice may prevail for northern men and northern rights.

FAIR PLAY

WESTMINSTER SINGERS HERE

Well Known London Organization May Be Brought Here By Gyro Club—Luncheon Today

The Westminster Glee Singers, an English organization in which boys' voices are featured, may make a stand in Prince Rupert on May 30 and 31 under the auspices of the Gyro Club, and in aid of the playground fund. At the club luncheon today, a report was made on tentative negotiations with a view to bringing the Glee Singers here in the course of a tour of Canada and the United States.

The club discussed the matter of objective for the year and left the matter in the hands of the executive. Suggestions were made that playgrounds already established by the club should have proper supervision and that the square at the corner of Sixth Avenue and McBride Street be put into shape for a junior baseball diamond.

It was decided to bring the matter of present condition of Gyro playgrounds to the attention of the city council with a view to having necessary repairs made. C. C. Mills was named chairman of the playground committee in place of R. V. G. LePine, who has left the city, and Ald. Frank Dobb was added to the committee.

The club was entertained with humorous monologues and recitations by Harry C. Willis of Vancouver, George Arseneau winner of the luncheon raffle. Guests included Gyro Dick Malkin of Vancouver, C. E. Imeson, H. C. Willis and J. Balken of Vancouver and D. Davidson of Seattle.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A storm of selling orders, wiping out millions of dollars in quoted values, swept into the stock exchange today on the announcement that the federal reserve council had approved an increase in rediscount rates from 5 to 6 per cent in a further effort to curtail the volume of borrowings on securities collateral.

INTEREST OF POWER COMPANY

The Power Company of Canada is already showing interest in Prince Rupert. Many of the officials of the company have visited the city and looked over the situation and all speak optimistically of the future. If they build a nice block in the city it will add much to the stability and appearance of the place and very soon they will be spending considerable money in the neighborhood. That will be a great thing for the whole district. It looks as if the faith of the local people in that company is likely to be justified.

LORD ROSEBERY

"Unstable as water thou should not excel." Lord Rosebery is popularly credited with having started life with three ambitions—to become prime minister, to marry the richest heiress, and to win the derby. He achieved all three. Yet his life, in his own view probably and most certainly in the view of those who were politically associated with him was a colossal and tragic disappointment. "What a mind, what endowments the man has," once declared Winston Churchill of Rosebery, "I feel that if I had his brain I would move mountains." And yet for at least 15 years of his life Lord Rosebery lived a lonely and forgotten man. The chief thing that he is remembered for nowadays is that he first set the fashion in a certain style of collar.

Only the politicians of the arm-chair and the chimney corner remember the days when Rosebery was regarded as the glorious rising hope of Liberalism. Those were the years when the sun of Gladstone was setting. There were Liberals who looked proudly upon Rosebery as the Gladstone of the next generation, a Gladstone additionally attractive to the common herd because of his man-about-town, go-to-race-meeting characteristics. A brief spell as foreign minister was followed a year later by a passionate zeal for local government, when Rosebery spent seven hours daily, without grudging the labor, as chairman of the newly-formed London county council. Then came Gladstone's retirement and Rosebery was charged with the government of the country.

It would be idle here to attempt to trace the circumstances which led the ignominious fall of the ministry after less than two years of office. Without a doubt, though, the bedrock factor was the temperamental instability of the prime minister. "No man in our time has run through such a fortune in friends as Rosebery," declares one Liberal writer. "His path is strewn with their wreckage." Wayward in mood, petulant in matters of political discipline, loving to throw around himself the mantle of mystery, but having nothing really to reveal when the mantle was cast off—with such a leader political leadership was impossible.

After the South African war, a war which broke English Liberalism in twain, those who still pinned their faith to Rosebery handed themselves together upon his call and styled themselves Liberal Imperialists. They formed a league in his service. Rosebery turned his back on them and accomplished what was practically his final extinction. There was one brief reappearance, when Joseph Chamberlain was pursuing his protectionist campaign. Rosebery emerged, made a slashing speech, and retired—this time absolutely for good. He even forsook the race-course. The only notable thing during his premiership was that he won the derby with Ladas—perhaps the most popular victory of modern times.

