HOOVER INAUGURATION HELD TODAY

WIDESPREAD REBELLION IN MEXICO AGAINST PRES. GIL

Widespread Revolution in Mexico Today is Being Met by President -- Calles Mobilizing Loyal Forces

Former President Is Put in Charge of Army and Rebels Are Headed by Former Minister to Great Britain

MEXICO CITY, March 4.—The Mexican government mobilized the loyal forces today to meet the attacks of widespread and serious revolution. General Calles, former president, was made secretary of war in charge of all military operations.

Vera Cruz and Sonora have been taken over, apparently without bloodshed, by rebel forces. It is understood that the movement favors the candidacy of Gilberto Valenzuela, former Mexican minister to Great Britain, who has been outspoken in his denunciation of President Portes Gil and General Calles. The scope of the movement is in doubt. The rebels claim the collusion of eight states. There is uncertainty of the status of the Mexican navy.

BUSINESS IS LOOKING UP IN BRITAIN

Coal and Iron Trades Are Improving Says Sheffield Despatch

SHEFFIELD, Eng. Mar. 4.—Statements of prominent men in coal, iron and steel industries that at last the clouds of depression are beginning to lift are confirmed by the pronouncement of the Sheffield Chamber of Commerce that foreign competition in the export of coal trade has weakened and both south Wales and Tyneside are sharing in the increased business.

Shipping is more active, German coal has advanced several shillings a ton more than the British price. Pig iron furnaces are being relighted and the production of steel is increasing.

Three children were burned to death at Midvale, near Weyburn, and three adults were victims of a farm home fire at Cardross, south of Moose Jaw. The dead at Cardross are Cir Jordison, aged 60, his wife, aged 50, and his son, aged 22. Those dead at Midvale are Elwood, Donald and Marian Hoepkimer, three, seven and nine years of age, respectively. The fires occurred on Saturday night and Sunday morning.

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, Mexico, via Douglas, Ariz., March 4.—Governor Fausto Topete of the state of Sonora from the official residence today informed the press that he and the state are in revolt, not against the government of Mexico, but against the "domination" of the government by General Calles.

EXPLOSIONS AT WOOLWICH

LONDON, Mar. 4.—Fourteen persons were reported injured today in a spectacular series of explosions in the famous Woolwich arsenal near London. The fire that followed was still burning this afternoon.

ROME, March 4.—The report of the commission of inquiry appointed by Mussolini which was made public yesterday places the responsibility on General Nobile for the loss in the Arctic of the dirigible Italia.

HEARD INAUGURAL PROCESSION OVER RADIO ABOUT NOON

Dave Eastman with his short wave radio set which he made himself, heard part of the big inaugural presidential parade broadcast from Washington by one who was watching it and describing it as he saw it. The voice of the man and the cheering of the crowds could be plainly heard and a Prince Rupert Daily News representative heard a portion of it over the telephone. Unfortunately Mr. Eastman had to return to work before one o'clock and could not remain to hear it all.

DELEGATION OFF TO CALGARY TODAY

The delegation consisting of Mayor S. P. McMordie, Ald. F. G. Dawson and M. P. McCaffery, which was appointed by the Board of Trade and city council Friday night, left on this morning's train for Calgary to take up at Alberta Wheat Pool headquarters the stoppage of grain shipping which has arisen locally. They will ascertain the cause of the present situation and, if possible, take steps to rectify it. An appointment with Wheat Pool officials has been made by wire.

HIGH LINER IN FISHERIES

Men on Trawler Lark Cleaned Up $3700 Each Last Year

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—Among the boys who made good must be listed Captain Ernest Parsons of the Boston fishing schooner Lark. Captain Parsons, who has for several years been high liner among the hand trawlers, is a native of New Harbor, Nfld. Before joining the Boston fishing fleet he fished out of Gloucester. During the 16 years he has been a fishing skipper he has never lost a man or figured in an accident. Last year each member of his crew took home with his as his share $3700, free and clear. It is said that Captain Parsons, who has a quarter interest in the Lark, cleared better than $10,000 for the year.

