Gives In Detail Loss To Commercial Fishing as Result of Indians Taking Spawning
Fish On Spawning Grounds

VANCOUVER, Dec. 4.—The stupendous loss of 240,000 sockeye or the equivalent of 400,000,000 eggs was suffered this year as a result of Indians fishing for food on the spawning grounds of the Naas, Skeena and Upper Fraser rivers, declared Richard Gosse, president of the B. C. Packers, in an appeal for abolition of the Indian privileges on the spawning grounds. The appeal was made to W. A. Found, deputy minister of fisheries, at a conference with members of the fishing industry today.

MESSAGE OF PRESIDENT
WAS LONG

International Relations and National Finance Dealt With and Naval Parity Stressed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Various opinions are being expressed in regard to the message of President Hoover to Congress. In a general way the Republicans say it is a statesmanlike document whereas the Democrats decry it as the work of a politician.

The document took an hour and a half to read and one congressman slept peacefully almost the whole time. In the message Mr. Hoover gave the results of a survey of national finances which he considered excellent and as a result urged a reduction in taxation. He also reviewed the international situation especially the present relations of foreign countries to United States, going into detail in each case. In his reference to the defense situation, the President stressed the great change brought about by the development of aviation and urged that corresponding decreases in other armaments be considered. He strongly stressed the principle of naval parity with Britain and urged that United States continue in the lead in the interests of peace.

VOTER LIST IS LARGER

Those Entitled to Vote at January
Election Total 2250, Increase of 100 Over Last Year

With the closing of the list at the end of November for registration of property owners, tabulation of the municipal voters' list shows that about 2250 persons are qualified to vote at the annual civic elections next month. This is an increase of about 100 names over last year. The increase is due to a greater number of householders and license holders registered. Of the 2250 names on the list, about 300 are those of householders and license holders. The balance are property holders.

Elaborating on his proposal, Mr. Gosse said he estimated the losses as follows: Naas River, 34,000 sockeye, equivalent to 59,000,000 eggs. Skeena River, 167,000 sockeye, equivalent to 328,000,000 eggs. Upper Fraser River, 18,000 sockeye, equivalent to 31,000,000 eggs. The commercial value of the lost sockeye was $138,000, he said. Mr. Gosse urged that both Dominion and Provincial Governments close the salmon streams for "hydro-electric projects" and that the chief supervision of the fisheries on the Pacific be given more freedom of action on questions of policy and that a counting weir to determine the escapement be tried out at either Smith Inlet or Rivers Inlet.

Proposal to Close Certain
Areas to Purse Seines
Met Strong Opposition

VANCOUVER, Dec. 4.—Proposals to amend the fisheries regulations for the season 1930 in the waters of British Columbia advanced by W. A. Found, deputy minister of fisheries, at a conference here yesterday met with strong opposition from representatives of purse seine fishermen and canners. The proposed amendments are chiefly concerned with the prohibition of salmon seining within certain areas with a view to conservation. "If the department really intends these regulations to go into force, the fishermen and canners might just as well shut up shop and go into the lumbering business," said R. C. Gosse.

Halibut Boat Owners Will Take Steps to Try To Secure Removal
Duty On Fish Going Into States

The Canadian Halibut Vessel Owners' Association, at its annual meeting last night in the City Hall, decided to send a delegation consisting of Capt. J. D. Thurber and Capt. David Ritchie, prominent local fishing skippers, to Seattle to interview the Halibut Vessel Owners' Association there with a view to having a petition sent to Washington, D.C., asking for the removal of the tariff on halibut. Capt. Thurber and Capt. Ritchie will probably leave for the south aboard the Prince Charles Sunday evening.

The association will communicate with the provincial government asking that the old fishermen's floats in Cow Bay be maintained in spite of the provision of the new floats by the provincial government. It was felt by the association that the fishermen were much more entitled to this central location on the waterfront than was the Yacht Club. If necessary, the latter body should be able to find accommodation elsewhere. It was felt that the present site for the floats was valuable to the general public as a summer moorage for fishing vessels.

The association will also ask the provincial government, if a lease of waterfront property is made to a cold storage concern, that it be given to an independent company in order that competition might be created.