Probably nobody will ever be able to give a full reason for Rosebery's tragic life-failure. Was it the loss of his young and beautiful wife, daughter of a Rothschild, to whom he gave a whole-souled devotion? Or was it the remorseless epilepsy of insomnia which, for years upon end, afflicted him? Grim stories have been told of his ordering out horses and carriage in the dead of night in pitiable efforts to escape from the terrors of sleeplessness. "He is the Flying Dutchman—a phantom vessel floating about on the wide seas, without an anchor and without a port," said one critic. Perhaps to know all would be to understand all.

Nearly 40,000 in Peace River Now Room for Million

Many Squatters Go Ahead of Survey; Big Power Project Planned to Serve Whole Country

This is one of a series of six articles by H. F. Mullet dealing with the rapid concentration of settlers in Canada's great "inland empire," the Peace River district.

(Special to The Daily News and the Edmonton Journal—Copyright)

By H. F. MULLETT

EDMONTON, May 22. — There are some 47,000,000 acres of land in the Peace River district.

Allowing for a family of four persons on each homestead, there is room in the Peace River for a million people.

The population today is estimated at between 35,000 and 40,000!

Just what these potentialities mean to "big business" is shown by the fact that one of the largest power companies on the American continent has recently purchased the power franchise at Grande Prairie, with the avowed intention of making that town the centre of vast power ramifications that are to reach into every town of the Peace River of the future.

That homestead lands secured originally for a $10 bill may some day be worth up to $50 an acre is amply shown by the facts, for owners of good farms all through the Peace River district today are asking up to this amount for their holdings—and most of the land was originally homesteaded.

Bordering on the new town of Fairview, end of steel north of Peace today, there is a reserve of the Beaver Indians. It will be sold by auction next month in the same manner that school lands are sold.

It is expected that fully 500 eager buyers from all over Canada and the United States will be present to bid on that land—and cool headed appraisers say it will bring at least $40 an acre—$50 or over for the very choicest parcels.

That land is absolutely raw prairie with a little bush on it in spots—and of the same quality as homesteads immediately adjoining it—homesteads, of course, that were taken up a few years ago.

Squatters Active

The more open and prairie-like areas of the Peace River country are largely preempted by "squatters." These pioneers of the later rush for homesteads in any district go in with their outfits far beyond the surveyed territory then open for homestead.

Here, choosing their land with a careful eye to the securing of a first crop with the least amount of breaking, they squat, build their houses and barns, and proceed to farm. When the survey lines are run through their holdings they are given first opportunities to make formal homestead entry of them.

We heard of one man, away out beyond Pouce Coupe, who "squatted" last year and this year will crop 120 acres, beside having fine and substantial buildings already erected.

"Claim jumping" between rival squatters exists, but not to any serious extent. Possession, which is considered the nine points of the law, is generally respected by the squatters, and where there is ample land for all, why quarrel over a mere 160 acres?

Many of these settlers go in with the most meagre of outfits—some with nothing but what they carry on their shoulders.

It was away beyond Fairview, for instance, that we met a lone figure plodding the dusty trail toward a late afternoon sunset—a ruddy faced, sun-tanned Manitoba harvester, who came out from the steel mills of Sheffield two years ago.

He whistled as he trued along; he hadn't a care in the world. On his back he carried a roll of blankets, from which protruded the head of an axe. A portable sheet iron stove, folded flat, bumped his flanks at each step.

"So—looking for a homestead," he told us. "Outfit? Ain't 'rot one," he laughed. "Going to line up a place first, then work out for a while to get a grub-stake. Oh, I'll do fine," he assured us.

He accepted a cigarette, waved us a cheery farewell, and strode onward into the sunset—alone.

but borne onward by that unconquerable spirit of the pioneer.

West's Best Booster

Jacob Jebbs, from Wetaskiwin—formerly from Poland—is another man who epitomizes the spirit and the success of the west.

Jacob, busy building a little frame home on land he had bought in the townsite of Fairview, is western Canada's best booster to date. He speaks English, but doesn't write it. Nevertheless his mark on a check for $18,000 would make it acceptable.

"I come from Poland in 1900 with five dollars," said Jacob. "Today, I am here with $18,000 I got from the sale of my farm and stock near Wetaskiwin, and also I have $3500 in equipment."

"Yes, maybe I buy me some of these Beavers land. Pay? Oh—maybe $10 an acre—maybe more—but he's good land, and I buy him at that, I think."

