"Can't fool me, Mom — it's Clark's Pea Soup!"

CANADA EST. 1824 APPROVED The contents of Clark's Pea Soup have passed Federal Government inspection

MOM is certainly some cook. Been cooking for our family for twenty years (so Pop says). But when it comes to soup... CLARK'S SOUP!... she says she couldn't make such good soup no matter how she tried (and, if you knew my Mom that's some compliment).

"Miss Crabbe (she's my teacher) says that there is nothing worse than being late for school... well! I wouldn't mind missing school, but gee! I'd hate to miss a plate of this Clark's Pea Soup!" Here is a soup to satisfy a real husky child's appetite. A pure wholesome food... made from big, garden-grown peas... seasoned to a nicety... no adulterants added. Such delicious soup as this could be the only result.

FELT MISERABLE ALL THE TIME

Headaches and Tiredness Ended by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Some people suffer for years with Headaches, without ever trying to find out what is the CAUSE of the pain. They get all run-down, and seem to think this weak, depressed feeling is the result of the headaches. As a matter of fact, chronic Headaches are the result of poisoned blood, due to faulty action of the bowels, kidneys and skin. "Fruit-a-tives" stops headaches because it regulates the bowels, kidneys and skin—frees the body of waste matter which poisons the blood—and thus keeps the blood pure and rich.

Sport Chat

The all absorbing topic in local boxing circles today is the bout tonight at Vancouver between Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion of the world, and Billy Townsend, young Vancouver comer. Morgan is the favorite to win as far as clever boxing may be concerned. They are boosting Townsend, however, for a knock-out. It is generally conceded that is the only way he has a chance of winning.

INSTALMENT FIVE The policeman looked around in every direction: Miss Brown's assailants had disappeared, also her deliverer. "Which way did they go, miss?" he inquired. "I can't tell," she answered impatiently. "Don't bother about them, please. Take me to a taxi." "Any one see this affair?" the policeman persisted, addressing the small crowd of stragglers who had hurried up. "They went through to Curzon Street," one person declared. "No, they didn't. The man who snatched the young lady's bag bolted down Chapel Street," another contradicted. The policeman shrugged his shoulders. He marched off with Miss Brown, summoned a taxicab and waited until she got into it. She gave the address of the bank in South Audley Street which she had looked up in the telephone book. "You couldn't come with me?" she asked the policeman, a little hesitatingly. "Off my beat, miss," he replied. "Nothing won't happen to you between here and the bank. Name and address, please. I'm going back to see if I can hear anything of those fellows." She waited while he wrote it down, and then the taxicab rattled off. Outside the bank she was in the act of descending when she saw a man step out of a following vehicle as though himself about to enter the building. She called the taxi driver from his seat and offered him five shillings with her left hand. "Will you walk across to the bank door with me, please," she begged. "I am sure that man has been following us and I have something valuable with me." "That's all right, miss," the chauffeur assured her cheerfully. "They know me all right, these chaps; I'm a bit of a bruiser. They won't touch you as long as I'm about."

STAR TELLS ABOUT WORK OF DAWSON

The tragic accident that cost Frederick George Dawson his life deprives Prince Rupert of a pioneer citizen who, while he built up a large and flourishing business, found time to devote himself energetically to the advancement of the community, says the Vancouver Star in an editorial article. The story of the late Mr. Dawson is that of many other Canadians who by their own energy and perseverance have fought their way to important positions in commercial and public life. Born in a small Ontario town in 1876, he held successively a number of subordinate posts in business houses, working gradually west, through Regina, Winnipeg and Calgary, until in 1906 he opened his own office in this city.

Vancouver did not hold him long, however. Two years later Prince Rupert became established as the terminal of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and Mr. Dawson was quick to see the opportunity presented there. He established a wholesale grocery business which became one of the leading concerns of its kind in that part of British Columbia. Only the other day, W. H. Malkin and Co., of this city, concluded an amalgamation by which F. G. Dawson, Limited, became part of the larger organization.

Mr. Dawson was a very active member of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade, of which he became president in 1913. He was also a promoter of the Northern B. C. Agricultural and Industrial Association, his fellow-directors honoring him with the presidency. An enthusiastic Rotarian, he took a large part in the activities of that body.

It was in recognition of his wide knowledge of western conditions that a few years ago he was appointed a director of the Canadian National Railway, a position which he filled with his usual zeal and ability. Sadly enough, it was a misadventure on the tracks of that railway that cost him his life.

