B. C. LIBERALS ARE IN SESSION

Johnson Will Not Break Coalition

Full and Frank Discussion With Good Feelings Existing, President Perry Says

VANCOUVER (CP)—Top brass of the British Columbia Liberal party met behind closed doors here Monday in what was expected to be a two-day meeting. The main purpose, it was reported, is to iron out dissension within the party, chart a peaceful course and decide on independent action when coalition ends.

Leading the sessions is Harry G. Perry, president of the British Columbia Liberal Association, whose outspoken criticism of Premier Byron Johnson came during the hospital insurance ruckus last spring.

At the end of last night's meeting all Mr. Perry would say was that there was the "fullest and frankest discussion of all party affairs."

"There was good feeling in the party," he added.

The meeting was addressed by Premier Johnson who repeated his stand that the British Columbia government was elected on the coalition ticket and that he would not be responsible for breaking coalition.

Possibility of a provincial convention to deal with major party policies was discussed but the delegates said there will likely be no convention this year. The regular yearly executive convention will be held late this fall.

The constitution committee was in session today. Its job is to study party constitution and recommend changes to the convention.

Maglie Is Top Pitcher

NEW YORK (P)—Sal Maglie, working in relief, gained his eleventh victory of the season Monday night to top the Majors as New York Giants shaded St. Louis Cardinals 5 to 4 in twelve innings.

Monte Irvin singled with the bases loaded in the final inning to break up the game.

Bob Feller won his tenth game as Cleveland beat Boston Red Sox 9 to 7 in the only American League game.

In the only other National League game Chicago defeated Boston 5 to 4.

Grand Master's Official Visit

Local Oddfellows turned out in good number last night to receive an official visit from the provincial grand master, Rev. R. J. Love of Vancouver, after which there was a joint session with the Rebekahs when a banquet was provided by the ladies and an address given by Mr. Love.

The grand master dealt with the fellowship of the order and referred to the $2000 bursaries that were given out by Grand Lodge, also the camp for children of Oddfellows at White Rock. Mr. Love stressed moral values found in the teachings inculcated by the various degrees of Oddfellowship and held his audience in rapt attention throughout. The spontaneous ovation he received at the end testified to its effectiveness.

Other speakers on the program which was handled under the chairmanship of Len Garner, Noble Grand, were A. E. Wood, D.D.G.M., Mrs. W. J. Lineham, D.D.P., Mrs. E. A. Evans, N.G., and Harry Daggett, P.D.D.G.M.

The Grand Master also conducted the investiture of A. E. Wood as district deputy grand master for the district that comprises the lodges at Smithers and Terrace as well as Prince Rupert. Mr. Love left today for Terrace where he will pay an official visit tonight before proceeding to lodges at Smithers and Prince George.

While here Mr. Love was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. L. G. Sieber at the local United Church manse.

They will be away all summer and possibly into next year.

VANCOUVER—Construction permits issued in the Greater Vancouver area during the first five months of the present year disclose 3971 projects put under way with aggregate value of $10,306,580, according to final figures released by building officials of the city, Burnaby, North Vancouver City and District of West Vancouver. In the corresponding period of 1950, 4911 jobs were undertaken costing $23,535,029.

Number of new homes commenced in the Metropolitan district for the initial five months of this year is 1220, entailing total outlay of $9,418,950. In the comparative period of 1950, permits were approved for 2081 new dwellings worth $13,421,960.

Better Trains Running Here

Improved equipment has been added for the summer months to the Canadian National Railways passenger trains on the Prince Rupert-Jasper line. In addition to the regular sleeper, a lounge-solarium car with six sections and two compartments has been put in service. A full dining car is also being carried now and there are three instead of two coaches.

The railway is expecting that the trains will share this year in the generally increased traffic resulting from the new industrial development in this part of the country as well as generally stimulated tourist travel.

Agreement With Alcan

Agreement has been reached with the Morrison-Knudsen Co., contractors on heavy work of tunnel digging and dam construction for Aluminum Company of Canada in the coastal and interior areas, for a basic wage rate along the lines of the general prevailing scale for the building trades. As from June 1 the basic wage will be $1.90, advancing to $2 an hour after October 1, it is announced by James S. Black, local union organizer.

William Page, international representative of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, has been recently in connection with negotiations on the Alcan project, also visiting the eastern end of the work in the interior. All work will be carried out under American Federation of Labor Unions. Discussions with the company had been carried out in a spirit of co-operation. Mr. Page told the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council at a meeting last Thursday night.

Jack McMillan Smith, 59, a seaman on the Essington snag boat, suffered a fractured left ankle when a timber which he was handling fell on his foot. The sternwheeler returned late last night from Port Essington to bring the seaman to hospital. He is reported in "good" condition.

Various principles and procedures of credit granting and account collection had been dealt with at the sessions and numerous common problems discussed. Importance of educating the public on credit matters and the value of maintaining a good credit record was emphasized.

