Two Games to Lowly
Philadelphia—
Yanks Beat Tigers
NEW YORK (CP)—First place Chicago White Sox had their lead shaved to one game last night thanks to the efforts of the last place Philadelphia Athletics, who won doubleheader, 4 to 3 and 12 to 1, while the New York Yankees helped their own cause by dropping Detroit Tigers 2 to 0 and the hurling of Vic Raschi became the first pitcher in major leagues to win ten games this year.
The White Sox did not give up in the first game. It took them 11 innings to beat them. It was an error by Catcher Nlahros on a play at the plate that permitted the Mack to gain their triumph.

Bulkley Valley Mine is Active

Copper Ridge Silver Zinc Mines Ltd. has commenced diamond drilling on its property at Bulkley, 260 miles east of Prince Rupert.
First drilling will be done on the Ruby vein on which previous work indicated seven feet of lower-grade but well mineralized material.
Following a recent examination of the mine by Donald J. McDonald, director, and B. I. Smith, consulting geologist, re-mineralization work is proceeding with camp buildings and workings.
The Ruby vein is reported on the basis of 30 channel samples to yield 2.62 per cent copper and 1.4 per cent zinc with six ounces silver per ton over full width.

FIFTY DEAD IN MONTREAL HOLOCAUST

ANOTHER NEW NURSE—Here we have Miss Myrtle Sather, R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sather, Seal Cove, who graduated this year from the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria. Miss Sather, who was born in Prince Rupert, achieved further distinction by winning the prize for best operating room technique in her class. She joins the nursing staff of Prince Rupert General Hospital shortly. Myrtle is the second nurse in the Sather family. Her sister, Olga, also a Royal Jubilee graduate, is now with the TransCanada Air Lines.

Fresh Fish For Mexico

South of Border Men Visit Cellulose Operations
A product of Prince Rupert likely will be featured tonight on the dinner tables of notable Mexicans: A nine-man party of "south-of-the-border" officials, after having visited Columbia Cellulose Co. Ltd. operations here and at Terrace, left by special charter flight yesterday afternoon and took with them 12 fresh spring salmon.

While here, the party enjoyed some Prince Rupert caught salmon and they wished to take back to Mexico a sample of the delicacy. Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative plant supplied the fish, including samples of smoked black cod.
They were accompanied by George Schneider and George Richards, vice-presidents of Columbia Cellulose.

Magistrate of Vernon Here

Frank Smith, barrister of 40 years' standing at Vernon and police magistrate of the Okanagan city, had heard much about Prince Rupert and its new era of activity and prosperity but he had to come here to get the real impression.
"I was more than agreeably surprised," he said this morning to a Daily News reporter. That the city was certainly on the advance, he agreed.
Mr. Smith, here on private law business, arrived yesterday by air and left this afternoon on his return home.
He visited city police court this morning with Magistrate W. D. Vance and Cpl. Arthur Wales, RCMP.

Y. Bruce of Vancouver, who has been a visitor in Alice Arm on business, is spending the week-end in the city and will sail tomorrow night on the Coquitlam for the south. He is the father of J. F. Bruce of the Francis Miller Co. here.

Four Lane Highway From Terrace to Kitimat Soon

Cpl. Ed. Martin, game warden, while at Lakelese lake last week, said he had been talking to the people in charge of constructing the Terrace-Kitimat highway.
"They say it will be a four-lane highway and is to be completed by August. It is hard for me to realize such progress. When I came here there were no more than two or three miles of road."
Further, the game warden also spoke to the pilot of an Alcan supply plane which landed on Lakele. From what he could gather, Cpl. Martin said, Alcan would fly men and supplies into Lakele and to the Terrace airport, then push them down the highway to Kitimat in trucks.

