COLONIZATION IS UNDER FIRE

EMPIRE DAY CELEBRATED TODAY BY CHILDREN

McRae's Colonization Scheme Discussed in Parliament and Opposed by Hon. R. Forke

Fear Expressed by Minister of Immigration That Country Might Be Flooded With Immigrants Which Could Not Be Absorbed

OTTAWA, May 23.—The national development immigration scheme proposed by General A. D. McRae, Conservative of North Vancouver, is so vast and expensive that it should be carefully analyzed, declared the minister of immigration, Hon. Robert Forke, in the House of Commons last night, when he replied to the Vancouver member's want of confidence motion, which calls for immediate reorganization of the department of immigration and colonization.

So far as he himself is concerned, he had doubts as to the practicability of Mr. McRae's scheme, said Mr. Forke.

In calling for national development of immigration and colonization, Mr. McRae dealt particularly with the Peace River country, opening up of which should be undertaken as a sound national development, under which the government would be called upon to finance a sum of $300,000,000 with the object of settling 2,000,000 immigrants in western Canada during a 10-year period. Mr. Forke did not believe that any scheme involving an expenditure of so many million dollars would be successful. He did not wish it to be said that he was opposed to immigration. Immigration of the right sort was essential. What he did object to was bringing to Canada a greater number of persons than could be absorbed in the industries of the nation at their rate of growth and expansion.

The department was continually criticized and blamed for paucity of British immigrants, Mr. Forke pointed out, but it was the duty of the officials to see that the influx of settlers was no greater than the country could really absorb. In order to alleviate a fear that Canada was becoming overrun with foreign population, Mr. Forke asserted that 76 per cent of the present Canadian population was Canadian born, 12 per cent British born, and only 10 per cent foreign of origin.

Empire Day Celebrated Today by School Children Under Auspices of the I. O. D. E. of Prince Rupert

Hundreds of public school children assembled at 1:45 this afternoon in the Capitol Theatre, which was loaned for the occasion by the manager, Mayor S. P. McMordie, to participate in the annual Victoria Day patriotic demonstration of Municipal Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire. The usual parade of the children was held.

The feature of the program in the theatre was a patriotic address suitable to the occasion by G. G. Bushby. Mrs. Shelford Darton, regent of Municipal Chapter, presided, and also on the platform were Mrs. J. C. McLennan, Mrs. S. P. McMordie, Mrs. A. T. Parkin and Mrs. Robert Blance, past regents of Municipal Chapter; Mrs. J. G. Steen, regent of Queen Mary chapter; Mrs. John Manson, regent of Hill Sixty Chapter; Mrs. Murray, representing the regent of Adair

Carrs Chapter; Mrs. W. A. McLean, standard bearer, Municipal Chapter; Mrs. C. P. Balagno, standard bearer, Hill Sixty Chapter; Mrs. William Brass, standard bearer, Queen Mary Chapter; Mrs. S. V. Cox, standard bearer, Adair Carrs Chapter. Chairman Thomas McMeekin and members of the board of school trustees were also present by invitation.

The program included numbers by the Booth Memorial School choir, a folk dance by girls of that school, and a dance by Borden Street School girls.

After the ceremony in the theatre, there was a gathering of high school pupils in the auditorium of Booth Memorial School for a similar purpose. Mrs. Darton again presided and an address was given by Rev. T. Ivon Jones, pastor of First Presbyterian Church. There were also vocal solos by Mrs. William Millar and selections by the high school orchestra.

STRONG PLEA BY BALDWIN

LEEDS, May 23.—A strong plea to put the welfare of the country ahead of all party aims was made by Premier Baldwin in an election address here on Wednesday. The location for the cenotaph will be on the court house grounds and the nature of the stone has already been described.

The cost will be $3500, of which about $1000 remains to be raised in a renewed drive which will be inaugurated at once.

S. A. Bird presided at the meeting of the cenotaph committee.

Controversy Between Labor and Capital Over Tariff Occupies Limelight in Election Battle

LONDON, May 23.—Controversy between Sir Herbert Austin, head of a great automobile concern at Birmingham, and Labor party leaders occupies the centre of interest in the election campaign today. It began when Sir Herbert made public a letter saying that, if the McKenna duties were removed after a change of government, his plant might have to close down.