Mrs. Lawrie reported with gratification that the Prince Rupert Credit Bureau had been admitted to the select Credit Bureaux of the United States. The meeting of the local Association was presided over by R. H. Parker.

It was decided to suspend regular monthly meetings for July and August, resuming in the fall with a dinner meeting.

Should Retain Business Here

"It is a pity to see the amount of business that is leaving Prince Rupert," remarked Mrs. Lawrie, secretary of the Prince Rupert Credit Bureau, when speaking to the Prince Rupert Credit Grantors' Association last night.

Mrs. Lawrie thought local merchants might do something about it by such means as improving their showings and advertising their goods and their prices.

Collections Deteriorate

A deterioration in account collections which is becoming general in Canada and United States is due largely to the fact that people are allowing ordinary charge accounts to wait in order to meet the larger installment payments required under stiffened credit regulations. Mrs. Lawrie, secretary of the Prince Rupert Credit Bureau, told the monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Retail Credit Grantors' Association last night.

Mrs. Lawrie was reporting on a national credit convention which she attended recently in Portland.

Mrs. Lawrie told of the various proceedings of the convention. She described the techniques of large bureaux which she had observed such as the huge operation of the Portland bureau.

One of the notable functions was a breakfast of the Portland Credit Women's Breakfast Club, a gathering attended by 700 women, each of whom was presented with a corsage and a souvenir ball-pointed pencil.

During convention sessions such prominent persons as the mayor of Portland, the president of the Chamber of Commerce and the president of the United States National Bank of Portland had been heard.

Hopalong Cassidy is Coming To Prince Rupert Wednesday

Idol of the western movie fans and particularly of the younger element, William Boyd—"Hopalong Cassidy"—will be in Prince Rupert this Wednesday. With Mrs. Boyd he will be here aboard the steamer Chilcoatin making the round trip cruise to Alaska.

The white-haired star of television, radio and movies and his blonde wife, Grace Bradley, movie actress in her own right, have been on a tour of Canada. Among cities visited have been Toronto, Victoria and Vancouver. Their home is in Los Angeles.

All along the trip Hopalong has been besieged by young autograph hunters to whom he presents aluminum souvenir discs which he always carries by the thousands.

Union Steamship offices here quote "Hoppy" as saying he "doesn't like" planned receptions.

Jobs Here But no Takers

Low Wages Hamper Civil Service
Serious shortage of federal service workers is felt in Prince Rupert. That is the opinion of several Dominion government officers here and, in their opinion, they say, is low wages. "We need more men," they say, "but at $90 a month, they won't work for us—not when we can get $150 or more some-where else."

Race Yachts Due in Port

Official Finish of Naimo-Rupert Stage to Be Tomorrow
A group of four international racing yachts which are participating in a three-stage sprint race between Seattle and Juneau, will arrive at Naimo and Prince Rupert at 3:45 this afternoon and will be up at the Fairview Bay preparatory to the official finish of the race tomorrow morning off the floats of the Prince Rupert Rowing & Yacht Club.

Dr. Hart is president of the International Motorboat Racing Association. He was here in the Prince Rupert stage of the race two years ago with the boat Donnie in which he is competing.

Other boats in this year's race include the Alieen of Naimo, owned by Captain George Patton, Victoria, which was the winner of the Naimo-Rupert stage of the race in 1949.

Also coming is the Carmelita, owned by Norton Clapp of Seattle, which was also here two years ago.

The fourth competing boat is the vessel, the Nickenus, owned by Capt. C. Graham of Seattle.

Three trophies, involved in the Naimo-Prince Rupert stage of the race, will be presented at a banquet and dance to be held tomorrow night by the Prince Rupert Rowing & Yacht Club at the Canadian Legion Hall.

The racers will continue north Sunday.

Local Boat Regatta

Sailor Built Here Out for International Honors
First Prince Rupert boat to sail in the International Yacht Regatta at Victoria, is receiving final touches in the workshop of HMCS Chatham.

The Gold Bee, 16-foot snipe-nose sailboat, is to be launched either Friday or Saturday, this week. Lieut. J. W. Golby said today.

And the sleek-hulled Marconi is to be christened by one other than Rear Admiral B. Creery, officer commanding Pacific Coast, if Lieut. Cdr. Golby succeeds in his request.

Rear Admiral Creery will arrive in Prince Rupert aboard HMCS Ontario, the naval training cruiser, which steams into this harbor next Thursday.

The sail boat was built in the local workshop by AB Peter Sova, under the guidance of the staff officer, who has had many years of experience both in building and handling sail boats. The Gold Bee will race in the regatta, between July 1 and 4, under the colors of HMCS Chatham. It will be skippered by Lieut. Stollie, now on HMCS Ontario. Crew member, besides the skipper, will be AB Sova.

