PLEA FOR HIGHWAY TEN-DAY BLIZZARD IN MANITOBA

Ten-Day Blizzard North of Manitoba 200 Men Hungry

WINNIPEG, May 7.—For the past 10 days a blizzard has been raging north of here along the line of railway leading to Hudson Bay and the Flin Flon Railway. Two work trains were snowed in with close to 200 men, whom, it is feared, may be short of food. The storm was said to be the worst the country had known.

Today the temperature is rising, bringing relief from intense cold, and aid is being rushed in, the track being cleared by the aid of snow-plows.

C.P.R. Loses One Step in Big Suit Princess Sophia

SEATTLE, May 7.—Marking a preliminary victory in the battle for $2,950,000 by the heirs of 214 of the 298 persons drowned in the sinking of the Canadian Pacific liner Princess Sophia off Juneau, Alaska, in October, 1918, a memorandum report awarding that amount to plaintiffs has been filed in the federal court by United States commissioner A. E. Bowman.

Before the litigants can hope to collect, the judgment in the case must still be fought in the United States supreme court to determine the extent to which the company is liable.

PROSPERITY OF PRINCE RUPERT DEPENDS UPON HIGHWAY BEING BUILT IMMEDIATELY

Prince Rupert's future prosperity depends upon the building of a highway.

The city of Prince Rupert is the only city in Canada today that has no highway leading to it. In that it is unique among cities, but unfortunately not having one is a great loss. In the days before tourist travel this would not have mattered much, but with the arrival of automobile touring as one of Canada's greatest industries, Prince Rupert is cut off from sharing in it.

In 1927 considerably over thousand cars came through to Hazelton and turned back. Last year the number ran into several thousands. This year if there was a highway along the Skeena River there would be at least five thousand cars come to Prince Rupert and they would spend a few days here before turning back. A few of the people would camp in the tourist park that would have to be provided. Most of them would stay at local hotels, would buy tires, oil, gasoline, and clothes; would eat at the restaurants; would leave thousands of dollars here.

Under such conditions Prince Rupert would be prosperous.

Think of the fishing parties that would have to be taken out by Paul Armour and other boat owners! Imagine how the dealers in car accessories would benefit! Think what business the Ford people would do here! Hardly a person but what would be benefited. People would leave their cars here and go on to Ketchikan, Stewart and other points. The Monday to Thursday round trip boat would be crowded each week.

But would it be only Prince Rupert that would benefit? Not a bit. Prince George would be busier because more cars would pass through. Every place along the line would do business. Smithers, Telkwa, Burns Lake, Vanderhoof, Hazelton and Terrace would share in it. It would spell progress to the whole northern and central sections of the province.

"But look at the cost," says friend Pessimist. Yes, look. It would cost three million dollars. Possibly it might run to four millions, or suppose it cost five, is no argument against it. See what it would mean in increased business to the province. People would come here instead of going off to the province of Alberta or elsewhere. The government would make up a lot of the interest on the investment from the gasoline tax and from the extra licenses that would be charged on the tremendous increase there would be in the number of local cars. It would almost pay to make it a toll road.

But what excuse is given for not building this highway now? It is said that an aerial reconnaissance is necessary. Ask any man who was in the flying corps overseas how long it would take to make that reconnaissance. He would tell you that a week or two at the most would do it, possibly less. Yet we are to be delayed a whole season because there is no reconnaissance.

To the people of Prince Rupert, of Terrace, of Hazelton, of Smithers, of Telkwa, of Houston, of Burns Lake, of Endako, of Fraser Lake, of Vanderhoof, of Prince George, of Quesnel, and of intermediate points, we say this: Let us all work together to insist that this highway be built into Prince Rupert. By the time it can be built, even at the best possible speed, ten thousand cars will be ready to come through to Prince Rupert and they will all leave some money as they pass along the route. Today they are kept back from the knowledge that they cannot get through all the way. If it was once advertised that Prince Rupert highway was finished, there would be such a rush to drive through that it would be hard to accommodate all who would come.

The big convention is to be held here next month. Let this Skeena River road be the leading subject and let it be put forward in such a manner that it cannot escape notice.

If necessary let the convention travel to Victoria in a body and storm the executive council and let them know that delay will not be tolerated. Failing this let us form our own province and put through the road ourselves independent of Victoria.

