SEVERAL MEN KILLED IN COLLISIONS

COLD SNAP EXTENDS THROUGHOUT THE WHOLE OF WEST

Two Train Wrecks on C.P.R. in Revelstoke Men Lost Lives

REVELSTOKE, Jan. 28.—When their engine plunged over Surprise Creek bridge, near Cutbank, a few miles east of Glacier, Bert Woodland, engineer, and C. H. Gibbons, fireman, were killed about 8 o'clock this morning. Both were Revelstoke men, the former with a large family resident here.

The two engines were proceeding together eastward, the forward engine remaining on the track.

REVELSTOKE, Jan. 28.—Fred Abrahamson, aged 24, and Orville Thompson, aged 25, trainmen of this city, were killed last evening at Lauretta when two Canadian Pacific freight trains crashed. Lauretta is about 18 miles east of here. The wreck caused traffic to be tied up on the main line until midnight.

Abrahamson was a son of O. W. Abrahamson, ex-mayor of the city.

C. P. FREIGHT TRAINS CRASH

CALGARY, Jan. 28.—Two men killed and a third seriously injured were the result of a crash between two freight trains at Airdrie on the C.P.R. Calgary to Edmonton line yesterday morning.

The dead are P. Goodman, conductor, and S. A. Beldon, trainman, both of Calgary. R. S. Mowatt, trainman, also of Calgary, was injured. Three men were travelling deadhead to Red Deer in the second-class, which was standing at Airdrie when a following freight crashed into the standing train.

