

Ketchikan Publisher Impressed With New Prosperity of Area

(By BILL BAKER, Ketchikan Chronicle)

"Veni, vidi, vici," as Julius Caesar said some ago—"I came, I saw, I conquered."

We have come, we have seen and been conquered by the hustle of activity in central British Columbia and the big new Columbia Cellulose Co. corporation is being pulp at Prince Rupert and whose half-

Puget Sound mills are also in the market, due to the shortage of manpower in the woods and the big demand for pulp due to the world emergency.

What the U.S. forest service has to consider, of course, is whether exporting some logs now used in Alaska would thwart the coming of pulp mills to Alaska. It realizes, of course, that the present practice of selective logging of saw timber is not economical and that it leaves hemlock standing to replace the spruce that is removed—which eventually will eliminate much of the fine Sitka spruce of present Alaska timberland. But it does not seem to realize that its present policy has reduced the logging industry of Southeastern Alaska from its peak during World War II when about 1000 men were employed, to about one-tenth of that amount today, with operations at Edna Bay, at Hood Bay, at McDonald Brothers camp and the other leading camps now virtually nonexistent.

With business generally depressed in Southeastern Alaska and a crying need for this timber for vital purposes, it might be wise for the ban to be modified in the case of hemlock only, at least until the Ketchikan pulp mill is built and operating, and at least in areas not now set aside for future pulp mills. This is a proposal we believe merits serious consideration for the tonic it could provide to the flagging economy of Alaska's Panhandle.—W.L.B.

WEATHER

Synopsis

Falls of smoke hang over the south coast today as one of the driest Junes on record comes to an end. Weather here will continue warm and dry.

In the interior there has been a considerable increase in cloudiness over the last 24 hours and a few showers have been reported in the Prince George and Revelstoke areas. Shower activity is likely to continue in these parts especially during the afternoon.

Forecast

North Coast Region—Considerable low cloudiness and fog along the shoreline in the morning. Otherwise, mostly clear today and Sunday. Little change in temperature. Wind—northwest twenty. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Port Hardy, Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 55 and 70.

Fish Price Is Settled

Salmon prices for 1951 have been settled. Negotiations between fishermen and operators along the West Coast resulted this morning in agreement on new prices. Deadline for a strike call was to have been tomorrow.

However, all seiners will remain tied up until weighing fish on the grounds has been accepted by the operators.

New prices are:
Sockeye, 25 cents; coho, 18 cents; pink, 9½ cents, and chum, 7½ cents.

Seiners vote Tuesday to accept or reject operators' offer.

Vic Raschi Wins Game

NEW YORK — Brilliant pitching by Vic Raschi and a clutch double by Joe DiMaggio enabled New York Yankees to shade Boston Red Sox 2 to 1 Friday and remain half a game behind the front-running Chicago White Sox.

Chicago smeared St. Louis Browns 10 to 3 in a game delayed by rain at Chicago.

Raschi limited the Red Sox to three hits to gain his twelfth victory against four defeats before 50,332 fans at the Yankee Stadium. The big right-hander and Boston's Maury McDermott were locked in a 1-1 duel until the eighth inning when DiMaggio doubled home Phil Rizzuto from second base to break up the game.

Pastors' Stand On Port Day

A special meeting of the Ministerial Association was called to consider the invitation of the Port Day Committee in reference to Divine Service at Port Day Sunday next.

Canon Basil S. Prockter explained what the proposal was, stating that, as an individual clergyman, he had promised cooperation in order to give proper religious significance to what would otherwise be a purely secular occasion.

The meeting unanimously deplored that the Lord's Day should be used for an organized sports event and went on record as being sure that, since Saturday is also an "off" day with regard to the fishing, the events might well be run on that day.

The action of Canon Prockter and any others who might be with him for this service has therefore, no official sanction or blessing from the Association itself.

Douglas Frizzell, chairman of Port Day expressed regret today that it seemed necessary to make arrangements without more adequate warning and discussion and hoped that time may bring some solution in which there is more general agreement.

Battery won the Dominion Day football cup last night with a 4 to 0 victory over Canadian Legion in the pre-played final.

Two goals were scored by Zachereilli in the first half, the first after twelve minutes and the second after seventeen. After 28 minutes a loose ball found its way into the net of Ford.

In the second period Zachereilli turned the hat trick to put the Battery four up.

It was a worthy second season in succession for Battery.

HMCS Ontario Fights Fires

Forest fires on the Queen Charlotte Islands, while reported under control, remain something of a risk. H.M.C.S. Ontario, which sailed from Prince Rupert last Monday, was still lying off the scene of the fires Friday. Co-operation has been given by the cruiser, such as landing offshore parties and ships fire fighting equipment at certain points.

Communists Slow in Responding to Gen. Ridgway's Overture

TOKYO (CP)—The United Nations today invited the Communists to talk about a Korean armistice but Red reactions were not encouraging. There was no word of a reply from the Communist military commander more than 16 hours after General Matthew B. Ridgway had suggested peace talks.

BULLETINS

AIR LINER, 49, MISSING

DENVER, Colorado—Search planes and ground crews combed northern Colorado today for a United Air Lines Mainliner which is missing with 49 persons on board. The DC-6, last heard from at 1:46 a.m., was one of the first United planes to go back in service since pilots called off their strike yesterday.

