Withdrawal of Application for Charter to Build From Stewart to Peace River Looked Upon as Likely to Mean Government Action

VICTORIA, Feb. 18.—The question of northern development is one that is today very much in the public eye. The withdrawal of the bill incorporating a railway from Stewart to the Peace River country has been withdrawn and it is understood that any action in connection with railway development will probably be incorporated in a government measure to be brought down either this session or possibly at a special session of the legislature or at an early session next year. The present prevailing opinion is that the bill will be before the house at this session and that it will include joint action by the two big railways, the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific Railway.

In regard to the possibilities of Stewart being made the outlet for the railway from the Peace, it is probable that a charter will be granted which will include Stewart as a possible outlet and also will connect up with the C.N.R. in such a way as to make it possible for either railway to use the port of Prince Rupert.

ORGANIZATION OF BOYS' BAND

Permanent Committee is Proposed to Take Over Work From This Week on

The provisional committee in charge of the Boys' Band affairs met in the City Hall on Saturday afternoon and reached a definite plan for the reorganization of the band which will be submitted to a permanent committee which it is proposed to form.

The city council, Rotary Club, Trades & Labor Council will each be invited to appoint a member to the permanent committee which will also include two members to be elected at a public meeting of interested persons which will be held this week, probably on Friday evening.

Recommendations of the provisional committee include a suggestion that one hundred honorary members be enrolled who shall each pay dues of $5 per year. The usual grant will probably be requested from the city council by the new committee which will also, it is suggested, call for applications for a bandmaster. The name "Prince Rupert Boys' Band Association" is recommended to the new permanent committee for adoption.

The meeting of the provisional committee was presided over by Ald. Theo Collart, other members of the committee being W. E. Tobey, J. J. Dore and Frank Deery.

The band is in good financial position now.

The naval cadets, 31 strong, under Lieutenant Robert Blance, paraded yesterday morning at headquarters and we marched to the Anglican Cathedral by Chief Petty Officer Young, where they attended divide service, a special address being delivered suitable for the occasion by the rector, Rev. J. B. Gibson. Following the service the boys were marched back to headquarters and dismissed.

The boys looked very smart in their naval uniforms and we the subject of general remark and admiration, reflecting much credit on the officers and instructor. Moving pictures were taken of them by T. K. Johnson.

DEATH REMOVES HARRY HAWKINS

Stroke of Paralysis Causes Demise of Well Known Local C.N.R. Employee

Harry King Hawkins, member of the local freight office staff of the Canadian National Railways for over eight years, died last night at his home on Eleventh Street at the age of thirty-one years. Last fall, deceased, who had always been a very active young man, sustained an attack of paralysis which left him practically paralyzed on one side. After spending some time in the local hospital, he went to Edmonton, where his parents reside, and returned here a few weeks ago somewhat recovered. Only last Saturday, he was able to return to his work at the C.N.R. wharf but yesterday he had another stroke which resulted in his death.

The late Mr. Hawkins was born on May 2, 1897. Besides his young widow, he is survived by a three months' old infant child. His father is a member of the mechanical department of one of the Edmonton newspapers. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of the B. C. Undertakers.

A CANADIAN FLAG
(Victoria Times)

In the name of Mr. C. R. McIntosh, Liberal member in the house of commons for North Battleford, stands a resolution asking parliament to appoint a special committee to consider the advisability of adopting a Canadian flag. The great majority of the Canadian people no doubt are wondering how much longer this Dominion intends to wait before she puts herself on an equality with the other Dominions and gets a flag of her own. It is certainly an anomaly that Canada, the most populous Dominion with the exception of Great Britain, has no emblem of her own.

Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, the Irish Free State—and, of course, Great Britain as the senior Dominion—have their own distinctive symbols. Canada's sole distinctive flag is the ensign adopted for her shipping by Sir John A. Macdonald.

Canadians had a painful reminder of the absence of a national flag at the Olympic Games at Amsterdam last year. All the other Dominions flew their own; but when Percy Williams and other Canadian competitors startled the world with their successes we could not properly follow their example.