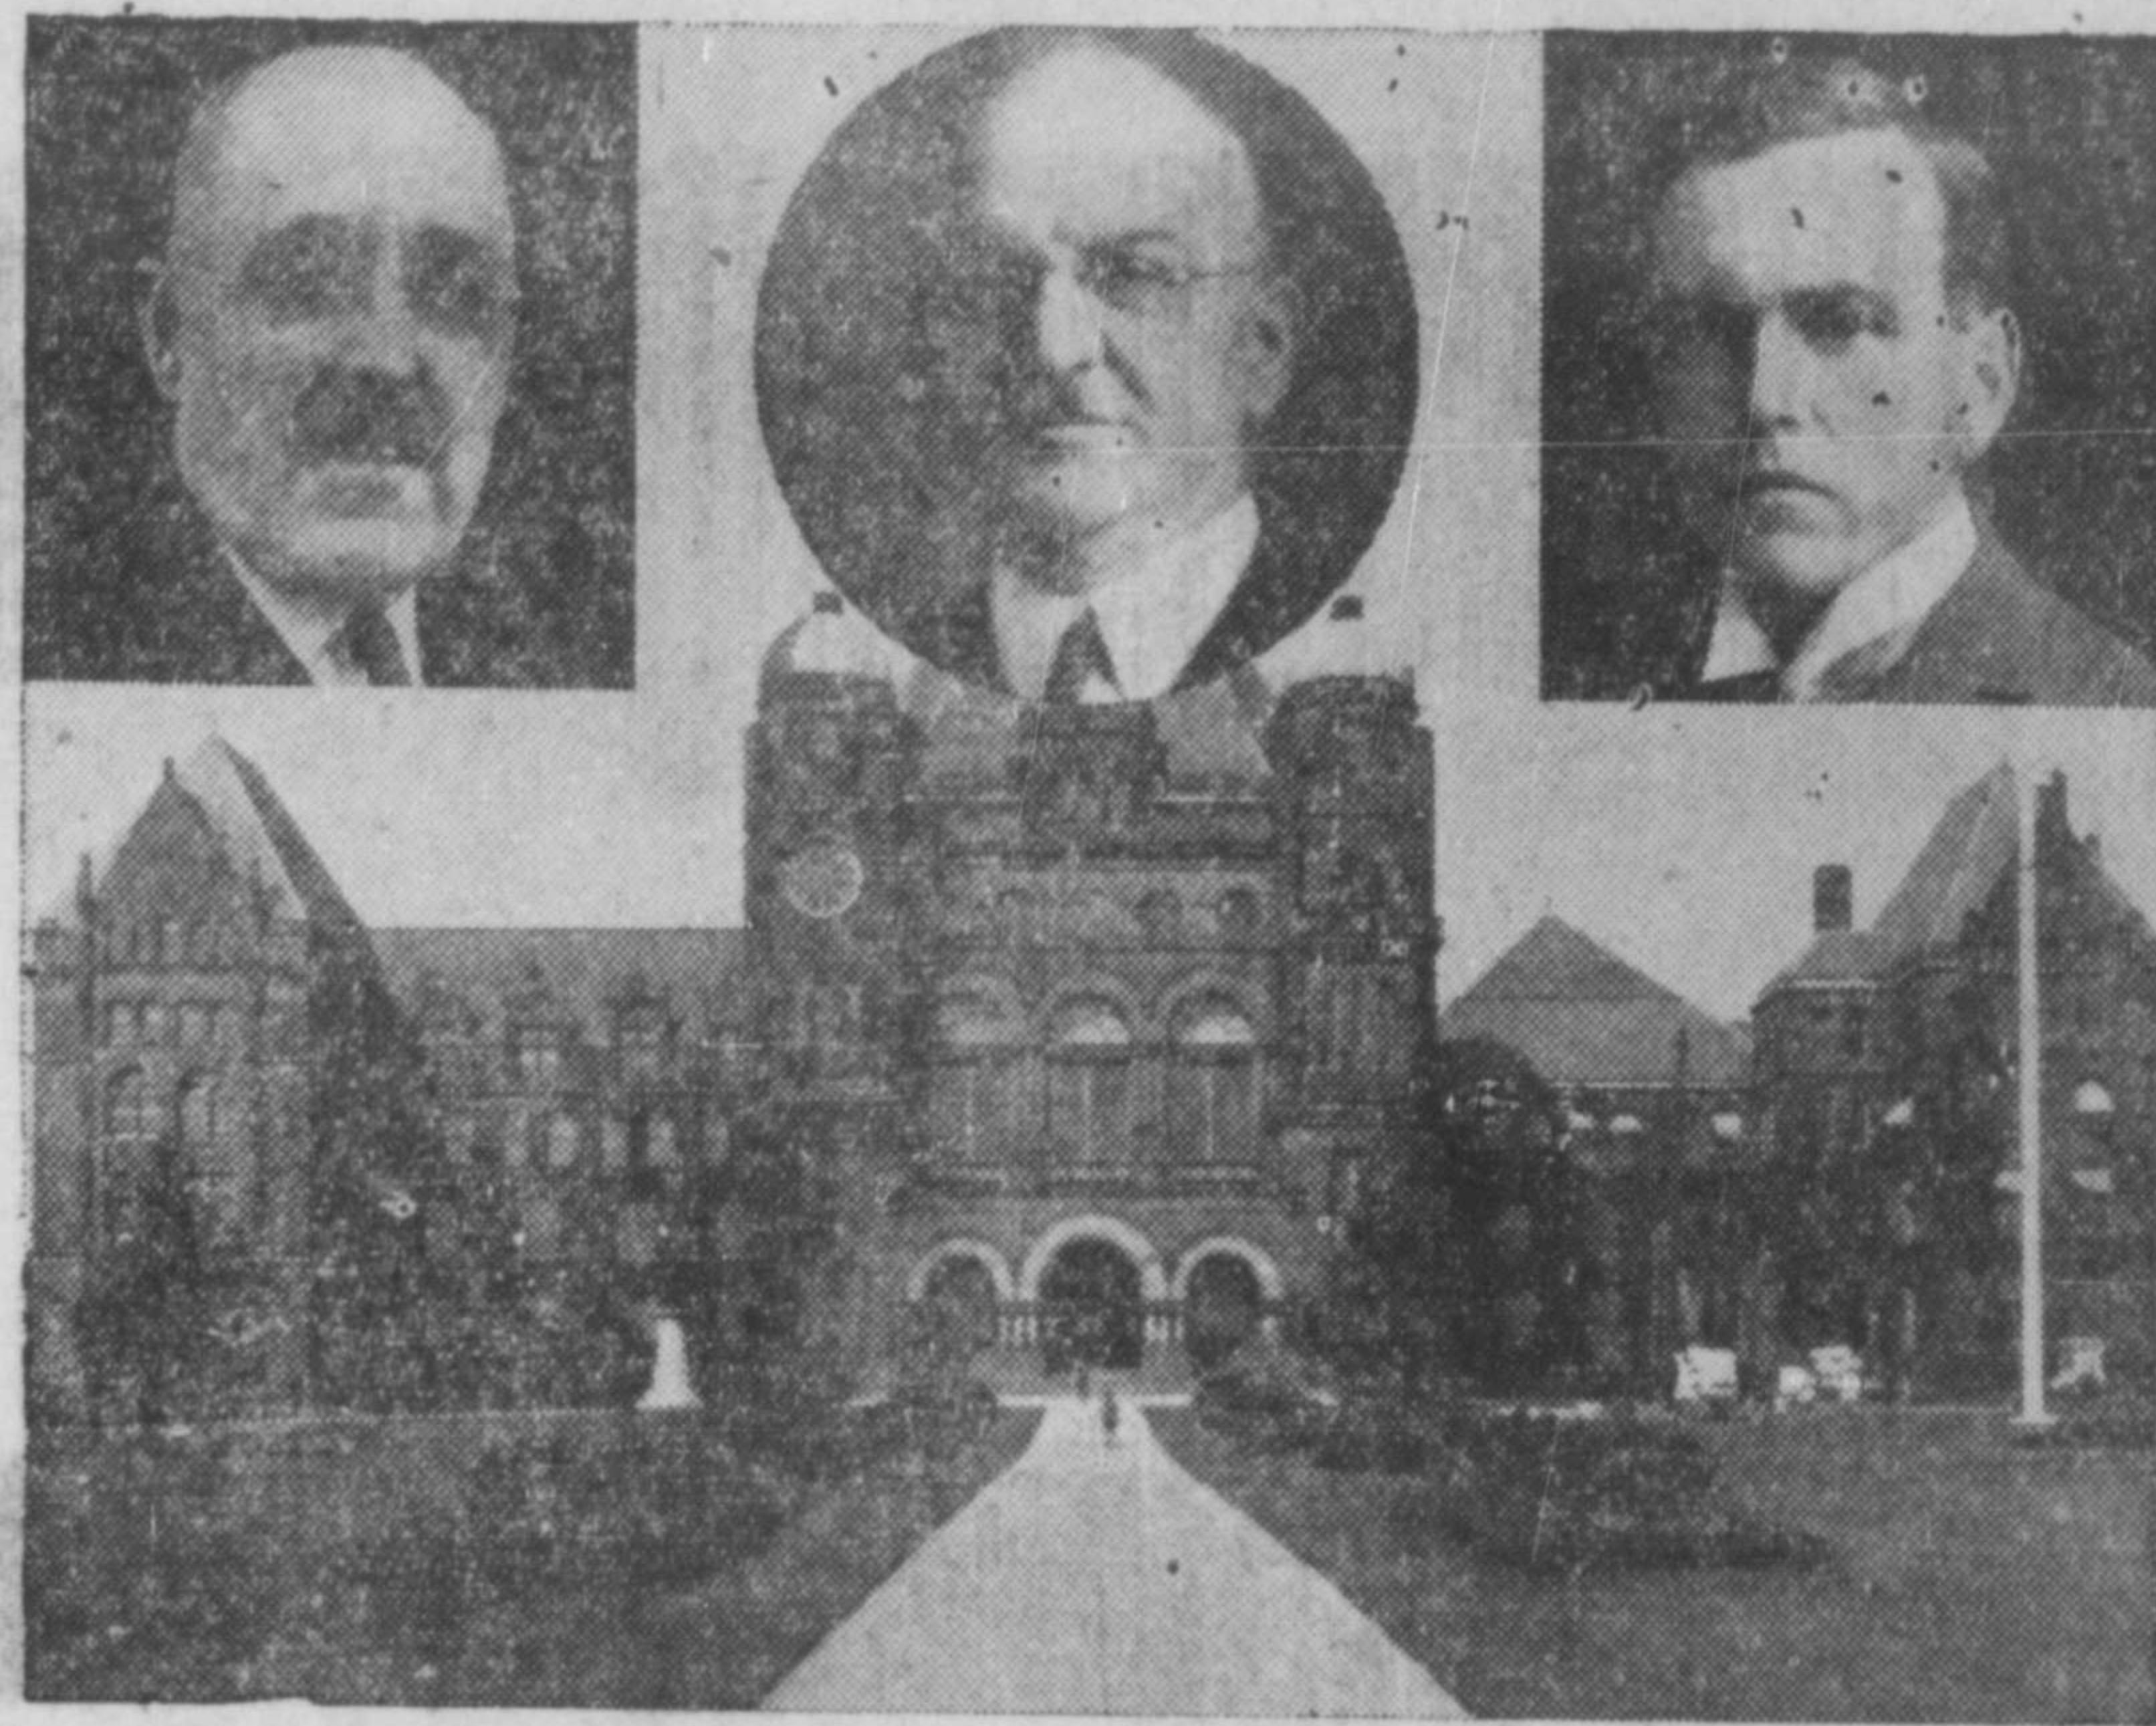

RAILWAYS WILL GET TOGETHER

Keen Competition but Parliament Will Not Be Party to Duplication

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—While there is keen competition between the two big railway companies for the right of entry to a number of districts in the wheat fields of the prairies, it is generally understood here that they will arrive at some understanding by which each line will serve a certain definite territory.

There will also be some arrangements in regard to the opening up of the Peach River, where joint control of the existing line is being arranged.

The sentiment is expressed that parliament would not allow any put out of commission and turned duplication of lines. The folly of doing so in the past has been made clear in the case of the double line through the Yellowhead pass, where one of the tracks has been into a highway.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE PREPARES FOR OPENING

Legislation pertaining to the Liquor Control Act is likely to be a feature of the session of the Ontario Legislature which opens on January 30, although it is not likely that a government bill will be introduced to the request of the deputation from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada for the sale of beer by the glass. The above layout shows the Provincial Parliament Buildings at Toronto, and the leaders of the various parties in the House. They are, left to right: Hon. J. G. Lethbridge, Progressive Leader; Hon. G. H. Ferguson, Conservative Leader; and Hon. W. E. N. Sinclair, K.C., recently chosen to lead the Liberals.

GRAIN TRAFFIC IS PICKING UP

More Cars Reported On Way Here Today Than For Several Weeks Past

The grain movement to Prince Rupert from the prairies, which has been very slow during the past few months, is beginning to pick up today, according to morning railway reports. Nine cars of wheat are arriving here today and 23 cars are reported to be west of Jasper Park bound here, with 50 cars to the east of the divisional point.

No further boats were reported this morning for local loading.

BLISS CARMEN VISITS WEST

Tells People of Winnipeg About Need of Poetry in Life of Man

WINNIPEG, Jan. 28.—Bliss Carmen, the Canadian poet, is delivering a series of lectures here in which he said:

"The mind of man must be 'reared' to beauty. Cluttered with the materialism of the present day it finds little room for nature. It is the work of the poet to turn his thoughts toward that which is beautiful and lovable, to develop his personality. Poetry is the window through which men may gaze at life's beauty and nature's wonder," he said.

HUNG A BELL ON A CHICKEN HAWK

EDMONTON, Jan. 28.—The plight of a belled chicken hawk in the wilds near Tomahawk, Alta., north of here, is exciting interest in the region. It is believed the large bird is slowly starving to death.

