General MacArthur Dramatically Presents His Side of Case to Congress APPEASING OF COMMUNISM IN ASIA WOULD UNDERMINE SAFETY OF EUROPE

...EXPANDS—While four-power delegates in Paris and Nations representatives at Lake Success thrash out of world peace in Western Europe and the north Russia again seeks expansion in "southwest Asia," where it marches with the free world. In Persia, where there Allied bases, local troops have been called out to safeguard regions from the violence of mob hysteria which Communist propaganda and agents, has disrupted entry. The maps above shows that in each area where by proxy has been threatened, or, as in Korea, it has so far been blocked by Allied deployment. British air bases in the Mediterranean and Near East may have Soviet military intervention in southwest Asia, but if frame a satellite then a Soviet-controlled Persian Gulf danger all Indian Ocean shipping. A Russian diplomatic in Persia could be the preliminary step for an eventual enveloping movement aimed at encircling the entire subcontinent.

No Hope For Men in Sub

PORTSMOUTH, England (CP)—Long silence from the bottom of the English Channel cut all practical hope today for the rescue of 75 men entombed in the lost British submarine Afray. The Admiralty says it has received no reports to justify hopes that the men might still be found alive.

Resignation of Quebec Senator

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. C. E. Ferland of Joliette, Quebec, aged 59, member of the Senate since 1945, resigned his seat today. He represented the electoral district of Shawinigan. He gave no reason for his resignation.

Reception At 'Frisco

Bay City Gave its Heart To Gen. MacArthur Yesterday

SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—San Francisco yesterday gave its heart to General Douglas MacArthur in a thundering welcome in which the famed soldier declared he will not enter politics. He made this dramatic announcement during a riotous greeting by at least 300,000 people who jammed the downtown streets and Civic Centre. It dwarfed the noisy reception he received when he returned to his homeland the preceding night for the first time in fourteen years. "I cannot tell you what it means to be home," the deposed General said. "How I longed for it, dreamed of it through the long dreary years abroad."

And then the General closed his brief speech on an unexpected note: "I have just been asked if I intended to enter politics. My reply was 'no'."

"I have no political aspirations whatsoever. I do not intend to run for any political office and I hope that my name will never be used in a political way."

John Lesko was admitted to the Prince Rupert General Hospital yesterday afternoon after sustaining injuries in an accident at Watson Island.

BULLETINS

WINTER IN CALGARY
CALGARY—Continuing blizzard had brought 9 1/2 inches of snow to Calgary by today. Temperature is around 20 above.

ELEVATOR FIRE
PONOKA, Alberta—Damage estimated at $200,000 was done when fire destroyed a grain elevator here today. Ninety-six thousand bushels of grain were lost. A nearby elevator was saved.

GOVERNMENT SUSTAINED
LONDON—The British government was sustained on another division today. By a vote of 291 to 280 a Conservative motion which would have reduced the salary of Defence Minister Shinwell was rejected. This was the means by which the Opposition sought to disapprove of the appointment of an American instead of a British admiral to supreme naval command under the Atlantic Pact.

CASUALTY LIST
OTTAWA—The 23rd Canadian soldier has been killed in Korean fighting, according to a casualty list issued today. He is Pte. R. B. Fair-service of Quebec.

"SPLIT" SEASON ALLOWED

Underfished Sections of Area No. 3 Being Made Available Late in July

Important Change in Regulations

Halibut fishing regulations for 1951, just announced by the International Fisheries Commission, include an important change in the establishment of two recently underfished sections of previous Area 2 as separate areas and the opening of these in late summer for 10 days commencing July 26—the time when they used to yield their greatest catches.

Among minor changes is a reduction in the pre-season period during which vessels may have their licences validated for fishing in the various areas, to reduce opportunities for illegal pre-season fishing.

The coast is divided into seven regulatory areas. Area 1A includes the waters south of Cape Blanco, Oregon. Area 1B lies between Cape Blanco and Willapa Harbor, Washington. Area 2A includes those waters between Willapa Harbor and Cape Spencer, Alaska, that are not contained in Areas 2B and 2C. Area 2B includes the waters in southern Hecate Strait, off British Columbia. Area 2C includes the waters between Cape Adair and Dixon Entrance, off southeastern Alaska. Area 3 extends from Cape Spencer to a line running true west from Cape Sarichef on Unimak Island. Area 4 includes those waters of the Bering Sea lying north of the Cape Sarichef line. A catch limit of 25,500,000 pounds is applied to Area 2A. The Area 3 limit of 28,000,000 pounds and the Area 4 limit of 500,000 pounds remain the same as in 1950. No catch limits are set for Areas 1A, 1B, 2B and 2C.

