ALEUTIAN SANK IN 7 MINUTES

BRITISH POLITICAL LEADERS ACTIVE TODAY

Steamship Aleutian Sank Rapidly After Striking off Kodiak Island on Sunday

Stern Rose High in Air and Air Pressure Blew Towels and Other Articles Through Port Holes

SEWARD, May 28.—Stories of heroism and efficient work that prevented heavy loss of life as the steamer Aleutian sank in seven minutes off Kodiak Island Sunday reached here late Monday by radio.

The vessel had had a bad list and sank rapidly. Only a few persons suffered minor injuries and there was only one death, that of Manuel Dorras, the ship janitor.

Almost all of the 15 passengers and 115 members of the crew were safely placed in the lifeboats, which were picked up shortly after the vessel sank by the S. S. Surveyor. A few persons who jumped into the water were picked up by small boats.

The Aleutian sank in mid-channel at the south end of Amook Island after striking an uncharted submerged rock. She filled rapidly and slid off the rock into water more than 200 feet deep. The bad list hampered the work of launching the lifeboats, but they were filled and launched without confusion. As the Aleutian sank the stern of the vessel was thrown high in the air. Air pressure within the ship caused towels and other articles to be shot through the port holes with great force.

All who jumped into the water were picked up by small boats and some of the passengers were taken to the cannery at Larsen Bay by gasboat and from that place news of the disaster was broadcast.

The Surveyor was at anchor at Zachar Bay and rushed to the scene of the sinking. It met the cannery tender Raven towing the lifeboats and took the survivors aboard.

The Aleutian is completely submerged with the hull so badly shredded that it is believed to be impossible to raise her.

McRae Amendment Defeated in House at Ottawa and a Plea for the Peace Railway

OTTAWA, May 28.—Without a recorded vote the amendment of Gen. A. D. McRae, Conservative member for North Vancouver, was declared lost in the House of Commons last night. The amendment was moved on the Government motion to go into supply for consideration of the immigration department estimates. It expressed regret at the failure of the Government to profit by the Canadian experience in the colonization and settlement of the country.

FLOUR FREIGHTS ARE REDUCED TO MEET U. S. CUT

MONTREAL, May 28.—A statement issued by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways today announces their decision to reduce rates on wheat flour from bay ports and intermediate points to Canadian ports in order to meet similar reductions by United States railways.

HOOVER WILL TAKE HOLIDAYS IN JUNE

WASHINGTON, May 28.—It is announced that following the close of the present session of Congress, President Hoover will tour the country for about a month and also spend a month at his home at Palo Alto.

Immediately after the amendment had been declared lost the House went into committee of supply on the estimates of the immigration department.

D. M. Kennedy, member for Peace River, said he felt that the present was not the time to encourage immigration to the Peace River because hundreds of homesteaders were without railway facilities there. The immediate problem was one of transportation. The farmers of the Peace River had lost millions of dollars in the past two years because of lack of adequate transportation facilities.

J. F. Fraser, Conservative member for Carleton Place, declared that the Government should see that modern facilities followed the settler into new lands.

OTTAWA, May 28.—Supplementary estimates will be brought down in the House Friday, the Prime Minister announced today.

Quiet Ceremony Yesterday Afternoon Was Shrouded in Secrecy

ENGLEWOOD, N.J., May 28.—Colonel Charles A. Lindberg, hero of a successful lone flight across the Atlantic, was married yesterday afternoon to Miss Anne Morrow, daughter of the United States ambassador to Mexico, at the family home here.

All the wedding arrangements were shrouded in secrecy. Lindberg and Miss Morrow went for an auto ride in the morning and immediately on their return early in the afternoon the wedding ceremony was performed before a flower laden altar in one of the rooms of the Morrow home.

Orders were given to have a big airplane ready to leave this morning at 8.

Colonel and Mrs. Lindberg

Prominent young American people were married quietly yesterday at the home of the bride's parents at Englewood, New Jersey. Mrs. Lindberg was Miss Anne Morrow, daughter of the U.S. Ambassador to Mexico.

M'RAE OBJECTS TO NEW TREATY

OTTAWA, May 28.—General A. D. McRae, Conservative member for North Vancouver protested in the marine and fisheries committee of the House yesterday against the Canada-United States salmon fisheries pact having been signed by the Dominion before submission to the marine and fisheries committee. "Every man on the Pacific Coast wants a sockeye salmon fisheries treaty but only a few want this treaty," he decided. He objected to the extension of the northern boundary under this convention in contradistinction to the boundary under the 1920 pact.

W. A. Found, deputy minister of fisheries, said the treaty was a matter of the two concerned sharing expenses in order to do something essential to build up the run of fish common to the two countries. "The crux of the treaty is the repatriation of these fisheries," he said.

OPEN HOURS ON WARSHIP NAMED CHURCH PARADE

It was announced from H. M. S. Colombo this afternoon that the ship would be open to visitors on Thursday and Sunday afternoons between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock. The attorney for Clark objected to the questions, but was overruled by the judge.

Local Drydock is Kept Busy With Small Work 120 Men are Employed

All the pontoons at the drydock are now full and the plant is generally quite busy with a rather large program of miscellaneous work. There are 120 men on the payroll today. The most important jobs now under way are the repair of the American halibut schooner Doric, which recently went ashore on Kinahan Island, and the reconditioning of the cold storage scow of the B. C. Packers, which has been sold by the underwriters to a Vancouver packing concern. There are also a number of fishing vessels in for overhaul and painting.

G. A. McMillan, superintendent of the plant, stated this morning that there was quite a bit of further work lined up which would keep the yard busy for some time to come.

Phillip Snowden Attacks Action of France and Thomas Would Start Anew

MENACE TO BRITAIN

Speakers Declare They Will Not Stand By and See Country Bled White

LONDON, May 28.—Both Right Hon. Phillip Snowden and Right Hon. S. H. Thomas, former cabinet ministers, last night returned to the war debts question and attacked the settlements as unfair to Britain.

"The French budget just published discloses a surplus," said Mr. Snowden at Bradford. "France is relieving taxation to the extent of ten million pounds. She is spending money she ought to have paid us, is lending Poland and other states for purposes of military equipment. She is spending it in creating the greatest air fleet in the world, which, as Lord Balfour said, could be a menace only to Great Britain. She is also spending money in making herself a more formidable competitor of this country in the world's trade markets."

At Derby Mr. Thomas declared: "It would be far better to end all the settlements and start afresh. But if they are not going to be wiped out we are not going to stand by and see our country bled white for the benefit of other nations."

EDUCATIONAL BILL PROMISED GREAT BRITAIN

Premier Baldwin in Election Speech Forecasts Change in Present Law

LONDON, May 28.—Premier Stanley Baldwin last night addressed an enormous election meeting at Malvern and said the time had come for a new education bill that would rank with the greatest educational acts of the past. He claimed that no greater progress had been made in education throughout the country in any five-year period than during the administration just closed and added that the Conservatives considered the time ripe to focus the salient points in modern education. He did not go into detail on the form his educational bill would take.

UZCUDEN AND SCHEMLING MEET IN HEAVY BOUT

Max Schmeling, right, has settled his managerial troubles temporarily and commenced serious training for the Milk Fund fights at New York. He takes on the Woodchopping Basque, Paolo Uzcuden, left, who has been a stumbling block to many fighters on their way to the top of the lists. Whether the miniature Dempsey can take this customer into tow or not is the big question now in fightland. It means plenty to the German if he is able to floor Paolino.

PIRATES CLUB WAY TO FRONT IN NATIONAL

Only Half a Game From First Place Result Yesterday's Games

NEW YORK, May 28.—Gaining momentum day by day the Pittsburgh Pirates have clubbed their way into second place in the National League with the pace-setting position only half a game away. With Jess Petty on the mound yesterday the Buccaneers pounded out a victory over the Cardinals, relegating the latter to third place, and almost caught Chicago, who lost to Cincinnati.

The Cubs fell a victim to a six-run rally on the eighth, much to the delight of the Reds, who had lost nine consecutive games.

Good pitching by Ray Benge and Claude Willoughby gave the Phillies both ends of a double bill with Boston.

In the American League the Browns shaved half a game off the Athletics' lead by downing Cleveland.

Chicago was surprised with a double victory over Buckey Harris' Detroit Tigers.

REBEKAHS FAREWELL DEPARTING MEMBER

Mrs. I. Pelletier Honored Last Night at Home of Mrs. S. V. Cox

Monday evening a large number of Rebekahs gathered at the home of Mrs. S. V. Cox to farewell Mrs. I. Pelletier, vice grand of the local lodge, who is leaving the city on Thursday to join Mr. Pelletier in Smithers.

During the evening Mrs. Pelletier was presented with a Rebekah ring and pin by Mrs. A. Mackenzie, Noble Grand, on behalf of those present. She was well surprised and responded in her usual good manner.