Asked how he manages to maintain his leadership in the fleet, Captain Parsons said: "It is like any other business. Success depends upon hard work and attending to business. Perhaps we get away for the fishing grounds a little earlier than the other fellows. We may work throughout the night setting and hauling our trawls and get back to market quicker."

Captain Parsons made 57 trips to the fishing grounds last year, which is considerably better than an average of a trip a week when it is remembered that the Lark is hauled out twice a year for overhauling and painting, thereby consuming four weeks.

Captain Parsons is married and the father of four daughters. He estimates that if all the time he has with his family was totaled up it would not exceed two months a year. "Most of my men are married too," he says, "and most of them own their own homes, so you see they have more reason than some to make their vessel the high-liner."

The Lark carries a crew of 27, including the skipper, engineer and cook. She launches an even dozen dories, two men to a boat.

Becomes President Today

President Hoover was formally inaugurated at Washington, commencing his four-year term as head of the United States government.

Inaugural Speech of Hoover Deals With a Number of Questions

Would Promote Peace Abroad and Enforce Law at Home and Hopes for Ultimate Adherence to World Court

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Dedicating himself and his administration to the enforcement of law at home and the promotion of world peace, Herbert Hoover, thirty-first president of the United States, today delivered in simple language his inaugural address after taking the oath of office. An immense crowd witnessed the parade and listened to the address, during which a light rain fell.

The president devoted a large part of his address to world peace and on the matter of tariff was extremely brief, merely stating, "limited changes cannot in justice to our farmers, our laborers and our manufacturers be postponed." He added that a special session of congress would be called to consider the tariff question.

The president laid emphasis in his address upon the enforcement of the 18th amendment, declaring "there would be little traffic illegally in liquor if only the criminals patronized it." He pointed out that it was the duty of the citizens to support the laws coequally with the duty of the government to enforce the laws.

He expressed the hope for ultimate United States adherence to the world court and declared that "the acceptance of the recent treaty for the renunciation of war should pave the way to a greater limitation of armaments, an invitation to which we sincerely extend to the world."

Inaugural Ceremonies at Washington Today for President Hoover

Greater Ceremonial Than Ever Carried Out by Authorities, Although President Himself Asked For Simplicity

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 4.—With more pomp and ceremony than Washington has seen since the war, the new president was placed in office today. Two miles of streets between the White House and the capitol were lined with stands and bleachers and 20,000 people were assigned to places in the parade. Ten times that number witnessed the journey at the end of which the thirty-first president of the United States took the oath of office.

The simple ceremony in which William Taft, once president and now chief justice, administered the oath of office, came as an anti-climax to the elaborate preparations made for it. For months committees had been at work; committees on everything. Every phase of public and semi-public life in the United States had planned to be represented formally somewhere on the stands which lined the circuitous route which was followed between the White House and the capitol. The huge building known as the Auditorium is being used for a charity ball. Army headquarters across the Potomac river are giving exhibitions of riding. The air service is giving two "circuses." Every considerable organization in America is putting on a show.

Mr. Hoover himself asked that his inaugural be as simple as those of his two immediate predecessors. Apparently official America decided that the need for simplicity was passed and that a return to old ceremonial was due. Hoover begins his regime with a combination of old-fashioned ceremonial and modern melee. It is estimated that half a million people converged on Washington for the inaugural besides the half million now residing here. Most of them will return to their homes in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and smaller towns after the ceremonies.

From the White House to the Hill, a series of stands were built, most of them open to the sky. A week ago, just after they were completed, they were covered with six inches of snow.

