Alaska Could Not Be Held, U.S. Senate Hears; Seward Peninsula Held Vulnerable To Invasion

Princess Patricias Contact Enemy

Canadians in Front Line of Korean Fighting—
In Mud and Slides

WITH CANADIANS IN KOREA (CP)—Canadian Princess Patricias were in the front line today. Patricias' first advance was occupation of territory abandoned by apparently withdrawing Communists—abandoned but mined. The Pats overlooked village of Kudon after investigating two series of fox-holes.

They had to look at Kudon, because they profited from the experience of the last time. The Pats made the mistake of not taking the village of Kudon after investigating two series of fox-holes.

The Pats moved in with heavy support—United States tanks and mortars and New Zealand artillery.

The Pats fought from muddy fox-holes.

They carry 40-pound packs as well as ammunition, each man being self-sufficient.

Mudslides imperilled their movements.

Allied Offensive Smashing Forward

TOKYO (CP)—Allied forces smashed northward today on a 60-mile rainswept front aiming to kill, maim or capture all Reds in the mired mountains and valleys of central Korea.

Advances in this new offensive—"Operation Killer"—ranged up to 12 miles on the east-central sector and up to 8½ miles on the central valley, north of Wonju.

Resistance was spotty most of the day but stiffened at dusk as allied spearheads neared the main forces of dug-in Chinese and North Korean Reds.

An estimated 40,000 Reds are south of Parallel 38. Allied objective is to wipe them out.

General MacArthur announced the new push today, nearly 24 hours after it began without any fanfare.

BIG JOB—One of biggest repair jobs on the winter fleet at Port Colborne, Ont., is the straightening of the stem and frame of the Donnacona, twisted when the C.S.L. vessel rammied into a dock at Hamilton last season. Workmen had to rip plates from the bow to work on the frame. (CP PHOTO)

Speaker Tells Club— But for International Crisis Britain Would Have Golden Era

"In five years you cannot catch up with all the damage and omissions of six years of devastating war but Britain has gone a long way and we now have new industries, modern factories and a keen and active working population backing the great Festival which is being held this year and which Canadians should go and see to get a real picture of the Britain of today."

So said A. Gordon Huson, young English barrister and present information adviser to the United Kingdom commissioner to Canada, who addressed the Women's Canadian Club at a largely attended meeting in the Canadian Legion hall last evening.

Mr. Huson suggested to his listeners that they do not believe all they might hear and read about industrial troubles, existing or impending in the Old Country, that the country was down at the heel, down at the mouth and disillusioned and facing impending economic collapse. "If you could only see things for yourselves over there, you would find that the picture is much different than that," he assured the audience.

GREAT RECOVERY

The little island had made a wonderful recovery, Mr. Huson gave assurance. Six months ago it appeared to have at last emerged from the trials and vicissitudes of war and economic austerity and to be entering upon a new golden era—the "Fruitful Fifties." However a deteriorating international situation had changed that and once again Britain was having to tighten her belt and continue to produce for a rearmament program which was greater proportionately than that of any other nation in the world.

Would Be No Pearl Harbor

WASHINGTON, D. C. (CP)—The Senate armed services preparedness sub-committee said today that all-out war with Russia would force United States to abandon certain isolated areas of Alaska.

It gave assurance, however, that "critical areas" can be held.

The sub-committee said: "It appears reasonable to assume that little could be done to protect Seward Peninsula area from either bombing or actual invasion if the Russians so desired."

This was the only specific reference made by senators to areas within either category.

A 120-page report, prepared by the sub-committee's three-man Alaska commission, stated: "The military in Alaska, within the limit of forces made available, is embarked upon a realistic plan for the defence of the territory."

But, the senators added, there is need for additional combat and service troops and more air power.

Declaring that it found the military alert and ready for any eventuality, the commission asserted that, if the present state of alertness and vigilance is maintained, "there can be no Pearl Harbor in Alaska."

More Canadians Leading For Korea

To Fill Division
Seven Thousand Men To Leave Fort Lewis
In About Two Weeks

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada shortly will send a full complement of 6000 to 7000 men into action in Korea under the United Nations flag. Defence Minister Gordon Cooper made the announcement last night to an adjourned House of Commons.

He said the unified command of the United Nations asked Canada to send the 25th Infantry Brigade—core of the UN's special force—was fully equipped and, if so, whether it should be sent to Korea.

Mr. Cooper said that 2nd Battalion of the Royal Canadian Regiment and the Royal 22nd Regiment and supporting arms would shortly proceed to Korea and join the 2nd Battalion of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, a unit of self-propelled anti-aircraft guns, engineers, signals and other arms.

The 25th Infantry Brigade headquarters will move from Fort Lewis to Pusan.

Why Not Briton?

Churchill Objects
To American Naval
Chief in Atlantic

LONDON—Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill does not like the idea of an American admiral being appointed commander-in-chief of United Nations combined naval forces in the Atlantic.

Pointing out that General Eisenhower was heading the United Nations land forces in Europe, Mr. Churchill wondered if British naval experience did not qualify her for the sea command. "Surely we have not fallen so far into the well of humility," he insisted.

Prime Minister Attlee said that no one power could dictate the appointment.

Would Close Road Gap Jaycees Urge Prince George—Jasper Highway—Liquor and Daytime Plebiscites.

Completion of Prince George-Jasper highway as soon as possible was urged by the first resolution passed last night by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. With two others it will be presented at the regional executive convention next month.

The resolution stresses the importance of a road from Prince George to connect directly to the new trans-Canada highway as a "vital link" in cases of national emergency, for tourist development and for industry.

Other resolutions passed asked the provincial government to hold plebiscite on both the questions of daylight saving time and liquor.