PIONEER BOAT HOUSE MAN IS DEAD IN SOUTH

Frank M. Davis, Aged 62, Succumber Last Saturday in Los Angeles

Word was received in the city this morning of the death last Saturday in Los Angeles of Frank M. Davis who operated a boat house business in Prince Rupert in the early days. He was 62 years of age and is survived by a son, Webb Davis.

The late Mr. Davis moved south many years ago. He belonged to the Masonic order.

TARIFF BILL INTRODUCED U. S. HOUSE

Duty on Lumber Goes Up and Shingles Taken Off Free List

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The tariff bill was introduced in the House today. Even before it was offered, mutterings of trouble were audible. Agriculture members from the west and south declared the rate on agricultural products were not high enough. The industrial members were also dissatisfied.

While the imports from Canada will be to some extent curtailed by the bill, the increase in general as to products largely shipped from Canada is not as great as many anticipated. Hides have been left on the free list; grains generally are unchanged; a material increase is made on lumber; shingles, which are now on the free list will bear a duty of 25 per cent ad valorem; beef is increased from three to six cents a pound; no change has been made on stock or cattle.

AIRPLANE DOCK FOR CITY OF KETCHIKAN

City Council to Take Action at Alaskan Port to Accommodate Seaplanes

KETCHIKAN, May 7.—A dock especially constructed to accommodate airplanes in Ketchikan will be erected by the city immediately, following the action of the city council which instructed the street committee to select a site for such a dock and report at the next meeting of the council. The council also instructed Tom Torry, street commissioner, to clear the Thomas basin tide flats of snags which might hamper planes wishing to land there.

At the same meeting of the council, the city fathers passed a resolution to be sent to the Seattle postmaster, urging establishment of airmail service in southwestern Alaska. This is in line with the campaign being conducted by all interested organizations with a view to awakening the post office officials to the necessity of airmail service from Seattle to Ketchikan and Juneau.

BILLY VICKERS DIES IN SOUTH

Former Chief of Police Here Succumbed Suddenly at Victoria Last Night

AGED SIXTY SEVEN
Administered City Force in Prince Rupert From 1910 to 1926

It was with general and genuine regret that word was received in Prince Rupert this morning of the sudden death last night in Victoria of William Henry Vickers, who was one of the real pioneers of Northern British Columbia and chief of city police in this city for sixteen years.

The late Mr. Vickers had been in rather failing health for several weeks, local friends had learned, but his death was not expected and news of it came as a great shock. Probably no man who ever lived in this city and district had more friends, was more popular or generally respected than the late "Billy" Vickers.

Born in Plymouth, England, 67 years ago, Chief Vickers came here from Atlin in March, 1907, and was the first provincial police constable in Prince Rupert. On incorporation of the city in 1910, he was pressed to accept the appointment of chief of police and held that office until June 1926 when policing of the city was given over to the provincial force. Since then the late Mr. Vickers has been with the registration of trap lines branch of the Game Department at Victoria. Vickersville, one of the early tent settlements in Prince Rupert townsite, was named after him.

In his capacity as a police officer, the late Chief Vickers ever executed his duties without fear or favor and, nevertheless, he was a man of extremely kindly heart and genial disposition. His long tenure of office as chief here testified at the same time to his efficiency and popularity and, now that he is gone, the people of Prince Rupert will generally feel that they have lost a friend indeed, despite the fact that he had not been here in the last three years.

The late Mr. Vickers is survived by a widow and daughter, Miss Evelyn Vickers. To them the sympathy of many old friends will go out. E. V. Ling, formerly of this city and now in Vancouver, was a nephew.

The Masonic craft was among the orders to which Chief Vickers belonged.

WHEAT MARKET PANIC STRICKEN

Memories of Deep Slump Four Years Ago Conjured Up in Winnipeg Today

WINNIPEG, May 7.—Panic stricken memories of the deep slump in wheat prices four years ago were conjured up on a frantic market today. Breaks of 8 1/2c to 9 1/2c from Saturday's close resulted from announcement of reduction of United States freight rates as well as from weakness at Liverpool, Chicago and Buenos Aires. The close, after but a meagre reaction, was 8c to 7c lower for the day.