Mr. Hoover and his friends left the White House about 11:30 a.m. The senate was in session by the time he got there, going over routine business. At noon sharp the vice-president, Charles Dawes, vacated the chair of the senate, which he traditionally holds, having adjourned the upper chamber sine die. The new vice-president, Charles Curtis, was immediately sworn in and took his place in the chair. The president-elect was there as a guest, along with the members of the house of representatives, the diplomatic, cabinet ministers—all official life which could be crowded into the chamber or the lobbies. In easy fashion the official party, numbering nearly a thousand, drifted down the corridors and out on to the stand in the deep embrasure between the house and the senate wings.

Here the chief justice, who once there as the principal figure himself, swore in the new president, who then made his inaugural address. An elaborate system of microphones carried his voice to the crowd in the vast grounds which surround the capitol.

Before the applause died down, the president and vice-president and their parties sped down by the nearest route to the White House for a sandwich and coffee. It is characteristic of modern American life that the president has no time for lunch on his inaugural day. He must be out in the reviewing stand in front of the White House by the time the parade begins to file past. It took two hours to pass the reviewing stand.

The cabinet, foreign diplomats and state governors were in the lead. One governor alone is said to have had thirty colonels in his escort. All active branches of the navy, the air force and the military of course were represented. The military note in the parade was prolonged by groups of national guard, veterans of three wars, boy scouts, girl guides, military schools, marching clubs, Indians, cowboys, automobile squadrons and military, navy and marine bands.

These, with members of congress and senate and their parties took their proper places in the first mile of the procession and marched or drove down old Pennsylvania Avenue and up to the White House. It is a route followed by many a similar parade in days gone by, but never by such an elaborate one as passed that way today.

The following were the weekend scores:

- Sunday—N. Y. Rangers 3, Detroit 2.
- Saturday—Montreal 1, Chicago 2; Boston 0, Canadiens 3; Ottawa 1, Toronto 1; Detroit 4, Pittsburgh 3.

There seems to be a difference of opinion, even in the press reports, as to whether or not the Sharkey-Stribling bout at Miami Wednesday was a disappointing affair. To one who was there we know it was not disappointing and that was Jack Sharkey, the slugging Gob. Nor would it be disappointing to his backers. It might have been disappointing to the Stribling camp though not uninteresting. No doubt, the big guns who run affairs will now be seeking to clean up on the unfortunate newspaper individual who sent out that first flash and said it was a disappointing bout. For any one who has the nerve to tell the world anything like that about the first of an elimination series, out of which they hope to make so many millions, is sure courting disaster. It may have been a disappointment, possibly it was, but Jack Dempsey, who seeks to fill Tex Rickard's shoes, whether he admits it or not, is not likely to let a little thing like that upset his big elimination apple cart by getting abroad if he can help it. Such reports, it stands to reason, would not sound sweet to the publicist ear of the new promoter.

There have been rumors of a "set-up" as well as other unkind remarks, indeed general dissatisfaction, since Wednesday night's bout between Bido Gurvich and Fred Parker, the much heralded "man handler" from Toronto who proved himself a lamb and a generally harmless individual who either could not or did not want to hit. This time, the kickers cannot be blamed for that it was a washout every one agrees. In fact, the most of folks who like to see a fight do next time they match Dido they a monkey of like which many felt had happened when they watched that so-called "fight." If the unemployed must be cared for, we would suggest that they pick a better one the next time to put in the ring. The local battler can claim no great credit for that "victory" and we hope he will not add it to his list of laurels for we don't like to see anybody fool himself.

The boxing public hopes that next time they match Dido they will put him up against some one who at least has a chance to win. It would be much better for everybody concerned, even Dido, to do so. Such exhibitions as Wednesday's only make the public lose confidence in the game locally. In fact that kind of think will kill the sport as far as any promoter of it may be concerned. And with all due respect to Charlie Brown who knows a fighter when he sees one, or should do, we hope that the next advance reports will not be so flowery unless there is some real basis for them, which evidently there wasn't this time. Disseminators of such information soon make themselves unpopular and, particularly so in the newspaper shops which may or may not do so much to help these things along.