Pulp Mills Requiring Pyrites

VANCOUVER—A large stockpile of pyrites at Britannia Mining & Smelting Co. plant near here may be used soon by B.C. pulp and paper companies to get scarce sulphur.
E. C. Roper, general manager of the mine, reports that the company has a pile of 100,000 tons of pyrites, which are about half sulphur. Recently they have been shipping to Japan and France at the rate of about 8,000 tons a month, but these shipments are expected to stop as soon as local companies can set up plants to use the pyrites.
First company to indicate that it would use these pyrites is Columbia Cellulose Co. at Prince Rupert.
Mr. Roper doesn't think his firm will reduce the pyrites, which are being added to at the rate of 200 tons a day. Pulp companies themselves will set up the plant either near the Britannia operation on Howe Sound or at their own sites.
Most economical installation would be at or near Britannia. Sulphur would be taken out in form of sulphur dioxide and residue could be used for pig iron.
Mr. Roper also reports that Britannia, which for years has been the Commonwealth's largest copper producer, is now turning out more zinc than copper.
The company is working on a process to recover lead from their operations in much the same manner as the zinc recovery. This hasn't been completed yet, but officials hope it will soon be in profitable operation.

Dispute is Unsettled But Fishing Will Start

There will be no tie-up of sockeye fishermen when the season opens tomorrow night at 6 o'clock. A settlement between operators and fishermen, however, has not been reached and negotiations will continue until July 1.

Then, if no satisfactory proposal has been met, fishermen will strike. T. A. Parkin, secretary of Prince Rupert's local, United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, announced today.

Voting of all west coast fishermen, which concluded yesterday, rejected by a 98 per cent majority the latest offer of the operators. Prices offered were: Sockeye, 23½ cents; coho, 16½ cents; pinkies, 8 cents, and chum, 6½ cents.

A new proposal will be set up by each local, said Mr. Parkin and it is expected fishermen will ask for "roughly three to five cents" more than offered on all species.

Meanwhile, last year's prices of 20 cents for sockeye will prevail, subject to retroactive reimbursement upon settlement.

Mr. Parkin said the reason for the demanded increase was the 30 per cent increase in fishermen's gear and supplies this year.

A meeting of all fishermen in the Prince Rupert area will be held the end of June.

"If no agreement with operators has been made then, a tie-up will occur," said Mr. Parkin.

$1,000,000 BLAZE—A spectacular oil-fed fire destroyed a 150-foot section of the Army's big Central Ordnance Depot in Ottawa, second largest depot in Eastern Canada. Forty firemen were overcome by the smoke as huge stocks of equipment including oil, alcohol, paint and ammunition were blown skyward in a series of explosions. It took firemen and volunteers nearly all Saturday night to bring the fire, in the centre of the capital, under control. Loss was estimated at $1,000,000. (CP PHOTO)

Bevan Group Making Bid

LONDON (CP)—Aneurin Bevan, Labor's rebel minister who walked out of the government in protest against the budget, yesterday launched a bid for control of the Labor Party.

Bevan and twenty-four other Labor Members of Parliament announced they will publish a new policy document as a direct challenge to Prime Minister Attlee's administration.

The document, to be published in October, will charge the government with failing to carry out the true Socialist program.

Bevan, then minister of labor, walked out of the government April 22. He was joined by Harold Wilson, former President of the Board of Trade, and John Freeman, former Parliamentary secretary to the Minister of Supply.

The splinter group promised not to bring down the shaky government or embarrass it in Parliament but, outside of the Commons, they are free of the pledge.

Reds Not Thru Yet

Further Offensive Expected in Korean War

TOKYO (CP)—Rearguard Communists and probing Allied patrols clashed head-on today in scattered battles across the jagged mountains of the east and central fronts in Korea.
Communists fought desperately to save their escape routes to the north as Allied armored forces thrust toward the new fortress city of Kumsong.

Chinese and North Korean main forces continued to fall back along the front ahead of heavy Allied artillery fire.

