BOMB EXPLODED DELHI LEGISLATURE SEVERAL INJURED, NONE KILLED, SOME NARROW ESCAPES

Narrow Escape for Sir John Simon When Bombs Exploded in Assembly at Delhi, India, Tearing Benches

DELHI, India, April 8.—Two bombs exploded in the Indian legislative assembly today and several persons were injured. It caused a panic among the assemblymen. Among those injured was Sir George Schuster, finance member of the governor-general's executive council.

Sir John Simon, head of the crown committee for constitutional reform in India, was standing with the president of the assembly when the explosion occurred, but he was not injured. The three government benches were torn to bits by the bombs.

Two men were arrested and it is reported that they confessed after other bombs and pistols were found on their persons.

PARLIAMENT TO ADJOURN SOON

Mixing of Grain in Canadian Elevators to Be Discussed

OTTAWA, April 8.—Parliament in its rapid advance towards early prorogation faces a week of constant activity. On Tuesday the debate on the budget is expected to be concluded. On the morning of the same day a hectic battle on the administration of the Canada Grain Act and the proposal to prevent mixing of grain for export in Canadian elevators will break out in the agricultural department.

For the remainder of the week the government legislation will have the right of way in the house of commons, while the senate reassembles on Tuesday evening for the first time since their recess.

Discussion on the annual financial statement of the minister of finance is likely to be concluded by Hon. Robert Gardiner, U. F. A. leader, and Premier King. In all probability, Conservative Leader Hon. R. B. Bennett will not speak.

ONLY NATIVES OF CANADA CAN CROSS TO U. S.

Supreme Court Rules Against Free Movement of Naturalized Canadians Across Line

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The supreme court of the United States ruled today that naturalized Canadians and other quota immigrants were prohibited from crossing the border to work or search for employment without presenting unexpired consular immigration visas.

Naturalized Canadians were declared not entitled under the Jay treaty of 1794 to cross the border freely regardless of immigration restrictions.

The controversy did not involve the status of native born Canadians.

BAD DAMAGE TO HALIBUT VESSEL

Hull of Schooner Doric Practically Total Loss Following Stranding—Now at
Dry Dock

The hull of the American halibut schooner Doric, which went on the rocks of Kinahan Island in a snowstorm last Monday morning, is practically a total loss and the engine may be seriously damaged as a result of the pounding the vessel received. The hull is of sawn frame lumber and, having been badly chewed up on the rocks, will be very difficult to repair.

As soon as the wrecked schooner was delivered to port from Kinahan Island by the Pacific Salvage Co. on Saturday afternoon, she was placed on the pontoons at the dry dock and is now in the hands of the underwriters. It has not yet been decided what will be done in the matter of repairs.