CANADIAN RED SHIPS

OTTAWA—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today that the controversial Ming Sung ships, flying the Canadian flag, have been taking to Red China from Hong Kong "many materials" which Canada herself does not allow to be exported to Communist countries. Such trade as trucks, rubber tires, scrap metal and iron rods was now being stopped by British action. The Prime Minister did not feel that seizure action should be taken at this time. Investigation was still going on and the matter was by no means a closed book.

PARLIAMENT PROROGUES

OTTAWA—Parliament adjourned at noon today for the summer. It will reassemble in the fall.

FIGHTING IN BANGKOK

BANGKOK—The navy fought today what appeared to be a losing battle as a rebel government was set up to replace that of the kidnapped premier. Army and navy forces fought an artillery duel in the streets.

FIRES STILL RAGING

VANCOUVER—A barrier of flames formed by Vancouver Island's biggest forest fire in a decade marooned 76 firefighters last night in the smoke-cloaked Campbell River region. They are being supplied by air and Forest Branch spokesmen said they were not considered to be in great danger.

FAMILY IS BURNED

PARKHILL, Ont.—Four young children and their father died today in flames that swept their small home at Sylvan, six miles west of here and 28 miles northwest of London. The dead are Frederick White; Shannon, 7; Michael, 4; Beverly, 2, and Freddie, seven months.

Hon H. Bowman Is Brief Visitor

Hon. Harry Bowman, provincial minister of agriculture, after a quick trip through the central interior, arrived here by car this morning and enplaned for Victoria.

Although skies were clear and the sun was hot Thursday, it still was not the hottest day of the year. Temperature yesterday was 70 degrees, "right on the nose," according to the Digby Island weather station.

June 5 was hotter by 15 degrees.

"Cool winds cut the temperature," the weatherman said.

Dominion Day

IT'S CANADA'S 84th birthday Sunday and religious observances will precede the celebrations on Monday, officially designated as a public holiday.

Since Confederation in 1867 Canada has progressed to nationhood, one of the world's "middle" powers in her own right. From the combined Upper and Lower Canada with its population of 3,689,000 in the first census of 1871, Canada now has 10 provinces with a population of about 14,000,000. She has sent forces overseas in two world wars and right now has a brigade of 21,000 soldiers, plus navy destroyers, engaged in the Korean campaign.

Prime Minister St. Laurent told Parliament a few days ago that he believes the Yukon and the Northwest Territories will achieve provincial status in some future year. He was moving amendments to the Federal District Commission Act providing for representation on that board of Canada's newest province, Newfoundland, which entered Confederation on March 31, 1949.

In many capitals abroad tribute will be paid to Canada's nationhood. Here Canadians pay tribute to the "Fathers of Confederation" who conceived the idea of the Empire's first self-governing member, and brought their dream to reality in a series of historic conferences at Quebec, Charlottetown and finally in London.

It was at the last conference that Canada's title of "Dominion" was chosen. Delegates found their text in the Biblical quotation: "He shall have dominion from sea to sea." But the first confederation joined only Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Ontario and Quebec.

Manitoba entered in 1870. British Columbia followed in 1871, and Prince Edward Island in 1873. All the rest of British North America was annexed as territories in 1880, and from these areas Alberta and Saskatchewan were formed in 1905. Newfoundland was the 10th.

It's a greater Canada than ever the Fathers of Confederation dreamed of, and it's still growing.

OUTDOOR PONTIFICAL—Mass was celebrated by Most Rev. Anthony Jordan, OMI, in a solemn ceremony of the Eucharist Congress last Sunday at Terrace. Hundreds of devout Catholic worshippers journeyed to Terrace from Prince Rupert and from points east as far as Telkwa, to take part in the Mass and the Procession of the Blessed Sacraments.

BEHIND OIL CRISIS

SINCE I HAVE RETURNED from India and the Middle East people ask me:

"What do you know about the oil crisis in Iran? What's behind it?"

Many things seem to me to be behind the oil crisis in Persia. One could write reams about it from any one angle. But it seems to me that too much talk or argument about the details is likely to befog the main facts. The central truth is that all across a broad belt of the earth—we might call it the Muslim belt, or brown-skinned section of the human family—a truly revolutionary situation is swiftly coming to a head.

The people are "desperately poor and horribly ignorant." But they are not so poor or so ignorant as not to understand one of the great facts of life of 1951—that they are much worse off than are the people of Europe and America, whose governments have a special position of power in the Middle East.

WHEREVER DESPERATELY poor people are under any kind of foreign control, they are bound to blame ALL their local problems on that foreign control.

That is partly because no man can be so poor or ignorant as not to understand the meaning of having foreign troops in his country to protect some foreign interest—not the local country's. So long as foreign troops are there, he knows perfectly well that his country is not a fully free country. There may be times when few, if any, of the people of such countries resent the presence of foreign troops, or foreign business corporations, which have special privileges over and above those enjoyed by native concerns. We see one example of that in Saudi Arabia.

But when times are bad and class discontent is wide and deep, the foreign army or foreign institution becomes the inevitable target for all the resentments of all the people. It gets blamed for all evils—not only for its own real sins.

THE MOST DANGEROUS feature of the whole situation in that part of the world which runs from Iran, Iraq, to all North Africa is that the poor people have no effective political machinery through which to work.