The United States Eighth Army commander warned that another Red offensive was expected. In a front line interview, Lt.-Gen. James Van Fleet said: "The Communists' declaration of intention is still to throw us into the sea. We expect a third round Chinese spring offensive," he said. The enemy has sufficient reserve units that have not been in contact for some time."

REVERSES AT SEA

On the sea the United Nations suffered the second setback in three days. The destroyer-minesweeper USS Thompson was hit by Red shore batteries near Songjin on the northeast coast Thursday. Three men were killed. Twenty-six seamen were killed Tuesday when the destroyer Walke was rocked by an underwater explosion.

Canadian Air Lift Finished

OTTAWA (CP)—The 426th Thunderbird Squadron will return today to its home base at Dorval, Montreal, after 11 months on the Korean air lift, the Royal Canadian Air Force announced last night. Twelve aircraft and 400 men were to start back home today. They will stop over at Winnipeg, the first echelon to reach the prairie city early this afternoon.
A spokesman said that the squadron, which has flown more than 2900 combat troops and 1000 tons of war equipment to Korea, is coming back to Dorval because the United States Air Force needs McChord Field, near Tacoma, Washington, for other operations. Also there were now less requirements for the air lift.

Gov't Under Fire Over Red Ships

OTTAWA (CP)—The government

came under brisk Progressive Conservative fire in the House of Commons Friday for allowing five Chinese-owned ships to fly the Canadian flag on possibly illicit trading runs into Communist-held ports.
Progressive-Conservative front benches demanded the government withdraw the use of the Canadian ensign from the vessels which operate between Hong Kong and Red China and either sink or seize them.

Three cabinet ministers came under attack as the Opposition learned that the operators of the vessels, Ming Sung Co., trades "throughout Communist China" and, in the words of Opposition Leader George Drew, "for all intents and purposes is a company acceptable to the Communist government."

External Affairs Minister Pearson promised the government would seize the ships, formerly under the Chinese Nationalist flag, if it found they were breaking Canadian law by carrying strategic war materials to the Reds.

Incomplete reports from the Canadian trade commissioner in Hong Kong and from the owners, who have offices in Montreal, indicate the vessels are not carrying war materials, Mr. Pearson said.

Phone Bill Under Fire

OTTAWA (CP)—The House of Commons last night passed a bill authorizing the British Columbia Telephone Co. to increase capital to $75,000,000 from $25,000,000.

The company plans to use the extra capital to expand facilities in British Columbia.
Before the bill, already adopted by the Senate, received third reading, Howard Green, Progressive Conservative, Vancouver-Quadra, urged that the private bills committee be empowered at next session to consider the question of enlarging the powers of the six-man Board of Transport Commissioners. He referred to the recommendation of the committee that it be allowed to study the question. He said that the Board of Transport Commissioners, in dealing with applications from telephone companies for authority to increase rates to subscribers, cannot go fully into operations of companies. They could not, for instance, investigate relations of companies with their affiliates.

The British Columbia Telephone Co. paid its parent concern—the Anglo-Canadian Telephone Co. of Montreal—$181,000 last year for technical advice and services. This charge was passed on to British Columbia subscribers.

Mr. Green said the board should have power to investigate reasons for such charges before granting further increases in rates.

US Shipping Is Tied up

NEW YORK (CP)—Labor disputes tied up shipping in every major seaport area in the United States today.

Seamen in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports did not talk about "strike" but shippers wondered if any would sail without contract.

In San Francisco the American Radio Association did not quibble about words. It called it a West Coast maritime "strike" as soon as negotiations broke down early today.

A few hours earlier, federal mediators had announced failure to bring the union and shippers together.

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, said: "I expect our men will not sail the ships because they have no contract. I know I wouldn't."

The contract expired at midnight last night.

Curran and other officials refused to use the words "strike," "tie-up" or "stoppage."

Trend of Youth

THROWING rocks through the windows of powder magazines is a new height for foolhardy vandalism in Prince Rupert. One wonders what may be the next escapades of irresponsible youth seeking thrills.