VICTORIA MILITARY MAN AND BROKER IS DEAD OF PNEUMONIA

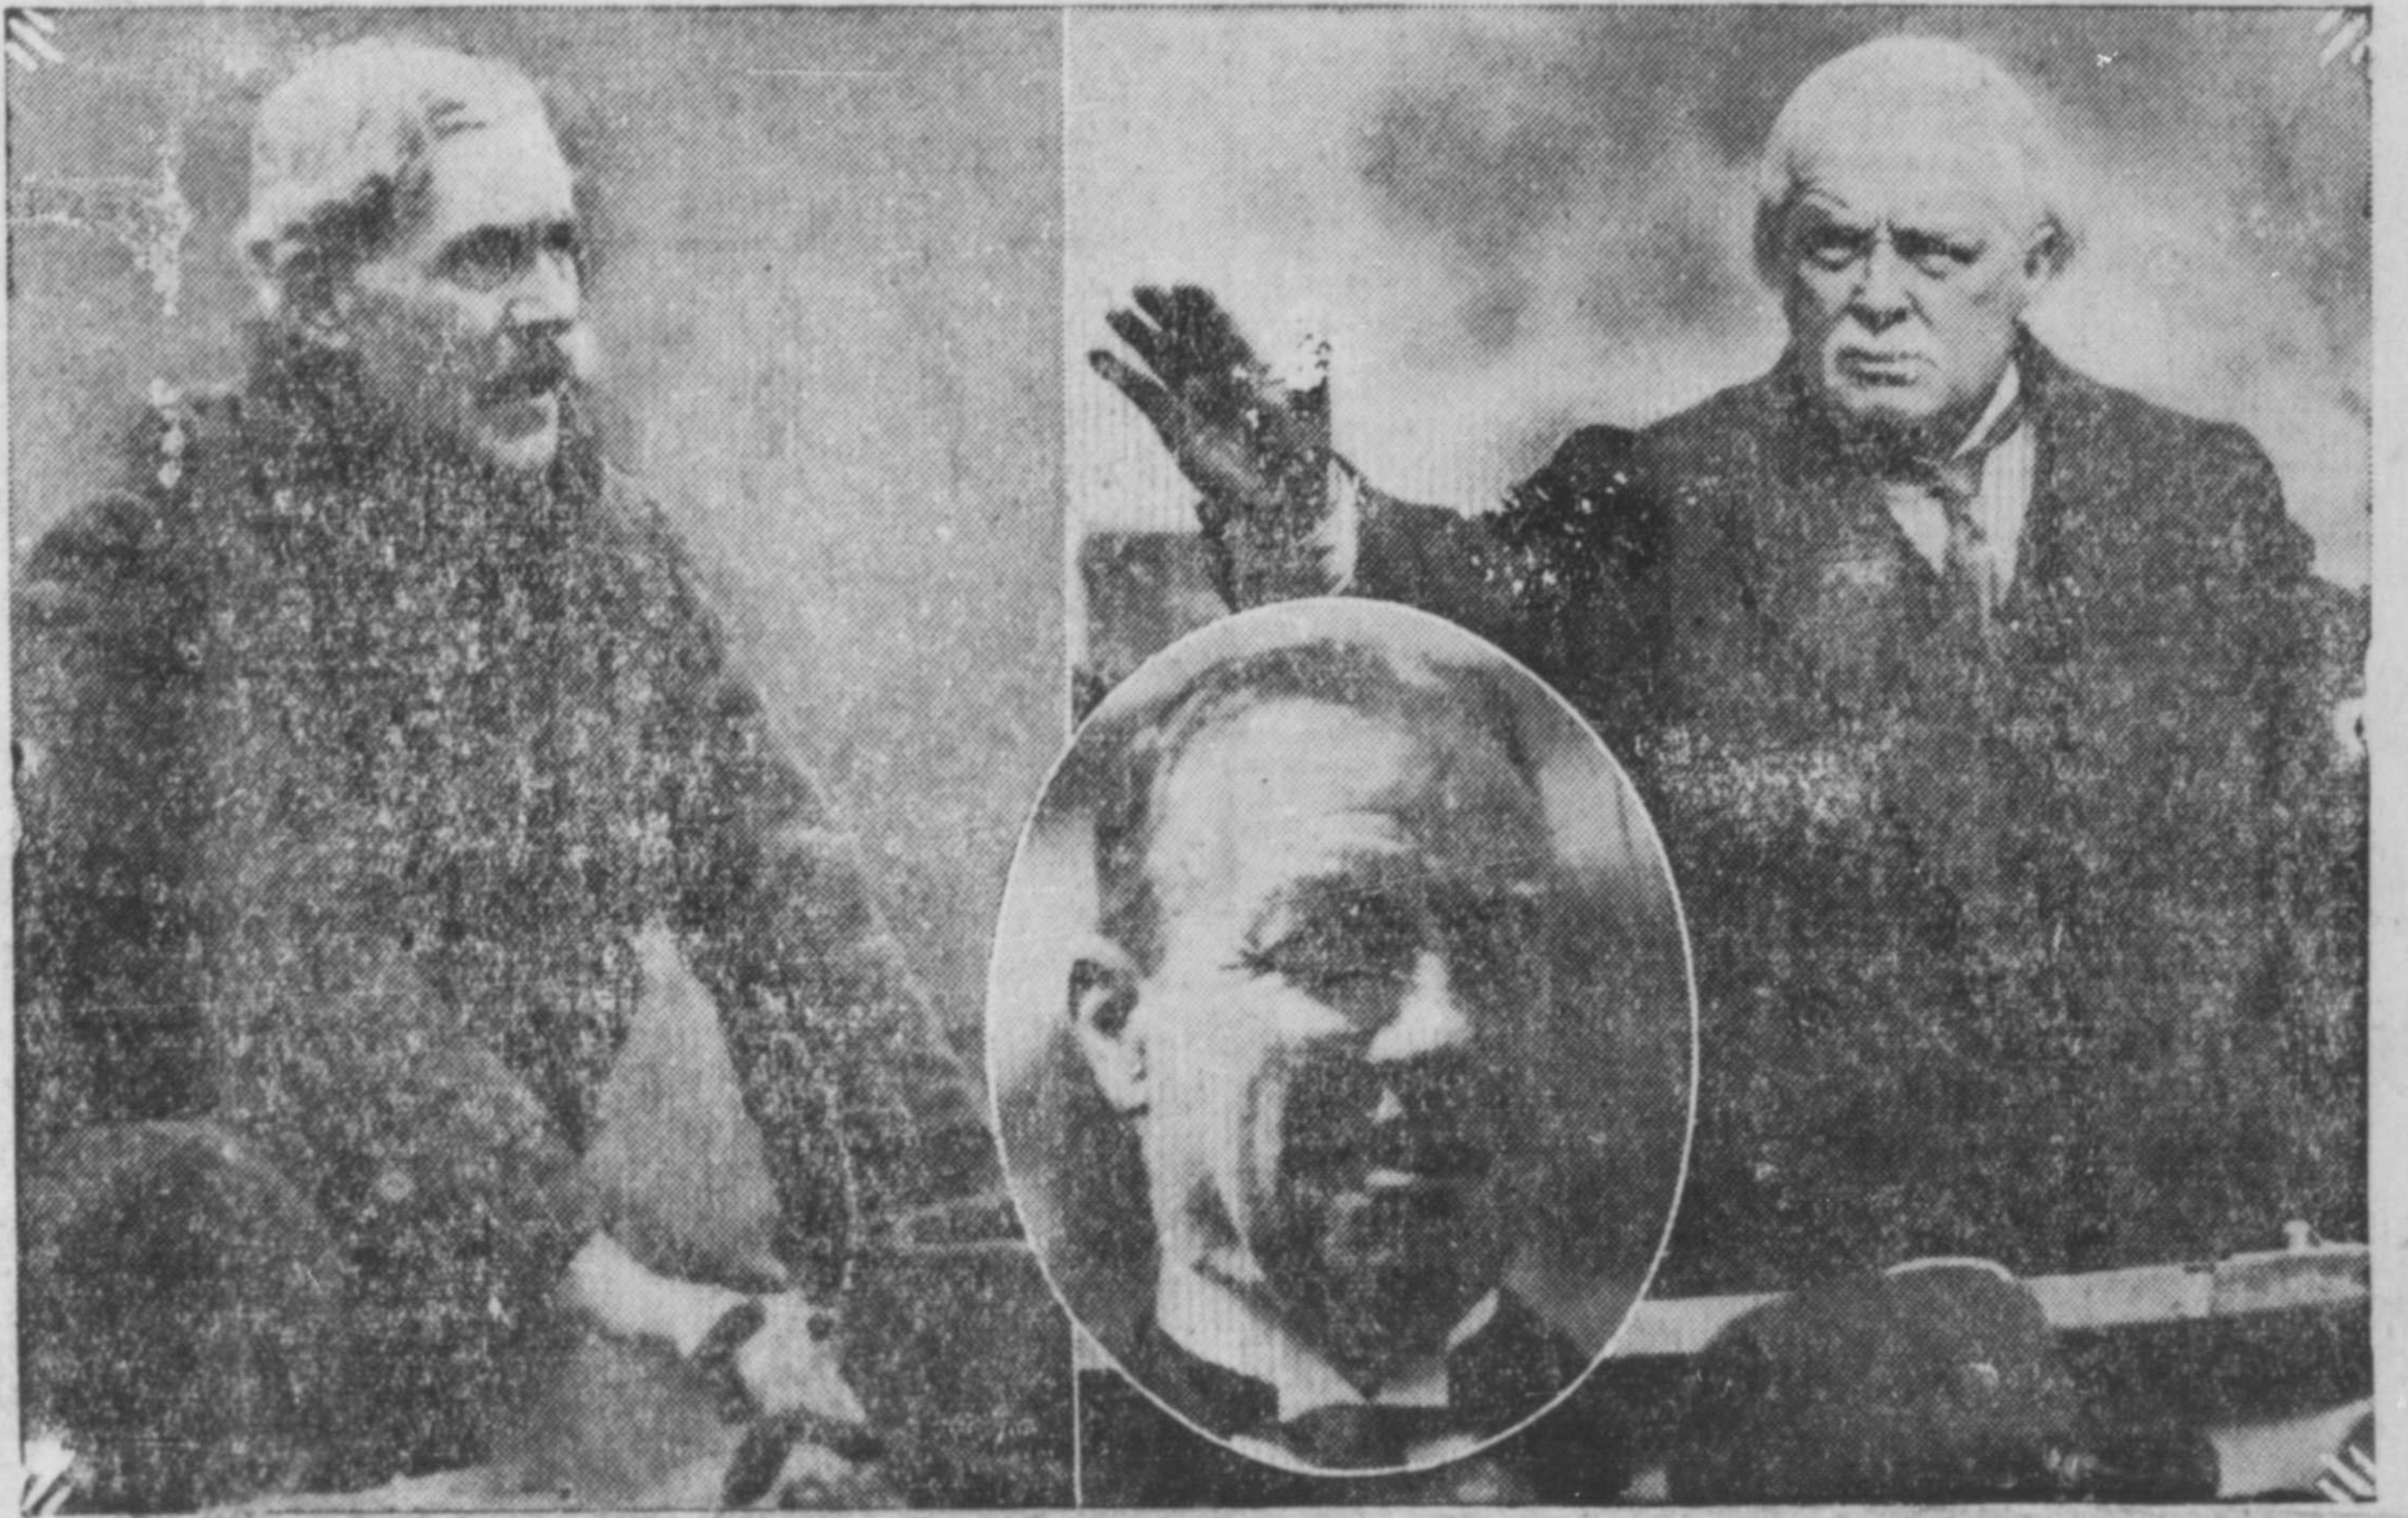

VICTORIA, April 8.—Major H. Hebben Gillespie, aged 50, second in command of the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Regiment and senior member of the firm of Gillespie, Hart & Todd, bond dealers and brokers, died here last night after a brief illness with pneumonia.

P. G. E. SURVEY WILL BE MADE BY CALLOGAN

VICTORIA, April 8.—J. Callogan, deputy minister of railways of Alberta, today was appointed by the provincial government to find a route for the Pacific Great Eastern from Quesnel or point to south of it to Prince George.

Mr. Callogan will take a party of surveyors and engineers to the present terminus of the railway immediately to launch the first stage of the government's comprehensive P. G. E. survey.

Who will be Victorious in the Forthcoming British Elections?