Jacob worked on farms in the west for five years. Then he bought a C.P.R. quarter for $3 an acre—and recently sold it again for $6000, along with a further half section. He and his stalwart sons drove their big truck clear through from Wetaskiwin to Fairview. There is a family of nine, and they have taken three homesteads, which will be in addition to the Beaver reserve land Mr. Jebbs plans on buying. They are one of the reasons why the new town of Fairview needs six elevators.

"I had to get land for the boys," Mr. Jebbs explained. "Here is good, clean land, no weeds—land we get maybe 40 bushels from an acre."

There are many other remarkable examples of individual successes, too, in the Peace River district. John Lamont's wonderful herd of Scotch Shorthorns, on his farm four miles from Grimshaw, is noted all across Canada and has done much to spread the fame of the Peace River as a livestock raising country.

The success of the brothers, Albert and Arthur Hitz, who came from a rented farm in Ontario 13 or 14 years ago, is also well worth recounting.

Making the larger part of the trip from Edmonton afoot, they walked over the entire country for miles, finally selecting land near the present village of Berwyn. Oxen were used to break their first land. A small cabin was built, and the brothers settled down to the task of farming in real earnest.

Today, they have 640 acres of the finest land in the west, with one of the finest homes in all the Peace River country—full basement, hardwood floors, two bathrooms, steam heat, hot and cold running water, electric lighting plant, garage, etc.—and it is all paid for out of earnings from the land.

What these two men from Ontario—starting "from scratch," can do can be done again, in the next few years, the history of the Peace River country will have many more such stories of success to tell.

The simple equation for success in the Peace is merely—land plus industry equals success.

Wheat's NATURAL GOODNESS
~ toothsome and tempting

Puffed Rice is Good, too

Quaker Puffed Rice is exploded the same way as Puffed Wheat, and is equally delicious. Full of the ready energy of the finest white rice. For variety, keep both kinds in the house.

AN ENTIRELY DIFFERENT kind of cereal is Quaker Puffed Wheat. Airy deliciousness and toasted crunchiness are combined with all the nutriment of the grain supreme. The wheat bran is retained, but you would not notice it, so delicately is it concealed.

Puffing the wheat grain to eight times its natural size cooks it thoroughly and explodes millions of food cells in each grain. Rich stores of protein, carbohydrates and minerals are released for easy digestion. Each puffed grain has a tempting, nut-like flavour that always intrigues a lagging appetite.

Always have Quaker Puffed Wheat ready to serve at any meal or at any time between meals. It is relished when fickle appetites set other food aside.

AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Woodbine to Be Re-financed; Gibson Property Interesting Granby Co.; Anderson Group in Babine Promising

Shareholders of the Woodbine Gold Mining Co. at a special general meeting in Vancouver authorized the directors to proceed at once with the refinancing of the company. The sum of $50,000 is to be raised to rush the work of production. Reports presented at the meeting indicated that there were large bodies of ore and that in spite of what may be said to the contrary the property was one of the best in British Columbia. Submitting a report covering several weeks' survey in the present workings, H. C. Briggs showed assays covering from $25 to as high as $450 per ton with good values in gold. Typical samples gave values of $385, $115 and $302. Mr. Briggs stated that the sampling had been done systematically and not here and there but in large blocks. He expressed the belief that the property could yet be developed into a great mine. Sample shipments of ore to Trail smelter will start at an early date. A milling project is also in view.

The Columario Gold Mines Ltd., operated at U.S., will shortly be listed on the stock exchange. The company's property consists of approximately 1000 acres known as the Kleanza group which has been in process of development for the past several years, a total of approximately $135,000 having been spent. Development to date has been by a series of tunnels or adits drifting on veins outcropping on the mountain side. There is approximately $30,000 on hand for further development work and it is proposed to build a 150-ton crushing plant and the first unit of a 50-ton concentrator this year. The name Columario is a compound of two words, Columbia and Ontario, as the company was incorporated in 1927 under Ontario charter but its properties are in British Columbia.

The Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co. is presenting itself though it has been erroneously reported that it has bonded a copper, gold and working to capacity and trucks are hauling the concentrates to the railway. As improvements to the road progress, the shipments from the mill will be increased.

The newly formed Bulkley Mining Co. of Seattle has put a few men to work on the Comet property on Four Mile Mountain near New Hazelton. James Dyer is the owner of the property on which considerable work is expected to be done this season. Camps are now being prepared.

The Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. has been working all winter on a group of claims in the Findlay River district and on some placer claims in the Manson and Slate Creek areas. On the latter an old river bottom, some feet above the present river level, has been located and some good gold values are shown.

