N TANKS NOW SHELLING SEOUL

Allies Closing On One-Time Capital

TOKYO (CP)—United Nations tanks shelled Seoul's blackened ruins today and howitzers, wheeling into easy range, plastered Chinese positions north of the frozen Han River.

Like Bunch Of Russians

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Truman today accused striking railroad workers of running out on an agreement like a bunch of Russians, and said he has ordered the U.S. Army to take necessary action for full operation of the railroads.

The President said the strike was "bad enough in other times; it is intolerable in an emergency." The Chicago-railroad work stoppage which began nine days ago appeared virtually ended in most parts of the U.S. today, but not in Chicago, the country's major rail centre.

More striking switchmen across the U.S. returned to work last night and today. But working rail crews in Chicago were about one-fifth of normal on 25 carriers.

Thousands of freight cars choked vast Chicago yards. Elsewhere, mail restrictions eased as rail services swung back to normal. Many freight embargoes were lifted.

TO BE DISMISSED Later the United States Army served notice on railwaymen that they will be dismissed unless they report for work by 4 p.m. Saturday or can prove they are physically unable to work. At the same time the Army placed in effect hourly wage increases effective as of last October 1 for men who have had no increases since September 1948. The wage increase will be of an interim nature pending final settlement of a dispute over wages and working conditions.

Cut Down On Metal

U.S. Makes Less Available For Autos, Stoves, Appliances

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—The United States government plans to cut by 25 to 40 per cent on April 1 the amount of basic metals going into automobiles, stoves and home appliances, officials of the National Production Authority disclosed today. The statement said it would be necessary to save steel, copper and aluminum for defence purposes.

Boat Sinks After Fire

Good work by Prince Rupert Fire Department in putting out a fire on the troller Doxee about five o'clock yesterday morning seemed ironically in vain as she sank later at the fishermen's floats.

When firemen reached the scene, the inside of the cabin was afire and the boat was at the outside of the floats. Two firemen boarded the vessel with fire extinguishers and kept the blaze well under control while the boat was being brought around the shore side of the floats to simplify fire fighting. The fire was then quickly extinguished. Mattresses and clothes had been burned and the inside of the cabin scorched, but otherwise little damage had been caused.

However, in shifting the position of the boat, she had become hung up on a rock. The tide was near its low point but still on the ebb. As the water receded, the boat tipped over and sank. Immediate salvage operations refloated the Doxee. The boat is owned by J. Stubbert.

Puerto Rican troops seized a commanding height only 4 1/2 miles south of the former South Korean Republic capital. The entire allied line advanced another mile or more toward Seoul. Eighth Army has estimated more than 57,000 Red casualties, most of them in the western sector, since the limited offensive opened two weeks ago. Fifteen miles were gained in the same period.

Red resistance was crumbling. In some sectors there was no opposition. However, there are indications of large new enemy forces being brought up from Manchuria.

Not Satisfied With Life Term

OTTAWA—Maj.-General Kurt Meyer, sentenced to be shot for war crimes involving the shooting of Canadian prisoners of war in Normandy and subsequently given a life term in Dorchester, has appealed to the Canadian government for clemency.

COLLISION KILLS THREE TORONTO—Three persons were killed early today at Manila, 50 miles north of here, when a Canadian National train struck a car at a level crossing.

83 WRECK TOLL NEW YORK—The death toll as a result of the train wreck at Woodbridge, New Jersey, yesterday rose to 83 today. The Pennsylvania Railroad has admitted that there were no caution lights out to reduce speed on the bridge nor had the temporary overpass, which collapsed, been tested. The engineer has admitted that he was travelling 50 miles an hour when he knew it should have been 25 miles.

B.C. RENT CONTROL VICTORIA—It is intimated in authoritative quarters here that the legislature may be asked to consider the question of the province entering the field of rent control which the federal government is expected to relinquish.

Careful About Thirty-Eighth

OTTAWA (CP)—The question of United Nations forces re-crossing the 38th parallel in Korea, if and when it is again reached, is something that should be treated with the greatest care, Minister of External Affairs L. B. Pearson said today.

He did not express an official opinion one way or the other but said he understood General MacArthur still had authority to cross the parallel.

There should also be extreme care in applying of sanctions against Communist China until all efforts of the good offices committee had been exhausted.