The fishing season is again opened on May 1, except in Areas 2B and 2C which are opened for 10 days commencing on July 26. This season ends in Areas 1B and 2A when the Area 2A catch limit is taken, and in Areas 1A and 3 when the Area 3 catch limit is reached. Area 4 closes at the same time as Area 3, unless it is closed earlier by reason of the attainment of its own catch limit.

Vandenberg Passes Away

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (CP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg died last night.

Death came quietly to Michigan's senior Republican senator after a long illness 27 days after his 67th birthday.

Vandenberg had been fighting tenaciously to regain his health since surgery at Ann Arbor on October 3, 1949, for removal of the upper lobe of the left lung.

He recovered and returned briefly to his Senate duties. In April, 1950, he underwent a second major operation in Washington for removal of a tumor of the spine.

Vandenberg won note as an outstanding advocate of the bipartisan approach to foreign affairs in the United States.

Capture Big Dam

Allies Now Advancing Northward From Hwachon

TOKYO (CP)—Allied troops today launched a limited attack north of the newly captured Hwachon power dam and reservoir on the east-central front in North Korea.

The Allies seized the big hydro-electric grid on Wednesday after the Reds, who had defended it stubbornly for days, slipped away to the north.

Thousands of Allied soldiers poured into the dam and reservoir area.

United Nations riflemen struck north from Hwachon at the west end of the reservoir. They traded fire with an enemy group of undisclosed strength but later withdrew.

The Chinese Reds pulled back all along the central front in mountainous area west of the reservoir.

Rain, smoke and haze made air observation impossible but United Nations troops patrolled aggressively far ahead of their lines in those craggy heights without opposition.

Heavy rain slowed the Allied push on the western front.

Session Is Prorogued

Stormy Session of Legislature At Victoria Ends

VICTORIA (CP)—Second session of British Columbia's 22nd legislature—one of the longest on record—prorogued last night after nearly two months of turmoil.

Prorogation came at 1:06 p.m. Pacific Standard Time.

The session, which saw the Liberal-Progressive Conservative coalition lose two members in a battle over compulsory hospital insurance, had opened February 20.

Lieutenant Governor Clarence Wallace gave royal assent to some 113 bills, about half a dozen short of the number introduced.

The biggest budget in British Columbia's history was approved, heralding ordinary expenditures during the coming year amounting to more than $118,000,000 and expenditures out of borrowed capital totalling $36,000,000.

Most contentious piece of legislation in years, the bill raising hospital insurance payments caused political upheaval both in the House and throughout British Columbia.

W. A. C. Bennett and Mrs. Tilly Rolston, both Conservative coalitionists, crossed the floor of the House and announced they would stand as independents. They said they had lost faith in the government.

Fading Old Soldier Makes Farewell Scene For Solons

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—General Douglas MacArthur told Congress today that the United States cannot appease Communism in Asia "without simultaneously undermining our efforts to halt it in Europe."

The Communist threat is a global one, MacArthur declared, and added: "We cannot divide our effort."

In effect this was a direct challenge to the Truman administration's position that Europe must be the place where this country will concentrate its efforts against Communism.

It was MacArthur's disagreement with this view—his contention that greater efforts must be put into the Korean war—that led President Truman to dismiss him from his Far Eastern command eight days ago.

The five-star general was given a swelling, three-minute ovation when he came into the House chamber before a joint meeting of the House and Senate. He wore a field uniform and no medals.

"I do not stand here as an advocate for any partisan cause for the issues are fundamental and reach quite beyond the realm of partisan consideration," he said. "They must be resolved on the highest plane of national interest if our course is to prove sound and our future protected."

MacArthur said too: "I address you with neither rancor nor bitterness in the fading twilight of life with but one purpose in mind—to serve my country."

Views Shared

MacArthur said his views on the Far East "have been fully shared by practically every military leader including the United States joint chiefs of staff."

He said that the Pacific is a shield for all the Americas and all free lands of the Pacific (Continued on page 3)

Split Season Here

AFTER long advocacy and some difference of opinion, the Pacific Coast halibut fishery is getting its split season this year or an interesting compromise therefor. In addition to the customary quotas for Areas No. 2 and No. 3, the principal fishing grounds, two sub-areas have been set up in recently underfished sections of Area No. 2 and these will be opened for ten days, commencing July 26, for unrestricted fishing. A heavy concentration of vessels may be expected in these handy areas during that period and the experiment will be watched with interest.