BUSH EXPANDS GROCERERIA

Popular Grocery Store on Sixth Street Doubles Floor Space and Carries Now a Larger Stock

Constantly increasing business has made possible the expansion of Bush's Grocereria on Sixth Street. This grocery has now doubled its floor space which has permitted the carrying of a much greater stock of fancy and staple groceries, fresh fruits and vegetables.

During the years the Grocereria has been serving the people of Prince Rupert their business has shown a consistent increase month by month. Their service and competitive prices have found due appreciation, so much so that this present expansion is not unwarranted.

Call in the first time you pass and see the stock they now carry. Some of their prices you will see in their ad, in another column. For quality, price and service, just try Bush's Grocereria.—Advt.

Hallow'en Is Orderly Here

Local Youth Confined Themselves to Harmless Pranks Last Evening

The time-honored Hallow'en custom was celebrated by the youth of Prince Rupert with harmless pranks last night. Householders were kept busy handing out apples and sweets to their young visitors, many of whom were funnily garbed, and there was a large consumption of fire crackers in some parts of the city.

Church signboards on the verandahs of dwellings, gates suspended from telephone poles and overturned flower boxes were among the traces of the evening's pranks to be seen this morning.

REMOVAL SALE AT MONTREAL IMPORTERS

A bargain has an irresistible attraction for most people for everybody, as a matter of fact. But as no two people think alike, so different people have different ideas usually as to what is a bargain. But at the Montreal Importers Removal Sale, there can be no two ideas as to their bargains. Just imagine Montreal prices prevailing in Prince Rupert and cut to sale prices at that!

The Montreal Importers are out to beat the mail order houses who are doing too much business in Prince Rupert already without any real cause. For on the whole, Prince Rupert prices are fair. But the Montreal Importers prices are better than the mail order houses. You don't pay any more at the Montreal Importers store. You don't have to buy a money order and go to all the trouble and then wait until the goods arrive and then find them maybe what you expected and maybe no. By buying at the Montreal Importers, you judge the quality for yourself which you cannot do from a pretty picture. And you don't have to wait for two weeks before getting the goods. The Montreal Importers have every time, just try them for yourself!

By buying for cash and taking every discount available, by keeping prices low, the Montreal Importers could sell as much as they could buy, the mail order houses would soon quit sending their catalogues to the Prince Rupert district.

Why send your money out of town to build up the prairie cities when you can buy at as good and better prices right here in town?

Rather let your motto be "Build Prince Rupert" and buy at the Montreal Importers where you can get the best prices going.—Advt. (255)

IN SILENCE FOR DAWSON

Rotary Club Adjourns After Passing Resolution of Condolence

After passing a resolution of condolence and standing in silence for a short time out of respect to the memory of F. G. Dawson, a former member who had died, the Rotary Club yesterday adjourned without doing any business except receiving the nominations of new members.

President Bryant spoke of the sad occasion and of the fact that Mr. Dawson was formerly a member of the Rotary Club.

Mayor McMordie moved the resolution, seconded by John Dybbavn, and in doing so mentioned again the tragic event by which an eminent citizen and former member of the club had been snatched away. He paid a tribute to Mr. Dawson as a pioneer of Prince Rupert who had been active in the affairs of the city. He was a brilliant businessman and socially was known to everyone. He always responded to calls for help whether it might be personal services or money. His loyalty and charity were well known. He was charitable to all with whom he came in contact and no one ever heard him say an unkind word about another.

President Bryant ordered a copy of the resolution to be forwarded to Mrs. Dawson and announced that he had already ordered a wreath to be sent from the club.

New Institution Announced By William Goldbloom, Pioneer Fur Dealer

For the purpose of extending better service to his ever growing custom, William Goldbloom, Prince Rupert's pioneer and reliable fur dealer, announces that he is taking over the premises to the rear of his store, which have been occupied by P. J. Ryan, in which he will establish an up-to-date factory for the making of order and repairing of all kinds of fur goods. Meantime, Goldbloom is in a position to remodel, clean and refine all manner of fur goods with facilities already at his command in his present premises.

Goldbloom is assembling in his store a brand new and up-to-the-minute line of the newest fur apparel. A visit to the store, even if not to buy, would be well repaid.—Advt.