We may expect, of course, that Mr. McIntosh's resolution will produce the usual crop of objections from the fast-dwindling minority which regards the discussion of a Canadian flag as nothing short of rank treason. We shall be told that the Union Jack is good enough, that we ought not to have a flag of our own merely because the other members of the Britannic Commonwealth have their own, that a move of this kind will be a step toward a weakening of Empire ties, and so on. All this is sheer nonsense.

There is general agreement that the Union Jack should appear on any Canadian design that may be adopted. This emblem typifies the union of England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland. Canada's flag should be emblematic of the wider union of the United Kingdom with herself.

CONGRESS SHOULD MOVE CAUTIOUSLY
(Junoan Empire)

Those tariff boosters at Washington ought to proceed with care if they would preserve our foreign trade. It would be a sad day for the farmers, industrialists and others of this country if there should be a considerable diminution in the value of our exports which now reach about $5,000,000,000 a year, with a balance of trade of approximately $1,000,000,000 in our favor. The very life of business, and that includes agriculture as well as other activities, depends upon the more than $9,000,000,000 a year that measures the volume of our foreign commerce. And we cannot expect to keep open the markets for exports if we close them for imports.

That people of other countries are taking cognizance of the tariff activities at Washington is evidenced from the following excerpt from the Western Tribune, published at Vancouver, B. C.:

Mr. Hoover can do no kinder action for the British Empire than raising the tariff wall against Canada. If he wishes to be really spiteful, he will permit Canadian goods to enter his country free of all duty.

Canada is the United States' best customer, and each year shows an increase in the unfavorable trade balance against Canada. In other words, we buy from the States nearly three times more than we sell them. Obviously we have reached the limit, and even though the tariff remains as it is, there are indications that Canada is not satisfied and intends to seek reciprocal trade agreements.

The claims of Empire trading were never so insistent as they are today, and we fervently trust that, with or without encouragement to do so from Mr. Hoover's policies, 1929 will find Canada purchasing more from Great Britain.

It is bad business to slap your best customer's face too often.

Our exports to Canada are between $800,000,000 and $900,000,000 annually, and to all the countries over which the British flag flies they are fast approaching $2,500,000,000. The balance of trade with the British countries is strongly in our favor.

The Vancouver paper, with obvious logic, declares that higher American tariffs will promote the commercial union of the British Empire—a union that would give preferential tariffs and other inducements to keep the trade of British countries under the British flag. For years in Great Britain there has been a strong movement in favor of such a policy. It was earnestly advocated by the late Joseph Chamberlain a couple of decades ago, and the present British premier has favored it. We have some $4,000,000,000 in trade that would be affected by the consummation of a British Imperial commercial union.

MORE DETAILS OF REGULATIONS

Major J. A. Motherwell, Chief Inspector of Fisheries, Explains District Seining System

CONFERRING HERE

To confer with local officers of the fisheries department in regard to the operation of the new seining district system which is to be inaugurated this season, Major J. A. Motherwell, chief inspector of fisheries, arrived in the city on the Camosun last night from Vancouver and will spend until tomorrow here. Further explaining the new regulations limiting the number of salmon seines to be operated in the various districts which are to be created, Major Motherwell states that the division principle will be enforced in connection with the issuance of fishing licenses. These will be issued for a specified district, the licensee having the privilege to transfer his operations to another district on notifying the authorities of his intention. By this means the department will be able, Major Motherwell says, to keep records of the intensity of fishing in each district and, if the limit is exceeded, an additional closure to the regular 48-hour weekly closed season will be imposed.

"While the department does not intend to refuse licenses to any qualified applicants," said Major Motherwell, "arrangements will be made to increase the weekly closure in any seining area where the schedule is exceeded, even by one. In this way it is thought gear can be regulated in such a manner as will provide profitable employment for seiners and also conserve the fisheries." The system will in no way hamper legitimate seining operations, Major Motherwell feels.