All members favored the daylight saving time plebiscite, which, with the liquor resolution, had been resolved upon several times. But there was one dissenting vote on each of the resolutions calling for the highway and for a liquor plebiscite.

A proposal has also been sent to Jack McRae, M.L.A., that the provincial government retain rent controls as now exercised by the federal government. Federal controls are due to go in April.

Street signs committee, headed by Archie Wudell, appointed four sub-chairmen who would be responsible for working groups. Now that the weather was more favorable, said Wudell, a serious attempt would be made to plant the remaining 60 to 70 posts.

A resolution to be forwarded to the public works department recommends that 20-miles-per-hour speed limit signs be speedily erected at the approaches of Galloway Rapids bridge. Citing a recent accident there, the necessity of such signs and of enforcing the limits was stressed by Stan Furk.

Because Secretary Dan Williamson is leaving the city, Bob Davis was appointed to that position. Williamson will be farewelled at the cabaret February 24.

In Legislature "Explore For Oil" Urges Smith, M.L.A.

VICTORIA (CP)—British Columbia should make exploration attractive for the oil industry, the Legislature was told Wednesday by S. J. Smith (Cln-Kamloops).

He hoped to see developments in the Peace River country and the removal of oil control as forecast in the Throne Speech would be a step forward.

"Oil controls have discouraged the expansion of the oil industry," he said.

Mr. Smith, an oil dealer himself, could see benefit for British Columbia's 200,000 motorists with the removal of controls.

"No one will get hurt in the removal of controls. The only class who may think they are going to get hurt are they who, like myself, are in the gasoline business."

"I don't think I am entitled to a guaranteed mark-up any more than the butcher, the fuel dealer or any other class of merchant is entitled to a guaranteed mark-up."

Immense income for the province could be developed from its own oil and gas, he said.

"The best geological authorities in Canada are agreed that we have oil and gas in huge quantities in that part of the Peace River country which lies within the province."

British Columbia, he added, is hundreds of millions of dollars behind Alberta in oil exploration.

Debate on the Throne Speech opened yesterday with A. B. Ritchie (Cln-Salmon Arm) and Mr. Smith moving and seconding the address in reply to the speech.

Both discussed the controversial hospital insurance scheme, now showing a deficit of some $7,000,000 in its first two years of operation.

Mr. Smith said there must be increased premiums or a restriction of service. Present premium is $33 a year for married persons and $21 for single persons.

He suggested that a careful study be made of the possibility of eliminating diagnosis from insurance coverage.

Mr. Ritchie also told the House that development of northern areas is essential. Rich mineral deposits and agricultural lands must be developed to maintain a high standard of living in British Columbia and to make room for its growing population.

"I am worried about a pipeline to bring gas from Alberta," he said. "We should develop our own."

Break With Ass'd Board?

"What's In It For Us?"
Jaycees Wonder

Whether or not to drop membership in the Associated Boards of Trade of Central B.C. or let it lapse was the contentious subject argued last night at the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Because finances of the Jaycee treasury were depleted through paying off deficits of 1949's regional convention here, executive had recommended that membership be dropped or allowed to lapse.

President Geoffrey Hill pointed out that more benefit was realized from the national committee and regional committee membership than from the Associated Boards. Besides, he said, the fees were much less.

For membership in Associated Boards it is $10 for board fees and $1 for each member which in this case would come to $41, he said.

Sask. Students Do It Again

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Saskatchewan students did it again last night, clipping Alberta 9-8 to win the Canadian high school curling championship for the third time in four years.

Manitoba won it the other year.

B.C. Premier Has Influenza

VICTORIA—Premier Johnson appeared in the Legislature yesterday but has influenza and will not be back for a couple of days. He will not deliver the usual policy speech which was to have been made Friday.

Two Naval Men Killed

VICTORIA (CP)—Two Navy officers chartered a light plane yesterday to look at their ship, the cruiser Ontario, and were killed when the aircraft plunged into the deep waters near entrance to Esquimalt harbor.

The plane flew over the Ontario as it was returning to base after carrying out the burial at sea of Commodore George R. (Gus) Miles, a veteran of the Canadian and Royal navies.

A spokesman identified the dead men as Lieutenants Ian MacDonald and Marcel Champagne.

Crew members watched the plane fly overhead, then suddenly crash into the ocean and sink almost immediately.

TIDES

Synopsis
An intense high pressure area lies 600 miles west of Vancouver Island and storms are being de-toured northward, leaving most of the province in the clear. However, disturbances associated with the storms are bringing cloudy skies to far northern sections.

Temperatures in interior valleys fell to quite low figures last night with Prince George dropping to 2 below and Cranbrook to 6 above. Most coastal points reported a few degrees of frost. However daytime temperatures should swing back to the normal 30 to 45 range.

Little change in this pattern is looked for over the next two days.

Forecast
North coast region—Clear along the southern mainland, variable cloudiness elsewhere. Wind light increasing to southerly (15) this evening in the northern part only. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—At Port Hardy, Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 30 and 45.

Fishing Big Business

ANOTHER important fishing industry—a quarter-of-a-million-dollar undertaking—is coming to the Prince Rupert waterfront, principal feature of the new development to be started at Seal Cove this year being a modern $200,000 reduction plant.

The B. C. Packers has also been reported planning to move out of its Skeena River canneries to the waterfront here, similar to what the Canadian Fishing Co. is doing. But that development appears to be deferred for the time being at least.

All this is providing new mediums of employment, enhancing the developing prosperity of Prince Rupert which still depends to a very substantial degree upon the fishing industry.