The Rebekah and Oddfellow Orchestra, assisted by Miss M. Lawrence, were in attendance and played selections. After dainty refreshments were served the gathering broke up with all joining in singing the songs "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "The More We Are to Gather."

After showers of good wishes had been extended, all wended their way homeward, feeling they had spent a very happy evening although sorry to lose a member from the fold.

Son of Jack Selvig Writing Articles for Oslo Newspaper About Western Canada

Per Selvig, son of Jack Selvig of this city, a journalist connected with the greatest Liberal newspaper in Norway, Tidens Tegn of Oslo, who is here in connection with immigration matters, plans to spend the summer here. He came out with the settlers from Norway and travelled on a Colonist car, passing through the immigration sheds at Winnipeg, and learning at first hand how the immigrants are treated.

Mr. Selvig stopped off at a number of points along the route and went to a Norwegian settlement in the Peace River country. Now he plans looking into the fishing conditions here and will probably return by way of southern British Columbia.

Throughout the trip he has been keeping his paper informed as to conditions and he will also describe the fisheries on this coast.

While here Mr. Selvig is living with his father.

WARSHIP WINS SOCCER MATCH

H. M. S. Colombo Beats Prince Rupert Eleven By Score of Four to One

While the best team, no doubt, won, play in the football match at the Acropolis Hill grounds last night between H. M. S. Colombo and Prince Rupert all stars was much evened than the 4 to 1 score in favor of the visiting warship denotes. There was a soaking drizzle throughout the game but drenched players held on valiantly and a large crowd of fans witnessed the match in spite of the unpleasantness of the weather.

Players from the warship had the best of things by a wide margin in the first half during the course of which they made all their four goals. The naval scorers were: Triggs, 2; Robinson, and Dunbar.

Prince Rupert came up from behind in the second half and pressed all the way and might well have had more than the single goal which Charlie Baptie turned in.

Master at Arms Crompt of H. M. S. Colombo was an efficient referee. Linesmen were A. B. Doring and Alex Clapperton.

Teams were:

H. M. S. Colombo (Sub-Lieut. Coode, sports officer)—Roper, Bass and Dunbar; Payne, Field and Clark; Robinson, Newton, Triggs, Marley and Obray.

Prince Rupert—Brand; Haig and Erskine; Hill, Currie and Tinker; Wilson, Russell, Baptie, W. Mitchell and Chenoski.

CRUISER HERE; VISITORS BUSY

Mayor Pays His Respects to Captain Dobson of Colombo and Call Returned

An hour ahead of the scheduled time, the trim, grey light cruiser Colombo, Capt. C. C. Dobson V. C., D. S. O., of the North American West Indies squadron slipped quietly into Prince Rupert harbor a few minutes after three o'clock yesterday afternoon for an eight day visit in the course of a cruise of the Pacific Coast. The presence in port of the warship is causing the usual stir about town and many citizens were on the waterfront yesterday as the ship tied up at C.N.R. jetty No. 1.

A suitable program of entertainment has been arranged for the personnel of the ship while here. The vessel will also be opened to visitors at regular occasions during her stay here.

The Colombo, which was here last in August 1927, has been at Esquimalt before coming here but has yet to visit other ports on the coast.

Soon after the warship tied up yesterday afternoon, Lieut. Col. S. P. McMordie, mayor of the city, called on Capt. Dobson to pay his respects and extend an official welcome on behalf of the city. Capt. Dobson returned the amenity by calling at the mayor's office this morning.

The man who puts his heart into his work uses very good material.

Sport Chat

The naval boxing tournament being put on at the Exhibition Building on Thursday night promises to be one of the best events of this kind ever attempted in Prince Rupert. For the main event, Marine Bill Venables of H.M.S. Colombo will take on Benny Wendle, former local boy, for ten rounds. Venables is the undefeated champion of the British Army and Navy in his weight and with this reputation should prove a good man and hard to beat, while Wendle, who has tackled some tough boys during his sojourn in the south, should prove a good match for the marine. It will also give the local fight fans a chance to see him again.

For the semi-final, the six round bout between Able Seaman Annette and Nina Gurvich should prove a thriller as Annette is slated to be a fast boy, and the local boy is not so slow either. The six round heavyweight bout between Stoker Everard and Gustafson should prove a good match, as both are itching to go. The bout between Able Seaman Burratt and Brick Skinner and the other three bouts on the card should also be interesting. Prince Rupert fight fans are assured a good evening of boxing.

FOOTBALL LINE-UP

The following are the local players selected for the second football game tomorrow night with H. M. S. Colombo: Brand; Haig and Erskine; J. K. Murray, Sam Currie and R. Woods; A. Mitchell, F. Russell, C. Baptie, D. Jack and C. J. Norrington; reserves, A. Macdonald, George Howe and J. Campbell.

Police found two skates of halibut gear, valued at $35 each, on their trolling boat Rainbow. They are alleged to have been stolen from Capt. Charlie Lundquist's halibut boat Ingrid H.

Tait and Sankey will appear shortly before Judge F. McB. Young in County Court for election.

Three more tax sale lots were disposed of by the city council last night on recommendation of the finance committee. Lot 76, block 20, section 2 was sold to Roi Barnes and Leontine Barnes for $200 while lots 3 and 4, block 3, section 7, on Ambrose Avenue were turned over to Edwin Chun at a price of $180.

PRUDHOMME IS ON WAR PATH

Scores Over-Expenditure on Trunk Sewer and Declares He Will Vote Against Bylaw

BROWN OBJECTS

As a protest against the manner in which the public works department of the city was carrying on its work, Ald. Prudhomme announced to the city council last night that he intended to vote against a money bylaw which is coming up this week to cover a deficit of $19,000 on trunk sewer construction. He reiterated a demand that he has on several occasions in the past made that there should be a thorough reorganization of the city engineer's department. As for the $19,000 in question, Ald. Prudhomme declared that it was a waste of money. In spite of this, another sewer project was being embarked upon.

Ald. Brown, chairman of the Board of Works, sarcastically congratulated Ald. Prudhomme on his loyalty to the council. As a member of last year's Board of Works, Ald. Brown declared that Ald. Prudhomme had been a party to that over-expenditure. After the original estimate had been made and the money bylaw passed, the Board of Works had decided that a more expensive grade of pipe should be used. Ald. Prudhomme was as much a party to that decision as had been any other member of last year's Board of Works or council.

Mayor McMordie agreed with Ald. Brown's views on this point. Ald. Prudhomme replied that he felt his loyalty was due not so much to the council as to the rate-payers of the city. He criticized the cost of grading McBride Street and asked if something could not be done in the matter of repairs to Conrad Street which was in bad condition. Ald. Prudhomme also enquired as to how many clerks the city engineer had in his office.

Ald. Brown replied that there was a clerk and a stenographer. A few years ago there had been an assistant engineer and clerk and there was not half the work going on then that there was now with a trunk sewer under construction as well as much road work under way. Though the engineer was now getting along without an assistant, Ald. Prudhomme even begrudged him a clerk. The discussion came to a close with a motion to adjourn.

WELCOME COLOMBO

Prince Rupert welcomes the British cruiser Colombo to the port. The people here are always pleased to see British ships in these waters and when they come and spend a week with us, we like it still better. We hope Captain Dobson and his officers and men will enjoy their visit and come again.

THE EARTH TREMBLED

Just to remind us of the fact that we are just sojourners on the surface of a ball of fire the earth shook a little here on Sunday and caused a good deal of conversation and speculation. It reminded us that we are not very far from the volcanic region of Alaska and also brought back the realization that almost within the memory of man there was an active volcano near here in the Naas valley.

After all, our huge earth is but a tiny portion of an immense universe and while its shivers may mean a good deal to us, it is as nothing compared with the convulsions going on in some of the other heavenly bodies.

ELECTION RETURNS

While it is possible a few of the British election returns may be received here on Thursday, it will be Friday before much idea can be obtained as to how the present parties will be affected. Prince Rupert people will probably have to wait until then and possibly it may even be Saturday before the standing of the parties can be ascertained with any degree of accuracy.

There is little change in the general situation. It seems quite possible that the Baldwin Government may be defeated or kept in power by the vote of the Liberals. The situation will be a most complicated one if the Conservatives get less than a majority vote in the next house.

Presidential Address Delivered
Last Night at Victoria by Head of the Daughters of the Empire

VICTORIA, B.C., May 28. — In her presidential address at the opening of the 28th annual meeting of the National Chapter Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, in the Empress Hotel last night, Mrs. John A. Stewart of Perth, Ont., brought before the delegates for their consideration and action during the coming year: self-education of each member in the work being done by the order as a whole to be accompanied by co-operation between the different chapters; increase in membership; whole-hearted support of the order's education and immigration policies; child welfare activities; and steady progress in the formation of girl guide companies as a means to draw the younger generations of women into the order's ranks.