The political forces of Great Britain are mustering all followers under their banners to prepare for the great onslaught which will take place on May 20, when a record poll is expected. If the recent by-elections in the Old Country are any criterion, the outlook would appear bad for Stanley Baldwin and his Conservative Government. Mr. Ramsay MacDonald (left), leader of the Labor Party, is very confident of victory in view of the fact that ninety per cent. of his clashes with the Government and Liberal parties in the by-elections have resulted in his favor, while Mr. Lloyd George, war-time Premier and Leader of the Liberal Party, expects to turn the scale with his new unemployment platform. Premier Baldwin (inset) says nothing but continues smilingly on his way. He knows that his Government was responsible for the franchise recently given to the female voters in the Old Country and that means 5,000,000 more voters this coming May. It remains to be seen whether the new voters are fickle.

GROWING NATIONALISM

Difficulties Brought About by Present Financial Condition of the Country

VANCOUVER, April 8:—With a true national consciousness for the first time in its history, and yet with a central government that is recognized but is not given the necessary support by the provinces, the Chinese Nation today finds itself in a paradoxical position and must rely upon some of the other nations of the world to help it regain its feet. This is a brief summing up of the findings of the League of Nations mission to China. Joseph Avenel, Deputy Secretary-General of the League, who with his chief assistant, Henri Bonnet, made a tour of China lasting three months, gave an outline of his findings to a joint meeting of the institute of internal affairs and the League of Nations Society. Vancouver branches at the University Club Saturday night. As the distinguished guest of Sir Henry Thornton, who sent his car to accommodate the party on its journey across Canada, Mr. Avenel left by the Canadian National Railways Sunday night for Jasper National Park, where a day will be spent before proceeding.—(Continued on page two.)

Weather Conditions in Southern Ontario Continue Bad and Death List Rises to Eight from Storms

TORONTO, April 8.—With rain falling in many districts of southern Ontario again today and thunderstorms predicted in some localities, the situation, brought about by diversity of weather conditions during the past week, continues to cause grave apprehension.

Reports indicate that the death toll through storm and flood remains at eight, but in some quarters over the weekend the property damage is set at $1,000,000, which is believed to be conservative. Throughout the country innumerable bridges have been washed away, scores of washouts have disrupted railway service, telegraphs and telephones, while damage through flooded basements in factories and houses has been general in affected areas.

TASMANIAN FLOODS CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE

HOBART, Tasmania, April 8.—The death toll from floods continues to grow. A motor truck carrying a number of children to a concert at Ulverstone crashed through a weakened bridge into the Gawler River. Eight of the children were killed, including six members of one family. The total deaths at Briseis mine, near Derby, has grown to 27.

DROPPED DEAD AT THE TILLER

SEATTLE, April 8.—Calling to another to take the tiller, John Winslow, aged 55, marine architect, dropped dead as he was piloting a yacht in a sailing race on Lake Washington yesterday. He was one of the cities leading marine architects.

GAS ENDS LIFE AT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, April 8.—Two lifeless bodies, those of John Dutton, a sawmill worker, and his 9-year-old son, Teddy, were found in a gas-filled room of their Helmcken Street residence.

Led by the smell of gas two fellow residents battered down the locked door of the Duttons' room to find the victims. The father was lying on the floor under a pile of blankets and a rubber tube leading from the gas jet was clasped in his hand and a few feet away the body of his son lay on the floor.

VICTORIA, April 8.—Lord and Lady Willingdon, accompanied by Lieutenant-Governor Bruce, Miss Mackenzie and a party of representative businessmen of Victoria, Vancouver and various canneries centres, left tonight on the Norah for a four days' cruise on the west coast of Vancouver island.

Fresh Water Tiger

35 pound muskie captured by G. Clark of Toronto after an hour's fight with a light rod and nine pound test line

Fishermen differ as to the fighting merits of the various species of the finny tribe to be found in North American waters. Some claim that, inch for inch and pound for pound, the small mouth black bass is the game fish that swims; others are equally enthusiastic in praise of the speckled brook trout; while still another fraternity claim that the salmon puts up as noble a battle for liberty as any game fish extant. All are agreed, however, that the muscalunge, sometimes called the "fresh water tiger" is one of the greatest fighters known to anglers, and that he will put up a battle royal when attached to the business end of a rod.

One of the productive muscalunge streams in North America is French River, in Ontario, Canada, which connects Lake Nipissing on the East with Georgian Bay on the West. This tangle of waterways is not only the haunt of the fighting muscalunge but it yields small and large mouth black bass, great northern pike of enormous size and pickerel in abundance, as well as pan fish. Not long ago a prominent New York business man landed a 55 pound "muskie" after a battle which will probably satisfy his quest for a thrill for the rest of his life.

BASKETBALL TEAMS WERE ENTERTAINED

Smithers Young People Found Fine Welcome Awaiting Them at Terrace

TERRACE, April 8.—Smithers boys and girls basketball teams returned to the interior of Saturday after playing a series of games here on Thursday and Friday nights. During their stay here they were much feted and expressed appreciation of the good time given them. F. C. Bishop was host to all the players at a free show at the local theatre early Thursday evening before the games. Following Thursday night's games the players were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burnett where refreshments were served and a sing song enjoyed. On Friday afternoon a reception was held for the visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Little. Community singing and vocal solos by Mrs. G. H. Dyson and Rev. A. W. Robinson were much enjoyed as was also the Russian dancing of Miss Marie Mussallem of Prince Rupert. Refreshments were partaken of and an enjoyable social hour spent. Following Friday night's game a public dance was held at which a very large crowd was in attendance and which seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

A NEW CENTRAL GOVERNMENT IN CHINA TODAY

ing to Winnipeg. Mr. Avenel will address meetings in Winnipeg and other Eastern centres before leaving Canada for New York and Washington, on the way to Geneva.