BITTER ISSUE SETTLED—

Steel Nationalization Approved By Commons

LONDON (CP)—Britain's Labor government yesterday turned back by a 10-vote margin the attempt by Conservative leader Winston Churchill to force a general election over the government's plan to take control of the steel industry.

This outcome means 92 major firms in British iron and steel business will pass into the hands of the government holding company, British Iron and Steel Corporation, on February 15.

Labor mustered 308 votes in the House of Commons to 298 for the opposition as the House rejected the motion by Winston Churchill stating that nationalization of steel "is not in the public interest and should be reversed." The former Prime Minister termed the move "crazy and unpatriotic."

Need For Aluminum Is Urgent

WASHINGTON (CP)—Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer said the aluminum we can, as fast as we can, as cheaply as we can, and from wherever we can, and that certainly would not exclude Canada," he declared.

Swyer told the committee he had engaged in no discussions with Alcan on United States priorities assistance or future contracts for the proposed new production. He said he had some discussions with Tade Minister Howe, who was linked by a previous committee testimony with purported efforts by U.S. officials to push the Alcan proposal at the expense of the domestic aluminum industry.

Herring Run Is Still On

Herring in large quantities were spotted in this district yesterday morning by A. J. Whitmore, chief supervisor of fisheries for the west coast. Mr. Whitmore was aboard a departmental vessel on his way here to attend the annual meeting of fisheries inspectors for the northern area.