This is one of the most distinctive departures that have been made in the regulations of the International Fisheries Commission which for so many years now have been of stereotyped character.

The banks thus given this mid-season opening are fairly contiguous to Prince Rupert and much of the fish coming therefrom should find its way to this port.

In addition to making available areas which, after years of automatic protection, might be considered now of almost virgin character for fishing exploitation, the results may also lead to further scientific deductions.

The Deputies' Conference

THE DEPUTIES of the foreign ministers of the Four Powers have been sitting in Paris for nearly seven weeks. They started work on March 5 and, since their allotted task is simply to draw up an agenda for a meeting of the four ministers themselves, it begins to seem to the ordinary man that they have been an unconscionable time about it. How can there be such difficulty in producing what, after all, is merely a list of subjects for discussion?

But, when you come to think of it, the menu (though it is merely a list of dishes) can determine the whole character of a dinner. And what lies behind these protracted talks about the menu is precisely the character of the dinner. The agenda can be decisive for the nature of the conference itself.

Now, from the very beginning of the exchange of preliminary notes, the three Western Powers have had one thing quite clearly in mind. If a meeting of the Four is to have any value at all it must have for its purpose the ending—or at any rate the easing—of the existing tension between the Soviet Union and the West. It must get down to the roots of the trouble which affects the whole world today.

It would be useless—perhaps worse than useless—to hold another meeting like those unhappy ones of 1947. On each of these occasions—in Moscow in the spring, in London in the winter—Molotov opened the ball with a vehement and unrestrained attack on the policies of the Western Allies in Germany. That set the tone. There was, and could be, no recovery.

At this deputies' conference Andre Gromyko has made speech after speech on matters of "substance" and of acute controversy. And it must be recalled that it is entirely his responsibility that the proceedings of the conference have been for all practical purposes public. He has used these six weeks to provide material for a day-by-day anti-western propaganda campaign in the Soviet Union and its satellite states. So one begins to wonder—as one wondered in 1947—whether this is not, in the eyes of the Soviet government, the primary object of the whole enterprise.

FIRST LOOK AT ISRAEL

JERUSALEM, Israel—All my life I have wanted to be in Jerusalem on Easter Sunday, and this year I almost made it. But BOAC engine trouble, a missed plane connection and a lost week intervened.

But here I am in Jerusalem, just a few days late. Have already had a quick look at Tel Aviv, a city like Hollywood, minus the movie stars and the mazzuma the latter draw in from all corners of the earth, including Jerusalem, now running "Gone With the Wind."

A FIRST LOOK AT THE ISRAEL of 1951 is surprising and exhilarating.

Those of us who were saturated with the Bible stories in our earliest years indelibly carry a mental picture of the Holy Land of ancient times. The names and the places to which the names are attached are still here. But instead of a land of camels, shepherds, women with water jugs on head and all the other trimmings of the ancient East, this is a land giving birth to what will surely be among the most modern of all the modern civilizations on this earth. And that, not many decades hence.

HENCE THE ANTI-CLIMAX

at first—then the great surge of exhilaration when you finally realize what is happening here. For in all the comings in and goings out of the children of Israel from this land, surely this one is the strangest. For now the children of the eighteenth generation—even the hundredth, perhaps—the descendants of the remnants who fled when the Romans literally wiped Jerusalem and its temple off the face of the earth—they are coming back. But most of them are coming back with the knowhow of all the advanced civilizations in which they have lived and which in fact, they frequently helped create.

LAST NIGHT AT SUNSET I heard happy voices, for they were celebrating some function commemorating Queen Esther's feat when she saved the children of Israel in an earlier exile. Now, before 8 o'clock in the morning, hammers ring out what is still the happiest music in my ears—for it reminds me of my boyhood days in Hamilton, Ontario when build, build, build was the accepted order of this life.

Here they build, build, build, build! The tempo is amazing. Last week, for instance, they brought 125,000 new acres of land into cultivation. It is all in the Negev wilderness whence I am bound in an hour from now. Most of the Jews who will live thereabouts are from the Yemen, at the southerly tip of the Arabian peninsula.

sula—primitive, rugged types at whom some of the ultra-westernized Hebrews look a bit agast. But that land, which had never been plowed before in known times was turned by fleets of ultra-modern tractors. And everywhere I go in this land I see evidence of the same trend.