In addition to the district system, the department is also considering a request of the salmon canners for regulations which would prohibit the long hauls of fish in bulk as a measure to improve quality of the product. Regarding the proposal that salmon exported from the area in which it is caught should be packed in ice in boxes not exceeding five hundred pounds in capacity, Major Motherwell said that the department approved this principle but he was not prepared to say, however, whether the suggestion would be met in full. Some regulation along these lines to improve quality would doubtless be proposed.

Major Motherwell will return to Vancouver tomorrow morning aboard the fishery patrol steamer Malaspina.

RATEPAYERS IN EAST ORGANIZE

Meeting Held Saturday Night to Lay Plans and Begin Active Work

At a well attended meeting of residents and ratepayers of sections seven and eight, held in Rupert East United Church Saturday night, it was decided to organize a ratepayers' association for the district. A committee was appointed to draft a plan of organization and will report to a general meeting to be held on March 12.

A committee was appointed to wait on the city council to ask that the small park on Sixth Ave. at the Plaza be graded and made suitable for a ball park. The construction of a lateral sewer from Hays Creek to Conrad Street will be urged. As the district at present is seriously inconvenienced through the lack of paved streets, a reasonable street extension program will be asked.

Protection for the fishing fleet was discussed at considerable length. A committee consisting of Messrs. Robert Mackay, Joe Gay and Henry Streikorne will examine suitable and feasible sites and their recommendation will be adopted and a strenuous effort made to help settle this long delayed problem. George E. Casey presided.

The other committees are: Organization—Messrs. Ross Mackay, Robert Mackay and J. McLaughlin.

City Council—Miss Duncan, Ross Mackay, Robert Mackay, L. Peachey and A. H. McLeod.

POWER
Builds Industries!

POWER DEVELOPMENT

1916	1,000,000
1926-7	1,500,000,000
Capital Invested in Manufacturing	1916 1,000,000
1926-7	1,500,000,000

BRITISH Columbia's Power resources are the envy of the world. With Power, the riches of the world can be won; with Power, ores can be mined . . . smelted; transportation problems solved; manufacturing industries developed, and with them population . . . pay-rolls. Power is British Columbia's strongest bid for more industries . . . more people.

Of the millions of horsepower available in our province, but half a million are now harnessed to turn the wheels of industry. The great hydro-electric development at Bridge River will ultimately generate more than 600,000 horsepower, while the output at Bonington Falls and other points is being steadily increased. The Campbell and Chilko Rivers, on the mainland, and the Nimpkish on Vancouver Island, are capable of tremendous power development for the conversion of our forest and mineral resources into fabulous wealth.

Two of British Columbia's Electric Power systems are among the greatest in Canada, each generating more than 400,000,000 kilowatt hours in 1927. This represents an increase in the last ten years of 98% . . . truly a remarkable achievement!

Foreign authorities speak of this record as a measure of the great vitality of British Columbia.

Today we rank third in power and industrial development among Canadian provinces. We have made greater progress per capita than any!

It is the policy of British Columbia to foster the development of the hydro-electric powers for the benefit of the public. They are allotted to private enterprises on condition that they will be developed within a certain time, so that no exploitation of public assets may take place.

Millions of dollars are now earmarked for Power development in our province. Dams are being built, turbines installed . . . transmission lines erected to care for the imminent industrial development.

Thousands of dollars are being expended weekly on materials and wages; thousands are feeling the immediate benefits of this enterprise.

Side by side with our power development, Industrial Expansion has kept pace. Today 17% of Canada's external trade is handled by British Columbia. During the past decade, our basic industries have increased 101.3%. Our total payroll, including all classes, is estimated at 210 million dollars. Today, our Lumbering, Mining and Fishing industries employ 72,517 people, paying them 175 million dollars in wages . . . distributing an average wage ranking among the highest in Canada.

These 175 millions in wages are a great contribution to our annual internal trade in the province. They have given our industrial workers a buying power ranking second in the Dominion and have largely been responsible for our ever increasing prosperity, as evidenced by the fact that the number of automobiles registered in the province last year was 76,187 as compared with 8,596 in 1916.

British Columbia's steady and varied industrial development has changed the conception in Eastern Canada and the United States of our province. No longer are we entirely dependent on the East for our manufactured products. British Columbia is increasingly furnishing her own needs. She now ranks third in the whole Dominion as a manufacturing province.