Even where they have nominal democracy, as in Iran and Egypt, the real power is in the hands of a corrupt, wealthy class, who have not the slightest intention of allowing, much less helping, the people to come to grips with their real problems. It is these mean, wealthy people and their stooges in parliaments, who become the most dangerous of all elements at a time like the present in Iran, fire which may blaze over vast fire which may blaze over vast sections of the earth.

For, to detract attention from their own social and economic exploitation, they whip up the mass of the people against "the foreign exploiter."

In Iran for months past, they have been suggesting to the seething people that if only the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company were "nationalized," all the problems of Iran (or Persia) would be solved overnight. Most of them are fully aware that this is a cynical lie. But they are buying a little more time for themselves by this lie.

THE MOST SIGNIFICANT story I heard, while sitting on Iran's doorstep, was this:

On one of the key occasions when the parliament met, before nationalization of oil was made law, the Prime Minister said that two things were necessary: One was oil nationalization, the other was land reform, which would enable the man who works the soil to own what he works.

The MP's who were voting 100 per cent for oil nationalization sat in utter silence, with downcast eyes, at this statement. When the Shah distributed much of his land to poor tenants, the landlords looked the other way—indeed, redoubled their diversions and gestures toward foreign oil companies.

The generosity of your citizens is much appreciated.

Dominion Day

(SENIOR CAPTAIN W. C. POULTON, Salvation Army)

The word of the Bible is: "Come let us reason together." That is what was done by the Fathers of the Confederation in the middle of the last century and we have been a growing force in the world ever since.

Canada and Canadians have increasingly meant a great deal in the affairs of the world's politics, industry, and leadership. The word of the Lord is still: Come let us reason together. But men are not contented to go the rest of the way with the text, which says: Though your sins be as scarlet they shall be white as snow.

Sin is an awfully ugly word. It sounds so harsh. It sounds so absolutely indecent.

Of course it is all those and more. Sin is so ugly a thing that it cost the life of Jesus Christ to show men how ugly it is in the sight of God the Father.

Come let us reason together. There must be a way to overcome SIN and its ugliness. God has a wonderful plan and when men sit down and reason with Him they get up to go forward and develop stature and dignity. Life becomes real and tangible and not a mere earthbound affair. Why not a confederacy between you and God through Jesus Christ and by the aid of the Holy Spirit? It would be the same way to celebrate the Confederation week-end.

Let God have DOMINION over you.

NOTICE OF RESTRICTED INDUSTRIAL CLOSURE UNDER SECTION 120, SUB-SECTION 1, OF THE "FOREST ACT"

In view of the hazardous condition of the forests, and pursuant to the provisions of section 120 of the "Forest Act" the area herein described below is hereby declared to be a closed district as from midnight Friday, June 29th, 1951, until such time as a subsequent order has declared the danger abated and the closed district abolished.