It seems to be but an extreme example of the disrespect of property and person so common in young folk today. Nor does it speak well for the rising generation who some day—sooner than they think—will be called upon to assume the responsibilities of their own as well as the country's affairs.

One seeks to analyze the causes of the attitudes many youths seem to assume today. Is it because of lack of example, lack of interest, lack of discipline on the part of their elders?

Why do the youth of today get that way? Is it the result of their upbringing? Is the home failing in its function as the cradle of civilization? Are fathers too busy with their businesses and their pleasures? Is it the blame of working mothers who fail to conduct the homes where interest, affection and control are the guiding factors in developing the children?

Day-to-day incidents among the young people, some trivial, some serious, some unreasoning and senseless, make one wonder what is to be the future of the nation in view of the way which many of the youth are developing these days. Happily, however, we still believe that the majority of the young people, exuberant as they may be, are still imbued with innate good sense.

They Tried To Live Here

A NEW town of dwellings and business places is to develop at Port Edward. Employees of the Columbia Cellulose Co., frustrated in their efforts to obtain living accommodation in Prince Rupert and the long delay by the authorities in the problem of providing housing, are planning to reside at Port Edward instead of Prince Rupert. Many of them have bought lots in the townsite there.

It can at least be said in fairness to Columbia Cellulose that, from the outset, they stressed the desire to have their employees, if possible, reside in Prince Rupert. They certainly kept hounding to the point of what appeared in the minds of some to be annoyance to have the housing provided in Prince Rupert.

Prince Rupert people now can hardly complain if the cellulose people go to Port Edward to live. The fact is that we have failed to meet the situation here and are continuing to do so. Lack of housing continues to keep people away from Prince Rupert and is driving away people who come. It is probably the greatest handicap we have in expansion of our business and population.

Impossible Accomplished

WHAT has happened a few miles from Prince Rupert was called "impossible." When officials of the Celanese Corporation of America first looked over the territory they were told that a great plant on this coast was impossible. It was impossible for a number of reasons.

Today, having formed the Columbia Cellulose Company, those officials can smile, sometimes grimly, as they look back to count the number of impossibilities on which they built a vast, modern pulp plant.

The official opening of the Port Edward plant on Tuesday let the outside world have a glimpse of the great developments that are under way on this coast. Not far south of the site of the cellulose plant contractors are taking the first giant strides towards a new aluminum industry.

These developments have sent a shot of new life pulsing through central British Columbia. Towns that have been dreaming of a destiny that sometimes seemed an impossibility have awakened to the fact that their dream is on the doorstep.

Despite what is written and said about the present surge of interest in central B.C., the scope of the plans is not appreciated by most of the people of this province. A great new industrial empire is rising in B.C. and rising fast.

Vision, plus brains and capital are making wheels hum where there used to be only dreams.—Vancouver Province.

The Answer

(By Rev. L. G. Sieber, First United Church)

Christ is presented as the answer to life's need in our New Testament. And no matter what the question might be, the answer is found in the Spirit of Christ. In John's Gospel he tells us the reason for his writing is "That ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God: and that believing ye might have life through His Name."

Paul puts it another way: "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." Today many voices are saying that Christ is the answer.

Now how does this happen? Belief is one way in which the answer is found. The Christian believes in God. This has a real bearing on his way of living. With such a belief he does not give way to hysteria when the atom bomb is mentioned. There is the deep feeling that with God there must be some place for atomic energy to help lift the burdens of mankind. All power belongs to God and so no matter what happens among men not even the atom can defeat the purposes of God. There is no fear. There is practical power in faith.

The Christian finds his all in Christ. Christ is the revelation of God, and the revelation of what man should be. In Christ is the answer to overcome evil. The Christian does not give way to defeatism in the face of world turmoil. He says with Paul: "In all things we are more than conquerors through Him that loved us." For as I am persuaded that neither death, nor life . . . nor things present . . . nor things to come . . . nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord." This is the heart of the Christian answer.