Robert Dennison, Labor candidate in King's Norton riding, in which the Austin works are situated, replied by declaring that, if the Austin or any other works closed down because of the advent to power of the Labor party, the government would take over control.

Last night in a speech at Birmingham, Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, declared a Labor government would tolerate no threats or intimidation from capitalists in connection with the repeal of the McKenna duties, but would carry out the policy it

British Statesmen Support Policy of the Liberal Party

Baldwin Declares For "Safety First" in British Election Campaign Now in Progress in Britain

LONDON, May 23.—Lord Reading, former viceroy of India and a former Liberal attorney-general, in a eulogy before the National Liberal Club of the Liberal scheme for the solving of unemployment by means of gigantic road construction and improvement schemes, said nobody had suggested that unemployment could be completely removed within a year. All that had been said was that the problem within a year could be reduced to one of normal proportions.

Sir John Simon, chairman of the Indian statutory commission, in an address said: "I would have nothing to do with this scheme if it were a mere electioneering stunt; I support it because, like Lord Grey, I am convinced the policy is right and ought to be vigorously pursued."

Baldwin Attitude

Safety first has ceased to be merely a Conservative slogan. It has become an election issue. Liberals and Laborites scoff at it as typical of what they term "The Tory type of mind." Premier Baldwin's retort is to compare the slogan to the same slogan at railway crossings. Safety first, he says, has saved many lives, but it has never hampered the progress of the railways.

ELEVATOR SITUATION

We are receiving several proposals to criticise the local elevator and the conduct of the business of the Alberta Wheat Pool. We do not think it would be wise to carry criticism any further at present. The Pool has publicly intimated that the business done through Prince Rupert will likely be better during the coming season. Until they show that they are not making good here, we suggest that criticism be withheld. Should the Pool again fail to give Prince Rupert a fair deal we shall ask all friends of Prince Rupert to join in a barrage which will make itself felt right through the prairies. Let us all hold back our ammunition but store it carefully.

CAN IT BE DONE?

There are those who say it is impossible to form a separate province without the support of the southern part. "It can't be done," is their dictum.

Is it possible? We think it is. In these democratic days most things are possible. If the northern part of the province is a unit in its demands for a separate government, it can be secured. All depends upon unity of action. If the people are to be divided into groups and parties in regard to the matter, then nothing can be achieved.

There is no doubt but that northern British Columbia is the richest part of the province and most people will agree that it is being exploited for the benefit of the south. Money going from this part of the province builds the roads in the other sections. Huge sums are being sent south from Queen Charlotte Islands in timber rentals and stumpage and the country is allowed to remain undeveloped. One mine in Stewart pays over $100,000 in taxes and the district gets about $35,000 back in appropriations. Prince George, which is the best treated of the districts, pays large sums into the provincial treasury and gets nothing like as much back as it pays. So with the other districts. See what a stumpage is paid on the poles and ties cut, and imagine what will be the mineral tax on the output of the mines at Smithers, Hazelton and Topley within the next few years. Yet the north is outvoted by the south and development will be retarded because of the loss of the money which is sent south.

It is difficult to secure figures to prove just how much money is collected in the north and sent south. We are, however, quite sure that we do not get anything like as much as we ought or as much as we should if we formed our own province and expended our own money.

NATIONAL HOLIDAY

Tomorrow is a national holiday and doubtless Prince Rupert people will enjoy it to the full. If the weather is suitable there will be games and sports at Acropolis Hill grounds that will prove most attractive. There will be a big civic dance in the evening which will doubtless be well attended. Some will go out on the water and enjoy life at the beaches or at the Salt Lakes. It should be a fine holiday if the weather man is kind.

Trek of Homesteaders
Into Peace Country
is Wonderful Sight

Land of Open Type Is Gone; Most of Homesteads Left
Have Bush; All Along Main Roads Settlers
Working From Sunrise to Sunset

This is one of a series of six articles by H. F. Mullet dealing with the rapid concentration of settlers in Canada's great "inland empire," the Peace River district.

(Special to The Daily News and the Edmonton Journal—Copyright)

By H. F. MULLETT

EDMONTON, May 23.—Though there are millions of acres of splendid land available to the homesteader in the Peace River country, there remains today very little open prairie land.

