Prayer Week Drawing Many

Attendance at the Week of Prayer meetings continues to be good. Last night between 50 and 60 turned out at the First Presbyterian Church, where Rev. Fred Antrobus, pastor of First Baptist Church, was speaker. Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright was chairman and Mrs. E. J. Smith, organist. Scripture lessons were from the fourth chapter of Ephesians and the 11th chapter of Luke. Mr. Antrobus spoke on the subject "Prayer in the Knowledge of the Holy Spirit." Mr. Antrobus said that one of the disciples of Jesus asked Him to teach them to pray, whereupon He gave them the model prayer. "We learn from this that the first and main activity in prayer is not to get something for ourselves, but it is a prayer to God on behalf of God, that His Kingdom may come, and His will may be done, as it is done in heaven." "From this model Jesus led them to the ultimate in prayer which was a prayer for the Holy Spirit based upon the words, 'If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask Him.'" Then followed the application, Mr. Antrobus continued, Jesus said: "I cast out evil spirits by the Spirit of God. Kinship with Me is not a physical one, not

Saturday Sermon

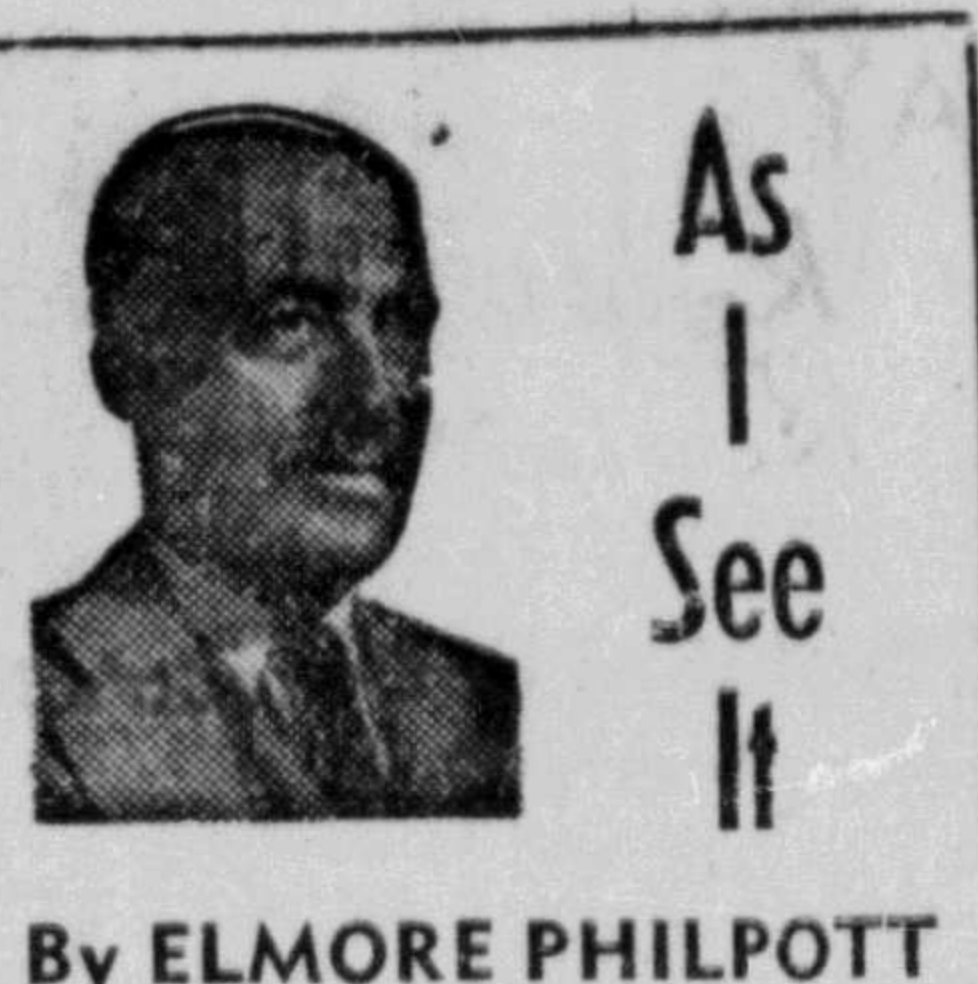

SECOND COMING (By Rev. E. Solland, St. Paul's Lutheran Church) "The End, based on scattered portions of the Bible" In this life we are acquainted with the passing of time. We speak of yesterday, today or tomorrow. Then, in addition to time, God tells us of eternity, a place where times does not exist. In eternity there is no past, present or future, but what we call time is continuous. It is in connection with these facts that God calls our attention to the end of time. This world in which we live had a beginning. It will also have an end. The time of the beginning is in the dim past and the time of the end is in the uncertain future. Our life has much in common with this thought. None of us remember when we were born and we do not know when we will die. Yet it is a definite fact that we were born and we know that we will die.