"If each member makes some contribution along these lines the progress in the next twelve months will be an amazing one," Mrs. Stewart said.

The past year had been one of importance to the order in more ways than one, the president said. It started with the order's tour of English schoolgirls, of which the delegates would receive full reports during the meeting. This "very successful piece of empire propaganda," she said, demonstrated that the order's most valuable asset was the spirit of unity, which should be fostered and guarded by each and every member as part of her personal obligation.

"Our organization, by its very being," she said, "has put itself on record as chiefly concerned with the building up of a strong Canadian citizenship, British in its ideals, traditions and affiliations, so it behooves us to watch the question of immigration very carefully and to do our share, perhaps even more than our share in 'chaunting this result.'"

After referring to the recent ceremony at Ottawa, where the portrait of the order's foundress, the late Mrs. Clark Murray was unveiled in the Archives Building, Mrs. Stewart discussed the child welfare work of the order, which she said was a very valuable contribution to the national well-being. While this year there had been nothing very conspicuous reported, she said steady progress had been made in the various undertakings to build up Canadian citizenship along healthy sane, British lines.

"We must gain and retain the interest of the younger generations if the order is to continue its growth in the future as in the past," Mrs. Stewart said. "I would urge on every chapter, where it is possible, that they interest themselves in some way in girl guide companies irrespective of whether they are companies formed by our own organization or otherwise."

Mrs. Stewart reported some slight increase in the order's membership this year, but she urged the chapters to concentrate on a much greater increase for the year to come. As the work of the order grew in breadth and importance the cost of its administration was bound to rise in proportion, she said, and this should be met by a larger membership.

There was a tendency among the chapters to support many outside agencies, Mrs. Stewart said, and she urged the chapters to concentrate on the order's work and support the order's own causes first before contributing both in work and money to other objects. Declaring that unity of thought and effort for the good of the whole was of great importance, she urged the chapters to get together, work together, grow together, so that they would deserve the compliment paid by an officer of another nationwide organization, "that no body of men or women outside our dominion parliament can speak with such a national voice as the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire."

"No generations in the history of mankind have ever had the responsibilities to the future that our generations have today, especially in a new and potential country such as this dominion," Mrs. Stewart said. "When you become a member of this order, you admit such responsibilities and it is only by helping each other, building up our order, increasing our membership and closing up our ranks that we can fulfil the great destiny that lies before us as a loyal body of British women in this our beloved land, the leading dominion of our great empire."

APPRECIATES HOSPITAL

Editor, Daily News:—
I hope you will find space in your paper for a few words of appreciation of the treatment I have received whilst a patient in the Prince Rupert General Hospital for over five months.

I wish to pay tribute to the members of the nursing staff, for their unflinching cheerfulness and patience, often under very trying conditions, and with their excellent efficiency. Prince Rupert is indeed to be congratulated on its excellent doctors, and the staff of the general hospital, and I shall always look back, with sincere gratitude and pleasure to my sojourn in that institution.

