J. C. Brady Gives Account of His Stewardship at Ottawa During Session Up To Easter Holidays

Hints at Sinister Influences Working Against the Port and Blames Board of Trade, The Daily News and Others for Not Doing Their Duty

J. C. Brady, M.P. for Skeena, at the public meeting which he called in the Moose Hall last night to give an account of his stewardship at Ottawa during the early part of the present session of parliament, announced that, in addition to the items of public works that he had already secured this year, it had been decided to place an up-to-date radio direction station on Langara Island for the aid of ocean-going vessels entering here from Panama and the Orient; that Green Island was to be equipped with a similar station for the benefit of traffic coming from Alaska, and that a radiophone was to be established on Digby Island which would be of assistance to more local traffic.

FIGHTING IN MEXICO WAS QUITE SEVERE

Federal Troops Victorious at Several Points but General Trapped

NEW YORK, April 5.—Now far into the state of Chihuahua, the Mexican federal cavalry ranged rapidly to the north today in pursuit of the remnants of the once strong rebel army, reported to be virtually destroyed in fighting at Jimenez and La Reforma. Official government figures on the rebel losses placed the dead at 1000, the wounded at 500 and captured at 2000. On the other hand, messages from rebel commanders and travelers from Diaz, north of Jimenez, state that General Almazan, federal advance commander, had been trapped between Escalon and Jimenez by strong rebel forces. The campaign on the west coast is reported developing favorably for the government.

TWO DROWNED SOOKE HARBOR

VICTORIA, April 5.—The body of Horace E. Sims, president of the Sooke Harbor Fishing & Packing Co., was found this morning at Sooke 50 yards from the spot where the body of Howard Pontious, 20 years of age, also of Sooke, was discovered last night. The two are believed to have been drowned when their skiff capsized yesterday afternoon.

A large and attentive audience was present at Mr. Brady's meeting and the member was in fine fighting fettle. In fact, he seems to be improving in the matter of eloquence and persuasive arguments every time he takes the platform. He took many a crack at a small group in this city which he said was working only for the personal gain of its members and did not have the best interests of Prince Rupert at heart. The audience expressed sympathy on a number of occasions with Mr. Brady's views by generous applause.

W. R. Love, vice-president of the Prince Rupert Conservative Association, occupied the chair in the absence of the president, C. H. Orme, and briefly introduced Mr. Brady who spoke about an hour and a half and was the only speaker of the evening. He dealt with a number of matters pertaining to the interests of this port and riding and launched a vigorous attack against the federal government which he charged was not keeping faith in regard to the development of this port and the line.

TWO PLANES SEARCHING LOST AIRMEN

SYDNEY, April 5.—That Captain Charles Kingsford Smith and his three companions, forced down somewhere in the wilderness of western Australia last Sunday, probably landed within 50 miles of the Drysdale Mission station is the belief of the committee in charge of the search and which has instructed Captain Ckateau, an airman at the nearby town of Wyndham, to renew his search in the Drysdale river area in co-operation with the plane chartered by the Sydney Sun.

Sport Chat

Concern is being expressed because Babe Ruth is not bouncing home runs, against the welkin during the spring training, comments Andy Lytle of the Vancouver Sun. Home runs, however, that come in the gentle springtime are not included in the averages nor do they pay off on this kind. There is no need for worry about Ruth. He will exert himself no little this season as, in the fall, he must go into financial futures again with Colonel Jake Ruppert. Mr. Ruth feels that he should have slightly more than is paid the Republic's president for his labors, but the cagey Colonel feels he should try to get along on much less. It will depend on the amount of exertion that Ruth puts into his season's work, therefore, what the Yankee owners will feel impelled to pay him in 1930.

If the Babe beats or comes even near to former records, it will be mighty hard to convince any jury of baseball fans that he isn't worth almost anything that he asks. Ruth has been perspiring persistently in training. He perspired freely in Artie McGovern's gym, before that. There are no surface indications that he is slipping and that was especially true of his last appearance in St. Louis when he banged out three home runs right in the faces of the hostile multitudes at Sportsmen's Park. It will require a full season to see clearly if Mr. Ruth is deteriorating. When he does it will hurt the Yankee gate receipts quite as much as it will damage Mr. Ruth.