BRITISH TAKE RYDER CUP FROM UNITED STATES

Walter Hagen (left), captain of the United States Ryder Cup golf team, is here seen giving Major J. H. Batley, secretary of the British Golf Association, a chance to see what the Ryder Cup looked like. He was confident that his team would take it back with them, but the British golfers led by Duncan turned the tables on the visiting team and gave them one of the worst beatings they ever experienced. Needless to say the Ryder Cup will reside in the British Isles for the next two years and Hagen goes home empty handed.

LORD CHEYLESMORE
Chairman of the National Rifle Association

Few men have had a longer connection with rifle shooting and none ever gave more devoted service to the National Rifle Association of Great Britain than Major General Lord Cheylesmore, chairman of the N. R. A. Hundreds of Canadian riflemen who in the last couple of generations have shot at Bisley Common have agreeable memories of him and the curious little "hey" with which this gallant veteran of the Grenadier Guards used to round off almost every sentence.

Lord Cheylesmore started shooting at Eton as a boy and went into the army direct from that school, having spent the most of his active years with the Grenadier Guards of which regiment he was ultimately placed in command. He was far to advanced in years for active service in the Great War but presided over courts-martial. For years he has been chairman of the National Rifle Association.

Lord Cheylesmore was born in 1848.

River at Dawson Still Holding Tight While Gambling Fans Speculate

The rope which holds the stake driven into the ice at Dawson still remains unbroken indicating that the ice at that point has not yet moved, while gambling fans watch for indications and speculate as to who will win the big annual sweepstake for which tickets have been sold all over the country. During the day the thermometer rises and the water from melting snow hourly increases the force which will eventually drive the ice out to the ocean.

Last night there was a hard frost throughout the territory but by eight o'clock the thermometer had risen to 41 at Dawson and 49 at Stewart River.

Harry Heilman Drove Two Homers for Detroit to Beat Boston Yesterday

NEW YORK, May 7.—The national pennant, it would appear, will go to the team possessed of the greatest stamina and of a fair share of "breaks." Victories for three of the four eastern teams in frays with western invaders yesterday served to tighten the race, so that Boston in the first place now is removed from Philadelphia in the last place by only three and a half games.

Boston yesterday, despite a two-run rally in the ninth, dropped the decision to Pittsburgh.

New York Giants beat St. Louis but needed three home runs to get a three to one verdict.

Seven runs were scored in the tenth inning between the Yankees and Chicago, but the Yankees scored four of them and won.

Harry Heilman's two homers helped Detroit down Boston for the third straight time.

Minus Walter Johnson, who is ill with influenza, Washington nevertheless, played good ball in swamping Cleveland.

Two years ago William Muldoon, the 33-year-old New York Boxing Commissioner, predicted that James J. Braddock, if properly handled, would develop into the best light-heavyweight in the world. Now Muldoon comes out with the statement that Braddock will be the next world's heavy-weight champion. The white-haired Commissioner at one time was the greatest conditioner of heavyweights the sport has ever known. He trained, among others, John L. Sullivan, the original Jack Sharkey and the Irish heavy, Peter Maher. Muldoon believes that Jack Sharkey of Boston is still the cleverest of the heavyweights of today, but opines that Sharkey could not have hit Peter Jackson, famous colored boxer, one solid blow in ten rounds.

Vary your dinners with fish and eggs

Women often tell me that their greatest difficulty in meal planning is to get variety into the main dish. It is easy enough to build a dinner, once you have selected the meat, but it takes thought to get away from the obvious round of steaks and chops and roasts.

Why not now and then substitute fish or eggs? By combining either one with milk, you have a dish rich in food values—proteins, minerals and vitamins. There are any number of delectable ways in which these combinations may be made—omelets of all sorts, creamed eggs, souffles, creamed tuna, shrimp or lobster, scalloped oysters, salmon souffle.

You must have a dependable milk supply
In any cooking that calls for milk, I never take chances. I use nothing but Carnation Milk. I know that it is the purest of high grade milk from selected herds. I know that it is rich in cream—doubly so—for it is evaporated to double thickness. I know that I will always find it sweet and good, no matter how large the quantity I have on hand, for it is sterilized for safe-keeping.

I can count on Carnation always for notably delicious results—extra creaminess, velvety smoothness of texture, fragile delicacy of flavor. The best informed domestic scientists agree that it is not only better in results than ordinary bottled milk, but that it is particularly economical.