Island of Orleans—Island of Bacchus

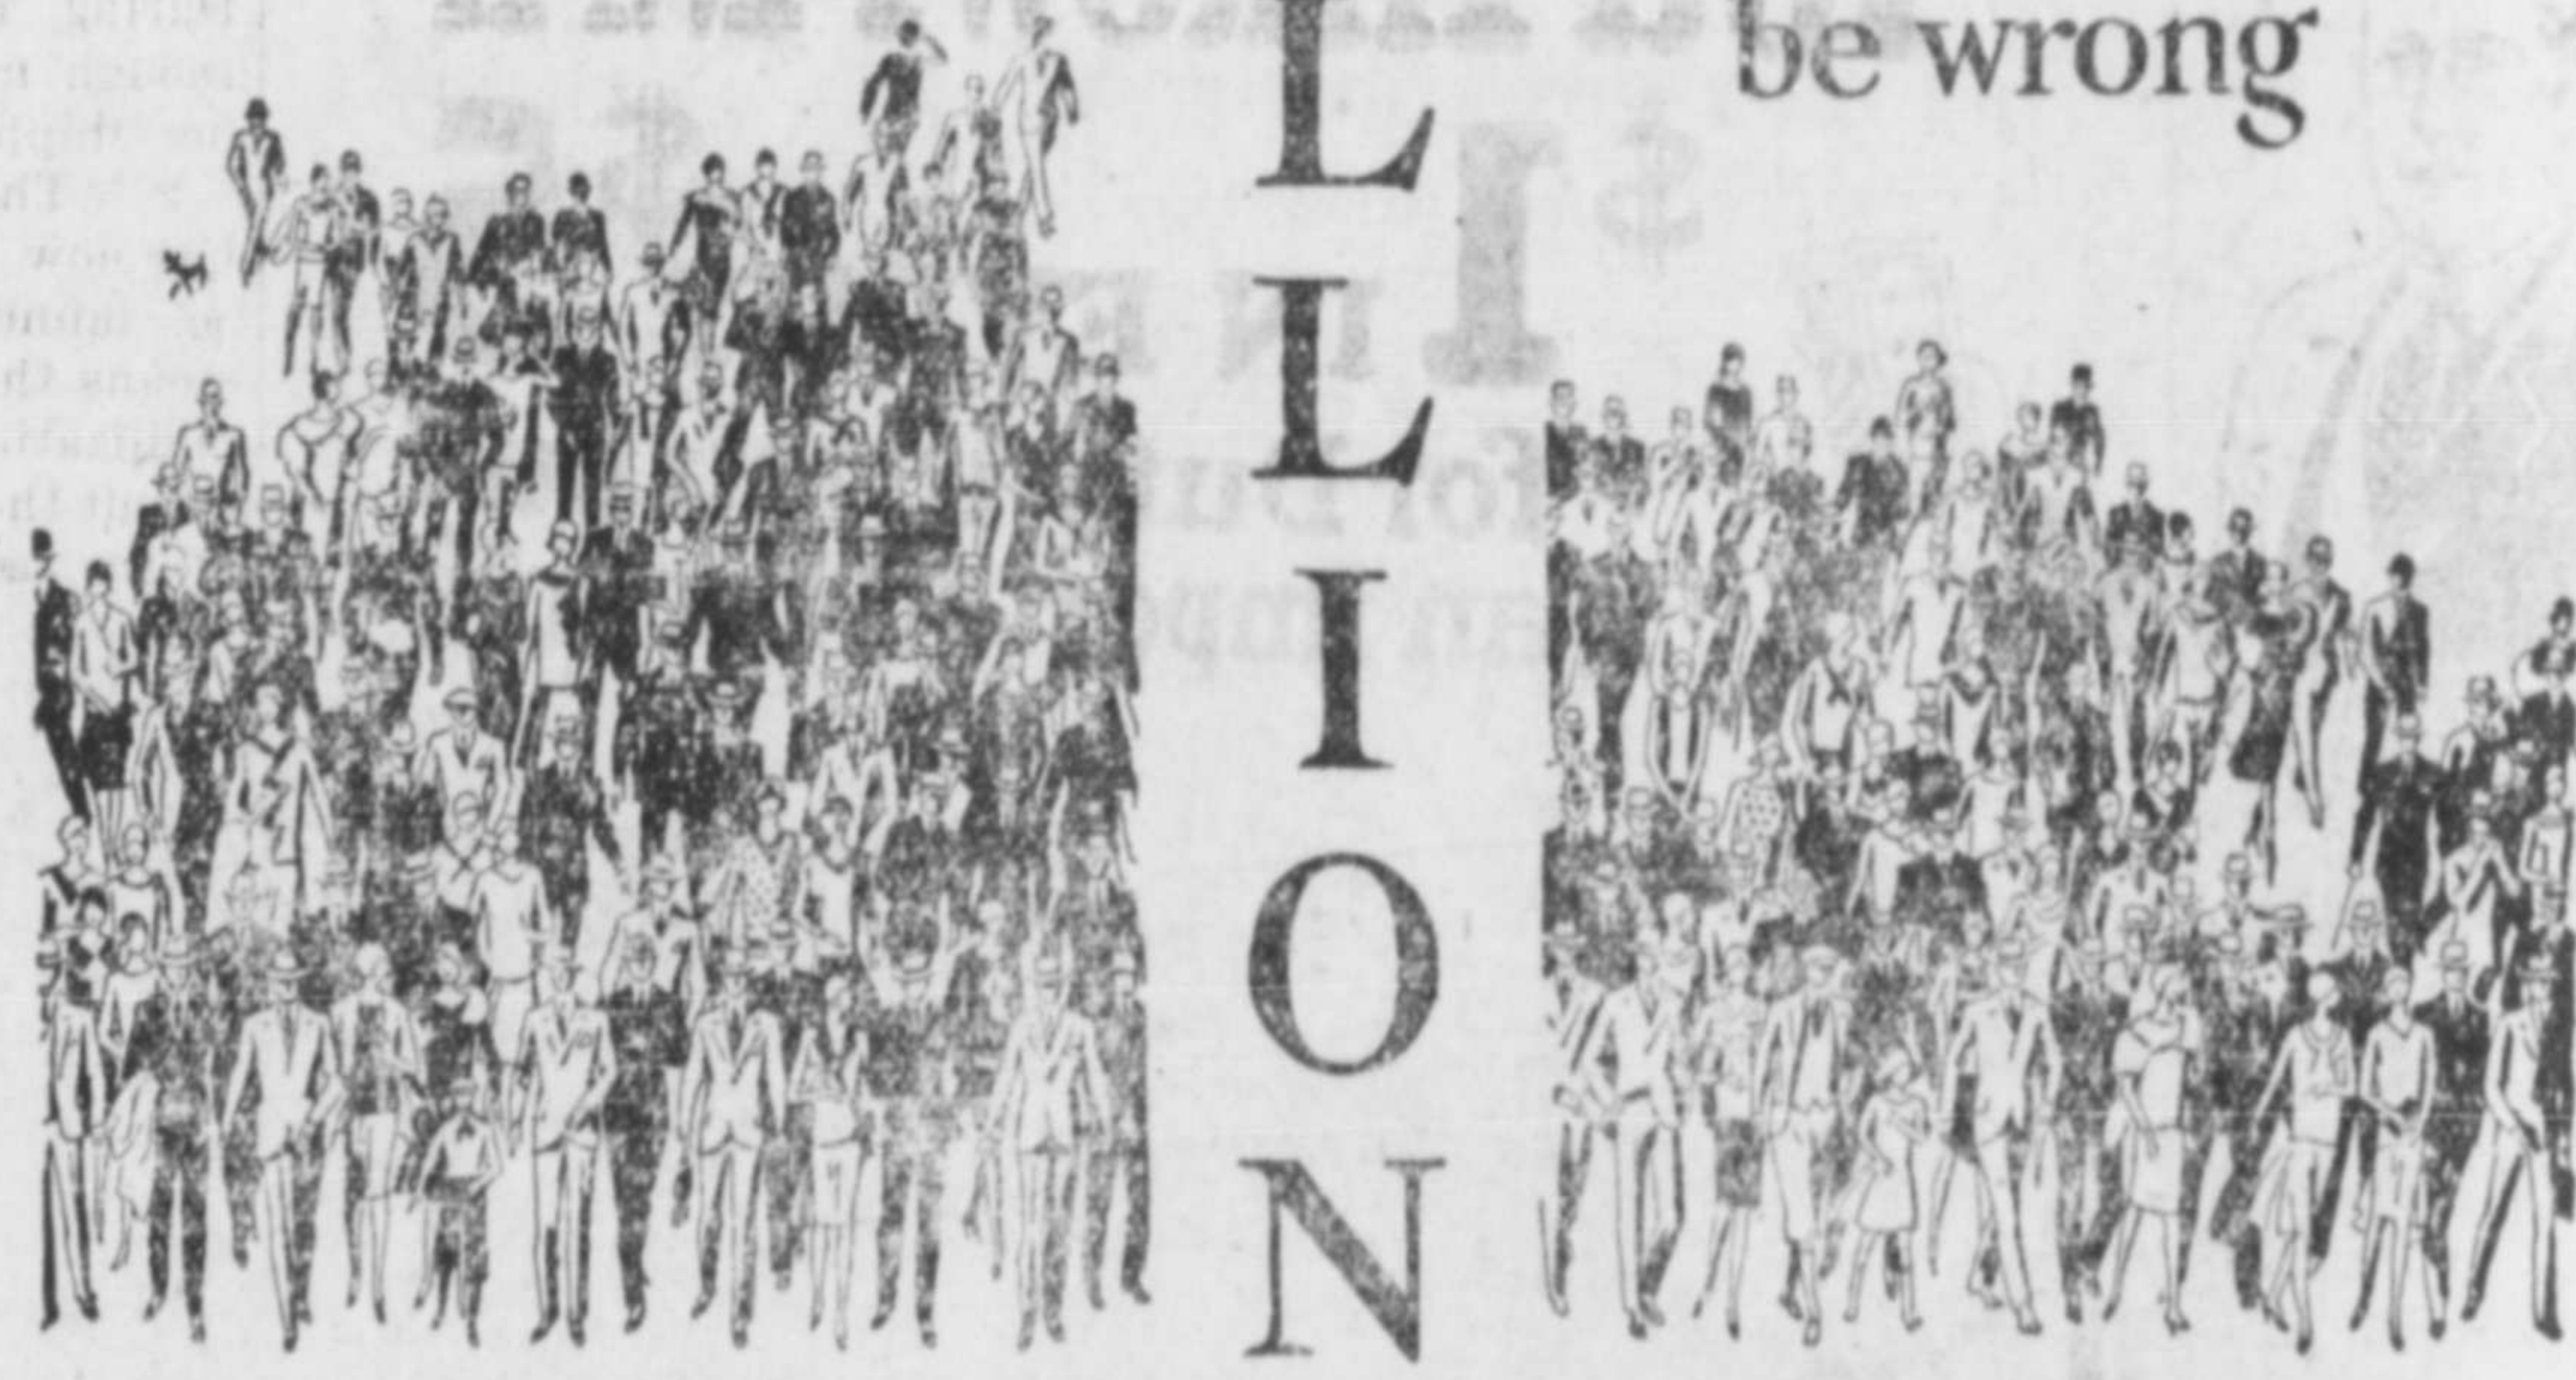

The ship may be as old as the wayside shrine, and only oxen tramp where Cartier found the Indian and the vines. The house by the road is more than 250 years old.

"WE likewise found quantities of vines such as we had seen nowhere else in the world and which led us to call this the 'Island of Bacchus'." Thus the Saint Malo captain, Cartier, who discovered the Isle of Orleans in 1535 first named it. Four hundred years. Ships of the adventurer, the explorer, the pioneer, the builder of empire and later, great ships of commerce followed those of Cartier, but the Isle of Bacchus has not known them all and has slept before the portal of the new world for many generations. Not that it has been forgotten, but that the bigger ships have gone by. Industry has not destroyed its charm and today it remains, if not the pristine Isle of Cartier, a piece of old France as translated by those who shortly followed him. The illustrations above typify the island. "Progress" has been slow. Its people have learned the secret of content. Their tongue, their modes, their homes are of a century ago. They weave their catalogue; live in homespun. They are blessed with old people. Yet, a short ferry distance away, Quebec with its ramparts, its Chateau Frontenac and its ocean shipping, keeps pace with the advances of the times. At Ste. Petronille, one of the quaint little villages where wealthy Quebec has its summer homes, an inn has this year been opened, so that it is now possible for the visitor to rest for a while and absorb at leisure the charm and beauty of the forgotten island. But he must be prepared to eat of the good viands of the Habitant and to live a little closer to the homespun. The people of the island will welcome him with good-nature but they have little liking for the modern. They have the secret of content and good-living on the Island of Bacchus. The name of the new Inn is La Catalogne and it once was a seignorial mansion.

World Peace and the Means to Secure it Were Discussed in Lecture to Parent-Teachers

The modern trend toward peace and the various world movements initiated with a view to help make it effective were discussed at a recent meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association by Professor F. H. Soward of the University of British Columbia. He dealt with the Kellogg-Briand pact to outlaw war, the problem of disarmament and the world court, and concluded with an appeal to form a local branch of the League of Nations Society in Prince Rupert.

The lecturer stated that the period 1914-1918 was noted for its extraordinary rapidity of experiment. Never in any previous age in history had men been more actively engaged in enterprise and experiment. For the first time in history the nearest approach to a world society of nations had been formed. The intellectual vigor of minorities in various countries had awakened the life of their nations to try new experiments in government, as, for example, Fascism in Italy; Communism in Russia; and the Kuomintang in China. A great experiment had been made in domestic legislation in the United States, where a country of over one hundred million people was engaged in enforcing nation-wide prohibition. These are indicative of what is going on in the world of government.

Similar experiments were going on in the world of society. During this period great social forces have been astir, as never before, to bring the ends of the earth together on the basis of a common human effort. Today there is no such thing as an independent political unit in the old meaning of that term.

The Kellogg-Briand Treaty

The Kellogg-Briand treaty, which is largely America's contribution to world peace, was the outcome of two great problems:

1. That a war between two great nations must inevitably cause a world war. No part of the world can escape its effect, even if not actively engaged. e.g., During the great war, Norway, though neutral, lost one-third of her shipping.