Some of it is downright funny. Here in Jerusalem American capital (non-Jewish) is building a modern boot and shoe factory more modern than the most modern installations in the U.S.A. The instructors are southern whites, who talk as if they still carried unswallowed mouthfuls of honey as they drawl their speech. The workmen are mostly Jews from North Africa, speaking only Arabic. They will carry their practice shoes up to the instructor—blurring out their troubles. The Southerners don't get a word of what they say, but see the point.

"Shuah you-all are holding it the wrong way. Now look you heah. See—like this!"

ON THE DRIVE UP FROM Tel Aviv to Jerusalem you pass through the country where Samson did his major stuff, such as the slaying of 16,000 with the jawbone of an ass. (At that, he was a niker compared with some asses' jawbones at UN.) But beside the road are the charred and rusted remains of the 40 trucks which did not get through when the Israeli kept open the 1948 lifeline from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem.

You stand with the Jewish sentry at an embattled fort called Rachel's Tomb, and he lends you his binoculars so that you can have a better look at the hills where the shepherd heard the angels sing of peace on earth, goodwill toward men. Between you and the church which is said to mark the spot where the Prince of Peace was born are armed Arab—barbarians and no man's land. And still no peace—not even here. All around are marks of recent war, and unending two-sided vigilance against another. But behind you are the sound of the hammers and the shouts of the builders of the new Jerusalem.

TENANT'S DILEMMA

Editor,
Daily News.
Regarding landlords, we are living in three rooms for which we pay $30 a month and half light bill and heat water, keep bathroom clean and for the six months we have occupied rooms almost every night have had to listen to pounding of nails. Now we are given two weeks to vacate and due to lack of housing I may be forced to return to Vancouver leaving my husband here and store our furniture. All I ask is, is it fair? Seems landlords can do pretty much as they please. The only reason I can see if they want more rent.

halibut at any season of the year, provided such tagged halibut are brought to the attention of a commission representative or enforcement officer while the tag is still attached.

The International Fisheries Commission was established by treaty between the United States and Canada to rebuild the stocks of halibut on the banks of the North Pacific. These stocks had been so seriously depleted by unrestricted fishing that fishing had become unprofitable. Under regulations by the commission, the stocks on these northwest banks have been improved until they now afford the finest halibut fishing in the world and provide greatly increased annual catches. The work of the commission is an outstanding demonstration of what can be accomplished by practical international co-operation and sound fisheries management.

The commission consists of four members, two from each country. Present members are George R. Clark of the Canadian Department of Fisheries, Ottawa, and George W. Nickerson of Prince Rupert, for Canada.

ada; and Milton C. James of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D.C., and Edward W. Allen of Seattle, for the United States. Mr. Allen and Mr. Clark are chairman and secretary, respectively, during the current year.
The halibut regulations are based upon the results of biological and statistical investigations carried out by the mission's staff of fisheries scientists. They are subject to year by year investigation and effect of the year's catch upon the stocks of halibut by annual conferences of representatives of the fishermen, vessel dealers in the major ports.

PJA Hears of Masset Work

Mrs. Sam Simpson, president of the Masset P-TA, told a meeting of King Edward Parent-Teacher Association about their work on the Island. Mrs. Simpson remarked that their schools are very outmoded and she was pleased to see that their plebiscite had been passed and they would soon be joining in a school building program. Mrs. Simpson received a copy of the convention report to take with her to Masset.

Mrs. John Bowman, delegate to the convention, gave a very interesting and comprehensive report of proceedings. At the end of her report Mrs. Bowman presented Mrs. Henry Lindseth with a diploma for completing the "Leadership" course.

Tape recordings by Joe Goscoe of Grades 4, 5 and 6, were heard. The songs were those being rehearsed for the Music Festival.

Mrs. P. Mark, president of King Edward P-TA, was in the chair.

Delicious refreshments were served at the end of the meeting by Mrs. B. Roald and her committee.

Regular business was attended to and reports heard. Members were asked to keep election of officers in mind, this to take place at the annual meeting in May.

Convention Impressive

Mrs. J. Bowman Reports 'To Borden Street P.T.A.

Borden Street School Parent-Teacher Association had one of the most profitable meetings of the year last evening when it heard with appreciation a splendid account of the annual convention of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation given by the official delegate from Prince Rupert, Mrs. J. Bowman.