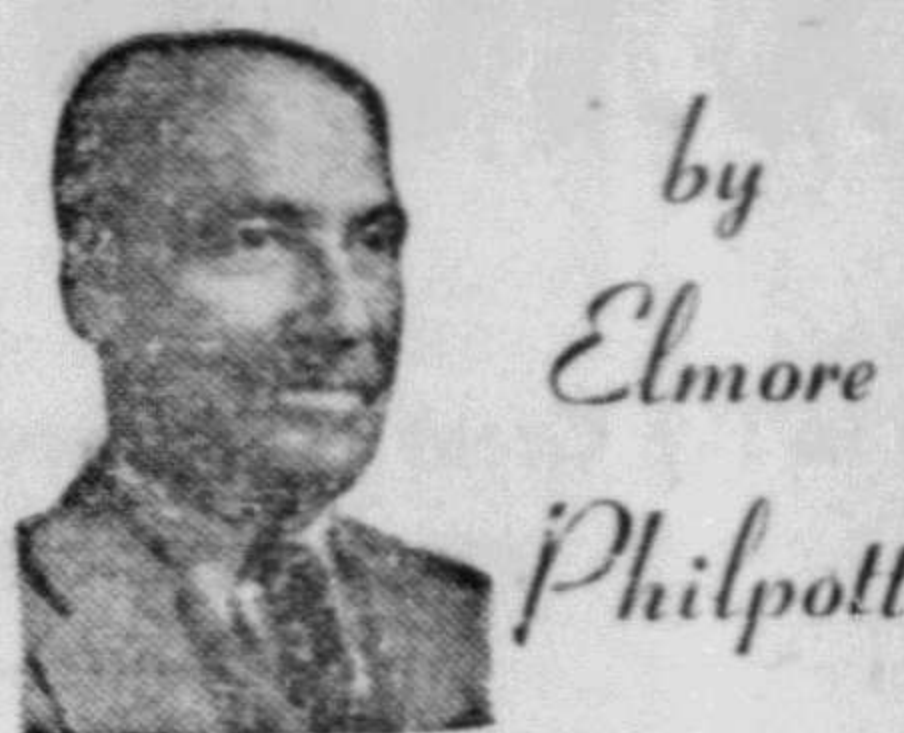

Lieut. Cdr. Golby said he would "try and talk them into taking" the Gold Bee back to Victoria on board the visiting cruiser.

But with a quick grin he added, "I wouldn't mind sailing her down to Victoria myself." He is saying the sail boat which was constructed of Navy-supplied materials.

As I See It

OTTAWA AGAIN

OTTAWA.—Canadians could learn something from what some of us foolishly used to call "the slow old British." When west-bound ships land at Quebec, it takes several hours to clear through the customs and make your getaway, by train, for points west.

As a rough guess, I should say that it takes twice as long for Canadian Customs to handle an incoming ship as it does for British Customs to handle one landing in Britain.

I hasten to add that the only place where one sees almost as much lack of efficient organization is at the similar shed in New York.

RIDING WEST ON THE CPR, we say to ourselves how good it feels to be on a Canadian train again.

True, the prices in the dining car seem a bit steep, by comparison with those of the good old days, but when we detrain at Montreal we quickly learn that all restaurant prices have skyrocketed during our absence.

HERE IN OTTAWA IT ALSO feels good to be on home soil again. For it is surely like old times to see the weather change from boiling hot to really cool almost before you can say Jack Robinson.

Come to think of it, that professor may have something. I mean the one who has the theory that people act like the climate makes him act.

Take Ottawa, the capital of Canada.

We all know the story how Queen Victoria picked the place: She shut her eyes, stuck a pin in the map—opened them—so we got stuck with Ottawa.

Now see what Ottawa climate does to our government.

For most of the year the climate is sub-Arctic, and the MP's move at snail's pace. Then suddenly summer bursts on Ottawa and the MP's put on a frantic rush to get home—to get anywhere except Ottawa. So they work morning, noon and night and madly rush through work which should have been spread evenly over the whole session.

SPEAKING SERIOUSLY, FOR a change, Canada's parliamentary procedures are decades out of date—in fact, I doubt if they ever were efficient, even for horse and buggy days.

For one thing strikes you like a hot blast when you compare our Parliament in action with the British House of Commons. That is, in the Canadian Parliament, what is really carried on is an inter-party debate, not a serious discussion confined to the issues really before the country for immediate solution.

I doubt if you would ever see in a British Parliament what you see time after time here: That is, some back bench MP making a speech to which not more than three or four other members are even pretending to listen. It is all about some local matter, and as the MP will get extra copies of Hansard and send them to his constituents they may be gullible enough to believe that he is down at Ottawa fighting like a lion for them. Of course nobody at Ottawa is fooled—but it is all accepted as part of the game.

COMPARISONS ARE ODIUS—but the plain fact is that Canada's mid-century parliamentary practices are far less efficient than those of many other countries.

The main difference that strikes me is that Canada's Parliament makes no serious attempt to budget its own time.

Commonsense would suggest that Parliament itself should agree to work according to a time table, allowing so much time for each item of business. It need not be as rigid a time table as they use in some continental countries. But the proof of the pudding is in the eating. Canada's Parliament has indigestion right now.

