Dirigible Graf Zeppelin Attempts Atlantic Crossing with Passengers and Freight

"Susi," a Female Gorilla, Is Making a Trip With 18 Passengers and a Crew of 40 Persons; One Woman Is Aboard

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, May 16.—The Graf Zeppelin had developed motor trouble and was returning here late today.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, May 16.—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin raced westward today above southwestern-Europe on its second trip across the Atlantic to America. Before it lay a variable course above Gibraltar, probably the Azores and Bermuda, to Lakehurst, New Jersey, which the dirigible's master, Dr. Hugo Eckener, does not expect to reach before Saturday night or Sunday morning.

Aboard the ship on leaving were a crew of 40, passengers to the number of 18 and a female gorilla named "Susi." The only woman passenger was Mrs. Mary Pierce, wife of the New York utilities broker. Among the men was Captain Sir George Hubert Wilkins, Arctic explorer.

The big ship carried 4500 pounds of freight. The Graf was released for its voyage at 5:57 this morning, which by eastern standard time would be 11:57 last night.

BENNETT URGES NO SHARES TAX

OTTAWA, May 16.—Hon. R. B. Bennett moved in the house of commons today to strike out that provision of the budget which provides for taxation on the transfer of shares.

Mr. Bennett recalled that the existing tax on the transfer of shares had come into force in 1920 and was in effect a war measure. Now that the minister of finance had indicated that he had a substantial surplus, continuation and increase of the tax was unjust, inequitable and unfair. The Dominion obtained income from provincial companies and this tax should be left wholly available to the provinces.

Norman Watt Dismissed by Minister of Finance for Political Activity

Hon. W. C. Shelly, minister of finance, called at the Court House yesterday afternoon and personally notified the government agent, Norman A. Watt, of his dismissal from the provincial government service, effective June 1, on the alleged grounds of having been active in politics. Mr. Watt, who served three years overseas and was badly wounded at Cambrai, became government agent here on October 1, 1924.

