Government Plans for Skeena River Road all Outlined by Minister

Alternative Schemes Discussed by Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Who States Highway May Have to Go by South Side of River

Great doubt has been thrown on the existence of a route north of the Skeena," Hon. W. A. McKenzie, acting minister of public works, in making announcement at the end of the week of the commencement of an aerial survey for a road route up the Skeena River from Prince Rupert. "But, as persons who have travelled there are convinced that a good location can be found, with low grades, we intend to prove or disprove this theory definitely from the air. If engineers are able to sight what

ALUMINUM IN NAAS VALLEY

Reported Rich Ground Where Over Thirty Claims Have Been Staked

There is reported to have been a valuable strike of aluminum made in the Naas Valley which seems likely to prove of value. It is on a creek running into the Naas and was staked years ago by Victoria interests as a clay deposit. Now fourteen claims are held by Kenny Smith, at present employed on the snag scow Bobolink. Assays have been made showing a very high percentage of aluminum, sufficient to make its operation profitable.

Another group of 19 claims has been staked alongside the original staking.

Should Use Every Other Method to Obtain Redress Before Action Taken to Obtain New Province

That Is Board of Trade Attitude as Expressed in Letter Written to Southern Newspaper in Reply to a Query

That northern British Columbia should use every other method to secure what is needed before resorting to the extreme measure of demanding the formation of a new province seems to be the official attitude of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade, as expressed in a letter sent by that body to the editor of the Western Tribune, in reply to a query as to the agitation here for a new province. The letter states that the people are discontented and

Famous St. Paul's Cathedral in Final Stage of Restoration

The final stage in the long task of restoring and renovating St. Paul's Cathedral, London, Eng., was started this week with the removal of the great organ from the nave back to its original position in the choir, a work that is expected to occupy about four months. The work of restoration, which was directed to the strengthening and solidifying of the superstructure of the Cathedral, was begun in 1913, but it was not until 1924 that the big task began of grouting the eight main piers supporting the dome thus adding, the engineers estimate, 200 or 300 years to the life of the great building. Since the first appeal was made for funds in 1913 a sum of approximately $2,500,000 has been raised by contributions from all parts of the Empire. Above is an excellent view of St. Paul's Cathedral, which is a great memorial to the work of Sir Christopher Wren, who designed the structure and supervised the building of the majority of it.

Stabbing Affair at Dorreen Results in Death of One Man and Another is Under Arrest

Metri Smiledich is dead and Steve Doljkovac is under arrest on a charge of murder following a stabbing affray at 7 o'clock yesterday morning at Dorreen, a Canadian National Railway station six miles east of Pacific. Smiledich was a section man on the railway and Doljkovac, a fellow workman. While details received by police headquarters here in the matter are very meagre, it is understood that a quarrel between the two men led up to the stabbing, which resulted in almost instant death for Smiledich.

Doljkovac was placed under arrest soon after the killing by Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers at Kitwanga, who were called. Provincial police officers, headed by Sergeant W. J. Service, were soon on the scene and have taken accused in charge.

Inspector William Spiller, officer commanding of "D" division of the provincial police, left this morning for Hazelton to take charge of the case. Smiledich, whose body was slashed through nearly to the backbone, was 25 years of age. Staggering from the bunkhouse into the waiting room as he held

CUT OF LOGS PRINCE GEORGE DISTRICT LARGE

The log scale in Prince George district for the month of June, totalling 14,288,552 board feet, was one of the largest on record and brought the total for that district for the first half of the year up to 56,200,688 feet, as compared with 41,624,961 feet in the corresponding period in 1928.

The prospects are that Prince George district will have a record log scale this year, as the new Gale & Trick mill at Hansard is now logging, as is also the Alexander mill at Prince George, while the second new Prince George mill, that of the Foreman Lumber Co., will be logging even if the mill is not in operation before the close of the year.

GETTING AWAY FROM SOUTHERN RIBBON

Until recently Canada consisted of a ribbon of country along the northern edge of the international boundary. Beyond that little was known and as the population was small little was heard from it.

Quebec was the first province to push northward in search of virgin agricultural lands. Ontario followed, mostly for minerals and timber. Then came the other provinces until today the north sections of the country promise to outstrip in natural resources and development the older sections.

British Columbia, one of the last to be heard from, is now steadily coming into the public eye. The cities of the south draw very largely from the wealth of the north. It is their market.

But the cities of the south are not so keen in seeing the money collected in the north spent there. And that is where we take issue. We need a highway to give access to the south. If we get that we shall feel that we are not so badly used.