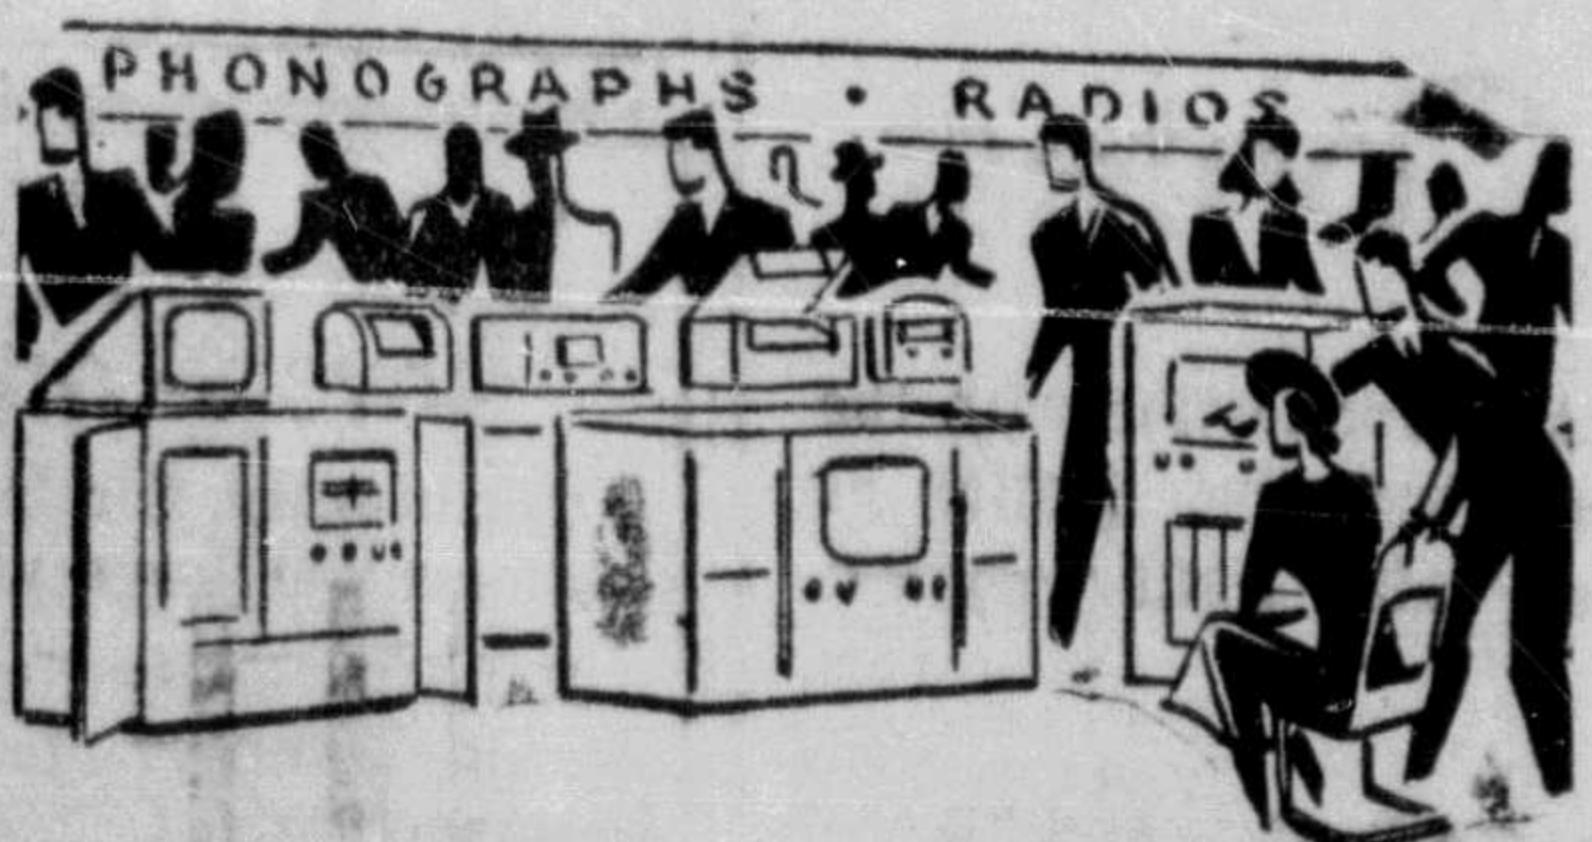

DESCRIPTION OF CLOSED DISTRICT
All that part of the Prince Rupert forest district which lies to the west of Terrace and the summit of the Cascade Mountains (which includes the Queen Charlotte Islands). During the continuance of this closure it is hereby ordered that:

A. No person shall conduct any logging, land clearing, mining, road building right-of-way clearing or construction projects within one-half mile of any forest or woodland between the hours of one p.m. Pacific Daylight Saving Time and 7:00 p.m. Pacific Daylight Saving Time within the closed district unless otherwise authorized by the district forester.

B. No person shall operate any sawmill or open burner, or burn, or permit to burn, any wood, sawdust, or debris within one-half mile of forest, woodland, logging slash or forest debris from 1:00 p.m. Pacific Daylight Saving Time until 7:00 p.m. Pacific Daylight Saving Time daily within the closed district and all such sawmilling and industrial operations operating open burners or otherwise burning, or permitting to burn, any sawdust or debris within one-half mile of any forest, woodland, logging slash or forest debris, shall maintain watchman therefore twenty-four hours daily, during the period of this order, unless exemption is granted under written permit from the district forester.

C. No person shall operate any railway that is not a common carrier from 1:00 p.m. Pacific Daylight Saving Time until 7:00 p.m. Pacific Daylight Saving Time, daily within closed district without first obtaining a written permit from the district forester.

Mr. Drew has not accepted Mr. Howe's challenge about risking the loss of his seat in Parliament. The latter gentleman was feeling indignant concerning a certain speech of which there are many in Ottawa. Instead of shouting "you're another," Mr. Drew thought it all over and is just as much in his seat as ever. Taking risks in hot weather is apt to bring on high blood pressure, stomach ulcers or both.

IN SUB-TROPIC ZONE
An elderly couple, obviously tourists, had been in a Sixth St. store, during the course of a cheerful looking morning this week. Crossing to the opposite sidewalk, friend husband suddenly stopped, as if to go back. "We've seen all we wished to, on that side," exclaimed his companion. "Where are you going?" "I know, I know, but the further I get outside, in this town, the warmer I feel. Sun must be too much."

Some of British Columbia's school pupils—including Prince Rupert's—are reported to have said it is not their intention to resume studies this year. Instead they propose to go to work and earn money. Perhaps they are not without sufficient reason although lack of education in middle life is sometimes regarded as a possible handicap.

The national weekly, Saturday Night, has a new editor—R. A. Parquharson of the Toronto Globe and Mail. He succeeds Dr. B. K. Sandwell, scholarly and widely informed. As long ago as 1906 he was a member of the Montreal Herald staff. On a Sunday afternoon in Prince Rupert, years ago, Dr. Sandwell, in the city council chamber gave an informal talk to a good sized audience. The trouble today is—we can't remember what it was all about.

WHY WEEP, ONCE MORE?
Little support appears to be given the proposal that Canadian dead in Korea be returned to Canada. The pretice is granted in the United States. But it would be doubtful indeed if such would be accepted in this country. More harm than good might be done, to say nothing of expense, and demands on shipping. For after all, time is the great healer, and after the lapse of years, why shed tea's again?

Mrs. M. Fladset and son sailed Thursday night on the Prince Rupert for a trip to Vancouver.

Island Fire Still Burns

The forest fire on Moresby Island of the Queen Charlottes, in the Skidegate Lake area, is still burning, but is under control, forestry officials said here today.