Our phenomenal Power and Industrial growth has focused the attention of the great industrialists and investors on our province. Today, British Columbia in the eyes of the world, stands for Power, Progress and Plenty. May our efforts of the next ten years stabilize and increase our Prosperity!

Landscape Your Grounds on the Budget Plan.

Plant Shade Trees for Beauty

Trees are planted in the home grounds for two reasons, shade and beauty. The latter is the more important. A tree should always add beauty to its surroundings; and, if possible, it should be placed where its shade will be enjoyed.

Spring is a good time for tree planting. Many, such as birch, cherry, Lombardy poplars, oaks and others, transplant better now than in the fall. Of course care must be taken in preparing the soil, and setting the tree in the ground. But equally vital is that it be set in the right place to do its full duty.

If you know just what a tree is to do, it is easy to select the variety you need, and the location for it. Perhaps it is intended to frame the view of the house. Then it should grow to the proper height, when mature, so that it is in scale with the house, and it should have a crown so shaped as to harmonize with the architecture. There will usually be several locations permissible and one may be chosen which will be most satisfactory for shade.

Trees Should Frame the House, Not Hide It

USE EVERY INCH OF CITY LOT

No longer does a home owner make actual use of only that part of his home grounds on which his house stands. The modern home embraces the entire lot, and assigns to every square foot of surface a function, useful or ornamental.

The owner who neglects to develop his grounds on this principle not only limits his own enjoyment of a property which has cost him plenty, but lessens its resale value, and why should he? Complete planting, according to a modern plan, may require more outlay than he cares to make in one year; but it is easily possible to spread the expenditure over several years on a budget system.

Of course if one can plant all at once, one gets the enjoyment of well-planted grounds the sooner. But it is much easier to plant part at a time, than to build in that way. Gardens do not depreciate with years as buildings do. With intelligent care they grow more valuable, and newer plantings quickly mature into perfect harmony with the old.

When you begin to garden, have a definite object in view. Make a comprehensive plan of development.

ies and plant more of them. The results will be more pleasing. Plant the taller thing in the back of the border and with the lower growing ones alternating and the border plants in curves or groups. Never expect to get mass effect by straight-line planting.

We throw the cut flowers out when they wither and fade. Why

Leave the centre of lawn unobstructed, planting the borders with masses of shrubs and trees.

Background and sky line are features not half appreciated. Given a proper setting, a cottage will often be more attractive than a poorly-set mansion. Plant heavily behind and to the rear sides of your home if on a big lawn.

For the foundations remember always—height in the corners, immediately in front of pillars and at the bare wall spaces. Under the windows low or medium plants only.

Lawn furniture—that is, bird baths, seats, rose arches, sun dials, etc., if properly placed make the lawn much more attractive. These little touches help beautify.

Avoid too much variety in mass planting, alternating or "salt and pepper" arrangement is not nearly so effective as grouping plants of each kind.

For front line or border planting especially, choose few varieties and younger plants are sometimes spaced as closely as six to eight inches. Barberry is planted one to two and a half feet apart, according to nature of the hedge desired. If the hedge is to be clipped closely, set the plants one foot to 18 inches apart.

Hedge plants, such as Spiraea Van Houttei, lilacs and honeysuckles, which are to be allowed to grow tall and either be trimmed or grow naturally, are planted two to three feet apart in the Prune hedges often, especially in the early summer when the growth is prolific. The secret of a beautiful hedge is regularity in

HEDGES FOR EVERY PURPOSE

Hedges play an important part in small home grounds. Success with them requires close attention to a few rules, but if these are observed a good hedge can be grown in any fair garden soil.

Where there is poor soil, such as the clay subsoil that comes out of foundation excavations, it should be replaced with garden loam, or improved. It can be loosened by liberal addition of lime, which has the effect of making the soil particles coarser and thus looser. It should have liberal additions of decayed organic matter, such as manure, or compost from a compost heap. Sand, or even cinders, will help break it up, but manure is best of all.