The terms "Grande Prairie," "Pouce Coupe prairie," "Rolla prairie," "Spirit River prairie," etc., are misnomers today, so far as the homesteader is concerned. There is no more prairie left. The axe and the brush-work must precede the plow.

This applies, too, to the million acres of land in the forest reserves of the Peace River block and its environs, which are rapidly being surveyed and thrown open to homestead settlement. Squatters going in ahead of the surveys, long ago sought out the open lands and settled them. Their claims are prior ones when the survey stakes run past the homes of these squatters, and so again, even in the new lands, there will be more or less brushing and light clearing to be done.

Today, all the way along the main roads both north and south of the river, settlers are pulling off into the bush, clearing a space for a house with the axe, and working from sunup to dark, carving out new homes, and apparently enjoying it.

Beyond Hythe, we pulled off the road into the bush, for a chat with Leonard Eld, of the Tupper Creek settlement, formerly from High River. We were attracted by the neatly piled stacks of cut wood, on the clearing facing the little log cabin, the evidence of much real hard work in the clearing of that first eight acres.

"We're 22 miles from Hythe here," said Mr. Eld. "We got hailed out at High River, so came up here into the bush. Yes, we've cut about 25 cords of wood off this eight acres."

"Fairly heavy bush, isn't it?" we commented.
"It isn't anything at all to us folks who came originally from Wisconsin," grinned Eld. "There is lots bigger brush there, and you have to pay for your land, too, and then you get no price for what you grow. Here, the land's ours for the asking, and if they can grow A1 wheat at Pouce Coupe, reckon we can do it here, too."

Railroads Big Factor

All talk in the north this year is of railways—and the speculation is natural, in view of the fact that on June 1, the northern railways will be taken over from the province of Alberta, and operated jointly by the two transcontinentals, as the Northern Alberta Railways.

Undoubtedly, the rush into the new lands both north and south of the Peace this year, is in anticipation of early railroad extensions and the later hope of a coast outlet.

The possibility that the two "forks" of the existing railway, north and south of the river, may join again at some suitable point on the Peace adjacent to Hudson's Hope, and be thus continued as one line through the Rockies to the Pacific Coast is undoubtedly a factor in the settlement north and south of the river, beyond Rolla to Fort St. John on the south, and over the old Fort St. John trail, north of the river.

Pouce Coupe definitely counts on a railroad through there, within the next two or three years. Whether it will come first by way of the grade laid some years ago from Spirit River, or up from the south from the present end of steel at Hythe, the old-timers don't care much. All they know for certain is that there will be a railway into Pouce Coupe in short order!

Such a line passing through the highly mineralized ranges of the Rockies, with the best of coal, unlimited timber, vast and untapped water power, and the possibility of precious minerals in addition, would do two things—it would stimulate settlement of the agricultural lands of the Peace still open, and it would provide industrial growth, too, thus giving to the Peace River country, that happy dual development of agriculture and industry, without which no country can be truly great.

This optimistic spirit that pervades the entire Peace River country is exemplified in a little incident at Pouce Coupe, when two men staged a race into the land office there, to see which would be the first one to file on a certain tempting homestead that had fallen vacant.

Hare and Tortoise

One man secured an auto the other, nothing daunted, set out on foot. The pedestrian homesteader got into the land office just as the would-be entrant, in a car that had given him every possible trouble on the road, shot around the corner into town, in a cloud of dust. A modern exemplification of the hare and the tortoise, this.

It is a wonderful sight, this trek of homeseekers into the fertile lands of the Peace. At the new towns—Fairview and Hythe, or at Grimshaw, from where settlers head for the Battle River country, there are scenes that fire the imagination and stir the blood, for here one senses the heartbeat of a new land in the making.

The sidings are a jumble of farm implements, household goods, bedding and all the impedimenta of the newcomer. Box cars hum with activity as their gaping maws disgorge still more assorted miscellanies to add to the piles already there.

Cattle mill restlessly round the corrals and there is a medley of sound—horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, chickens, geese, turkeys—all vocally protesting against this hurly-burly of activity which is the movement of settlers into the new lands far beyond the end of the steel.