DELEGATION TO CALGARY

A delegation consisting of F. G. Dawson, Mayor Mc-Mordie and M. P. McCaffery is off to Calgary today to discuss with the Wheat Pool officers the situation which has arisen by which the local elevator has ceased to function. Doubtless this delegation will impress upon the Pool officers the unrighteousness of their methods and the desirability of continuing to use the Prince Rupert elevator to the fullest extent possible.

THE TERRACE HIGHWAY

This is the time to press upon the government of Victoria the need of the Terrace highway. When the Liberal party was in power we pressed for this work to be done. We urged it strongly and shall continue to do so. We also think it would be in the interests of the Terrace people to concentrate on this scheme instead of weakening their position by asking also for a highway to Kitimaat.

While we want all the roads we can get, the first thing is a road up the Skeena valley to connect at Kitsumlaum with Terrace. It is a big work but can be done a section at a time and if work is carried on continuously it should not be many years before it will be possible to drive to any part of the world by motor car from Prince Rupert. As was mentioned at the Board of Trade Meeting Friday night, this is one of the biggest things that could be done for Prince Rupert.

CO-OPERATION WITH U. S.

Hon. James Robb, minister of finance, made a very clear intimation that Canada would deal only with countries that were ready to deal with her. If United States continues to erect a tariff wall that injures Canadian industries, this country must retaliate.

It is stated that President Hoover will not favor a very high tariff and will veto any measure which tends to injure Canada. The Ottawa government is wise to make clear in a public declaration that this country will not cooperate unless other countries are willing to give as well as take.

PROTEST FROM METLAKATLA

Natives Object To New Regulations for Salmon Fishing

A copy of the following resolution was mailed to Ottawa by the Metlakatla Indians Saturday: The Honorable P. A. Carlin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Ottawa, Ontario.

Honorable Sir—It having been recently announced in the press that it is the intention of your department to make certain drastic changes in the fishing regulations to the effect:

That the coast be divided into areas that existed prior to the appointment of the Duff fisheries commission;

That the transfer of salmon from one area to another be permitted only if the fish be gutted and packed in boxes with ice;

That the use of fish packers in connection with seiners be prohibited;

That no more cannery licenses be issued.

We, the Independent Seine Fishermen of Metlakatla, B.C., respectfully desire to inform you of our views on the proposed changes as they will affect us in the pursuit of our only means of livelihood.

Re the proposals to divide the coast into areas and the restrictions as to the transfer of salmon from one area to another:

Such restrictions, if put into effect, whilst not seriously interfering with the operations of large organizations having establishments in many of these divisions, will, nevertheless, in the case of independent fishermen of small means, operating on a small scale, be absolutely prohibitive, and we would be forced to sell our fish within the area in which it might be caught, thereby being compelled to accept whatever price the canners operating in that area cared to offer. We would be absolutely at the mercy of the canners "sufferance fishermen," and should that section of the proposed new regulation dealing with the limitation of cannery licenses be made effective it would, by precluding the possibility of increase of competition by new canneries which might otherwise be built, thereby virtually establish the almost monopolistic control now enjoyed by a certain association in some areas.

The proposal to prohibit the use of fish packers in connection with seiners will, of a certainty, greatly reduce our earnings, and we view this measure with apprehension.

We realize the difficulty of making changes in the regulations governing an industry of such proportions and diverse interests without inflicting hardships on some of those concerned, but it seems to us that the proposed new regulations will bear most harshly on those least able to endure them.

The proposed changes, as announced, would seem to indicate that the representations of the salmon canners have received greater consideration from your department than the expressed opinions of the organized fishermen.

Any regulation which has for its sole object the promotion of the conservation of the industry in which we are engaged, and the restrictions of which would be borne equally by all concerned, will receive our full support.