Carnation Tuna Fish a la King

2 tbs. butter, 3/4 green pepper shredded, 1 hard-cooked egg, 1/2 cup chopped mushrooms, 3 tbs. flour, 1 cup Carnation Milk, 1 cup water, salt and pepper, 1 1/2 cups tuna fish, 1/2 cup peas. Sauté green pepper and mushrooms in butter until tender (about 10 minutes), keeping covered. Remove mushrooms and pepper and blend flour with butter; add Carnation diluted with water and cook until mixture is thickened, stirring constantly. Place flaked tuna fish, peas, egg, mushrooms and pepper in double boiler; add sauce; cook over hot water 10 minutes. Serve in patty shells or on toast points. Serves 6. Lobster or shrimp may be used in place of tuna.

Baked Eggs a la Carnation

1 1/2 tbs. butter, 1 1/2 tbs. flour, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper, 1/2 cup Carnation Milk, 1/2 cup water, 4 to 6 eggs, buttered bread crumbs. Make white sauce of butter, flour, seasonings and Carnation diluted with water. Pour into shallow baking dish. Cover sauce with eggs, being careful not to break yolks. Sprinkle buttered bread crumbs over top and bake in moderately slow (325°F.) oven until eggs are firm. Garnish with parsley.

The Best of Milk

BEAUTIFY PRINCE RUPERT

For many months we have said little or nothing about beautifying Prince Rupert. We do not wish to tire our readers with the subject, but now that spring is here and everything is growing, congratulations are in order to those who have worked hard this spring to improve their gardens and brighten up their premises generally. A great improvement is noted every season and this one has been even better than most previous years in that respect. There are more gardens cultivated, lawns planted and cared for, and general improvements made than Prince Rupert has ever seen before.

The great feature of this movement is that it is to a large extent self-extending. If a few people get interested, the neighbors catch an inspiration and get busy on their lots. Some are ashamed to sit back and have people make remarks about their ugly grounds and others have a real love for beauty and order and do the work from a real desire to make the home and the city more sightly.

RENTED HOUSES

There are people who live in rented houses who refuse to make any improvements because they feel that their tenure is insecure. They may move and do not care to do permanent work for which they cannot be paid. It is suggested that in such cases there should be co-operation between tenant and landlord. When permanent work is done the landlord might pay part of the cost and the tenant the other part. This would enhance the value of the property and make life more enjoyable for the tenant and at the same time be for the general betterment of the city.

READING ABOUT GARDENING

A great many people have been reading the gardening page published occasionally on Mondays in this paper. Some suggestions have been made in regard to it by local gardeners. Others are a little shy at making suggestions. We are always glad to hear from practical flower growers hints as to what to grow and what not to grow and what to do in exceptional cases. It is difficult to secure articles on gardening which apply to this part of the country because of the fact that few gardens have been cultivated this far north in the past. What we wish to do is to make conditions of life as pleasant here as they are in the south. When we shall find more and more people will live here instead of in the south.

KEEPING MOTHER'S DAY

Next Sunday, May 12, is Mothers' Day. It is a day when young and old are asked to remember their mothers. People who have no mothers sometimes make a point of remembering other mothers.

We have a plethora of days set apart for various causes, but this one is different. To some extent it resembles Christmas. Those whose mothers live elsewhere will doubtless remember to write to them on this occasion.

P. G. E. ACTION SOON

It is expected that action will be taken at the next session of the B. C. legislature dealing with the P. G. E. and its extension into the Peace River country. While nothing definite has been decided upon, it is expected that the line will be taken over by the two big railways jointly and connected up eventually with the E. D. & B. C., which also is to be operated jointly. It has even been suggested that the C. N. R. line leading into Prince Rupert should also be operated jointly by the two companies, but that does not seem quite likely.

A great many people would like to see the C. P. R. run into Prince Rupert under equal terms with the C. N. R. and it is difficult to understand why they should not do so. There is plenty of room here for the operations of both big companies.

The Letter Box

DISMISSAL OF PUBLIC SERVANTS

Editor, Daily News:—
While listening at Mr. Pattullo's meeting the other night I was much impressed with the doings in the House in Victoria in regards to the discharging of civil servants in the district. I agree with Mr. Pooley, attorney-general in discharging people where he finds rank incompetence. My experience, in this province for quite a number of years, has been that quite a lot of people have been appointed to positions who are neither of use to the party to which they belong or to Canada.