The hawk, around whose neck some unknown person placed a bell, wears a wild and desperate look and part of its neck has been chafed bare. As it plunges upon its would-be prey the tinkling bell sounds its warning and the game breaks for cover.

ADVANTAGES OF PACIFIC PORTS

(Edmonton Bulletin)

The wheat fields of Alberta are closer to Vancouver than they are to Churchill, and there is no reason to suppose that any possible development of the grain trade through that port will affect the westward movement of the Alberta crop in any serious way. The Pacific ports are open the year around, a fact which goes a long way to offset the longer ocean haul from Vancouver to Liverpool.

The two dead are Delbert Meyer, aged 19, of Seattle, and Alfred Peterson, aged 20, of Gig Harbor.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Jan. 28.—Dan M. Farrelly, aged 36 and single, president of the Westminster Construction Company, and an unidentified woman, probably about 22 years of age, were drowned some time between Saturday and Sunday afternoon when an automobile driven by Farrelly went into a ditch containing five feet of water on the Dewdney truck road, 10 miles east of New Westminster.

The car, upside down in the ditch, was discovered by two youths late Sunday afternoon. The police found it necessary to cut through three inches of ice and use a team of horses to right the car before the bodies could be extricated.

Sport Chat

What is Canada's most popular winter outdoor sport? A few years ago there would have been no question about it. Skating and its associated game of hockey would have been given the decision. Times have changed and the Dominion Natural Resources publication says: "Skiing is undoubtedly Canada's most popular outdoor winter pastime and year by year the number of its devotees steadily grows." There has been much written as to whether skating has to take second place to the Norwegian pastime in popularity among Canadians and many writers have expressed the opinion that the steel blades are steadily giving place to runners of ash and hickory. Some have foreseen in this a dearth of hockey players in future because a person has to be an outstanding skater before he can be much use in chasing a puck. However, many of the young people both ski and skate. Certainly the school rinks where hockey starts are still a big attraction and nearly all the youngsters who through them also are fairly proficient on skis.

"The great outdoor sport of skiing," says the Natural Resources circular, "has the immense advantage that it can be enjoyed in as leisurely or strenuous a fashion as the participant desires and on that account almost as many past the age of forty years as under are among its devotees. Although all may not become proficient in the art of ski-jumping and consequently quite a number turn out to watch these displays of skill and daring, there are no spectators at a ski hike or cross country run, when novice and expert each derive a maximum of enjoyment from the outing. However, the craft of skiing does not end with the ability to travel quickly over the snow, fascinating as that is, but just as the expert skater goes on to greater development of his skill, so the earnest student of skiing has before him the technical side of the pastime and cores of difficult feats." While snowshoeing is still useful in many occupations it has surrendered absolutely to skiing as a port. Bobsleighs and toboggans are also losing in popularity before the Norse pastime. Ottawa has one ski club with 2,200 members which is claimed to be the largest in the world and it is estimated that there are 10,000 active skiers in the capital. They mostly hike in the Gattineau Hills north of the city. The rolling Laurentian country near Montreal makes skiing a great sport there and the city of Quebec is famous for its ski-trails and slides. Many of the smaller towns of Ontario and Quebec also have growing clubs. In the Rockies and Selkirk skiing has been popular for years and the carnivals there, at Banff and Revelstoke, are world famous. This winter more people are following the ski trails than ever before. They got an early start in the east; considerable snow fell about the first of December in East Ontario and Quebec. However, mild weather interfered later but with the turn of the year more snow came and the hills were soon thronged with boys and girls, men and women, rushing along the trails dodging the trees and doing breath-taking turns.

ces before the home town lads this month. The popular youngster, however, will tread lightly on the orders of his father, Bill Davies. Jumbo is in on the building boom as an apprentice carpenter. "That is his main business in life now," says Davies. "Fighters come and fighters go, but building stays on forever. He likes the fight game and there is no objection to him mixing it every once in a while, but it doesn't take first place."

PREPARING FOR THE SKI RACES AT BURNS LAKE

BURNS LAKE, Jan. 28.—The Omineca Ski Club is in receipt of a communication from Nels Nelson of the Revelstoke Ski Club, stating that he will attend the Burns Lake Ski Tournament, with the object of competing in the main events and to persuade two or three of our best men to attend the Revelstoke Tournament.

Nels Nelson, the holder of the world's record in the ski jump is a brakeman on the Canadian Pacific Railway travelling out of Revelstoke. To come to Burns Lake during the rush of the grain season is paying us a great compliment indeed, and one which is appreciated by every resident here.

During the past few weeks President V. Schjelderup and Club Captain Pete Sandnes have been busy charting and measuring the overland trails for the various races and young and old of both sexes are to be seen daily practising on their skis ready for the races. The school children are travelling to school daily on their skis and every moonlight night clubs are to be seen testing the trails, their speed, stamina and wind.

From far and near residents and visitors have intimated their intention of coming to Burns Lake to attend this big winter carnival and the local committees are making arrangements for their accommodation upon arrival here.

There are a large number of Scandinavian workers in the various tie camps who have stated their intention of taking part in the races and every race will have a large number of entrants.