Mrs. Bowman referred to the high standard of thought that was evident all through the convention, the fine calibre of the leaders and officers and the competent addresses by guest speakers. The great value and power of the organization, she said, had made a lasting impression on her and would be an inspiration to any who might be fortunate enough to be sent as a delegate on future occasions. The speaker also found time to report on the disposition of various resolutions.

Principal J. S. Wilson, on behalf of the association, expressed the thanks of the members for the informative and interesting report.

Committee reports heard at the business session of the local P.T.A. included Mrs. Watmough's financial statement, Mrs. Galbraith's report on the meeting of the Cancer Society, requests for ushers in connection with the Music and Drama festival and for billets for out-of-town contestants and the selection of a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for the annual meeting.

Mrs. A. J. Dominato was in the chair and Mrs. M. Greissel was secretary.

Thanks were tendered to Mrs. Raabe, convener of the Hot Cross Bun sale prior to the Easter vacation, and her committee. Rev. G. Sieber, chairman of the special committee to report on the matter of installing a centrally-controlled public address system or a combination radio and phonograph, presented statements outlining each proposal and the majority preferred the portable radio-phonograph.

Mrs. Greissel and Mrs. Cobb were in charge of the refreshments which were much enjoyed after the conclusion of the business session.

MacARTHUR PRESENTS

Ocean area. He restated four points of his strategic policy for the Orient. They were:

1. Economic blockade of China.
2. Naval blockade of the China coast.
3. Removal of restrictions on aerial reconnaissance over China.
4. Removal of restrictions on ground forces of Nationalist China "with logistical support from the United States."

This last meant using Nationalist troops of Chiang Kai-Shek with United States furnishing the supplies.

MacArthur said he had called for reinforcements in Korea but was informed they were not available. He said he had warned that, unless permission was granted to bomb Manchurian bases, blockade the China coast and use Nationalist forces on Formosa, the position of his command "forbade victory" in Korea.

Bluntly, MacArthur said that intervention of Chinese Communists in the North Korean fighting had called for "realistic adjustment of military strategy and such decisions have not been forthcoming."

Those who would appease Red China "are blind," said the general.

He declared that Soviet Russia would not necessarily mesh her power with Red China if United Nations forces carried the war further. Any new enemy, he said, will strike only if it feels the balance is in her favor on world scale.

He had declared that Formosa must not fall into enemy hands. DRAMATIC

MacArthur concluded dramatically with recollection of the old soldier's words: "Old soldiers never die. They just fade away."

He said he was closing out 52 years of military service with that ballad in mind.

"I now close my military career and just fade away," he said feelingly. "An old soldier who tried to do his duty as God gave him the light to see that duty."

MacArthur's appearance before the lawmakers was televised all over the major networks to an audience of uncounted millions. Millions more heard his voice over the radio.

The White House said in advance that President Truman would not turn on the television set in his office and that no one from the White House was going to hear MacArthur.

At the hour of the speech, the President was conferring in his office, with Secretary of State Acheson.

Truman has held himself personally aloof from all ceremonies here for the general.

Taxi Men Talk Over Problems

Taxi fares, meters and parking were discussed at a meeting of the city cab operators in the city hall Tuesday night. Of the 24 taxi operators represented at the meeting, 17 voted to install meters in cabs. The operators automatically go up with the installation of meters, the executive of the Taxi Association pointed out. Parking decisions will be held Tuesday night, when the cabmen will have a final meeting. Some controversy with city police over double parking at show time by cabs in front of theatres will be further discussed, taximen reported.

Louis Knutson was chairman of the meeting.

Silver Salvage In Photo Shop

How would you like to have a silver mine right in your own shop?

Jack Wrathall has and says it's paying off, too, even though he has to buy the silver first.

A photographer, Jack develops a lot of film. The light-sensitive material carries a heavy coating of silver which, after the film is exposed, "develops" into a negative picture. After the film leaves the developer it must go in an acid or hypo bath which removes the remaining silver that has not been attacked by the developer. And here is where Jack gets back part of his investment.

A copper core is left in the hypo tank on which the silver collects, a little at a time, but in a month there is usually about three pounds. Jack ships it back to the manufacturers of film at current rate for silver of 95 cents an ounce "less deductions."

"At any rate, I get about $40 to $50 a year out of it which would otherwise go down the drain," the photographer grinned.