NO TWO TEAM BALL CONTEST

American League Looks Like Open Race This Year Say Critics

ATLANTA, Ga., April 5.—If early star gazers have read correctly signs in the American League Baseball sky there will be no two team race this season, in 1928 the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics thundered to the wire neck and neck, the Yankees finally nosing out the A's. The St. Louis Browns, in third place, were sixteen games back.

As the new season approaches with its fresh trials and problems it may be found that the Yankees and Athletics have shown less improvement than the other six clubs in the circuit. On their performance last year they were well able to leave well enough alone but the opposition seems to have taken up the challenge in earnest.

Of the four second division clubs in 1928, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Boston, the Detroit Tigers, under new management and partially renovated, seem to furnish the most serious threat to the teams higher. Pyn Lary, the high priced new shortstop of the Yankees has found himself at home as Mark Koenig doubtless will be well enough at third base. Tony Lazzeri's arm remains something of a question mark but his batting power has not been lessened. With Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig able to swing their bats, most of the experts agree that little or nothing can be done about the pennant chase without consulting manager Miller Huggins. Herb Pennock probably will pitch some good ball games and at least one new pitcher should be ready.

Connie Mack has stood pat on the personnel of the Athletics but has rearranged the infield. Jimmy Foxx, the hard hitting catcher, third baseman and first baseman will be the regular first sacker. Jimmy Dykes who literally can play anywhere, is the leading third base candidate. The A's infield under the new arrangement may prove to be stronger. Manager Mack has only one extra outfielder of experience, Homer Summa, late of Cleveland and will need at least one more. An already strong pitching staff has been made stronger by recruits but the starting moundmen will remain the same.

ONE OR MORE STEAMSHIPS

It seems altogether probable now that there will be one or more new steamships built for the Alaska business of the Canadian National Railways and that at least one will be ready for the opening of the tourist season next year. This will give a great impetus to the C. N. R. tourist traffic and will incidentally benefit Prince Rupert.

The company has been badly handicapped for lack of steamships for its coast service. The Prince Charles has to be operated as a third tourist steamer to this port and she is hardly good enough for the job. If the three new steamers should be added, the company would be well equipped to carry on to the best possible advantage and compete for the business on equal terms.

OLD COUNTRY ELECTIONS

(Vancouver Star)

Which political party will come out on top when the electors of the old country go to the polls May 30? With the American presidential election a thing of the past, this looms up at the moment as the most important, as well as most intriguing, problem for solution by the political wisecracks of the world. The all-embracing term "world" is used advisedly, for it is as decidedly a question of international interest as was the election in the United States. For, while it may be taken for granted that, whichever party wins, British foreign policy, broadly speaking, will not undergo any material change, the complexion of the government in power at the centre of the Empire is still a matter of profound interest to every other major power. It is only necessary, for instance, to point to the probable effect upon Anglo-Russian relations of the advent to power of a Labor government.

CONFERENCE AND CONCILIATION

"I believe another great war is inevitable within the next 10 years unless there is more active support for world agencies which are working for peace." These are the words of one of Europe's greatest statesmen and they most forcibly echo the point of view of thousands of international students in all parts of the world.

Even in the United States, where there has been considerable antagonism to international action in maintaining peace, a change is taking place and people in all parts of the country are urging the fullest co-operation of the United States in the world court and their unqualified adherence to the terms of the Kellogg Peace Pact.

"If another dreadful catastrophe is to be avoided," said a prominent United States senator the other day, "every nation in the world, our own included, must educate its people that conference and conciliation can easily find a way to prevent war if they are given time to operate."