"The Central Government of China, which is situated at Nanking and is headed by Chiang Kai Chek, was created by the Kuomintang party and is based on the principles of Dr. Sun Yat Sen," said Mr. Avenel. "It has incarnated China's Nationalism. This is not, as in Europe, an aggressive feeling of one nation against another, but the growing consciousness of nationhood. The Chinese have been a people of families and provinces, now they are a people united in national feeling."

Yet, while the whole political system was based on the existence of the Kuomintang, and while the central government was looked upon by all China, even by its adversaries, as the national government, it had little power. The first reason was that it had no money. The second that the provinces, with strong local spirit, had resources and administrations of their own. Nevertheless, every part of China insisted that it was the central government that must deal with foreign nations. It was in the best interests of China and of the world that the foreign countries interested in China to help China with funds to supplement its excellent organization and an established system of propaganda. The National government, he was sure, would be able to weld the country together.

One of the first things it would have to do would be to put its haphazard currency system on a better footing. As far as the outside world was concerned, Mr. Avenel said, China still suffered an inferiority feeling because of what it regarded as unequal treaties, but policies were being modified and there was no need for pessimism. What feeling of hostility existed was not active. China was very favorably disposed toward the League of Nations and was friendly to the United States, where it expected to get help. Although the Russians had done them a service in teaching them organization and propaganda, the authorities in China today were antagonistic to the Communists, and the mission saw little evidence of Soviet influence.

Always!—in the pocket of my car

"When you are driving a car these days—it's a question of eyes front!" said a friend of mine recently. "That's why I smoke cigars when driving. You light up and smoke. I like a pipe and I smoke cigarettes too—but these take more attention than a cigar. I buy a pocket pack of 5 Marguerites—foil wrapped, factory-fresh—I drop it in the pocket of my car. I always have a cigar handy and do you know," he concluded, "the old bus seems to run smoother when you're smoking a Marguerite."

Sport Chat

Vancouver Meloramas will journey to Edmonton to play with the Edmonton Commercial Grads in the Western Canada girls' final championship basketball series. Arrangements are being made to play the games next week. It was at first planned to have the final played at Vancouver but Percy Page, manager of the Grads, insisted that it be at Edmonton and apparently won his point.

Though Manager Wilbert Robinson had some troubles in the spring training, the Brooklyn Robins appear to be formidable in the race for the National Baseball League flag this year. The sore arm of Glenn Wright, obtained from Pittsburg for Jess Petty, has been disturbing but the excellent showing of Del Bissonette, Win Ballou and Billy Rhiel has been joyful. Rhiel looks like one of the finds of the year among the rookies. Ballou, a pitcher, has been up before, but seems to be due to stick this time.

POISON GAS

The announcement was recently made that Germany had approved an agreement under which all nations of the world pledge themselves not to use poison gas in time of war. Pacifists are taking credit for this as a move toward general peace.

Those who look back to the time of the great war will remember that agreements, pacts and treaties were very easily set aside at that time by a good many nations. Italy had a treaty with Germany but she immediately abrogated it. There were agreements in regard to various countries and matters, all of which were swept away as being of minor importance compared with the winning of the war.

Possibly the greatest force against another great war would be the realization of the horrors which must attend it. To attempt to mitigate those horrors beforehand is possibly not the best means of preventing an outbreak.

COST OF LOADING LESS

It was a good move for the grain committee of the Board of Trade to puncture the fallacy that it was cheaper to load grain in Vancouver than in Prince Rupert. While an exact comparison has not yet been made which might be valuable for purpose of settling arguments, the figure submitted to the Board of Trade by J. H. Pillsbury at the dinner last Friday evening were sufficiently convincing. The secretary of the board was instructed to forward the figures to the Vancouver Province and it is understood they have gone forward. Mr. Pillsbury deserves the thanks of the community for his prompt action.

THE POET OF INDIA

Some of the teachers who returned yesterday from attending the teachers' convention in Vancouver were disappointed that they were unable to meet India's poet, Sir Rabindranath Tagore, who was billed to give an address. Unhappily the steamer from the Orient did not arrive in time.

There is a great deal that Canada can learn from the Orient and no opportunity should be lost to study the philosophies, life and problems of our neighbors on the other side of the Pacific.

NEW MAP OF NORTH

A new map prepared by the department of lands covering all central and a considerable part of northern British Columbia, including the Peace River block and Telegraph Creek, west to and including Queen Charlotte Islands and east to the Alberta boundary, is the most complete map of its kind yet seen. It gives a mass of detail, not only showing the cities, towns, villages and many of the physical features, but also gives information in regard to the places.

The map will doubtless be very useful, especially at a time when general attention is being called to this part of the country.