2. That the machinery of war has now become so effective that to launch another great war means the destruction of western civilization. The lecturer pointed out that due to the experiments of the last ten years one present day war airplane is equal in effectiveness to 400 war planes of 1918. War would not be carried on in terms of fronts, but in terms of areas of war planes. War would begin not by killing the soldiers in the field, but by bombing capitals, docks, warehouses and munition plants, in order to terrorize the nation and demoralize its armies. The bombardment of London by 55 war planes during manoeuvres last August showed that there is no effective weapon against aircraft except counter attack. The dropping of gases and disease germs, though forbidden by law, would be carried out for these laws would go by the board in war time.

Every European government is frightened of war and does not want war, yet is afraid to disarm. Nations have tried to get around this difficulty through a search for security. The League of Nations has given much security, but there are holes in the covenant through which war may break forth. The lecturer mentioned the schemes which the nations proposed in their search for security to fill these gaps in the covenant, e.g., the Geneva protocol and the Locarno pact. But the most fatal handicap to world peace was the absence of the United States from the league. Professor Soward showed by taking a supposititious case of two nations going to war that the economic weapon of the league, the blockade and economic boycott, would be rendered ineffective if the United States insisted on maintaining its neutral rights. This dilemma held up the success of the league in enforcing world peace. The Kellogg peace pact fills this gap.

Arctide Briand on the tenth anniversary of United States entry into the world war made his first definite proposal to the American people to outlaw war. This was followed in June by his submitting to the United States a draft of a pact of perpetual friendship between France and United States. Subsequent negotiations started by the United States extended the idea to that of a multilateral treaty, which has now been accepted by 62 nations. For the first time in the world's history 62 nations have agreed to "condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another," and have agreed that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts which may arise among them shall never be sought except by peaceful means.

World Court

It follows from this, Professor Soward pointed out, that nations must tighten up all methods of peaceful organization, as, for example, compulsory arbitration and the compulsory jurisdiction of the world court. Sixteen states, including Germany, have already agreed by special treaty to submit all legal disputes with other states to the world court. The Kellogg peace pact solves the League of Nations difficulty in enforcing the blockade, for, if a nation breaks the league covenant, it also breaks the Kellogg pact, and no United States government would resist the use of the blockade by the league against any state which broke the Kellogg pact.

Finally, if nations promise not to fight, but to settle all disputes by peaceful means, then it naturally follows that armaments must be reduced. Professor Soward pointed out the difficulties owing to the clashing points of view which are met when nations attempt to tackle the compulsory and simultaneous reduction of armaments. The meaning of the term "armaments" and the difficulty of establishing a common scale were discussed.

Mr. Soward also discussed the various conferences which have been held for the purpose of limiting armaments; the first Washington conference, called by President Harding, which limited battle ships and aircraft carriers; the Washington conference of 1927, which collapsed on account of the deadlock between Great Britain and United States of America over cruisers and gun armament; the league commission after Locarno, which accomplished little on account of the difficulty of defining the term "armament." The recent overture of the United States that "reduction" in armaments rather than limitation should be sought and Great Britain's hearty agreement is a sign that progress has been made.

Mr. Soward concluded by stressing that the solution of these problems demand an intelligent and fair minded public opinion. There were four effective weapons for stressing world peace and each should be used. These are the church, the press, the school, and good discussion.

League of Nations Society

Mr. Soward now dropped his role of university professor and spoke as president of the Vancouver branch of the League of Nations Society. Canada had played and is playing a very important part in the political and social work of the league. There are branches of the League of Nations Society all over Canada. The society sends out good speakers, men like Sir Herbert Ames, from time to time to visit and address the branch societies. He urged and hoped that Prince Rupert would organize a branch on non-party lines to discuss and study international problems.

"The world's a small place," said the bore. "For instance, at Easter in Paris I met a man who lives in the next road to me. Later I met him in Venice, then in Rome, again in Alexandria, and finally I crossed the Channel with him. What do you think of that?" "Why didn't you pay him what you owed him in the first place?" asked the little man in the corner.—Fun.

In order to arrive in Terrace for service Sunday evening, Mr. Allan had to leave Mr. McConnell at Houston and take the train from that point. He reports a very enjoyable trip, with good roads all the way. Mr. McConnell will ship the car from Hazelton and expects to arrive home early in the week.

Much to the regret of the people in this district, Mr. Allan is being transferred to Ganges Harbor, B.C., and his place here is being taken by Rev. H. T. Allen, B.A., B.D., formerly of McBride. The latter is a married man with two small children.

HARD TO FOLLOW

At a small country church a newly married couple were receiving some advice.

"You must never both get cross at once. It is the husband's duty to protect his wife whenever an occasion arises; and a wife must love and honor and obey her husband and follow him wherever he goes."

"But—" pleaded the young bride.