Before the end comes, there are some things that must be finished. God speaks about the man of sin being revealed—who shall try to take the place of God and who shall produce lying wonders? God tells us that the Gospel of Salvation shall be preached throughout the world. He tells us that there will be earthquakes, signs in the heavens, the children will not be submissive to parents, men will not live decent lives, knowledge shall be increased, nations will not honor their word, wars and rumor of wars shall plague men, war, pestilence and famine will destroy a third of mankind, etc. In God's own time the angel shall sound the trumpet and the Lord Jesus shall return to judge the living and the dead.

Some people become alarmed when they think of the end of time. Is it any different than death? Surely each one of us has settled his eternal destiny at the time of death. So, when Christ returns, he will bring with Him the rewards we have already chosen. For we will be rewarded either because we have received Christ Jesus in our life or we have rejected Him. God tells about the glory of the ones who have washed their robes in the blood of Christ. They will be ushered into the presence of the Heavenly King. Their joy shall never cease for they have left this world of time and been translated into life eternal.

Christ will come suddenly, unannounced, at the end of time. He will come to judge the living and the dead. Those who have believed will have their bodies and souls reunited. The dead in Christ shall rise first. Their glorified bodies like that of the Lord Jesus will be forever with the Lord. Those who are living at the end of time will not need to pass through death, but they will receive rewards according to their choice. Christ tells us that those who have accepted Him as their Lord will live with Him in the glorious place called Heaven. Those who rejected Him as their Lord will be compelled to accept the reward of punishment reserved for the devil and his angels. Peter asks us a pointed question. He tells us that the world shall be destroyed with a fervent heat. Then he asks, since these things shall be so what kind of people should you be? Isn't it reasonable to acknowledge Jesus Christ as your Lord now and look forward to meeting Him in the glories of heaven than to refuse to give Him your heart now and regret it for all eternity? If you are wise you will face yourself to the light of God's Word and ask yourself: "What will it profit me if I gain the whole world and lose heaven?"

Eskimo mothers receive Family Allowance payments in the form of credit notes on their local trading posts. Canada's western mountain system is 400 miles wide and covers 536,000 square miles. one of race, but through the Spirit who creates men new, making them sons of God when they come through faith. "So for the Christian church today," the pastor said, "her wisdom and guidance and energy for her work came through the Spirit of God. It was the Spirit who gives victory over temptation, and all the virtues of the Christlike life, the greatest of these being love. "The purpose of the work of the Spirit in the individual and in the church was for the edifying of the church, for the perfecting of the Christians until all came in the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God unto a perfect man." The meeting tonight will be in the Salvation Army citadel, Canon B. S. Prockter speaking.

LEAVING SOON FOR INDIA

IN ABOUT another week I expect to leave on a five-month trip which will take me to Britain, Egypt, Palestine, Pakistan, India. After a couple of months in India I shall come home by whatever route then seems best. That is, I shall work my way home through such countries as then seem most important in the war-and-peace picture. I expect to attend a world conference on ways and means of promoting world democratic government, due to take place in Rome in April. Then I hope to spend some time in Yugoslavia, Austria, Germany—and other parts of western Europe.

THE MAIN purpose of this trip is to write about India. It is no secret to readers of this column that I regard India as the most influential country in the world today. It seems to me that, if we are to escape World War Three, India will play the key role in enabling us to do so. It also seems to me that if we do not escape World War Three, the outcome of that war will depend on what happens in India perhaps more than on what happens anywhere else.

I HAVE NEVER tried to kid readers of this column, and don't intend to start now. Let's be crystal clear. I would not bet a single dollar that we will not be plunged into world war in the next five months. If world war comes, the vital area will be along the very arc which I intend to travel. The lifeline of democratic civilization seems to me to be anchored on Britain in the west and India in the east. If we can hold that line, the future is secure either in peace or war. But will the lifeline hold? Can India stop the spread of Communism? Is the Gandhi background a help or hindrance? What of Egypt—now seething with unrest, and demanding withdrawal of British troops which hold the Suez Canal? What of reborn Israel? History plainly shows that that tiny land of destiny was always on the hot-spot of empires because geography has plumped it down square in the middle of the crossroads of the continents. If war comes, it will be so again.