RIGHT NOW OUR PARLIAMENT is postponing the main job it was expected to do at this session; that it enact a better Old Age Pension law.

Now they say they will start (Continued on page 6)

VICTORIA REPORT

... by J. K. Nesbitt

Likes Prince Rupert—Cannot Understand Why No New Hotels—Example of Industrial Expansion

VICTORIA.—The enormous new industrial development that is sweeping this province, particularly the coast, has to be seen to be really believed. I had often heard of the new $27,000,000 pulp plant of the Columbia Cellulose Company near Prince Rupert. But until I saw it and walked through it I could not quite grasp its significance.

What it has done to Prince Rupert is astonishing—it has boomed that bustling city situated amid some of the province's most glorious coastal scenery. It has given work to more than 1200 people, with an annual payroll of $3,000,000.

For some strange reason, a lot of people insist they don't like Prince Rupert. For my part, I do. I like its location, looking out over sea waters to distant islands and mountains. And what if it does rain—as long as you're dressed for it?

Prince Rupert, like most small B.C. cities, is shabby in spots. But so are Victoria and Vancouver for that matter. In small cities it's more difficult to hide the shabbiness.

And Prince Rupert, like most of the small cities, is desperately short of hotel accommodation. I was talking to a high government official in Rupert the other day. Even he could not find a hotel room and had to sleep on a government boat in the harbor.

With the tremendous industrial boom going on, it seems more than passing strange that new hotels aren't going up. Most of our small-town hotels and restaurants are not any too good. I would apply this criticism of restaurants to most eating places in Victoria and Vancouver, too. No, our B.C. restaurants are not good.

But to get back to Prince Rupert—I shall not soon forget the breathtaking views from the windows of the ultra-smart Canadian Legion Club, nor the even higher-up views from the picture windows in the home of Prince Rupert MLA Jack McRae and his pretty vivacious wife.

Yes, Prince Rupert has come into its own. When it's really smartened up with some paint on shabby old buildings and when new homes are built, it's going to be one of B.C.'s most attractive cities—as long as you don't let the rain fuss you.

It was a nice tribute Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney paid to the pioneers the day he opened the cellulose plant. It applies to pioneers all over the province in this age of expansion. Mr. Kenney said: "I never forget that the spark of faith has never died out in the minds and heads of the pioneers. I do not forget the trials and tribulations, the surges of hope and the defeats and disappointments—it is no wonder that as they reviewed the string of unfulfilled dreams that have been dangled before them through the years, these mature citizens became somewhat embittered and decidedly typical in the course of time."

Something of the tremendous importance of the pulp and paper industry to this province was given at the cellulose plant opening by Paul Cooper, president of Canadian Pulp and Paper Association.

With the new cellulose plant, he said, the total investment of the pulp and paper industry in B.C., in plant alone, is $225,000,000.

World Crying for Bibles

Prince Rupert Gives Support

People all over the world "are crying for the Bible more than ever before," Rev. J. A. R. Tingley, provincial secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, last night told an audience which filled First United Church Hall.

"There is a desperate call for the word of God. There was never a time in history when so many doors were open where so many could place the Bible."

He said there was a great demand for Bibles. From the Bible House in Vancouver, the society had distributed more than 40,000 Bibles last year, printed in 34 different languages.

"This is the largest circulation there has ever been," he said. After being introduced by Rev. Fred Antrobus, Mr. Tingley thanked the people of Prince Rupert for their support of the society.

This was his third visit to Prince Rupert. When first he came here, in 1947, Prince Rupert did not contribute anything to the society. The following year, $85 was received from this city. Contributions had greatly increased thereafter and last year Prince Rupert contributed $500 in support of the society's work.

"So many people still do not know what is the work of our society. Wherever there is a mission work done, the society plays a part," Mr. Tingley said that, since the inception of the organization in London, England, in the Eighteenth Century, the Bible had been printed in 800 different languages. With the help of other Bible distributors, the Book now was available in 1100 languages. Nearly 600,000,000 copies of the Scriptures have been circulated.

URGENT DEMAND Because of the "urgency in the demand for Bibles across the world," a five-year program was launched by the B.C. auxiliary in preparation for the society's third jubilee in 1954.

Objectives of the five-year plan are:

1. Encouraging prayer and Bible reading.
 2. Publicizing the purpose and program of the society.
 3. Enlisting 1000 new members annually.
 4. Securing 40 life members each year.
 5. Organizing five new branches each year.
 6. Promoting wider circulation of Scriptures and Christian literature.
 7. By increasing contributions $2100 each year, reach an objective of $32,000 by 1954.
- Mr. Tingley said the Bible House in Vancouver was the finest in Canada and placed fourth in circulation of 180 Bible distributors across the continent.
- A film of the Vancouver Bible House was shown, as well as films showing the history of the Bible and of mission work in India, in which the Bible, printed in many different dialects of the country, played so great a part.
- The rally was attended by people from all of the churches of the city and was conducted by Rev. L. G. Sieber, minister of the entertaining church. The president of the local branch, P. H. Linzey, spoke briefly, thanking the speaker and the people of Prince Rupert for their increasing support. The benediction was pronounced by Canon Basil S. Proskter. It was announced that a canvass for

No War This Summer

ROGER W. BABSON does not think there will be a war this summer or early fall. The chief assets of Russia and her satellite nations of Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Poland, etc., are their crops, especially their wheat. Hence, Russia will not start World War III until these crops are gathered, transported, distributed and safely stored. Russia will not start World War III until the rivers of eastern Europe freeze over so her supply lines cannot be cut by airplanes bombing bridges.