Canadians to whom the late war was an even more intensive and dreadful reality than to our neighbors to the south have been continuous supporters of all agencies working for peace. From its early beginning the League of Nations has had Canada's unqualified approval and Canadians have taken an outstanding place in its deliberations. The league's direct agent in this country, the League of Nations Society, has now an impressive membership and special interest is being manifested in the big campaign for more recruits which is being launched on April 16.

NEW PROVINCE

Skidegate, B.C., April 1, 1929

Editor, Daily News:— Your article in the Daily News recently proposing the establishment of a new province for the north created a great deal of interest here. Why not get busy with this at once. The sooner we, who have struggled for the best part of our lives, for an existence in the north, attain this, the sooner shall we realize on our labors.

Last summer M. M. Stephens of Prince Rupert suggested this but at that time no one seemed to be much interested. There are a lot of men in the north who have the spunk and vision to see the advantage of running our own affairs and not being the hangers on for the cities in the south.

ISLANDER.

J. C. BRADY GIVES AN ACCOUNT OF HIS STEWARDSHIP AT OTTAWA DURING SESSION UP TO EASTER HOLIDAYS.

of the railway which it served. Mr. Brady stated that he felt a crucial hour had come in the history of the port of Prince Rupert. The time had arrived, he asserted, when every man and woman should step out and "fight for the destiny which we know is ours." In spite of obstacles, this port was bound to become a great centre in the future development of British Columbia. "We hear a great deal of the wonderful prosperity throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion but I challenge any man or woman here to say that we are participating in that prosperity," said Mr. Brady. The time had come when wretched politics should be thrown out and the people become a unit.

Taking Credit

Other people, Mr. Brady declared, had claimed the credit for what had already been done for Prince Rupert by this Parliament. "I want to tell you," he said, "that not a single thing has been done without my assistance and cooperation. Furthermore, other things are coming which are needful and necessary."

A curse in the past had been that things had come to Prince Rupert for the purpose of buying votes. The Post Office had been strangled and held down. A five year lease had been made when it was well known by the government that a new and up-to-date building was needed.

The elevator lay idle as did the dry dock. Mr. Brady dubbed the elevator contract between the Wheat Pool and the Federal Government "a disgrace to a common business man. (A voice: "You're right.") Mr. Brady charged that the government, in passing the estimate for the elevator, had pledged itself that not less than 10,000,000 bushels of grain a year would pass through it. But the contract itself contained no clause which would compel the Wheat Pool to put more than a bushel of grain into the house.

"You have had a member of the railway board here. What has he done? Where has his voice been heard in the fight for the rights of the port? He has never fought for this port. I know it."

The railway line from Red Pass to Prince Rupert was practically moribund. Railway employees and their families were suffering for lack of work. Such a condition of affair was a disgrace to the government.

It was the C.P.R. and not the C.N.R. which had taken "up the matter of an outlet to the Peace River. The C.N.R. had done nothing until it was forced into making a compromise with the C.P.R.

If Prince Rupert people got together and fought and held the government to its responsibilities, this city might get some interest that had been denied it the last five or six years.

Misleading Statement In regard to the enquiries that had been made in the House of Commons as to why the Prince Rupert elevator was idle. Mr. Brady charged that an official of the Wheat Pool had made a misleading statement when he said it was due to congestion on the C.N.R. as a result of a break on the C.P.R. Was that not all the more reason why Prince Rupert should be getting wheat? A delegation had gone to Ottawa and all it had obtained was the statement that a normal amount of grain would flow through the port next year.

"It is no use any more for the people of Prince Rupert to be gulled and misled by a small number which had been in control. It would be a good thing for this port if a dozen of these were decapitated." (Applause). Too long had the port been checked and held down. Too long had this group gone around preventing public opinion and discussion.

"Why? Because they have got their little plums and care not about you or your destiny."

"But the truth will prevail and we will ultimately be successful."

Mr. Brady expressed the belief that if the Conservative party had been in power, one of its main objects would be to develop Canadian ports. This port had been created under most phenomenal and promising circumstances but what had been the result?