"The full crew of men is still fighting fire and they are holding it from spreading," was the report.

A woods closure notice in the northern area is expected to be announced tomorrow by the department of lands and forests.

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin and son, Reg, and daughter, Elizabeth, are leaving next Thursday night for Duncan, Vancouver Island, where they will make their future home. Mr. Martin, who has operated the Seventh Avenue Market for years, has purchased a hardware business in Duncan. Evan Shier has purchased the Seventh Avenue Market business.

Mrs. Annette Mansell leaves Sunday on the Coquitlam for a brief business trip to Vancouver.

FORT DAY SERVICE

Editor, Daily News:

Just a word to your readers about the Open Air Service at the dock with which Port Day will begin tomorrow. I trust that it will be an expression of true community under the guiding, correcting and saving Hand of God whence all true community derives. We shall worship as members of many churches, yet all acknowledging the One God and His Son Jesus Christ Our Lord We shall attend as possessing a common Canadian Citizenship, praying that our oneness in this nation may be for the peace and blessing of the whole world. We shall stand together as people of many occupations yet all members of a fishing community in which the front line breadwinners are the brave and strong men who go down to the sea in their little ships. We shall pray that their going out and coming in may prosper.

May this spirit of worship and fellowship dominate the entire proceedings of the Sunday afternoon

CREATING AN ESTATE...

When you pay the first premium on a $5,000 life insurance policy you immediately create an estate of $5,000. If you die the full amount is available for your family. If you live you can take as long as thirty years to pay for it. Why not create your estate today?

MORE PEOPLE WEAR STETSON HATS THAN ANY OTHER BRAND

The travelling public is hereby warned that, commencing July 2, 1951, and continuing from time to time throughout the summer, asphalt spraying operations will be carried out on the Northern Trans-Provincial Highway from Prince Rupert to Port Edward in connection with the forthcoming paving program.

It is important that travelers heed carefully all warning signs and flagmen for the benefit of themselves and the work.

Since no available detours exist a certain amount of inconvenience will be caused and motorists should be careful to keep their speed down to ten miles per hour when driving over fresh oil.

The Department cannot in any way be responsible for the removal of asphalt stains which may be caused from driving over the fresh oil nor for accidents which might occur due to the road being freshly oiled.

Hook, Fly, Fish, On Resort Staff

PICTOU, N.S.—When the popular summer resort Pictou Lodge on the scenic shores of Northumberland Strait opened its doors for the season recently the importance of this section of Nova Scotia as a fishing centre was brought home to its manager, Frank Pellerin. Believe it or not the first three members of the Canadian National resort's staff to arrive for duty were named Hook, Fly and Fish.

T.B. DEATHS DECLINE
LONDON (CP)—Deaths from tuberculosis in England and Wales fell by 20 per cent last year, the biggest decline recorded for any one year since 1929. The death rate per million for respiratory T.B. last year was 32, compared with 403 in 1949.

Sixty per cent of the Gold Coast in Africa are pagans, with 30 per cent Christians and 10 per cent Moslems.

"His Silent Partner"

A SURGEON, YES—

but the picture is not complete. Over 40 per cent of his income is derived from woods-workers or from people servicing woods-workers. Partner in his profession stands the forest.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Sometimes I wonder how Mr. Meek learned to play the cards so well. With his conservative bidding habits he seldom gets into contracts which require tough, daring, brilliant play. I just wonder where he gets the practice.

He made all 13 tricks on this hand but declined to bid further after Mrs. Keen's powerful jump to four spades.

The bidding:
North 1D East Pass South 1S West Pass
4S All pass

Mr. Abel led the king of hearts and Mr. Meek won with the ace on the board. He paused to check the situation over. Unless all five outstanding spades were in one opponent's hand, he had 10 tricks in straight leads—four spades, five diamonds and a heart.

He thought about a cross-ruff. He knows, of course, that the first thing to do when planning a cross-ruff is to cash the quick side suit winners. He saw that if he could cash two diamond tricks, he could then cross-ruff clubs and hearts for eight more tricks. These, with the ace of hearts, would make a total of 11 tricks.

CHANCE TO TAKE ALL
But wait. If neither opponent had a singleton diamond there was a good chance to take all the tricks. So Mr. Meek played in the following manner.

After winning the opening trick with the ace of hearts, he immediately led a small heart and ruffed it with the deuce of spades.

He overtook his 10 of diamonds with dummy's king and led another heart, ruffing it with the 10 of spades. The jack of diamonds was overtaken with the ace on the board and dummy's last heart was led.

UNLOCKS WITH ACE
This one Mr. Meek ruffed with his ace of spades, unblocking so he would have a trump lead to the board. Then he led the queen of spades and won it with dummy's king.

On the lead of dummy's jack of spades, Mr. Meek carefully discarded his queen of diamonds.

TIMBER SALE X50209
Sealed tenders will be received by the Minister of Forests at Victoria, B.C., not later than 11 a.m. on the 10th day of July, 1951, for the purchase of Licence X50209, to cut 2345,000 b.m. of Hemlock, Balsam Spruce, and Cedar on an area comprising of vacant Crown land situated on the south bank of Gittany River and approximately 1/2 mile south of L. 2577, Indian Reserve No. 13, Range 4, Coast Land District.