TAKING FIRST STEP

We are glad to have the announcement that the Government is taking the second step toward the building of the highway. First the department commenced a route survey from Galloway Rapids and have made some progress. Now there is an airplane coming to survey the route through the mountains. While we have no hope that any better route than the Skeena will be found, it will be satisfaction to have definite information in regard to it. In any case the survey was needed. If real construction begins early next year we shall have to be satisfied. When we see contracts let for roads leading north in Omineca and in Prince George districts and nothing being done here we feel that we are not being well used.

RAINS BETTER CROP PROSPECT

Precipitation Not General on Prairies But Many Sections Improved

WINNIPEG, July 15.—Rains, reported from many sections of the west during the week, have tended to improve crop conditions in areas fortunately affected, and to revive hopes for many crops which had previously been despaired of. It is still a question, however, as to whether permanent relief has been afforded, since the majority of rains do not appear to have penetrated sufficiently to adequately provide for the requirements of an already acute condition. According to the eleventh weekly crop report of the Canadian National Railways, Northern Manitoba, particularly in Swan River Valley, gives promise of returning a fair crop. Rye is good and recent rains on the Togo and Preeceville subdivisions appear to have made an average crop a possibility in those sections.

Some hail damage is reported from restricted areas at Kenville and Langruth. Central and Southern Manitoba, while receiving further scattered rains, have suffered too, hot weather and strong winds, and crops are undoubtedly suffering, especially where no rain fell.

Rains have also effected some improvement in Saskatchewan, though they have not been sufficiently widespread to be of much account. Northern areas including the Yorkton, Asquith, Dodsland and Porter subdivisions report prospects fair for an almost average crop. Tisdale, Melfort, Prince Albert and adjacent territories also continue to report satisfactory conditions with wheat from 25 to 40 per cent headed and plenty of moisture. For the time being warm weather is needed to insure growth which is from ten days to two weeks late. Severe hail damage on July 10 is reported from small areas at Denholm on the Ingham subdivisions. Central and Southern Saskatchewan are still urgently in need of rain. Gravelbourg reports stubble crops a failure, with farmers turning in their stock or ploughing down. Course drains are forward and dried up. Riverhurst and Glenboro subs. in the south report increasing drought damage over last week.

Much of the crop in Southern and Central Alberta appears to be damaged beyond repair. Early sown fields are largely a failure, and late crops are progressing to the rain received. Some rains occurred during the week which have naturally improved local areas, but half crop estimates continue in the majority. As in many sections of the other provinces, a few good fields may be found, but their frequency in Alberta leaves much to be desired.

DR. GRANT HERE

Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant, for many years pastor of First Presbyterian Church here and now located in Fort William, Ont., arrived in the city on yesterday afternoon's train in the course of a holiday trip to the coast. He will spend a week here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Johnson, Fourth Avenue East.

FASHION FANCIES

THE SHANTUNG BEACH SUIT TAKES A BOW

Inspired by the sailor costume and worn by chic beach loungers, is the beach suit with a "salty" air. It is trim and boyish and takes the place of the conventional beach pajama.

The costume illustrated here is of shantung, navy blue for the full trousers and chartreuse for the jacket. The coat, which is doublebreasted, takes navy blue trimming while the stripe on the trousers is of chartreuse.

Figured georgette or chiffon is used to fashion this dainty frock. Note the newest cape collar and uneven hemline.

This satin tailored coat with scarf collar worn over a dress of figured or spotted georgette makes an ideal costume for summer wear.

TAFFETA EVENING WRAPS PROVE INTERESTING

An evening wrap of taffeta is a welcome change from the velvets one sees everywhere. A short wrap of this material is extremely smart with a full skirted evening frock.

The stunning wrap depicted above is of turquoise blue taffeta, always an effective color for formal wear. The three large choux at the neck stress a new note. The circular plenum that flares from the hip covers the bouffant skirt under it. Other interesting details are the small scarf collar and the tucks on the cuffs.

FASHION GOES TO THE GOBS WHITE FLAT CREPE EXCELLENT FOR SUMMER

Now that a summer tan can be purchased at the corner drug store, the beach has become a playground rather than an open air lounge. And the athletically inclined girl has gone straight to the gobs for inspiration for her beach costume.

This summer will see gobs and gobs of gobs beach costumes, but none more effective than the one sketched for you today. The duck trousers are white, and the jaunty little sweater shirt is pirate striped in blue and white, and boasts the new crew neck. This jolly outfit is topped with a white beret.