Satisfied With Work

Mr. Brady felt that all would concede that he had taken and carried his trust faithfully and well. He had given 100 per cent of his time to the job of member. At that he considered he had done nothing but his duty. Once, however, the people said they wanted some one else, some one with more integrity and fidelity than himself, he would but thank them for the trust they had placed in himself. "However, if you try to buck and prevent your accredited representative, you cannot expect much from Ottawa. And that seems to be the position here today."

Mr. Brady told of his activities in connection with the agitation to have the 2c duty removed from halibut entering the United States. He had sought to have an expression of public opinion locally. The result was that various public bodies had got together and had passed a resolution asking the federal government to use every means possible to negotiate a treaty removing the duty on Pacific Coast halibut entering the United States and permitting that equipment and repairs for the halibut fleet be duty free. He (Mr. Brady) had also suggested that a brief be prepared for submission to Washington outlining the history of the halibut trade here. Mr. Brady felt that there was nothing to fear for this port was essential to the movement of American halibut. The American fishermen themselves admitted that the industry would be ruined should this port be closed to them. The difference of price paid for halibut at Prince Rupert as compared with that at Ketchikan was the fishermen's profit.

Charges Daily News

Mr. Brady charged the Daily News with deliberately reading into the report of his speech at Ottawa that he had advocated the closing of the port to American fishing vessels. "They did that with a sinister object. I want to tell the Daily News that if they falsify every statement I make they will not for any length of time mislead the public of Prince Rupert. The best thing that paper can do is to remember that it has a sacred obligation in regard to the discussion of public questions concerning the welfare of the people of Prince Rupert. Mr. Brady also charged the Daily News with lack of courage in the matter of a Post Office building. It had advocated a new and adequate building before the lease was signed but had laid down and said nothing after the lease was negotiated. "How long are we going to lie down and cringe. I say that the spirit of that paper is in perfect accord with the policy of the Liberal party of Canada today."

Mr. Brady charged that all the preference of the government, in spite of its Inter-Imperial statements, was for the United States.

Mr. Brady warned that the public of Prince Rupert should be careful in the matter of fish traps, the advisability of which was to be investigated by a commission.

Get Together

"If only we had got together, worked together and stood together, we would have made more progress long ago," declared Mr. Brady. "But the moment any one starts anything for the benefit of this port, others begin to knock it."

Mr. Brady challenged any Liberal to say that one voice had been raised in that quarter to advocate the port of Prince Rupert. He asked particularly what the local director of the C.N.R. had done. He felt that it was up to this government to stand by its own creation. Today the government had failed to accomplish what it should have done for this port. "But why can't we fight for it? Why can't we back those who are working for it? What have we to fear? What we need today is a new spirit in the hearts of the people of this city." As far as he personally was concerned, Mr. Brady said he was working not as a party representative but as the representative of the people. And he was proud to do so. Any honors that might come his way were but honors for the people of this riding.

Mr. Brady had told how he had worked for public works in the riding. He had laid the matter of the differential on grain cargoes squarely before the government. It was up to the government either to put lights in Hecate Straits or a radio direction finding station on Langara Island. Now this was to be done. Also there was to be a direction finder at Green Island and a radiophone on Digby Island. "In the name of all that is good, why didn't somebody try to steal that from me?" (Laughter.)

As a member of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade himself, Mr. Brady declared that some of its members looked after their own interests very well but what had the Board ever done as a public body? He did not think it had stood by this port and city as it should. He felt that it was insignificant and paltry that a man had to seek credit honors that might come his way for what he did. He did not desire to do so for he believed the people knew. "And if the people know when one works assiduously for them, I have no fear that they will pay just tribute for services rendered when the time arises to do so."

Not Retaliation

In the matter of the halibut tariff, Mr. Brady felt that Prince Rupert or the Canadian fishermen did not seek retaliation. They asked only for their rights. Questions were invited at the conclusion of Mr. Brady's address but none were offered. There were selections before the meeting opened by Prof. Pryce's Juvenile Orchestra.