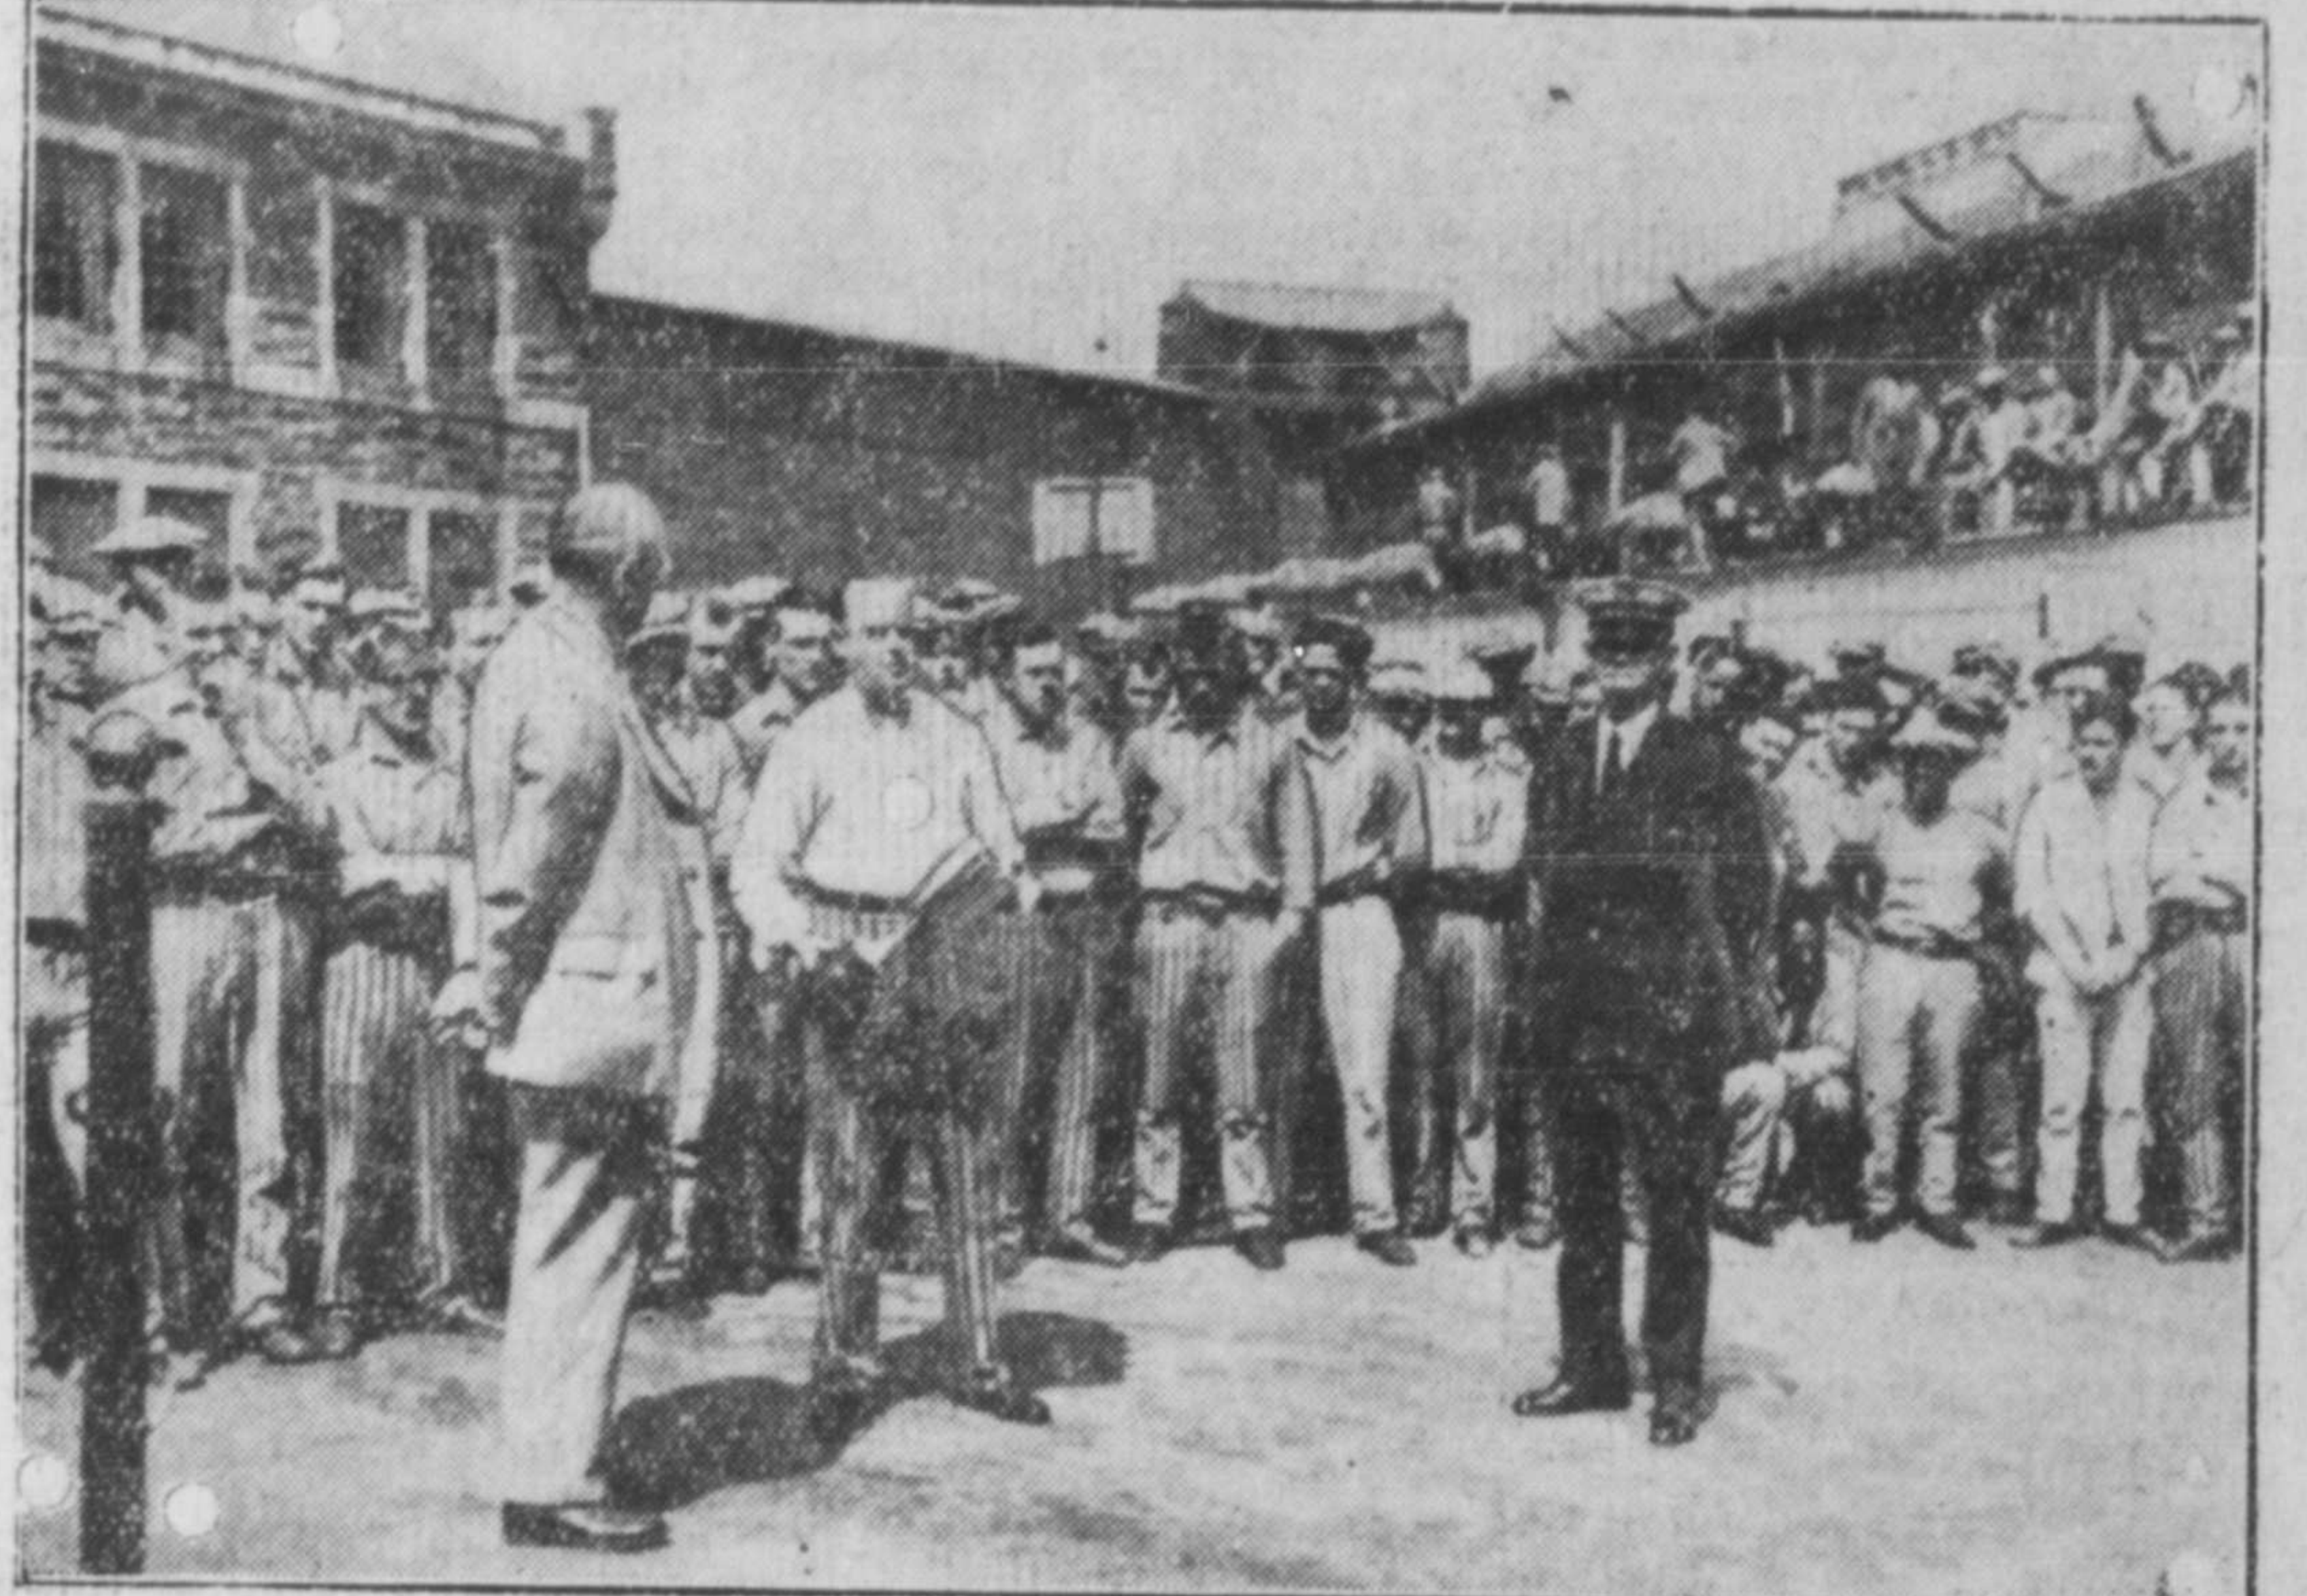

Apart from the bald statement that the grounds for his dismissal as alleged were wholly untrue, Mr. Watt declined last night, in conversation with a representative of The Daily News, to further discuss the subject.

It is announced that a group of local Conservatives will meet Mr. Shelly on his return here this evening and will try to induce him to reconsider his decision.

ARTICLES ON PEACE RIVER

The Peace River is very much in the public eye today. In order to keep Prince Rupert people fully informed in regard to the situation there, we have arranged for a series of six articles by a man who has just made a tour of the district. The first of these will be published on Saturday and the others at convenient intervals. These articles will give an idea of the way in which the district is developing and naturally will lead to a more determined effort to secure direct railway connection for Prince Rupert, the logical outlet to the sea.

Salmon Experts See Good Catch of Approximately 140,000 Cases for the Skeena River this Season

VICTORIA, May 16.—Dr. W. A. Clemens and Dr. Lucy Clemens, experts in fisheries matters, in a report to Hon. S. L. Howe, commissioner of fisheries for the province of British Columbia, state that they expect a good sockeye run on the Skeena River this year. Their calculations are based on information in regard to seeding, and on previous experience, the total expectation being set at 140,000 cases. The Naas expectation is poor, the catch there having been noticeably declining of recent years. The report on these two rivers follows:

"The run of 1929 will be derived from the seedlings of 1924 and 1925. In 1924 the pack consisted of 146,747 cases, and the samplings of fish taken in that year showed that the five-year-old fish made up 75 per cent of the run. The reports from the spawning bed inspections at both Lakelse and Babine Lakes stated that large numbers of sockeye reached the streams, and in general the runs were exceptionally good. The prospect of a large return of five-year-old fish in 1929 should therefore be good.

"In 1925 the pack amounted to 76,784 cases and the run was made up of 53 per cent of four-year-old fish. The spawning beds were reported as having been very well seeded. In view of these facts it would seem that a large run, possibly producing a pack in the neighborhood of 140,000 cases, may be expected."