In view of a report that the present vacant fish house on the government wharf was to be given to the companies already operating there in a readjustment of premises, the association decided to request the government to follow the original plan of giving the premises to the new fish co-operative marketing company which is being organized.

New Officers
The association elected officers as follows for the year: President—Capt. Dan Larsen. Vice-president—Capt. David Ritchie. Trustees—Capt. George Fritz, Capt. A. Prince and Capt. Leon Sandvar. Secretary-treasurer—G. W. Nickerson. There were about fifty halibut vessel owners in attendance at the meeting which was an enthusiastic one.

Another Charge Laid Against
Charles Oliver by Dr. Latimer
Following Tar and Feathering

PENTICTON, Dec. 4.—Another charge has been laid by Dr. V. E. Latimer against Charles Oliver. Through his counsel a writ was issued in the supreme court yesterday charging Oliver with defamation of character.

Charles Oliver was committed for trial yesterday afternoon on a charge of "forcible seizure" in connection with the "tar and feathering" of Dr. Latimer recently. The defence called no witnesses and has intimated that it will base its case on an alibi in the higher court.

DISASTER

Nine Fishing Vessels and Seven
Persons Missing
Since Hurricane

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., Dec. 4.—Another disaster for Newfoundland is feared today when silence continues to conceal the fate of some seventy persons including four women aboard nine missing vessels that left here Friday night for Bonavista ports. No success is reported by two searching steamers. The hurricane that overtook the vessels after they had landed their summer catch of fish and loaded winter supplies wrecked at least three other schooners from which the crews were rescued and battered a number of steamers.

The Naskeena, which was built at Mensons shipyard in Vancouver, is a very handsome and well appointed craft. Of raised deck type with pilot house above the deck, the vessel is 55 feet long with beam of 12 feet six inches and a draft of five feet. A 50 h.p. Frisco-Standard full diesel engine gives her a cruising speed of about nine knots per hour. The cruiser, in construction of which yellow cedar was extensively used, is as handsome in the interior as outside. In addition to saloon and galley, the vessel has two staterooms and has sleeping accommodation for five persons. The engine room is commodious as are other parts of the boat. Equipment includes an auxiliary motor for electric lighting. There is also a dinghy with an outboard motor for short runs or landing purposes. The vessel has one mainmast and a funnel.

NEW CRAFT IS COMING

Having left Vancouver last Wednesday, the new power cruiser Naskeena, for the use of the local Indian Agency, is expected to arrive in Prince Rupert any time now. The vessel is being brought up the coast by Capt. D. Barry of Vancouver, who will deliver her to the local Indian Agent, W. E. Collison.

HOUSE OF LORDS HEARD FROM

The House of Lords has brought itself into the limelight again by amending the Widows' Pensions Bill in such a way as to make it partially inoperative. This will undoubtedly bring down on the heads of the noble lords the wrath of the British toilers and trouble is in store.

In British Columbia there is a great deal of criticism of the fact that if a widow has a house in which to live she cannot draw the pension. She must be absolutely without resources of any kind and then the pension is not large enough to keep her. While we have not the details of the British bill, the situation is likely to be somewhat similar. Labor takes the stand that a woman who is bereaved of her natural support is eligible for support from the state. Apparently the British Liberals took a similar view, for they voted in favor of the bill which has since been amended.

MESSAGE OF PRESIDENT

The message of the President to Congress is always an interesting document. While we have before us only the briefest possible summary, there is no doubt but that Hoover's document will cause a good deal of discussion both in United States and foreign countries.

The president undoubtedly is setting out to work at his job. While we object to his policy when it hits us, such as in tariff revision, we strongly support his policy of pacification. Hoover did excellent work as food controller during the war and he doubtless will make just as good a job of being president of the United States.

SETTLING DOWN TO BUSINESS

It looks as if the stock deflation is completed and the country will now settle down to business without considering at what price railways, utilities, motors, or similar stocks are being held. The sudden drop will have a discouraging effect on those who have been in the habit of taking a flier on "the market" and they will devote their thought and energy to productive work. Many of those who were buying and selling now have no money with which to buy and sell. The lambs have all been shorn.