Charles S. Anderson, who has spent several years developing mining properties in the Babine district, has been doing extensive development work on six mineral claims which comprise the Anderson group and George Culp, Robert Gerow and Jack McLean, who had the contract for driving tunnels, building camps, etc., report splendid showing on all claims. A considerable part of the work recently completed on the property was to determine tonnage preparatory to the installation of a concentrating plant. The product of the mines will be shipped from Burns Lake station. The ore is a complex gold-silver-lead and is very rich. The property looks like a first class mining proposition.

The Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. will continue exploration work this season on the Emerald group in the Sibola Mountain district. The exploratory work last year was distinctly encouraging. The Cronin adit was extended 160 feet and a cross-cut at the face exposed eleven feet of ore without defining either wall. Zinc is the predominant ore on the footwall side and lead on the hanging wall. The silver ratio is about 0.8 ounces per unit of lead. Surface trenching located the vein four hundred feet below the Cronin adit and another adit had been started at this point and driven forty feet when heavy snow forced operations to be discontinued for the season. As soon as weather permits, the work will be resumed.

The first carload of concentrates from the Silver Cup mill near Hazelton went out to Trail smelter last week. The mill is now

BRITISH NATIONAL ANTHEM IS NOT AN EXCLUSIVE REFRAIN

Is of German Origin and Is Used in Germany Denmark and Switzerland

(Edmonton Journal)

Papers all over the continent have been having a good deal of fun commenting on the spectacle of Big Bill Thompson, the "hell-with-King-George" mayor of Edmonton, standing on at platform draped with the British flag while visiting Australian boys sang "God Save the King." Of course, Mayor Thompson's defence no doubt is that he sang

"My Country 'Tis of Thee." You can take it either way, for the tunes are the same.

As a matter of fact that tune of "God Save the King" is almost international. It is of German origin and the German national anthem, "Heil dir im Siegeskranz" is sung to it. The Swiss use it as the tune of their national anthem "Rufst du Mein Vaterland." The Danes also chant it when they sing their national song "Heil dir, dem Liebenden."

While Big Bill might argue he has as good a right to use the tune of "God Save the King" as have the British, he would not stand on such firm ground were he to claim the tune of the Star Spangled Banner. It was taken at it stood from an old English drinking song. So when British citizens are foregathering with those of the United States, of Germany, Switzerland or Denmark, they need feel no hesitation in singing "God Save the King," for all present would be able to join in with their own national anthem.

NOTHING IS WRONG WITH MINING TODAY

(Nelson News)

Mining in the dumps? Not at all; it is simply the market which is not bringing speculators the rapid profits they expected which has proved the disappointment. Mining is progressing more rapidly than at any time in the history of the province.

More development is taking place; more men are employed; metallurgy is constantly progressing; so is geological knowledge and experience.

Mining is doing nicely, thank you.

TELLS ABOUT MAN FROM WHOM PRINCE RUPERT WAS NAMED

(James McGlashan, Prince Rupert)

Prince Rupert was the son of Elector Palatine, Frederick V., by Elizabeth, daughter of James VI. of Scotland and I. of England. He was born at Prague, December 17, 1619, and after some experience in the Thirty Years War on the Protestant side came to England. He accompanied his uncle, Charles I., into the house of commons to arrest the five members—Sir Arthur Hazelrigg, Hollis, Hampton, Pym and Strode—which precipitated the war between King and parliament. Rupert fought at Worcester, Edgehill, Marston Moor and Naseby, proving himself a dashing if somewhat erratic leader. In 1648 he was in command of the Royalist fleet and continued in command till most of the ships were destroyed by Blake off Malaga in 1650. Afterwards he kept away from England until the Restoration, when he saw further naval service against the Dutch. He devoted the last years of his life to the study of science and art and introduced into England the mezzotint process of engraving.

Prince Rupert was also one of the founders of the Hudson's Bay Co., and Rupert's Land was named after him. Prince Rupert died November 29, 1682.