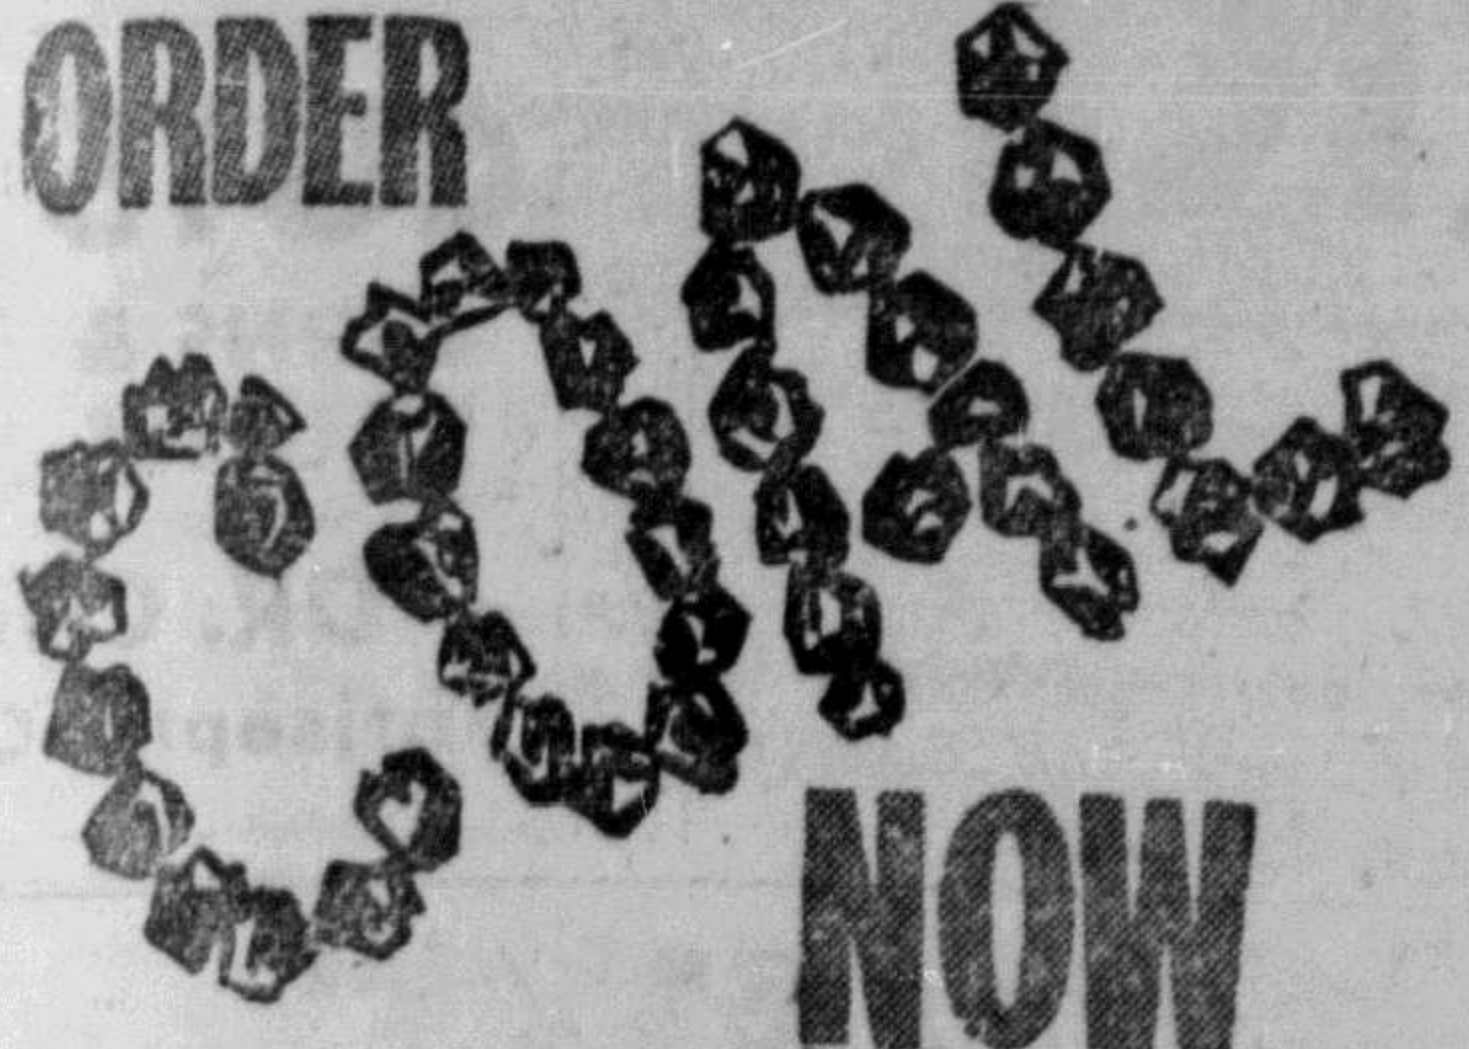

It has been a remarkable season all the way around. Mr. Whitmore said in an interview yesterday.

A record B.C. herring catch was made in Gasboat Passage at Kitkatla Inlet. The same Gasboat Passage yielded nearly all the season's quota of 30,000 tons and the extension of 20,000 tons. Fifty thousand tons of herring were taken from District 2 in less than 30 days after the resumption of fishing in the new year. Quality of fish throughout was satisfactory.

At the end of the season the oil yield held up to about 14 to 15 gallons per ton of fish compared with seven or eight gallons at the close of normal seasons. The fish are still present in the district in quantity after the extensive fishing since the beginning of the new year. Inspectors worked in close conjunction with the research board, and the northern area was well protected, he said.

The west coast of Vancouver Island has not fared so well, Mr. Whitmore said. Fish have approached the shore in quantity, but bad weather and wild fish prevented the fishermen from getting them in. The 25,000 tons caught this year is the least quantity caught in three years. One season the catch amounted to 57,000 tons.

Fish Officers Meeting Here

Arriving in the city yesterday to attend the annual meeting of fisheries inspectors for the northern area was chief supervisor of fisheries for the west coast A. J. Whitmore. Also here to attend the meeting are Dr. R. E. Foerster, in charge of salmon investigation at the Pacific biological station at Nanaimo, and J. F. Hutchison, in charge of the marine section at Vancouver.

Mr. Whitmore is no stranger to Prince Rupert. He worked on the west coast with the department for 12 years before going back to Ottawa. During that time he visited Prince Rupert frequently.

Mr. Hutchison was a long-time inspector for the Naas River and during the war was a marine officer with the RCAF.

The meeting here is dealing with administrative problems, enforcement generally, experiences of the past season, reviewing all matters and planning for the coming season. Last year field personnel from all districts in the province met at Vancouver. This year Mr. Whitmore is having a series of meetings in the different districts.

The meeting for Vancouver Island will be held at Nanaimo, and for the Fraser at New Westminster. All will be two-day sessions.

Martin Erickson and Peter Husoy of Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association are sailing on the Prince George tonight to attend a meeting of the Vancouver Fishermen's Co-operative Association.