The illustrations show the steps to follow in planting a hedge of hardy privet, which is an excellent material for low hedges in localities having severe winters. Always dig the trench large enough to hold the roots without curling them up in an unnatural position.

Do not clean the bottom of the trench out as you would if you were laying tile, or a gas pipe. Loosen the soil without removing it, to give the roots a chance to penetrate easily. The hedge plants should be set a trifle deeper than they stood in the nursery row. You can easily tell how deep this was by examining the plant. Privet may be planted quite deep, to make a dense growth close to the ground.

Privet is generally planted one foot apart when strong plants with several branches are used. Light-form and outline and density of foliage. By pruning carefully and to a line you secure the desired regularity. By pruning often the growth is continually stimulated along the sides of the branches; open spaces will fill up and a smooth dense mass of foliage will result.

Hedges must be trimmed on the sides as well as on the top. Otherwise the hedge will get broader at the top than below. The lower branches will then be shaded and the hedge will be unattractive. The ideal hedge is slightly "A" shaped, being broader at the base. This permits the sunlight to reach all sides.

Put Something Down on Paper to Represent the Picture in Your Mind

GARDENS FOR LIMITED AREAS.

Size does not limit a garden's beauty. However small the space or unfavorable the location at the disposal of an earnest gardener, something can be grown there which will give pleasure.

The small garden often calls for a greater effort to produce an artistic and attractive result, just as in the furnishing and decoration of a small room in the house we take more care in each detail of the effect. When successful we are repaid by the small garden, as by the little room, with an intimacy and association not always felt in more spacious surroundings.

Everything is seen closely in the small garden. A single plant or flower becomes the subject of attention rather than the mass of the border. More care must be taken to remove minor imperfections, but there is less for which to care. Color schemes may more easily be handled and close attention to color will be well repaid here.

Pots, seats and ornaments become of great importance in the small garden. It is important to keep them in scale. An over-size ornament will dwarf the garden; proportion must be carefully considered in every detail of design.

It is not always possible to grow grass in small gardens. But areas paved with flagstones, brick or other suitable surfacing may still be gardens. Many plants will thrive where grass refuses to do so. And where the soil conditions refuse to allow plants to be set in the ground they can be grown in pots or tubs. Adverse conditions can usually be overcome.

Small gardens have the sanction of antiquity. Many homes of ancient Pompeii had tiny court gardens. A description has survived in which it is said: "Sometimes a mere tablecloth of free ground is so disposed," showing that where there is love for a garden, almost no plot is too small for its expression.

THE SEASON FOR INDOOR GARDENING

Sun Begins to Get Higher and Plans Must Be Laid at Once

Just as soon as the sun starts to rise, and the days begin to lengthen ever so little, there is a feeling of spring in the air. We may still hug the fire, but we feel an impatience, a stirring to be about affairs outdoors.

There is no better spring tonic to enliven the monotony of winter's final weary days, and make them seem shorter, than planning the garden. Fireside gardening, some one has called it. Let us get our paper, pencil and catalogs and sit by the fire to imagine the garden we would like to have next summer.

We can imagine better gardens than we grow, perhaps; but every garden will be the better for such imagination. A garden needs a plan as much as a house needs it. If you were going to build a house you would not go to a lumber yard to select doors that you liked, windows that appealed to you, and woodwork of various pleasing patterns, without a thought of how you were going to combine them in a house. It is true that garden plants selected haphazardly, as too often they are, would still be beautiful in themselves, however poor their arrangement might be. But how much more beautiful they are when well arranged.

So in planning the garden we should study how to combine our plants so that they will make a picture. Then their individual beauty will be enhanced, and we shall not merely possess beautiful flowers, but shall have transformed our home grounds into a place of loveliness, inviting, reposeful, satisfying. For these are the qualities of garden beauty which impart to the beholder a pleasure as definite and keen as any experience in life.

PARENT TEACHERS AT TERRACE ARE ACTIVE

Number of Matters Connected With the School Comes Under Purview

TERRACE, Feb. 18.—The regular monthly meeting of the Terrace Parent Teacher Association was held in the G. W. V. A. Hall on Thursday evening with President Mrs. Moore in the chair.