APPEAL TO FISHERMEN

Editor, Daily News: Having read in your publication an announcement that a commission will shortly sit in this city, to take evidence in relation to the wisdom, or otherwise, of permitting traps to operate in Canadian waters on, or adjacent to the Alaskan boundary, I would as a deeply interested fisherman issue an appeal to all fishermen to attend the meeting to be held in the City Hall Wednesday evening apropos of this matter. I would remind the public plus the Board of Trade of a public meeting held in June, 1926. This meeting was called by the Board of Trade, Mr. Gonzales pleading the justification of traps on behalf of the Canadian Fishing Co., while several fishermen gave their personal views protesting against the adoption of such fishing methods in Northern B. C. As a result of this meeting traps were not permitted.

Viewing this matter from a municipal aspect it appears to me, that the canners strive to adopt this method of fishing as the cheaper way of getting quantities. Granted it is—but who reaps the benefit? Neither the consumer, nor the businessman of Prince Rupert. The canners may spend considerable money even in Prince Rupert, but it is only a drop in the bucket compared to the individual fishermen together with wives and children. Trap fishing is bulk fishing ad lib. and is not to be countenanced if the fishermen hope to continue at the game.

We have thousands of dollars invested in this business as fishermen. We are numerous and worthy of consideration. We have a chance to voice our protest at the commission on April 18. This protest must be in the form of stable evidence. Let this serve as a clarion call to all who are interested, fishermen and general public, to attend at the City Hall, Wednesday night, and frame up data, indisputable, to be placed before the commission on April 18.

Our future is at stake and it is up to us to be on hand and raise a practical, demonstrative protest, against the bane of individual fishing, i.e., Traps. Don't be trapped.

LOOKING BACK
MANY YEARS TO LONDON RIOTS

George Bushby Digs Up Letter Received by Him Telling of De Lesseps of Canal Fame

In looking over his papers the other day, George Bushby of this city found a missive he received from London, England, in 1886. The lady writer, a cousin of his, said her uncle was at the breakfast given at Southampton to old M. Lesseps before he started for Colon to superintend the construction of the Panama Canal. It was expected to cost sixty thousand pounds. A tunnel had to be bored through some mountain for the ships to pass through. "He is a wonderfully energetic man and over 80," she said. "Uncle also met the American, Stanley, and discoursed with him on the Congo railway scheme." The letter continues:

"We all belong to the Primrose League to uphold the church and state.

"You will see my this week's Graphic about the riots in London last Monday. The unemployed workmen were to hold a quiet meeting in Trafalgar Square, but besides them and against them there was a monster meeting of roughs, vagabonds, men who had taken for themselves a holiday from their unemployment in the docks and thieves, and this present government, Gladstone, Childers & Co., gave orders to the police not to interfere, consequently the mob began in St. James St. at the Conservative Clubs and on through Piccadilly, South Audley Street, Oxford Street, smashing every window and looting the jewellers' shops and throwing the poultry and wine bottles that they had seized from the shops. We drove through the besieged streets on Thursday and it was most distressing to see the damage done, both to small shop people and to private houses. There will be an inquiry and probably the government will go out."

TALL ANNUALS FOR GROUPS

There isn't a very great variety of tall annuals to deck the back of the border, that is, annuals that reach a height of four feet or more. Of these the cosmos is one of the finest. The best quality bloom is produced by some of the older forms which are so late about getting into action that it is hardly worth while growing them unless the seed is started in the home in March with transplanting to make the seedlings stocky. Lady Lenox is one of the finest of these late bloomers.

The early blooming types give fine flowers and come into bloom in time to pay for their keep and run for their root room. They may be sown outdoors but care should be taken to protect the seedlings if a nippy night with frost comes along.

The ornamental tobaccos, particularly the variety Nicotiana glauca, are stately back-of-the-border plants with huge heads of long tubular flowers terminating in a white star. It is a stately annual.

We now have a race of miniature flowered sunflowers around three to four feet in height that rival the gaillardias in coloring, being banded with red and ranging from creamy white to deep yellows, all with fine dark contrasting centers. They are fine for cutting and are worth a trial. They are one of the fine novelties of the year among the annuals.

The old spider plant, Cheome pungens, continues to be a favorite in both its white and purple forms and is much used in park planting. Its curious spidery flowers and ornamental foliage never failed to attract attention.

Among plants approaching the tall class are the colossal zinnias and the African marigolds. They make three feet or more and give a wonderful display of bloom for the last half of the summer. Not much is gained by sowing either indoors as sown May 1 in most sections they will catch up with transplanted plants from earlier sowings. The African marigolds should be sown as soon as they have attained a height of 18 inches as their heavy foliage makes them easy victims of winds.

PANSIES AND VIOLAS

Although the pansy, botanically, is a viola, Viola tricolor, a distinction between the pansies and other members of the genus is made, the pansy being characterized by its greater sized blooms, although in coloring it is difficult to determine where a viola ends and a pansy starts, especially in the halfway hybrids known as

The old steams should be cut back when they grow a little straggly and the tufting process will make nice neat compact bushes.

Rock gardeners have been responsible for the development of many viola types. Viola bosniaca, a crimson type or a clear magenta, is one of these. It is a species and comes true from seed and is a brilliant bit of color. It now has hybrid forms.

One of the daintiest and most graceful of the violas is Viola gracilis, which has also been hybridized into a number of colors, some of them very rich and velvety. Viola Haselmere comes close to being pink and is a very pretty, small but profuse, flowing viola. Some very pretty blue forms often occur among Haselmere seedlings that are fully as fine as the type.