Naas River

Dr. Clemens make no forecast for the erratic Naas River. They call attention to the fact that the 1928 pack of sockeye was the smallest on record—only 5540 cases—and state that: "Although the certainty of an unmistakable decline in the run of sockeye to the Naas has impressed itself during the past few years, up to the present time it has not been necessary to face the possibility of complete failure in the near future. While predictions and expectancy in the Naas run are in general unreliable, one cannot conceive of any condition which could produce in 1933 anything but an exceedingly small run.

"Unless the taking of sockeye in the Naas River is prohibited in the year 1933, we can look for nothing but complete annihilation of the run which occurs in the five-year cycle, 1923-1928-1933-1938."

GIANTS BEATEN BY THE REDS

Cubs and Cardinals Remain Tied For Leadership of National League

NEW YORK, May 16.—The Red Sox slipped away with the last remains of a two-game series with the Giants yesterday. The Cubs and Cardinals remained tied for leadership by scoring victories. The Yankees contented themselves with Lou Gehrig's eighth homer as Cleveland pounded George Pipgras and three other Yankee pitchers. Joe Shute twisted the champions into knots with smart southpaw shoots. Philadelphia heads the champions by half a game, but St. Louis is only one full game from the top in a virtual tie with Detroit.

Harry Heilmann butted himself into insensibility against a ball held in the iron paw of Mickey Cochrane in the ninth at Detroit, but conscious or unconscious, sprawled across the plate with a winning run. The score became valid when Cochrane, properly amazed at such tactics, let go the ball after the umpire had called Heilmann out.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS CLOSELY FOUGHT GAME

Borden Street Team Makes Things Hot for Football League Leaders but Loses

One of the most fiercely contested games as yet played in local school football was fought out on the Acropolis hill on Wednesday evening, when Borden, although weakened by the absence of its regular goalkeeper and left back, played a dashing and spirited game from start to finish against the High School, but suffered defeat by the narrow margin of one goal.

Borden won the toss and elected to play up hill against the breeze. High pressed and in the first few minutes of the game Smurthwaite scored an easy goal for High School. Following the kick-off, the Borden forwards, led by Fong, menaced the High School goal. A free kick awarded to Borden just outside the penalty area was taken by A. Woodcock, who, with a beautiful shot, beat Smith and made the score even. High now pressed and Scott shook the goal with a terrific shot which rebounded from the cross bar. High School forwards now tried hard to score, Armstrong, Wicks, Scott and Smurthwaite all trying shots, all of which went past or over the bar. Eventually High scored their second goal and soon after Smurthwaite carried the ball through and scored High School's third goal. Borden now had the best of the play and pressed hard. A lovely run by Fong was stopped just in the nick of time by Pyle and Styles, who were defending well for High School. The whistle blew for half time with the score 3 to 1 in favor of High.

Second Half
The second half was desperately fought by Borden trying to turn the defeat of the first half into victory. Borden pressed from the beginning and Woodcock and Fong each almost scored. At times the High School forwards got away, only to be checked by Vaecher and Katsuyama, who were playing splendid games at back. Katsuyama's clean and strong kicks saved Borden many a time. The Borden pressure around High School's goal now resulted in a series of corners, which were well taken by Smith. At last, from a well placed corner, Fong headed the ball through for Borden and made the score 3 to 2. The game was now exciting and even. Fortune favored High School when Scott scored with a shot which might have been saved. Borden again pressed and Styles only saved at the expense of a penalty. Fong took the kick, but drove over the bar. Wilson was now called on again to save for Borden, which he did successfully several times. Soon again Borden besieged the High School goal and Smith was called upon to save a regular battery of shots. It seemed almost miraculous that the High School goal escaped. Bacon now led the High forwards in a nice run, but he shot past. Borden came back again and John Woodcock struck the cross bar with a hard drive. Next, Wicks, for High, placed a beautiful shot which missed by inches. Wilson saved again from Smurthwaite. Nakamoto was now much in evidence by his good play and Styles had to save at the expense of a corner. A beautiful corner was placed in front of High School goal and Fong kicked it through for Borden, making the score 4 to 3, still in favor of High School. From now on to full time Borden pressed and tried desperately to score the equalizing goal, but time was against them and the full time whistle blew leaving High School the winners by 4 goals to 3.

The teams were: Borden Street—Wilson, Vaecher, Katsuyama, Hardy, Lehto, Nakamoto, C. Smith, J. Woodcock, Fong, A. Woodcock, Kanaya.

High School—E. Smith, Pyle, Styles, Morrison, Franks, Forbes, Wicks, Scott, Smurthwaite, Armstrong, Bacon.

Referee—Jack Campbell.

THISTLE LINE-UP
The Thistle line-up for tonight's Gilhuly Cup football fixture against the New Empress Club will be as follows: Lambie; Haig and Erskine; G. Mitchell, Baptie and A. Macdonald; A. Mitchell, J. Campbell, W. Mitchell, T. Bussanich and D. Jack.