The above means that there will be nothing to fear from Russia before winter comes. This coming winter, however, will be a very critical time, especially as the Russians are more accustomed to living, moving and fighting in winter than are the U.S. forces or the Europeans. It is also said that atomic bomb operations can be more effective in winter weather. Russia may start World War III this winter.

The Russians further realize that the United States and the Allies are now arming at a more rapid rate than the Russians can possibly meet. Russia can raise more men than can the Allies, but Russia cannot produce airplanes, tanks, guns and other war supplies as fast. All of this leads Babson to believe that, if the Russians do not strike early in 1952, they have decided to forget World War III for some years to come and await further political developments.

Limited Paradise

AS SOMETHING of a commentary on the blessings of Communism and of their supposed technological know-how, a small item in the New York Times tells of the departure for home of the Soviet delegates to the United Nations and also some of the Soviet embassy staff.

Included among the baggage that was to sail with them were 17 crates of television sets, mechanical refrigerators and washing machines, and numberless cartons of cigarettes.

We have constantly been asked to believe that the Soviet, under its numerous five-year plans, has developed into the greatest industrial nation in the world. We have been asked to believe that these newly-acquired skills will put it on a par with the Western nations in the development of the atomic bomb. We have been asked to believe that the Soviet way of life is superior to our own.

But these arguments suddenly lose a good deal of their force when we think of Soviet officials laboriously bringing home to their paradise these minor benefits of the West: television and refrigerators and washing machines and cigarettes. One wonders whether there are perhaps other things lacking in this dubious paradise.

Good Luck Nuptials

More than 150 guests congratulated Miss Margaret Baxter and Douglas McGreish at the reception after their lovely wedding in First Presbyterian Church Friday, performed by Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright.

In a setting tastefully decorated with spring flowers, the couple exchanged their vows at 7:30 p.m. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Baxter, 300 Third Avenue West, was given in marriage by her father.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. McGreish, 1102 Sixth Avenue East.

The bride approached the altar dressed in a white chantilly lace wedding gown, panelled on both sides with double-layered net, entrain over satin. A lace bodice gracefully embodied the pointed collar and long, lily-point sleeves. Her net and satin, pearl-studded Juliet cap crowned the mist-like, embroidered fingertip veil.

A novel feature of the bride's accessories was a silvered horseshoe in which was incorporated the slogan, "Good Luck." This gift came from Scotland, given to the bride by Mr. and Mrs. J. McVie, just two weeks in Canada. The wedding date had been set in their honor, the day of their wedding anniversary.

Gift of the groom the bride wore was a pair of drop cameo earrings with pendant to match. She carried a bouquet of yellow and pink roses, intermingled with stephanotis.

Bridal attendants were Miss Olga Zabudney, bridesmaid; Mrs. Winnifred Duncan, matron of honor, and Miss Margaret McVie, junior bridesmaid.

Miss Zabudney wore a turquoise taffeta gown with net yoke and matching gloves. Her hair was adorned by a coronet of rosebuds. Mrs. Duncan, matron of honor, in a strapless mauve net gown, lace bodice and cape, wore a straw skull cap topped with red peonies and a veil. She wore white elbow-length gloves and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and red peonies.

Miss McVie wore a pretty mauve nylon, ballerina-length dress, with mandarin collar and white, elbow-length gloves. She also wore a coronet of rosebuds and a bouquet of pink and white carnations, mixed with light blue and white iris.

Stuart McGreish, brother of the groom, was best man. Charles Mayo and John Wick were ushers.

The gay and colorful reception was held in the Oddfellows' Hall, where Dr. Wright proposed the toast to the bride. Bride's attendants were toasted by the groom, who in turn was toasted by the master of ceremonies, Douglas Bertram. The program which followed featured singing by Misses Peggy Andrews and Muriel Bertram.

The table was beautifully decorated with large American Beauty roses at each end and, in the centre, surrounded by carnations, roses, and two white tapers, rested the three-layer wedding cake. Under an arch of flowers and ribbons, the bride cut the cake. Telegrams of congratulations were read by the groom.

Serviteurs were the Misses Evelyn Antilla, Evelyn Rivett, June Thornton and Irene Foote.

Mother of the bride wore a cocoa-brown crepe afternoon dress with lace trim and brown accessories, and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore midnight blue lace with navy accessories and orchid corsage.