WHITE FLAT CREPE EXCELLENT FOR SUMMER

It has been discovered that the off-white shades, so popular during the winter, are not the splendid foil for suntanned skins that dead white is. This explains why so many of the frocks and coats on display in the shops for summer wear are in pure white.

Heavy flat crepe, in white, fashions this good-looking evening dress that affects a long side trail set just below the hip. A little tailored white transparent velvet jacket accompanies the dress and may be lined in the same color or in a shade to contrast. It carries three gardenias over one shoulder.

EVENING GOWNS DIAPHANOUS AND DARING

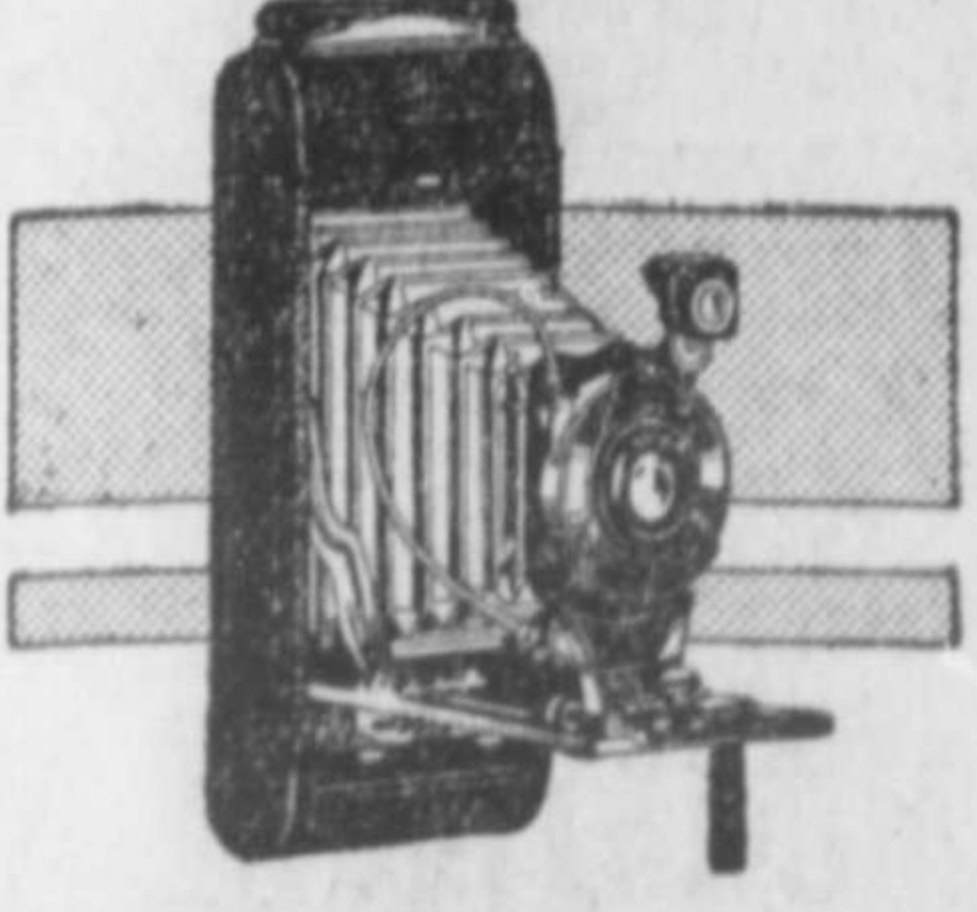

The evening dress of sheer black is indispensable at all seasons. And dresses of vivid hue supply its most effective background. But such a dress must be exceedingly well cut and the wearer should possess a good figure to properly carry it off. The above dress would be ideal for a formal function. It is of black pressed net over a taffeta slip of black. Large black taffeta poppies decorate the full skirt and accentuate its lines. The sun-back décolletage is a new and important note for evening frocks, stressed by the important dressmakers.

WON 100 YARDS DASH BY INCH

Percy Williams Had Close Rival In Eddie Tolan, Michigan University

TREMENDOUS CROWDS

VANCOUVER, July 15.—With only one inch to spare, Percy Williams was awarded the victory over Eddie Tolan, the Negro champion from Michigan University, in the 100 yards dash, which was the big race here on Saturday. Frank Wykoff of Los Angeles came third. So close was the race that the spectators were unable to tell who was the winner.

Williams strained a muscle in the race but the injury is not believed to have been serious.