It is all in line with the tendency of centralization of the industry at points where the raw material—the fish—and the facilities necessary for processing can be most strategically brought together. Year after year Prince Rupert is witnessing the further development of the waterfront for the various phases of fish handling.

There is nothing to look down upon in being called a fishing port. It is big business and we are mighty glad to have it.

Never Satisfied

WE ARE never satisfied. A new fish processing industry is going to be established on the local waterfront. But what do some of us do now? Nothing less than conjure up how our good fresh air may be polluted by the odors from the processes.

We would also cry if the fish plant did not come to Prince Rupert as it has. So we are never satisfied—which is human nature.

But we must take the bad with the good, the tainted air with the fresh, the nuisances with the advantages.

Fortunately, if it is fresh air that we want, there will still be plenty of that to be found even if some of our valued industries should prove odoriferous at times although profitable to us always.

And, as far as the fish plant is concerned, we are assured officially that there will be "little or no smell." That ought to be good enough assurance.

Scripture Passage for Today

"Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal."—I Cor. 13:1.

Sewer Problem Still Unsettled

Final decision of the city council in its attitude toward the town Bay sewer problem and their contract with Mitchell & Currie will be handed down at the next regular meeting March 5. Council met in committee last night to consider the matter.

A keen problem was encountered when contractors found the existing tunnel outlet too small to accommodate a 42-inch pipe called for in the contract. Mitchell & Currie are disclaiming responsibility for widening of the tunnel and are asking some $20,000 more for this work.

Because of legal aspects involved, the committee as a whole left the matter with city solicitors, Brown & Harvey, for decision early next month.

NOTES FROM EGYPT

CAIRO, Egypt.—Here are some interesting tidbits from Cairo which I don't think would get on the news cables.

A pretty young woman went to the door of her home to answer a knock. A young man stood there. He said he was the electric meter inspector.

The wife said: "Come back again when my husband is home, between four and six o'clock."

The man disappeared, did not turn up again when hubby was home. The irate husband reported the incident to the police.

On Sunday, while husband and wife were out walking, the wife spotted the fake meter reader. She called the police and had him arrested.

The arrested man told the police station officials that he had seen the young woman at a movie, and had been overpowered by her beauty. He had gone to the home to propose marriage. But when he realized that the lady was married he "dropped the whole idea."

Here is the part of the news which tickled me:

"Thereupon the young lady dropped her complaint and she and her husband shook hands with him and left the station."

HERE IS A country love story with an unhappy ending.

Karim was a handsome 20-year-old peasant of the village of El Balalis, noted because of his ability to sing romantic songs.

He was deeply in love with Zeinab, the loveliest young girl in the village, as sweet and pure as she was beautiful.

But Zeinab was long betrothed to marry her cousin—an event greatly desired by both families. In vain Karim out-sang and out-danced all the other village men. And Zeinab knew that his love songs were meant for her alone.

After the ceremony, but before the bride had been duly escorted by her young brother to the bridegroom, Karim waited for one last word with his lost beloved.

The bride listened, but was deaf to his pleas. In a sudden burst of fury and grief, Karim whipped out his sharp knife and stabbed the girl to the heart.

The bride fell without a word. Karim ran blindly across fields till exhausted—but at last came home to await arrest.

In the court he told three grave judges about his tragic love.

He omitted no detail of his guilt, but said he was at peace and was willing to take full punishment.

Verdict: Fifteen years' imprisonment with hard labor.

ooo

THERE IS A SOCIETY here called the Bent el Nil Movement, which is opening many schools to wipe out illiteracy amongst girls and women.

The original aim of the society, says the main promoter, Madama Daria Shafik, is to get equal voting rights for women. But the broader purpose is to raise the whole level of life for women.

Twelve such schools were just opened in Cairo in one day. They are private affairs, but the ceremony was addressed by a spokesman for the government's department of education.

ooo

SOME OF THE older and I imagine, more conservative Arab women still wear the traditional black dress, complete with veil covering the head and face.

Others, less wealthy but with similar ideas of orthodox behavior, wear a half-veil—covering the mouth but not the eyes.

But for the most part the women of Cairo in 1951 dress and look much like the women of any more westerly country.

THIS COUNTRY is, of course, one of the great human melting pots. They say that the Pyramids are at the exact centre of the land surface of the earth. Something the same is true of the races. This is the racial cross-roads of the whole world.

You see Egyptian soldiers of all shades—some literally as black as ebony. You also see women so fair-skinned and beautiful that they might look like Queen Nefertiti, wife of the fourth reformer, Amenhotep the Great, or Cleopatra.

THE LETTER BOX

OFFENDING SERMON

Editor, Daily News:
I have read and re-read a sermon by a former Prince Rupert minister (C. D. Clarke) which appeared in the Daily News last Saturday and about which some hue and cry appears to be rising. Possibly I am a little stupid theologically but I see little, if anything, therein to justify such a speedy and emphatic repudiation by the Prince Rupert Ministerial Association.

To me Mr. Clarke's sermon seemed to be a simple expression of faith in the goodness of God and the belief that He will take care of His own.

I see no objection to Mr. Clarke's disingenuous dogmatic beliefs and practices. As a matter of fact, actually it seems to me that the sermon contained some lofty ideas which were not inconsistent with the true and liberal conception of real Christianity.

The Daily News need make no apologies for having published Mr. Clarke's sermon. Indeed it should be happy if it gives rise to some useful and constructive discussion of religious matters of which we get little enough in these materialistic and selfish days. But it is to be hoped that further discussion of Mr. Clarke's sermon, if any, will be kept along as decorous a plane as the original treatise.