Lord Nelson is a rich, deep-colored hybrid viola that has attained much popularity. All of these forms bloom the first year from seed if given a reasonably early start to get them into good growth before hot weather. The tufted pansies stand heat much better than the true pansies. In the latter strain there is such a wealth of variety that it is merely a matter of taste in selecting and amazing size has been obtained in some of the strains. Pansies are readily raised from seed and need an early start, but plants are always neglected if seed sowing has been neglected. Favorite forms of the violas are easily propagated from cuttings in wet sand in mid-summer, the tufted habit furnishing plenty of material for propagation.

tufted pansies, which in some cases have been developed to pansy size.

The tufted pansies have the advantage over the pansy in their greater hardiness and greater profusion of bloom, the tuft part consisting of a great number of stems springing from the base of the plant after its first blooms from seed to replenish the supply.

NEW DAHLIAS FROM SEED

With the tremendous vogue engendered by the modern dahlia has come a natural rise in prices for the newest and rarest varieties. It is Dahlia fans always want some of the newest types to try out and in order to have a supply of plants which may give a dozen or more types new to the garden,

Dahlias From Seed Are a Fascinating Experiment

Collarette and Stella or star-flowered tingle types. The huge peony-flowered type is also offered by the seedsman. It is easily possible to grow a representative collection of dahlia types from seed in a single season.

The dahlia likes warmth and the seedlings should have a warm place to get their start. Placed in the window during the day, if raised in the house, they should be moved away from the glass at night, particularly if the temperature outside is low. As soon as they have made a couple of leaves, which will be by their third week from planting, they will greatly benefit by being transplanted two inches apart into other boxes, the transplanting thickening up the root system and assisting the production of good substantial tubers.

Dahlia seedlings are one of the popular hobbies and gardeners who go in for these plants and one of their most fascinating interests of the garden season, in watching for the opening of seedlings to discover new prizes.

seedling raising is the proper procedure. Seed of the finest strains in this country and Europe are offered for much less than the price of the roots.

Dahlias are extremely variable in their reproduction from seed and it is impossible to tell what colors seeds of a given variety will give. A packet of seed is likely to give a range of coloring from white and yellow to dark crimsons with many shaded and variegated types. The seed should be started in March in order to get the plants into bloom by August or early September. An early start is also necessary for the development of tubers large enough to store easily next fall.

The spring catalogues which are now at hand offer a wide selection in dahlia seeds, from the giant flowered prize winning strains down to the easily grown Colfness types which may be sown outdoors, and the graceful

ANNABELL ANNUAL SAYS

The old-fashioned portulaca or rose moss is coming into its own to sow between chinks in stone paved walks. It makes a pretty decoration and stands the hottest sun.

There is no use taking up room with old-fashioned morning glories when you can have double the beauty and variety from the Imperial Japanese type.

Sow verbena seeds in a box in the window. These seeds are rather slow starters and it is none too early to get them going for quick effect in the garden.

Make a new resolution this year, "I won't sow seed too thickly."

SOMETHING NEW IN THE GARDEN

An English authority, writing on annuals recently, said: "If I were condemned to grow but two or three annuals my choice would surely include the annual Mallow Lavatera splendens, in both its white and pink varieties. If a plant of matchless beauty for planting in a border of about two to two and one-half feet high is required, you will not better the low, Lavatera trimestris, a fine annual that somehow did not make its way into gardens as far as its beauty justified. Mallow pink is such a characteristic coloring that it is accepted as one of the standard colors in Ridgeway's authoritative color charts. It is a deep pink with a slight tinge of purple.

The mallow family is an important one including the cotton plant among the important agricultural plants, the okra among cereals and the althea among shrubs and also the marshmallow and the gorgeous greenhouse hibiscuses.

Lavatera splendens has holly-hock shaped leaves, although much smaller, and quantities of large shining blooms along its stems, a long season of flowering and is as easy to grow as any annual in the garden. A highly praised combination is the annual mallow and the bugloss, Echium plantagineum, a taller relative of the forget-me-not with rich blue flowers with a tinge of purple. This will be a handsome combination in the garden, easily grown, and one that will be uncommon and attract attention.

Pink Lavatera with its silken petals.

Lavatera splendens is a modern improvement on the old tree mal-

Just as soon as seeds sprout, and push their tiny heads up through the soil, they must have light. They have been started in a cigar box, as described in previous articles, and kept in the dark, covered with moist paper until they sprout. When the first growth is seen above the soil take the box at once to the window which has the most light. A south window is best.

If you can get a piece of window glass just large enough to cover the cigar box, place it over the box. Put a small block of wood under the end of the box which is away from the window. This will tilt the box toward the light. Keep the soil moist; the best way to do this is to fill the dish pan with water and place the bottom of the box in the water so that the soil soaks up moisture. Be careful not to sprinkle the soil in such a way as to wash out the tiny seedlings. Many baby plants are killed in this way.

Every morning lift the glass which is over the box and wipe it clean of the drops of water which will have collected on it; and on warm, sunny days place a bit of wood under one end of the glass to let the air circulate over the soil.

Your baby plants should grow very fast in the sunshine; before long they will have two leaves; and then another two will appear. These early leaves are important. The first are not real leaves but are called "seed leaves." They are growths which help the baby plant to get a start, and then disappear. But the next two leaves will be true leaves, and when these appear it is a sign the baby plant must have more room.