SITUATION
CHINA TODAY

Changes Taking Place But Resisted By Peasants in Remote Sections

SHANGHAI, Dec. 4. — China's Nationalist government is encountering more difficulty than it bargained for in enforcing reforms calculated to abolish certain ancient customs which it considers drags on the modernization movement. In the cities, except for sporadic instances, people are giving up old superstition, women are bobbing their hair unwrapping the bandages from their feet and discarding the old, tight-fitting styles of dress.

In Canton, the "Society for the Changing of Old Customs" is making headway, particularly in a campaign against the yearly custom of having married women pay expensive homage with food, ornaments and dress to seven fairies for seven full days. The authorities there have warned shopkeepers not to stock up for this festival next year.

But the peasant population, unable to understand why they should discard habits and religious practices that were good enough for their forefathers since time immemorial, are taking things into their own hands in many instances, much to the sorrow of the police. One of the latest country revolts occurred a few weeks ago in a Shanghai suburb known as Yang Hang, a small town in the agricultural section of Pao-shan district. The disorder resulted from an order by the Nationalist government that all temples and idols in the district would be destroyed.

The order was carried out by the police until they arrived at the temple "An Tsai Sz Miao," a place of worship used by the Yang Hangites for centuries. It happened, too, that the police arrived just as the populace was celebrating the repair of the temple and the installation of several new idols. Money for this had been furnished by a wealthy woman of Canton.

When the police reached the scene they marched into the temple, seized the idols, both new and old, and arrested those responsible for repairing the place. Before the peasants fully comprehended what had happened, the temple officials and the idols were locked up in the police station. Bedlam followed. A general alarm was sent out to the surrounding countryside that the temple had been looted and hundreds of farmers joined the villagers. There was a hurried conference, then the mob moved on the police station, broke into the cells, released the temple officials and retrieved their precious idols.

After the images had been put back in the temple, the mob tried to storm the residence of the town's leading citizen, an official who owed his place to the Nationalist political party, the Kuomintang. Help had to come from neighboring villages before the police could disperse the mob and save the official from violence.

Aside from religious observances, there are other old customs to which the Chinese are clinging despite official edicts from Nanking. The ancient lunar calendar is still in use, although ordered abolished in favor of the western calendar several months ago. Many vernacular newspapers still use the old calendar and in Canton the customs changing society has started a campaign against such publications.

Nevertheless scarcely a week passes without some fresh evidence of the awakening of the ancient land of the lotus. This is especially noticeable of course, in the ports and railroad centres where western civilization has made its greatest inroads. For example, in Canton the sign "Specialists in Women's Hair Cuts" has become so common that one of the largest establishments tried to vary it and put out a new sign board which proclaimed in letters to feet high: "Mere Females' Hair Dressing Parlor."

A Daily News want-ad will bring results.

Committee Writes to Prince George In Regard to Peace Outlet

George Bushby, acting for the local Peace River Committee, sent the following letter to the Prince George Board of Trade recently:

Dear Mr. Guest:— We have read the report of a recent meeting of your board when the Peace River Outlet and the advisability of co-operating with Vancouver, to the exclusion of Prince Rupert, was discussed. We can quite appreciate your attitude and also note the general opinions expressed regarding Vancouver's eleventh-hour conversion. Are you not concerned about the stand of Vancouver in this connection as expressed by the Mayor of Vancouver when he declared that Vancouver and the southern portion of B.C. paid half the taxes of the province, and should therefore "fight for their rights?"

Are we not all somewhat selfish in our aims, and inclined to zealously further any movement that may appear, at the time, to be of benefit to ourselves or to our particular locality? Here we meet on common human ground.

But the main object is to provide the producer in the Peace River country with the shortest and most economical route to tidewater. This he must have if he is to compete in the world markets, and especially in the Orient. Practical railway men will decide which is the best and most direct route to the coast, but it is our opinion that Prince Rupert will be chosen as the port of outlet, for transportation economies cannot be attained through unnatural diversion of routes. However, the ideas of all of us may undergo many changes before this matter is finally settled.