The Christian believes that God's will for him is revealed unto him. He believes in the Christian fellowship, and thus the Church, because he knows he was not meant to walk a lonely road. He believes in spiritual power. He may believe more or less than this, but the answer is not found alone in the content

HOMEWARD HO

ABOARD RMS SCYTHIA. — Our English friends drove us through the New Forest to Southampton and we boarded Cunard ship SCYTHIA.

She is a 20,000-tonner, a tried and trusted veteran of the seas, now well repaired and renewed after being torpedoed and badly bombed in Hitler's war.

We sailed just after noon, without fuss. My mind goes back to former departures from that port—first as a 19-year-old boy bound for France with the rest of the old 23rd Battery; next as one of the first wounded Canadians homeward bound on the OLYMPIC in December, 1918; finally in 1949 as a passenger on the QUEEN MARY.

THIS TIME OUR WESTWARD trip is uneventful. We are honored to be at the captain's table. The skipper is Captain J. V. Locke, RD, RNR, friendly but modest, despite his long row of service decorations. At our table are two nice ladies, one from Montreal and one from New Brunswick. Also a pair of keen and quiet, fun-loving business men from Toronto—who believe the east-west myth in Canada that Toronto executives are an invariable breed of stuffed shirts.

There are over 800 passengers of belief, but in the power of belief and commitment. You cannot build a house that will stand the winds unless, as in the story of Christ, it is grounded and has its foundation on the Rock.

sengers aboard—200 in the first class, 600 tourist.
We are travelling first class for the simple reason that you just can't get westbound tourist accommodation nowadays unless you book months ahead.

Most of the passengers aboard this ship are immigrants, who embarked at Le Havre. They appear to be of a high class, physically and mentally. I personally would not vouch, off-hand, for their political ideas—for many of them are obviously originaires from behind what is now called "The Iron Curtain."

Nobody has a chance to enter Canada these days unless he or she can establish crystal-clear proof of non-sympathy for Communism and the present regime in Russia. But as the Nazis and Fascists were always the most violent enemies of Communism, and also were in control of areas from which many of these people originally came, I doubt that all of them could convince an ordinary jury of freedom from Nazi mindedness, or Fascist entanglements in past years.

PLEASE DO NOT MISUNDERSTAND ME. The vast majority of the newcomers on this ship look to me like admirable types—people whom any alert and under-populated country like Canada should be glad to get. One family of nine is aboard—a Dutch doctor with his wife and seven children. They are Alberta-bound and they want to live on a farm as well as have the farm as Dr. Verbeek's headquarters.

I SHOULD GUESS THAT OF the Canadian citizens aboard this ship the English-speaking outnumber the French language folks by about two or three to one. At least, I thought so till this morning. For all the way across the Atlantic we heard little French—for, as in our entire national life, the two peoples kept pretty much to themselves—being polite to each other, but rarely really mixing or becoming warm friends.

But now I am not so sure of the percentages. For we have passed through the little gap that divides Newfoundland from Labrador. Now that England's oldest colony has become Canada's youngest province, we are actually in Canada. When the mist gives way, we can plainly see the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The French Canadians have suddenly exuberant life. They are in the upper deck—their faces, in their voices, even by the hands, heads, to emphasize speech.

We English-speaking are happy, too—though so plainly show it.

BULLETIN No. 2

CIVIL DEFENCE

LEARN—AND LIVE

THE DANGER

Every citizen of British Columbia must face the fact that we may be attacked. To ignore this possibility would be to play into the hands of an enemy.

We must prepare now. Every man, woman and child must learn what can happen and what to do in order to fight back and preserve all that we hold dear in our way of life.

One of the first steps is to know just what an enemy hopes to achieve. Knowing this, we can make our Civil Defence more effective and act in a way that will minimize the effects of hostile acts which in total war are aimed at the population, our industry and war potential generally and our will to fight.