S. J. Collins of the head office of Canadian Fishing Company, Vancouver, leaves tonight on the Prince George on his return south after a business visit here.

This Dynasty Still Solid

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (P)—While dynasties have been falling all over the world, a monarchy has been growing steadily stronger in the South Pacific in the little kingdom of Tonga. Even more novel in the modern world is the fact that Tonga, a British protectorate for 50 years, is satisfied and does not want its relations with Britain changed in any way.

Tonga is preparing to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the ratification of its treaty of friendship with Britain on Feb. 16, 1901.

In a statement on the treaty, the country's ruler, Queen Salote, says: "For the people of Tonga it has proved to be a blessing, as, with the knowledge during two world wars that we have been protected by Great Britain, her Dominions and her Allies, we were able to proceed in security with our normal life. At the same time, I am proud to say that my country has been able to render assistance to the cause of freedom."

"It is my sincere hope and wish that the very pleasant and happy relations which have existed for the past 50 years between Great Britain and my kingdom of Tonga will continue undisturbed."

MANAGES OWN AFFAIRS
Tonga has its own postage stamps, passports and currency. It manages its own affairs entirely except that under the treaty with Britain it has agreed to accept advice of a British consul and agent in its relations with other nations. The consul also approves the appointment of Europeans selected for service with the Tongan government and advisors on financial matters.

Otherwise the 45,000 Polynesians in the 150 atolls and islands which make up the kingdom of Tonga, or the Friendly Isles, are governed by a British-type constitution with a royal dynasty, a cabinet, privy council and elected parliament.

Queen Salote has been on the throne for 33 years, though she is still only 51. Her personal popularity is immense and the celebrations of her 50th birthday last year were marked by remarkable demonstrations of loyalty and affection. Finely proportioned to her exceptional height of six feet, one inch, she is every inch a queen, gracious and gentle in manner and stately in bearing.

She is a direct descendant in the 21st generation of a distinguished chief who founded the Tui Kanakubolo dynasty about 1610 and is the great-granddaughter of King Tupou I who introduced the existing pattern of democratic monarchy in Tonga in 1875. The Queen jealously guards the existing democratic constitution.

FOND OF AUCKLAND
Queen Salote speaks English with perfect accent and idiom. She pays regular visits to Auckland, N.Z., where she lives quietly and unpretentiously and is now so well-known that Aucklanders treat her as one of themselves.

The heir to the throne, Queen Salote's elder son Prince Tungi, has recently become prime minister after serving an apprenticeship in other ministerial posts. A massive man of well over 300 pounds, he is a shy, scholarly person. Educated in Australia, he has a law degree from Sydney University.

Its mild, healthy climate, free from malaria, well-run civil service, low taxation and freedom from dissension make Tonga indeed a happy country to live in. Every man on reaching the age of 16 is allocated by the crown an area of about eight acres on which to grow crops and a small town lot to build a house. On his eight acres he can grow sufficient to provide for his family and have a little over for pocket money. There is no question of a housing shortage when coconut palm and other native plants provide an inexhaustible supply of building materials.

But to those who are already thinking of packing for Tonga, it should be mentioned that the Friendly Isles welcome white people as holidaymakers but not as permanent residents.

Flatfishing Having Best Season In Years Locally

Flatfishing in the past two weeks has been good news. Boats have already caught nearly as much fish as was caught in the whole four-week season. Flatfishing was a failure in both 1949 and 1950.

Ole Skog, skipper of the Telma S., said yesterday there is the best availability of fish in Skidegate inlet he has ever seen. Average time to load boats has ranged from 1 1/2 to three days.

To date, 10 trips have landed at Prince Rupert 500,000 pounds of butter soles and 50,000 pounds of flounders. Butter soles have been bringing five cents a pound and flounder, three cents.

High trip of the season is Combat, Capt. Nels Nelson, which landed a gross load of 79,000 pounds January 30.

B. C. Packers and Atlin Fisheries have taken all the fish landed here to date.

According to both fishermen and companies, the fish this year are of the best size and condition since 1944.

Boats fishing for flatfish and soles are the Thelma S., Caroline Maria, Capt. F. Gale; Combat; Zenardi, Capt. Charles W. 10; Capt. Percy Allen; B. C. Producer, Capt. Kohse; Skeena Maid, Capt. Haan; Hero No. 1, Capt. Berg.