Athletic equipment for use in the spring was discussed and the athletic committee was instructed to enquire into the costs of volley ball equipment for the use of the girls, as well as to report on what new equipment was needed for baseball.

Furnishing some means of fire escape was discussed, it being pointed out that fire was more likely to start in the furnace room than anywhere else, and as it was directly under the stairways, in order to get out, the children would have to march through the fire or jump from the high windows. Fire shoots, rope ladders, iron escapes, etc., were suggested and Secretary Halliwell was asked to write for prices on the different kinds, and report at the next meeting.

A number of minor matters were discussed and votes of thanks passed.

Following the business meeting, G. H. Dyson, high school principal, gave an interesting and instructive paper on the Aims and Ideals of Education from the earliest times to the present day, giving a general review of the history of education throughout the ages up to now.

E. T. Kenney has purchased the hardware business of J. D. Agar, and following stock-taking at the end of the week, will take immediate possession. J. E. Hockin, representative of McLellan, McFeely Co., of Vancouver is assisting with the stock-taking.

Members of the boys and girls groups are busy this week-end raising money for work among the groups of the province by the sale of shares in the Character Building of the Boys and Girls of B. C., as issued by the Religious Education Council of B. C. The children are anxious to keep up the standard they made last year, when they turned in more funds to help the cause than any other group in northern B. C.

Constable McKenney returned on Saturday from a business trip to Prince Rupert and left again on Sunday for the coast, having in his care a juvenile who has been committed to the home for neglected children in Vancouver.

S. C. Cooper, local forest ranger was in Prince Rupert at the end of the week on official business.

DAILY NEWS' SHOPPING SERVICE
 for Out-of-Town Subscribers

To serve its women readers, and particularly those who live at a distance from a retail centre, The Daily News has instituted a Shopping Service. The Daily News is read by hundreds of women living far from any urban facilities for shopping and it is for these that this shopping service is primarily intended. Of course, The Daily News Shopper will attend to the man also, although he can buy a pair of braces anywhere. But not everywhere can a woman get a bit of lace matched—or a piece of embroidery thread—or the thousand and one things that make up the difference between a woman's wants and a man's.

The Prince Rupert Merchants Carry between them Stocks running up to $2,000,000 and while it is not possible to purchase everything in this world in Prince Rupert, most things are available by return mail.

None of the Prince Rupert merchants can possibly advertise everything they carry in stock, but if the thing wanted is to be got in this city, our out-of-town readers may be sure that The Daily News Shopper will get it when asked for.

If any of our women readers cannot get what they want in their nearest store, all there is to do is to write to The Daily News Shopper, stating what is required with whatever details there may be, enclosing the cost, and if it is in Prince Rupert, The Daily News Shopper makes your purchase.

This Service Free

Man in the Moon

Some people hate to carry even a bottle of vinegar for fear of being suspected.

Spring is here Or will be soon, I know because I saw the moon; And it would seem To indicate 'Twould early be If 'twas not late.

What is the good of having a back if it is not patted once in a while.

Some people are moral from force of habit others because they think it's right, and others again because of lack of opportunity.

WHERE DOES LIFE BEGIN? A FABLE FOR YOU AND ME. THERE were two children, healthy and strong, who were climbing the ladder of learning—learning that life holds forth a promise to faithful students, rewarding them with opportunities and sometimes fame. Now these two children dreamed dreams and made wishes as they saw the end of schooldays and looked into the years ahead. Their country was prosperous, because the products of the land and its industries prospered and abounded with opportunities for the children of the people. Each child began the battle of life with the occupation of his choice, and few there were who failed in after years. There's a moral to this story The children of today are the nation of tomorrow. Every dollar you spend for a B.C. Product helps certify the industrial progress and prosperity of British Columbia. Your dollar spent for B.C. Products helps provide opportunities and careers for your children in the industries of British Columbia. After all, that is where "life" begins.