ON THIS trip I shall be writing for many more readers than I have ever reached before. This signed column, which started in 1938 by accident with one B.C. weekly of 2000 circulation, will daily reach about two-thirds of a million Canadian homes while I am on this trip. Naturally that pleases me. But what gives me a bigger thrill is this: Because, year in, year out, I championed the cause of independence for India when that was a most unpopular (and financially costly thing) to do, I made friends of people, like the Nehru family, who are now as

Floating Dock For Montreal

MONTREAL—Plans are being made by St. Lawrence Drydock Co. for its first floating drydock. To be built in Montreal, the new dock, states President Charles Ansell, is destined to extend the company's facilities here so that a bigger fleet of vessels needing winter repairs can be handled adequately. It will be near the company's present site on the St. Lawrence Canal near Atwater Avenue. This, plus other winter construction jobs announced by Mr. Ansell, would, it is reported, provide work for over 200 men at a time when drydocking business was slow. One of the biggest of the other jobs is reconversion of a former home carrier, the George S. Cleet, to a collier, expected to be ready for service when navigation opens in the spring.

SYMBOLIC FLAGS—Two flags, one of a war-torn nation, the other of a world organization seeking to bring peace to that country, will be hung in Guelph city hall. The South Korean ensign, in the background and the United Nations flag being examined by Jean Budd and Betty Graham, were sent to the city by Maj. Charles McGee, Roman Catholic chaplain serving with the United States forces in Korea. A native of Guelph, Maj. McGee received the flags after a dedication ceremony at a military cemetery near Inchon. (CP PHOTO)

For the first time, the St. Lawrence Drydock Co. will have its floating plant built in Montreal. Why not come around to Prince Rupert and avoid the ice. This port has been doing it for nearly forty years.

This is the time of year to say something good about your fellowman. Perhaps you won't be speaking absolute truth. But say it, anyway. For a lie can be made to appear so agreeable it can mingle in almost any society.

Originally, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry expected to continue training another few weeks in Korea, but later developments suggest they will go to the front earlier. Meanwhile, weather has a below zero feel, and the boys are thinking of January in Canada. As most of them are smart players, they might just as well organize a hockey league while awaiting the blasted enemy.

Marshal Petain, 95, and very feeble, is believed near death. Since the Second Great War, he has been an exile. In the first, he was a national hero. The Germans in the second, occupied Paris but the city was not destroyed. Others were. Petain saved a great and a beautiful city but plenty of his fellow countrymen have not yet forgiven him.

A refreshing freedom from worry is felt by members of the Language Association in convention at New York. It concerns grammar. In future, there will be no occasion to wonder which is correct—"shall" or "will," "who" or "whom" or "he'll" or "you'll." The convention rules that, whatever your choice, so long as it seems natural, any will be right. This feels comfortable.

The freighter Mukahi Maru has arrived in Vancouver to take on a full cargo of grain. She is a 10,000-ton craft and is to load more than a third of a million bushels having a value of about $700,000. The Mukahi is the first Japanese cargo ship to reach the British Columbia coast since before the war. It's also quite a few years since a Japanese freighter has been seen at Prince Rupert but, early in the history of the grain elevator here, there was a winter when grain traffic between Prince Rupert and Japan was heavy. But there has been little doing in the grain trade here since, no matter where the vessels came from.

He is a Minnesotan by birth and spent most of his life in that state but was in Canada at the outbreak of World War II and joined up with the Canadian Army, serving overseas with a Canadian parachute battalion attached to a British airborne division. He parachuted into Normandy on "D" Day and was captured by the Germans while trying to put a couple of pillboxes out of commission. His group had been isolated when a bridge was blown up. Having been wounded, he was committed to hospital and ended up in a prison camp until

With a partial score, competitive bidding sometimes gets mighty ticklish. After Mr. Champion opened today's hand with one heart, Mr. Dale could not be said to have a typical "book" overcall. But the old boy is not one to sit idly by while his opponents sneak out with a game. He took a chance on a bad loss when he bid one spade. But bad as the loss could have been, the chance of its happening was remote, so Mr. Dale was right in there.

South dealer, Neither side vulnerable, North-South, 60 part-score.

D-10 9	C-10 9 8	D-7 6 3	D-A 8 4 2
C-A Q	C-10 7 6 2

The bidding:

South (Mr. Champion)	West	North	East
S-J	1H	1S	2S
H-A 8 7 2	Pass	Pass	3H All pass
D-K Q 5
C-K 8 5 4

Had Mr. Dale passed, Mr. Masters would have been absolutely fixed after Mrs. Keen made her normal bid of two hearts. As it was, he was very glad to raise his partner's spade bid.

Mrs. Keen was in a quandary concerning her second bid. She suspected Mr. Dale might not be able to make two spades and she was right. But it was too close to double. The best she could hope for by passing was 50 points. On the other hand if her partner could somehow manage to make three hearts, the resulting game would be worth over 400 points—better than 8 to 1 in favor of raising the hearts once more.

Well, nine tricks at hearts just weren't in the cards, Mr. Dale opened the six of spades and Mr. Masters won with the ace and returned the deuce of clubs.