The P. & G. E. report is now being prepared, so it is futile to discuss that question. Finance and the engineers will be the deciding factors. We hasten to assure you that we are in no way attempting to injure Prince George. On the contrary, we desire to work with you and not against you, and to have you work with us and not against us. We should not be antagonistic towards each other, and we honestly believe that great benefit will accrue to all of us in Central and Northern B.C. by pulling together, by consulting each other and by acting in unison, with the object of building up a solid, friendly community of people and interests.

Taking Cold May Be Prevented or Perhaps Cured

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. — Colds sometimes lead to more serious illnesses, therefore they should be avoided, if taken they should be cured as quickly as possible. This is the advice of Dr. William J. Hammer, Welfare officer of Toronto. He says: "Persons with certain impairments are especially predisposed to colds. Among these impairments one might list: decayed teeth, pyorrhea, chronic infections of the tonsils, sinuses, adenoids, chronic catarrh of the nose, and ear disease. Smokers' throat from excessive use of nicotine favors infection. Other predisposing factors are habitual over-eating and under-exercising, faulty elimination, sedentary occupation in overheated offices and dwellings, and a general run down condition."

"The general treatment of a cold consists, first, of a dose of salts or any simple saline laxative. This will relieve an overloaded intestinal tract and liver. Secondly, a hot bath and hot lemonade at bedtime to promote perspiration. If a thermometer is available, the temperature should be taken. "Thirdly, local treatment, which, in the case of a cold in the head, should include a spray of the nose or throat four times daily with a solution of one-fourth teaspoonful each of ordinary table salt and bicarbonate of soda dissolved in one-half glassful of water; or a gargle with diluted Dobell's solution, followed by a soothing spray containing menthol and eucalyptus oils.

RATEPAYERS MEETING

Questionnaire to Be Sent to Council; Candidates For Municipal Honors Address Gathering

Many matters of municipal interest were discussed at the meeting last night of Rupert East Ratepayers' Association held in the Seal Cove School. Ald. A. J. Prudhomme, candidate for mayor at the municipal election next month, and Ex-Ald. G. B. Casey and Fred Wesch, aldermanic candidates, were among the speakers. Robert McKay, president of the Association, occupied the chair.

The association decided to present the following questions in writing to the city council:

- 1.—On whose authority was the roadway through McClymont Park on McBride Street from Ninth to Eleventh Avenues torn up and the bridge over Hays Creek removed?
- 2.—What was the cost of preparing the site on Dunsmuir Street at Seventh Avenue for the city rock crusher?
- 3.—How much money has been borrowed by the city from the bank this year and what amount of this remains unpaid?

Robert McKay, president of the association, in the course of a speech on various matters, made the suggestion that Sections 3, 4 and 9, which have reverted to the city for taxes, be subdivided into five and ten acre plots and offered for sale on easy terms.

Fred Wesch, who has been selected by the association to be Ex-Ald. Casey's running mate for aldermanic honors, replacing J. E. Boddie, who asked to be relieved, in the course of a brief address, advocated that a man now on the city staff be appointed to generally supervise all city affairs as a comptroller or manager.

RUSHBROOK IS SPEAKER

Addresses Teachers on Marine Life Text Books Discussed; Also Salary Schedule

The Prince Rupert Teachers' Association held its regular monthly meeting at the Booth School last evening.

Reporting for the salary schedule committee that had met the school board at the request of the latter body, J. S. Wilson stated that the board had received the suggestions of the teachers very sympathetically. The attitude was one that was indicative of the fine spirit existing between the teachers as a federation and the board, and augured well for the future. Before any change was made the board would call the teachers into consultation again, Mr. Wilson stated.

The last issue of the B. C. Teacher, the official organ of the B. C. Teachers' Federation, was highly commended. Among other articles of interest was a statement of the views of teachers in general on the question of school text books. Teachers resented strongly any implication that they were not trying to build up the highest ideals of Canadian citizenship and loyalty and devotion to the Dominion. They welcome every practical and commonsense means of assisting in the true Canadianization of the pupils but felt that the question should not be considered apart from the general efficiency of the school system. The most modern and advanced methods should be used and the books best adapted for this obtained. Other things being equal or nearly equal, first choice would be given to Canadian publications, second choice to British publications and, thirdly, to books of other countries. Education was not limited by boundary lines. If Canada was to hold its place in the economic world it could not limit its search for truth to local publications.