Three years will be allowed for removal of timber.

Showers Help Prairie Crop

WINNIPEG—Weather continued mostly cool throughout the west during the past week with good rains to scattered showers occurring to the weekly crop report of the department of agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Some areas would welcome further rains particularly those in the "light shower" districts but in general warmer weather is now the most important crop requirement.

Wheat has commenced to head out at a few points in Manitoba but is later in other provinces.

It has been dry in the Okanagan during the past week. Early cherries have started to move in small quantities at Penticton and Bing cherries will commence to move about this week-end and should be moving in volume about July 4. This crop will be about 75 per cent of last year's production.

Apricots, which will be 300 to 400 per cent over last year, will commence moving from Penticton around July 17 to 20. The peach crop is expected to be six times greater than last year in volume and is expected to move in carload lots to Saskatchewan and Manitoba markets. Apples for the fresh fruit market are now estimated at 7 million boxes as compared with 7,900,000 last season.

The remaining enemy trumps were then taken and all of dummy's diamonds were good. Thus Mr. Meek won five diamonds, one heart and no less than seven trump tricks. This was one hand where Mrs. Keen wished she had Miss Brash for a partner.

To Remain In Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Citizenship Minister Harris said in Commons that Fred Rose, former Labor Progressive Member of Parliament, now serving a penitentiary term for espionage conspiracy, will be allowed to remain in Canada on completion of his sentence August 9.

Mr. Harris said that a new provision on the Citizenship Act which can be used to deport persons convicted of espionage is not retroactive. It cannot be applied in the Rose case.

"There is another point," Mr. Harris said, "You cannot deport Canadian citizens."

Rose, born at Lublin, Poland, December 7, 1907, came to Canada in 1920. He later obtained Canadian citizenship.

Mr. Harris made his statement in reply to questions by Leon

Art Parent Derby Winner

One Thousand Spectators See Exhibition Opening Event

Prince Rupert's first entry in the provincial Soap-box Derby finals is 14-year-old Arthur Parent who last night rode to victory in the district derby against six other contestants.

And Arthur wanted nothing more. For a month he has been dreaming of the plane trip to Vancouver that winning the race here has given him. Art, as his pals all call him, left on this morning's flight and was met in Vancouver four hours later by a Vancouver Junior Chamber of Commerce welcoming committee who speeded him on his way to Mission where the B.C. final will take place next week.

Art was sponsored here by the Jaycees. "How do I feel? I say, grand. It's sure great," was about all Art could say when he was helped from his "box" after crossing the finishing line well ahead of his nearest rival, Jack Rudolph. The Derby was run in seven heats, two racing at a time. More than a thousand spectators lined Second Avenue to view the first official Soap Box Derby held in Prince Rupert.

relationship held at Akron, Ohio. Art even has thought of winning that race, he confesses, but he guesses "it's pretty hopeless. Not this time anyway."

Prince Rupert's enthusiast is an avid aircraft hobbyist, designs and builds his own model planes, but has never had the opportunity to fly before. And that was the "big reason I ran in the derby," he says, "so I could get a chance to fly to Vancouver."

Besides winning the plane trip for himself and his car, Art was awarded a huge, ten-pound silver trophy by Douglas Frizell, manager of Frizell's Motor Products Ltd., co-sponsors of district derby. The winner's car will carry the name of the other sponsor, the Prince Rupert Daily News, which also gave him a gift to speed him on his way.

Only three weeks ago Art started to build his soap-box. He did not know he would have a sponsor until then. The night before the race, he was up all night rushing his car to completion. He did not have a chance to test it before the race.

And Art spent most of last night awake too, for in the final heat, which declared him the winner, his box suffered some damage. A steering cable snapped and the brake was damaged. He had to make repairs by himself and be ready to leave this morning at 10.

"But I couldn't sleep anyway, thinking about the trip and everything," he said, with a wide grin.

CONSOLATION
The losers, the near-winners of the Derby, didn't feel so bad, for they got a second chance. Master of ceremonies T. Norton Youngs announced a consolation race would be run by the balance of the racers.

That's where young Billy Watmough, Kinsmen candidate, shone as he scooted over the final finish line in his low model box. His prize was a silver cup trophy and a $10 cheque awarded by Ideal Cleaners and Laundry.

All seven of the Derby entries had, at the most, a month in which to build their cars. Some were better in workmanship than others but looks didn't count in this race. Everyone of the racers were grimly determined to win.

their teeth set and bodies pressed forward as though to give more speed to their unpropelled miniature vehicles.

The racers showed a model example in sportsmanship, for the winners were modest and the losers cheerful.

"Well, there's next year again," said young Rudolph, a close loser in both races. And many young lads from the spectator groups made up their minds they would enter the Soap-Box Derby next year.

Others in the Derby were Stan Parker, Gyro Club; Maurice LeVacher, Holy Names Society; Brian Roberts, Rotary Club; Richard Bury, Kinsmen. First heat winners were Bury, Watmough, Parent, and Rudolph, who was sponsored by the Canadian Legion.

The entire race was conducted so smoothly as though it had been rehearsed, and perhaps one of the greatest parts played in the success of the event was by the Boy Scouts. Some 40 of them held ropes along either side of the 1,000-foot race track on Second Avenue to keep spectators in line. Only two RCMP officers, under whose direction the Scouts worked, were needed to patrol the track.