BEAUTIFUL INDIAN HOUSE OF PARLIAMENT ENDANGERED BY BOMBS

When a number of fanatics got into the new House of Parliament at Delhi, India, recently, and flung bombs during a debate of the Legislative Assembly, five members were injured and the noble structure, just completed, was in serious danger of demolition. The timely intervention of the British military authorities prevented a tragedy. The above picture shows the magnificent building as it is seen from the air.

there are 50 other awards. What Canadians Deplore Commenting on the trade relations between Canada and the homeland at a luncheon in connection with Canada Week held in Glasgow yesterday, Major G. B. Johnson, Canadian trade commissioner, said—"Great Britain does not sell in Canada nearly as much as she ought to do and might do. Canadians deplore that and hope British goods will find an increasing market in the Dominion and displace products made in foreign countries." In this connection he suggested that heads of many more firms should go to Canada and make a careful study of the markets there and secure the right kind of representation. As an illustration of Canada's interest in British goods, Major Johnson mentioned that the power commission of the Saskatchewan government and the city of Regina had just placed orders with Glasgow and Newcastle firms for 81,000 pounds of power house machinery—orders which might easily have gone to U. S. A. firms if a sentimental and tariff preference did not exist. Hearty Response The major's appeal for support of Canada Week drew a hearty response from the luncheon guests, representative of the city's commercial and municipal life. Grocers should act as an intelligence department between producer and the public was an interesting point made by Mr. Stevenson, when speaking of selling of Dominion foodstuffs. He also wants the grocery organizations to set up a committee, whose business it would be to advise members on the advance of trade with the dominions.

FISHER BODY.....STYLE AND VALUE STANDARD OF THE WORLD

no other car can give

Fisher Body gives General Motors cars additional value no other cars can give. No other cars can put this several hundred dollars worth of additional value into their bodies because no one else has Fisher advantages or Fisher resources.

Everyone can measure this greater dollars and cents value in a minute because they can see it with their own eyes. The advantages Fisher has over others are shown in finer finish than the others can afford—finer hardware and interior fittings than they can afford—finer upholstery than they can afford—finer and stancher structural work than they can afford. Because they have not Fisher advantages and resources, others have to skimp on the inside and the outside of their bodies in order to hold down the price. Whether you are chiefly interested in only two or three body features, or in body quality as a whole, you should by all means compare the Fisher Body car in the price field in which you are interested, with any or every other car in that field. Only then can you base your decision upon intimate knowledge of the facts.

RESCUE SCENES AT SCHOOL DISASTER

Left shows some of the 52 children injured when a tornado caused the collapse of the school at Red Cove, Va., being placed on the train to rush them outside for medical treatment. Some of the little tots are shown (upper right) being carried from the ruins on stretchers by many of the willing volunteers who rushed to their aid. One of the remarkable stories told by the survivors is illustrated below (right). Principal A. S. Noblin of the school, was outside the building and saw the wind approaching. He was picked up bodily and hurled 75 feet into the pond shown in the foreground. The ruins of the school can be seen in the rear of the pond.

The professional tourist is one who slips his own silver spoon in his pocket by force of habit.

Here's one on the English: Two Scotsmen were going home across a lonely moor one night after a party. It happened that a circus had passed that way, and the gorilla belonging to it had died and been left lying alone uninterred on the moor.

"Och, Sandy, what's you there?" he said. The other man came up and said: "Hayers! It's somebody dead!"

"Who is it, Sandy?" Sandy bent over the dead gorilla. "I canna rightly tell ye, Jock. It's ne a MacPherson, it's neither a MacTavish, and it's too hairy for a McLean. I tell ye, Jock, just run up to the village and see if any o' the English gentry are missin'."

GILL NETTERS ACTIVE NOW

About One Hundred Boats Fishing On Skeena River and Sixty on Naas

There are about 100 gill net boats now fishing for spring salmon at the mouth of the Skeena River, while some 60 boats are similarly engaged on the Naas River. The fishing is not very good as yet, according to word received in Prince Rupert.

The fish are being sold on the fresh fish market or placed in cold storage.

Following the issuance of writs out of Admiralty Court charging the four American trolling boats, which were recently seized by C.G.S. Malaspina, with illegal use of Canadian harbors, it will probably be some time now before anything further of a definite nature transpires in connection with the prosecution of the vessels.

SUN TELLS OF DISMISSAL OF NORMAN WATT

The Vancouver Sun in a full column article on the dismissal of Norman Watt has the following:

Dismissal of Norman Watt, government agent at Prince Rupert, by Hon. W. C. Shelly, is being investigated by the provincial executive of the Canadian Legion.

Mr. Watt is a war veteran. He was badly gassed overseas and his health has been precarious ever since. He is married and has two or three young children.