Now that the Prince Rupert Ministerial Association, through both its president and secretary, has taken exception to opinions expressed by Mr. Clarke, some further elucidation of their objections might be in order and would doubtless be of interest to the public whose curiosity has been aroused. Some may be still wondering what it is all about. Exception has been taken. There should be explanation why. SIMPLE BELIEVER.

EXPLANATION WANTED

Editor, Daily News:
In your issue of last Saturday you printed a sermon by C. D. Clarke. This sermon soon became a veritable "Storm Centre" and was subsequently "repudiated" by the local Ministerial Association.

Such correspondence on this subject has since passed through your letter box. However, the public is still in the dark as to the reasons which motivated the Ministerial Association in taking the serious step of "repudiation."

Surely the issue involved transcends the importance of individuals—be it Mr. Prockter or Mr. Clarke.

Will not some person, authorized by the Ministerial Association to do so, explain the position taken by the Association for the benefit of the laymen.

BATTLE OF MUCK

Editor, Daily News:
The battle of the "muck" really results in getting readable print in your paper. Let's have more controversial topics even if you have to instigate them yourself.

Let's have less judgments and more direct action. Those who particularly feel like a good battle are directed to the Korean front line.

If you go to church, don't let the theological battle worry you. Have blind faith. Who knows but your own ministers that particular interpretation of the Scripture may be the correct one.

If you don't go to church, obey the orders of Matthew 6:6 and pray that everyone will soon love each other and have a cheerful countenance.

Let everyone get behind the Boy Scout campaign.

● S.O.N. whist and dance, Friday, February 23. Whist, 8 o'clock. Music by Mike Colussi. Refreshments. Everybody welcome. (46c)

F. E. Anfield was a Boy Scout Week speaker today at the weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club. President Don Forward was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members with one guest in the person of Frank Wilson.

J. S. Wilson, northern B.C. zone commander for the Canadian Legion, leaves today by plane for Vancouver to attend a provincial command executive meeting at the week-end. Mr. Wilson will press for stronger civil defence in Prince Rupert.

A. Gordon Huson, information adviser to the British High Commissioner to Canada, and Mrs. Huson, who arrived in the city yesterday, are sailing tonight on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver. Mr. Huson is making a western tour to address Canadian Clubs and was heard by the local club last evening. He addressed the Prince Rupert Rotary Club today at luncheon. Enroute back to Ottawa from Vancouver, Mr. Huson has speaking engagements at a number of prairie points.

Just Like Summer
In Prince Rupert

Visiting in the city is the oldest employee on the Canadian National's Hudson's Bay Railway line, before retirement, F. J. Sainsbury. He will leave for Vancouver tonight.

"Why, it's just like summer here," says Mr. Sainsbury who came west a week ago from Wabowden in northern Manitoba, where the temperatures were 50 below.

He has been visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. Roy of Terrace. The veteran railroad, who is here with his daughter from Terrace, will take the southbound Prince Rupert tonight to join his wife in their new Vancouver home.

Neely Moore and Dr. Duncan Whitmore of the local Consolidated Mining Smelting Co. staff, who went to Smithers for the bonspiel at the week-end, are remaining in the interior for a few days on company business.

Barbara Brent's BUYS WHYS

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, Feb. 22.—A favourite Lenten menu of mine is Vegetable Soup—Buttered Toast Strips—Tossed Green Salad—and delicious KRAFT DINNER. Yes, there's many a Lenten menu that can be planned so economically around "Kraft Dinner". You see, it's a wonderful macaroni-a-cheese dish that makes a main dish for four at just pennies a serving. And it's a real compliment-getter for the real who does the cooking! In every package of "Kraft Dinner" is a special, fast-cooking macaroni that cooks to fluffy lightness in only 7 minutes. And, in the same package, there's grated cheddar cheese to sprinkle in for good cheese flavour. And so easy to prepare! "Kraft Dinner" is off the shelf—into the pot—onto the table!

"On Location" in the English Channel during the filming of Warner Bros. "Captain Horatio Hornblower". Virginia Mayo was thankful for Jergens Lotion. She says her hands were red and raw from the sea air, the stinging spray and the ropes on the bosun's chair. But soothing JERGENS LOTION on her hands and face softened and smoothed her lovely complexion for romantic close-ups. Yes, being liquid, Jergens quickly supplies the softening, soothing moisture dry, thirsty skin needs. And Jergens contains quickly absorbed ingredients—no heavy oils to coat the skin! So take a tip from lovely Virginia Mayo, starring in "Captain Horatio Hornblower". Make a regular hand-only habit of soothing Jergens Lotion. 15c, 33c, 57c and $1.00.

The Only "Innovation" you'll need for really inspired cooking is to watch one of the marvelous new FRIGIDAIRE ELECTRIC RANGES in action. See a demonstration at your Frigidaire Dealer's. Whether you're cooking for a "king-size" family or you're trying hard to impress a brand new husband, there's a Frigidaire Electric Range just for you! You'll find a choice of 3 sizes—and automatic models that give you hours of freedom. All have 5-speed Radiantburn Units... Lifetime Porcelain inside and out... and a host of "easy cooking" features. Like those wonderful cars, Frigidaire Electric Ranges are built by General Motors. See them soon.

Big Appetites At Breakfast. Well, here's a wonderful way to satisfy them!... Put O-U-A-K-E-B MUFFETS on the table and let the family help themselves. Not only are these crispy toasted golden brown biscuits good to eat, but they're good for you, too! In Quaker Muffets you get 100% Whole Wheat—yes, the bran and valuable wheat germ are there with the body-building protein, minerals and energy-giving qualities of the whole grain. For a breakfast that's really different, try them with fruit and milk or cream... and your family will be back for more! Right at this moment, I'm adding Quaker Muffets to my shopping list—how about you?