Lack of knowledge creates fear . . . fear creates panic and panic can cause unnecessary death and destruction. If we know what to do, we can fight back with confidence and vigour. If we act calmly, lives and property will be saved.

Remember this: Throughout history, new weapons of war have always produced an antidote. This holds true today even in atomic attack. We can withstand any attack if we prepare now!

Civil Defence preparations are going ahead rapidly. Special training courses are being held for members of our Civil Defence Corps.

It will be your duty, when called upon, to volunteer for whatever role you are best fitted . . . to do all you can to make our Civil Defence a highly organized and powerful weapon in the shortest possible time.

Remember Great Britain's wartime slogan: "We do not admit the possibility of defeat—it does not exist."

These bulletins, now being published weekly in your local newspaper will give you the basic facts to prepare for your part in Civil Defence. Read them—clip them out, know and act upon them.

Watch for another bulletin in next week's newspaper.

Herolded as one of the greatest missionary films yet produced, "Heart of India," portraying the striking contrasts in the life of India and the power of the Christian Message to transform the life of the people, will be shown Monday night at First United Church. It is being shown by Rev. J. A. Raymond Tingley, Vancouver, secretary for British Columbia of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

At the general rally, being held under the auspices of the local branch of the Bible Society, Mr. Tingley will also show a challenging film, "The Book for the World of Tomorrow." During the past three weeks Mr. Tingley has travelled 1900 miles through Central B.C., visiting the branches of the Society from Clinton to Prince Rupert. He reports an increasing support of the work of the Society on the part of the Churches as they became aware of the vital place of the Bible Society in their world-wide missionary enterprise, and the unprecedented appeal for Bibles throughout the world.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

On the hand just before this one, Mr. Dale made one no trump by means of a little luck and a good unblocking play. He was in there pushing on this hand to finish out the game. It took another unblocking play plus an error by Mr. Abel to bring home his contract.

Safe and sane Mr. Meek started off by quickly taking three heart tricks. If he had shifted to a diamond at trick four, Mr. Dale wouldn't have had a chance. But Mr. Meek couldn't bring himself to lead away from either of his minor suit queens. He made what he considered his safest lead, a trump.

Mr. Dale won in his own hand with the ten of spades. He could see five trump tricks and two side aces. But where was his eighth trick coming from? Clearly some kind of monkey-business had to be attempted—and one of the opponents had to make a mistake.

MR. DALE TRUMPS
So Mr. Dale took two more rounds of trumps ending in dummy. Then he led the deuce of clubs and Mr. Abel was on a spot. He figured if the queen and one club were on his left he had better go in with his king or he wouldn't get a club trick at all.

A little more figuring would have told him that if Mr. Dale had the queen doubleton in clubs plus the ace of diamonds (which he had to have for his opening bid) then there was no way to beat the hand.

But Mr. Abel didn't think that far. He played the king of clubs. And Mr. Dale played the jack—unblocking for a finesse. Mr. Abel returned the ace of hearts and Mr. Dale ruffed.

Now he led the four of clubs, finessing dummy's ten when Mr. Meek played low. Then he cashed the ace of clubs—and