Sport Chat

The name of the New Empress Club will be carried on the local football field for the first time tonight when Sam Currie leads his proteges against the Thistles in the second game of the season. The Thistles, virtually outclassed the Regiment in the first game of the season last Monday evening but it will be something of a case of "when Scot meets Scot" tonight and the Empress boys seem to be confident that they will make a better showing against the Thistles, who are apparently going to be stiff opponents for everything that is going in the soccer line this summer. That is not belittling the New Empress Club whose football eleven looks like a strong outfit. It should be a good game and, no doubt, a large crowd of fans will ascend Acropolis Hill to watch it.

Baseball got away to a good start at Anyox with a well attended meeting when the former vice-president, A. Pymme was installed in the presidency. E. G. Brown was chosen vice-president and Geo. Winkleman consented to act as secretary. Three teams will take part in the schedule which begins tomorrow. The teams are: Concentrator, supported by the Community League and managed by W. Henderson; Elks, under the tutelage of Mike Chenowski, and the Mine, guided by C. Swanson. Two umpires will control the games, J. Cody and M. Thompson. A Pynn has been appointed groundsman by the Community League.

ALL DISPUTES TO BOARD OF CONTROL

Change Made Last Night in Constitution of Prince Rupert Football Association

At a meeting of the Prince Rupert Football Association last night it was decided to change the constitution where all appeals on infringements and all protests will in future go automatically to the board of control for adjustment instead of being referred as at present first to the association and then to the board of control if necessary.

NOTES ON PLAYERS IN SCHOOL FOOTBALL

For High School Smurthwaite, Scott Styles and Pyle played exceptionally good. James Smurthwaite is a very clever and unselfish player. He parts with the ball to the best advantage and has the knack of getting into the best positions to receive passes.

For Borden Street, Fong was the best forward. Both Woodcocks are good. Katsuyama was exceptionally good at back. He is sure and kicks strong and clean. Vaecher as usual was a strong tower of defence but he really must practice kicking with his left foot. If he does this great things may be expected of him. Carl Smith is improving at outside right. Borden players still need to get right after the ball and not wait until their opponents get it and kick it. The team is now combining well and may confidently be expected to play a high standard of football.

It is much to be regretted that football enthusiasts and more friends of the players do not find it convenient to attend the games.

DAILY EDITION Thursday, May 16, 1929

ATTENTION, MR. SHELLY!

The Minister of Finance has doubtless expressed to a number of local people appreciation of the appearance of Prince Rupert and the progress that has been made here. If he has not done so he is different from other politicians. We hope that the local people whom he met have told him that the roads on which we drive have all been made at our own expense, the provincial government having contributed not one cent toward their construction and upkeep. There is a road, the first section of a very important highway, contiguous to the city, which the provincial government has built. It is the only route leading out of the city and it ends at or near Galloway Rapids, where a bridge was to have been built this year, but on which there is no action yet visible.

Mr. Shelly should know that this city has been in existence for over twenty years, although it has not been incorporated that long. During all that time the governments which have been in power, Liberal and Conservative, have built between five and six miles of highway.

Mr. Shelly should be told that Prince Rupert people have absolutely no other motor road on which to drive. The provincial governments have built an average of a quarter of a mile each year so far. These were the McBride government, the Brewster government, the Oliver government and the McLean government.

In view of the lack of appreciation of the position of Prince Rupert in the past, great things are expected in the future. Prince Rupert people are becoming desperate and are determined they are going to have that road, even if they have to turn into rebels in order to obtain it.

Perhaps it would be wise to let Mr. Shelly know that the people of northern and central British Columbia are seriously considering forming a new province, so that they may be able to look after their own affairs and build their own roads. Such treatment as Prince Rupert is receiving is forcing forward this movement, which we are glad to note is gaining in impetus every day. While in the past it has been spoken of lightly, today it is being seriously considered.

FIGHTING FOR ITS RIGHTS

For many years western Canada had to fight for its place in the sun. Sir Richard McBride stood up in the conference of premiers in the east and made a dramatic demand for provincial rights for British Columbia. This was followed up by John Oliver, who secured better railway rates and a promise of the return of Peace River and railway lands and other concessions. Today the west is being recognized as of some importance and a part of Canada to be seriously considered.

The scene of conflict is changed. Now it is the northern part of British Columbia that is struggling for a place in the sun. It has been bled by the south until it is almost dry and a very little has been returned. Today the north is rising. There is a consciousness among the people that they have the real wealth of the province and that it is being used by the south. The timber of Queen Charlotte Islands is being carried away and nothing left in its place. The minerals of the north are being exploited by the south and the fisheries are also being handled in a similar manner. Everything goes south. Even the canned salmon is not allowed to be shipped from Prince Rupert.

When the new province is formed, all this will be changed. Prince Rupert will then get a road and Stewart a railway and Smithers and Prince George and all the other places will get full returns for the money collected. It is time for a change.

Let Mr. Shelly consider this and perhaps he will realize that there is something coming to northern British Columbia. Very soon it will be too late. It will need only another year of two of the present treatment to make the people of the north so determined that nothing will stop decisive action on their part.

COMPETITION ENDS NEXT WEEK

The suggestions for improving conditions in northern and central British Columbia have mostly been along one line. The building of a highway and the formation of a new province. While some valuable suggestions have been made, the last word has not been said and there is still plenty of room for others.

The competition will end definitely on Saturday of next week, after which the articles will be judged.