Clever You! You'll be "best-dressed" in the East—Parade when you make your Easter Suit yourself and add the smart, modish finishing touch of LIGHTNING SLIDE FASTENER. Yes, Lightning Fasteners are tops for that slim, trim look—the best zippers you can buy. They offer you all the fashion-wise colours, lengths and sizes. And they give you more than that, for Lightning is the only zipper with an automatic lock! All Lightning Fasteners lock where they stop! Ask for Lightning Style No. 702—specially designed for dress plaquettes, necklines and sleeves. And such lovely, fashion-wise colours to choose from—twenty-two of them! Definitely, Lightning's the zipper for me! It's the "finishing touch" that makes all my clothes look right!

Let's Confess It—with today's high living costs—we all need a little help with our money problems! We'll—I've lately come across a way to run the family finances that has helped me more than just a little. I haven't been a Personal Planner for long, but the BANK OF MONTREAL Personal Planning system has already begun to pay dividends in peace of mind. It's showing me how to run my money, instead of my money running me. And that's so important to happy living! I'd like you to try Personal Planning... it's such a down-to-earth, practical system of money management and it's flexible, too. With a bit of careful planning, you can tailor it to suit your needs and income, so that you'll come out on top. To find out all about it, just ask for the booklet called "PERSONAL PLANNING" at your neighbourhood branch of the B of M.

Such A "Treasure Trove" of good things to eat that are also easy and quick to prepare! No more man-of-the-house fret about the "chore" of cooking any more... particularly with the Heinz Chef to help her in her kitchen! It's so simple to prepare wonderfully tasty meats in a matter of minutes if you're just a little beforehand in your buying! Stock up on HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS... four kinds... HEINZ COOKED SPAGHETTI... two kinds... HEINZ COOKED MACARONI... two kinds. These delicious main-dishes leave you without a cooking worry in the world... and you can be sure, too, of your family's enthusiasm! Easy on your budget, too! So ask for Heinz Oven-Baked Beans and Heinz Cooked Spaghetti and Heinz Cooked Macaroni next time you're shopping. You know they're good because they're Heinz!

There's Nothing Like A Steigh-Ride for working up hearty appetites—that's why BOVRIL is such a grand "steigh-ride companion"! Keep it piping-hot in a thermos bottle—then when appetites are shouting to be fed, treat them to "man-sized" sandwiches and the wonderful, beefy goodness of Bovril! No wonder Bovril's such a family "favourite"—not only as a hot drink (at any time of day)... but in cooking, too. M-mmm! Just wait 'til you taste its savoury, zesty flavour in soups, stews and casserole dishes! And Bovril's such sound economy! You see, Bovril's a grand way to get more meat flavour without paying the sky-high prices of meat! Bovril comes in three handy forms—Concord, Concentrate and Cubes. Ask for it at your grocer's next time you're shopping.

Trailer Camp Required Here

Definite provision for a summer trailer camp was asked by the Prince Rupert Union Board of Health at the quarterly meeting yesterday afternoon. Ald H. S. Whalen was asked to investigate with the city council the possibility of finding adequate accommodation for the trailers. It was felt by Chairman D. G. Frizzell that, unless they could find satisfactory accommodation—preferably a registered tourist camp—it would be useless to summon owners of trailers accommodated in private city lots. The importance of sanitary facilities at tourist or trailer camps was emphasized. Sanitary inspector, A. G. Boas, spoke of 12 acres, near McBride

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

A new coastal steamship will make her first call at the port of Prince Rupert tomorrow—the CPR's Yukon Princess, returning south after a voyage to Skagway. Formerly the Island Connector, operating between Montreal and Prince Edward Island, the Yukon Princess was acquired to replace the freighter Nootka which was recently retired from service. The Yukon Princess has on board a full cargo of Keno Hill ore from the Yukon which she loaded at Skagway. The vessel is calling here for fuel and stores and will remain in port for a few hours. She is due at 1 p.m. Two thousand cases of salmon, and 14,000 feet of maple flooring from the former United States Army warehouse for Vancouver are being loaded on the Island King, Capt. A. E. Gough, which arrived in port this morning from the north. The Frank Waterhouse freighter had discharged mining supplies and loaded 50 sacks of ore concentrates at Alice Arm before coming here. Fish meal at Butedale and paper at Ocean Falls will be loaded on her southbound trip. Freighters Northern Express, Capt. Sorenson, which is at Watson Island unloading, will be leaving for Butedale tonight to

Connect Up With Sewers

Exercise of City's Mandatory Powers Urged Enforcement of the city bylaw which provides that homes, within reach of sewer facilities should be connected with same was urged by the Prince Rupert Union Board of Health which met in the Health Unit yesterday. "It is not the job of the sanitary inspector to see that this bylaw is enforced," Dr. Duncan Black, director of the Health Unit, pointed out to the board at the quarterly meeting. He said that Sanitary Inspector, A. G. Boas, had made a detailed survey of city houses not conforming to the bylaw sewer standards. Co-operation with the city council and the inspector is most advisable. "We're not policemen but we are trying to give health principles of education that will result in homes being hitched up to sewers where possible instead of having septic tanks installed," Dr. Black said. Agreeing with Dr. Black, Ald. G. D. (Doug.) Frizzell told the board that it was in the power of the city to connect these homes to the sewer outlets, billing the owners. The matter was referred to the health and licensing committee of the city council for immediate action.