BERLIN CABBIES Have Hard Times By RENE CAPPON BERLIN (AP)—A German cab driver about his business is like waving a red flag in front of a bull. "What business?" snorted one cabbie. "On good days I may make seven marks ($1.54) for myself. My rent is due tomorrow and I have only half of it ready. I don't smoke, don't drink, and barely eat." Another veteran driver said he made more on tips before the war than on his regular earnings (25 per cent of the meter reading) now. He proposed a special Marshall Plan for taxmen. Despite such circumstances, more than 700 cabs are rolling around West Berlin. Nine-tenths of them are ancient and slow. The speedier ones bounce and pitch like destroyers on a rough sea. The machines—held together by grit, thread and a prayer—are generally owned by small companies with two or three cabs apiece. Operating costs since the war soared between 200 and 300 per cent, the owners say, while rates have gone up only 35 per cent. Spare parts are difficult to come by. A brand new cab is an extreme rarity, six years after the war. Some cabbies are handicapped also by the small size of their cars which hold only three persons in cubious comfort. By contrast, you also see huge, box-shaped antiquities which could swallow 10 people—though they'd probably crumble to dust if it were tried. WOOD-BURNING CARS At that Berlin taximen are better off than their brethren in the Russian-occupied territories. In Dessau, until quite recently at least, they had wood-burning cabs, chugging along disconsolately with a chimney for an exhaust and trailing smoke and occasional flame. At Leipzig, the cabs are if possible still more dilapidated than in the West. Polish and well-feg with gasoline for the Leipzig Fair, they save an impression of brisk business until you listened to the driver. When the semi-annual fair is over, gas rations return to normal, meaning little or none. There's a black market, of course, but prices are almost prohibitive. Anyhow, "Who in this town has the money to ride cabs?" a Leipzig cabbie demanded. "I wouldn't ride in this egg-beater myself if I didn't have to. Don't repeat this here—it might be considered anti-state propaganda." A West Berlin taxi driver pointed up this dismal estate of his clan like this: "I'd do better collecting unemployment insurance, which isn't exactly luxurious. But I guess I prefer to drive around and pretend I'm making a living."	REPAIRS WATCH REPAIRS—rusted, cleaned, serviced. George Cook Jeweller, Saskatchewan Square, 1st floor. FISHING FLEET EN MASSE—Typical scene along Prince Rupert waterfront which has three major fishermen's floats where hundreds of commercial vessels assemble and are served the year around. This time of year, however, finds many of them out of port on the fishing grounds.

Spectacular Blasting Operation on Waterfront—
Halibut Price Soars Today

Most spectacular episode in the long job of demolition of the huge $9,000,000 warehouse which was built on the Prince Rupert waterfront during World War II by the United States Army as a staging depot for shipment of war supplies to the Pacific theatre occurred Friday afternoon. It was the dynamiting of an 80-foot concrete elevator shaft which had been left nakedly standing after removal of the immense frame structure.

The tower measured 26 feet square. At east of the bottom corners were placed the charges of dynamite with 37 holes in all. The tower contained 5000 cubic feet or about 37½ tons of concrete.

Five more similar towers remain to be reduced in like manner.

"It fell within a foot of the mark which had been planned and broke up extremely satisfactorily," enthused E. (Peg) DesRoches of the Vancouver wrecking concern which has taken on the job of removing the concrete work, including hundreds of piers, from the site. The blast was in charge of Wes Johanson. The material is being sold to all and sundry who may require it for filling purposes.

Mr. DesRoches estimates that he will have the big job of concrete removal completed within four or five months.

Meantime the demolition of the last five units of the one-great building—a portion that it was hoped to the end might be retained for some industrial use—has just commenced. The wrecking project, named "Prince Rupert Warehouse," is being carried out under the superintendency of Ross Pettibone for Soren Madsen of Edmonton. This job is expected to be done by the end of August, leaving only the concrete for DesRoches to clean up.

Six million feet of lumber has been taken down in the removal of the giant structure which, after all, has turned out to be only a temporary landmark on the Prince Rupert waterfront. The wrecking job has been under way for 15 months now, employing up to 18 men.

NEW HIGH FISH

Halibut price soared to a new high for 1951 on the Prince Rupert Fish Exchange today as the season drew on towards its close as far as the regular fishing areas are concerned.

First boat in since Tuesday the Miss Jean drew 28.5c, 19.5c and 16c from Alin Fisheries for a catch of 42,000 pounds after the most spirited session of bidding this year. The catch is being packed out today for fresh shipment to the eastern markets. The Miss Jean is a Vancouver boat and is skippered by Capt. Paul Johansen.