"The Scouts helped a lot. We could hardly have managed without them," said the police.

Mayor G. W. Rudderham and Fred Conrad were finish-line judges.

J. D. McRae, M.L.A., presented the prizes and Doug Frizell spoke briefly to the crowd.

The racers began on a raised ramp at Third Street and Second Avenue and finished in front of the Civic Centre building.

BATTER UP

(By LARRY STANWOOD)

Sunday evening and Monday afternoon the pick of Prince Rupert baseball players will pit their strength against visiting All-stars from Ketchikan in an international Dominion Day bout. The visitors are being flown here by Prince Rupert's baseball league.

The Letourneau-Abel battery will start the game for Prince Rupert All-stars. They are no doubt two of the heaviest ball players here as far as weight goes and they have promised to throw it all behind winning the games for "our side."

Both games will run the full nine innings. Sunday's game will be played in the evening because the visitors won't arrive until late afternoon.

The following have been selected by the three team managers, Cornwell, Bill, and Simundson, to play infield for Prince Rupert:

Bill Sunberg, Cliff Dahl, Don Scherk, Benny Windie, Doug Sheir and Ernie Desonier.

First in the outfield will be Nick Pavlikis, left; Miner Simundson, centre, and Stan Cornwell, right field, spare outfielders are Bill Gunn and Andy Marshall.

Herb Morgan will be additional catcher, and relief pitchers are Larry Warner, Jack Sharpe, Don Hawryluk, Ray Zacharely and Billy Robinson. If he gets here, Robinson, a start pitcher last year, is fishing commercially this year, but is expected to be in town next Sunday. He is slated to pitch for Gordon & Anderson later on in the season.

Meanwhile, the Prince Rupert-Smithers game in the interior town has been cancelled.

League officials received word yesterday from the Smithers club that they felt an all-star team from here would be too strong for them. They are playing a Hazelton team instead.

However, Smithers suggested they would come here to play a league team some time this summer.

If transportation can be arranged, a full strength Prince Rupert team will visit Ketchikan on July 4 for a return match on Alaskan soil. Full details will be known after the week-end international play here.

In the inter-club plays, Commercial have been see-sawing with Abel & Odowes for top position in the league and now again are tied, and they did it over the backs of Girdon & Anderson Thursday night.

A shut-out loss, such as G&A suffered Thursday, is no disgrace, for in that case the game belongs to the pitcher. Don Hawryluk pitched a good game of ball, giving only one hit, but he had good fielding support.

On the other hand, young Larry Matthews, pitching his first game of baseball, went all the way and made a good job of it, but he played the game almost singlehanded. His infield made seven errors, three by Hartwig at third base, and four by shortstop Don Scherk, which accounted for three of the six runs by the Home-men. Two runs were earned off Matthews.

Scherk is getting another chance, though, to prove himself Sunday against Ketchikan. He is expected to play third base. His batting average has been consistent and high enough to rank with the starting all-stars, the managers say. All three managers will co-operate to lead their pick of players to win this week-end.

Alaska Logging Outfit Moves to Queen Charlottes—Final Halibut Landings

Depressed condition of the timber market in Alaska at the same time as British Columbia has been enjoying a boom forced the removal from the territory to this district of the Owens Brothers Logging Co. whose outfit was at the ocean dock here during the past week. The float houses and scows, containing conkeys, yardsticks and other equipment, were towed here by the Ketchikan tug Fairbanks from Admiralty Island, will return here to sail tomorrow. From here they are being taken to Selwyn Inlet on the Queen Charlottes where the Owens Brothers will start production for the Alaska Pine Co. of Vancouver. Half a million feet of logs were also brought here for disposal. For the past few years the outfit had been logging for the Columbia Lumber Co. which operated sawmills at Sitka and Whittier. Employing 40 or 50 men, they produced some ten million feet a year in Alaska. There was the last big camp of its kind in Alaska Logging in Southeastern Alaska has been pretty well reduced now to the small hand variety.

With a goodly number of passengers including a number of round trip tourists and native children from the Port Alberni school heading for the Skeena River to spend the summer vacation, Union steamer Cogitiam, Capt. William McCombe, arrived in port at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and sailed at 10 p.m. for south Queen Charlotte Island points, whence she will return here to sail tomorrow night at 10 o'clock for Vancouver and waypoints.

CPR steamer Princess Louise, Capt. Ronald Hicks, arrived in port at 12 noon yesterday from Vancouver and sailed at 3 p.m. for Alaska points. She is due back here next Wednesday afternoon southbound. The Princess Louise brought 195 passengers including 18 who disembarked here. Those leaving the vessel here included Mrs. V. Hoban, Miss D. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. A. McRae, Mr. and Mrs. L. Heffler, Mrs. W. H. Spencer, Mrs. N. Smith, Miss N. Smith, H. Holst, K. Johnson and Mrs. L. Warning. Twelve persons left here for the north—Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Olsen and W. L. Baker for Ketchikan; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Speri, for Juneau; Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Merritt and Mrs. J. B. Gibson for Skagway.

JIM LEE RETIRES

A well-known and well-liked old timer is saying good-bye to Prince Rupert's waterfront next month. Heading Atlin Fisheries Limited for 33 years "hasn't always been easy but it's been good," says Jim Lee.