MARY ELLEN AT EDMONTON

Well Known British Columbia Lady Speaks to Women of Alberta on Way to Geneva

EDMONTON, May 16.—"We can afford to do without pretty glass and china, but we cannot afford to see children exploited. We in Canada are able to see our children educated. We must take up the case of the less fortunate nations and help them to a higher plane. Greater nations must help the weaker. That is what I hope to take a hand in at the Geneva conference." Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, former M.L.A. for Vancouver, who was a visitor in Edmonton on Tuesday, was speaking as representative chosen by the Dominion government to represent Canada at the international labor conference at Geneva, when she was speaker at a tea at which the Women's Liberal Association were hostesses at the palm room of the Macdonald.

Hearing British Columbia's first woman legislator tell with characteristic humor of how she succeeded in getting on the statute books of her province laws governing pensions for dependent mothers, vocational training for young men and women, equal pay for equal work, minimum wage for women workers, soldiers' reestablishment and many other reforms, her audience was left with little doubt as to her ability to represent Canada in the League of Nations and make her influence felt.

It was speaking in particular of economic conditions in Czechoslovakia where young children work for a few cents a day in factories where colored glass is made, to supplement the wages of $2 a week earned by their parents, that Mrs. Smith said: "They are worthy of our most serious thought and consideration and the best each nation can give. I think Canada is willing to contribute her quota of human sympathy and understanding to bring better things about for these countries where such appalling conditions exist."

Like Topsy Nations are realizing more than ever that they have had federal fathers and city fathers and every other kind of fathers, but like Topsy, they never had a mother, and they are asking that women of the world be called in and woman's viewpoint brought to bear on the work of the League of Nations in promoting peace and wellbeing, Mrs. Smith contended. Economic conditions, she said, have a great deal to do with war and the 48 countries, including some of the largest represented by the league, eager for peace, are studying the causes of war that it may be prevented. "Half the difficulty we meet in life is overcome by a little common understanding." The thing we want nationally and internationally is to help better understand each other.

The Franchise As one who fought for the franchise Mrs. Smith said: "Politics are second only to religion. Women want to see in the political life of this country candidates for office who are worthy and know what they stand for. Women should not be hesitant if they have ability and desire for public office, after their families have grown up, to go out into the larger home of the nation and help, with their woman's understanding to carry on its affairs."

"In Canada," she continued, "we have secured much in the interests of women and children, home and country we never anticipated getting in the short time women have been enfranchised. We organized without thought of party politics. Women should learn to appreciate the influence bestowed on them and express their convictions through the ballot. With intense pride the speaker pointed to the place which Canada holds in the sun; the feeling of comfort, happiness and security which Canadians enjoy and the big things expected of us because of this affluent position. "We have to serve not only our own country, but nations less privileged."

AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Great Possibilities of Portland Canal; Pushing Work on T. er at Alice Arm; Homeguard Group Showing Up Well

Portland Canal is in my opinion destined to be the greatest hard-rock mining camp that America has ever known," declares A. N. McDonald, well known Portland Canal mining man, who has been staking some good looking ground near the Munro group for George S. Cochrane of Seattle, who has an option on that property. "I have lived there for the past 10 years and seen the camp develop from a prospect to a producer, and I want to tell you that the country has been hardly scratched yet. There are a dozen mines there that will rival the Premier as soon as they have sufficient development work done and there will be a dozen shipping companies coming summer. Lots of work has been carried on this winter and it has been real development work. Every round of work that is touched off makes it better looking district. On the Porter Idaho they are installing a one-mile tram and as soon as that is finished the Porter Idaho will be shipping ore. There has been considerable work done on the property and the ore is all stacked out and ready for shipment.

Of course, the sensation of the whole district is the Big Missouri. There is a property that will, I honestly believe, be one of the greatest mines ever found in British America. They are in it now and have been for months, and every foot they drive demonstrates that they have a wonderful mine. It seems funny to come to hear 'pavement miners' talk that property. The man-last fall, is to be installed as soon as possible and development work will then be speeded up. As soon as the ore body is encountered in No. 4 tunnel, which is expected at a depth of 800 feet, the blocking out of ore will be carried on by raises and drifts.

The Homeguard property at Alice Arm is showing up well under development work by the Dalhousie Mining Co. of Victoria. Just now an ore ledge which is known to carry good values in gold, silver and zinc is being developed by means of open cuts and the ore has been traced a distance of 200 feet up the hill. It is of good commercial grade, having a width of 3 to 5 feet. Some fine samples of ore have been recently taken out of various cuts and sent out for assaying. The ledge is located in close proximity to the Dolly Varden Railway and is independent of big copper showings from which the chief values will probably be obtained when the property is more fully developed. Following present preliminary work, it is planned to thoroughly explore the property this summer by means of radiore prospecting. Under the general superintendency of Angus McLeod, the Dalhousie Co. has carried on operations throughout the past winter and will carry out more extensive work during the summer to prove up tonnage.