Some of them even think that when they have been appointed to a position the public are their servants instead of them being the public's servants. Some of them I came across may have passed some exams, but civility—they never passed that. Some people when they stay too long in one position have to be fired to bring to their senses that there are others that can take their job and things will go on just the same.

THE SALMON TRAP QUESTION YET ONCE MORE

Dear Editor:—
Will you kindly allow me space in your valuable paper for a few remarks re. this matter.

Before the official authorities definitely decide upon this burning and most important question, they must be aware of the following facts:

1. All the British Columbia trollers are absolutely against fish traps.
2. Most of the British Columbia trollers will be driven to starvation.
3. Most of this struggling people will be totally ruined.
4. The flourishing fish industry—one of the few industries in British Columbia—will be partly killed. Why?

Only for the sake of "Money." A few smart businessmen have found out that, if they could get fish traps—they would always have salmon in abundance; they could pick any quantity they liked at very small costs; and, they would get entirely rid of these trollers, who always bother them about the prices.

I am no troller or fisherman; but I am a friend of "Justice and Right," and I know that the authorities would be absolutely unjust, if they allowed fish traps.

A fish trap, if practically and

PROPOSED NATIONAL ANTHEM

O Canada, our land of priceless worth!
We prize above all other lands on earth,
With loyal hearts we sing thy praise—
Our country great and free,
May God protect thee, Canada,
And shape thy destiny.
O famous realm, land of the free!
Britannia's sons and daughters call on thee
To sing of peace, good-will and unity.

Land of the North, where virgin forests grow,
Where mountains look on meadows green below,
Kind Heaven has blest thy wide domain,
With valley, hill and plain—
A changing scene, through all thy length,
From East to Western main.
O land renowned in history!
Shades of thy glorious dead are calling thee,
To sing of peace, good-will and harmony.

Then let us all, who love our country, sing:
God bless our land; long live our gracious King—
May his vast Empire still endure,
When flags of war are furled,
And justice, truth and peace prevail
Throughout a new-born world!
O mighty power on land and sea!
The nations, East and West, all look to thee,
To lead the world in peace and amity.
—H. M. Stramberg, in Vancouver Star.

skillfully erected, and put up in just the right place, the running salmon cannot possibly avoid it.

God gave this fish that instinct, that he should go to certain grounds for spawning, and according to this law, the salmon goes there—doesn't matter all fish traps; or all other hindrances:

On the other side, if a fleet of trollers are out fishing, and a run comes on; the trollers cannot possibly get any more than one fish on each hook at the same time; therefore, the majority of the salmon must get through and reach the spawning grounds.

Consequences

- A. Fish traps mean destruction.
- B. Fish trolling means bread and living for thousands of people.

Thank you very much Mr. Editor.

Yours obediently,
SPECTATOR.

Why tens of thousands of motor car buyers will consider only those cars with body by Fisher

Four basic advantages enable Fisher so remarkably to increase body value while holding down price, as to make Fisher Body, for tens of thousands of motor car buyers, the determining factor in motor car selection. This preference is the result of the greater Fisher Body value which—in cars outside the Fisher Body group—is obtainable only in cars costing several hundred dollars more.

1 First of these fundamental Fisher advantages, is the enormous resources of the Fisher Body Corporation.

Some idea of the extent of Fisher resources may be realized when one considers that Fisher operates the world's largest manufacturing plant for automobile body hardware and fittings (Ternstedt); one of the largest plate glass manufacturing plants in the world; and harvests timber from its own 200,000 acres of forest lands and converts that timber into lumber in its own mills.

2 Another reason for the unprecedented value of Body by Fisher is Fisher's huge production, with all that means in reduced costs of fabrication and assembly and huge saving by reason of great purchasing power.

As everyone knows, quantity production is one of the chief factors in manufacturing economy. Fisher employs more than 60,000 persons, who build annually in 43 great factories, upwards of 1,250,000 automobile bodies. Some idea of Fisher Body purchasing power will be gained when one notes that in the twelve months of 1928 Fisher required for the manufacture of Fisher bodies, more than 600,000,000 pounds of steel, 285,000,000 board feet of lumber, 26,000,000 square feet of plate glass and about 20,000,000 yards of upholstery cloth.