The couple left for Lakelse Lake, the bride attired in a beige suit, pink and brown accessories, topped with a winter-white "shortie" coat.

They will reside at 1117 Seventh Avenue East. Bride is employed with the B.C. Forest Service, Prince Rupert. Groom works at B.C. Packers Ltd.

ray.. Reflects and Reminisces

Port Edward will not adversely affect Prince Rupert, comments the mayor. The fact of having neighbors never hurts anyone or anything. See what Prince Rupert, with umpteen millions being spent up north, is doing for Vancouver.

Youthful visitors from Western Canada—one from Prince Rupert—will be in Hawaii this summer. It will not be until then that they will understand the meaning of blue water. Hawaii is handy to the equator.

Commencing June 23, the Federal government will sit through to the end of the month (Saturday) in the endeavor to be able to prorogue by the end of June. This would mean the end of the session. The House will work morning, afternoon and night. Whew!

ALSO A FUTURE

"Not only has Prince Rupert a history. It has a future. The growing city, in its beautiful setting, has all the requisites to enable it to become a large industrial centre." The foregoing is from an article on the city published in the June issue of a Vancouver pulp and paper periodical in which the opening of the Columbia Cellulose Corporation plant is featured.

COMFORTS FIRST

Nearly a thousand coastal seamen threaten to strike for more money. One heard not long ago of a ship where the sailors had separate cabins, curtains and ornate little lamp shades. Nowhere was there a suggestion of cash. But perhaps that had already been taken care of.

NO FIREARMS

A man who gave the name of Walter Smith of Burnaby has been arrested by the RCMP who charge him with having shot a robin without a permit. In Burnaby civilians are saying they cannot but wonder if this is the answer to a famous nursery rhyme, and what happened to poor Cook Robin. But in that little bird's case, it would seem a bow and arrow was used.

000,000. There are 11 operating mills, and one—at Duncan Bay, on Vancouver Island—under construction.

Mr. Cooper said: "During the last 10 years, capital investment in the industry has quadrupled, the value of production has trebled, payrolls have doubled, and the tonnage of pulps and of newsprint have both doubled. B.C. will, this year, produce about 1,000,000 tons of pulp and paper."

Yes, it was stimulating to visit Prince Rupert and actually see a giant new industry get into full swing—and to know that other industries are coming and that the whole province will prosper as a result. As Finance Minister Ansonb remarked not long ago—if the present development goes on much longer, B.C. will become Canada's greatest industrial province.

Ontario and Quebec can't quite believe that yet—but there is every indication that what Mr. Ansonb said is going to come true.

SOUR CREAM BUNS

● Scald 1 1/2 c. milk, 1/2 c. granulated sugar, 2 tsps. salt and 1/4 c. butter or margarine; cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile, measure into a large bowl 1/2 c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes. THEN stir well.

Sieve 1/2 c. cold mashed potato and mix in 2 unbeaten egg yolks and 1/2 c. thick sour cream; stir into yeast mixture and stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in 3 1/2 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat until smooth. Work in 3 c. (about) once-sifted bread flour to make a soft dough; grease top. Cover and set in a warm place, free from draft.

Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough, grease top, cover and again let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough and turn out on lightly-floured board; roll to 1/4" thickness and cut into 3 1/4" rounds and place, well apart, on greased cookie sheets. Using a floured thimble, make a deep depression in the centre of each bun. Brush rounds of dough with mixture of 1 slightly-beaten egg white and 1 tbs. water; sprinkle generously with granulated sugar. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Deepen depressions in buns and fill with thick raspberry jam. Bake in hot oven, 425°, about 15 minutes. Yield—5 dozen large buns.

Ben Hogan Is Winner

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—Golf's mighty little "come-back man," Ben Hogan, staged another of his incredible finishes Saturday, winning his third United States open championship with a 72-hole score of 267. Five strokes back of Bobby Locke of South Africa going into the final day, the wiry shotmaker from Fort Worth, Texas, climaxed his victory with a three under par 67, sinking a birdie 14-foot putt on the final green. Legion Wins Over Motors

Canadian Legion scored a decisive victory over the General Motors last evening in the North Star Football competition, winning by four goals to one. The Legion, as a result, is now but one point behind the so far unbeaten Heavy Battery in the league standing.

Firemen Have First Defeat

A potent batting attack by Rupert Radio and Electric last night put them in a first-place tie with Firemen in the Senior Softball League. Firemen were the victims by a score of 14-6 in dropping their first game of the season. The league will be lightened up even more after Wednesday night's game as the winner of the Celanese-North Star game will also move into the first place position.

Last night was a batters' night with every Radioman, except Webber, getting at least one hit and scoring. Art Olson was slowed down a bit by a bad back and the Radios took quick advantage of this by scoring six runs in the first inning. Olson was not helped any by some very erratic fielding either as his teammates threw wild far too often. Rusty Ford aided his own game by hitting two doubles, one with the bases full. Christenson also had two doubles, while Larry Matthews had 3 for 4. Firemen's leading hitters were Ray Spring and Franks with two apiece. On top of all this the Firemen lose their catcher, Red Baker, as he is returning to Vancouver.

and Boulter tried hard but Boulter would be of more value to the team in goal where his experience and ability made him one of last year's standouts. All in all it was a good game to watch. Dave Fyffe refereed.