Forty, fifty—a hundred miles beyond the railway north and south of the Peace, the homesteaders are going in, confident that that shining steel ribbon will follow them, on some happy day in the future.

But then, as one of them put it to us, "this here ain't pioneering. Why, look at the roads—look at the trucks rushing out

Must Not Expect Too Much From Government Says Circular From Department

The following circular has been issued by the department of marine and fisheries in connection with radio reception:

Radio salesmen sometimes expect too much from government interference investigators. There has been considerable dissatisfaction in the past, among a number of broadcast listeners, largely due to the attitude of radio salesmen, who, in their efforts to make a sale, where interference is considerable, will give the prospective purchaser to understand that the dollar license fee which he pays to the government is for the purpose of clearing up all the noises.

When a broadcast listener demands unreasonable attention on the ground that he has paid his dollar to have all interference cleared, it should be pointed out that, although the Department is desirous of clearing all interference and is doing all in its power to arrange for the elimination of preventable interference, the dollar license fee is compulsory according to the regulations of the Radio Act passed by Parliament, and no guarantee of clearing radio interference is given with this license.

All radio equipment is required to be licensed, and the fees from the sale of licenses pass into the consolidated revenue of the country and have no bearing upon the free service rendered by the Radio Branch to broadcast listeners in investigating and arranging for the elimination of interference. The number of licenses sold does, however, have some bearing in obtaining a vote of sufficient funds from Parliament to carry out the investigation of interference. Many cases of interference, which are investigated, cost the Department several hundred dollars before the source is located and arrangements made for its elimination, and the average cost of an investigation is considerably greater than that of the cost of a receiving license. In order that the service be conducted in an economical manner, to the satisfaction of all the broadcast listeners, it is necessary that the reports of interference as a general rule be taken in the order that they are received, but arranged so that the several reports probably referring to a common source be grouped together and dealt with at one time. It, therefore, cannot be expected that each individual broadcast listener should receive immediate individual investigation of his report of interfering noises on the receiver.

It should, also, be pointed out that, at the present state of the art, it is impossible to reduce the noise level of interference in districts where electricity is used below a reasonable level, and when a receiver is used that is so sensitive that it will pick up faint broadcast signals a certain amount of noise from inductive interference should be expected. There also remain, unfortunately, a number of sources of interference for which a cure has not been found.

The Canadian Government is the only government in the world which provides such a service for the investigation and elimination of interference for the broadcast listeners. A general description of this work is given in the Annual Report of the Radio Branch.

COPPER CITY MAN BURIED

Henry Brunsing Was Old Time Settler in District, Formerly From Germany

TERRACE, May 23:—This district lost another early pioneer in the sudden passing on Sunday morning of Anthony Henry Brunsing of Copper City. The deceased man worked during Saturday but during Saturday evening he was seized with a weak spell and expired early Sunday morning, death being due to apoplexy.

Mr. Brunsing was born in Essen, Germany, but came as a child to the United States, later to Calgary, Alta., in 1903. In 1908 he came to central British Columbia, taking up a preemption on the south side of the Skeena River, near the mouth of the Copper River. Mrs. Brunsing joined him here in 1913 and they have lived here continuously since that time.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday afternoon at the Kitsumkalum Cemetery, Rev. A. W. Robinson reading the burial service. The pall-bearers were Fred Michaud, R. W. Riley, O. T. Sundal, E. T. Kenney, T. Turner and R. Corlett. Many floral tributes were sent in token of esteem for deceased.

WEATHER IS UNSETTLED

Outlook For Victoria Day Not So Good But Best is Hoped For, Nevertheless

The forecast this morning of H. D. Tee, Digby Island, Dominion meteorologist, of unsettled weather conditions for the next few days is not very reassuring as far as prospects for the Victoria Day celebration tomorrow morning are concerned, but sponsors of the event are, however, hoping for the best. Since 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the barometer has dropped 3-10 of an inch to 29.90 at 8 o'clock this morning. The wind was in the southeast where it has been for the past few days.

Tomorrow will also mark the opening of the angling season in these parts and quite a number of fishing parties are planned. Rain, if it should come, will not interfere to such a great extent with the operations of the patient anglers unless it is very heavy.