As most of the larger vessels are now out on their final trips prior to the closing of Area No. 3 season on June 25 at midnight, landings at Prince Rupert during the past week were fairly light, aggregating 797,000 pounds of which 462,000 pounds was from American vessels and 335,000 pounds from Canadian. The top bid of the week for American fish was 20c, 17c and 15c.

Landings are expected to be light early next week but, around closing season date, expectation is that they will bunch in heavily.

Union steamer Coquitlam, Capt. William McCombe, arriving in Prince Rupert at 1:45 yesterday, disembarked the following passengers: M. Pullman, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. E. Salter, Mr. and Mrs. Owens, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Henderson, H. Chong, R. Boivin, S. Beatty, Rev. and Mrs. F. Antrobus, Mrs. A. Marshall, Mrs. J. Gallagher, Mrs. J. Eckert, O. Nelson, M. Gunderson, Miss P. Cameron, Mrs. A. Johnson, Miss E. Tait, Mrs. G. Skog, M. Johnston, John Mupso, Mrs. J. Kirkwood.

Union steamer Chilcotin, summer cruise ship, docked in Prince Rupert this morning on her return south from an Alaskan voyage with 87 members of Nil Shrine Temple of Seattle, and their wives. While in port the touring Shriners were welcomed by President C. A. Berner, of the local Shrine Club, and other Shrine members.

GOOD TROUT FISHING

Not all fishermen along the waterfront are those commercially interested in halibut or salmon. Young Bobby and Billy showed no interest at all in the big halibut boats tied alongside the Cow Bay floats yesterday afternoon but beside them, on the float, lay a gleaming string of sea trout, such as would be the envy of many an adult sport fisherman.

Lying flat on their stomachs, with eyes peering intently into the dark waters, Bobby and Billy, both about 11 years of age, handled their line with the craftsmanship which only an outdoor youngster can develop.

"Whoops—I got one," exclaimed Bobby suddenly, and in a second a 14-inch gleaming sea trout lay wriggling on the float. "That's my thirty-seventh," said Bobby proudly, as he broke the neck of the fish and tossed it on a heap with the other, none of which measured under nine inches. "How many you got?" he asked his partner.

"Thirty-two," came the suppressed answer—"Nope—thirty-three. Got another one."

"They've been there about two hours," said one of the fishermen on a nearby vessel. "They're really makin' it pay. You know, I'd like to be a kid again."

Billy and Bobby were flat on their stomachs again, each with a string in his hand which they bobbed enticingly before yet a bigger fish they were sure lurked at the bottom of the dark water.

Game Warden Cpl. Ed Martin will take the PML 4, game patrol vessel, into the Douglas Channel and the Kitimat area next week, to survey the region with regards to conservation of game.

"There are going to be an awful lot of people there shortly and I think we should start now to look into game protection," Cpl. Martin would like to see a game warden stationed there permanently in the near future.

Douglas Channel and Kitimat Valley area is one of the richest in all types of game birds, animals and fish, the old-timer game warden says. And whenever people settle in a comparative wilderness, such as Kitimat is now, they will make the best of the abundance of game and wildlife in indiscriminate hunting. Before effective conservation action can be taken, the damage will have been done.

While he is touring the Kitimat area, Cpl. Martin hopes to get in a day or so of sport fishing as well.

"There are some beautiful trout there and I want to get one or two before it is too late."

To the Prince Rupert game office come a lot of inquiries from American and Canadian tourists asking for guide service and accommodation in the Prince Rupert area. Especially do they want to know about trout and salmon fishing, says Cpl. Martin. "Of course, we have to tell them there is nothing available here in that line, except that the hunting and fishing is good. Looks to me there is a lot of room for that kind of business here."

Since that time, she has helped about 700 polio victims regain normal activity.

Although she now has to leave Saskatoon for Calgary, where her husband has been transferred, she is not leaving her work, but has accepted a similar position in a Calgary hospital.