Football Fact and Fiction

Wednesday evening's North Star league football game brings the Battery and the Motors up against each other. In spite of last night's loss the General Motors are feeling that they are due for a win and they would certainly like to hand the Battery their first defeat of the season.

Saturday evening brings the Kincolth native team to town to play against a selected city team and there will be an even bigger attraction on Sunday evening when a selected city team will play a team from the Canadian warship Ontario. Although this looks like a big week in football, players are asked to watch for the names of the selected teams. They will be announced as soon as the Football Association makes the selections.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

"Remember," Mr. Masters said to Mr. New, the eager kibitzer, "there are two principal reasons for unblocking. The first is to get out of your partner's way when he has a long suit to run. The second is to arrange for entries into your partner's hand."

Mr. Champion was the opening leader in today's deal. Having no entries it seemed useless to him to open his own long suit, clubs. Instead, he led the eight of spades, trying to hit a good suit in his partner's hand. Mr. Muzzy would have done better to duck this lead, holding back his ace to kill dummy's king later on.

But Mr. Muzzy isn't that good. When the five of spades was played from dummy he went right up with the ace.

Looking the dummy over, Mr. Masters saw it would be quite convenient to have two entries to the board. These entries would enable him to finesse hearts twice. And if the king were in Mr. Muzzy's hand, three heart tricks could be won. These plus three club tricks, two spades and a diamond would be enough for the contract.

So at the first trick Mr. Masters dropped the jack of spades under the ace, unblocking so that both the ten and the king on the board could win tricks in the suit.

Mr. Muzzy's spade return at trick two was taken by dummy's ten. Mr. Masters then led the deuce of hearts and finessed the jack. When this held he decided to try out the diamond suit.

He led the five of diamonds, hoping Mr. Champion had the king. But Mr. Muzzy smothered the queen with the king and fired back another spade.

This trick was won with the

SERVE IN THE CANADIAN ARMY ACTIVE FORCE WITH THE 27th Canadian Infantry Brigade Group

Canada is a magic word of freedom in many lands under the dark shadows of oppression. To keep this country free — to keep hope for a free world alive everywhere, we must help to discourage armed aggression wherever it threatens. This is our best hope for freedom — for world peace.

Thousands of Canadian men have joined the Active Force to make sure that we are able to discourage any threats to our way of life. We must all play our parts to make sure that Canada remains a bright word synonymous with — FREEDOM.

MEN ARE NEEDED IMMEDIATELY FOR

Dental Corps — Dentists are required as well as men qualified or ready to train as Dental Technicians and Assistants, Instrument repairers, clerks, and storemen.

Ordnance Corps — To obtain and distribute stores and fighting equipment, tradesmen of every description are needed — from storemen and ammunition examiners to tailors and shoemakers.

"RCEME" — The Electrical and Mechanical Engineers need automotive mechanics, fitters, tool-makers, instrument makers, welders, machinists — over fifty types of tradesmen.

Bandsmen — Men qualified in any musical instrument are required for military bands, this includes a special requirement for pipe bands.

Would Get Steel—

Pr. George Pulp Mill Priority

OTTAWA — Prince George's proposed pulp and paper industry moved another step closer to reality when Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce stated on the floor of the House of Commons that steel and other high priority materials would be available for such an industry at Prince George.

Newsprint was under discussion and Mr. Howe was being asked many questions with respect to possible supplies in Canada for a world hungry for raw pulp and white paper. With markets rising to unprecedented levels, Mr. Howe said that Canada could not begin to supply the demands made upon her by printers and publishers and rayon manufacturers everywhere.

George M. Murray, M.P., Cariboo, asked Mr. Howe if steel and other needed materials would be available in the event that a pulp and paper industry was established at Prince George. Mr. Howe told Mr. Murray that steel and other materials would be available for such an industry regardless of the restrictions recently placed upon these commodities.

This does not mean that Prince George is to have a pulp and paper industry right away but it certainly does open the gates wide for those interests which have been seeking recently to get such an industry launched in this area.

Big Mexicans See Cellulose

"BIENVENIDO A TERRASA" was the greeting extended to the Mexican industrialists, financiers and government officials in Terrace on Thursday, the guests of the Columbia Cellulose Company, according to the Omineca Herald.

George Schneider and George H. Richards, vice-presidents of the company from New York, and Dr. Ralph H. Ball, general manager of the company's Prince Rupert plant, with Harold Lynum, superintendent of the Terrace woods area, were hosts to the visitors there.

The party visited woods operations during the day before proceeding back to Prince Rupert where they went through the Watson Island pulp plant Thursday.