Marine Life

The speaker of the evening was Canon Rushbrook who gave a most interesting and valuable talk on some forms of marine animal life. To citizens of Prince Rupert sea animals and the products of the sea must be of first importance. To the student it offers an ever-present always interesting and always accessible field of study. Canon Rushbrook spoke first on the teredos telling the life story of this mollusc, its reason for boring the holes that did so much damage and caused such expense of time and money. The "head" of an eighteen foot octopus was of interest to the audience as were the details that the speaker gave of the habits of this much hated mollusc. Another part of the address dealt with starfish of which more than thirty varieties were found here. These might have from five to twenty rays. The sunflower starfish was the pest of the fishermen here as they so often stripped the bait from the skates of gear that the fishermen had put out. These starfish obtained their holding power not from suction but from the "plier"-like grip that their "feet" obtained on any projection. The "sea urchin," its form, habits and peculiarities, the "sand-dollar," "sea cucumbers" were all discussed and interesting and distinctive facts told.

Interwoven with the more serious and technical discussions were many legendary notes and amusing beliefs and it was with regret that the teachers agreed

INSTALMENT XXVII.

"What a funny world it would be," Miss Brown remarked abruptly, as they entered their taxi in Curzon Street, "if the whole of the social conditions were changed. Why, all these big houses would have to come down, or be made into apartment houses, and the shops—there would be no one left to buy the very expensive things. Every one would want medium-sized houses, medium-priced jewelry, medium everything. The luxuries would all go begging."

Sport Chat

Billy Townsend, the Nanaimo boy, who recently battled Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion to a draw, is to get another big chance on Wednesday of next week when he meets Al Foreman, Canadian lightweight champion, in the southern city with the title at stake. The Canadian champ arrived at Vancouver at the end of last week from Montreal and is already in training. He intends to take no chances on not being in the best possible shape. Townsend, who has been doing light training in the open air at Alberni, has also arrived in Vancouver with his training staff and is engaged in serious conditioning for the big bout. Ned Byrne, formerly of Prince Rupert, and Joe Townsend are among those secured as sparring partners for the B.C. challenger.

A team of twenty-nine Canadian lawn bowlers, captained by Weston Drupp of Woodstock, will leave Vancouver on Monday of next week for a tour of New Zealand and Australia. Nine members of the team are being accompanied by their wives. The following Vancouverites are the only westerners who will make the trip: Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bawden, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Day, H. Gourlay, Robert Gray (vice-captain), James McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Quartermaine and A. I. Stoddard.

Former Local Boy Is Chief U. B. C. Rugby

Oliver Camozzi, who attended elementary school in Prince Rupert and left the city about eight years ago with his parents for Vancouver, is now a prominent figure in athletic affairs at the University of British Columbia, which he attends. He is captain of the U. B. C. rugby team which recently won the Western Canada intercollegiate title from the University of Saskatchewan in a game at Vancouver.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(By Brian Bell, Associated Press Sports Writer)—A closed season may have to be established for baseball experts, particularly in New York. Playing a losing game at guests, the identity of Connie Mack's world series pitchers, the experts went home and suggested every name but the right one for the Yankees' manager.

HEAVY FOGS IN SOUTH

SEATTLE, Dec. 4.—Heavy fogs have interfered a great deal with shipping in these waters, thick weather extending all along the coast north and south for many miles. A number of minor accidents have resulted. Coasting vessels are not trying to run on schedule.

BASKETBALL LAST NIGHT

Elks Beaten By Three Two; Big Four Loses to Navy

Three Two Taxi defeated Elks by a score of 51 to 36 in a one-sided Senior basketball game at the Exhibition Hall last evening. The Taxi boys had a substantial lead throughout the match and were never headed. At half time the score was 33 to 18 in their favor. R. B. Skinner was referee. The surprise of the evening was the defeat of Big Four by a score of 19 to 17 by the Naval Reserve. It was a close match all the way, the Navy leading 12 to 11 at half time. At no stage of the game did one team lead the other by more than four points. After the start of the second half, Big Four had a brief lead but was soon overtaken by the naval boys.