THIRTY-MINUTE HOCKEY PERIODS

WINNIPEG, Jan. 28.—Hockey fans in Winnipeg hark back to the old days of rough-and-ready hockey when they sit in to watch contests in a house league operated by a large departmental store here. Instead of the regulation 20-minute periods, officials of the league have arranged that two half-hour sessions constitute a game. The regulation was put into effect with the intention of exacting greater use of substitutes in games.

It was a very cold trip.

Around The World With Sport Fans

(By The Tramp)

Forty yard races are an entirely new thing to Percy Williams, fleet-footed Vancouver university student, but he is going into these short sprints in the United States indoor meets "just for experience." Williams, who won the 100 and 200 metre events at the Olympic games at Amsterdam last summer, and Jimmy Ball of Winnipeg, Olympic 400 metre star, are in Boston where they will open their tour February 2.

Tommy Gorman, manager of the New York Americans, is an appreciative person. He never fails to express his thanks for any kindly comment about his New York Americans. In a letter to a Toronto sports writer, he pays a fine tribute to his players, and some of his remarks are worth repeating. "I am very proud," he writes, "of the Toronto boys in the American squad, and I think it is about time that players of the type of Billy Burch, Lionel Conacher, Babe Dye, Norman Himes, Leo Reise and Roy Worters, all of whom came from Toronto district, received the credit due them. Lionel Conacher is not only one of the greatest players in hockey, but he is largely responsible for the success of the Americans this winter. Mr. Dwyer and I have consulted "Connie" in every move, and his advice has always proved invaluable. Toronto boys on the American team are very popular—and justly so—in New York this winter. They have all played fine hockey, and are really a credit to the town they represent. Professional hockey has done wonders in the way of advertising Canada in the United States, and Toronto boys have certainly done their share."

Judging from offers received from outside points Victoria is harboring a big drawing card for fight fans in Jumbo Davies, who packs a dynamic punch and a knock-out record, says the Victoria Times. Five promoters have sought his services this month with only half the month gone. Biddy Bishop is anxious to give him a good position on a Seattle card. Vancouver and Portland promoters have made offers and if he accepted all bids he would also make a couple of appearances.

HUNTING PARTY RETURNS HOME

Salvage Princess Expedition Went to Naas River Instead of Naden Harbor

Having gone to the Naas River, Kwinimas, Winter Harbor and Big Bay instead of Naden Harbor as was originally planned, a party of nine local hunters returned home at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Prince Rupert Salvage & Towing Co.'s power tug Salvage Princess after a four-day trip. They bagged quite a number of mallard ducks and a couple of geese. Weather was rather cold for the most successful of bird hunting. The party consisted of Capt. W. P. Armour, Milton Gonzales, Dr. L. W. Kergin, A. R. Nicholls, M. L. Stepp, J. E. Boddie, Norman A. Watt, Douglas Stork and M. J. Dougherty.

THE OPPOSITION LEADER
 (Vancouver Province)

Someone remarked in England, the other day, that people never vote to put parties into power, but always to put them out. There is much truth in the assertion, too. The party in power is a shining mark. Being in charge of the administration, it does the things which come home to the voter, things for which it can be praised or blamed. Its position gives it many opportunities to benefit and strengthen itself. But, at the same time, it draws criticism as the opposition never does, and in time the weight of that criticism will sink it.

As it is not all beer and skittles conducting an administration, so it is not all tribulation on the other side. We speak of "the cold shades of opposition." But, really, these shades are not as cold as they are pictured. There is a freedom from wearing responsibility in them, a warmth of co-operation and a spirit of camaraderie often lost when the party emerges into the sunlight of office. It seldom does a party any harm to spend a few years in opposition, but often does it much good. It loses its barnacles there, if it has any—and most parties that have been in office any length of time collect, in some way or other, an unholy weight of hampering growth. It has time, freed from the ever-pressing cares of administration, to take stock of itself and of the country, to formulate policies, to bring in new men and allow them to try their wings where they will do little damage if they fail. In short, the party in opposition has what every party needs, an opportunity to make itself fit to bear the responsibility which will surely come.

It is, then, no empty honor which the Liberal party has bestowed on Mr. T. D. Pattullo in making him opposition leader in British Columbia. The party has a future—that is all it has except a memory—and it has placed that future unreservedly in Mr. Pattullo's hands. It could pay him no higher compliment. When the late John Oliver was made Liberal leader, and later when Dr. J. D. MacLean was given that position, the party was in power, and the new leader became premier at once. But he was given with the office a body of ministers. Theoretically, he could have dropped all these and chosen new lieutenants. Practically any such step was impossible. The new leader had to take what he found. Mr. Pattullo has a freer hand. He can seek out and train up his lieutenants, and when the time comes to assume office, he can choose whom he will to act with him.

Mr. Pattullo is to be congratulated upon an appointment which brings him high honor and endless opportunities. We believe the Liberal party is also to be congratulated upon its choice. Mr. Pattullo has had a wide experience of public affairs in British Columbia and is an accomplished politician. The Province had many a brush with him in his days in office at Victoria. It differed with him on matters of policy, but it never doubted his honor or questioned his ability as an administrator.