3 A third basic reason for Fisher Body value is Fisher's certainty of market.

That market consists of the companies manufacturing General Motors cars—Fisher Body Corporation being a division of General Motors. Fisher, therefore, does not bid for contracts—it always knows well in advance what its manufacturing program is going to be, and to co-ordinate its operations so as to achieve still further economies while maintaining highest quality.

4 A fourth basic reason for Fisher Body value, is the proximity of Fisher Body manufacturing plants to the chassis plants of its customers.

This eliminates much costly handling and holds down transportation expense, and thus permits Fisher to put still greater value into its bodies.

This explains why Fisher is able to build value so superior as to make Body by Fisher the determining factor today in thousands of motor car sales. Compare Fisher Body cars, listed below, with other cars in their respective price fields and you see that in Fisher Body cars alone does your money purchase all the body value you have a right to expect in a motor car.

BEACH PEOPLE FINED FOR NOT BUYING LICENSE

VANCOUVER, May 7.—Complaining about interference conditions without having paid the necessary license fee of one dollar to operate a receiver brings unexpected results. It is revealed that when reception conditions at Britannia Beach were rather poor a few weeks ago, a group of fans signed a petition asking that an inspector be sent there to clear up the offending noises. The petition was forwarded to the radio branch of the department of marine and fisheries and Inspector Bowerman and one of his engineers here were ordered to the scene.

VANCOUVER WAS EASILY HEARD FOR ORATIONS

Usually Prince Rupert People Have to Rely on American Stations For Music

It is curious that on the evening when the oratory contest was going on at Vancouver, the station CNRV over which it was broadcast was heard well here almost from the beginning of the program starting at about eight o'clock. Other evenings this station is either not here at all or not until much later in the evening. It is understood that extra power was used for the special broadcast and this enabled Prince Rupert fans to hear.

SLAVE TRADE ARABIA TODAY

Many Negroes Sold Into Captivity and Pilgrims Sell Children

JERUSALEM, May 7.—The slave traffic, notwithstanding resolutions passed by the League of Nations, is still operating in the Near East. Reports just published say that some 2000 blacks each year are brought from Africa into the Arab slave market.

The trade in human beings extended over the Sudan, Abyssinia, the Hedjaz, The Nejed, the Yemen, and the coast of Somaliland, even in the trans-Jordan, it is not altogether unknown. Sheikhs there have black attendants who serve all their lives without payment.

Price Moderate

The price of this human commodity is moderate, an average slave fetches $100 to $200; a youth $300; a young girl $300, and a maid $600.

Most of the human material for the slave market is drawn from Africa, the blacks are brought across the Red Sea in small vessels and packed off in troops of 20 to 30. On landing they are started along the Pilgrims road to Mecca, sometimes journeying with the pilgrims themselves.

Believers, having made the pilgrimage to the Moslems holy city are not infrequently themselves purveyors to the slave markets, after being fleeced by the sharpers who abound in Mecca, the pilgrims are often without money for the journey home, so they sell their own children.

AROUND PRINCE RUPERT
Mill Planned For Emma Group at Usk; New Road to Owen Lake; Another Strike on Topley-Richfield

A drift tunnel about 200 feet long has been driven and a considerable quantity of ore has been opened up on the Emma group of mineral claims near Usk which was bonded a year ago by T. A. Lowary and S. J. Norris from L. W. Patmore of Prince Rupert and upon which operations are being superintended by J. M. Moir. The vein runs from 2 to 4 feet wide the entire distance and cross-cuts are now being run in both directions to get around a fault which was recently encountered. The Emma ore is gold-copper and will, it is believed, average $30 per ton or better. An ounce of gold is given in some of the assays. The operators are well satisfied with values to date and plan to develop enough tonnage to warrant a mill in the fall or next spring. The Emma is in a good location just a mile from the Usk station and almost on the river level with the ore all above. The main highway, when it is built, will pass within a few feet of the camp buildings. Seven men are now working on the property with a compressor and one drill. Ample financing has been secured privately.

Machinery has been taken up the hill from Usk to the Shenandoah property and everything is reported to be in readiness for operations to be resumed at an early date.