Report Cards Then and Now

The always debatable comparison of present day pupil report cards with those of earlier times provided the material for a lively discussion at Wednesday evening's monthly meeting of the Borden Street School Parent-Teacher Association. This followed the transaction of business. The president, Mrs. A. J. Dominato, was in the chair. Reports of various committees showed that activities were being successfully pursued. Plans were discussed for Open Day during the observance of Education Week. There will be a tea on the Wednesday afternoon sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. There will also be a sale of

For Eczema—Skin Troubles

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well. Go to any good drug store and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil—it lasts many days because it is highly concentrated. The very first application will give you relief—the itching of Eczema is quickly stopped—eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Itching Toes and Feet, Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum and other skin troubles. Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue. Complete satisfaction or money back.

Garbage Collection

Referring to garbage collection Dr. Black recommended that a Saturday collection of city garbage be made so that the heavy strain of week-end refuse, especially in the store lanes, could be controlled. "By Monday the lanes are in a fearful mess," Dr. Black said. He added that dogs and children scatter this large amount of paper and waste that lies waiting for collection over the week-end. It was suggested by the board that, if possible an alternative collection be made Saturday mornings in the down town areas. Ald. Whalen was appointed to negotiate with the Civic Employees' Union. With Mrs. E. W. Becker and Miss Freda Hilton, P.H.N., appointed to purchase curtains and drapes for the Health Unit, health films will be shown in the clinic room. It was felt by the board that, since recent painting had been done to the interior of the unit, curtains should be hung from the windows. A balance of $305.56 was reported by Miss Hilton, retiring treasurer, who read the financial report up to the end of December, with $388.08 disbursements for the year. NO ISLANDS NURSE The new 1951-52 budget submitted by the unit was passed as approved by the deputy provincial health officer at Victoria, Dr. J. Taylor. Other letters read from Dr. Taylor said that, due to the lack of nurses and the small percentage population of the Queen Charlotte Islands, a permanent nurse on the islands would not be possible; that the extra expenses and time entailed by the local unit in their regular inspection of the Queen Charlotte district, would come under a federal basis of expense rather than provincial; that the bulletin of the department of Health and Welfare, "B.C.'s Health," be circulated more broadly. Dr. Black was chairman at the opening of the meeting. The new president of the board is Ald. Frizzell.

Help Prevent Tooth Decay!

BEFORE IT STARTS... INSTEAD OF AFTER IT APPEARS

...designed to help prevent decay 3 ways!

1. Chemical action reduces mouth acidity. Mouth acidity encourages decay.
2. Mechanical action cleans surfaces as teeth are brushed—helps break up and remove decay-breeding deposits.
3. Chemical action checks acid-forming bacteria—a major cause of decay.

This famous formula, developed by the University of Illinois Foundation, caused enormous interest in dental circles because of its promising method of attacking tooth decay. In preliminary tests conducted at the University, case after case of reduction in the incidence of tooth decay was reported.

Now the manufacturers of Listerine Antiseptic make this same formula readily available to you and to your family. Use Listerine Ammoniated Tooth Paste regularly, as directed, morning and night and right after eating. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co. (Canada) Ltd., Toronto.

Italian Pastes Popular Fare at This Time of Year

There are pastes and pastes, some being good to eat while others are definitely inedible. Even among those which are edible there are pastes and pastes. Naturally enough, thinking of good-to-eat pastes probably brings first to mind the flour and water mixtures used to thicken stews. The simple directions call for adding a very thin paste of flour and water to the stew, then stirring steadily until the stew has thickened. Very good directions they are too, because everyone wants the gravy of a stew to be smooth, not lumpy, and adding a very thin paste in the way described ensures that desired smoothness.

So much for one paste common to the cookery world, and now attention might be interestingly directed to another edible paste, perhaps not often referred to as such, since this family of pastes is better known by the individual names given its members—macaroni, spaghetti, noodles, and vermicelli. Granted, it may be difficult to think of these hard, dry foods as pastes, and it might be better if they were called dried or dehydrated pastes, which more accurately describes them.

Although there is some difference of opinion as to their country of origin, these dried pastes have been associated with Italy for a very long time, and are still one of the staple foods of that country. The art of making pastes spread to many lands where wheat and water were available in abundance, and it is natural to find that these good foods are being produced in Canada. Here, in short, is how they are made. Wheat, such as a Durum which is rich in the gluten needed to maintain the shape of the paste, is milled into a granular meal known as semolina or middlings. This meal, moistened with a small portion of boiling water, is thoroughly mixed in a kneading machine into a stiff paste or dough. The dough then goes into a large team-jacketed cylinder fitted with a plunger and, under great pressure, the paste is forced out of the bottom of the cylinder through small holes of various sizes, and shapes. A steel pin in the centre of each hole gives macaroni its hollow or tubular form. Spaghetti emerges from small holes and vermicelli from very small holes, both without pins. Flat openings give ribbon-like noodles, white macaroni shells, bow-knots and so on are squeezed out of the cylinder through holes of these fancy shapes. The next step is to retain the shape of the paste as it comes from the cylinder, and this is done by thorough drying. In hot countries like Italy this is accomplished in a very natural way, out of doors by the heat of the sun; but in this country the drying must be done in heated rooms in the factory. When thoroughly dried the pastes are ready for packaging or for marketing in bulk.

It is difficult to accurately measure long sticks of uncooked spaghetti, macaroni, noodles and vermicelli, and that is why some recipes stipulate using a certain weight of the paste. As the net weight is marked on each package in which macaroni and the other pastes are sold, it is usually not too difficult to figure out how much to use. In cooking, the paste naturally absorbs considerable water, replacing that lost in drying and this accounts for the necessity of cooking it in a large amount of boiling, salted water. It is a good reason, too, for using a large saucepan, since the paste will at least double its original size after it has taken a large drink of water while cooking.