Get another cigar box, or ask mother for some "little" flower pots. Paper pots are often used at this stage. These new boxes or pots must be filled with earth, just as the first first box, very fine sifted soil, which is packed down and smoothed.

If you use cigar boxes, make straight "drills" with the edge of a ruler just as you did with the first box in which the seeds were sown. Then take a pen-knife and, using the blade as a spade, lift each tiny seedling from the first box and transplant it to one of the new ones, placing them at least one inch apart so that they have room to grow. The rows should be at least one inch apart; and the plants one inch apart in the row. Water as before, by letting the bottom of the box down into water, and place the boxes in the window again.

This is called transplanting; and the purpose of it is to give the baby plants more room to grow. It is very important, because if it is not done, the tiny plants will crowd each other, and grow tall and thin, and be very weak, like children that do not get enough to eat.

Bamboo stakes are handiest of all the commercial plant stakes. They are cheap and a bundle of them is a real convenience. They can be broken to any desired length and are slender but strong and lasting.

Watch dahlia tubers in storage. Cut any signs of rot in the tubers.

Order perennial seeds early this year. You will have better plants than if you wait to the usual time of planting in June. Some of them germinate much better in cool weather.

Try some new annuals this year. There is an unusually fine selection of new things and old favorites that have been brought back into circulation from which to select.

Drainage in seed boxes is essential to good crops of young plants.

Try Chinese forget-me-not or Cynoglossum or the new annual Anchusa for a fine display of were sown. Then take a pen-knife and, using the blade as a spade, lift each tiny seedling

A Better WORK BOOT

BLUTIP

THE job makes no difference—"Blutip" is the boot. For every worker "Blutip" offers the advantages of a light weight boot with a specially tanned sole that wears months longer than ordinary boots. A sole made from plump western Canadian hides and tanned by a chrome re-tan process resulting in a better boot for all workers—half the weight and twice the wear.

"Blutip" cost no more than ordinary work boots.

The true purpose of a Budget

EVERY year you spend a large proportion of the money you get. So much for clothing. So much for shoes. So much for things to eat—for house furnishings, books and what not.

Here is the way to get the most for your money.

Keep a budget. Decide what you can afford to spend for each item, and hold yourself within this amount.

Then—to get the most for your budget money read advertisements carefully. The advertisements you read tell you what is newest and best. They give you the latest ideas and improvements. They help you to get more from each dollar you have apportioned in your budget—and so live better and dress better with the same income.

The true purpose of a budget is to enable you to spend wisely—and only by careful reading of advertising can you hope to accomplish this result.

Read advertising regularly. It points the way to better living.

MY KITCHEN NOTEBOOK

by Mary Blake

Domestic Science Counselor

Giving Vegetables New Frills

If your family inclines to a diet of meat and bread and potatoes, you'll have to lure them into the vegetable habit by subtle, feminine wiles.

High among the vegetables to which we owe allegiance is spinach. Rich in iron, rich in vitamins, it should be eaten much more often than it is.

The Sauce Is the Secret

A fine cream sauce is times innumerable the making of a vegetable dish. There's practically nothing it doesn't go well with, practically nothing that doesn't take on added deliciousness.

Of course you know that Carnation Milk is more dependable—certain to be pure and sweet—which ordinary milk isn't always.

Then there is its "homogenization." "Homogenized" milk has all the cream globules broken up into very minute particles; these tiny cream particles distribute themselves all through the milk instead of rising to the top.

If you haven't tried Carnation Milk you are missing a really important cooking aid. Remember, it's just the purest of whole milk, evaporated to double richness and sterilized for safe keeping.

Carnation Baked Cauliflower Prepare by soaking in water with 1 tbs. vinegar and 1 tsp. salt for 15 minutes. Cook whole, stem up, in boiling salted water for 7 minutes.

Carnation Scalloped Cabbage Put layers of boiled cabbage in baking dish alternating with layers of Carnation Cream Sauce, * chips of bacon, ham, green peppers and cheese.

Carnation Cream Sauce Melt 2 tbs. butter in top of double boiler; add 1 tsp. salt, few grains pepper and 2 tbs. flour; blend without browning.

Makes Creamier Cream Sauces

THE sauce is the secret of delicious creamed vegetables—and Carnation Milk is the secret of the perfect cream sauce.

"MAN OF THOUSAND FACES" IN "WHILE THE CITY SLEEPS"

Lon Chaney in Gorgeous Underworld Romance With Beautiful New Leading Lady

A romance told amid the crash* of machine guns and the uncanny mysteries of the underworld is the unique drama in which Lon Chaney is starring at the Capitol Theatre tonight and Tuesday, in "While the City Sleeps," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's vivid cross section of the underworld.

Thrills, sensations, adventures and mystery mark the swift movement of the story, but a delicate love story runs through it and infinitely touches add to its startling realism.

The new story is essentially a romance of the "inside" at New York police headquarters, where A. P. Younger, the author, studied for it at first hand for weeks.

Anita Page, Chaney's new leading lady, is charming as the blonde heroine, and figures in the "triangle" with Chaney and Carroll Nye, a new juvenile of huge promise.