One of the greatest crowds that ever watched a race here had gathered, many of them having been sitting in the sweltering heat since early morning in order to get a favorable seat. The applause was deafening when the announcement of the winner was made. The band struck up "O Canada" and this was followed by the "Star Spangled Banner" as the sprinters posed for the cameras.

Mary Frizzell and Lillian Palmer of the Vancouver High School of Commerce beat three members of the Olympic girls relay team in the 100 yards, and Tommy Herd, formerly of the U. B. C. defeated C. Halstead of the Los Angeles A. C. in the mile. Tolan won the 220 yards defeating Wykoff.

such a popular vehicle of transportation, for while there is communication over fine tarried highways between all points in southern British Columbia and connection with transcontinental and other highways, the towns and villages between Prince Rupert and Hazelton are unable to move very little beyond their city or village boundaries by automobile. It is impossible to reach the outside world by highway.

"This state of affairs is creating a very discontented people, and also when prospective new settlers realize these drawbacks they turn away to sections where modern methods of transportation prevail. It is also the more discouraging in view of the fact that all other provinces of the Dominion are now making a special feature of developing their northlands.

"This port is the coast outlet for five to six hundred miles of territory to the east, and the inhabitants of that large stretch of country are prevented from reaching the coast by automobiles unless they pay the sum of $40 to transport the car between Hazelton and Prince Rupert, plus the passenger fare on train of $7.10 each adult, and the car must wait at Hazelton until the arrival of a freight train to carry it, which might be one, two or three days.

This state of affairs prevents many from getting further west than that point. Last summer thousands of cars turned around at Hazelton that had travelled all the way from eastern Canada and the eastern states, and returned home over the same route. Had it not been for the existing inconvenience and heavy expenses these cars would have come right through to Prince Rupert and here ship by coastal steamer to Vancouver and probably have remained there for a few days, but at present most of this automobile tourist traffic is lost to both places.

"This section of B. C. draws the biggest proportion of its supplies from Vancouver and the south of the province, lumber, shingles, farm produce and other commodities, it is therefore to the interest of other sections of B. C. to energetically support us in our attempts to get highway connection that will enable us to reach other sections of the province by auto.

"In regard to the creation of a new province, there are a number of radicals who advocate this as the only solution of our problems, but they are in the minority. On the other hand, the remainder of the citizens feel that every other method must be exhausted in endeavoring to secure our needs before such a drastic move is resorted to."

$50,000 IS POVERTY AT RITZ HOTEL

Many of us who have imagined how content we would be with fifty thousand dollars in the bank will have an opportunity to learn how quickly that amount can be made to disappear when we see "Children of the Ritz," a new First National picture to be shown at the Capitol Theatre.

In the whirl of New York's dizzy high social stratum this fifty thousand lasts Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill a very short time indeed, and four thousand dollar fur coat and fifty-dollar-plate dinner parties help in the reduction process.

This high society comedy is packed with amusing and pathetic sidelights on the difficulties encountered by an extravagant girl whose spending money is suddenly reduced from thousands to hundreds, married to a boy who thinks he is rich. He learns that fifty thousand dollars in the "Ritz" is actually almost poverty.

DROUGHT ON PRAIRIES MAY AFFECT LUMBER

Mills Along Line of C.N.R. Watching Situation Affecting Market

Drought, which will seriously affect the prairie grain crops this year, will also have an adverse effect upon their lumber market in 1929, lumber operators of the Prince George district fear. It is expected the prairie demand will be materially cut. Nor will the overproduction on the coast help them.

Most of the mills along the line of the Canadian National Railway are, however, still operating to their usual capacity and the managements are hopeful that, before the end of the year, the situation will be improved sufficiently to enable them to move their stocks. The operating mills include the Eagle Lake Spruce at Giscome, Etter & McDougall at Shere, Bend Lumber Co. at Bend, Vick Bros. Lumber Co. at Penney, Longworth Lumber Co. at Longworth, Sinclair Spruce at Sinclair Mills, Dewey Sawmills at Dewey, Al Johnson Lumber Co. at Hansard, Newlands Sawmills at Newlands and the McLean Lumber Co. at Shelly.

The Gale & Trick Co. at Hansard and the Alexander and Forman companies at Prince George are still building. Plants closed down include the Willow River Lumber Co. at Willow River, Fraser Lake mill at Fraser Lake, Lorne Lyle at Alexa Lake and Brown & Dunn at Giscome. The Cranbrook Sawmills closed its Otway mill early in the season and shifted its operations to Penney with the purchase of the Red Mountain Lumber Co.