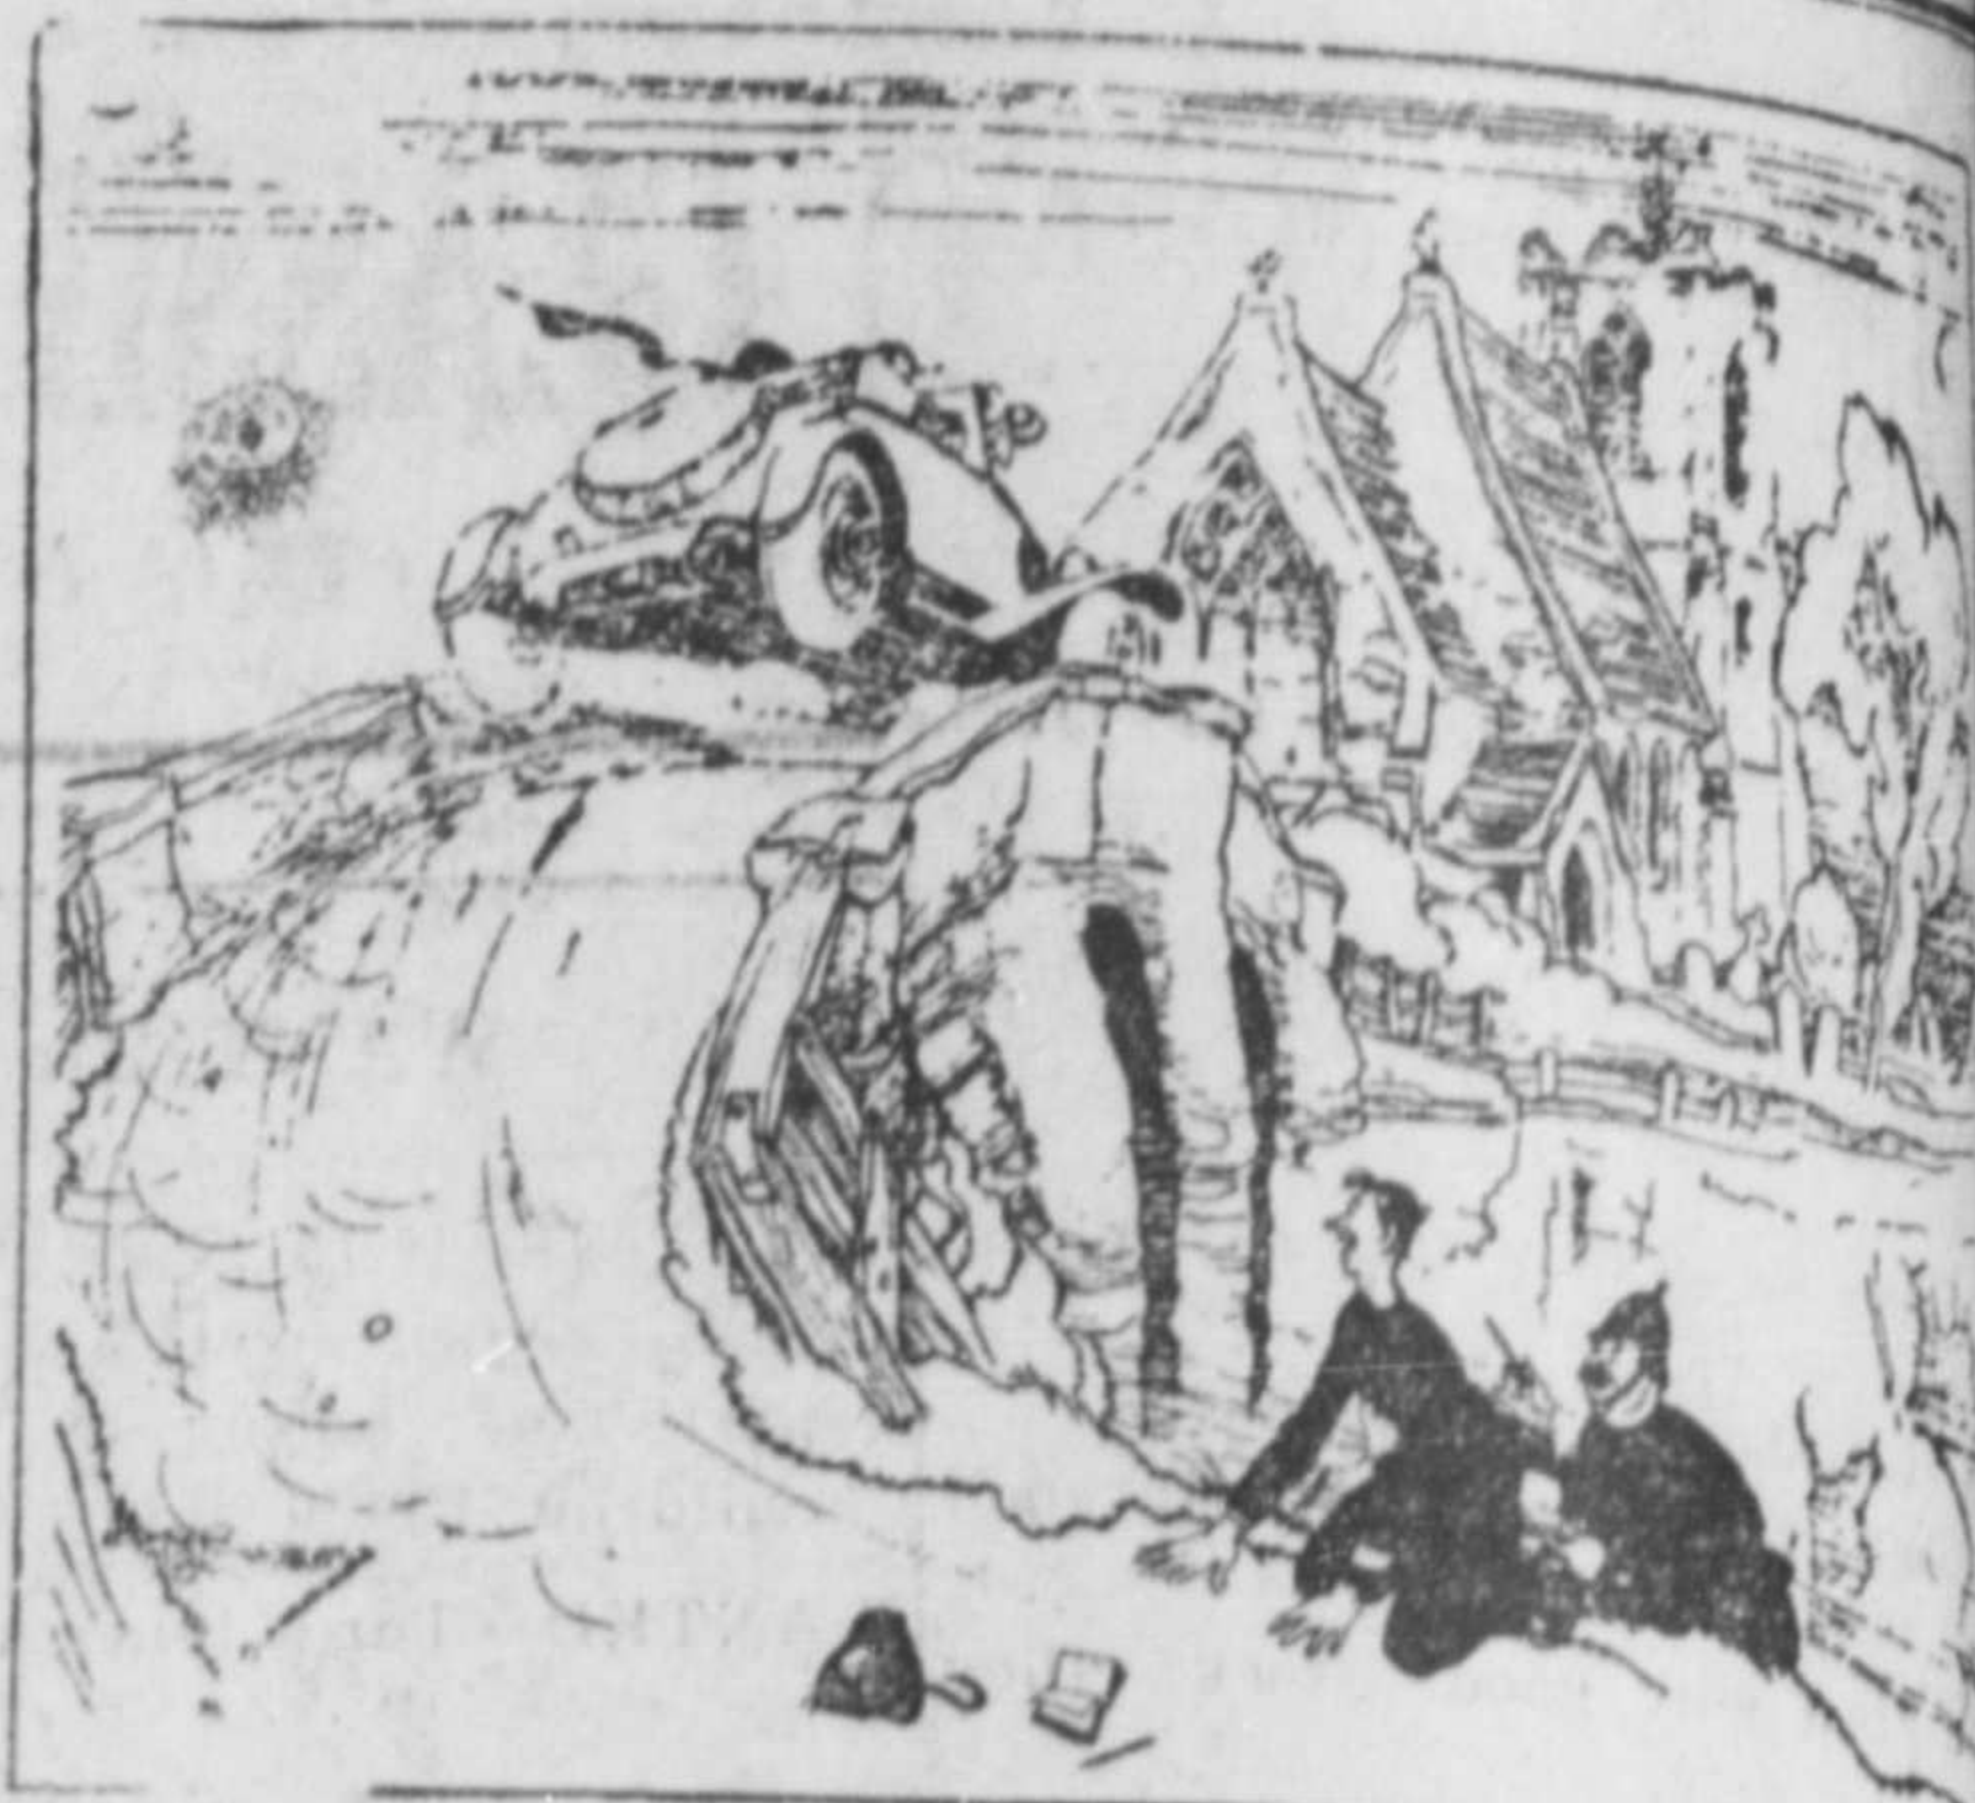

"I haven't finished yet," remarked the clergyman. "She must—" "But, please"—in desperation—"can't you alter that last part? My husband is a postman."—Pearson's Weekly.

BASEBALL FOR TERRACE SPORT

School Sports Are Held Over Until June but Dance on May 24 Was Success

TERRACE, May 28.—Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the school sports which were arranged for Victoria Day have been postponed until June 3. Quite a crowd gathered at the athletic park, however, and two baseball games were played. In the game played in the forenoon the Trail Rangers suffered defeat at the hands of a team of non-rangers, while in the afternoon the Native Sons' team won over the high school team with a score of 14-9.

A very large crowd was in attendance at the Canadian Legion dance on Friday night and the merriment was kept up until daylight. A four-piece orchestra furnished music and the W. A. to the Legion had charge of refreshments.