Courage and Preparedness

Local Junior Chamber Exhorted by Regional President

Courage and preparedness for opportunity were recommended last night to the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce as goals for 1951 by R. J. (Bob) Innes, regional president for British Columbia.

Mr. Innes said there was a growing security-mindedness among people. Some people were even going so far as considering dependence a virtue. They thought they should not have to do anything about helping themselves attain security.

The speaker said man was alone in thought and faith. He asked what it would be like to have a government make up the minds of people and decide what they should have faith in.

"Security should be sought as a reward, not as an escape," Mr. Innes said. Difficulties in life are inescapable. Courage in meeting them gives security, he said.

Mr. Innes said really important things were happening in Northern British Columbia things that were realized more in the south, perhaps, than right here where they were happening. Among things noted in the south, he continued, were the construction of the Columbia Cellulose mill at Watson Island, the proposed Aluminum Company development a little way down the coast, mining development and Alaska statehood. "The rest of British Columbia has its eyes on this country."

Mr. Innes spoke of Jaycees as young men preparing themselves for opportunity. "There is always something to be done and always an opportunity to do something about it," he said.

"There is your challenge, and there is your opportunity," he concluded.

Guests at the meeting last night were Mayor G. W. Rudderham, E. T. Applewhite M.P., L. M. Felsenthal, president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, and three prospective members, Keith Dewitt, William Gordon and G. W. (Slim) Charlton.

J. C. ACTIVITIES

President Geoff Hill told the meeting Future Citizens Day had been a great success and added there were pictures available if anyone wanted them. The pictures were passed around after the meeting. He said it was about time the chamber got to work on the clean-up, paint up campaign and suggested the street marker project be continued. He also called for those who might be able to make the provincial convention at Kamloops in April.

Mayor Rudderham thanked the Jaycees for their invitation to dinner and added that he was pleased to meet the provincial president. He said Mr. Innes' remarks were in the point and went on to say that people sometimes asked too much from their governments. To do everything asked for would put taxes out of sight.

Committee chairman were asked to set their news in by Monday at the latest for the J.C. publication.

S. G. Cook moved that the Jaycees ask the city council to keep pursuing the housing matter with the greatest diligence. The motion passed with no dissenting votes.

The matter of noise near the hospital was mentioned by Arthur Williams. It was referred to the civic affairs committee for investigation and report.

In September of last year ordinary expenditures of federal government departments were $29 million higher than for the same month of 1949.

Ottawa Is Concerned

War or No War, Defence Costs Are Bounding

OTTAWA—A chilling fear of prospects in Asia and in Europe is spreading over Capital Hill.

The temperature had been dropping for some weeks, took a further slide when Canada's delegates returned from the secret conference of North Atlantic powers in Brussels.

It will be reflected in another very substantial increase in an acceleration of the Canadian defence program.

The new appropriations may well be double the 1950 rate of spending, or 50% above the expected billion dollar budget for 1951-52, that was projected prior to the Korean defeat.

Size of the appropriations may not be known or officially endorsed until Mr. St. Laurent returns from Britain in mid-January.

Behind this new enlarged expansion is:

1. The Korean defeat.
 2. Realization, now almost complete, that the Russians are prepared to risk all-out war.
- This is the appreciation of the events of the past three weeks which was shown first in President Truman's "National Emergency" speech, and more recently at secret discussions of the North Atlantic powers in Brussels.

Up until the Brussels meeting, Canadian authorities were inclined to question the wisdom of the U.S. position.

Present consensus suggests that Canada will decide that the present emergency is so grave as to warrant a defence effort greatly bigger than anything

THREE CENTS DUE ON THIS LETTER

WILL YOU STIR MY STEW A MOMENT, MR. BEASLEY, WHILE I RUN NEXT DOOR?

THREE CENTS DUE ON THIS LETTER, ALEXANDER

I'M LATE, ANSWER THE PHONE FOR ME, PLEASE, AND TELL MY GIRL FRIEND I'M ON MY WAY TO HER HOUSE

THREE CENTS DUE-- I MEAN ALEXANDER SAYS HE'S ON HIS WAY TO YOUR HOUSE

HAVE YOU GOT THREE CENTS FOR THIS LETTER, COOKIE?

IF I HAD THREE CENTS, I'D BUY THREE LOLLIPOPS-- ONE STRAWBERRY, ONE LEMON AND ONE CHERRY

ALL I'VE GOT IS A TWENTY-DOLLAR BILL

GIVE IT TO ME-- I'LL GET IT CHANGED FOR YOU

GIVE ME TWENTY DOLLARS IN PENNIES AND PUT THEM IN THIS BAG

HERE'S YOUR CHANGE-- I KEPT OUT MY THREE CENTS

DAGWOOD, COME BACK! YOU'LL CATCH COLD!