We, therefore, earnestly request that you will give this matter further serious consideration and suggest the abandonment of these proposed regulations to which we have taken exception, and further suggest that an increase in the weekly closure be first given a fair trial, which measure without question will prove to be an effective means to the desired end.

For, and on behalf of the seine fishermen.

Respectfully yours,

PETER LEIGHTON.

Metlakatla, B.C., March 1, 1929.

In early biblical times the delivery of a shoe was used to signify the transferring of a possession. The throwing of a shoe on property was a symbol of new ownership as "Over Edom will I cast out my shoe." From this arose the custom of throwing a shoe after a bride on her departure for her new home, symbolizing that the parents gave up all right or dominion over their daughter.

Our greatest asset

THE material progress of our Province is known the world over. We speak with pride . . . and rightly . . . of its vast natural resources awaiting conversion into merchandise and wealth. We take the figures of ten years ago and compare them with those of today . . . and the world agrees that our progress . . . considering our population . . . has been the brightest feature in the recovery of the British Empire from the war.

And if this progress, of which we are so justly proud, is to continue, does not the most vital force of this country lie in our children? Some day, they will take the helm. Events will follow their judgment, skill and decision. THEY ARE OUR GREATEST ASSET!

The Boy of today is the Man of to-morrow . . . the Girl, the future Mother of our citizens.

On us rests the responsibility of shaping their formative years so that when we hand over the reins, they may carry on the Torch of Progress, undimmed.

How have we met our responsibility? Can we look Young British Columbia in the eye with the feeling that all will be well with the future of the province for which we have planned so carefully and labored so faithfully?

SURELY!
In the last ten years our school population has grown from 64,570 to 101,688 . . . 58%. We have 1,065 schools manned by 3,396 thoroughly trained, competent teachers . . . an increase of 31.7% and 71% respectively!

Recently we have established special vocational schools for our girls and boys, where they may be fitted for those occupations for which they have a natural bent.

Higher education is amply provided for at our University of British Columbia, where two thousand students are now enrolled, the majority studying for their degree in Science and Agriculture.

And to the school training of our children we add the powerful influence of Home, the religious and other organizations, each of which is contributing its full measure of the physical, mental and character upbuilding of our dearest, most treasured asset . . . OUR CHILDREN!

With confidence and faith we will hand over our beloved Province's future when the time comes!

Read these announcements and understand your province's progress . . . clip them out and send them to friends. If you desire extra copies of these announcements a note to this newspaper will bring them. Advertise your Province!

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S PROGRESS

News of the Mines

AROUND PRINCE RUPERT Premier Ore Bodies Reported On Big Missouri; Premier to Take B. C. Silver and Sebawke; Rainy Hollow Claims Change Hands

Probable ore in the Big Missouri mine in the Stewart district is now estimated at $350,000,000. Estimates give a width of 350 feet and a length on the strike of 1900 feet with 550 feet of backs and, figuring 12 cubic feet to the ton, this gives 30,000,000 tons of ore estimated to run $10 per ton. In the two high-grade fracture zones, figuring on the same basis and considering only the 500 feet opened, there are 2,000,000 tons of ore estimated variously at from $40 to $50 per ton. Under present plans it is proposed to drop down the hill to the south 1500 to 2000 feet, and, driving a parallel tunnel at 400 feet greater depth, thus gain an additional 400 feet of backs, or a total of 950 feet. By comparison the tremendous ore bodies of Noranda, which have been developed to the 1000-foot level from the surface on a vein averaging 50 to 60 feet in width, pale into insignificance," says the Alaska Weekly in speaking of the property. "We do not consider it at all hazardous to venture the prediction that Big Missouri will gradually work up to the point of milling 10,000 tons per day of ore of a $10 grade and showing a $5 net profit."