The Owen Lake Mining Co. is having Jack Reynolds cruise a proposed new road route up the Morice River to the Owen Lake country. The road from Houston to Wistaria is now almost impassable and transportation to the Owen Lake mine is out of the question for the greater part of the distance. The proposed new route would open up an agricultural district and a fine scenic country.

A new ore zone has been encountered in the north drift of the Topley-Richfield mine apart from the high-grade ore upon which considerable development has been under way recently. The new ore, samples of which have reached Smithers, is very similar in character to the fine grained ore opened up in the original level. High values were shown in assays and the strike has a depth of 250 feet. Operations at the property continue to centre on an extension of the north drift, where three additional drill holes remain to be linked up at the lower level. Plans are being made to ship high-grade ore from the discovery made a few weeks ago at which point ore is being taken out, while a raise is being run to the 100-foot level.

The Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co. in 1928 produced 61,011,082 pounds of copper and 430,666 ounces of silver and 11,080 ounces of gold. The silver output shows a slight decrease from 1927, gold and copper being both ahead. Of copper, Anyox produced 36,134,026 pounds and Allenby 21,387,722 pounds. The average cost of producing copper was 9.188c, as compared with 9.971c in 1927. Anyox ore averaged 1.35 per cent copper, as compared with 1.47 per cent the year before. New ore developed by the company in 1928 totalled 3,044,422 tons, making the ore reserves at the end of the year 14,713,132 tons. Improvement in mill equipment increased recoveries and net profits in 1928 were more than double those for 1927. The outlook for the coming year is excellent and the company expects to maintain the new dividend rate of $7 per share.

Two of the strongest mining organizations of Canada have gone into British Columbia's new mining field north of Stewart, says the Financial News of Vancouver editorially. They are Mining Corporation of Canada and Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. Scores of prospectors—among them the best in the west—are already on their way into this territory of promise and a start will be made toward locating the more obvious and accessible deposits. In the contact zone between the grano-diorite and the Coast Range batholith in which have occurred such famous properties as the Britannia, Belmont-Surf Inlet, Dolly Varden, Hidden Creek and Premier there are many thousands of square miles of probable mineral-forming ground. East of this contact belt lies a second and somewhat similar zone, paralleling it and taking in a large part of the basin of the Peace River headwaters. Together these areas make a mining country in which generations of Canadians will work without exhausting the resources.

GENERAL OTTER ENDED CAREER DURING NIGHT

Took Part in All Military Events in Canada During 60 Years

WAS 85 YEARS OLD

Fought in South Africa During Boer War and Was Wounded

TORONTO, May 7.—General Sir William Otter, K.C.B., aged 85, who had a distinguished career overseas, in the South African war, through the Northwest Rebellion in Canada, and in the capacity of director of internment operations in Canada during the great war, died last night. He attained the rank of inspector-general, the highest military office in the Dominion, after beginning his career as a private.

Sir William had been unconscious for ten days and according to his physicians death was due to old age. The funeral will be held on Friday when he is to be accorded full military honors.

Before the great war, General Sir William Dillon Otter, K.C.B., was admitted the most conspicuous example of "from private to general" among the sons of Canada. When his native country entered the world conflict in 1914 Sir William was past the allotted mark of three score years and ten. His record as a soldier was as full of honors as he was of years. The soldier spirit was undiminished and the body strong. Although he was on the retired list nobody was much surprised when he offered his services to the country "in any capacity." The country appreciated the offer and the force of character, military experience and ability which backed it up. But it was decided that the upstanding stripling of 71 had already "done his bit," so far as overseas service was permissible by the age limit.

Sir William was then offered the post of director of international operations in Canada during the war. He accepted. From 1914 to the close of the war he did his duty in a situation that required much organization work and deduced many vexatious problems. It was a home post but no "eushy job." It entailed the handling of some thousands of interned enemy aliens, some of whom were very offensive, but many openly patriotic and dangerous. They were scattered about the country in various camps, necessitating numerous coast to coast dashes by director, who was kept employed until September, 1920.