OTTAWA HOUSE
OPENS FEB. 7

Picturesque Ceremonial Attends Interesting Event to Take Place at Nation's Capital

GLITTERING UNIFORMS

Commons Assert Their Rights to Precedence Over Business Of The King

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—Ceremonies that have their roots deep down in British tradition will attend the opening of the third session of the 16th Parliament of Canada which re-assembles here Feb. 7. Statesmen attired in the glittering uniform of His Majesty's privy councillors, officials whose habiliments recall "good King George's glorious days," diplomats in their gold braid, soldiers in scarlet and sailors in blue, the King's justices in red robes and ermine hoods, will surround His Excellency the Governor-General when he seats himself on the throne in the Senate Chamber to read the address which will formally open the session. Seated down the sides of the chamber will be foreign consuls, representatives of the church, and notables in all walks of Canadian life. At the bar of the chamber will stand the Speaker of the House of Commons and about him will be grouped the members of the lower house.

The dignified ceremonial loses nothing of its color in spite of this material age; on the contrary there is a disposition to preserve all of its spectacular character, and if possible to emphasize it more and more. While for the most part these polite observances have lost their meaning they have nevertheless arisen out of conditions that prevailed in the remote past when punctilious regard for them carried the greatest significance. There was once a meaning, for example, in the exact distance that should separate the Prime Minister from the Leader of the Opposition. It can be expressed in terms of feet and yards, but also in terms of swordlengths. Those two amiable gentlemen must sit two swordlengths apart, for in the rousing days of old, Parliamentary questions were not infrequently the occasion for the drawing of rapiers. While, of course, there is no danger whatever of either Premier Mackenzie King or Mr. Bennett clinching any debate with a resort to lethal weapons, the two swordlengths rule nevertheless prevails.

Members of the House of Commons must not pass to the rear of the Clerk of the House—between the Clerk and the Speaker's Chair. The Clerk must have uninterrupted access to Mr. Speaker at all times without intimidation from any member.

When members bow to the Speaker on taking their seats, on crossing the floor, or leaving the chamber, they are actually carrying out a practice which originally had no association with the idea of performing an act of courtesy to Mr. Speaker. In the ancient days the Speaker of the English Parliament sat directly in front of St. Stephen's Chapel and members bowed to the Chapel—a religious observance. The practice has been continued with the Speakers receiving and acknowledging what at one time was a gesture of piety.

Before Parliament opens, the members of the two houses are assembled in their respective chambers. When His Excellency arrives and is seated on the Throne of the Senate the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod is despatched to the House of Commons with a request demanding the presence of the Commons in the Senate Chamber. Headed by the Sergeant-at-Arms who, bearing the Mace, precedes the Speaker, the Commons form up in procession and march along the hall to the Senate where, after Mr. Speaker has humbly besought His Excellency to ascribe any faults and failings of the Commons to him and not to the members, the Governor-General reads the Speech.

Following this the members of the House of Commons return to their own quarters. Before any other business is done, however, a private bill is introduced and given first reading. Thus do the Commons assert their sturdy independence by ensuring that the affairs of the people receive immediate precedence over the affairs of the King. The next thing taken up as a matter of routine is the proposal to present an address to His Majesty in reply to the Speech from the Throne. The King's message can not be subjected to any debate, but since it is usually all incorporated in the reply proposed by the Commons themselves it can in that way be criticized or approved according to party complexion.

NO CHAINS this winter. Yet, safety all the time—not just when chains are on. And quietness all the time—not just when chains are off.

Cleated treads are Dunlop's answer to winter's most annoying problem.

The picture tells the story. Cleated treads . . . grip wet roads . . . bite into snow . . . are sure-footed in slush and mud . . . respond effectively to the demands of four-wheel brakes.

After the trying conditions of winter have worn down the cleats, the standard long mileage Dunlop non-skid balloon tread comes into play . . . ready when spring comes to take over the changed road demands brought about by the difference between winter and spring road conditions.

The winter mileage provided by the cleats themselves is entirely additional to the standard tread mileage.

TERRACE

T. E. Brooks returned on Saturday afternoon from a week's absence in Terrace. Mrs. Brooks is making a satisfactory recovery following a recent operation in the hospital.

Owing to the regular weekly freight train being a day behind schedule this past week a number of upriver people who planned to attend the Burns banquet on Friday night were unable to do so.

The thermometer reached the zero mark here on Sunday morning for the first time this winter. With a strong wind accompanying the fall in temperature it looks as though there is going to be a taste of winter after all.

Father Leray visited the Catholic parish this week and took in the Burns banquet on Friday night.

Mr. McKinnon of Vancouver was a visitor in town at the week-end.

NEW HAZELTON

Constable Hazelton, who has been appointed to take charge for the provincial police at Hazelton, has been in hospital since his arrival, suffering from rheumatism.

The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Hazelton hospital is being held this afternoon.

There is an abatement in the influenza epidemic at Hazelton and it is thought that the worst is now over.

SMITHERS

The local Lutheran Church congregation has made arrangements for the use of St. James Anglican Church for future services in Smithers.

Charles Solberg of Francois Lake is a patient in the local hospital, suffering from a dislocated shoulder sustained in a fall from the porch during a dance at the school.

Mrs. A. M. Pope left this week for Vancouver, where she will consult with specialists. She will probably spend some time at Harrison Hot Springs before returning to Smithers.

Helen Jannack was brought from Topley at the first of the week by her father, J. Jannack, for an operation for appendicitis which was successfully performed in the local hospital.