FAVORED IN MEXICAN PRESIDENTIAL BATTLE

Political observers in Mexico see a singular paradox as a result of the present revolution, in the favorable chances of Jose Vasconcelos, for being elected President of Mexico after his hopes were almost nil before the revolt. Vasconcelos was tumultuously greeted by supporters (above) in Mexico City, after several years' absence from the country and, although he has done nothing to further his own cause, by virulence of his negative tactics he has apparently piqued the fancy of the intellectual Mexicans, who are entirely in his favor.

SALVATION ARMY HEAD IS HEARD

Staff Captain Joseph Acton of Wrangell Gives Inspiring Address on Work of Organization

Staff Captain Joseph Acton of Wrangell, divisional commander of the Salvation Army for Northern British Columbia and Alaska, who is paying his first official visit to this city and district, spoke before a large audience last night in the local citadel on the subject of "Love in Action" which phrase he explained might be taken to summarize the work of the Army throughout the world. Adjutant William Kerr presided and Rev. T. H. McAllister, pastor of Rupert East United Church, led in prayer.

Staff Captain Acton described many phases of Army work. He told of work that was being done for unmarried mothers and in the prisons. To large extent, the Army was an emergency organization and was always to be found where there was fire, flood, earthquake, war or cyclone. This "Love in Action" assisted in bringing about international understandings and universal peace. Today the flag of the Army was found unfurled to the breeze in 86 countries and colonies. Its message was being conveyed in no less than sixty-seven languages. The staff captain spoke of "the ministry of music" and referred to the fact that the Army now had enrolled 43,000 unpaid bandmen.

Staff Captain Acton announced that next Wednesday the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Salvation Army by the late General William Booth would be celebrated here.

COLD WEATHER FOR THIS TIME OF YEAR

Thermometer Dropped to 22 Above Zero at 4 o'Clock This Morning

Prince Rupert had rather cold weather last night for this time of year, the thermometer dropping to 22 above zero at 4 a. m. The barometer is still steady with a tendency to rise and the wind is in the north northeast, so present clear cold conditions may be expected for another day or so.

PORT ALBERNI POWER PLANT

May Sell To Private Concern for $125,000, It Is Said There

PORT ALBERNI, April 4. — There is every possibility that the city may sell its light and power plant and its whole electrical system, as the council has now under consideration an offer which has been indirectly made for the purchase.

The price suggested by this private concern is $125,000, but what most concerns the power users is the fact that the company will undertake to give lower rates and especially a much lower power rate, which will be on a sliding scale according to the amount of power used.

The most important suggestion made by this private concern is that it will take over all rights in connection with the Stamp Falls and install a hydro-electric plant. Stamp Falls is considered one of the finest hydro propositions on the island, and has been valued at the sum of $500,000. The company states in its letter that it will undertake not to deliver power across the mountain to the east side of the island, to the detriment of users on this side.

This offer is causing a great deal of discussion among the residents of the whole district.

G. D. Beattie of Queen Charlotte City was charged by his wife before Magistrate McClymont this morning with non-support, adjournment of the case being made until tomorrow. W. E. Fisher is acting for the prosecution and L. W. Patmore for the defendant.

AROUND PRINCE RUPERT
Eastern Interests Bond Three Stewart Groups;
Brown to Ship Copper Ore From Portland Canal;
Howe Sound Still on Toric

The Munro and Sunrise groups, near the Salmon glacier in the Portland Canal district, which are owned by J. E. Munro and A. N. McDonald, and the St. Eugene in the same vicinity, owned by Maurice Pedersen and Albert Johnson, have recently been bonded by Jerry Galvin for eastern interests, who expect to inaugurate an extensive program of development soon as weather conditions permit. All three properties are at present being surveyed by A. B. Root, B.C.L.S. A great deal of work has been done during the past 10 years by Munro and McDonald on the Munro group, consisting of 17 claims, and some fine showings of silver and lead have been opened up. The Sunrise and St. Eugene groups are noted for the high silver values contained in their ores.