LONDON (CP)—Materials used to mark the white traffic lines on British highways are so scarce that the Transport Ministry has asked municipalities to paint new lines only when absolutely necessary.

To Enforce Regulations

Tardiness This Year Hampers Music and Drama Planning

Due to late entries and cancellations the Prince Rupert and District Music and Drama Festival regulations will be "more severe next year," Mrs. E. W. Becker told a meeting in the Civic Centre last night. Program chairman R. G. Moore reported that the deadline for entries hadn't been adhered to, even after the extension of time. Due to changes in entries—two cancellations from the Prince Rupert Little Theatre and one from Booth-Memorial High School plays, the program committee is re-making the stencils. There were also late entries from the district.

Mrs. J. S. Black, president of the local Little Theatre, said that the royalty companies would not allow part production of their spring play to be presented at the festival.

The second entry from the Little Theatre, a one-act drama, had to be cancelled due to the inability to get a director for the production.

Before the meeting closed reports were presented by Rudolph Olson and Mrs. W. S. Kergin.

Billing of outside visitors was discussed, with some anxiety being expressed by the executive as to the response being shown.

Distribution of tickets was planned with Arrive-Boas to be assisted by F. J. Skinner.

In Canon Basil S. Procter's absence, A. D. Aldridge is substitute production manager.

Mask Leftover Meats

DESPITE the rising prices of meats, we can't eliminate them from our diet; but we can save pennies by buying cheaper cuts and by making use of every bit of leftovers.

There need be no sacrifice of flavor, however. Second-day meats can be glamor-guised as easily as not.

Next time you have a cold end of beef or pork roast, whip up a Rechauffe of Beef or Pork—thin slices of ready-cooked meats tenderized in a rich, subtly spiced tomato sauce and served in a ring of steaming rice.

Serve it to your family—or even to guests—and not a one will suspect (unless you tell them because you're so impressed yourself) that it was concocted from leftovers.

It's the tomato sauce that works the magic. It makes second-day meat more succulent, more downright delicious than you could ever imagine.

And when you discover how quickly this sauce is made, you'll really decide it's a magic sauce. This wonderful blend is based on—believe it or not—condensed cream of tomato soup, the kind you buy in tins at your local grocery store. The soup itself, just as it comes from the tin, is so expertly spiced and blended, that all you need do is add a few rings of onion, a touch of rosemary, and a sprinkling of vinegar.

BEEF RECHAUFFE IN RICE RING
1 1/4 cups uncooked rice
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1 cup sliced onions
2 10-ounce cans condensed
cream of tomato soup, un-
diluted
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon rosemary, crushed
2 teaspoons vinegar
3/4 pound cold beef or pork, thinly sliced (2 cups firmly packed)

Wash rice, add to rapidly boiling water, salted with 2 teaspoons salt. Boil uncovered 15 minutes or until tender. Drain, rinse to wash off loose starch and place in buttered 1 quart ring mold.
Keep warm. Brown onion in butter. Add remaining ingredients except meat and simmer 5 minutes. Add meat and heat thoroughly. Turn rice out of mold.
Fill centre with meat and sauce.
Serves 6.

If there's both a little ham and a little beef in your refrigerator —but not enough of either for another meal—try combining the two for Cannelon of Beef, individual meat loaves smothered in a rich-red tomato sauce similar to the one used for your beef and rice.

CANNELON OF BEEF
1 1/2 cups cold beef
3/4 cup cold ham
1 medium sized onion
2 stalks celery
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Say what you want about Mr. Champion, he really plays his cards beautifully. On today's hand, for example, he made a rather sensational hold-up play which was essential to the fulfillment of his contract.

The bidding:

Mr. Masters' opening lead was the jack of spades, Mr. Abel played the king and Mr. Champion played the five!

Mr. Muzzy, who was kibitzing the game, let out a yelp of disapproval. This was about the silliest play he had ever seen.

But Mr. Champion had figured this way. To make his bid, he had to knock out two enemy high cards—the ace and king of diamonds. And he had only two stoppers in spades. If he played one of them on the first trick, the enemy would have the jump on him. They would be able to set their best suit before he could set his.

Why not let Mr. Abel hold the first trick? If he had a spade to return and Mr. Masters followed suit, that would mean that neither opponent could have more than four spades. And if Mr. Masters had started with five spades, Mr. Abel's king was a singleton and he couldn't return the danger suit at all.