As with other foods made from cereals, bread for example, these pastes combine best with foods which have considerable flavor and are non-starchy. So it is that cheese and macaroni are a natural combination and a highly seasoned meat or fish sauce is an excellent complement to spaghetti. Macaroni, spaghetti and noodles are used in many similar ways but vermicelli finds its particular place in soups.

Some economists suggest one of their tested and approved macaroni or spaghetti dishes which is inexpensive and makes very good eating at this time of year.

Given Gavel— And Counsel

A gavel was presented last night to the Junior Chamber of Commerce by T. M. Christie, of Woodbuilt Products, who represented the Senior Chamber.

Mr. Christie strongly emphasized the significance of the gavel, the meaning of which was to grasp, to understand and to carry out.

"Grasp the significance of the tremendous change coming over the whole Pacific Northwest."

"Understand what this change will mean to Prince Rupert in particular — the potentials in business, enterprise and industry."

"Carry out the propaganda of what Prince Rupert has to offer. Spread the news far and wide."

Mr. Christie also hoped Jaycees would realize that the north today and in the future was a "young man's country" which offered more than ever to alert and conscientious young people.

Business was brief. Final plans were made for the St. Patrick's tea and "white elephant" sale which takes place March 15.

Membership in the King Edward P-T-A continues to be good. It was reported to be 171 to date.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Parents Go To School

A novel form of entertainment was provided for the parents at Tuesday night's meeting of King Edward School Parent-Teacher Association when the parents became pupils for an hour to see if they could do as well as their children. Subjects to choose from were making posters, finger painting and a trick intelligence test, all supervised by the teachers. Proceedings were thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Business was brief. Final plans were made for the St. Patrick's tea and "white elephant" sale which takes place March 15.

Membership in the King Edward P-T-A continues to be good. It was reported to be 171 to date.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Timely RECIPES

CHICKEN CURRY

- 2 fowls (3 1/2 lb. ea.) cut in pieces
  - 1 quart boiling water
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - medium-sized onions, minced
  - butter (approx. 1/2 cup)
  - approximately 1/4 cup Indian curry powder, according to taste
  - 1/4 cup flour (or according to desired consistency)
  - 6 stalks celery, chopped
  - 4 apples grated
  - 2 cups seeded raisins
  - 1/2 cup cold water
  - 1 package of shredded coconut
  - juice of two lemons
  - 6 cups boiled rice
  - Dish Sauce
  - Indian Mango Chutney
- Add cleaned chicken to boiling water and cook until tender (takes about 2 to 3 hours), add salt after first hour of cooking. Reserve stock, pick meat from bones and cut in smaller pieces. Sauté onions in butter until slightly browned, stir in curry powder, add remaining chicken, stock, grated apples, coconut, raisins and celery, and cook 2 minutes; stir in flour mixed with water and cook 5 minutes, stirring until thickened. Add chicken to vegetable-curry mixture. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly and pour in juice of 2 lemons before serving.
- Serve with cooked rice, Indian Mango Chutney and sauce.

INTERNATIONAL CRISIS

of Britain looked healthier than they do today—and the mass of the people too."

Back in the nineteenth century William Pitt, the younger, in a fit of pessimism "rolled up the map," implying that Europe could be written off. The great Duke of Wellington, Napoleon's conqueror, had gone to his grave in 1852, saying that he no longer wanted to live as there was no future for Britain. Yet, the Golden Age of Merrie England had ensued. Six months ago, there had been indications that Britain, having regained her economic balance through the austerity program, was heading for another Golden Age. Only deteriorating international situation had prevented its materialization, the speaker declared.

FINE PROGRESS

"In each year of peace (since the last war) we have made new production records, increasing productivity nearly eight percent each year compared with a pre-war average of 2½ percent. In the five years since the war's end we have multiplied our exports five times in volume with the result, as you know, that, since devaluation in September 1949, our gold reserves in London have more than doubled, have risen from 1 425 billion dollars to $3.3 billion at the beginning of 1951."

"Wherever visitors go this summer in Britain, they will find a people united in a common purpose, a series of art entertainments, theatre, opera and ballet, without precedent in the world. Nor is the festival all entertainment and arts. A naval aircraft carrier has been turned into the mobile exhibition and will visit Southampton, Dundee, Newcastle, Hull, Plymouth, Bristol, Cardiff, Belfast, Birkenhead and Glasgow. Another travelling exhibition will move over land, 100 lorries being needed to transport its 5000 exhibits from Manchester to Leeds and on to Birmingham and Nottingham."

The task of displaying British commercial goods would be left to the British Industries Fair. There would also be national exhibitions and festivals—in Scotland, Northern Ireland and

Wales.

Mr. Huson at the opening described a delightful trip he had taken through the countryside of England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland with his American wife only six months ago. It was the lovely Britain as of old with all its beauty and charm, steeped in history and tradition. And yet it was a thriving and modern industrial Britain.

The speaker, answering a question at the close as to the effects of nationalization, pointed out that the Conservatives had agreed on the advisability of nationalization of all industries so far—except steel. "Only time will tell how the nationalization of steel works out," he commented.

Mrs. G. R. S. Blackaby, president of the club, was in the chair. Before introducing the speaker, she welcomed new members in the persons of Mrs. Habman, Mrs. L. M. Grene, Mrs. Frank Antrabus, Mrs. Ray Jones and Mrs. Beaton.

A vote of thanks to the speaker was proposed by Mrs. T. N. Youngs.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Thomas Boulter, assisted by Mrs. H. M. Foote, Mrs. H. A. Breen and Mrs. R. Davidson.