It is predicted in Stewart that a deal will eventuate whereby Premier Gold Mining Co. will take over the adjoining B. C. Silver and Sebawke properties. A deal with this purpose in view was under discussion some time ago between the respective contracting parties, but no agreement was reached at that time and negotiations were called off. Now, however, it is stated that negotiations have been resumed with prospects of a successful conclusion of the deal, which would mean the early production of both the B. C. Silver and Sebawke mines through the use of the Premier's milling and tramway equipment. Both B. C. Silver and Sebawke have been carrying on extensive development programs and now have large ore bodies blocked out. It is said that, if the pending deal goes through, the capital stock of the Premier Co. will be increased to take care of the outstanding shares of the B. C. Silver and Sebawke properties. The Premier has expended to date on its property $2,500,000 and has paid dividends of other $13,000,000. The B. C. Silver has expended $27,000,000 in exploration work and the Sebawke $200,000.

The Stampede group of gold bearing claims, located in the Rainy Hollow district in the extreme northwestern corner of British Columbia, has been taken over by P. R. Bradley of the Gastineau Juneau Mining Co. of Juneau, the price being $100,000 with a cash payment. This property has been owned by William Bunting of Hyder and John (Stampede) O. Stenbraten and was located five years ago. The ore is free milling gold, averaging about $10 across four feet with values remarkably steady throughout. The vein has been traced for 2000 feet. A shaft has been sunk and other work done to open up the property. The new owner will spend $20,000 this year and will bring the property to production as soon as possible.

A crew is already at work on the Babine Victoria property adjoining the Babine Bonanza in the Babine district, driving a new main tunnel for the Lorrain Copper-Silver Mines, Ltd., which was recently

Just as soon as new vessels of the new type are ready, these "mistakes" will be junked.

NEWS OF NORTHERN B.C.

NFW HAZELTON

The Felix Bridge Club met this week at the home of Mrs. R. S. Sargent when men as well as ladies were guests.

Maik George is getting out a large number of cedar poles this winter in this district. By the time the season closes he hopes to have 300,000 lineal feet on the river bank. He has had a very successful season.

SMITHERS

The council of the Smithers District Board of Trade has decided to take $125 worth of space in a publicity book whose representative was recently here.

Allan Rutherford was discharged from the Smithers Hospital this week, having recovered from a week's illness with pleurisy.

Rev. Father Vallieres O. M. I. is on a week's trip to Burns Lake, Cheslatta, Ootsa Lake and other points in that district.

W. S. Harris of New Hazelton was a visitor here at the first of the week on business in connection with a mining deal.

Robert Ashburner, well known Gintanna farmer, is a patient at the Smithers Hospital where he is making satisfactory recovery from an attack of pneumonia.

Rain and wind of late have greatly reduced the snow level here and, if present conditions continue, it will soon be all disappeared.

A. S. Miller received word on Monday of the death in Ketchikan of his sister, Mrs. W. A. Bryant, who was a visitor in Smithers three years ago.

Heavy traffic is experiencing annual difficulties on the Bulkley Hill where sunshine of late has removed practically all the snow, leaving the road in a rather hazardous condition.

Smithers merchants are paying the farmers $1.50 per sack for potatoes.

PRINCE GEORGE

The Women's Auxiliary to the Prince George Hospital has elected officers for the year as follows: president, Mrs. C. P. Deykin; vice-presidents, Mrs. A. M. Patterson and Mrs. C. C. Wright; treasurer, Mrs. R. S. Edwards; secretary, Mrs. W. G. Fraser; representative on hospital board, Mrs. Edwards.

Federal government appropriations for this district include an amount of $3,500 for further improvements to the Summit Lake route into the Peace River on the Crooked and Parsnip Rivers.

A quietus has been put on the project for the establishment of a creamery in Prince George by reason of the fact that P. Burns Co. Ltd. has taken a three-year lease on the Vanderhoof creamery. Thus all the cream in this district will be taken care of.