Very sound reasoning and it paid off handsomely. At trick two Mr. Abel led the jack of hearts which dummy's ace won.

Pinch basil
1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 small tomatoes, chopped
1 10-ounce can condensed
cream of tomato soup, un-
diluted
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup minced onion
1/2 teaspoon cider vinegar.

Put first four ingredients through food chopper. Add parsley, thyme, basil, marjoram, salt, egg, chopped tomatoes, and 1/4 cup soup. Mix thoroughly. Form into individual meat loaves, and place in greased baking dish.
Bake for 25 minutes in moderate oven 350° B. Bake 3 or 4 small tomatoes with loaves. Remove tomatoes and pour sauce over meat loaves.

For the sauce, saute minced onion in butter 5 minutes. Add remaining soup, and other ingredients. Simmer 10 minutes uncovered, stirring frequently.
Use baked tomatoes as a garnish.
Pour sauce over meat loaves and Serves 5 to 6.

A small diamond was led to the queen in the closed hand and Mr. Masters captured the trick with the king.

He fired back the ten of spades and Mr. Champion won with the queen and led another diamond. Mr. Masters properly ducked and dummy's ten won. Mr. Champion entered his hand with the queen of hearts and led his last diamond. There was no reason for Mr. Masters to hold off any longer so he won with the ace—and that was his last trick.

He came out with another spade but Mr. Champion still had the all-important ace—at the time when he needed it most.

He held the ace up in the air and turned to Mr. Muzzy. "This, my critical friend," he said, "is the card you wanted to play on the first trick."

"I'm always wrong," replied Mr. Muzzy with a sigh.

"No other bridge player can make that statement," said Mr. Champion, with a grin.

Tells Unique War Story

How Armine Boas Served
As Medical Man to 10,000
Isolated Newfoundlanders

Experiences of a Royal Canadian Air Force medical sergeant who, in addition to his service duties, was called upon to minister to the varied and perplexing medical needs of an isolated community of 10,000 primitive island folk in northern Newfoundland for eighteen months during World War II provided the Prince Rupert Gyró Club at luncheon yesterday with one of the most intriguing and unique stories it has heard in many a day.

Armine Boas, sanitarian for the Prince Rupert Health Unit, recalled how, among other things, he had delivered thirty-five babies—including one set of twins—performed surgical operations, with radioed directions, medically examined 1900 school children, and extracted 3,000 teeth.

Dr. L. M. Greene, who introduced Mr. Boas, disclosed how, for his outstanding services, Mr. Boas had been awarded the British Empire Medal by the King.

To be suddenly put in charge of a fully-equipped eight-bed hospital, previously manned by a full medical and nursing staff, after withdrawal of the Americans and transfer of radar control to the Royal Canadian Air Force, was in itself a perplexing situation—to say nothing of assuming the medical problems of 10,000 people and with only one public health nurse to share the work.

Mr. Boas went on to describe, with dry humor his experiences as unofficial medical advisor and practitioner (with authority of the medical profession) to a population of simple and rugged Gaelic fisher folk.

But not only was Mr. Boas able to carry on the medical and dental work but he also found time to do tuberculin testing of the tiny cattle of the island and help improve the stock by introduction of new blood.

"And the boys of the Royal Canadian Air Force also taught them many useful things," Mr. Boas said, "such as using new mechanical devices and how to catch more fish."

And there was one thing the boys learned from the Fogo Islanders, Mr. Boas added dryly—how to make molasses beer, as potent a beverage as could be desired, so strong it could even be used as an anaesthetic.

One of his associates in the work at Fogo Island had been Margaret Parsons, public health nurse and granddaughter of Winston Churchill, a girl of "great calibre and resourcefulness."

President E. D. Forward was in the chair at the Gyró luncheon. There was a good attendance of members and guests were A. E. Davidson of Vancouver and W. R. Trench of Ocean Falls.

GROWING TOWN

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

FINE WEATHER

Saying that people did not know what they were missing if they did not see the British Columbia coast by boat at this time of the year, Capt. William Eccles brought the steamship Prince Rupert to port at 11:30 yesterday morning. The vessel sailed at midnight for Ketchikan.

"There wasn't a cloud in the sky all the way up," said Capt. Eccles, skipper of the vessel from Vancouver.

Foodstuffs and liquors were included in the 240 tons of cargo left here.