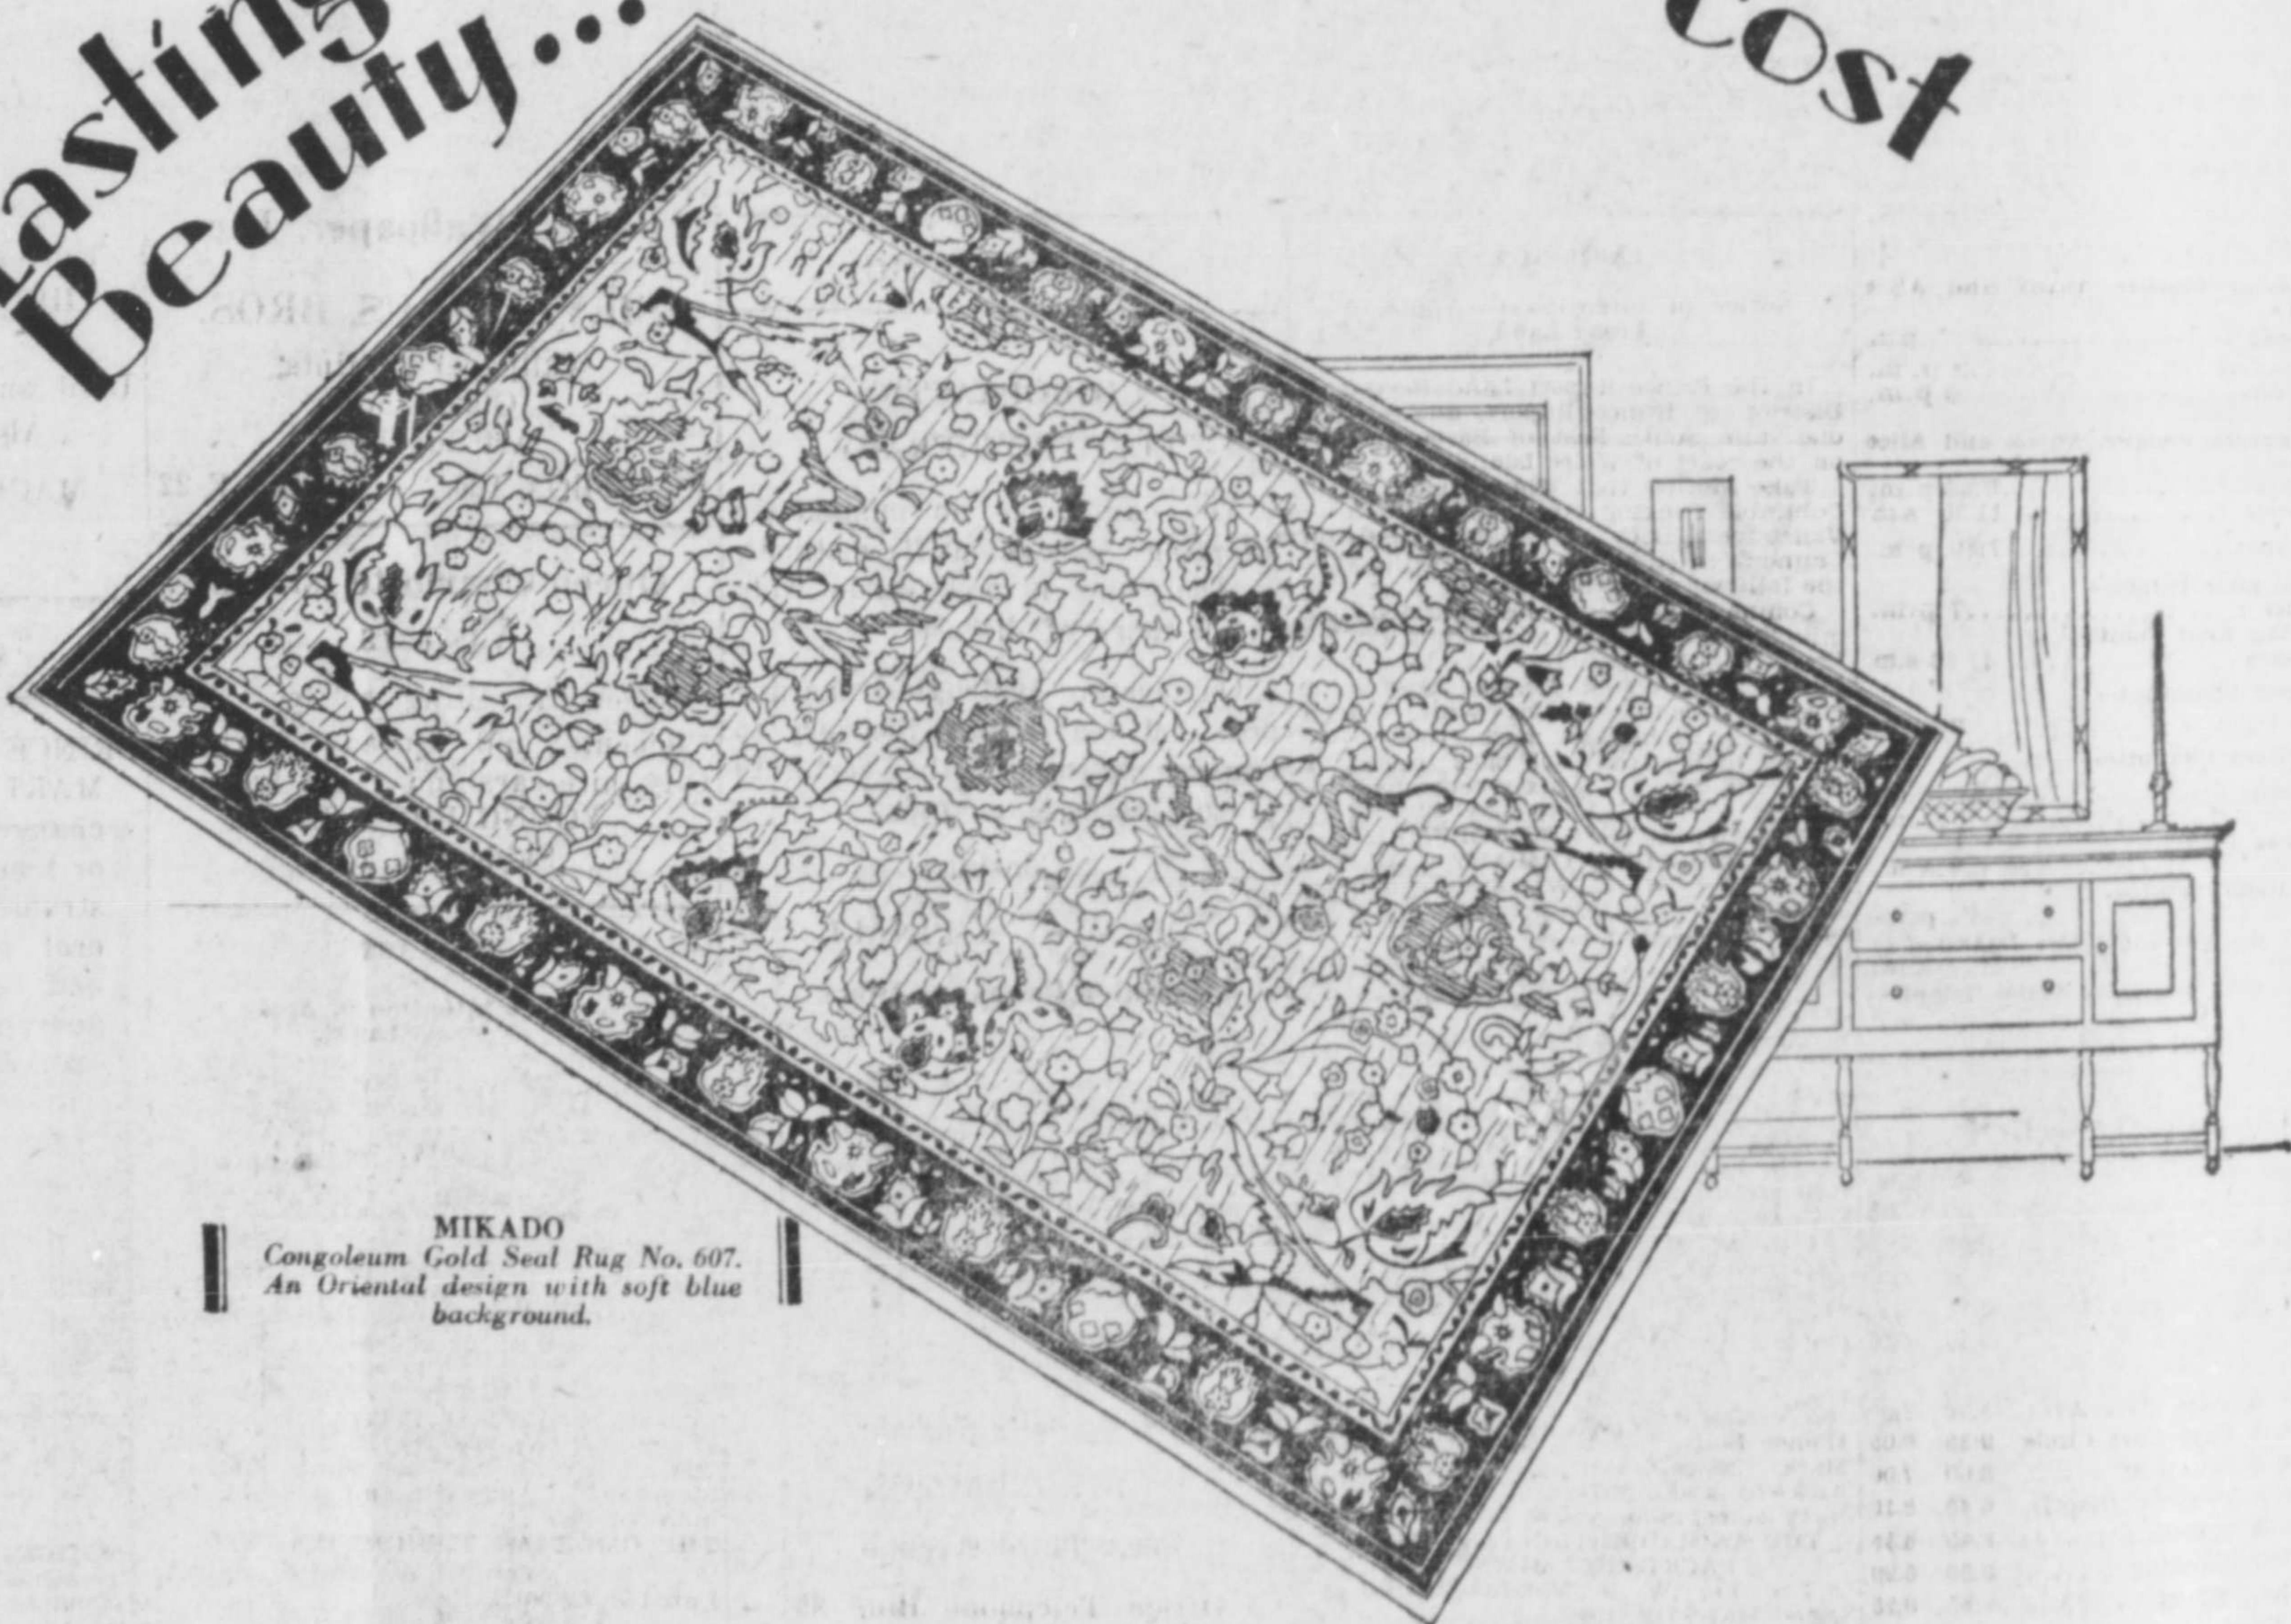

FIRST POLICEMAN: "Did you get that fellow's number?"
SECOND POLICEMAN: "No, he was going too fast."
FIRST POLICEMAN: "That was a pretty girl he had with him."
SECOND POLICEMAN: "Yes, wasn't she?"

A PERFECTLY GOOD "CASUS BELLI" WASTED

Of course, the "I'm Alone" case might have been settled in the old-fashioned way, but nobody seemed to think of it—so there isn't going to be any exciting crisis.

—Spencer in the Omaha World-Herald.

Man in the Moon

The British Navee is once more with us and will doubtless give us another coat of tar—Jack Tar.

Hail Colombo! Britannia rules the waves!

There was a ship that sailed the sea
Colombo was her name
She carried a bunch of jolly good men
From jolly good stock they came.

This is the fishing season but most of the local anglers say there are no fish.

Some day I'm going off fishing
To angle for the wily trout
And if the fish are in the stream
I'll surely yank them out.

If the hens were to join the union we might have to pay more than four cents a piece for eggs, for after all the producing of an egg is a day's work for the hen.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS

Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Price Honored by Baptist Church Fireside Club Last Night

The monthly missionary meeting last night of the Fireside Club of First Baptist Church, the final gathering of the organization for the season, took the form of a farewell to Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Price, to whom a presentation was made and an address read prior to their departure from the city. Miss Agnes Dawson, the president, occupied the chair and a feature of the program was a recital by Mrs. Price entitled “Twenty Miles From Sunday.”

At the close of the recital, the address to Rev. and Mrs. Price was read by Miss Dawson, while the presentation of a pure of gold was made by James Walton and Miss Catherine Watson. The recipients responded suitably and the proceedings closed with the serving of delicious refreshments.

The address read as follows: “Dear Mr. and Mrs. Price, “For nearly three years, we, as members of the Fireside Club, have profited by your ministrations and, within that period, you have greatly endeared yourselves to us by your amiable character, your earnest devotion to duty and the hearty interest you have manifested in our welfare as a club.”

“In the pulpit here—if you could call it a pulpit—you have faithfully presented the Gospel and have warned us against the evils that continually beset us, and have earnestly pleaded with us to seek our truest happiness by seeking first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness. Your benediction has rested upon us in our domestic, business and school affairs and in all things you have proven yourselves our competent and loving pastor and pastoree.”

“With a deep sense of your benefactions, those assembled here have requested me, in their name, to present to you each a wee gift—one easy to carry—and with it we trust that you may purchase some little luxury that will remind you of the Fireside Club at Prince Rupert. Kindly accept these gifts as freely as they are offered.”

“With the very best wishes for your health, wealth and spiritual prosperity.”

“On behalf of the club,
“AGNES DAWSON,
“President.”

“I was all run-down, tired all the time and could not do my housework. My eyes were dull, my tongue was coated and I did not want to eat. A neighbor told mother about Lydia E. I have also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash and I feel lots better. I will be glad to answer any letters.”—Mrs. H. E. Waters, 527 S. Willow St., Fairbault, Minnesota.

TENDERS ON GARBAGE COLLECTION WILL BE FORTHCOMING SHORTLY

A recommendation from the finance committee that tenders be called up to June 10 for garbage and nightsoil disposal for the period from July 2 to December 31 was adopted by the city council last night.