"But I'm looking forward to settling down on that little island in the Gulf of Georgia.

"I'm going to do a little gardening, a little fishing and hunting. My wife and I am going to have ourselves a good time."

That's the way the retiring manager and president of Atlin Fisheries looks at things today, but that is after spending more than 50 years in the fishing industry.

Mr. Lee started with fish when he was 13, on the east coast of Scotland. Born in Fraserburgh, his father was a herring-curer and the main industry in his home town was fishing and canning herring. Young Jim worked during the summer holidays and after school hours. At 16, he left school and began serving a regular bookkeeping apprenticeship with a steam trawling company.

Completing his apprenticeship, he joined a firm of herring-curers as a bookkeeper. Jim followed the herring because, on the east coast of the British Isles, the fishing moved from the north to the south, and wherever the herring fleet went, Jim went also, as bookkeeper on the job.

It was fun to travel, and there was ample opportunity to see much of the country.

"Then, in 1910, news of a big boom in Canada hit the old country," Mr. Lee recalled, and he and several of his friends made the long trip to a new and strange country, arriving at Vancouver on a special train in the spring of 1911.

"Well, the boom was over, it was bust. The streets were lined on both sides with unemployed as we walked down Granville from the station," and Mr. Lee grinned a little as he reflected.

There had been cat-calls from the strange reception committee. "Did you buy return tickets?" the host of jobless asked sarcastically.

"Well, for a while we wished we had, but finally I landed a job at Spencer's store."

Then followed a short period with Standard Fisheries, at Pacific, Queen Charlotte Islands, as fishworker, and later, with B.C. Fisheries, at Allford Bay. Both companies went defunct, however, and Lee came to Prince Rupert.

He worked for a while at odd jobs, here and there, but in 1915 joined Atlin Fisheries as bookkeeper. Two other men were on the payroll then, the manager and the foreman.

Three years later, the manager, the late Harry Nunan, was transferred to Ketchikan and Lee became manager.

Since then, the head of Atlin has seen a lot of changes along the waterfront. For example, in 1916, permission was granted American halibut vessels to land their catches here in bond.

"That marked the beginning of Prince Rupert as the halibut capital of the world."

Fishing then was open 12 months of the year, and it was not until 1924 that the International Fisheries Commission was formed and a three-month closed season was enforced. That was the spawning season for halibut, from November 15 to February 15.

"Gosh," Mr. Lee recalled even now, "before that we used to see this place loaded with fish on Christmas Eve, very much to our chagrin."

"I think the fisheries commission has done a great job and they've come a long way."

But for them, I don't think we'd have a halibut in storage today."

Then came the lean years of the thirties, and it wasn't until the beginning of the Second world war that fish prices actually caught up, said Mr. Lee.

In 1928, Lee married, his bride being Grace Gray, a new graduate of the former Prince Rupert General Hospital training school for nurses.

The Lees have one son, Forbes, 21, who is a fishworker at Atlin, learning the business "from the ground up, as I did," chuckled Mr. Lee.

While in Prince Rupert, the lighter side of Mr. Lee's social life has been spent playing with the Symphony Orchestra, which he has loved "very much." His main other hobby is gardening, at his home, 544 East Eleventh Avenue.

"Oh, I'm not a fanatic about gardening at all. I just take it easy, but I get my vegetables every year," he explained.

Last week, a farewell party was held by friends for Mr. Lee and the large attendance. The many praising addresses and tokens of regard and friendship showed well what the people who have worked with Mr. Lee think of him.

And when the veteran of the waterfront leaves for the south next month, it won't be without a twinge of regret at leaving behind all the things familiar. But at the same time, he has done his job and can look forward to the rest of his years in peace and serenity with Mrs. Lee, on a little Salt Spring Island, the Ganges.

LAST HALIBUT

With many boats in with their final catches of the season, halibut landings totalled 1,259,000 pounds here during the past week. Canadian vessels accounted for 1,619,000 pounds, and Canadian, 249,000 pounds. The heavy landings follow the closing of Area No. 3 on Monday of this week. More boats are expected during the coming few days but the number may not be large.

BULLETIN No. 4

CIVIL DEFENCE

LEARN—AND LIVE

AFTER THE RAID

After the "all clear" signal, the first requirement is the restoration of essential services.

Your Provincial, City and Municipal authorities will do all in their power to accomplish this, but the public must know how they can co-operate, no matter what their personal circumstances are following a raid. The more help you can give the sooner services will be restored. Your warden can tell you what you can do to help.

Some people may have their homes destroyed and face desolation. Others may suffer in other ways and tend to be panic stricken. If not checked, rumours will tend to create further panic which gathers momentum. This must not happen. You will be advised by radio, loud speakers, etc., as to what to do. Remember your car radio is independent of the public electric supply.

Offer your services and your home if you are not a casualty.

You Should know:

- Your warden's post.
- Your first aid post.

Do not move serious casualties—make them comfortable until medical aid is available.

Persons suffering from shock cause panic. Do what you can to control them—a confident reassuring voice will do much to prevent stampede.

Do not leave your shelter until the all clear is sounded. When you leave, inspect your house and grounds thoroughly; then offer your help to others, but always be on the alert for a second raid. Do not enter any area marked "DANGER".

Watch for another bulletin in next week's newspaper.