Disembarking from the steamer Prince Rupert here yesterday were: H. C. Bishop, Mrs. S. E. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bernard, Miss H. Johnson, H. Rose, Dave Abel, A. Churskey, J. Lancashire, Miss E. Cloyah Full of Steelheads

FIVE BIG ENTRIES IN DERBY

The steelhead are running in Cloyah and to prove it Cyril Bagshaw weighed in five entries in the Derby in the last two days, heaviest of which was 12 pounds seven ounces.

"And I could just as easily have landed 10 of them," Bagshaw told Harold Thom as he brought in his limit of three 12-pounders. "The river's full of them now." Bagshaw said he used steelhead roe for bait.

Carl Rosang is running a close second with his 13-pounds-two-ounce to the heaviest entry weighed in so far: 13 pounds four-ounces, by Robert Armstrong.

Each member of the Rod and Gun Club weighing in a steelhead at Mr. Thom's place, 1114 East Tenth Avenue, until April 30 is a contender for $100 worth of prizes. A numbered receipt is given each entry, for the lucky draw.

Officials at Metlakatla

Officials of the Dominion and provincial government departments are today visiting Metlakatla, where the provincial incorporation of the Indian village will take place soon.

Enfranchisement ceremonies will be held later, W. S. Arneil, commissioner of Indian affairs for British Columbia said this morning.

Accompanying the commissioner on the department's boat Naskeena, which left for Metlakatla this morning, were Leonard Brown of Ottawa, solicitor for the department; B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs from Victoria; F. E. Anfield, Indian superintendent, Prince Rupert, and assistant superintendent, W. B. Bailey.

Vincent Wells skipped the Naskeena.

Hollywood Strip Boom

by JAMES R. BACON

LOS ANGELES (CP)—This town, home of every fabulous fad in the book, now has a boom on its strip teasers.

Church and civic groups call it a moral breakdown.

San Francisco, St. Louis, New Orleans and New York City all report a drop in the revealing girlie shows. But burlesque queens are flocking here.

Even Ciro's—plush playground of movie stars and millionaires—gives top billing to luscious, Leggy Lili St. Cyr, well known to Montreal's burlesque fans.

Ciro's which pays Lili $3,800 a week to undress, reports the biggest business in months.

The torso-twirling blonde sheds a $5,500 mink coat and Christian Dior gowns in a classy setting—but it's still strip tease.

It's the first time the Sunset Strip Spot ever tried sex in a floor show, but it won't be the last. Lili drew $1,800 in her first four days and by the end of the first week broke the house record.

Lili's success, of course, is away above that of the rank-and-file peelers, who average $150 a week in local clubs.

The American Guild of Variety Artists, the union which includes dancers, reports more than 100 strippers working in the Hollywood-Los Angeles area.

Many new clubs are springing up. Their huge neon signs blaze such titles as "Strip City" and "Stripacade." Some even advertise "Battles of the Burlesque Queens," in which the strippers are spurred to take off the most.

Los Angeles club and tavern owners give good box-office as the reason behind the boom. One owner summed it up:

"It's the only kind of entertainment we've found that will get the old man from the television set in his living room."

Tonight's train, due from the East at 10:15, was reported this afternoon to be on time.

Bridal Gowns Little Changed

WINNIPEG (CP)—Bridal gowns haven't changed much down through the years.

That was the conclusion of the women's page staff of a Winnipeg newspaper which ran a lay-out of pictures showing a typical wedding dress of today alongside others taken 15, 35 and 65 years ago.

The camera studies showed a definite similarity of lines. When some brides of 50 and 60 years ago were asked about it, they said the main difference between then and now is that in the earlier period there were bustles and voluminous petticoats.

Numerous women questioned said they had held on to their wedding gowns. Some could be found in attics, preserved as treasured family heirlooms and carefully wrapped and stored away in old trunks.

Mrs. Jessie Crerar, wife of Senator T. A. Crerar, who was married in Solsgrith, Man., 45 years ago, still has her wedding gown of cream duchess satin.

Another old-time bride who held on to her wedding dress is Mrs. T. Herbert Rhodes. When she and Mr. Rhodes celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary a few weeks ago, Mrs. Rhodes wore an underskirt made from her bridal gown.

GOWNS OF 75 YEARS AGO

Two of the wedding gowns featured in the picture layout dated back to days before any of Winnipeg's churches had electric lights. One was worn in 1876 and another by a bride in 1878. It was 1882 before Grace Church became the first in Winnipeg to use electric light-