Bear Skins Not "Worthy"

Jaycees Receive Unusual Request—"Quiet" Signs Not Needed

An unusual request from Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce last night was laughed out by Prince Rupert's Jaycees.

The request called for participation in a joint campaign to supply British Grenadier Guards with 150 bearskins yearly.

Along with the written request was a copy of a wire from the Guards which thanked the Prince George body for their interest and offer to supply some skins.

There was a decided shortage of bearskins, said the wire, and as these are an integral part of the Guard's regalia a new source of supply would be greatly appreciated.

Prince George stated they had already sent 40 skins and were asking all northern areas to contribute to this campaign which would receive much publicity.

Stuart Furk moved Prince George Jaycees be notified there were "more worthy projects at home" than that of supplying British guards with bearskins, and that the request regretfully could not be accepted.

A move by Jaycees to have "Quiet" signs erected in the hospital area was laid aside. Chamber was informed by the hospital board that it did not consider the signs necessary as there had been no complaints of noise from patients. Either complaints from patients or patients' families were necessary before the board would act.

A letter from the B.C. Hospital Insurance stated premiums of persons supported by the federal government could not be carried by the province. This was in answer to a Jaycee request supporting the Canadian Legion in an attempt to exempt war-pensioners or their families from insurance premiums.

REPORT CARD

hot cross buns on the Thursday preceding the start of the Easter vacation. Following the business meeting there was community singing and later an interesting series of games under the chairmanship of Mrs. Logan, program convener.

A discussion on report cards was led by Principal J. S. Wilson. He asked those of the audience who preferred the older type of cards why they objected to the newer ones. He pointed out that the newer ones were developed because the older type was not satisfactory. The older type gave only a partial evaluation of part of the child's character and development and often caused unnecessary and unjustifiable embarrassment to the pupil. The conclusions drawn by parents from the older type of report were often erroneous. The newer reports give the considered conclusions of the teacher regarding the pupil's progress and development. Specific questions were raised and dealt with and stress laid upon the desirability of the parents making it their business to consult with the teachers from time to time so that by an exchange of views and experiences the work of the school might supplement the work of the home in producing the most progressive type of citizen. The pennant award for the division having the largest number of parents at the meeting went to Mrs. Cobb's division. Support of the Boy Scout campaign was accorded and the sum of $5 voted towards their annual appeal.

THEY WANTED MONEY
Betty McDonald, whose novel "The Egg and I" made the northwest laugh, has been relieved of damage charges. Certain persons lodged an action for losses, asserting the author had had them in mind. Anyone who in these melancholy and tragic days can make her neighbors grin, should not be prosecuted. She is entitled to public gratitude.

To keep young, associate with young people. To get old, try to keep up with them. —Modern Medicine.

OF COURSE IT IS!
Sin is news says Robert Poulin, of Le Petit Journal, Montreal. I think, he says, it is the duty of newspapers to let people know of human nature and human behaviour. Give all the news. You don't have to over-play crime or sex news, but don't under-play it. And remember that "The Greatest Story Ever Told" is the story of the Crucifixion of Jesus Christ, a factual report, down to the last drop, of a public execution.

ABOUT 10.30 A.M.
It's good to hear again, the whistle of the "Prince Rupert." For full forty years the weekly blasts have been sounding over the scenic waters of the north. What a story, a faithful record of those memorable days could tell. There would be no lack of drama and adventure. Time and again the simple truth would surpass fiction.

BEYOND COMPARE
A multitude of mid-summer tourists have fond memories of the Inside Passage aboard that smart looking ship, with the red, white and blue funnel and cruiser stern. Thousands have returned north again and again, for no where else on this continent is there a comparable holiday region.

SINCE EARLIEST DAYS
Since that breakfast-hour morning in Ketchikan, when flames raced through the "Prince Rupert's" sister ship "Prince George" the former vessel has been playing a lone hand, so to speak. This new "Prince George" is, of course, a splendid craft but the earlier vessels, through close association for so many years, seemed like partners and as such "paired" in public estimation.

HAS THE ANSWER
Iron ore in the United States proper, has not become exhausted, but the total is so greatly depleted that the question may be well asked "where next?" Canada has the answer. The source of almost limitless ore is in Labrador and Quebec and, if Washington is to become a major consumer, the St. Lawrence is to be a prominent part of the general picture. Vast shipments can be sent out, in peace or in war. Perhaps it is not too much to say that the future security of a great nation hinges on the Gulf and the natural resources it commands.

So Quick and Easy to Fix

1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup Carnation Evaporated Milk diluted with 1/2 cup water
1 flat can (half-pound size) creamed salmon

Melt butter in saucepan over medium heat. Stir in flour and salt; cook 1 minute; remove from heat and add 1/2 cup milk; blend carefully until all lumps are gone. Add remaining milk and return to heat, stirring constantly until to heat, stirring constantly until sauce thickens and boils. Add salmon and serve immediately over freshly made toast. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Happy Birthday—
George Casey Seventy-Five

Seventy-five years old today, Alderman George Casey is celebrating his birthday on the woodpile at his Eleventh Avenue home.

"I'm out cutting wood with the ol' Swede saw," said the colorful pioneer Irish-blooded septuagenarian.

Born in Chatham, Ontario, Mr. Casey came here from the Kootenays in 1910.

His wife and two daughters, Mrs. Mary Carlson and Mrs. George Hills are living in the city, with two other daughters at Vancouver and two sons in Trail.

"Well," said Mr. Muzzy after some thought, "I just don't have enough to bid three. I pass." He had chosen, of course, the most damaging of the alternative penalties.

Mr. Dale had been wondering what to bid next on the South cards. Now that he had the advantage of controlling the opening lead, his course was clear.