Otter's "Sixty Years of Soldiering in Canada"—if it is ever published—will be a remarkable record of the hot spots in the growth and progress of the Canadian military history. He served with distinction in the South African war, 1899-1900, previous to that he took part in the military operations in the latter half of the century. In 1861 he was a private in Canada's early volunteer forces. Promoted to lieutenant in Queen's Own Rifles in 1864, he served in the defence of the country from the Fenian Raid in 1866 and 1870. He became lieutenant-colonel in 1874 and commanded his regiment during the Toronto "Pilgrimage" Riots in 1875 and the Grand Trunk Railway riots in 1877 (Bellevue, Ont.). On the augmentation of the Canadian permanent force to the form of infantry training schools in December, 1883, Col. Otter was appointed commandant of that posted at St. Barracks, Toronto, a position held for 15 years.

In the suppression of the Northwest Rebellion in 1885, Lieutenant Colonel Otter was in command of the Battleford column which made the famous forced marches on the trails of the wide prairie, well-disciplined nowadays with rifles. He was engaged in the operations against the big chiefs Foundmaker and Big Horn and by suddenly attacking the latter at Cut Knife Creek on the 1st of May, after a night march of 40 miles, he prevented a junction between the forces of those two chiefs, which had been a formidable increase of Louis Riel then engaged the close attention of General Middleton at Batoche.

The outbreak of the South African war found Lt.-Col. Otter in command of Canada's first Canadian Regiment, the 2nd Battalion Canadian Regiment. He was wounded, mentioned in dispatches, promoted to the rank of colonel, and given the title of Commander of the Bath for his services there. Cabled thanks from Queen Victoria, Sir William Laurier, Canada's premier, and various presentations on his return home were among the honoring honors of his South African service.

MINING WORK MUST BE SEEN

Time Taken in Doing Development Work Will Not Count

OTTAWA, May 7.—Development work on mining claims in the Dominion lands are to be measured in future by the amount of work actually done, rather than the time spent or money paid. It was announced in a statement last night by the department of interior.

"Ow does this 'ere minimum wage work, Hegbert?"
"Well, yer see, that's wot a bloke gets fer goin' to work. Then if 'e wants a bit more 'e 'as to work for it."

The true purpose of a Budget

EVERY year you spend a large proportion of the money you get. So much for clothing. So much for shoes. So much for things to eat—for house furnishings, books and what not.

Here is the way to get the most for your money.

Keep a budget. Decide what you can afford to spend for each item, and hold yourself within this amount.

Then—to get the most for your budget money read advertisements carefully. The advertisements you read tell you what is newest and best. They give you the latest ideas and improvements. They help you to get more from each dollar you have apportioned in your budget—and so live better and dress better with the same income.

The true purpose of a budget is to enable you to spend wisely—and only by careful reading of advertising can you hope to accomplish this result.

Read advertising regularly. It points the way to better living.

Man in the Moon

Jake says it's about time some of the trout fishermen were reporting their catches. Perhaps there have not been any catches yet.

Yes, pretty soon I'll take my rod And tie a pretty fly And then I'll angle in the streams And there I'll learn to lie.

I'll tell about the monster trout (Perhaps it'll be a stump) Which caught my hook and landed me Almost head first, kerflump.

And if I cannot land the fish By use of dangling fly I'll angle with a lowly worm Or other bait close by.

And all the time I will imbibe Real sunshine and fresh air And possibly a nip of Scotch Mid scenes of beauty rare.

An impressive address was given by Rev. W. F. Price who spoke on "How to Have a Prosperous Life." There was a discussion as to whether the club should discontinue activities during the summer, the members deciding in favor of carrying on until the end of May.

At the conclusion of the evening's proceedings, dainty refreshments were served by Miss E. Armstrong and Miss E. Johnston.

RAMON NAVARRO SCORES AGAIN

Forbidden Hours with Renee Adoree, Tells a Stirring Love Story in Magnificent Fashion

"Forbidden Hours," which opened at the Capitol Theatre last night, is a love story revolving about a king and his sweetheart, a commoner, played by Renee Adoree, and shows how the wearer of a crown is torn between his love and his duty to his country. It is a bold theme, magnificently worked out in spectacular settings, depicting great court affairs in the royal throne room, a gorgeous royal wedding in a great cathedral, and other huge details—all incidental to a poignant love story that runs through the entire production.

Novarro's portrayal of the young king is an artistic blending of royal dignity with the human longing of every youth, be he king or peasant. Miss Adoree as the commoner sweetheart is a charming and appealing figure.

MEETING OF YOUNG PEOPLE SALVATION ARMY LAST EVENING

The evening's proceedings were brought to a close with playing of games and serving of refreshments.