The working force on the Tiger mine at Alice Arm, which is being developed by the Utility Mining Finance Co. with E. C. Pickett, the original owner, this week taking charge of the work will be increased shortly, the company having ample funds at its disposal for the coming summer's operations. It has now been proven on three levels and a tunnel on the fourth is being driven. A compressor plant, which was taken in

The Tidewater Molybdenum property, located down the inlet about four miles from Alice Arm, is being developed by a small crew of men who are doing assessment work. The property is owned by T. W. Bruzzy and William McFarlane and is estimated to contain one of the best molybdenum deposits on the continent.

PEACE MESSAGE FROM CHILDREN

Broadcast Is Arranged For Saturday of This Week From Wales

A stirring message will be sent out on Saturday, May 18, by the children of Wales calling for greater efforts for peace in all parts of the world. May 18 commemorates the date of the opening of the first peace conference at The Hague in 1899. It is now known in a number of countries as Goodwill Day.

This will be the eighth successive year the children's message has been sent out through the efforts of the Welsh national council of the League of Nations Union.

Lt.-Col. C. P. Meredith, general secretary of the League of Nations Society of Canada, is arranging for the broadcast of the message over the radio Saturday to all parts of the Dominion.

The children's message which will be heard in every part of the world is as follows:

"We, boys and girls of Wales, from our mountains and valleys, our villages and towns, greet with a cheer the boys and girls of every country under the sun. Our hearts are thrilled by the wonderful response to our yearly message and we cherish the many new links of friendship which we have formed. Will you, millions of you, join with us today in thinking with gratitude of those men and women of every race and people who are working so hard to build a finer, better world? Next year, in 1930, the League of Nations will celebrate its tenth birthday. Let us

FELT MISERABLE ALL THE TIME

Headaches and Tiredness Ended by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Some people suffer for years with Headaches, without ever trying to find out what is the CAUSE of the pain. They get all run-down, and seem to think this weak, depressed feeling is the result of the headaches. As a matter of fact, chronic Headaches are the result of poisoned blood, due to faulty action of the bowels, kidneys and skin. "Fruit-a-tives" stops headaches because it regulates the bowels, kidneys and skin—frees the body of waste matter which poisons the blood—and thus keeps the blood pure and rich.

As Mrs. Michael Coulis of Killaloe, Ont., writes—"I used to feel tired out and run-down and had severe Headaches. After using 'Fruit-a-tives' the headaches and tiredness quickly disappeared and for two years now I have been in the best of health." And you? Do you suffer? Mrs. Coulis shows you the way to get well—take "Fruit-a-tives." 25c. and 50c. a box—at dealers everywhere.

THE RIVER ROUTE

Editor, Daily News:—

In your issue of Monday, there came from the pen of Nick J. Coulter as follows:—That Tyee station has a rocky mud flat which runs out nearly half a mile and that at Raspberry Island, which is opposite Tyee, the same conditions prevail. Mr. Coulter must tell us how much of the river is left or has it dried up lately at that point? If so why not bridge it if there is no river because his mud flats practically take up the whole distance across. I know that Haysport is a short distance from Tyee Station but why knock the road because it doesn't run into Haysport?

In my case I think the route will be surveyed before anything is done in the way of building, and Mr. Coulter's mud flats probably would be surveyed first so the crossing could be looked into.

Mr. Coulter must think the road can be built on the railway side. It's a mass of solid rock walls. Why are they looking for passes up among the mountains? Let the road go where it is the cheapest and quickest. The North Vancouver ferry seems to run with the fall and rise of the tide.

SUCCESSFUL TEA AT HOME MRS. BAZETT-JONES FOR THE ANGLICAN W. A.

Yesterday the Anglican Women's Auxiliary held a most successful and enjoyable tea at the home of Mrs. Bazett-Jones, Waldron Apartments, when over forty dollars was added to the funds of the society.

The rooms were tastily decorated with sweet peas and yellow daisies. Mrs. Andrew, president, helped Mrs. Bazett-Jones receive. In charge of the home cooking stall were Mrs. Woodland, Mrs. Kemp, and Mrs. Russell Smith. Mrs. Morte Craig poured. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Blott, Mrs. Cade, Mrs. West, Mrs. Cullin, Mrs. Parkin, Mrs. Greer, Mrs. Aspinall and Mrs. W. A. McLean. The cashier was Mrs. LePine.

The marriage will take place shortly in Vancouver.

Creator of Jiggs and Maggie Interviewed by Famous Woman and Tells About His Character

Editor's Note: Helen Rowland, the brilliant satirist of modes and manners and marriage, is the creator of "Chats With the Immortals." In the following interview Miss Rowland rounds out her series by "attacking" a modern mortal, George McManus, creator of "Bringing Up Father."

"Just a moment, Mr. McManus!" I pleaded, catching the genial George by the coat-lapel, as he was doing Jiggs out of his studio. "Tell me something! Where do you get the idea for that Jiggs person?"

Mr. McManus blinked for a moment—then surrendered and sat down.

"Jiggs isn't in idea," he answered. "He's a reality. Just a pencil-portrait of the downtrodden American husband! You'll meet him on almost any street corner where tired business men are gathered together—afraid to go home!"

"MISTER McManus," I said sternly, "doesn't your conscience ever hurt you?"

"Who? Me?" exclaimed the creator of Jiggs and Maggie, innocently. "What for?"

"For showing up poor, weak womankind—and unkind—in the cruel light of the Militant Maggie," I explained.