Leaving Mexico Tuesday morning on a special chartered DC4 the visitors were to be flown direct to Terrace from Vancouver but unfavorable weather conditions there made this impossible. Instead they came north by coastal plane and made the trip from Sandspit to Prince Rupert in a Canso. This was quite an experience for the southern visitors as it was the first time the majority of them had flown in a flying boat and the stormy weather along the coast added to the novelty.

After a late evening meal at Rupert the party went on to Terrace by car. It was unfortunate that their plane was unable to land at the Terrace airport. They had been told upon landing in Vancouver that theirs was the first plane to land in that city flying the Mexican flag. The distinguished guests had all the charm and gallantry of the Old World and were enthusiastic of the opportunity afforded them to visit this part of the country.

Sr. Joseph W. Meehan, Director of Cellulosa Nacional Sa., was in charge of the party, comprising: Sr. Lic. Adalberto Saldaña, Director General of Nacional Financiera Sa.

Sr. Lic. Manuel Sanchez Cuen, Minister of Economia.

Sr. Lic. Ernesto Santos Galindo, President of Churibusco Studios Sa. and noted jurist.

Sr. Jose de Jesus Taladrid, prominent Mexican industrialist.

Sr. Lic. Antonio Tamariz, Deputy Minister of Economia.

Sr. Rodrigo Vazquez Mendoza, prominent Mexican jurist and banker.

Sr. Jose E. Villalobos, Secretario de Agricultura.

Sr. Agustina Legorreta, Director General Banco Nacional.

Combine In Paper?

Investigation Is Under Way at Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Investigation has been launched by the government's combines branch into a possible combine in the paper industry, it was learned at the week-end.

The investigation takes in fine and coarse papers but it does not include newsprint.

While combines inquiries are secret until they have been reported upon finally, informants indicated that this one has developed into a full-fledged investigation before the combines commission.

It is understood hearings are to be held here this week before Combines Commissioner T. D. MacDonald.

The purpose of the investigation is to determine whether or not a combine in restraint of trade exists in the paper industry.

The commissioner reports his findings to the government which may launch prosecutions if a combine is found to exist.

The paper case, so far as it is known here, is one of two major investigations in progress. The other is an inquiry into the rubber industry. This was originally launched by Fred M. MacGregor, former combines investigator, and continued by Mr. MacDonald.

Census is "Coming on"

Call-backs Are Difficult for Enumerators and Take Time

Census-taking in the Prince Rupert area is "coming along fine," H. F. Glassey, Skeena census commissioner, said today. However, he did not think the counting would be completed much before a month.

There are 10 districts in Prince Rupert alone, with nine enumerators. Biggest hold-up, Mr. Glassey said, was the number of "call-backs" which had to be made.

"So many people are not in when the enumerator calls. In a lot of cases, both the husband and wife are working."

No information on the results of the census will be released locally. Vancouver may make a "tentative estimate" on the population of the province, but official figures must come from Ottawa after the counting is completed, said the commissioner.

Alex McRae is in charge of the Prince Rupert and coastal census area.

Prince George On Tourist Run

Now on her fourth summer season of Alaska cruises between Vancouver and Skagway, through Prince Rupert, the popular Canadian National steamer "Prince George" arrived here at 9 o'clock Sunday morning booked with 256 passengers from many sections of Canada and the United States. Ten persons disembarked here from the vessel which sailed at noon for Alaska.

During this summer the Prince George, which accommodates 260 first class passengers, will make eight 10-day voyages along the scenic inside passage route of British Columbia and Alaska. Ports of call include Ocean Falls and Prince Rupert, British Columbia, and the Alaskan cities of Ketchikan, Juneau, Skagway and Wrangell.

Southbound, the new ship makes a day-long side trip through British Columbia's scenic fjords, Douglas Channel and Gardner Canal, the latter now gaining world prominence following recent announcements concerning Aluminum Company of Canada's colossal $500,000,000 project in that area.

According to Canadian National officials, seven of the

One of the dead is a Cuban civilian guard while the other was a member of the United States Marine Corps.

Details of the shooting were not immediately disclosed.

LONDON (CP) — The 25th "Queen Mary Birthday Baby," Nicola Mary Hunka, born at the Queen Mary Maternity Home in Hampstead will receive free gift clothing from Canada. Queen Mary's 84th birthday was May 26.

eight Alaska voyages of the current schedule of the Prince George are heavily booked, a common situation ever since the ship started operating to Alaska in the summer of 1948. The last voyage, scheduled in Prince Rupert on August 30, still offers accommodation. However, indications are there will be little space left on SS Prince George for the final sailing to Skagway this summer.

the job at a special session next fall.

I listened in, a few days ago, on some of the British discussions on Old Age Pensions changes. Now they have such a shortage of skilled workers over there that they have changed the old age pension schemes to encourage workers not to retire, but to stay on the job.

They plan financial incentives for this. That is, they propose to pay you a bigger retirement allowance each month if you agree not to quit work, say, till you are 67 or 68; and not at 65, as formerly planned.

The longer you stay on the job, the bigger your monthly grant when you do quit. Such is the new idea.