H. E. Waby, district inspector of poultry for the provincial government, was responsible for the statement at the annual banquet of the Farmer's Institutes of District C. here that the federal government was intending to establish an experimental farm in this district within the next year or so. It is expected that the farm will be at Prince George which has an advantageous location. Besides, Mr. Waby, speakers at the Farmers' Institute banquet included Mayor Patterson, Sam Cocker, C. D. Orchard, D. G. Williams, G. B. Williams, John Assman and F. D. Taylor.

Weather has been much milder here of late, the lowest thermometer reading for the week having been 18 above last Saturday.

There have been reductions in civic affairs here as a result of the recent summary dismissal by City Clerk J. V. Clerbue of his stenographer, Miss Helen Quinn. While the rest of the council backed up the clerk, Mayor Patterson insisted that he be asked for his resignation. At a council meeting on Monday over 100 citizens including three ex-mayors appeared to protest against Miss Quinn's dismissal. The result of the matter was that the clerk was given twenty-four hours to consider action on the request for his resignation. It is believed that the whole affair may be settled amicably.

The February building list was as follows:

Man in the Moon

Prince Rupert bids fair to be a backwoods town, in comparison with the Alaskan cities, Ketchikan has just chosen a dog catcher, and so far as I know, Prince Rupert has none. What is the matter with our city fathers? Why are we allowed to drift along without a dog catcher when a place nothing like as large as this just across the border has one? Where are the Prince Rupert editors that they do not boost for such an official? Come, come, now, to keep up the fair name of Prince Rupert, let us have a real live, active dog catcher, with a cage and net and all the other necessary trimmings. We can't afford to be put to shame by any city in Alaska.

Nelson is another city that is outdistancing us. Nelson has a veneer plant. It is thus able to put up a fine show even when there are hidden things not so good. Why not a veneer plant in Prince Rupert? There are a lot of things here that could be covered up and we should look all the better for it. If we can't have a veneer plant we might at any rate purchase a little Nelson veneer and make ourselves look smart.

Another thing I like to see is a man wearing a lodge emblem or better still three lodge emblems. He looks so important. How would some of the Prince Rupert people ever attain eminence if they did not become lodge officials?

Steel teeth are the latest. The difficulty would be if one happened near a magnet and got lockjaw.

The Pledge of the Newlyweds. Fact and Fable Both. MARRIAGE BELLS! There's a home to be planned, each room to equip and arrange, house plans to discuss, consultations with contractors, many stores to visit and many visits to stores.

TO THE NEWLYWEDS THESE ARE THE SPENDING DAYS OF A LIFETIME—days of joy and thrills, busyness for the home to be. But still another pleasure they have added to these memorable shopping hours—a pride in demanding first the products of their homeland.

"Because our mutual progress through the years to come depends on the prosperity of our country, we will build our house and make our home with the products of our local industries."—This is the pledge of the newlyweds.

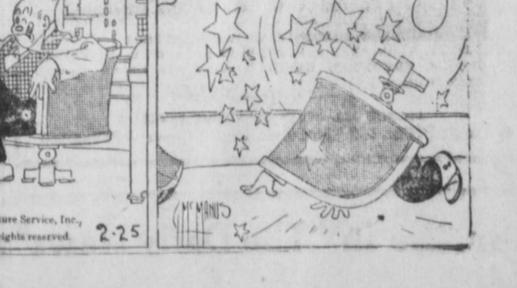

SOUND ADVICE Young married people will easily recognize the importance of the "Buy B.C. Products" idea. The prosperity of both depend on the young husband's progress in his vocation. As the demand for the manufactured articles of British Columbia increase so will the young husband's position be made more secure and his advancement more certain. Obviously we should demand first and always the B.C. Product.

"THE COSSACKS" AT THE CAPITOL

John Gilbert and Renee Adoree, the Brilliant Stars of "The Big Parade" Together Again

Cossack riders, brought from Europe, staging such thrills as leaping on galloping horses with sabers clutched in their teeth, forming human pyramids while galloping at breakneck speed, and other sensational details; thrilling battles between Cossacks and Turks, waged during wild gallops, and other strange thrills of horsemanship mark "The Cossacks." John Gilbert's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, now playing at the Capitol Theatre. It is, perhaps, the most interesting picture ever made in America.