Among patients entering the hospital during the week have been Robert Kelly of Owen Lake and Mrs. John Lapacat, Master

They pretended they were destitute in order to obtain board and lodging, but they were found to have considerable money. After they have served their sentences the authorities will seek to have them deported as undesirables.

The Girls' Club of Connaught Hill Lutheran Church met this afternoon.

Prince George experienced its coldest weather so far this winter when the thermometer went down to 39 degrees below zero on Tuesday.

FIRE TAKES POST OFFICE AND STORE AT DECKER LAKE

At a round 11 o'clock on Friday evening last a fire broke out in the Carroll & Sons general store and post office at Decker Lake and when noticed the building was a mass of flames, says the Burns Lake Observer. On the night of the fire P. Carroll, Sr., was visiting his son, Richard Carroll, whose farm residence is several miles west of Decker Lake village. William Carroll was visiting at his brother Frank's home, near the store, and, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carroll was listening to the radio when they happened to notice the fire. By the time they arrived at the store the building was a mass of flames and it was impossible to gain an entrance. All the post office supplies, stock, etc., was consumed with the building and nothing was saved.

CANADIAN IDEAS IN JAPAN

When K. Hashima, superintendent of rolling stock and machinery of the Sapporo District, Japanese Government Railways, was in Canada recently studying the operations of the Canadian National Railways for the benefit of the people of his own country, he was particularly interested in the methods used in clearing snow from the track. In a letter to W. A. Kingsland, general manager of the National system's western region, Mr. Hashima expressed his thanks for the co-operation given him by A. H. Eager, general superintendent, motive power and car equipment, Winnipeg, and A. McCowan, assistant general superintendent, car equipment. He went on to describe a new type of snow-fighting machine which he had devised from ideas given him by K. D. McLay, bridge and building master of the Canadian National Railways, Calgary division. The machine, which is the most successful of all the types tried on the Japanese railways, has been named McLay. The plow is seen here in action and the inset is a photograph of Mr. McLay.

STEAM UP FOR LONDON

This model, a perfect working miniature of one of the Canadian National Railways' giant locomotives, is now on its way to London, England, where it will be exhibited in the European offices of the National system. John E. Wood, of Winnipeg, constructed it in his spare time, and it took him fourteen months of diligence and skill. The main frames and some of the other parts were made by apprentices in the Fort Rouge and Transcona shops. The model is correct in all external details and will work under its own power. The boiler has been tested to 150 pounds pressure. For the purposes of exhibition a motor was placed in the oak base to drive the wheels through a worm gear on the main driving axle. The over-all length of the model is eight feet, six inches, while the over-all length of the original 6100 is 94 feet, six inches. The model weighs approximately 275 pounds and the super-locomotive 325 tons.

Offers for Owen Lake Property; Columario at Usk Looking Good; Rocher de Boule Ships Ore

Frank H. Taylor, Smithers mining operator, is on a trip to Vancouver on business in connection with his Owen Lake mining enterprises, for the financing of which on a large scale he has received several anuring offers. There is a possibility that the present negotiations will bring to the Owen Lake area the financial resources of an important mining company. There is also the alternative that the organization already provided for Owen Lake will be set in motion.

Recent reports from the Columario Gold Mines Ltd. property near Usk are very encouraging. The recommendations of H. L. Baten, M.E., with respect to the property are being carried out with a double shift working on two levels of No. 4 vein, which is considered at this time to be the most important section of the property. The tunnel on the upper level of No. 4 vein is now in over 400 feet and the vein is improving as drifting proceeds. The average width is close to four feet with values from channel samples, taken every four feet, averaging slightly over $20 per ton. It is expected that, by the end of this month, vein No. 4 will be opened up for 700 feet on the upper level and 300 feet on the lower level. A cross-cut has been run to vein No. 3, which was in place and well mineralized at 206 feet. A channel sample taken from the face of this vein ran $27.70 in gold. All new machinery recommended by Mr. Batten has been placed in position and is now operating, greatly speeding up development work. It is expected by the end of February that enough ore will be in sight to warrant the erection of a concentrator. To date on five veins a total of 1000 feet of drifting has been done at the 2000-foot level of the mine.

Since starting operations on the Rocher de Boule property, the Aurimont Mining Co. has shipped two carloads of ore to smelter from Skeena Crossing. The ore is holding its values and there is a lot of it to be taken out of No. 2 vein. The shipments from the mine, on which 14 men are now working, are to be increased as rapidly as possible. W. S. Harris is in charge of the work and G. L. Slater of Vancouver, secretary-treasurer of the Aurimont Mining Co. recently paid a visit to the property.

P. J. Higgins, who is driving a cross-cut tunnel on the Victoria group in the Babine Range, struck some unexpected ore recently which assayed $22 in gold and $1.80 in silver. It is not the main vein, which is still well beyond the face of the present cross-cut.

WHITE AND BLACK—BLACK AND WHITE

The most popular color marriage for afternoon ensembles is now being celebrated in the evening mode, with one slight variation. Black and white for informal wear becomes white and black for formal uses.

Here is the popular combination in a flattering-to-the-figure evening frock. The bodice is fashioned of ivory velvet while the skirt, triple-tiered, is of black net. A black flower is posed at the shoulder.

The Cape Coat Lingers Far Into the Winter

Launched during the spring, when balmy winds took advantage of its flowing grace, the cape, according to far-sighted coat designers, has come to stay.