Mr. Shelly's announcement intimated that Mr. Watt was dismissed for political interference. This his friends here refuse to believe.

Mr. Watt was private secretary to Hon. T. D. Pattullo for some years and when his health proved unequal to the strain of long and irregular hours he was appointed government agent. The vacancy to which he was appointed arose when Col. J. H. McMullin was promoted to be superintendent of police.

Prominent Liberals expressed the opinion that Mr. Watt's dismissal was because of his former association with Mr. Pattullo. During the time he has been government agent they say he has taken no part in politics.

Cyril Orme, prominent Conservative from Prince Rupert, who happens to be in town, said he had never heard of any complaint against Mr. Watt, whom he knows well.

"If they haven't something to hang the dismissal on they will be out of luck," he said, referring to the government.

LOVE COMEDY AT CAPITOL

Also Thrilling Train Robbery In Which Laughs Are Mixed With Villainy

A strong star for "Strong Boy," Victor McLagen's new picture, with a powerful supporting cast and a robust theme, are to be at the Capitol Theatre tonight and tomorrow night. The assisting comedians are Farrel MacDonald, Clyde Cook and "Slim" Summer-ville, "the three Mirthgeteers" of filmdom.

"Strong Boy" is a bustling, strong-armed love comedy that teems with life, tingles with humor and presents the former star of "What Price Glory?" in his sunniest vein. McLagen is cast as a baggage-room Romeo who finds himself in a trunkful of trouble when a baby, a monkey and a rope of pearls get tangled up in his domain. If the start is hectic, the finish is more so for "Strong Boy" concludes with a thrilling train robbery that mixes laughs with villainy. A charming love story of a girl's successful attempt to fire her sweetheart with ambition is skillfully entwined with farcical adventures that will tickle your sense of the ridiculous. Lovely Leatrice Joy is McLagen's little lady.

Vary your dinners with fish and eggs

by Mary Blake

Women often tell me that their greatest difficulty in meal planning is to get variety into the main dish. It is easy enough to build a dinner, once you have selected the meat, but it takes thought to get away from the obvious round of steaks and chops and roasts.

Why not now and then substitute fish or eggs? By combining either one with milk, you have a dish rich in food values—protein, minerals and vitamins. There are any number of delectable ways in which these combinations may be made—omelets of all sorts, creamed eggs, souffles, creamed tuna, shrimp or lobster, scalloped oysters, salmon souffle.

You must have a dependable milk supply. In any cooking that calls for milk, I never take chances. I use nothing but Carnation Milk. I know that it is the purest of high grade milk from selected herds. I know that it is rich in cream—doubly so—for it is evaporated to double thickness. I know that I will always find it sweet and good, no matter how large the quantity I have on hand, for it is sterilized for safe-keeping.

I can count on Carnation always for potently delicious results—extra creaminess, velvety smoothness of texture, and fragrant delicacy of flavor. The best informed domestic scientists agree that it is not only better in results than ordinary bottled milk, but that it is particularly economical.

Carnation Tuna Fish a la King

2 tbs. butter, 1/2 green pepper shredded, 1 hard-cooked egg, 1/2 cup chopped mushrooms, 3 tbs. flour, 1 cup Carnation Milk, 1 cup water, salt and pepper, 1/4 cups tuna fish, 1/2 cup peas. Sauté green pepper and mushrooms in butter until tender (about 10 minutes), keeping covered. Remove mushrooms and pepper and blend flour with butter; add Carnation diluted with water and cook until mixture is thickened, stirring constantly. Place flaked tuna fish, peas, egg, mushrooms and pepper in double boiler; add sauce; cook over hot water 10 minutes. Serve in party shells or on toast points. Serve with Lobster or shrimp may be used in place of tuna.

Baked Eggs a la Carnation

1 1/4 tbs. butter, 1 1/4 tbs. flour, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper, 1/2 cup Carnation Milk, 1/2 cup water, 4 to 6 eggs, buttered bread crumbs. Make white sauce of butter, flour, seasonings and Carnation diluted with water. Pour into shallow baking dish. Cover with eggs, being careful not to break yolks. Sprinkle buttered bread crumbs over top and bake in moderately slow (325°F.) oven until eggs are firm. Garnish with parsley.

The Best of Milk

Carnation Milk is simply pure, sweet whole milk, evaporated to double creaminess. Nothing is added; nothing removed but about half the water. Try this dependable, convenient, economical milk.