Ald. Prudhomme thought it was not wise to call for tenders for only the six-month period. It would not be fair to the tenderers who would have to obtain considerable equipment for carrying out the work and would be uncertain as to the duration of their contract after the end of the year. Ald. Prudhomme also questioned if the council actually knew how much these services were now costing. The auditor's report for last year showed that garbage collection had cost $7300 and nightsoil $4200. He did not see the reason for this difference. He was not opposed to the system of calling for tenders in this case.

City Solicitor E. F. Jones explained that this council had no authority to let a contract extending after its term of office.

Ald. Brown thought that there would be no scarcity of tenderers, judging from the number of enquiries that had been received.

Mayor McMordie stated that if the services could be carried out more cheaply by contract, it was the intention to have the work done in this manner. If the tenders were higher than the present cost, however, he did not think the council would be in favor of accepting them.

Short of Breath Smothering Feelings Choking Sensation

Mrs. H. Day, Dartmouth, N.S., writes:—“For over a year I was troubled with smothering spells and shortness of breath, and it was impossible for me to walk, even a short distance, because of the choking sensation which followed.”

After trying many treatments, in vain, I at last decided to try and in a surprisingly short time they did me much good.

JOLSON IN “THE SINGING FOOL”

A Picture to Laugh and Cry Over at Capitol Tonight

Jolson is back again. His first picture, “The Jazz Singer,” broke all records for attendance and enthusiastic comment. Now he brings us a greater, “The Singing Fool,” a heart story of universal appeal, which has to do with the joys and sufferings of a singing waiter of a Broadway cabaret.

Jolson covers new emotional ground, pours out his heart in the exaggerated, jazzy, conquering way, that makes his personality altogether irresistible. The story was done by Leslie S. Barrows and picturized by C. Graham Baker. Lloyd Bacon directed. The all-star cast includes Betty Bronson, Josephine Dunn, Reed Howes, Edward Martindel, Arthur Rousman, David Lee and Robert Emmet O'Connor.

“The Singing Fool” of the story becomes infatuated with a beautiful but heartless entertainer at the club in which he is a waiter. Through his help she succeeds. They are married and she deserts him, calling him back only when their little son is at the point of death.

“The Singing Fool” is a story to laugh and cry over, and to treasure forever after.

ROAD WILL BE BUILT FURTHER

City to Grade and Surface From Big Bay Mill to Cold Storage at Seal Cove

On recommendation of the Board of Works, the city council last night decided to grade and improve on a semi-permanent roadway basis at an estimated cost of $2000 the extension of the Seal Cove road from its present termination near the Big Bay Lumber Co.'s sawmill office to the boundary of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.'s property.

It was decided not to build a road on the Seventh Avenue side of Seal Cove Circle as had been asked for by some property owners. Ald. Brown, in this connection, explained the cost of such a road would be $6875, whereas the total assessed value of property concerned was only $7670. The Board of Works, therefore, felt that the work would not be economical under present conditions, particularly since the petition asking for the road was not sufficiently signed.

TELEPHONE SYSTEM HAS GOOD SURPLUS

Revenue Exceeded Expenditure by $1285.20 During Month of April

During the month of April the telephone department had a net surplus of $1285.20, according to a report received at last night's council meeting from Samuel Massey, superintendent of that utility. The revenue for the month amounted to $3828.20, while the expenditure was $2543.