It graces this charming afternoon model of blue lido cloth, which is simple and dressy at the same time. Luxurious black lynx outlines the cape and forms a border extending to the hem.

BURNING OUT ICE

The Canadian Government is going to spend $60,000 this winter in the interesting experiment of burning out ice by the therm process, in an attempt to obviate the disastrous floods which occurred last spring near Montreal. Prof. Howard T. Barnes (above) inventor of the process, will have charge of operations.

D. Galloway Urges That Young Men Be Encouraged to Enter Mining Industry

VANCOUVER, Jan. 28.—Production of minerals in the western sections of the province will warrant establishment of a refining and smelting plant on the Pacific Coast within two years, in the opinion of Mr. J. D. Galloway, provincial mineralogist.

Mrs. Galloway made this statement in an address before a joint meeting of the Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, Vancouver Branch; the B. C. Chamber of Mines and the mining bureau of the Board of Trade at the Hotel Vancouver.

"Whether the Consolidated, as already intimated, or other interests will establish the plant is difficult to say," remarked Mr. Galloway, "but it will certainly be beneficial if we can refine our own product, instead of shipping it to the United States for this purpose."

The speaker, in reviewing the condition of mining in British Columbia, reported that production and exploration operations are proceeding satisfactorily. The large companies are demonstrating their faith in the future of the mineral industry by expending money from their surplus earnings in prospecting in new fields. In addition they have commenced development in several "prospects."

The speaker urged that young men of the province be encouraged to enter the mining industry and shown that it gives profitable work. Many crews, he added, are imported from outside the province.

MY KITCHEN NOTEBOOK

Giving Vegetables New Frills
If your family inclines to a diet of meat and bread and potatoes, you'll have to lure them into the vegetable habit by subtle, feminine wiles. Let your vegetables appear in new guises, their downright, honest virtues adorned with all the trimmings of new sauces and new flavors that your imagination can devise. Remember it isn't the girl with the commonsense shoes and the mannish tie that wins hearts.

High among the vegetables to which we owe allegiance is spinach. Rich in iron, rich in vitamins, it should be eaten much more often than it is. Yet somehow noses turn up at the word "spinach." I blame the cook. I wonder if landaise sauce, as a salad with mayonnaise, or combined with onions or leeks and cream sauce in a most tempting puree.

The Sauce Is the Secret
A fine cream sauce is times innumerable the making of a vegetable dish. There's practically nothing it doesn't go well with, practically nothing that doesn't take on added deliciousness—if your sauce is a really good one. I have a recipe that is really wonderful—richer, smoother, creamier, more delicious in flavor by far than the ordinary recipe. It's made with Carnation Milk.

Of course you know that Carnation Milk is more dependable—certain to be pure and sweet—which ordinary milk isn't always. But for Cream Sauces there are certain other qualities particularly advantageous. One is the double cream content of Carnation Milk, which when you use it undiluted, gives a sauce twice as rich in cream as ordinary milk.

Makes Creamier Cream Sauces

POEM ON BURNS BY FORMER RESIDENT OF PRINCE RUPERT

The following poem from the pen of Mrs. James Carmichael was read Friday night at the Burns' banquet by President Irvine of the St. Andrew's Society:

A lowly flag-stained cottage,
The hame o' Scotland's bard,
Where songs o' love an' wisdom,
Were penned mid'st tasks sae hard.

O' the flow'rs an' bonnie lassies,
Few that e'er knew how
To sing o' their bright beauty,
Like him who drove the plow.

He had his faults like thers,
Through his short life's span;
But aye he knew the worth
O' an honest brither man.

Tae his memo'y since again we meet
And sing O' Auld Lang Syne;
Keep the name o' Rabbie Burns
Forever in love's shrine.

DR. JAMES WAS TEA SPEAKER

Tells Women's Canadian Club of Importance of Mining Industry

Describing how mining development had contributed to a large extent in the progress of various countries of the world, Dr. H. T. James, resident mining engineer for the provincial government, gave an interesting address before the Women's Canadian Club on Saturday afternoon. Before gold discoveries had been made, Australia was little more than a penal colony, stated the speaker. In South Africa the diamond mining had contributed largely to the development of the country. The speaker referred to the mines of Ontario and briefly to mining on this coast.

Mrs. Morris Blott, vice-president, presided at the tea in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. C. McLennan. A vote of thanks to the speaker was passed on motion of Miss Norah Rivett. Miss Halliwell presided at the piano for the singing of "O Canada" and the national anthem.

Peacetime Patriotism

A Fable for Merchants and Salesmen

SHE was an insistent purchaser of local products. She knew the security of her home depended largely on herself, and all mothers like her—depended on their insistence of securing local products. For it was directly through the prosperity and increasing activity of local industry that the men folk of her country enjoyed secure positions and steady employment.

That is why, when shopping for an outer garment for her son, she demanded a local product. The store clerk hesitated and told her the article she required was out of stock at present, but that a certain foreign-made article was "just as good." She refused the foreign garment and left the store.

Back of this mother's insistence was a pride in the products of her homeland—the true peacetime patriotism.

This story has a moral for Merchants

The progress of British Columbia depends on increased production and increased purchasing of British Columbia products by the public. Be fair to yourself! Be loyal to British Columbia! Sell more British Columbia products.