"Miss Rowland," rejoined Mr. McManus, "doesn't your conscience ever hurt you for exposing poor, timid, trembling mankind under the guise of the caustic Mrs. Solomon?"

"Oh, that's different!" I protested easily. "The men deserve it! And they love to read about themselves. They'd rather have you say satirical things about them than nothing at all. They simply must be noticed. A man doesn't deny his little foibles—he brags about them. Besides, in a way, I've been a benefactor to my sex."

"Well," said Mr. McManus, with an air of modest deprecation, "how about me—and my sex? How do you think the average married man would get out of the house, evenings, if I did not sit up nights working up new alibis for him? If all the alibis Jiggs has invented were laid end to end—"

"They would make one good feminist argument!" I broke in. "But, honestly now, do you believe that the average man marries in order to have a home—and then spends the rest of his life trying to get away from it? Is the comic strip husband really representative of the Great American Husband?"

"The Great American what?" queried Mr. McManus, chuckling. "Are you referring to that poor worm who supplies the silk for Mother's stocking and Daughter's teddies? That patient creature of all work, who brings home the corned-beef and cabbage, walks the baby, mows the lawn and keeps his savings, his conscience and his opinions in his wife's name?"

"Oh, no," I assured him arily. "I was referring to that Noble Being who works like a dog at the office for a couple of hours a day—in order that his wife may live like a Pomeranian! And plays golf the rest of the time in order to forget that he has a wife! The generous soul who hands over his pay envelope to his dear little wife every Saturday night—and then borrows most of it back on Monday morning!"

"I see," rejoined Mr. McManus ironically. "You mean the dud who goes back and forth the subway, between his wife's office, like a shuttle. The grown hero, who stands back-seat driving, back-seat voting and a lettuce-and-toast-luicing diet seven days a week. Do you know who should be posed for the statue of our virtue, Miss Rowland?"

I shook my head.

"Mr. Jiggs," said the cartoonist, emphatically. "That downtrodden, woman-ridden American husband in wrinkled tweeds with a wistful expression in his eye and his wife's poodle under his arm!"

"You are describing a historical figure, Mr. McManus," I said dryly. "There aren't any more those sweet, old-fashioned bands. There aren't even any more good, old-fashioned beating wives, now that the vacuum cleaner and the vacuum cleaner have replaced the rolling pin and the broom."

"Nonsense!" protested the cartoonist. "The world is full of Jiggses and Maggies. Why output of rolling pins, alone last year, amounted to—"

"Whatever it amounted to," interrupted shortly, "it was nearly so enormous as the output of golf balls and poker chips. Doubtless your conception of a model for the Statue of Liberty would be the figure of a woman rampant, holding a rolling pin in one hand and a can-opener in the other," I said, sarcastically.

"Exactly!" agreed Mr. McManus grimly. "With her foot gracefully on a man's neck!"

"Shake hands, George!" I said, putting out my own hand with a smile. "As long as you are giving the men pointers on how to escape the women, I shall be right on telling the women how to catch them! We are absolutely necessary to each other, aren't we?"

And then we grinned at each other with the perfect understanding of two cartoonists!

OUTDOOR ANNEX TO HOSPITAL PLANNED

House Committee to Draw Up Plans and Get Estimates—Laundry Arbitration Board Not Favored

The house committee was empowered at last night's meeting of the hospital board to proceed with the drawing up of plans for a proposed outside shelter for the housing of pneumonia and tuberculosis patients. It is suggested that there be two sections to the proposed annex, one for pneumonia cases and another for tuberculosis and that part at least of it be heated. The views of the doctors will be obtained and prices received for a later report to the board.

The house committee, through Ald. Brown, reported that the proposed arbitration board in connection with laundry work would be too expensive and cumbersome. It was felt that a careful check-up of laundry as it came back to the hospital would meet the situation just as well.

A recommendation that tenders be called for a new coal range for the hospital kitchen was also adopted. An electric stove had been considered but it was felt that there was also need of heating the kitchen during cold weather.

HOSPITALS MUST BUY ALCOHOL IN FUTURE FROM LIQUOR VENDOR

A letter was read at last night's meeting of the hospital board from the Consolidated Distillery Co., announcing that it had been ruled that sales of alcohol to hospitals were in contravention of the Government Liquor Act and that, in future, hospitals would have to purchase their alcohol direct from the Government Liquor Store at advanced prices. It was suggested that a joint protest at this ruling be made by all hospitals of the province with a view to having this clause in the act rescinded.

H. W. Birch, managing secretary, stated that the change would just about double the cost of alcohol for the hospital.

At the suggestion of Alex McRae and Ald. W. M. Brown, it was decided to take the matter up with the B. C. Hospitals Association and also make a protest to the Liquor Control Board.

I did all of my housework up to the day my baby came, as I am a farmer's wife and could not afford help before. I feel just dandy now and I will answer any letters and I will tell every one how good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is."

"Don't let anyone tell you B. C. isn't becoming an industrial province. It is—and here are a few figures that will open your eyes. In 1928 there were 1495 separate manufacturing establishments in B. C., representing a capital outlay of 230 million dollars. Think of it! And 47,462 employees drew an annual payroll of $54,563,795. And listen—in 1928 the total value of products manufactured in this province was 310 million dollars. That's something to be proud of."