The central theme, as in "The Big Parade," is the tender love tale of a boy and girl; the same boy and girl, by the way, as Renee Adoree plays the heroine. This live story is set in the thunder of battle and the heat of adventure; massive hugeness of setting adds to this impression. But there is another note; the intense, fanatical love of the old Cossack chief, played by Ernest Torrence, for his son. Gilbert is the son, a swaggering young Cossack soldier to whom the great truths of life come in the smoke of battle and the agony of torture. Grim in spots, compelling in realism, the play is, none the less, one of the most beautiful of romances.

MASONIC RITES ARE CONDUCTED

Funeral of Late H. D. McIntyre Held Yesterday Afternoon

Masonic honors were accorded the late Herbert D. McIntyre, whose funeral took place yesterday afternoon under the auspices of Tsimpsan Lodge. Concurrently there were services at First Presbyterian Church and the Masonic Temple and the burial in Fairview Cemetery was of a most masonic nature.

At the Presbyterian Church a service of hymns, prayer and scripture reading was conducted by Rev. T. Ivon Jones. Hymns were "Unto the Hills Do I Lift up Mine Eyes," "Lead Kindly Light" and "There is no Night in Heaven." John E. Davey presided at the organ.

Friends joined the Masonic procession at the corner of Fourth Avenue and McBride Street and a large concourse followed the cortege to its last resting place. Burial rites were conducted by W. D. Vance, worshipful master, and officers of Tsimpsan Lodge. Pallbearers were J. E. Jack, William McIvor, Don Crerar, Malcolm McLeod, Alex Murray and W. M. Watts, all friends of the deceased and Masons.

There were many floral offerings.

MUSIC IS TO BE FEATURED ALL WEEK AT CAPITOL

Popular Demand For "Capitolian" Music Brings Interesting Announcement

By reason of an unusual demand lately by Capitol patrons for "more Capitolian music," arrangements have been made for a big musical week at the Capitol commencing tonight.

Local music lovers and especially lovers of good orchestra music will particularly welcome this announcement. The week's musical presentations will show a degree of variation that will make them all the more enjoyable. Jack de Jausserand, popular conductor of the Capitolians, has all arrangements in hand and has been working hard to make this week's musical program "the best yet."

The week's bill in detail is as follows:
Monday and Tuesday—Jack de Jausserand and his Rupert Capitolians will offer:
(a) Lucia di Lammermoir (Donizetti).
(b) Love's Old Sweet Song (Freddy Wells at the Zylophone).
Wednesday and Thursday—On the stage, Capitolian "Bill" Beaumont, at the 'cello, will offer:
(a) "Serenade."
(b) "Pale Moon" (by request).
Friday and Saturday—Big special presentation on the stage by Al Small and his Orchestra, augmented by the Rupert Capitolians:
(a) "Querida."
(b) "Sonny Boy."

PATROL COUNCIL FOR LOCAL SCOUTS HAS BEEN FORMED

The regular meeting of the Prince Rupert Boy Scouts Patrol Leaders' Council was held Friday evening. This is just a new venture in Scout work in the city and it is hoped that it will help to unify the movement, and so improve and help the Scouts.

Fred Burdett, Assistant Scout Master of the third troop spoke of some of the duties of a patrol leader. Basketball games will be held among the three troops during this week, and it is hoped that an inter-troop baseball league will be formed. The next meeting will feature a debate, "Resolved that the Scouts of Prince Rupert Need a Separate Headquarters of Their Own." Affirmative will be taken by two scouts from the first troop and negative by two scouts from the second troop. Duncan Miller, Troop leader of the third troop is chairman of the council, and Walter Cross, a patrol leader of the second troop is secretary.