Edward G. Brown of Vancouver, who recently took over the M. and J. property, two miles north of the mouth of Georgia River near Stewart, from James Lydden, expects to ship 1000 tons of copper ore to the Granby smelter at Anyox without getting under ground. Arrangements have been made to ship the ore to Anyox on scows and Albert Peterson, experienced Stewart miner, has been placed in charge at the mine. In order to get the portal of the development tunnel in the right location it will be necessary to run a long open cut and, before this is shaped up at a depth of about twenty feet, the 1000 tons of shipping ore will be removed. The ore is two feet wide averaging fifteen per cent copper. There is, in addition to this high grade, from four to five feet of lower grade material that may be handled later by a mill. The present intention, however, is to go after the shipping ore and take advantage of the present high price of copper. Peterson will start as soon as possible with his crew on such preliminary work as building a trail from the beach and constructing a camp. The showing is about a mile and a half from the beach and constructions are good both for trail building and the construction of a tram.

The Britannia Mining & Smelting Co. of Howe Sound, in spite of contrary reports of late, still holds its option on the Toric mine at Alice Arm, it is learned. It is also stated that the company may acquire other well known properties in the Uper Kitsault Valley. Development work on the Toric will start as soon as snow is off the Dolly Varden railway to the end of steel. It is possible that the Britannia company may eventually conduct operations on a large scale at Alice Arm. There have been a number of rumors in connection with the future of the Toric and one of the latest of these is that the company has been negotiating with large United States interests.

The Dalhousie Mining Co., which is developing the Home-guard property at Alice Arm, is at present concentrating operations on surface stripping of the ore bodies but, after the snow is off the ground this spring, plans to explore the ground thoroughly by radiore prospecting. Surface stripping is now being carried on at a point 100 feet above where ore samples were taken some time ago giving returns of $16 per ton in gold. The width of the ore has not yet been determined. The property is known to carry large bodies of ore and these it is intended to prove up this year.

During the summer and fall of 1928 a plan of extensive development including numerous cross-cuts, stripping and diamond drilling, was carried out on the Rufus-Argenta property at Stewart and underground work has been continued throughout the winter but no official announcement has yet been made either in respect to the values encountered at depth or the extent of the operations. It is known, however, that one lead, the Erickson vein, stripped for a distance of some 4,000 feet with outcroppings on the surface and in the prominent bluffs, extends practically across the entire property into the Red Top group. Another vein up to 40 feet in width, lying in greenstone country rock and traceable on the surface for several hundred feet, carries values in gold and silver with assays of $32 in gold to the ton. This, it is said by experts, may develop into a large body of milling ore. Another vein, known as the Blue vein, carries values up to $100 in silver. A policy of secrecy also seems to have been followed by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. in connection with the operation of the George Copper and Big Missouri properties. These operators appear to be content in providing sufficient capital themselves with which to carry on exploration and development work and thus ultimately be in a position to reap the harvest of profits most certain to follow.

Always!—in the pocket of my car

"When you are driving a car these days—it's a question of eyes front!" said a friend of mine recently. "That's why I smoke cigars while driving. You light up and smoke. I light up and I smoke cigarettes too—but I take more attention than a cigar. I buy a pocket pack of 5 Marguerites—foil wrapped factory-fresh—I drop it in the pocket of my car. I always have a cigar handy and do you know," he concluded, "the old bus seems to run smoother when you're smoking a Marguerite."

Man in the Moon

There once was a knight errant hold From Ottawa town, I am told. At windmills he tilted Until they all wilted; The greatest of knights he, I hold.

He almost interred the old News, O'er our ruins he sure did enthuse. Looking through colored glasses He saw only asses. And these he did roundly abuse.

At the businessmen he took a shot And knocked them sky high, all to pot.

Poor old Board of Trade, After the tirade, Must feel itself sure a bad lot.

This political knight's a great man; He admits it himself so you can Believe it or not, Or consider it rot. If you don't you'll be under the ban.