Bankers beat C.N.R. 30 to 19 in another close intermediate game. At the end of the first half, the railway men were leading 16 to 10 but young Joe Scott staged a scoring orgy of ten points early in the second period which put the game on ice for the Bankers. George Mitchell refereed both intermediate games. M. Budinich and E. Smith were timekeepers and Oke Jackson, scorekeeper, while Alex Mitchell presided at the door. The smallest crowd of fans of the season witnessed the games. Details of scoring were as follows:

Elks Leading In Billiard Match

Only Two Games Played In Last Night's Fixture Between Canadian Legion and Elks

Only two games were played in last evening's Billiard League fixture between the Canadian Legion and Elks. Charlie Balagno won one game for the Elks by a score of 250 to 135 over Marcus Andrews, while Percy Tinker won the other for the Canadian Legion in a close contest with Will Mitchell, which resulted in a score of 250 to 242.

New Syndicate for American Creek Claims; Alice Arm Has Had Good Year; Big Possibilities of Taku River Section

The Excelsior Prospecting Syndicate has been formed by a number of prominent Stewart people to develop the promising B. J. K. and Bryant groups on the upper reaches of American Creek in the Bear River district. The new syndicate is capitalized at $150,000, the organizers and trustees including Matthew Little, prominent mining engineer, who has been in charge of the Dunwell; C. M. Bryant, well-known mineralogist and assayer; D. D. Kimball, one of the owners of the properties included in the syndicate holdings; D. W. McLennan, Stewart merchant; and W. D. Smith, manager at Stewart for the Power Corporation of Canada. The properties controlled by the syndicate include a total of twenty-four claims extending along both sides of American Creek north of and adjoining the extensive holdings of the American Creek Mining Co. Nineteen of the claims lie on the west side of the creek and five on the east side, the elevation being around 4300 feet. Important surface exposures have been located on both sides of the creek but more particularly along the west side, where mineralization has been exposed along 17 claims length.

Values obtained from one ore exposure on the western side of the property ranged from $20.85 to $47.24 in gold, silver and copper. Samples from a gold-copper ledge ranging from 2½ to 3 feet wide on the Dundee claims averaged .72 gold, 2.24 silver and .08 per cent copper, a total value of about $18.40. Another sample from the same lead gave an increased return of copper amounting to 2.06 per cent and total values of $11.76. Gross values from ore in place on the Virginia K. on the east side of the creek totalled $97.81 while a sample of float found on the same ground showed values of $57.01. A copper lead on the claim gave assay returns of 2.45 per cent with a trace of gold and silver and total values of $9.

Reports are current in Stewart that ore has been encountered at depth in the Silverado mine. Just what importance is to be attached to the strike is not yet definitely known but it is understood to be very encouraging.

The expansion of the mining industry in Alice Arm has been swift and quiet during the past year, says the Alice Arm Herald. No great excitement has prevailed such as would probably have been caused in other camps had a such large number of big mining properties been acquired in one season by one of the province's biggest mining companies. District News

ALICE ARM

Due to incessant warm rains melting snowfalls in the hills, high water has been prevailing in the Kitsault River and Falls Creek but the wing dam is protecting the town from any danger of being flooded. A portion of the bridge on the Dolly Varden Railway above Mud Creek Canyon was washed out but repairs are being made.

A small crew will be engaged throughout the winter on the Esperanza mine. In the spring it is planned to install a compressor plant and concentrating mill. The working force will then be considerably increased.

A successful card party was held last Friday evening in T. W. Falconer's Hall by the Alice Arm Athletic Club.

Owing to heavy snowfall, diamond drilling operations have been discontinued for the winter by the Britannia Mining & Smelting Co. on the Wolf mine. The drill has been removed to the Toric mine where several holes will be drilled in conjunction with the other development work which is being carried on.