"REVENGE" STARS DOLORES DEL RIO

Fascinating Gypsy Romance Is Background for Star's Finest Portrayal

A gypsy romance of fire and passion, barbaric in its surging emotions, colorful as a Romany costume, litting as a Roumanian rhapsody, glamorous with romantic charm, dynamic in its dramatic sweep—that is "Revenge," showing at the Capitol tonight and Tuesday.

"Revenge" is one of the finest works of screen art that Hollywood has yet produced. It is another triumph for Dolores Del Rio, the star, for Edwin Carewe, the director, and for Finis Fox, the scenarist.

Beautiful in clothes of barbaric splendor, imperious in exercising her will over man and beast, tender in her romantic moments, Miss Del Rio's histrionic skill and gift of character delineation find opportunity for full expression as a gypsy girl who tames wild bears and men for the sheer joy of taming them.

In "Resurrection" and "Ramona" he played a tragic role. In "Revenge" she is the essence of charm and fire as the adorable gypsy bear-tamer and even in her most dramatic nuances accentuates her performance with delightful humorous touches.

"Revenge" is the third United Artists offering Miss Del Rio has appeared in and is probably the best presentation this Mexican star has given the fans since her entry into the silent drama after Edwin Carewe found her in the midst of social splendor in Mexico City some three years ago.

A NEWSPAPER DINNER HELD

Staffs of the Empire and Daily News Guests of News Management Saturday Evening

On Saturday evening the staffs of the Evening Empire and Daily News were entertained at an informal dinner by the Daily News management at the Boston Cafe. The long table was very tastefully decorated with daffodils and candles and the seats were marked with little yellow newsboy favors each with a miniature newspaper and the name of the guest on the wrapper. H. F. Pullen, president of the Prince Rupert Daily News Ltd., was in the chair and at the opposite end of the table W. J. Raymond of the Empire did the honors. None but employees of the newspapers and their wives were present.

The Boston management served an excellent dinner and between courses and at the close a few dances were enjoyed.

The guests were welcomed by Mr. Pullen, who mentioned that he thought this was the first time anything of the kind had taken place in Prince Rupert but he hoped it would not be the last. Mr. Raymond replied and brief speeches were made by George Wilson, O. A. Franks, D. McCorkindale, R. Young and Miss Graham.

Those present from the Empire were W. J. Raymond, O. A. Franks, Miss Brewerton, and from the Daily News Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Pullen, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, G. A. Hunter, D. McCorkindale, R. Young, Miss Hulda Graham, Miss Cathie Irvine, Miss K. Dunn, Tommy Fraser and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Miller.

S. D. Macdonald from the Empire and H. G. Kennedy of the Daily News were unable to attend.

DRAMATIC YARN AT WESTHOLME

Picture Carries the Hero to Greece and Is Full of Action and Thrills

Romantic, dramatic, thrilling, is the story of Rod La Roque's latest star vehicle, "Stand and Deliver." The scenes are for the great part laid at the war front in France, in England and finally in Greece. The hero is an Englishman who finds life in a fashionable London club rather too tame after his gruelling experiences on the fighting line in France. He longs for adventure and when the glorious road is accidentally shown him, he follows his bent joyously. The result is thrilling in the extreme and—well, here's a brief resume of the story as outlined in the picture:

On the firing line in France two glish aviation officers are seeking shelter from the German machine gun fire. The scene is lighted by a bursting shell, revealing Roger Norman and his pal, Ralph. With strained faces they look upward. The scene changes and there is revealed the faces of the same men seated in an exclusive London club. Both are in evening clothes. Roger is bored. Ralph is reading a newspaper. He suggests to Roger that if he seeks excitement he will find it in Greece, where the country is overrun by bandits. Roger, interested, decides to enlist in the army of Greece.

Joins Grecian Cavalry

Next find Roger a lieutenant in the cavalry service of Greece. In company with several other officers he appears on the scene. In the distance they see smoke. They suspect a bandit raid. They arrive upon the scene to find they are right. Roger, dismounting, dashes into a burning house to save Jania, a beautiful Greek girl. Jania is grateful but he is annoyed. He rides away with the officers, leaving Jania.

From this time on the action quickens and the thrills increase.
